Defendant

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR BALTIMORE COUNTY

[redacted]

CASE NO: _____

COMPLAINT AND STATEMENT OF FACTS

1. Plaintiff, [redacted], is an adult individual citizen and legal resident of the State of [redacted].

2. Defendant, Ford Motor Company trading as Ford Motor Company, is a business corporation qualified to do and regularly conduct business in the State of Maryland, with its address and principal place of business located at Ford Consumer Affairs, Dearborn, MI 48126, and can be served at c/o The Corporation Trust Company, 351 West Camden Street, Baltimore, MD 21201.

3. On or about June 4, 2019, Plaintiff purchased a new 2018 Ford EcoSport, manufactured and warranted by Defendant, bearing the Vehicle Identification Number MAJ3P1TE3JC[redacted]

4. The vehicle was purchased in the State of Maryland and is registered in the State of Maryland.

5. The contract price of the vehicle, including registration charges, document fees, sales tax, finance and bank charges, but excluding other collateral charges not specified, yet defined by the Lemon Law, totaled more than $21,000.04. A true and correct copy of the contract is attached hereto, made a part hereof, and marked Exhibit "A".

6. In consideration for the purchase of said vehicle, Defendant issued to Plaintiff several warranties, guarantees, affirmations or undertakings with respect to the material or workmanship of the vehicle and/or remedial action in the event the vehicle fails to meet the promised specifications.

7. The above-referenced warranties, guarantees, affirmations or undertakings are/were part of the basis of the bargain between Defendant and Plaintiff.

8. The parties' bargain includes an express 5 year/60,000 mile mile warranty, as well as other guarantees, affirmations and undertakings as stated in Defendant's warranty materials and owner's manual.

9. However, as a result of the ineffective repair attempts made by Defendant through its authorized dealer(s), the vehicle is rendered substantially impaired, unable to be utilized for its intended purposes, and is substantially diminished in value to Plaintiff.

10. Within the warranty period, Plaintiff complained about defects and or non-conformities to the following vehicle components: engine. The vehicle was out of service for over 150 days. True and correct copies of all invoices in Plaintiff's possession are attached hereto, made a part hereof, and marked Exhibit "B".

COUNT I
MAGNUSON-MOSS (FTC) WARRANTY IMPROVEMENT ACT

11. Plaintiff hereby incorporates all facts and allegations set forth in this Complaint by reference as if fully set forth at length herein.

12. Plaintiff is a "Consumer" as defined by 15 U.S.C. §2301(3).

13. Defendant is a "supplier", "warrantor", and a "service contractor" as defined by 15 U.S.C. § 2301 (4),(5) and (8).

14. The subject vehicle is a "consumer product" as defined by 15 U.S.C. § 2301(1).

15. By the terms of its written warranties, affirmations, promises, or service contracts, Defendant agreed to perform effective repairs at no charge for parts and/or labor.

16. The Magnuson-Moss Warranty Improvement Act requires Defendant to be bound by all warranties implied by state law. Said warranties are imposed on all transactions in the state in which the vehicle was delivered.

17. Defendant has made attempts on several occasions to comply with the terms of its express warranties; however, such repair attempts have been ineffective.

18. The Magnuson-Moss Warranty Improvement Act, 15 U.S.C. §2310(d)(2) provides:

> If a consumer finally prevails on an action brought under paragraph (1) of this subsection, he may be allowed by the court to recover as part of the judgment a sum equal to the amount of aggregate amount of costs and expenses (including attorney fees based upon actual time expended), determined by the court to have been reasonably incurred by the Plaintiff for, or in connection with the commencement and prosecution of such action, unless the court, in its discretion shall determine that such an award of attorney's fees would be inappropriate.

19. Plaintiff has afforded Defendant a reasonable number of opportunities to conform the vehicle to the aforementioned express warranties, implied warranties and contracts.

20. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's failure to comply with the express written warranties, Plaintiff has suffered damages and, in accordance with 15 U.S.C. §2310(d)(1), Plaintiff is entitled to bring suit for such damages and other legal and equitable relief.

21. Defendant's failure is a breach of Defendant's contractual and statutory obligations constituting a violation of the Magnuson-Moss Warranty Improvement Act, including but not limited to: breach of express warranties and breach of implied warranty of merchantability.

22. Plaintiff avers that Defendant's warranty was not provided to Plaintiff until after the vehicle was delivered, making any and all limitations, disclaimers and/or alternative dispute provisions ineffective for a failure of consideration.

23. Plaintiff avers Defendant's Dispute Resolution Program was not in compliance with 16 CFR 703 for the model year of the subject vehicle.

24. Plaintiff avers that Defendant's warranty did not require Plaintiff to first resort to a Dispute Resolution Program before filing suit.

25. Plaintiff avers that upon successfully prevailing upon the Magnuson-Moss claim herein, all attorney fees are recoverable and are demanded against Defendant.

26. Section 2-714(2) of the Commercial Law, Annotated Code of Maryland (hereinafter the "Code") defines the measure of damages for breach of warranty as "the difference at the time and place of acceptance between the value of the goods accepted and the value they would have had if they had been as warranted, unless special circumstances show proximate damages of a different amount."

27. Section 2-715(1) of the Code authorizes the Court to award the Consumer incidental damages, including expenses reasonably incurred in the inspection, receipt, transportation and care and custody of goods rightfully rejected, as well as any commercially reasonable charges, expenses or commissions in connection with effecting cover and any other reasonable expense incident to the delay or other breach.

28. Section 2-715(2) of the Code also authorizes the Court to award the Consumer consequential damages, which may include any loss resulting from general or particular requirements and needs of which the seller at the time of contracting had reason to know and which could not reasonably be prevented by cover or otherwise and any injury to the person or property proximately resulting from any breach of warranty.

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff respectfully demands judgment against Defendant in an amount equal to the price of the subject vehicle, plus all collateral charges, incidental and consequential damages, reasonable attorneys' fees, and all court costs, or in the alternative repurchase or replacement of the subject vehicle plus all collateral charges, incidental and consequential damages, reasonable attorneys' fees.

COUNT II
MARYLAND CONSUMER PROTECTION ACT

29. Plaintiff hereby incorporates all facts and allegations set forth in this Complaint by reference as if fully set forth at length herein.

30. Plaintiff is a "Consumer" as defined by §13-101(c) of the Code.

31. Defendant is a "Person" as defined by §13-101(h) of the Code.

32. The subject vehicle is a "Consumer good" as defined by §13-101(d) of the Code.

33. The Code defines "Consumer goods" as goods which are primarily for personal, household, family, or agricultural purposes.

34. Section 14-1504 of the Maryland Lemon Law provides that a violation of its provisions shall be considered an unfair and deceptive trade practice under Title 13 of the Commercial Law Article.

35. The Maryland Consumer Protection Act defines "unfair or deceptive trade practices" as:

(1) False, falsely disparaging, or misleading oral or written statement, visual description, or other representation of any kind which has the capacity, tendency, or effect of deceiving or misleading consumers;
(2) Representation that:
    (i) Consumer goods, consumer realty, or consumer services have a sponsorship, approval, accessory, characteristic, ingredient, use, benefit, or quantity which they do not have;
    (ii) A merchant has a sponsorship approval, status, affiliation, or connection which he does not have;
    (iii) Deteriorated, altered, reconditioned, reclaimed, or secondhand consumer goods are original or new; or
    (iv) Consumer goods, consumer realty, or consumer services are of a particular standard, quality, grade, style, or model which they are not;
(3) Knowingly false statement that a service, replacement, or repair is needed

36. Plaintiff avers that Defendant has violated these, as well as other provisions, of §13-101 et seq. of the Code.

37. Section 13-301(14)(xi) of the Code provides that a violation of the Automotive Warranty Enforcement Act is an automatic "unfair or deceptive trade practice" and, therefore, a violation of the Consumer Protection Act.

38. Defendant's conduct surrounding the sale and servicing of the subject vehicle falls within the aforementioned definitions of "unfair or deceptive trade practices."

39. Section 13-408(a) of the Code authorizes consumers to bring an action to recover for injury or loss sustained by them as the result of a practice prohibited by the Consumer Protection Act.

40. Section 13-408(b) of the Code further allows consumers who are awarded damages to seek reasonable attorney's fees.

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff respectfully demands judgment against Defendant an amount equal to the price of the subject vehicle, plus all collateral charges, incidental and consequential damages, reasonable attorneys' fees, and all court costs, or in the alternative repurchase or replacement of the subject vehicle plus all collateral charges, incidental and consequential damages, reasonable attorneys' fees.

Dear Sir/Madam:

Please be advised that this office represents the above named individual regarding claims against Ford Motor Company concerning defects with the above listed vehicle. This letter shall serve as notice of Ms. [redacted] claim. At this time, we have been authorized to attempt to resolve this matter without filing a lawsuit by submitting this claim to you.

YOU ARE BEING SUED BY PLAINTIFF:
(LO ESTÁ DEMANDANDO EL DEMANDANTE):

[redacted]

NOTICE! You have been sued. The court may decide against you without your being heard unless you respond within 30 days. Read the information below.

You have 30 CALENDAR DAYS after this summons and legal papers are served on you to file a written response at this court and have a copy served on the plaintiff. A letter or phone call will not protect you. Your written response must be in proper legal form if you want the court to hear your case. There may be a court form that you can use for your response. You can find these court forms and more information at the California Courts Online Self-Help Center (www.courtinfo.ca.gov/selfhelp), your county law library, or the courthouse nearest you. If you cannot pay the filing fee, ask the court clerk for a fee waiver form. If you do not file your response on time, you may lose the case by default, and your wages, money, and property may be taken without further warning from the court.

There are other legal requirements. You may want to call an attorney right away. If you do not know an attorney, you may want to call an attorney referral service. If you cannot afford an attorney, you may be eligible for free legal services from a nonprofit legal services program. You can locate these nonprofit groups at the California Legal Services Web site (www.lawhelpcalifornia.org), the California Courts Online Self-Help Center (www.courtinfo.ca.gov/selfhelp), or by contacting your local court or county bar association. NOTE: The court has a statutory lien for waived fees and costs on any settlement or arbitration award of $10,000 or more in a civil case. The court's lien must be paid before the court will dismiss the case.

Tiene 30 DÍAS DE CALENDARIO después de que le entreguen esta citación y papeles legales para presentar una respuesta por escrito en esta corte y hacer que se entregue una copia al demandante. Una carta o una llamada telefónica no lo protegen. Su respuesta por escrito tiene que estar en formato legal correcto si desea que procesen su caso en la corte. Es posible que haya un formulario que usted pueda usar para su respuesta. Puede encontrar estos formularios de la corte y más información en el Centro de Ayuda de las Cortes de California (www.sucorte.ca.gov), en la biblioteca de leyes de su condado o en la corte que le quede más cerca. Si no puede pagar la cuota de presentación, pida al secretario de la corte que le dé un formulario de exención de pago de cuotas. Si no presenta su respuesta a tiempo, puede perder el caso por incumplimiento y la corte le podrá quitar su sueldo, dinero y bienes sin más advertencia.

Hay otros requisitos legales. Es recomendable que llame a un abogado inmediatamente. Si no conoce a un abogado, puede llamar a un servicio de remisión a abogados. Si no puede pagar a un abogado, es posible que cumpla con los requisitos para obtener servicios legales gratuitos de un programa de servicios legales sin fines de lucro. Puede encontrar estos grupos sin fines de lucro en el sitio web de California Legal Services, (www.lawhelpcalifornia.org), en el Centro de Ayuda de las Cortes de California, (www.sucorte.ca.gov) o poniéndose en contacto con la corte o el colegio de abogados locales. AVISO: Por ley, la corte tiene derecho a reclamar las cuotas y los costos exentos por imponer un gravamen sobre cualquier recuperación de $10,000 ó más de valor recibida mediante un acuerdo o una concesión de arbitraje en un caso de derecho civil. Tiene que pagar el gravamen de la corte antes de que la corte pueda desechar el caso.

- File this cover sheet in addition to any cover sheet required by local court rule.
- If this case is complex under rule 3.400 et seq. of the California Rules of Court, you must serve a copy of this cover sheet on all other parties to the action or proceeding.
- Unless this is a collections case under rule 3.740 or a complex case, this cover sheet will be used for statistical purposes only.

INSTRUCTIONS ON HOW TO COMPLETE THE COVER SHEET

To Plaintiffs and Others Filing First Papers. If you are filing a first paper (for example, a complaint) in a civil case, you must complete and file, along with your first paper, the Civil Case Cover Sheet contained on page 1. This information will be used to compile statistics about the types and numbers of cases filed. You must complete items 1 through 6 on the sheet. In item 1, you must check one box for the case type that best describes the case. If the case fits both a general and a more specific type of case listed in item 1, check the more specific one. If the case has multiple causes of action, check the box that best indicates the primary cause of action. To assist you in completing the sheet, examples of the cases that belong under each case type in item 1 are provided below. A cover sheet must be filed only with your initial paper. Failure to file a cover sheet with the first paper filed in a civil case may subject a party, its counsel, or both to sanctions under rules 2.30 and 3.220 of the California Rules of Court.

To Parties in Rule 3.740 Collections Cases. A "collections case" under rule 3.740 is defined as an action for recovery of money owed in a sum stated to be certain that is not more than $25,000, exclusive of interest and attorney's fees, arising from a transaction in which property, services, or money was acquired on credit. A collections case does not include an action seeking the following: (1) tort damages, (2) punitive damages, (3) recovery of real property, (4) recovery of personal property, or (5) a prejudgment writ of attachment. The identification of a case as a rule 3.740 collections case on this form means that it will be exempt from the general time-for-service requirements and case management rules, unless a defendant files a responsive pleading. A rule 3.740 collections case will be subject to the requirements for service and obtaining a judgment in rule 3.740.

To Parties in Complex Cases. In complex cases only, parties must also use the Civil Case Cover Sheet to designate whether the case is complex. If a plaintiff believes the case is complex under rule 3.400 of the California Rules of Court, this must be indicated by completing the appropriate boxes in items 1 and 2. If a plaintiff designates a case as complex, the cover sheet must be served with the complaint on all parties to the action. A defendant may file and serve no later than the time of its first appearance a joinder in the plaintiff's designation, a counter-designation that the case is not complex, or, if the plaintiff has made no designation, a designation that the case is complex.

E-FILED
8/9/2023
Superior Court of California
County of Fresno
By: Nicole Rivera, Deputy

NOTICE TO DEFENDANT:
(AVISO AL DEMANDADO):

FORD MOTOR COMPANY, a Delaware Corporation, and DOES 1 through 10, inclusive,

YOU ARE BEING SUED BY PLAINTIFF:
(LO ESTÁ DEMANDANDO EL DEMANDANTE):

[redacted]

NOTICE! You have been sued. The court may decide against you without your being heard unless you respond within 30 days. Read the information below.

You have 30 CALENDAR DAYS after this summons and legal papers are served on you to file a written response at this court and have a copy served on the plaintiff. A letter or phone call will not protect you. Your written response must be in proper legal form if you want the court to hear your case. There may be a court form that you can use for your response. You can find these court forms and more information at the California Courts Online Self-Help Center (www.courtinfo.ca.gov/selfhelp), your county law library, or the courthouse nearest you. If you cannot pay the filing fee, ask the court clerk for a fee waiver form. If you do not file your response on time, you may lose the case by default, and your wages, money, and property may be taken without further warning from the court.

There are other legal requirements. You may want to call an attorney right away. If you do not know an attorney, you may want to call an attorney referral service. If you cannot afford an attorney, you may be eligible for free legal services from a nonprofit legal services program. You can locate these nonprofit groups at the California Legal Services Web site (www.lawhelpcalifornia.org), the California Courts Online Self-Help Center (www.courtinfo.ca.gov/selfhelp), or by contacting your local court or county bar association. NOTE: The court has a statutory lien for waived fees and costs on any settlement or arbitration award of $10,000 or more in a civil case. The court's lien must be paid before the court will dismiss the case.

Tiene 30 DÍAS DE CALENDARIO después de que le entreguen esta citación y papeles legales para presentar una respuesta por escrito en esta corte y hacer que se entregue una copia al demandante. Una carta o una llamada telefónica no lo protegen. Su respuesta por escrito tiene que estar en formato legal correcto si desea que procesen su caso en la corte. Es posible que haya un formulario que usted pueda usar para su respuesta. Puede encontrar estos formularios de la corte y más información en el Centro de Ayuda de las Cortes de California (www.sucorte.ca.gov), en la biblioteca de leyes de su condado o en la corte que le quede más cerca. Si no puede pagar la cuota de presentación, pida al secretario de la corte que le dé un formulario de exención de pago de cuotas. Si no presenta su respuesta a tiempo, puede perder el caso por incumplimiento y la corte le podrá quitar su sueldo, dinero y bienes sin más advertencia.

Hay otros requisitos legales. Es recomendable que llame a un abogado inmediatamente. Si no conoce a un abogado, puede llamar a un servicio de remisión a abogados. Si no puede pagar a un abogado, es posible que cumpla con los requisitos para obtener servicios legales gratuitos de un programa de servicios legales sin fines de lucro. Puede encontrar estos grupos sin fines de lucro en el sitio web de California Legal Services, (www.lawhelpcalifornia.org), en el Centro de Ayuda de las Cortes de California, (www.sucorte.ca.gov) o poniéndose en contacto con la corte o el colegio de abogados locales. AVISO: Por ley, la corte tiene derecho a reclamar las cuotas y los costos exentos por imponer un gravamen sobre cualquier recuperación de $10,000 ó más de valor recibida mediante un acuerdo o una concesión de arbitraje en un caso de derecho civil. Tiene que pagar el gravamen de la corte antes de que la corte pueda desechar el caso.

Alternative Dispute Resolution Information Packet

Overview & History

Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) is an increasingly popular option that allows people to resolve disputes outside of court in a cooperative manner. ADR can be faster, cheaper, and less stressful than going to court. Most importantly, the use of ADR can provide greater satisfaction with the way disputes are resolved.

ADR has been gradually evolving within the Fresno Superior Court for the past several years. In 1999 the Court recognized a need for greater public access to dispute resolution for cases and established an ADR Department. This department assists parties by providing information regarding ADR processes and services.

Civil Standing Order Regarding ADR:

In 2006, a Case Management Conference (CMC) Standing Order 07-0628, was implemented requiring parties in general civil cases filed in Fresno County Superior Court to participate in ADR prior to trial. This order and supporting ADR forms can be found on the court's website, www.fresno.courts.ca.gov under the "Forms," section. Please note, participation in ADR does not eliminate the need for proper and timely filing of case documents, such as an Answer to Complaint.

