Dear Mr. Lee:

This email is in response to the questions raised about recall 23V-501 in your email on October 10, 2023, regarding the defect in certain 2019 Jaguar XE vehicles where the rear camera image display may become intermittent or permanently fail.

Q: Did Leoni Wiring Systems UK Ltd. sell this recalled equipment or similar equipment to more than one purchaser?

A: No.

For the sake of good order, Leoni Wiring Systems UK Ltd. notes that the relevant vehicle manufacturer – Jaguar Land Rover Ltd. and its affiliate Jaguar Land Rover North America LLC, which is the purchaser of the cable harness affected in the recalled equipment – has (i) not demonstrated that the defect reported in recall 23V-501 is caused by a non-conformity of the cable harness supplied by Leoni Wiring Systems UK Ltd., and (ii) not consulted LEONI Wiring Systems UK Ltd. about its decision to conduct voluntary recall 23V-501. Additionally, (i) LEONI Wiring Systems UK Ltd. has not made its own assessment that the harnesses it supplied to Jaguar Land Rover as original equipment in the 23V-501 recall vehicle population, and (ii) the subject harness has been designed and manufactured according to Jaguar Land Rover's unique specifications . Accordingly, this letter should not be construed as an admission of any responsibility or liability whatsoever on the part of Leoni Wiring Systems UK Ltd. Leoni Wiring Systems UK Ltd. reserves all its rights.