Disputes

ADR techniques have been used successfully in a variety of disputes involving individuals, small and large businesses, government, and the general public. Various types of ADR processes are available depending on the nature of the dispute. Many types of conflict often lend themselves to an alternative and informal method of dispute resolution. Some examples of disputes often settled by ADR include but are not limited to:

- Business disputes- contracts, partnerships
- Property / Land use disputes- property transfers, boundaries, easements
- Family disputes – divorce, property, custody, visitation, support issues
- Consumer / Collection disputes- repairs, services, warranties, debts
- Employment disputes- employment contracts, terminations
- Landlord/tenant disputes- evictions, rent, repairs, security deposits
- Neighborhood disputes / Relational disputes or other civil or personal conflicts
- Personal Injury / Insurance disputes- accidents, coverage, liability

Processes:

The most common forms of ADR are Mediation, Arbitration, and Case Evaluation. In most ADR processes, a trained, impartial person decides or helps the parties reach resolution of their dispute together. The persons are neutrals who are normally chosen by the disputing parties or by the court. Neutrals can often help parties resolve disputes without having to go to court or trial. Below is a description of commonly used processes:

Mediation

In mediation, the mediator (a neutral) assists the parties in reaching a mutually acceptable resolution of their dispute. Unlike lawsuits or some other types of ADR, the mediator does not decide how the dispute will be resolved, the parties do. It is a cooperative process guided by the mediator to create an agreement that addresses each person's interests. Mediation often leads to better communication between the parties and lasting resolutions. It is particularly effective when parties have a continuing relationship, such as neighbors or businesses. It also is very effective where personal feelings are getting in the way of a resolution. Mediation normally gives the parties a chance to express their concerns in a voluntary and confidential process while working towards a resolution. The mediation process is commonly used for most civil case types and can provide the greatest level of flexibility for parties.

Arbitration

In arbitration, the arbitrator (a neutral) reviews evidence, hears arguments, and makes a decision (award) to resolve the dispute. This is very different from mediation whereby the mediator helps the parties reach their own resolution. Arbitration is generally quicker, less expensive and less formal than a lawsuit. An arbitrator can often hear a case in a matter of hours rather than days in a trial. This is because the evidence can be submitted by documents rather than by testimony.

1. Binding Arbitration: Usually conducted by a private arbitrator, this process takes place outside of the court. "Binding" means that the arbitrator's decision (award) is final and there will not be a trial or an opportunity to appeal the decision.

2. Non-Binding Arbitration: May be ordered through the court (Judicial Arbitration) or conducted privately. In this process, the arbitrator's decision is "not binding." This means that if a party is not satisfied with the decision of the arbitrator, they can file a request for trial with the court within a specified time. However, depending on the process if that party does not receive a more favorable result at trial, they may have to pay a penalty.

Case Evaluation

In case evaluation, the evaluator (a neutral) gives an opinion on the strengths and weaknesses of each party's evidence and arguments. Each party gets a chance to present their case and hear the other side. This may lead to a settlement, or at the least, help the parties prepare to resolve the dispute later. Case evaluation, like mediation, can come early in the dispute and save time and money. The case evaluation process is most effective when parties have an unrealistic view of the dispute, need outside assistance in determining case value, and have technical or procedural questions to be worked out. This process is sometimes used in combination with mediation or arbitration.

ADR Agreements:

Agreements reached through ADR are normally put into writing and can become binding contracts that are enforceable in court. Parties may choose to seek the advice of an attorney as to your legal rights and other matters relating to the dispute before finalizing any agreement.

ADR Process Selection & Information:

There are several other types of ADR. Some of these include Conciliation, Settlement Conference, Fact Finding, Mini-Trial, Victim Offender Conferencing, and Summary Jury Trial. Sometimes parties will try a combination of ADR types. The important thing is to find the type of ADR that is most likely to resolve the dispute. Contact the ADR department staff for assistance for additional information and referral to services appropriate for each specific case.

Advantages & Disadvantages of ADR:

Advantages

- Often quicker than going to trial, a dispute may be resolved in a matter or days or weeks instead of months or years.
- Often less expensive, saving the litigants court costs, attorney's fees and expert fees.
- Permits more participation and empowerment, allowing the parties the opportunity to tell their side of the story and have more control over the outcome.
- Allows for flexibility in choice of ADR processes and resolution of the dispute.
- Fosters cooperation by allowing the parties to work together with the neutral to resolve the dispute and mutually agree to a remedy.
- Often less stressful than litigation. Most people have reported a high degree of satisfaction with ADR.

Because of these advantages, many parties choose ADR to resolve disputes instead of filing a lawsuit. Even after a lawsuit has been filed, the court can refer the dispute to a neutral before the lawsuit becomes costly. ADR is even used to resolve disputes after trial, when the result is appealed.

Disadvantages

- ADR may not be suitable for every dispute.
- If the ADR process is binding, the parties normally give up most court protections, including a decision by a judge or jury under formal rules of evidence and procedure, and review for legal error by an appellate court.
- ADR may not be effective if it takes place before the parties have sufficient information to resolve the dispute.
- The neutral may charge a fee for his or her services. If the dispute is not resolved through ADR, the parties may then have to face the usual and traditional costs, such as attorney's fees and expert fees.
    - Lawsuits must be brought within specified periods of time, known as Statutes of Limitations. Parties must be careful not to let a Statute of Limitation run while a dispute is in an ADR process

Neutral Selection:

The selection of a neutral is an important decision. Please note that currently there is no legal requirement that the neutral be licensed or hold any particular certificate. However, many programs and the Court have established qualification requirements and standards of conduct for their neutral panels.

Mediation Services Offered by Fresno County Superior Court

Mediation Practitioner Panel:

Fresno County Superior Court, Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) Department maintains a fee-for-service Mediation Panel as a public service for court litigants and the community. Those listed have met the Court's eligibility requirements and have agreed to abide by the Court's professional standards of conduct in order to participate as a panel member. The panel list can be found on the Court's website under the Alternative Dispute Resolution link, www.fresno.courts.ca.gov/alternative_dispute_resolution/Mediator

Free / Low Cost ADR Service Options

For cases involving self-represented litigants or those unable to afford a private mediator, the court contracts with the following organization to provide free or low cost mediation services through Dispute Resolution Program Act (DRPA) funding.

- Better Business Bureau Mediation Center- *This organization provides mediation for family law property disputes, small claims, landlord / tenant, business, consumer/ merchant, harassment, and neighborhood disputes. For more information about their services go to www.mediationservicesbybbb.org

33. As a direct and proximate result of the acts and omissions of the Defendants, Plaintiffs have been damaged in the form of general, special and actual damages in an amount within the jurisdiction of this Court, according to proof at trial.

34. Under the Act, Plaintiffs are entitled to rescission of the contract, reimbursement of the purchase price paid for the vehicle.

35. Plaintiffs are entitled to all incidental, consequential and general damages resulting from Defendants' failure to comply with their obligations under the Mag-Moss Act.

36. Plaintiffs are entitled under the Mag-Moss Act to recover as part of the judgment a sum equal to the aggregate amount of costs and expenses, including attorney's fees, reasonably incurred in connection with the commencement and prosecution of this action pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 2310(d)(2).

WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs pray for judgment against Defendants, as follows:

1. For general, special and actual damages according to proof at trial;
2. For rescission of the purchase contract and restitution of all monies expended;
3. For diminution in value;
4. For incidental and consequential damages according to proof at trial;
5. For civil penalty in the amount of two times Plaintiffs' actual damages;
6. For prejudgment interest at the legal rate;

7. For reasonable attorney's fees and costs of suit; and

8. For such other and further relief as the Court deems just and proper under the circumstances.

You have 30 CALENDAR DAYS after this summons and legal papers are served on you to file a written response at this court and have a copy served on the plaintiff. A letter or phone call will not protect you. Your written response must be in proper legal form if you want the court to hear your case. There may be a court form that you can use for your response. You can find these court forms and more information at the California Courts Online Self-Help Center (www.courtinfo.ca.gov/selfhelp), your county law library, or the courthouse nearest you. Dear Sir or Madam:

Lemberg Law, LLC, is writing on behalf of the above clients with regard to the above vehicle purchased. Please consider this your notice for an opportunity to correct the defects specified below. We will seek relief on our client's behalf under the Magnuson Moss Warranty Act, breach of warranty statutes and other laws protecting Florida consumers. Upon receipt of this notice please direct all inquiries regarding the above vehicle to this office, rather than to the client.

Our client's vehicle suffered a catastrophic engine failure due to loss of oil pressure, a defect known to Ford which may result from broken/failed engine oil pump belt tensioner or defective oil pump which leads to a loss of engine oil pressure. The dealer refused to perform warrantable repairs.

The defects in the vehicle constitute a breach of warranty, in that they substantially impair its use, value, and safety to the client. Our client demands reimbursement of incidental and consequential damages, costs, and attorney's fees. We have been instructed to seek all legal recourse available under the law.

Our client understands that sometimes the failures of the manufacturer simply cannot be corrected by any dealer. Thank you for your time and consideration in this matter, and I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

/s/ Sergei Lemberg

Vehicle: 2018 Ford Eco Sport
VIN: MAJ3P1TE8JC[redacted]

Dear Sir/Madam:

Please be advised that this law firm represents the legal interests o[redacted] relating to the purchase of the above-mentioned vehicle. Let this letter serve as notification that you immediately cease and desist all communications with our client. The only exception is the dealership may communicate with the client in reference to future repairs. Moreover, if you make any attempts to settle with our client without including all statutory relief, including all damages attorney fees and costs the consumer is entitled to, we may file suit against you. This letter hereby notifies you of our attorney's lien with respect to our client.

Please let this letter also serve as notification that our client's vehicle is defective. The vehicle has been brought in for repairs several times for numerous defects and although you have been afforded sufficient opportunities for repairs, the defects continue to exist and substantially impair the use and value and/or safety of the vehicle. If you are interested in any further repairs pursuant to the Lemon Law you must contact me immediately. Our client demands that you immediately take action as required by law.

This letter shall also serve as our client's Revocation of Acceptance pursuant to the Uniform Commercial Code § 2608 and notice of defect under the Lemon Law. Due to the serious defects with the Vehicle since its purchase, our client hereby demands a return of the full purchase price along with all interest paid on the finance note as well as attorney fees and incidental and consequential damages within 10 days of receipt of this letter to settle this matter prior to filing a lawsuit.

Please be advised that if you do not adhere to our demands within 10 days, our client has instructed me to file a lawsuit against you asserting claims that include, but in no way are limited to, breach of warranties, both express and implied, violation of the Magnuson Moss Warranty Act, violation of the Lemon Law, revocation of acceptance, and common law breach of contract. Please direct all future communication to my attention.

Respectfully submitted,

VIN: MAJ3S2GE4KC[redacted]
Current Mileage: 55,000
Our File No: [redacted] v. Ford Motor Company

Dear Case Manager:

Please be advised that this office has been retained by [redacted] regarding the above-referenced vehicle which was obtained from Dick Masheter Ford Inc (1090 S Hamilton Rd., Columbus, Ohio 43227). Since that time, our client's vehicle has undergone repeated repair attempts for a number of defects and nonconformities. As a result, our client has been forced to seek full relief pursuant to state and federal consumer product warranty laws.

The vehicle's primary defects and nonconformities include, but are not limited to, the following:

1. Engine;
2. Any and all additional complaints actually made, whether contained on company invoices or otherwise.

These nonconformities substantially impair the use, value and safety of the subject vehicle as defined under the Ohio Lemon Law, the Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act and the Ohio Uniform Commercial Code. Because the "purchase of a new car is a major investment [which is] rationalized by the peace of mind that flows from its dependability and safety...," these defects have understandably caused our client to lose all faith and confidence in the vehicle's integrity. Zabriskie Chevrolet, Inc. v. Smith, 240 A.2d 195 (N.J. Super. Ct. 1968).

Therefore, you (and the authorized dealer) are hereby notified that our client is revoking acceptance of the vehicle effective immediately. Our client has directed us to demand the return of any and all funds paid towards this vehicle, to rescind the contracts, and to seek compensation for any incidental and consequential damages, including attorney's fees. Please inform this office of the procedure whereby our client may return the vehicle and recoup these expenses. DO NOT CONTACT OUR CLIENT UNDER ANY CIRCUMSTANCES AND DIRECT ALL INQUIRIES TO THIS LAW OFFICE.[1]

If you wish to resolve this matter expeditiously or merely apprise us of your position, please contact this office within the next fourteen (14) days. If we do not hear anything from you, because Ford Motor Company does not have an approved Informal Dispute Resolution Mechanism in Ohio we have been directed to begin preparing a formal complaint to be filed with the Court.

Sincerely,

[1]Until this matter is resolved, our client reserves the right to make appointments to have current and future defects repaired by any authorized dealer of the consumer's choice, especially while the vehicle remains under warranty.

To Whom It May Concern:

We represent [redacted] ("Claimant"), a resident of Oregon, on behalf of himself and all similarly situated individuals who purchased or leased a 2018-2020 Ford EcoSport vehicle that suffers from a defect that can cause a loss of engine oil pressure resulting in a need for an engine replacement (collectively, "Class Vehicles"). This letter provides notice and demand to Ford Motor Company ("Ford") of claims for breach of express and implied warranty statutory provisions of Texas, the Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act, 15 U.S.C. § 2301, et seq. ("MMWA"), and the Texas Deceptive Trade Practices-Consumer Protection Act ("TDTPCPA"), Tex. Bus. & Com Code § 17.41, et seq. pursuant to the Texas Business and Commerce Code § 17.505.

Claimant alleges that Ford has engaged in unfair, deceptive, and misleading consumer practices in connection with the marketing and sale of its Class Vehicles in violation of the TDTPCPA. Additionally, Ford has failed to comply with the terms of its express warranty by failing to replace the defective oil pump and/or component parts and by replacing defective parts with more defective parts. Ford has also failed to comply with its implied warranties by selling Class Vehicles that are unmerchantable and not fit for their intended use. Moreover, Ford has engaged in other conduct in violation of state, federal, and common law, including violations of the Magnuson Moss Warranty Act, Texas Bus. & Com. Code § 2.313, and Texas Bus. & Com. Code § 2.314.

On September 22, 2018, [redacted] purchased a new 2018 Ford EcoSport equipped with a 1.0L EcoBoost engine from Westway Ford, an authorized Ford dealership located in Irving, Texas. On September 3, 2022, when Claimant's vehicle had approximately 64,000 miles on the odometer, the oil pressure light illuminated on his dashboard while driving. Within ten minutes of the warning, his vehicle entered into limp mode, forcing him to quickly pull over to the side of the road to avoid a collision Claimant's car was towed the same day to Courtesy Ford Lincoln, an authorized Ford dealership located in Portland, Oregon. Following their initial inspection, the service technician at the dealership diagnosed the issue as engine failure caused by an oil pump failure. Claimant was informed that he would be responsible for covering the costs of the engine replacement. The preliminary estimate of the total cost was $6,700. Due to the difficulty of sourcing a new engine, as well as the time involved in installing a new engine, Claimant was without his vehicle for two months. As such, he incurred costs for alternative transportation including Lyft rides totaling approximately $342.87. 28. On October 31, 2022, Claimant's vehicle was returned to him after being held at the dealership for approximately eight weeks. Had Mr. Bolton been aware of the Defect prior to purchase, he would not have purchased the vehicle or would have paid substantially less for it than he did.

I. Notice of Violations of Texas Business and Commerce Code § 17.505

Ford's conduct in connection with the sale and marketing of Class Vehicles violates the TDTPCPA, which prohibits "[f]alse, misleading, or deceptive acts or practices in the conduct of any trade or commerce." Tex. Bus. & Com. Code § 17.46(a). Section 17.46(b), inter alia, of the Texas Business and Commercial Code. Specifically, the violations of Section 17.46(b) include, at a minimum, the following:

a) Ford representing that goods and services have sponsorship, approval, characteristics, ingredients, uses, benefits, or quantities which they do not have;
b) Ford represented that goods and services are of a particular standard, quality, or grade, or that goods are of a particular style or model, if they are of another;
c) Ford advertised goods with intent not to sell them as advertised;
d) Ford represented that goods have been supplied in accordance with a previous representation when they have not;
e) Ford failed to disclose the existence of the defect; and
f) Ford failed to provide a suitable remedy for the defect.

Claimant demands the relief detailed below for these violations of the TDTPCPA pursuant to Texas Business and Commerce Code § 17.505.

II. Notice of Breach of Warranties and Violations of the Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act ("MMWA")

In addition to the statutory consumer fraud claims, Claimant alleges breach of express warranty, breach of the implied warranty of merchantability, and breach of the implied warranty of fitness for a particular purpose, as well as violations of the MMWA, 15 U.S.C. § 2301, et seq., Ford has failed to comply with the terms of its express warranty by failing to repair or replace the defective oil pumps and/or component parts and by replacing defective parts with more defective parts. Ford has failed to comply with its implied warranties by selling Class Vehicles that do not function as intended when the oil pump failure leads to engine failure that presents a significant safety hazard. In breaching its warranties, Ford has also violated the MMWA. Claimant intends to pursue MMWA and warranty claims against Ford on behalf of a class or classes of similarly situated purchasers.

III. Demand for Relief

Claimant and other consumers have suffered injury and loss of money and diminution of value because they purchased or leased Ford Class Vehicles when they otherwise would not have purchased or leased them, paid more for the Class Vehicles than they would have paid, and have incurred service and repair costs that they otherwise would not have incurred. This notice is being served on behalf of Claimant and all other consumers who purchased or leased defective Class Vehicles who hereby demand that Ford:

a) Notify all Class Vehicle owners and lessees about the defect;

b) Compensate Claimant and all owners and lessees for the full difference between what they paid and the actual value of the Class Vehicles in light of the oil pump defect;

c) Correct Ford's manufacturing process to ensure that all systems are manufactured with adequate materials and design;

d) Replace the defective oil pumps or all such parts as are necessary to eliminate the defect or perform on all Class Vehicles a repair sufficient to correct the defect;

e) Compensate owners and lessees who incurred costs and/or labor to repair defective oil pumps;

f) Extend the warranties on Class Vehicles to provide repair and replacement of defective parts and/or materials; and

g) Immediately cease the sale of Class Vehicles with the oil pump defect and otherwise immediately cease to engage in the violations of Texas Business and Commerce Code § 17.505, and other state consumer protection statues as set forth above.

We, of course, hope that you will act immediately to rectify this situation and stand ready to discuss a reasonable resolution of this matter on the terms outlined above or on similar terms acceptable to Claimant and similarly situated persons.

Please direct all communications or responses regarding this notice to the undersigned. Moreover, unless Ford takes such action as demanded above within (60) days after receipt of this letter, Claimant intends to seek damages on behalf of himself and a class of similarly situated individuals for Ford's violations of the TDTPCPA and Texas common law. Claimant also intends to immediately seek injunctive relief enjoining Ford from continuing the unlawful, deceptive, fraudulent, and unfair business practices detailed above; injunctive relief in the form of a recall or free replacement program; equitable relief; and an award of reasonable attorneys' fees and costs.

If you have any questions or require any additional information or would like to discuss these matters further, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely yours,

[redacted]

Plaintiffs [redacted] ("Plaintiffs") individually and on behalf of all others similarly situated (the "Class" as defined below), by and through their attorneys, allege as follows against Defendant Ford Motor Company ("Ford").

INTRODUCTION

1. The Ford 1.0L EcoBoost engine is a one liter, 3-cylinder engine used in several models of economy, subcompact and compact cars manufactured by Ford. Unfortunately, these engines have an inherent defect related to the oil pump, about which Ford has known but not disclosed to consumers. This defect results in catastrophic engine failure, often shortly outside of the 60,000-mile powertrain warranty as demonstrated below.

2. The defect presents a serious safety hazard because it can cause catastrophic engine failure without warning while driving, lost motive power, and/or sudden limp mode activation, increasing the likelihood of a collision. Moreover, because Ford is aware that the failures – which attract the owners' notice – occur frequently just outside the warranty, it is unfairly transferring the cost of the warranty repairs to unsuspecting consumers of the economy vehicles in which these engines are equipped.

3. This is a class action brought against Ford by Plaintiffs on behalf of themselves and a class of current and former owners and lessees of model year 2016 or later Ford-brand vehicles equipped with a 1.0L EcoBoost engine ("Class Vehicles"), including 2016-2017 Ford Fiesta vehicles, 2018-2021 Ford EcoSport vehicles and 2016-2018 Ford Focus vehicles.

4. With Manufacturer Suggested Retail Prices ("MSRPs") starting around $16,000 for the Fiesta, $20,000 for the Ecosport, and $18,000 for the Focus, Ford marketed the subcompact and compact Class Vehicles towards budget-minded consumers.

5. In brochures and other advertising materials, Ford consistently touted the "award winning" EcoBoost engine as "A turbo-charged wonder, the award-winning 1.0L EcoBoost engine offers an impressive combination of driveability and fuel efficiency."

6. Ford failed to disclose, however, the fact that the engines equipped in the Class Vehicles are, as described by one Ford Dealership employee, "time bombs" due to a defect that prevents oil from circulating properly that destroys the engine, leaving consumers with a repair bill that frequently exceeds the value of the vehicle. Specifically, the 1.0L EcoBoost engines have manufacturing, workmanship, and/or design defects which lead to a loss of oil pressure and an oil pump failure, causing the oil in the vehicle to slow or stop circulating, increasing engine temperature beyond specifications, and subsequently, causing the engine to seize (the "Oil Pump Defect" or "Defect"). Discovery will show that the Oil Pump Defect is the result of defective engine oil pump belt tensioners, which are prone to premature failure and do not meet industry or manufacturer standards.

7. Plaintiffs and Class member are often unable to determine that their vehicles suffer from the Defect until the engine malfunctions while their vehicle is being driven, creating a significant safety hazard. Symptoms of the Defect include abnormal noise coming from the engine compartment, increasing engine temperature, and a drop in oil pressure. If the driver is lucky, the low oil pressure warning light will illuminate, giving them time to pull over to the side of the road. However, the Defect can also cause the engine to stall or fail without warning, or put the vehicle into "limp mode," causing the vehicle to decelerate or stop suddenly in the middle of traffic.

8. The Defect is inherent in each Class Vehicle and was present at the time of sale or lease to each Class Member. Each of the 1.0L EcoBoost engines installed in the Class Vehicles is identical or substantially similar, in that Ford made no material changes to the engines over the years or by model.[1]

9. Ford has been aware of the Defect for years, as evidenced by several manufacturer communications and technical service bulletins ("TSBs") and large numbers of consumers who have complained about this Defect dating back to at least 2016, including when consumers brought their Class Vehicles to Ford's authorized dealers for repairs, complained to Ford directly via the customer service department, or complained to the National Highway Transportation Safety Administration ("NHTSA").

10. Despite Ford's knowledge of the Defect, which renders the Class Vehicles hazardous and unsuitable for their intended purpose, it has failed to provide adequate repairs under warranty, and has also failed to disclose the Defect to unsuspecting consumers.

11. Due to the undisclosed Oil Pump Defect, Plaintiffs and Class Members were deprived of the benefit of their bargain in purchasing or leasing their Ford vehicles. These customers continue to have to live with the risks of their vehicles stalling in the middle of traffic, potential engine failure and costly replacements, and diminution of value of their vehicles. Plaintiffs accordingly seek relief both for themselves and for other current and former owners or lessees of these Class Vehicles.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

12. This action is properly before this Court and this Court has subject matter jurisdiction over this action under the Class Action Fairness Act. At least one member of the proposed class is a citizen of a different state than Ford, the number of proposed class members exceeds 100, and the amount in controversy exceeds the sum or value of $5,000,000.00 exclusive of interests and costs. See 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d)(2)(A).

13. In addition, under 28 U.S.C. § 1367, this Court may exercise supplemental jurisdiction over the state law claims because all of the claims are derived from a common nucleus of operative facts and are such that Plaintiffs would ordinarily expect to try them in one judicial proceeding. Further, this Court may also exercise supplemental jurisdictions over Plaintiffs' Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act claims.

14. This Court has personal jurisdiction over Defendant because it is incorporated in the State of Delaware; has consented to jurisdiction by registering to conduct business in the state; maintains sufficient minimum contacts in Delaware; and otherwise intentionally avails itself of the markets within Delaware through promotion, sale, marketing and distribution of its vehicles, which renders the exercise of jurisdiction by this Court proper and necessary as Ford is "at home" in Delaware.

15. Venue is proper in this District pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391(a)-(c). A substantial part of the events or omissions giving rise to the claims occurred in this District. Plaintiffs may properly sue Ford in this District, Ford's state of incorporation.

PARTIES

I. Plaintiffs

Plaintiff [redacted]

16. Plaintiff [redacted] is domiciled in and is a citizen of Goergia.

17. On September 22, 2018, Plaintiff [redacted] purchased a new 2018 Ford EcoSport equipped with a 1.0L EcoBoost engine from Westway Ford, an authorized Ford dealership located in Irving, Texas.

18. Plaintiff [redacted] purchased his vehicle for personal, family, or household use.

19. Passenger safety and reliability were important factors in Plaintiff [redacted] decision to purchase his vehicle. Before making his purchase, Plaintiff [redacted] researched the details about the vehicle by perusing Ford's corporate website and the website hosted by his dealership at the time Westway Ford. He also reviewed the window sticker (the "Monroney" sticker) which listed the 1.0L EcoBoost engine as a component, spoke to a representative of the authorized Ford dealership who assured his of the quality, safety, and reliability of the vehicle, and test drove the vehicle he ultimately purchased. Plaintiff [redacted] selected and ultimately purchased his Class Vehicle because the vehicle was represented to be and was marketed as a high-quality vehicle capable of providing safe, reliable transportation. The purchase was made in part on the advertised safety, reliability, and quality of the vehicle and its components, including its engine.

20. None of the information provided to Plaintiff [redacted] disclosed any defects in the engine or the powertrain system. Ford's omissions were material to Plaintiff [redacted]

21. Had Ford disclosed the Defect before Plaintiff [redacted] purchased his vehicle, he would have seen such disclosures and been aware of them. Indeed, Ford's misstatements and omissions were material to Plaintiff [redacted]. Like all members of the Class, Plaintiff [redacted] would have not purchased his Class Vehicle, or would have paid less for the vehicle, had he known of the Defect.

22. In addition, at the time Plaintiff [redacted] purchased his vehicle, and in purchasing his vehicle, he relied upon representations from Ford and its authorized dealership that he saw during his internet research, heard from the salesperson, and reviewed on the Monroney sticker that the vehicle was fully functional, safe, durable, reliable, and that the engine operated correctly and effectively. Plaintiff [redacted] relied on those representations and the omission of the disclose of the Defect, in purchasing the vehicle, and absent those representations and omissions, would not have purchased the vehicle or would have paid less for it.

23. At all times during his ownership of the vehicle, Plaintiff [redacted] properly maintained and serviced his Class Vehicle according to Ford's recommended maintenance guidelines.

24. On September 3, 2022, when his vehicle had approximately 64,000 miles on the odometer, the oil pressure light illuminated on his dashboard while driving. Within ten minutes of the warning, his vehicle entered into limp mode, forcing him to quickly pull over to the side of the road to avoid a collision. The car's engine had completely seized, preventing him from starting it up again. His car was towed the same day to Courtesy Ford Lincoln, an authorized Ford dealership located in Portland, Oregon.

25. Following their initial inspection, the service technician at the dealership diagnosed the issue as engine failure caused by an oil pump failure. Plaintiff [redacted] was informed that he would be responsible for covering the costs of the engine replacement. The preliminary estimate of the total cost was $6,700.

26. Plaintiff [redacted] contacted Ford directly about the engine replacement via phone on or about September 13, 2022. Following some negotiation with the customer service department of Ford, Ford agreed to cover some of the cost of the engine, but Plaintiff [redacted] was forced to pay $2,387.03 out of pocket for the engine replacement.

27. Due to the difficulty of sourcing a new engine, as well as the time involved in installing a new engine, Plaintiff [redacted] was without his vehicle for two months. As such, he incurred costs for alternative transportation including Lyft rides totaling approximately $342.87. Moreover, his vehicle insurance provider, Farmer's Insurance, initially provided rental assistance while they evaluated a claim Plaintiff [redacted] filed. However, after determining the cause of the problems with Plaintiff [redacted] vehicle were a manufacturer defect, the insurance company declined all coverage and revoked its rental assistance.

28. On October 31, 2022, Plaintiff [redacted] vehicle was returned to him after being held at the dealership for approximately eight weeks.

29. Because the Defect is inherent in the engine, the replacement engine suffers from same Defect as the original engine in his vehicle. To date, Plaintiff [redacted] has received no notification from Ford about any potential permanent repair or modification, or change to the maintenance schedule which would either repair the Defect or prevent the Defect from causing damage to the new engine.

30. As a result of the Defect, Plaintiff [redacted] has lost confidence in the ability of his Class Vehicle to provide safe and reliable transportation for ordinary and advertised purposes. Until and unless, Ford fully discloses the Defect, a permanent repair or modification, and/or a change to the maintenance schedule to prevent the Defect from causing damage, Plaintiff [redacted] will be unable to rely on future advertising or labeling of the Class Vehicles, and so will not purchase another Class Vehicle although he would like to do so.

31. At all times, Plaintiff [redacted] like all Class Members, has attempted to drive his Class Vehicle in a foreseeable manner and in a manner that it was intended to be used.

32. Additionally, as a result of the Defect, Plaintiff [redacted] has incurred out-of-pocket expenses to remedy the Defect, service costs, loss of use of his vehicle, and lost time. Plaintiff [redacted] vehicle has also suffered diminution in value due to the Defect and loss of resale value.

Plaintiff [redacted]

33. Plaintiff [redacted] is domiciled in and is a citizen of [redacted]

34. In or around August 2018, Plaintiff [redacted] purchased a new 2018 Ford EcoSport equipped with a 1.0L EcoBoost engine from Suburban Ford, an authorized Ford dealership located in Waterford, Michigan.

35. Plaintiff [redacted] purchased her vehicle for personal, family, or household use.

capable of providing safe, reliable transportation. The purchase was made in part on the advertised safety, reliability, and quality of the vehicle and its components, including its engine.

37. None of the information provided to Plaintiff [redacted] disclosed any defects in the engine or the powertrain system. Ford's omissions were material to Plaintiff [redacted]

38. Had Ford disclosed the Defect before Plaintiff [redacted] purchased her vehicle, she would have seen such disclosures and been aware of them. Indeed, Ford's misstatements and omissions were material to Plaintiff [redacted] Like all members of the Class, Plaintiff [redacted] would have not purchased her Class Vehicle, or would have paid less for the vehicle, had she known of the Defect.

39. In addition, at the time Plaintiff [redacted] purchased her vehicle, and in purchasing her vehicle, she relied upon representations from Ford and its authorized dealership that she saw during her internet research, read in promotional material disseminated by Ford, heard from the salesperson, and reviewed on the Monroney sticker that the vehicle was fully functional, safe, durable, reliable, and that the engine operated correctly and effectively. Plaintiff [redacted] relied on those representations and the omission of the disclose of the Defect, in purchasing the vehicle, and absent those representations and omissions, would not have purchased the vehicle or would have paid less for it.

40. At all times during her ownership of the vehicle, Plaintiff [redacted] roperly maintained and serviced her Class Vehicle according to Ford's recommended maintenance guidelines.

41. On January 14, 2023, when her vehicle had approximately 60,705 miles on the odometer, the oil pressure light illuminated on the dashboard while her husband was driving the vehicle, forcing him to pull over to the side of the road and confirm that the oil level on the dipstick was not low. He drove the vehicle to Bell Tire in Chesterfield, Michigan, who advised him to have the car towed to the nearest Ford dealership. Plaintiff [redacted] vehicle was towed to Suburban Ford that same day. The dealership diagnosed the vehicle having a failed oil pump which had damaged the engine such that an engine replacement was required.

42. Despite being within the time limitations of the warranty and barely over the mileage limitation by only 705 miles, Plaintiff [redacted] was informed that she would be responsible for covering the costs of the engine replacement and that warranty coverage would not apply. The preliminary estimate of the total cost came out to around $6,270.99, which did not include the cost to have the car towed to the dealership. The dealership reached out to Ford corporate on her behalf to ask about financial assistance towards the repair costs, but Ford declined to cover any of the costs.

43. On February 23, 2023, the dealership returned the vehicle to Plaintiff [redacted] after approximately 5 weeks due to difficulty in sourcing the engine.

45. As a result of the Defect, Plaintiff [redacted] has lost confidence in the ability of her Class Vehicle to provide safe and reliable transportation for ordinary and advertised purposes. Until and unless, Ford fully discloses the Defect, a permanent repair or modification, and/or a change to the maintenance schedule to prevent the Defect from causing damage, Plaintiff [redacted] will be unable to rely on future advertising or labeling of the Class Vehicles, and so will not purchase another Class Vehicle although she would like to do so.

46. At all times, Plaintiff Ptaszek, like all Class Members, has attempted to drive her Class Vehicle in a foreseeable manner and in a manner in which it was intended to be used.

47. Additionally, as a result of the Defect, Plaintiff [redacted] has incurred out-of-pocket expenses to remedy the Defect, service costs, loss of use of her vehicle, and lost time. Plaintiff [redacted]s vehicle has also suffered diminution in value due to the Defect and loss of resale value.

48. Plaintiff [redacted] is domiciled and is a citizen of [redacted].

49. On May 15, 2019, Plaintiff [redacted] purchased a new 2019 Ford EcoSport equipped with a 1.0L EcoBoost engine at Chapman Ford, an authorized Ford dealership located in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

50. Plaintiff [redacted] purchased her vehicle for personal, family, or household use.

51. Passenger safety and reliability were important factors in Plaintiff [redacted]'s decision to purchase her vehicle. Before making her purchase, Plaintiff [redacted] reviewed the window sticker (the "Monroney" sticker) which listed the 1.0L EcoBoost engine as a component and test drove the vehicle she ultimately purchased.

52. None of the information provided to Plaintiff [redacted] disclosed any defects in the engine or the powertrain system. Ford's omissions were material to Plaintiff [redacted]

53. Had Ford disclosed the Defect before Plaintiff [redacted] purchased her vehicle, she would have seen such disclosures and been aware of them. Indeed, Ford's misstatements and omissions were material to Plaintiff [redacted]. Like all members of the Class, Plaintiff [redacted] would have not purchased her Class Vehicle, or would have paid less for the vehicle, had she known of the Defect.

54. In addition, at the time Plaintiff [redacted] purchased her vehicle, and in purchasing her vehicle, she relied upon representations from Ford and its authorized dealership that she reviewed on the Monroney sticker that the vehicle was fully functional, safe, durable, reliable, and that the engine operated correctly and effectively. Plaintiff [redacted] relied on those representations and the omission of the disclose of the Defect, in purchasing the vehicle, and absent those representations and omissions, would not have purchased the vehicle or would have paid less for it.

55. At all times during her ownership of the vehicle, Plaintiff [redacted] properly maintained and serviced her Class Vehicle according to Ford's recommended maintenance guidelines.

56. In or around November 2022, when the vehicle had approximately 56,000 miles on the odometer, the powertrain warning light began flashing on her dashboard while she was driving on the highway. She pulled her car to the side of the road, turned it off and re-started it, and the warning light disappeared.

57. When the powertrain warning light began appearing at least two to three times during a given week, she brought her car into Chapman Ford. Her dealership ran a diagnostic and did not find any Diagnostic Trouble Codes indicating that the engine's control module recorded a problem. The dealership concluded that there was nothing they could do until something else was to happen as result of the warning light going off. She checked with Protech as well, a third-party repair shop located in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, who made the same assessment as Chapman Ford that there was nothing else that could be done unless something else were to happen with the vehicle besides the light coming-on.

58. On or around February 12, 2023, when her vehicle had approximately 64,000 miles on the odometer, the oil pressure light illuminated on her dashboard while driving home from work over the Walt Whitman Bridge. She managed to get her car safely across the bridge before pulling it to the side of the road.

59. The vehicle was towed to Holman Ford, an authorized Ford dealership located in Turnersville, New Jersey. The service technicians at the dealership examined the engine and found debris within the engine from the deteriorated oil pump belt, as well as metal shavings resulting from metal-on-metal damage due to insufficient oil circulation within the engine. Due to the poor oil circulation, debris, and metal shavings, the engine suffered catastrophic failure and required replacement. Plaintiff [redacted] was told she would be responsible for covering the costs of the engine replacement. The preliminary estimate of the total cost came out to around $8,648 before tax.

60. Unable to afford the repair, Plaintiff [redacted] contacted Ford to ask for assistance in paying for the repair. Ford refused. Plaintiff [redacted] then had her car towed to ProTech. Their estimate for an engine replacement totaled $6,208.52.

61. On March 2, 2023, Plaintiff's vehicle was returned after having a replacement engine installed by Protech. The repair took approximately 2.5 weeks and for approximately 2.5 weeks and Plaintiff [redacted] paid $994.72 at her own expense for a rental vehicle for alternate transportation during that time.

63. As a result of the Defect, Plaintiff [redacted] has lost confidence in the ability of her Class Vehicle to provide safe and reliable transportation for ordinary and advertised purposes. Until and unless, Ford fully discloses the Defect, a permanent repair or modification, and/or a change to the maintenance schedule to prevent the Defect from causing damage, Plaintiff [redacted] will be unable to rely on future advertising or labeling of the Class Vehicles, and so will not purchase another Class Vehicle although she would like to do so.

64. At all times, Plaintiff [redacted], like all Class Members, has attempted to drive her Class Vehicle in a foreseeable manner and in a manner in which it was intended to be used.

65. Additionally, as a result of the Defect, Plaintiff [redacted] has incurred out-of-pocket expenses to remedy the Defect, service costs, loss of use of her vehicle, and lost time. Plaintiff [redacted] vehicle has also suffered diminution in value due to the Defect and loss of resale value.

Plaintiff [redacted]

66. Plaintiff [redacted] domiciled in and a citizen of California.

67. On or around October 2018, Plaintiff [redacted] leased a new 2018 Ford EcoSport from Ford of Upland, an authorized Ford dealership located in Upland, California.

68. Following the expiration of her lease, Plaintiff [redacted] o purchased her vehicle outright.

69. Plaintiff [redacted] purchased her vehicle for personal, family, or household use.

70. Passenger safety and reliability were important factors in Plaintiff [redacted] decision to purchase her vehicle. Before making her purchase, Plaintiff [redacted] reviewed Ford's website that featured representations and details about the vehicle, reviewed the window sticker (the "Monroney" sticker) which listed the 1.0L EcoBoost engine as a component, spoke to a representative of the authorized Ford dealership who assured her of the quality, safety, and reliability of the vehicle, and test drove the vehicle she ultimately purchased. Plaintiff [redacted] selected and ultimately purchased her Class Vehicle because the vehicle was represented to be and was marketed as a high-quality vehicle capable of providing safe, reliable transportation. The purchase was made in part on the advertised safety, reliability, and quality of the vehicle and its components, including its engine.

71. None of the information provided to Plaintiff [redacted] disclosed any defects in the engine or the powertrain system. Ford's omissions were material to Plaintiff [redacted]

72. Had Ford disclosed the Defect before Plaintiff [redacted] purchased her vehicle, she would have seen such disclosures and been aware of them. Indeed, Ford's misstatements and omissions were material to Plaintiff [redacted]. Like all members of the Class, Plaintiff [redacted] would have not purchased her Class Vehicle, or would have paid less for the vehicle, had she known of the Defect.

73. In addition, at the time Plaintiff [redacted] purchased her vehicle, and in purchasing her vehicle, she relied upon representations from Ford and its authorized dealership that she saw during her internet research, heard from the salesperson, and reviewed on the Monroney sticker that the vehicle was fully functional, safe, durable, reliable, and that the engine operated correctly and effectively. Plaintiff [redacted] relied on those representations and the omission of the disclose of the Defect, in purchasing the vehicle, and absent those representations and omissions, would not have purchased the vehicle or would have paid less for it.

74. At all times during his ownership of the vehicle, Plaintiff [redacted] properly maintained and serviced her Class Vehicle according to Ford's recommended maintenance guidelines.

75. On March 17, 2022, Plaintiff [redacted] when her vehicle had approximately 65,000 miles on the odometer, noticed a knocking noise on her drive home from work. The next morning when she was on her way to the shop for the knocking noise, the noise got much louder and the vehicle's low oil light illuminated. Plaintiff [redacted] then had the vehicle towed to a local independent mechanic, Bertino Automotive Services, located in Rancho Cucamonga, California, to avoid the risk of driving and causing damage to her engine. The mechanic drained the vehicle's oil pan and found rock-sized pieces of the engine in the oil, indicating that the engine had already suffered catastrophic damage and failure. She was informed that the entire engine would need to be replaced due to an oil pump failure.

76. Following their diagnosis, Plaintiff [redacted] had the vehicle towed to Ford of Upland, which performed a diagnostic process and said the entire engine did need to be replaced due to an oil pump failure. The initial quote for the replacement engine was $5,000. Ford agreed to pay $3,000 of the cost, leaving Plaintiff [redacted] to pay $2,000. However, when Plaintiff [redacted] went to pick her vehicle up, the dealership charged her another $375 for parts not included in the initial quote and not covered by Ford. As a result, Plaintiff [redacted] aid $2,375 for the attempted repair to the vehicle.

77. On May 13, 2022, Plaintiff [redacted] retrieved her vehicle from the dealership, after nearly four weeks.

78. Since the attempted repair, Plaintiff [redacted] has returned her vehicle to Ford of Upland several times due to the check engine light illuminating sporadically. Each time, she was told "it was probably a faulty signal issue," but no repairs were attempted.

79. Because the Defect is inherent in the engine, the replacement engine suffers from same Defect as the original engine in her vehicle. To date, Plaintiff [redacted] has received no notification from Ford about any potential permanent repair or modification, or change to the maintenance schedule which would either repair the Defect or prevent the Defect from causing damage to the new engine.

80. As a result of the Defect, Plaintiff [redacted] has lost confidence in the ability of her Class Vehicle to provide safe and reliable transportation for ordinary and advertised purposes. Until and unless, Ford fully discloses the Defect, a permanent repair or modification, and/or a change to the maintenance schedule to prevent the Defect from causing damage, Plaintiff [redacted] will be unable to rely on future advertising or labeling of the Class Vehicles, and so will not purchase another Class Vehicle although she would like to do so.

81. At all times, Plaintiff [redacted] like all Class Members, has attempted to drive her Class Vehicle in a foreseeable manner and in a manner in which it was intended to be used.

82. Additionally, as a result of the Defect, Plaintiff [redacted] has incurred out-of-pocket expenses to remedy the Defect, service costs, loss of use of her vehicle, and lost time. Plaintiff [redacted] vehicle has also suffered diminution in value due to the Defect and loss of resale value.

83. Plaintiff [redacted] is domiciled in and is a citizen of [redacted]

[redacted] or around July 27, 2020, Plaintiff [redacted] purchased a used 2019 Ford EcoSport equipped with a 1.0L EcoBoost engine with approximately 31,282 miles on the odometer from Offlease Only, a used car dealer located in [redacted].

85. Plaintiff [redacted]t purchased his vehicle for business purposes, as he owns and manages a driving school.

86. Passenger safety and reliability were important factors in Plaintiff [redacted] decision to purchase his vehicle. Before making his purchase, Plaintiff [redacted] reviewed the window sticker (the "Monroney" sticker) which listed the 1.0L EcoBoost engine as a component and other pertinent details about the vehicle supplied on Offlease's website. He has also been a longtime owner of various Ford vehicles over the last few decades. Plaintiff [redacted] selected and ultimately purchased his Class Vehicle because the vehicle was represented to be and was marketed as a high-quality vehicle capable of providing safe, reliable transportation. The purchase was made in part on the advertised safety, reliability, and quality of the vehicle and its components, including its engine.

87. None of the information provided to Plaintiff [redacted] disclosed any defects in the engine or the powertrain system. Ford's omissions were material to Plaintiff [redacted]

88. Had Ford disclosed the Defect before Plaintiff [redacted] purchased his vehicle, he would have seen such disclosures and been aware of them. Indeed, Ford's misstatements and omissions were material to Plaintiff [redacted] Like all members of the Class, Plaintiff [redacted] would have not purchased his Class Vehicle, or would have paid less for the vehicle, had he known of the Defect.

89. In addition, at the time Plaintiff [redacted] purchased his vehicle, and in purchasing his vehicle, he relied upon representations from Ford and information found on both the Monroney sticker and Offlease's website that the vehicle was fully functional, safe, durable, reliable, and that the engine operated correctly and effectively. Plaintiff [redacted] relied on those representations and the omission of the disclose of the Defect, in purchasing the vehicle, and absent those representations and omissions, would not have purchased the vehicle or would have paid less for it.

90. At all times during his ownership of the vehicle, Plaintiff [redacted] properly maintained and serviced his Class Vehicle according to Ford's recommended maintenance guidelines.

91. In May of 2022, when the vehicle had approximately 62,000 miles on the odometer, the oil pressure light illuminated on the dashboard along with several other system warning lights while Plaintiff [redacted] was driving the vehicle. He pulled over the vehicle to the side of the road and subsequently, the engine failed to restart. He had the vehicle towed to Safford Ford, an authorized Ford dealership located in Salisbury, Maryland.

92. Following an inspection, the technician at the dealership provided an engine failure diagnosis. The engine failed due to a shredded oil pump belt. Despite being just 2,000 miles over 60,000 miles Ford did not cover his replacement engine. Plaintiff [redacted] paid $6,398 for a replacement engine.

93. Plaintiff [redacted] also incurred additional out of pocket costs including but not limited to $100 for towing costs.

94. Plaintiff [redacted] was without his vehicle for approximately two months due to difficulty of the dealership in getting a new engine.

95. Because the Defect is inherent in the engine, the replacement engine suffers from same Defect as the original engine in his vehicle. To date, Plaintiff [redacted] has received no notification from Ford about any potential permanent repair or modification, or change to the maintenance schedule which would either repair the Defect or prevent the Defect from causing damage to the new engine.

96. As a result of the Defect, Plaintiff [redacted] has lost confidence in the ability of his Class Vehicle to provide safe and reliable transportation for ordinary and advertised purposes. Until and unless, Ford fully discloses the Defect, a permanent repair or modification, and/or a change to the maintenance schedule to prevent the Defect from causing damage, Plaintiff [redacted] t will be unable to rely on future advertising or labeling of the Class Vehicles, and so will not purchase another Class Vehicle although he would like to do so.

97. At all times, Plaintiff [redacted] like all Class Members, has attempted to drive his Class Vehicle in a foreseeable manner and in a manner in which it was intended to be used.

98. Additionally, as a result of the Defect, Plaintiff [redacted] has incurred out-of-pocket expenses to remedy the Defect, service costs, loss of use of his vehicle, and lost time. Plaintiff [redacted] vehicle has also suffered diminution in value due to the Defect and loss of resale value.

Plaintiff [redacted]

99. Plaintiff [redacted] is domiciled in and a citizen of Texas.

100. In or around November 2019, Plaintiff [redacted] purchased a new 2019 Ford EcoSport equipped with a 1.0L EcoBoost engine from Stanley Ford, an authorized dealership located in Sweetwater, Texas.

101. Plaintiff Vasquez purchased her vehicle for personal, family, or household use.

102. Passenger safety and reliability were important factors in Plaintiff [redacted] decision to purchase her vehicle. Before making her purchase, Plaintiff [redacted] reviewed the window sticker (the "Monroney" sticker) which listed the 1.0L EcoBoost engine as a component, spoke to a representative of the authorized Ford dealership who assured her of the quality, safety, and reliability of the vehicle, and test drove the vehicle she ultimately purchased. Plaintiff [redacted] selected and ultimately purchased her Class Vehicle because the vehicle was represented to be and was marketed as a high-quality vehicle capable of providing safe, reliable transportation. The purchase was made in part on the advertised safety, reliability, and quality of the vehicle and its components, including its engine.

103. None of the information provided to Plaintiff [redacted] disclosed any defects in the engine or the powertrain system. Ford's omissions were material to Plaintiff [redacted]

104. Had Ford disclosed the Defect before Plaintiff [redacted] purchased her vehicle, she would have seen such disclosures and been aware of them. Indeed, Ford's misstatements and omissions were material to Plaintiff [redacted] Like all members of the Class, Plaintiff [redacted] would have not purchased her Class Vehicle, or would have paid less for the vehicle, had she known of the Defect.

105. In addition, at the time Plaintiff [redacted] purchased her vehicle, and in purchasing her vehicle, she relied upon representations from Ford and its authorized dealership that she heard from the salesperson and reviewed on the Monroney sticker that the vehicle was fully functional, safe, durable, reliable, and that the engine operated correctly and effectively. Plaintiff [redacted] relied on those representations and the omission of the disclose of the Defect, in purchasing the vehicle, and absent those representations and omissions, would not have purchased the vehicle or would have paid less for it.

106. At all times during his ownership of the vehicle, Plaintiff [redacted] properly maintained and serviced her Class Vehicle according to Ford's recommended maintenance guidelines.

107. On or around March 11, 2023, when her car had approximately 79,300 miles on the odometer, the oil pressure light illuminated on her dashboard while traveling to Illinois. The vehicle completely died when she was trying to make it to the nearest gas station. She paid $65 out-of-pocket initially to get it towed to Stanley Ford. Her car insurance payments went up by $200 as result of the towing. Then on March 12, 2023, she rented a U-Haul for $500 to transport her vehicle to a third-party mechanic shop, Dempsey Auto Repair, located in Abilene, Texas. The mechanic there told her the entire engine needed to be replaced as result of an oil pump failure.

108. The preliminary estimate of the total cost came out to around $7,555 by her mechanic.

109. She reached out to Ford to inquire about getting financial support towards the repair costs, but Ford declined to pay any amount towards the repair cost and instead informed her that their quote for the out-of-warranty engine replacement would be between $10,000-$12,000. Plaintiff [redacted] ended up getting her vehicle repaired by the third-party repair shop due to a lower bid for the repair cost. In total, she spent approximately $8,000 out-of-pocket for the repairs and other related expenses.

110. While the repairs were in-process, Plaintiff [redacted] was without a vehicle for nearly three weeks.

111. On March 29, 2023, Plaintiff [redacted] vehicle was returned after being held at Dempsey Auto for nearly three weeks.

112. Had Ford disclosed the Oil Pump Defect, Plaintiff [redacted] not have purchased her Class Vehicle or would have paid significantly less for it.

113. Additionally, as a result of the Defect, Plaintiff [redacted] incurred out-of-pocket expenses to remedy the Defect, service costs, loss of use of her vehicle, and lost time. Plaintiff [redacted] icle has also suffered diminution in value due to the Defect and loss of resale value.

114. Because the Defect is inherent in the engine, the replacement engine suffers from same Defect as the original engine in her vehicle. To date, Plaintiff [redacted] has received no notification from Ford about any potential permanent repair or modification or change to the maintenance schedule which would either repair the Defect or prevent the Defect from causing damage to the new engine.

115. As a result of the Defect, Plaintiff [redacted] has lost confidence in the ability of her Class Vehicle to provide safe and reliable transportation for ordinary and advertised purposes. Until and unless, Ford fully discloses the Defect, a permanent repair or modification, and/or a change to the maintenance schedule to prevent the Defect from causing damage, Plaintiff [redacted] will be unable to rely on future advertising or labeling of the Class Vehicles, and so will not purchase another Class Vehicle although she would like to do so.

116. At all times, Plaintiff [redacted], like all Class Members, has attempted to drive her Class Vehicle in a foreseeable manner and in a manner in which it was intended to be used.

117. Additionally, as a result of the Defect, Plaintiff [redacted] has incurred out-of-pocket expenses to remedy the Defect, service costs, loss of use of her vehicle, and lost time. Plaintiff [redacted] vehicle has also suffered diminution in value due to the Defect and loss of resale value.

Plaintiff Tracey Drotos

118. Plaintiff [redacted] is domiciled in and is a citizen of [redacted]

119. In or around August 2019, Plaintiff [redacted] leased a 2019 Ford EcoSport equipped with a 1.0L EcoBoost engine from Varsity Ford located in [redacted].

120. Plaintiff leased her vehicle for personal, family, or household use.

121. Passenger safety and reliability were important factors in Plaintiff [redacted] decision to lease her vehicle. Before entering into her lease, Plaintiff [redacted] reviewed details about the vehicle on Ford's website and a brochure that was mailed to her home. She also reviewed the window sticker (the "Monroney" sticker) which listed the 1.0L EcoBoost engine as a component, spoke to a representative of the authorized Ford dealership who assured her of the quality, safety, and reliability of the vehicle, and test drove the vehicle she ultimately leased. Plaintiff [redacted] selected and ultimately leased her Class Vehicle because the vehicle was represented to be and was marketed as a high-quality vehicle capable of providing safe, reliable transportation. The purchase was made in part on the advertised safety, reliability, and quality of the vehicle and its components, including its engine.

122. None of the information provided to Plaintiff [redacted] disclosed any defects in the engine or the powertrain system. Ford's omissions were material to Plaintiff [redacted]

[redacted] Had Ford disclosed the Defect before Plaintiff [redacted] leased her vehicle, she would have seen such disclosures and been aware of them. Indeed, Ford's misstatements and omissions were material to Plaintiff [redacted]. Like all members of the Class, Plaintiff [redacted] have not leased her Class Vehicle, or would have paid less for the vehicle, had she known of the Defect.

124. In addition, at the time Plaintiff [redacted] eased her vehicle, and in leasing her vehicle, she relied upon representations from Ford and its authorized dealership that she saw during her internet research, read in promotional material disseminated by Ford, heard from the salesperson, and reviewed on the Monroney sticker that the vehicle was fully functional, safe, durable, reliable, and that the engine operated correctly and effectively. Plaintiff [redacted] relied on those representations and the omission of the disclose of the Defect, in leasing the vehicle, and absent those representations and omissions, would not have leased the vehicle or would have paid less for it.

125. At all times during his ownership of the vehicle, Plaintiff [redacted] properly maintained and serviced her Class Vehicle according to Ford's recommended maintenance guidelines.

126. On or around March 21, 2023, when her car had approximately 65,000 miles on the odometer, the oil pressure light illuminated on her dashboard. She managed to get the car to Varsity Ford where it was inspected. The inspection found that the oil pump belt tensioner had failed, requiring an engine replacement.

127. Plaintiff [redacted] was informed she would be responsible for covering the costs of the engine replacement. The total repair cost was estimated at $5,612.31

128. While the repairs were in-process, Plaintiff [redacted] was without a vehicle for nearly two weeks.

129. On or about April 4, 2023, Plaintiff [redacted] vehicle was returned after being held at the dealership for approximately two weeks.

130. On or about April 24, 2023, Plaintiff [redacted] sent a letter via certified mail to Ford Corporate to inquire about getting financial coverage for the money spent out-of-pocket on the repair. Ford offered $5,000 towards the overall repair costs. Plaintiff Drotos was still responsible for the remaining $612.31.

131. Had Ford disclosed the Oil Pump Defect, Plaintiff [redacted] would not have leased her Class Vehicle or would have paid significantly less for it.

132. Additionally, as a result of the Defect, Plaintiff [redacted] has incurred out-of-pocket expenses to remedy the Defect, service costs, loss of use of her vehicle, and lost time. Plaintiff [redacted] vehicle has also suffered diminution in value due to the Defect and loss of resale value.

134. As a result of the Defect, Plaintiff [redacted] has lost confidence in the ability of her Class Vehicle to provide safe and reliable transportation for ordinary and advertised purposes. Until and unless, Ford fully discloses the Defect, a permanent repair or modification, and/or a change to the maintenance schedule to prevent the Defect from causing damage, Plaintiff [redacted] will be unable to rely on future advertising or labeling of the Class Vehicles, and so will not purchase or lease another Class Vehicle although she would like to do so.

135. At all times, Plaintiff [redacted] like all Class Members, has attempted to drive her Class Vehicle in a foreseeable manner and in a manner in which it was intended to be used.

136. Additionally, as a result of the Defect, Plaintiff [redacted] has incurred out-of-pocket expenses to remedy the Defect, service costs, loss of use of her vehicle, and lost time. Plaintiff [redacted] vehicle has also suffered diminution in value due to the Defect and loss of resale value.

Plaintiff [redacted]

137. Plaintiff [redacted] is domiciled in and is a citizen of [redacted]

138. On April 3, 2019, Plaintiff [redacted] purchased a new 2018 Ford EcoSport equipped with a 1.0L EcoBoost engine from [redacted] Ford located in Saint Cloud, Florida.

139. Plaintiff [redacted] purchased his vehicle for personal, family, or household use.

140. Passenger safety and reliability were important factors in Plaintiff [redacted] decision to purchase his vehicle. Before making his purchase, Plaintiff [redacted] reviewed the window sticker (the "Monroney" sticker) which listed the 1.0L EcoBoost engine as a component, spoke to a representative of the authorized Ford dealership who assured his of the quality, safety, and reliability of the vehicle, and test drove the vehicle he ultimately purchased. Plaintiff [redacted] selected and ultimately purchased his Class Vehicle because the vehicle was represented to be and was marketed as a high-quality vehicle capable of providing safe, reliable transportation. The purchase was made in part on the advertised safety, reliability, and quality of the vehicle and its components, including its engine.

141. None of the information provided to Plaintiff [redacted] disclosed any defects in the engine or the power train system. Ford's omissions were material to Plaintiff [redacted]

142. Had Ford disclosed the Defect before Plaintiff [redacted] purchased his vehicle, he would have seen such disclosures and been aware of them. Indeed, Ford's misstatements and omissions were material to Plaintiff [redacted] Like all members of the Class, Plaintiff [redacted] would have not purchased his Class Vehicle, or would have paid less for the vehicle, had he known of the Defect.

143. In addition, at the time Plaintiff [redacted] purchased his vehicle, and in purchasing his vehicle, he relied upon representations from Ford and its authorized dealership that he heard from the salesperson and reviewed on the Monroney sticker that the vehicle was fully functional, safe, durable, reliable, and that the engine operated correctly and effectively. Plaintiff [redacted] relied on those representations and the omission of the disclose of the Defect, in purchasing the vehicle, and absent those representations and omissions, would not have purchased the vehicle or would have paid less for it.

144. On March 31, 2022, when his vehicle had approximately 65,000 miles on the odometer, the oil pressure light illuminated on his dashboard while he was driving on a busy highway, forcing him to cautiously decelerate his vehicle and maneuver it to the side of the road. Plaintiff [redacted] is on active duty for the National Guard and was heading to an assignment at time, but he was forced to call and cancel due to his vehicle's unexpected engine failure. A tow truck transported his car to the closest authorized Ford dealership, Kisselback Ford, located about approximately 35 miles away.

145. After inspecting the vehicle, the dealership confirmed that the vehicle had experienced an oil pump tensioner failure that had caused the vehicle's engine to fail. He was informed that he would be required to pay approximately $8,200 out-of-pocket for the complete engine replacement needed to remedy the issue.

146. Rather than pay $8,200 for the engine repair, Plaintiff [redacted] ended up trading-in his Ford EcoSport vehicle back to his dealership at an estimated $3,000-$5,000 loss. To replace the Ford EcoSport vehicle, he ended up purchasing a Honda CR-V Hybrid vehicle.

147. Until and unless, Ford fully discloses the Defect, a permanent repair or modification, and/or a change to the maintenance schedule to prevent the Defect from causing damage, Plaintiff [redacted] will be unable to rely on future advertising or labeling of the Class Vehicles, and so will not purchase another Class Vehicle although he would like to do so.

148. At all times, Plaintiff [redacted] like all Class Members, has attempted to drive his Class Vehicle in a foreseeable manner and in a manner in which it was intended to be used.

II. Defendant

150. Ford Motor Company is a Delaware limited liability company with its corporate headquarters located at 1 American Road, Dearborn, Michigan 48126. Ford Motor Company is registered to do business in the State of Delaware. Ford designs, manufacturers, markets, and distributes motor vehicles, parts, and other automotive products for sale in the United States and throughout the world. Ford is the warrantor and distributor of the Class Vehicles in Delaware and throughout the United States.

151. At all relevant times, Ford is engaged in the business of designing, manufacturing, constructing, assembling, warranting, marketing, advertising, distributing, and selling vehicles and motor vehicle components, including the Class Vehicles, under the "Ford", "Lincoln", and other brand names in Delaware and throughout the United States of America.

152. In order to sell vehicles to the general public, Ford enters into agreements with dealerships who are then authorized to sell Ford vehicles to consumer such as Plaintiff. In return for the exclusive right to sell new Ford vehicles in a geographic area, authorized dealerships are also permitted to service and repair these vehicles under the warranties Defendant provides directly to consumers. These contracts give Defendant a significant amount of control over the actions of the dealerships, including sales and marketing of vehicles and parts for those vehicles. All service and repair at an authorized dealership are also completed according to Ford's explicit instructions, issued through service manuals, technical service bulletins ("TSBs"), and other documents. Per the agreements between Defendant and the authorized dealers, consumers such as Plaintiffs can receive services under Defendant's issued warranties at dealer locations that are convenient to them.

153. Ford also develops and disseminates the owners' manuals, warranty booklets, maintenance schedules, advertisements, and other promotional materials relating to the Class Vehicles. Ford is also responsible for the production and content of the information on the Moroney Stickers.

154. Ford also develop and disseminates the owners' manuals, warranty booklets, maintenance schedules, advertisements, and other promotional materials relating to the Class Vehicles. Ford is also responsible for the production and content of the information on the Moroney Stickers.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

155. For years, Ford has designed, manufactured, distributed, sold, leased, and warranted the Class Vehicles.

156. Ford marketed and sold thousands of Class Vehicles nationwide, including through its nationwide network of authorized dealers and service providers. Ford sells its vehicles through its authorized dealerships. After these dealerships sell cars to consumers, including Plaintiffs and Class Members, they acquire additional vehicles inventory from Ford to replace the vehicle sold, increasing Ford's revenues. Ford also sells replacement parts to its dealerships for use to service, maintain, and repair vehicles, including the Class Vehicles. Thus, Plaintiffs' and Class Members' purchase of Class Vehicles and their replacement parts accrues to the benefit of Ford by increasing its revenues. In 2022, Ford reported its North American revenues was $87 billion.[2]

I. Ford's Statements About the 1.0L Ecoboost

157. Ford advertises and emphasizes the engineering of the 1.0L EcoBoost in the Class Vehicles, continually referring to the engine as "an impressive combination of drivability and fuel efficiency." In fact, "driveability and efficiency" is Ford's constant refrain in describing the functionality of the 1.0L EcoBoost as these brochures for the Ford Focus from model years 2016 to 2018 demonstrate:

[2] See 2022 Ford Annual Report.

Experience ingenuity.

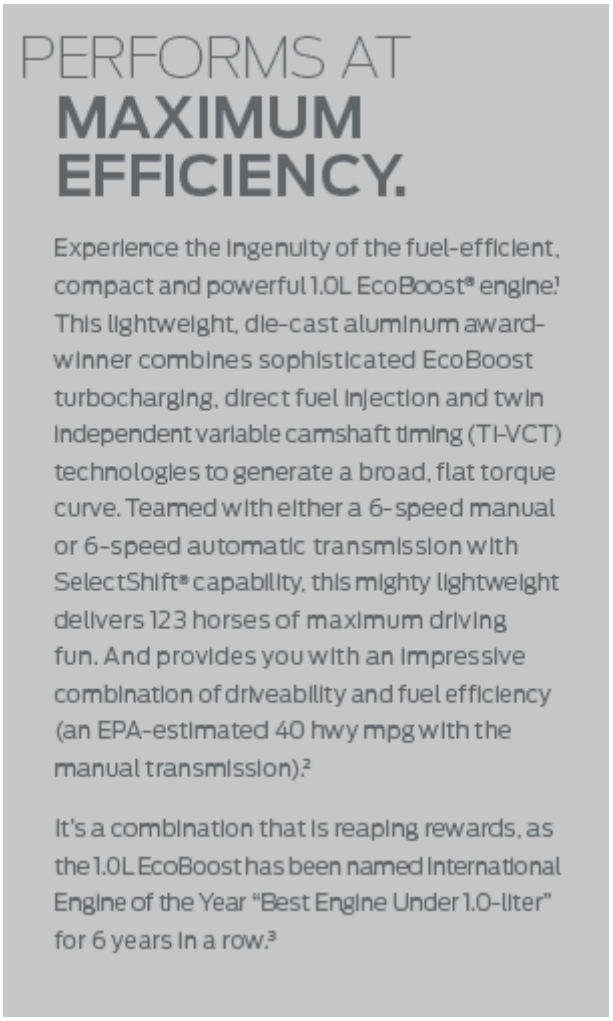
1.0 liter of displacement. 3 cylinders. 215 pounds. From these specs, the 1.0L EcoBoost® engine[1] offers cutting-edge engineering.

With 125 lb.-ft. of torque, the 1.0L EcoBoost is teamed with a 6-speed manual transmission for 123 horsepower of maximum driving fun. Or you can choose an available 6-speed SelectShift® automatic. This award-winning performer has been named the best engine under 1.0L, according to Engine Technology International.[2] It combines direct injection, turbocharging and twin independent variable camshaft timing (Ti-VCT) to generate a broad, flat torque curve. And provide you with an impressive combination of driveability and fuel efficiency (an EPA-estimated 42 hwy mpg with the manual transmission).[3]

158. This mimics the claims about the "driveability and efficiency" 1.0L EcoBoost engines in the Ford EcoSport. But contrary to these assertions, vehicles with the 1.0L EcoBoost are simply not drivable, as exemplified by the experiences of Plaintiffs.



159. Ford touted the same characteristics describing "[a] turbocharged wonder" with "an impressive combination of driveability and fuel efficiency" in marketing the 2018 Ford EcoSport:

ZIP AND SIP

A turbocharged wonder, the award-winning 1.0L EcoBoost® engine[1] has an impressive combination of driveability and fuel efficiency. It's paired with a 6-speed SelectShift® automatic transmission and front-wheel drive (FWD).[1]

FIND YOUR SWEET SPOT

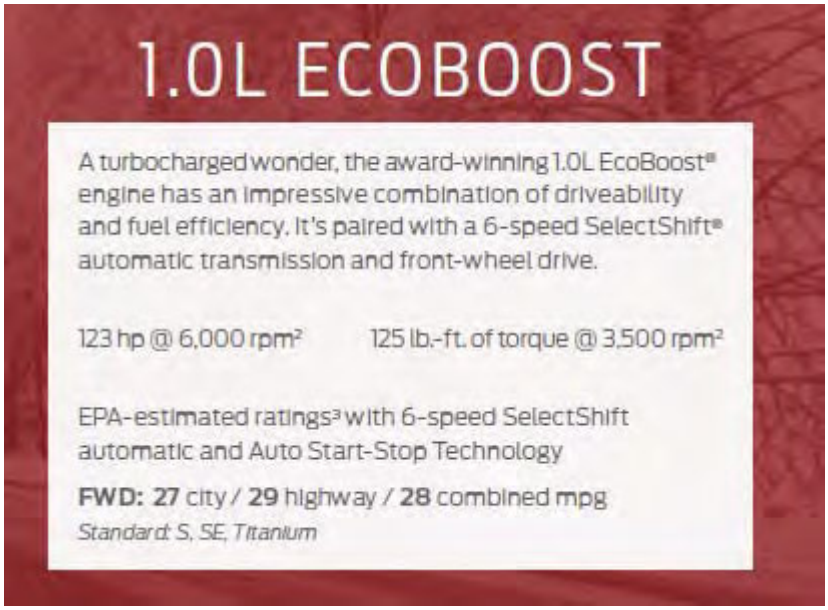
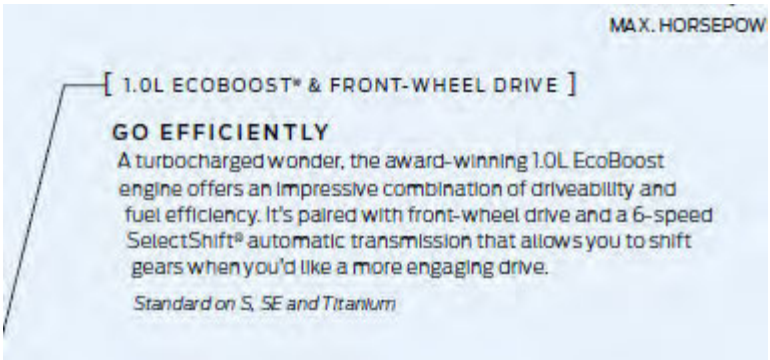
The 2.0L Ti-VCT engine[1] combines direct injection with twin independent variable camshaft timing to deliver an impressive 166 horsepower. It's paired with Intelligent 4WD[1] for enhanced driving fun.

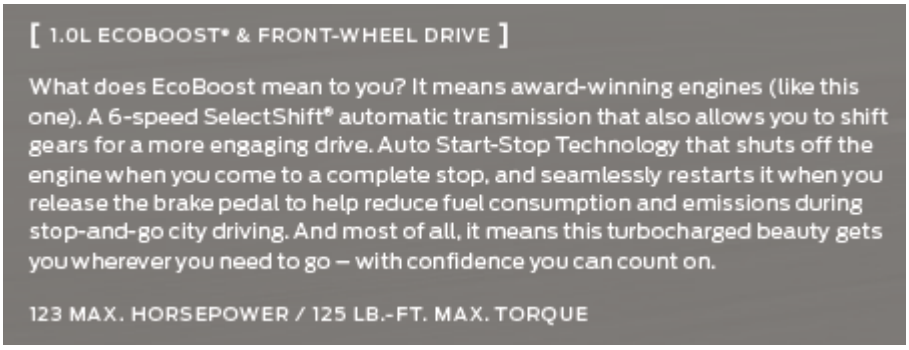
160. Ford repeated the same description of "an impressive combination of driveability and fuel efficiency" for the 2019 Ford EcoSport:



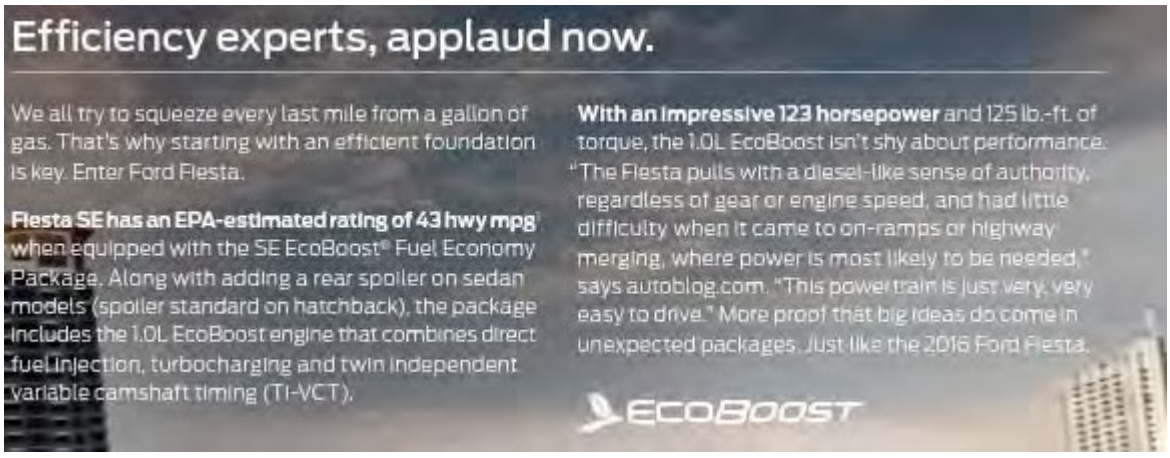
161. Ford similarly describes the "turbocharged wonder" that "offers an impressive combination of driveability and fuel efficiency" for the 2020 Ford EcoSport:



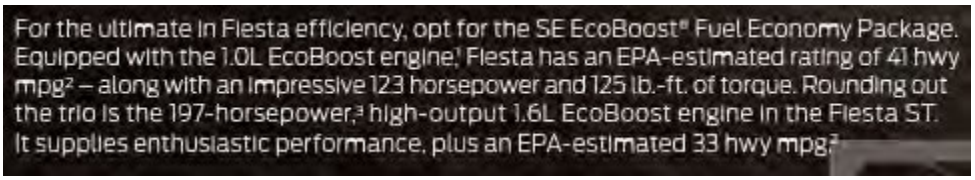
162. Ford touted the "award-winning engines" with technology allowing for seamless driving and fuel efficiency, which means "this turbocharged beauty gets you wherever you need to go" in the 2021 Ford EcoSport:



163. Ford similarly touted the quality and fuel efficiency of the 1.0 EcoBoost engine in the 2016 Ford Fiesta:



164. The 2017 Ford Fiesta was the last year that the 1.0L EcoBoost engine was available in the model. By that time, Ford had limited its claims about the engine to one about fuel efficiency:



165. At no time while advertising the benefits of the 1.0L Ford EcoBoost engine did Ford reveal one of the largest drawbacks: that the engines suffered from the Oil Pump Defect.

166. Ford further describes the safety benefits and innovativeness of their engineering, specifically touting the driver-assistance features to enhance the safety of drivers and passengers while at the same time omitting information about the Oil Pump Defect and its associated safety risk, i.e., the sudden deceleration, stalling, and activation of limp mode, while the vehicles are being driven.

167. For example, the below advertisement fails to mention the Defect or its risks while describing the enhanced safety features in the section touting Driver-assist features in the 2016 Ford Focus:

168. Similarly, the below advertisement fails to mention the Defect or its risks, but provides details on smart-driver assist technologies enhancing safety in the 2017 Ford Focus:

169. The below advertisement also details several safety features in the 2018 Ford Focus but fails to mention the Defect or its risks:

170. Ford similarly omits mention of the Defect and its risks, while going to great lengths to tout five safety systems in the 2018 Ford EcoSport:

BIG ON PROTECTION 10 standard airbags on EcoSport include: driver and front-passenger dual-stage front; driver and front-passenger knee; front- and rear-seat side, and side-curtain airbags for both rows.

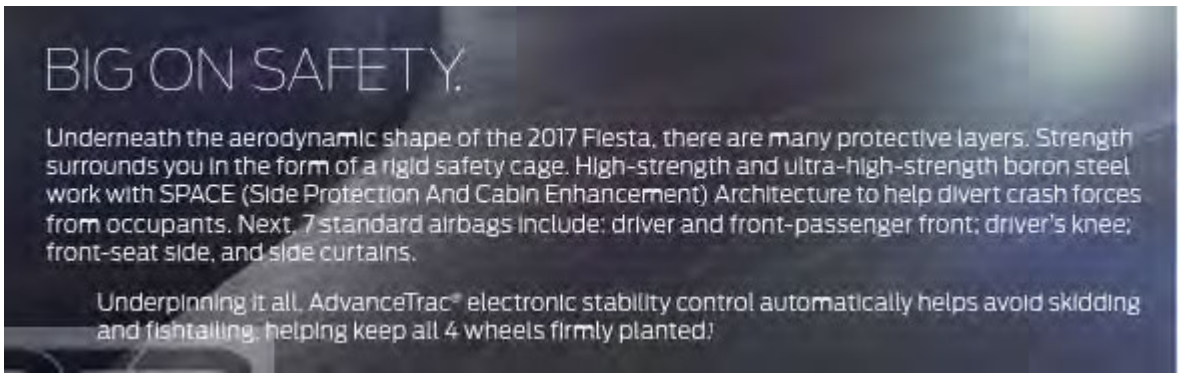
STAY ALERT TO TRAFFIC BLIS® (Blind Spot Information System) with cross-traffic alert[1,2] helps warn you if it detects a vehicle in either of your blind spots while driving forward, or approaching from the sides while in Reverse.

ACTIVATE WHEN WET When the rains come, rain-sensing windshield wipers[1] turn on automatically to help keep your forward view clear.

BE ALERTED TO WHAT'S BEHIND YOU Along with the standard rear view camera, the Reverse Sensing System[1] audibly alerts you to objects behind EcoSport as you slowly back up.

MAINTAIN YOUR BALANCE Smart standard features like AdvanceTrac® with RSC® (Roll Stability Control™)[3] provide enhanced stability in a variety of conditions. By selectively applying individual brakes and modifying engine power, the system helps keep all 4 wheels firmly planted.

171. The 2017 Ford Fiesta was advertised by Ford as "Big on Safety" but failed to mention that the Oil Pump Defect could cause the vehicle to stop suddenly while in motion:



172. Ford provides several warranties when consumers purchase Ford-branded vehicles, including a "Bumper to Bumper," 3-year or 36,000-mile warranty, and a Powertrain, 5-year or 60,000-mile warranty. Both of these warranties are part of the New Vehicle Limited Warranty ("NVLW"). These warranties are transferrable to subsequent owners, within the stated durational or mileage limits of the warranties.

173. The engine, including "all internal lubricated parts, cylinder block, cylinder heads, electrical fuel pump, powertrain control module, engine mounts, flywheel, injection pump, manifold (exhaust and intake), manifold bolts, oil pan, oil pump, seals and gaskets, engine thermostat, engine thermostat housing, timing chain cover, timing chain (gears or belt), turbocharger/supercharger unit, valve covers, water pump" is covered by both the "Bumper to Bumper" and the Powertrain warranty (emphasis added).

174. The NVLW provided by Ford promises that "authorized Ford Motor Company dealers will, without charge, repair, replace, or adjust all parts on your vehicle that malfunction or fail during normal use during the applicable coverage period." Ford also limited the remedy under the NVLW "to repair, replacement, or adjustment of defective parts" and states that "[t]his exclusive remedy shall not be deemed to have failed its essential purpose so long as Ford, through its authorized dealers, is willing and able to repair, replace, or adjust defective parts in the prescribed manner."

175. If Ford and/or its dealerships deem that vehicle has been presented within the time and mileage limitations of the warranty drafted by Ford, replacement of the oil pump or any component damaged by the Oil Pump Defect will be covered under the warranty for manufacturing and workmanship defects.

I. The Oil Pump Defect

176. Since at least 2011, Ford has been manufacturing and selling vehicles with the same or substantially similar EcoBoost 1.0L engines as those in the Class Vehicles. The Class Vehicles themselves have identical EcoBoost 1.0L engines that do not differ materially from the EcoBoost 1.0L engines installed in previous model years of the same vehicles. Moreover, the oil pump used in these engines are the same or substantially similar.

177. As with all internal combustion engines, the purpose of engine oil is to provide lubrication in order to reduce friction and wear on moving parts of a vehicle's engine.

178. If there is insufficient oil or oil pressure, the engine will not have the necessary lubrication or cooling, thereby causing premature wear of internal parts, inadequate performance (i.e. loss of power), and/or catastrophic engine failure when damaged moving parts cease to be able to move. Insufficient oil can also result in engine stalling or seizing while the vehicle is in use.

179. The oil pump is the central component of the lubrication system. The oil pump is responsible for transferring oil from the oil pan and pumping it through the engine and eventually back to the sump for recirculation. In order to do this sufficiently lubricate and cool the engine, engine oil must be maintained at a certain pressure level.

180. The oil pump is a critical component of the engine. Oil pump failure causes complete engine failure.

181. Oil pumps in automobiles are either belt-driven or chain-driven. This refers to the mechanism used to control and time the circulation of the engine oil. Chains are made of metal, while belts are typically made of rubber.

182. Belt-driven systems utilize belt tensioners to keep the belt at the correct tension level. If the belt is too tight or too loose, it can cause premature wear on the belt. Premature wear on the belt can cause the oil pressure to drop and eventually for the belt to stop pushing the oil back into the system. Moreover, the wear on the belt can cause pieces of the belt to break off and begin to circulate in the oil, damaging other engine components and leading to a loss of motive power.

183. Traditionally, belt-driven systems utilize a dry belt in which the system is designed in such a way that the belt does not touch the oil. This is because oil can degrade the rubber over time.

184. Recently, however, in a quest to make engines smaller, quieter, and more fuel efficient, some automakers have begun using wet belt or belt-in-oil designs. In this type of design, the belt actually sits inside the oil sump and is in direct contact with the engine oil. This new belt-in-oil design is made possible because of belts made from improved materials, i.e. materials which can withstand the heat, pressure, and friction of a moving engine.

185. Ford was among the earliest adopters of this belt-in-oil design, utilizing it in the 1.0L EcoBoost engines in Class Vehicles.

186. Discovery will show that the oil pumps in 1.0L EcoBoost engines suffer from design, manufacturing and/or workmanship defects which cause the oil pump belt to disintegrate or wear, leading to a loss of oil pressure, introduction of debris from the belt beginning to circulate the engine oil, and loss of lubrication, causing the moving metal pieces in the engine to come into contact with one another and cause damage such that metal shavings and pieces circulate throughout the engine. This Oil Pump Defect is the result of: 1) defective oil pump belt tensioners which do not hold the belt at the sufficient tension for the belt to operate properly; and/or 2) the use of an improper material in the belt (whether by design or by the installation of a belt which has not been made properly according to the specifications of Ford's design). As a result of the Oil Pump Defect, a large number of drivers report loss of oil pressure and oil pump failures in their Class Vehicles, including Plaintiffs, and are forced to purchase new oil pumps and/or engines.

187. The Defect is inherent in all Class Vehicles. The Defect manifests first in a loss of oil pressure, often at levels too low for the oil pressure sensor to register. As the Defect worsens, the oil pressure continues to drop until it triggers the oil pressure sensor. Once the sensor is triggered, the computer which runs the engine, called an "Engine Control Unit" or "Engine Control Module" ("ECM"), evaluates the information from the sensor and sets a "Diagnostic Trouble Code" ("DTC"). The DTCs are codes set by the computer so that it can communicate what exactly is wrong with a vehicle to a mechanic. As the name implies, DTCs are used for diagnosis. The manufacturer, in this case Ford, decides how and when the ECM sets a DTC, i.e. when a condition is serious enough to alert the mechanic. Some DTCs are set without making themselves apparent to the driver and can only be read by a mechanic with access to a computer which can read the DTCs from the ECM, i.e. a dealership technician. Other DTCs, including the DTC associated with low oil pressure, are chosen by the manufacture to automatically trigger a light on the dashboard to communicate critical information to the driver. In this case, Ford has chosen the DTC associated with low oil pressure to set only when engine failure is imminent. When this DTC sets, a light illuminates on the dashboard alerting the driver to the engine condition. Once the light illuminates, the oil pressure in the engine is so low that the vehicle can become difficult to operate, particularly at higher speeds.

188. The Defect manifests immediately in the engines, but only becomes apparent to a driver after significant time has passed in part because Ford has deliberately set the oil pressure sensor to warn about a low oil pressure when catastrophic failure is imminent. Similarly, the other symptoms of the Defect which would alert a driver, including noise from the failing oil pump, knocking noises from engine as metal components hit each other without sufficient lubrication, loss of power, stalling, smoke coming from the engine and/or fires, all occur when engine failure is imminent, and the engine is already beyond repair. Moreover, these symptoms cause unsafe conditions, including the sudden loss of forward propulsion or stalling and present a safety hazard because they severely affect the driver's ability to control the car's speed, acceleration, and deceleration.

189. The Defect also results in costly engine replacements. Moreover, Ford specifically drafted the Powertrain warranty for the Class Vehicles knowing that consumers are unlikely to discover the Defect until after the 60,000 miles threshold. As such, Ford is improperly shifting the cost of the Defect onto unsuspecting consumers like Plaintiffs and Class Members, which can cost around $6,000-$10,000 for engine replacement.

190. Owners and lessees further incur considerable out of pocket expense in the form of rental cars, alternate transportation, and towing/roadside assistance when their Class Vehicles break down. Moreover, because a large number of Class Vehicles with the 1.0L EcoBoost engine have suffered from catastrophic engine failure as a result of the Defect, there is a shortage of available engines to be installed as replacements. As such, Class Members including Plaintiffs often have to wait weeks or months for replacement engine.

191. Furthermore, the replacement engines are also subject to the Oil Pump Defect and, Plaintiffs and Class Members who received new engines continue to have vehicles subject to the Defect, which currently are being damaged due to the Defect, and can expect to suffer engine failure again in the future.

192. Ford, through its authorized dealerships and service centers, has failed to remedy the Defect. Until the Defect is fixed by Ford, owners and lessees of Class Vehicles will continue to be at risk of dangerous engine stalling, extensive engine damage, costly engine replacements and the expense and inconvenience of frequent dealership visits. The engine in each of the Class Vehicles is the same 1.0L EcoBoost Engine, and is the same engine as used in previous model years, and critically, have the same oil pumps. Moreover, despite extensive knowledge of the Oil Pump Defect from prior model years, Ford made no changes to the oil pump before manufacturing and marketing the Class Vehicles. Indeed, the Defect was inherent in each Class Vehicle and was present in each Class Vehicle at the time of sale.

193. Ford knew about the Defect present in every Class Vehicle, along with the attendant safety problems, and concealed this information from Plaintiffs and Class Members at the time of sale, lease, repair, and thereafter. In fact, instead of repairing the Class Vehicles, Ford has insisted that the vehicles are working as designed.

194. If Plaintiffs and Class Members had known about the Defect at the time of sale or lease, Plaintiffs and Class Members would not have purchased or leased the Class Vehicles or would have paid less for them.

195. As a result of their reliance on Ford's omissions, owners and/or lessees of the Class Vehicles suffered an ascertainable loss of money, property, and/or value of their Class Vehicles. Additionally, as a result of the Defect, Plaintiffs and Class Members were harmed and suffered actual damages in that the Class Vehicles are defective, that they overpaid for defective vehicles, and that the Class Vehicles' engines and their use of a defective oil pump increase Class Members' chances of being involved in a collision by overheating, catching fire or catastrophically failing.

II. Ford Had Superior and Exclusive Knowledge of the Oil Pump Defect

196. Ford became aware of the Defect at least as early as 2011, well before Plaintiffs and Class Members purchased their Class Vehicles. Ford learned of the Defect through sources such as pre-release evaluation and testing including thermal testing; repair data; replacement part sales data; early consumer complaints made to Ford and/or NHTSA, and/or posted on public online vehicle owner forums; testing done in response to those complaints; aggregate data from Ford dealers; as well as through other internal sources unavailable to Plaintiffs prior to discovery.

197. While designing, manufacturing, engineering, and testing Class Vehicles in advance of the vehicles' release, Ford would have gained comprehensive and exclusive knowledge about the 1.0L EcoBoost engines and the oil pumps installed in those Vehicles. Adequate pre-release analysis of the design, engineering, and manufacture of the 1.0L EcoBoost engine in the Class Vehicles would have revealed to Ford that the design and/or manufacture of the oil pump was defective and susceptible to failure as outlined above.

198. Ford is experienced in the design and manufacture of consumer vehicles. As an experienced manufacturer, Ford conducts tests, including pre-sale durability testing, on incoming components, including the engines, to verify the parts are free from defect and align with Ford's specifications.[3] This is especially true of vehicles and engines which feature newly designed or redesigned components, such as the new oil pump with the belt-in-oil design. Ford would have had to test this component extensively to ensure that it meet industry standards for durability.

199. Indeed, Ford worked with FEV, Inc. in developing the 1.0L EcoBoost engine. According to FEV, they "provided support in the area of design and [computer aided design], combustion development, and engine build for 36 engines." Those engines would have been tested extensively to ensure proper operation and necessarily revealed the limitations of the oil pump integrated into the 1.0L EcoBoost engine.[4]

200. Ford touts its extensive pre-production testing, both in the United States at its Michigan and Arizona Proving Grounds, and at testing centers throughout the world, including in the United Arab Emirates, Thailand, China, Australia, and India. Indeed, pre-production thermal testing of vehicles with Ford Total Durability Cycle necessarily revealed the Oil Pump Defect and its associated safety risk. Despite this, Ford manufactured hundreds of thousands of vehicles with this defective oil pump in the 1.0L EcoBoost engine, including the Class Vehicles.

A. Complaints Reported to NHTSA

201. Federal law requires automakers like Ford to be in close contact with NHTSA regarding potential auto defects, including imposing a legal requirement, backed by criminal penalties for violation, of confidential disclosure of defects by automakers to NHTSA, including field reports, customer complaints, and warranty data. See TREAD Act, Pub. L. No. 106-414, 114 Stat. 1800 (2000).

202. Automakers have a legal obligation to identify and report emerging safety-related defects to NHTSA under the Early Warning Report requirements. Id. Similarly, automakers monitor NHTSA databases for consumer complaints regarding their automobiles as part of their ongoing obligation to identify potential defects in their vehicles, including those which are safety-related, such as spontaneous engine fires.

203. Many Class Vehicle owners and lessees submitted complaints about the Transmission Defect with NHTSA's Office of Defect Investigations ("ODI").

204. From its monitoring of the NHTSA databases, Ford knew or should have known of the many complaints about Transmission Defect logged by NHTSA ODI, and the content, consistency, and large number of those complaints alerted, or should have alerted, Ford that the Defect is widespread in Class Vehicles, and a safety hazard.

205. The following complaints are a sampling of the scores of available complaints through NHTSA's website, www.safercar.gov, which reveal that Ford, through its network of dealers and repair technicians, was made aware of many oil pump failures in Class Vehicles.[5]:

The contact turned off and restarted the vehicle; however, the failure persisted. The contact was able to continue driving at 20 MPH. The vehicle was taken to an independent mechanic where it was diagnosed that the timing belt had failed and damaged the engine. The independent mechanic diagnosed that the engine needed to be replaced. The manufacturer was notified of the failure and referred the contact to the dealer. The dealer informed the contact that the VIN was not under recall. The vehicle was not repaired. The failure mileage was approximately 69,000."

The contact managed to pull over and replenished the engine with oil; however, soon after start-up, an abnormal, knocking noise began to emit from the engine as black smoke also emitted from the engine. The vehicle began to lose power as the contact pulled over and shut off the engine. The contact had the vehicle towed to a dealer where it remained in their possession. The vehicle had yet to be

  - I was pulling on to the highway and out the clear random, my oil pressure light came on and I heard a clunk. I pulled over and started it back up and the light still came on. I was going to attempt to drive the 3 miles home and the car gave out. No one can find any reason my vehicle did this. The oil was changed 4 days prior and all of the oil was applied and properly placed. I am looking into legal action. We may have a class action lawsuit. If anyone would like to be a part, contact me, phyllis_neal@yahoo.com. This is not ok or fair. I have been fired from my job, this has negatively impacted my family and it's just inconvenient.

Towed to mechanic and found out the oil pump belt was broken and had metal in engine causing engine to fail also messing up turbo. Have to now replace engine with turbo which is costly but still owe on vehicle. Engine is $7000+ and is extremely hard to find plus was told the problem will most likely happen again. If I had been driving when this happened the motor would have locked up causing an accident and could have possibly been fatal per mechanic."

  - "While driving my 2018 ecosport, i got a warning of "low oil pressure". I thought my car was losing oil so I stopped. Checking the oil noticed that had all the oil and there was no leak. Next day took it to Pep Boys, since it was Sunday July 3rd, and told me the diagnostic (PO365 camshaft pos sensor) Ford warranty is of 60,000 miles (i have just under 88,000 on my car). They advised me to take it to my local ford dealership to have a second opinion, since they don't do that type of job. Ford dealer confirmed the same problem, and if so, I would need a new motor because they do not open this type of motor to fix it. I contacted ford customer service to bring the problem to their attention and they told me there was nothing they could do. upon further investigation I have found this is chronic problem with the 1.0 turbo ecoboost engines and found a class action lawsuit (from CSK&D-FORD ECOSPORT ECOBOOST DEFECT -CLASS ACTION INVESTIGATION) started against ford for this specific issue, and they still will not help me cover the costs. I cannot afford to replace the engine and still owe too much on the car to try to trade it in. it has caused a major hardship on my fiancé and I, trying to find a jobs since this car was my UBER only job, while prices of parts and gas are skyrocketing. I have only had this car for 3 years and under 88,000 miles and it is completely undrivable due to the faulty and carless engineering.Started driving home and noticed a significant decrease in power and the engine ceased and died. Had car towed home."

  - Started with the oil pressure engine light coming on and off always told it's a sensor then 2 days it wasn't putting any oil to one of the rocker arms and told by a dealership that it's going to cost me$7500 for a whole new engine when all they did was their diagnostic test.

The low oil pressure warning light was illuminated. The vehicle was towed to the contact's residence, where an independent mechanic diagnosed the vehicle with oil pump failure. The contact was informed that the oil pump needed to be replaced; however, parts were on backorder. The vehicle was not repaired. The manufacturer was not made aware of the failure.   - Was leaving work and suddenly the oil pressure light came on and the engine started making a terrible noise. I pulled over and had the car towed to the Ford dealership. The dealership inspected it and said that the oil pump belt "shredded" and the sudden loss of oil pressure, along with the debris from the oil pump belt, completely ruined both the motor and the turbo requiring full replacement of both at a cost of $6500. Car was purchased new less than 2 1/2 years before but Ford will not pay for the repairs.

  - Driving on the interstate the low oil pressure light came on no check engine lights or anything . The oil pump is belt driven aka wet belt and the rubber teeth come off stopping up the oil pump and causing it not to work properly . With the rubber pieces going into the motor the rubber melts causing issues with the pistons and engine block. The Ford dealership recommends not replacing just the oil pump because of all the other issues the rubber belt causes because it melts inside the engine . So I am left with no choice but to replace the engine at a cost of 5,000.00. Why there hasn't been a recall is questionable . I am in the process of getting said motor replaced but does that mean every 2 years it will have same issues ?

I THEN HAD THE VEHICLE TOWED TO THE CLOSEST FORD DEALERSHIP BECAUSE THE VEHICLE BECAME UNSAFE AND COULD NOT BE DRIVE ACCORDING TO THE SERVICE STATION. AFTER A WEEK AT THE FORD DEALERSHIP IT WAS DETERMINED THAT THE ENGINE WAS NO LONGER HOLDING OIL PRESSURE AND THAT VARIOUS COMPONENTS INSIDE THE ENGINE HAD NOW STARTED THROWING THE CHECK ENGINE LIGHT. HE WAS PUZZLED AND ASKED A FEW QUESTIONS AND THEN WE TRIED TO RESET THE OIL LIGHT. AFTER DOING THE RESET THE OIL LIGHT CAME BACK ON. I TRIED STARTING THE CAR AND IT STARTED FINE. NO ABNORMAL SOUNDS COMING FROM THE ENGINE AND IT IDLED FINE. I DECIDED TO TRY THE FREEWAY AGAIN TO SEE IF THE OIL LIGHT WAS A FLUKE. THE NEXT EXIT WAS ONLY A HALF MILE AWAY SO I COULD EASILY GET OFF FREEWAY IF NECESSARY. AGAIN, THE FREEWAY WAS ONLY ABOUT 30 YDS AWAY SO WHEN I STARTED TO MERGE ONTO THE FREEWAY THE SAME THING HAPPENED. THE CAR ACCELERATED SLOWLY AND THEN BOGGED DOWN AND THE DASH FLASHED THE ENGINE NEEDED ATTENTION OR SOMETHING LIKE THAT. AGAIN I GOT OFF AT THE NEXT EXIT, WHICH WAS RIGHT THERE WHEN IT HAPPENED. I HAD THE CAR TOWED TO THE FORD DEALER NEAR WHERE I LIVE. SERVICE WAS CLOSED BUT SOME SALES PEOPLE WERE STILL THERE AND THEY TOLD US WHERE TO PUT THE CAR. THEY DIDN'T LOOK AT THE CAR UNTIL MONDAY AND EVEN THEN THEY DIDN'T REALLY OPEN THE CAR UP AND LOOK AT IT. THE TECHNICIAN SAID PROBABLY THE TIMING/OIL PUMP BELT BROKE OR SHREDDED AND CLOGGED UP THE OIL PUMP. TO OPEN UP THE ENGINE WOULD COST $800 TO FIND OUT THE ACTUAL PROBLEM AND IF THE TECH WAS RIGHT THE ENGINE WOULD HAVE TO BE REPLACED COSTING $7400. ALL THIS BECAUSE OF A FAULTY BELT DESIGNED TO LAST 125,000-150,000 MILES. LUCKILY I WASN'T DRIVING 65MPH IN THE MIDDLE OF THE FREEWAY AND BREAKING DOWN AND GETTING SLAMMED. *TR

B. Customer Complaints on Online Forums

212. Consumers similarly complained about the Defect in Class Vehicles on various online forums. Consumers have also posted extensively on websites dedicated to discussion of Ford vehicles, regarding the Oil Pump Defect in vehicles equipped with the 1.0L EcoBoost engine. In fact, Ford has made the monitoring of consumer complaints as posted on third-party websites a part of its corporate strategy for brand managed since at least 2012.[12]

213. The following complaints are a sampling of the many complaints on third-party consumer websites, which Ford would have seen as part of its online brand management:

214. For example, the following customer complaints were posted on Twitter regarding the Ford EcoSport

- Posted on 9/28/22
  - "@Ford We have a 2018 Ford EcoSport and it needs a new engine block and turbo. This is the diagnosis by the Ford Dealership mechanic. Our car has been in the

  - "@Ford This company is disgraceful and treats customers downright dirty. Purchased a new ford Ecosport in 2019, engine blew up because of A DEFECT KNOWN By FORD!! Purchased from a certified dealer that won't even make an offer to purchase it back because they know it's a lemon."[14]

215. The following customer complaint was posted on Twitter regarding the 2017 Ford Focus:

- Posted by @cmoTejada, on 6/30/18[15]
  - "Been having such a hard @Ford customer service. Our brand new 2017 Ford Focus' engine died only 13 months of us having it and barely 10k in the odo. We've called our case handler 10 times and still no answer! Just left in the dark."

216. The following customer complaint was posted on Ford Owner's Club regarding the 2019 Ford Focus:

- Posted by John@Ford, on 6/14/19[16]
  "I just bought (a week ago) the new Ford Focus with 1.5 ecoboost engine, 150 hp. After one week of driving, I got the error ENGINE oil PRESSURE LOW. I drove the vehicle to the service and now I am waiting for the replacement of the engine."

217. Additionally, Ford should have learned of this widespread defect from the many reports received from dealerships and from customer complaints directly to Ford, as those reported by Plaintiffs. Ford's customer relations and technical service departments collect and analyze field data including, but not limited to, repair requests made at dealerships, technical reports prepared by engineers who have reviewed vehicles for which warranty coverage is being requested, parts sales reports, and warranty claims data. Discovery will also show that Ford received tens of thousands of complaints about the 1.0L Engine, including about coolant issues, fuel pump issues, as well as the oil pump issues. The testing Ford would have done in response to these many complaints would have also confirmed the Oil Pump Defect.

218. Defendant's warranty department similarly analyzes and collects data submitted by its dealerships in order to identify trends in its vehicles. It is Defendant's policy that when a repair is made under warranty the dealership must provide Ford with detailed documentation of the problem and the fix employed to correct it. Dealerships have an incentive to provide detailed information to Ford, because they will not be reimbursed for any repairs unless the justification is sufficiently detailed.

219. Ford service centers, independent repair shops, and consumers doing repairs themselves use Ford replacement parts that they order directly from Ford. Thus, Ford would have detailed and accurate data regarding the number and frequency of replacement part orders, information which is also exclusively within Ford's control and unavailable to Plaintiffs without discovery. The ongoing high sales of replacement engine and engine components such as clutches and seals, was certainly known to Ford, and should have alerted Ford that its 1.0L EcoBoost engines were suffering from an oil pump defect, causing engine failure, loss of engine power, and stalling.

220. The existence of the Defect is a material fact that a reasonable consumer would consider when deciding whether to purchase or lease a Class Vehicle. Had Plaintiffs and other Class Members known of the Defect, they would have paid less for the Class Vehicles or would not have purchased or leased them.

221. Irrespective of all the aggregate information, both internal and external, that clearly provided Ford with knowledge that the oil pump is dangerously defective, Ford has never disclosed to owners or prospective purchasers that there is a safety defect in the Class Vehicles. In fact, Ford intentionally and actively concealed the existence of a safety defect in the Class Vehicles.

222. Reasonable consumers, like Plaintiffs, reasonably expect that a vehicle's engine is safe, will function in a manner that will not pose a safety hazard, and is free from material defects which affect the engine's ability to deliver motive power. Plaintiffs and Class Members further reasonably expect that Ford will not sell or lease vehicles with known safety defects, such as the Defect, and will disclose any such defects to its consumers when it learns of them. They did not expect Ford to fail to disclose the Defect to them and to continually deny the defect existed.

C. Technical Service Bulletins and Other Ford Communications

223. Beginning in 2019, Ford began issuing multiple TSBs to address the defects in their in the oil pump in 1.0 EcoBoost Engines. However, Ford never communicated the TSBs, or the information they contained, directly to the Class or any prospective buyers.

224. Ford issued several Technical Service Bulletins ("TSBs") or Special Service Messages ("SSM") to its dealers in the United States acknowledging defects in the oil in EcoBoost 1.0L engines — the same or substantially similar engine as that equipped in the Class Vehicles. On July 22, 2019, Ford issued manufacturer communication SSM 48093. This communication warns that 2018-2019 Ford EcoSport vehicles with the 1.0 EcoBoost engine "may exhibit a loss of engine oil pressure with an illuminated oil pressure warning lamp. This may be due to a broken/failed engine oil pump belt tensioner which leads to a loss of engine oil pressure. Due to the nature of this failure, an engine replacement may be required." The communication further stated the issue was confined to vehicles built before April 3, 2019. Ford then reissued this on September 23, 2020 in another communication to dealers, SSM 49200.

225. On April 8, 2021, Ford issued SSM 49726. This bulletin expanded the vehicles affected by the oil pump defect to some 2016-2018 Ford Focus and 2018-2019 Ford EcoSports with the 1.0L EcoBoost engine built before July 3, 2019. Ford described the vehicles "may exhibit an illuminated oil pressure warning lamp with a loss of engine oil pressure. This may be due to a failed engine oil pump belt tensioner which leads to a loss of engine oil pressure. If engine oil pressure at idle is below 10 psi and/or metal contamination is present in the engine oil, no further diagnostics should be performed." Ford directed dealerships to "[r]eplace the engine assembly to correct this condition."

226. Ford re-issued this bulletin on June 2, 2021, adding instructions that dealerships should refer Section 303-00 in the Workshop Manual for the appropriate oil pressure test procedure. Ford also now specified that dealerships should "[r]eplace the engine assembly with a long block option 6006 to correct this condition."

227. On June 30, 2021, Ford issued a new bulletin to its dealership, SSM 49918. This time, dealerships were directed to "[r]eplace the engine assembly with a long block option 6006 and the turbocharger."

228. Although these manufacturer communications purport to apply only to vehicles built before July 2019, consumers report identical problems in vehicles built after that date and in in subsequent model years.

229. Notably, while these manufacturer communications show Ford has been aware of and actively studying the Defect for years, none of them suggest warning current or prospective customers, preemptively repairing Class Vehicles, or covering the cost of engine replacements.

III. Ford Has Actively Concealed the Oil Pump Defect

230. Despite its knowledge of the Defect, in the Class Vehicles, Ford actively concealed the existence and nature of the defect from Plaintiffs and Class Members. Specifically, Ford failed to disclose or actively concealed at and after the time of purchase, lease, or repair:

a. any and all known material defects or material nonconformity of the Class Vehicles, including the defects pertaining to the oil pump and the engine;

b. that the Class Vehicles, including their engines, were not in good working order, were defective, and were not fit for their intended purposes; and

c. that the Class Vehicles and their engines, specifically the oil pumps within the engines, were defective, despite the fact that Ford learned of such defects as early as 2011.

231. As discussed above, Ford monitors its customers' discussions on online forums, and actively concealed the defect by denying the existence of a defect, and blaming the class members and a purported lack of maintenance for the problems.

232. In particularly, despite knowing of the existence of the Defect, Ford has refused to inform potential or recent buyers that the oil pumps in their engines have a high probability of failure, usually becoming apparent to consumers after the expiration of the time and/or mileage limits of the Ford Powertrain Warranty. If Ford had been truthful with prospective customers about the existence of the Oil Pump Defect, customers could have made choices that were in their own best interest including: 1) not purchasing the vehicle; 2) purchasing the vehicle for less; or 3) purchasing an extended warranty. However, consumers were unable to make rational choices because Ford suppressed the information about Defect.

233. When consumers present their Class Vehicles to an authorized Ford dealer for diagnosis and repair, Ford refuses to honor the warranty, relying on the fact that the Defect usually becomes apparent to drivers only after the expiration of the Powertrain Warranty via limits Ford decided itself were applicable.

234. Even to the extent that Ford has acknowledged the existence of the Defect, via bulletins and direct communications with its dealerships, it did not send those communications to owners of the vehicles. Moreover, even those communications took pains to minimize the extent of the Defect, trying to artificially limit the number of vehicles in which the Defect existed.

235. Accordingly, despite Ford's knowledge of the Transmission Defect, Ford has caused Class Members to expend money at its dealerships to diagnose, repair, or replace the Class Vehicles' Transmissions and components, once the time limitations have run on the bumper-to-bumper warranty.

IV. Ford Unjustly Retained Substantial Benefits

236. Ford unlawfully failed to disclose the Defect to induce them and other putative Class Members to purchase or lease the Class Vehicles.

237. Plaintiffs further allege that Ford thus engaged in deceptive acts or practices pertaining to all transactions involving the Class Vehicles.

238. Specifically, Plaintiffs purchased their vehicles and/or parts needed to attempt repairs to their vehicles from Ford authorized dealerships. Those dealerships purchased those vehicles and/or components from Ford.

239. As discussed above therefore, Plaintiffs allege that Ford unlawfully induced them to purchase their respective Class Vehicles and/or components for their Class Vehicles by concealing and/or omitting a material fact (the Oil Pump Defect) and that Plaintiffs would have paid less for the Class Vehicles, or not purchased them at all, had they known of the Oil Pump Defect.

240. Moreover, because Plaintiffs are likely to need further replacements of the engines in the future, they will be forced to purchase more defective components from Defendant absent some relief which forces the Defendant to correct the defective components.

241. Accordingly, Ford's ill-gotten gains, benefits accrued in the form of increased sales and profits resulting from the material concealment and omissions that did - and likely will continue to - deceive consumers, should be disgorged.

V. The Agency Relationship Between Ford and its Network of Authorized Dealerships

242. Defendant enters into agreements with its nationwide network of authorized dealerships to fulfill Defendant's obligations under the warranties it provides directly to consumers as well as to provide repairs under recalls. These agreements require a dealership to follow the rules and policies of Ford in all aspects of diagnosing, repairing, maintaining, and servicing Ford vehicles, as well as selling only Ford-approved parts for the vehicles, for reimbursement by Ford.

243. Because Plaintiffs and members of the Class are third-party beneficiaries of the manufacturer-dealership agreements which create the implied warranty, they may avail themselves of the implied warranty and allow consumers to seek warranty and recall services locally. This is true because third-party beneficiaries to contracts between other parties that create an implied warranty of merchantability may avail themselves of the implied warranty. See In re Toyota Motor

Corp. Unintended Acceleration Mktg., Sales Practices, & Prod. Liab. Litig., 754 F. Supp. 2d 1145, 1185 (C.D. Cal. 2010).

244. Further, Plaintiffs and each of the members of the Class are the intended beneficiaries of Defendant's express and implied warranties. The dealers were not intended to be the ultimate consumers of the Class Vehicles, and they have no rights under the warranty agreements provided by Defendant. Defendant's warranties were designed for and intended to benefit the consumers only. The consumers are the true intended beneficiaries of Defendant's express and implied warranties, and the consumers may therefore avail themselves of those warranties.

245. Defendant issued the express warranties to the Plaintiffs and the Class members. Defendant also developed and disseminated the owner's manual and warranty booklets, advertisements, and other promotional materials relating to the Class Vehicles. Defendant also is responsible for the content of the Moroney Stickers on Defendant-branded vehicles.

246. In repairing Ford-branded vehicles, Defendant acts through numerous authorized dealers who act, and represent themselves to the public, as exclusive Defendant representatives and agents. That the dealers act as Defendant's agents is demonstrated by the following facts:

247. The authorized Ford dealerships complete all service and repair according to Defendant's instructions, which Defendant issues to its authorized dealerships through service manuals, technical service bulletins ("TSBs"), and other documents, often only accessible via Defendant's proprietary systems and tools, including the Ford diagnostic scan tool referenced on many TSBs such as the Ford Integrated Diagnostic System and Ford J2534 Diagnostic Software;

a. Consumers are able to receive services under Defendant's issued New Vehicle Limited Warranty only at Defendant's authorized dealerships, and they are able to receive these services because of the agreements between Defendant and the authorized dealers. These agreements provide Defendant with a significant amount of control over the actions of the authorized dealerships;

b. The warranties provided by Defendant for the defective vehicles direct consumers to take their vehicles to authorized dealerships for repairs or services;

c. Defendant controls the way in which its authorized dealers can respond to complaints and inquiries concerning defective vehicles, and the dealerships are able to perform repairs under warranty only with Defendant's authorization;

d. Defendant has entered into agreements and understandings with its authorized dealers pursuant to which it authorizes and exercises substantial control over the operations of its dealers and the dealers' interaction with the public;

e. Defendant implemented its express and implied warranties as they relate to the defects alleged herein by instructing authorized Defendant dealerships to address complaints of the Transmission Defect by prescribing and implementing the relevant TSBs cited herein; and

f. Ford's authorized dealerships are able to bind Ford into the terms of the express warranties by selling vehicles to the public, by reviewing the quality of used Ford vehicles and certifying their worthiness to receive Ford's Certified Pre-Owned Warranties.

248. Indeed, Ford's warranty booklets make it abundantly clear that Ford's authorized dealerships are Ford's agents so that consumers may receive repairs from Ford under the warranties it provides directly to consumers such as Plaintiffs. The booklets, which are plainly written for the consumers, not the dealerships, tell the consumers repeatedly to seek repairs and assistance at its "your selling dealer." For example, the booklets state, that "[w]hen you need warranty repairs, your selling dealer would like you to return to it for that service, but you may also take your vehicle to another Ford Motor Company dealership authorized for warranty repairs." The booklets further state that "[y]our Ford or Lincoln dealership, or Ford or Lincoln Auto Care Service Center, has factory-trained technicians who can perform the required maintenance using genuine Ford parts."

249. The booklets further state that "[d]uring the Bumper to Bumper Warranty period, dealers may receive instructions to provide no-cost, service-type improvements – not originally included in your Owner's Manual – intended to increase your overall satisfaction with your vehicle." As such, authorized dealerships are not only Ford's agents to perform Ford's promised services under the warranties provided by Ford directly to the consumer, and are Ford's agents to provide "improvements" to Plaintiffs' and Class members' vehicles at Ford's direction.

TOLLING OF STATUTES OF LIMITATIONS

250. Any applicable statute of limitations has been tolled by Defendant's knowing and active concealment of the Transmission Defect and misrepresentations and omissions alleged herein. Through no fault or lack of diligence, Plaintiffs and members of the Class were deceived regarding the Class Vehicles and could not reasonably discover the Defect or Defendant's deception with respect to the Defect. Defendant and its agents continue to deny the existence and extent of the Defect, even when questioned by Plaintiffs and members of the Class.

251. Plaintiffs and members of the Class did not discover and did not know of any facts that would have caused a reasonable person to suspect that the Defendant was concealing a defect and/or the Class Vehicles contained the Transmission Defect and the corresponding safety risk. As alleged herein, the existence of the Transmission Defect was material to Plaintiffs and members of the Class at all relevant times. Within the time period of any applicable statutes of limitations, Plaintiffs and members of the Class could not have discovered through the exercise of reasonable diligence the existence of the Defect or that the Defendant was concealing the Defect.

252. At all times, Defendant is and was under a continuous duty to disclose to Plaintiffs and members of the Class the true standard, quality, and grade of the Class Vehicles and to disclose the Transmission Defect and corresponding safety risk due to their exclusive and superior knowledge of the existence and extent of the Transmission Defect in Class Vehicles.

253. Defendant knowingly, actively, and affirmatively concealed the facts alleged herein. Plaintiffs and members of the Class reasonably relied on Defendant's knowing, active, and affirmative concealment.

254. For these reasons, all applicable statutes of limitation have been tolled based on the discovery rule and Defendant's fraudulent concealment, and Defendant is estopped from relying on any statutes of limitations in defense of this action.

CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

255. This action is brought and may be maintained as a class action, pursuant to Rule 23(a), (b)(2), (b)(3), and/or (c)(4) of the Federal Rule of Civil Procedure.

256. The Nationwide Class is defined as follows:

> Class: All persons in the United States who bought or leased, other than for resale, any Ford Focus or Ecosport vehicle equipped with a 1.0L EcoBoost engine model year 2016 or later ("Class Vehicles").

257. In addition, or in the alternative, State Subclasses are defined as follows:

> California Subclass
> All individuals who purchased or leased, other than for resale, any Class Vehicle in the State of California.
> Florida Subclass
> All individuals who purchased or leased, other than for resale, any Class Vehicle in the State of Florida.
> Michigan Subclass
> All individuals who purchased or leased, other than for resale, any Class Vehicle in the State of Michigan.
> Pennsylvania Subclass
> All individuals who purchased or leased, other than for resale, any Class Vehicle in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
> Texas Subclass

All individuals who purchased or leased, other than for resale, any Class Vehicle in the State of Texas.

258. Excluded from the Class are Ford, its affiliates, employees, officers and directors; persons or entities that purchased the Class Vehicles for resale; and the Judge(s) assigned to this case. Plaintiff reserves the right to modify, change, or expand the class definitions in light of discovery and/or further investigation.

259. Numerosity: The Class is so numerous that joinder of all members is impracticable. While the exact number and identities of individual members of the Class is unknown at this time, as such information is in the sole possession of Ford and is obtainable by Plaintiffs only through the discovery process, Plaintiffs believe, and on that basis alleges, that at least thousands of Class Vehicles have been sold and leased nationwide and in each of the states where Plaintiffs reside. Members of the Class can be readily identified and notified based upon, inter alia, the records (including databases, e-mails, and dealership records and files) maintained by Ford in connection with its sales and leases of Class Vehicles.

260. Existence and Predominance of Common Questions of Fact and Law: Common questions of law and fact exist as to all members of the Class. These questions predominate over the questions affecting individual Class Members. These common legal and factual questions include, but are not limited to:

a. whether Ford engaged in the conduct alleged herein;

b. whether Class Vehicles are defective;

c. whether Ford placed Class Vehicles into the stream of commerce in the United States with knowledge of the Defect;

d. whether Ford knew or should have known of the Defect, and if so, for how long;

e. when Ford became aware of the Defect in the Class Vehicles;

f. whether Ford knowingly failed to disclose the existence and cause of the Defect in the Class Vehicles;

g. whether Ford's conduct alleged herein violates consumer protection laws, warranty laws, and other laws as asserted herein;

h. whether Plaintiffs and Class Members overpaid for their Class Vehicles as a result of the Defect;

i. whether Plaintiffs and Class Members have suffered an ascertainable loss as a result of their loss of their Class Vehicles' features and functionality;

j. whether Plaintiffs and Class Members are entitled to damages, including punitive damages, as a result of Ford's conduct alleged herein, and if so, the amount or proper measure of those damages; and

k. whether Plaintiffs and Class Members are entitled to equitable relief, including but not limited to restitution and/or injunctive relief.

261. Typicality: Plaintiffs' claims are typical of the claims of the Class because each Plaintiff purchased or leased a Class Vehicle containing the Defect, as did each member of the Class. Plaintiffs and Class Members were economically injured in the same manner by Ford's uniform course of conduct alleged herein. Plaintiffs and Class Members have the same or similar claims against Ford relating to the conduct alleged herein, and the same conduct on the part of Ford gives rise to all the claims for relief.

262. Adequacy: Plaintiffs are adequate representatives of the Class, whose interests do not conflict with those of any other Class Member. Plaintiffs have retained counsel competent and experienced in complex class action litigation—including consumer fraud and automobile defect class actions—who intend to prosecute this action vigorously. The interests of the Class will be fairly and adequately protected by Plaintiffs and their counsel.

263. Superiority: A class action is superior to all other available means of fair and efficient adjudication of the claims of Plaintiffs and members of the Class. The injury suffered by each individual Class Member is relatively small in comparison to the burden and expense of individual prosecution of these claims, including from the need for expert witness testimony on the technical and economic aspects of the case. Individualized litigation also would risk inconsistent or contradictory judgments and increase the delay and expense to all parties and the courts. By contrast, a class action presents far fewer management difficulties and provides the benefits of single adjudication, economies of scale, and comprehensive supervision by a single court.

264. Injunctive Relief: Ford has acted, and refuses to act, on grounds generally applicable to the Class, thereby making appropriate final equitable relief with respect to the Class as a whole.

CLAIMS FOR RELIEF

COUNT I

Violations of the California Consumers Legal Remedies Act ("CLRA")
Cal. Civ. Code §§ 1750–1785
Plaintiff Maldonado Individually and on Behalf of the California Subclass Who Purchased or Leased a Class Vehicle for Personal Use

265. Plaintiff [redacted] incorporates by reference each preceding and succeeding paragraph as though fully set forth herein.

266. Plaintiff [redacted] brings this claim individually and on behalf of the California Subclass members who purchased a vehicle for personal, family, or household use.

267. Plaintiffs [redacted] and the members of the California Subclass are "consumers" as defined under the CLRA. See Cal. Civ. Code § 1761(d).

268. Ford is a "person" as defined under the CLRA. See Cal. Civ. Code § 1761(c).

269. Class Vehicles are "goods" as defined under the CLRA. See Cal. Civ. Code § 1761(a).

270. The CLRA proscribes "unfair methods of competition and unfair or deceptive acts or practices undertaken by any person in a transaction intended to result or which results in the sale or lease of goods or services to any consumer." Cal. Civ. Code § 1770(a).

271. Ford engaged in unfair and deceptive acts in violation of the CLRA by the practices described above and by knowingly and intentionally concealing from Plaintiff and the California Subclass members that the Class Vehicles suffer from the Oil Pump Defect (and the costs, risks, and diminished value of the Class Vehicles as a result of this Defect). Ford's conduct violated at least the following enumerated CLRA provisions:

a. Ford represented that the Class Vehicles have characteristics, uses, or benefits that they do not have, which is in violation of section 1770(a)(5);

b. Ford represented that the Class Vehicles are of a particular standard, quality, or grade when, in fact, they are not, which is in violation of section 1770(a)(7);

c. Ford advertises its Class Vehicles with the intent not to sell them as advertised, which is in violation of section 1770(a)(9);

d. Ford represents that its Class Vehicles have been supplied in accordance with a previous representation when they have not, which is in violation of section 1770(a)(16); and

e. Ford inserts an unconscionable provision into its warranty in violation of section 1770(a)(19).

272. Ford's unfair or deceptive acts or practices occurred repeatedly in its trade or business, were capable of deceiving a substantial portion of the purchasing public, and created a serious safety hazard for the public.

273. Ford knew, should have known, or was reckless in not knowing that the Class Vehicles were defective, posed a safety hazard, would fail prematurely, and were not suitable for their intended use.

274. Ford was under a duty to Plaintiff and the California Subclass members to disclose the defective nature of the Class Vehicles and the Defect because:

a. Ford knew of but actively concealed the Defect from Plaintiff and the California Subclass;

b. Ford was in a superior and exclusive position to know the true facts about the Defect, which poses serious safety hazards and affects the central functionality of the vehicle, and Plaintiff and the Subclass members could not reasonably have been expected to discover that the Class Vehicles contained the Defect until it manifested, which Ford knew; and

c. Ford made partial representations regarding the reliability, safety, and quality but suppressed facts regarding the Defect.

275. The facts that Ford misrepresented to and concealed from Plaintiff and the other California Subclass members are material because a reasonable consumer would have considered them to be important in deciding whether to purchase their Class Vehicles or pay a lesser price for them.

276. The Defect poses a serious safety defect and affects the central functionality of a vehicle because it renders the vehicle inoperable.

277. In failing to disclose the material Defect, Ford has knowingly and intentionally concealed material facts in breach of its duty to disclose.

278. Plaintiff [redacted] and the California Subclass have suffered injury in fact and actual damages resulting from Ford's material misrepresentations and omissions, including by paying an inflated purchase price for their Class Vehicles and incurring additional out-of-pocket expenses to deal with the Defect. Had Plaintiff [redacted] and the Subclass known about the defective nature of the Class Vehicles and the Defect, they would not have purchased or leased their Class Vehicles or would have paid less in doing so.

279. As a direct and proximate result of Ford's unfair and deceptive conduct, therefore, Plaintiff and the California Subclass members have been harmed.

280. Pursuant to Cal. Civ. Code § 1782(a), on June 6, 2022, Plaintiff [redacted] sent a demand letter to Ford notifying it of its CLRA violations and providing it with an opportunity to correct its business practices. If Ford does not correct its business practices, Plaintiff [redacted] will amend (or seek leave to amend) the complaint to add claims for monetary relief, including for actual, restitutionary, and punitive damages under the CLRA.

281. Pursuant to Cal. Civ. Code § 1780(a), Plaintiff [redacted] individually and on behalf of the California Subclass, seeks injunctive relief for Ford's violation of the CLRA.

282. Additionally, pursuant to Cal. Civ. Code §§ 1780 and 1781, Plaintiff [redacted] individually and on behalf of the California Subclass, seek compensatory and punitive damages under the CLRA and to recover attorneys' fees and costs.

283. Plaintiff's CLRA venue declaration is attached as Exhibit A to this complaint in accordance with Cal. Civ. Code § 1780(d).

COUNT II

Violations of the California Unfair Competitions Law ("UCL")
Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code §§ 17200–17210
Plaintiff [redacted] Individually and on Behalf of the California Subclass

284. Plaintiff [redacted] incorporates by reference each preceding and succeeding paragraph as though fully set forth herein.

285. Plaintiff [redacted] brings this claim individually and on behalf of the California Subclass.

286. The UCL proscribes acts of unfair competition, including "any unlawful, unfair or fraudulent business act or practice and unfair, deceptive, untrue or misleading advertising." Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 17200. Ford's conduct violates each of these prohibitions.

Unlawful Conduct

287. Ford's conduct is unlawful, in violation of the UCL, because, as set forth herein, it violates the Song–Beverly Consumer Warranty Act, the MMWA, and the CLRA.

Unfair Conduct

288. Ford's conduct is unfair because it violated California public policy, legislatively declared in the Song–Beverly Consumer Warranty Act, which requires a manufacturer to ensure that goods it places on the market are fit for their ordinary and intended purposes. The Defect renders the Class Vehicles unsafe, unreliable, and inoperable.

289. Ford acted in an immoral, unethical, oppressive, and unscrupulous manner, in at least the following respects:

a. Knowingly selling Plaintiff [redacted] and California Subclass members Class Vehicles with the Defect;

b. Directing and furnishing replacement parts it knew would not adequately remedy the defect, and repairing defective parts with more defective parts and otherwise failing to adequately remedy the Defect during the warranty period;

c. Refusing to repair or replace the Class Vehicles when the known Defect manifested outside the warranty period;

d. Failing to exercise adequate quality control and due diligence over the Class Vehicles before placing them on the market; and

e. Failing to acknowledge the scope and severity of the Defect, which poses serious safety concerns, refusing to acknowledge the Class Vehicles are defective, and failing to provide adequate relief.

290. The gravity of the harm resulting from Ford's unfair conduct outweighs any potential utility of the conduct. The practice of selling defective Class Vehicles without providing an adequate remedy to cure the Defect harms the public at large and is part of a common and uniform course of wrongful conduct.

291. There are reasonably available alternatives that would further Ford's business interests of increasing sales and preventing false warranty claims. For example, Ford could have: (a) acknowledged the Defect and provided a permanent, effective fix for the Defect; and/or (b) disclosed the Defect prior to prospective consumers' purchases.

292. The harm from Ford's unfair conduct was not reasonably avoidable by consumers. The Class Vehicles all suffer from the latent Defect, and Ford has failed to disclose it. Plaintiff and California Subclass members did not know of, and had no reasonable means of discovering, the Defect.

Fraudulent Conduct

293. Ford's conduct is fraudulent in violation of the UCL. Ford's fraudulent acts include knowingly and intentionally concealing from Plaintiff and the California Subclass members the existence of the Defect and falsely marketing and misrepresenting the Class Vehicles as being functional, reliable and safe.

294. Ford's misrepresentations and omissions alleged herein caused Plaintiff and the California Subclass members to purchase or lease their Class Vehicles or pay more than they would have had Ford disclosed the Defect.

295. At all relevant times, Ford had a duty to disclose the Defect because it had superior and exclusive knowledge of the Defect, which affects the central functionality of the vehicle and creates a safety risk for drivers and passengers, and because Ford made partial representations about the reliability, quality, and safety of the Class Vehicles but failed to fully disclose the Defect.

296. Accordingly, Plaintiff [redacted] and California Subclass members have suffered injury in fact, including lost money or property, as a result of Ford's unlawful, unfair, and fraudulent acts. Absent these acts, Plaintiff [redacted] and California Subclass members would not have purchased or lease their Class Vehicles at the prices they paid or would not have purchased or leased them at all.

297. Plaintiff [redacted] seeks [redacted] relief under the UCL, including such orders as may be necessary: (a) to enjoin Ford from continuing its unlawful, unfair, and fraudulent acts or practices, and (b) to restore Plaintiff and California Subclass members any money Ford acquired by its unfair competition, including restitution. Plaintiff also seeks reasonable attorneys' fees and expenses under applicable law.

COUNT III

Violations of Song–Beverly Consumer Warranty Act
For Breach of Express Warranty
Cal. Civ. Code §§ [redacted]
[redacted], Individually and on Behalf of the California Subclass

298. Plaintiff [redacted] incorporates by reference each preceding and succeeding paragraph as though fully set forth herein.

299. Plaintiff [redacted] brings this claim individually and on behalf of the California Subclass who purchased or leased a Class Vehicle for Personal, Family or Household Purposes.

300. Plaintiff [redacted] and the California Subclass members who purchased or leased the Class Vehicles are "buyers" within the meaning of Cal. Civ. Code. § 1791(b).

301. The Class Vehicles are "consumer goods" within the meaning of Cal. Civ. Code § 1791(a).

302. Defendant is a "manufacturer" of the Class Vehicles within the meaning of Cal. Civ. Code § 1791(j).

303. Defendant made express warranties to Plaintiff [redacted] and the California Subclass members within the meaning of Cal. Civ. Code §§ 1791.2 & 1793.2(d).

304. Defendant breached these express warranties by selling and leasing defective Class Vehicles that required repair or replacement within the applicable warranty period and failing to adequately repair the alleged Defect.

305. Defendant has failed to promptly replace or buy back the vehicles of Plaintiff and the proposed California Subclass members as required under Cal. Civ. Code § 1793.2(d)(2).

306. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's breach of its express warranties, Plaintiff [redacted] and the California Subclass members received goods in a condition that substantially impairs their value to Plaintiff [redacted] and the other Subclass members. Plaintiff and the California Subclass members have been damaged as a result of, inter alia, overpaying for the Class Vehicles, the diminished value of the Class Vehicles, the Class Vehicles' malfunctioning, out-of-pocket costs incurred, and actual and potential increased maintenance and repair costs.

307. Pursuant to Cal. Civ. Code §§ 1793.2 & 1794, Plaintiff [redacted] and the California Subclass members who purchased for personal, family or household purposes are entitled to damages and other legal and equitable relief, including, at their election, the purchase price of their Class Vehicles or the overpayment or diminution in value of their Class Vehicles as well as reimbursement of out-of-pocket expenses incurred as a result of the Defect.

308. Pursuant to Cal. Civ. Code § 1794(d), (e), Plaintiff [redacted] and the California Subclass members are entitled to reasonable costs and attorneys' fees.

COUNT IV

Violations of Song–Beverly Consumer Warranty Act
For Breach of Implied Warranty
Cal. Civ. Code §§ 1790–1795.8
Plaintiff [redacted] ndividually and on Behalf of the California Subclass

309. Plaintiff [redacted] incorporates by reference each preceding and succeeding paragraph as though fully set forth herein.

310. Plaintiff [redacted] brings this claim individually and on behalf of the California Subclass who purchased for personal, family or household purposes.

311. Plaintiff [redacted] and the California Subclass members who purchased or leased the Class Vehicles are "buyers" within the meaning of Cal. Civ. Code. § 1791(b).

312. The Class Vehicles are "consumer goods" within the meaning of Cal. Civ. Code § 1791(a).

313. Defendant is a "manufacturer" of the Class Vehicles within the meaning of Cal. Civ. Code § 1791(j).

314. Defendant impliedly warranted to Plaintiff [redacted] and the California Subclass members that Class Vehicles were "merchantable" within the meaning of Cal. Civ. Code §§ 1791.1(a) & 1792.

315. Section 1791.1(a) provides that: "Implied warranty of merchantability" or "implied warranty that goods are merchantable" means that the consumer goods must meet each of the following:

(1) Pass without objection in the trade under the contract description.

(2) Are fit for the ordinary purposes for which such goods are used.

(3) Are adequately contained, packaged, and labeled.

(4) Conform to the promises or affirmations of fact made on the container or label.

316. The Defect in the Class Vehicles is present in them when sold and is substantially certain to manifest. The Class Vehicles would not pass without objection in the automotive trade because the Defect causes all, or substantially all, of the vehicles to experience oil pump failure and require full engine replacements, and dangerous inoperability while the vehicle is in motion. The Defect thus affects the central functionality of the vehicle, poses a serious safety risk to drivers and passengers, and causes increased maintenance costs.

317. Because the Defect creates an unreasonable risk to driver and passenger safety, and because the Class Vehicles are unfit for their ordinary purpose due to the Defect, the Class Vehicles are not fit for the ordinary purposes for which such vehicles are used.

318. Class Vehicles are not adequately labeled because the labeling fails to disclose the Oil Pump Defect and does not advise the California Subclass members of the Oil Pump Defect.

319. Any attempt by Defendant to disclaim its implied warranty obligations under the Song-Beverly Act is ineffective due to its failure to adhere to Sections 1792.3 and 1792.4. Those sections of the Civil Code provide that, in order to validly disclaim the implied warranty of merchantability, a manufacturer must "in simple and concise language" state each of the following: "(1) The goods are being sold on an 'as is' or 'with all faults' basis. (2) The entire risk as to the quality and performance of the goods is with the buyer. (3) Should the goods prove defective following their purchase, the buyer and not the manufacturer, distributor, or retailer assumes the entire cost of all necessary servicing or repair." Cal. Civ. Code § 1792.4(a). Defendant's attempted implied warranty disclaimer does not conform to these requirements.

320. The Oil Pump Defect deprived Plaintiff [redacted] and the California Subclass members of the benefit of their bargain and have resulted in Class Vehicles being worth less than what Plaintiff and other California Subclass members paid.

321. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's breach of its implied warranties, Plaintiff Maldonado and the California Subclass members received goods that contain a defect that substantially impairs their value. Plaintiff [redacted] and the California Subclass members have been damaged by the diminished value of the vehicles, the vehicles' malfunctioning, out-of-pocket costs incurred, and actual and potential increased maintenance and repair costs.

322. Under Cal. Civ. Code §§ 1791.1(d) & 1794, Plaintiff [redacted] and the California Subclass members are entitled to damages and other legal and equitable relief, including, inter alia, benefit-of-the-bargain damages, overpayment or diminution in value of their Class Vehicles, and reasonable attorneys' fees and costs.

COUNT V

Violation of Florida's Deceptive and Unfair Trade Practices Act [redacted] et seq. ("FDUPTA")
Plaintiffs [redacted] Individually, and on Behalf of the Florida Subclass

323. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference each preceding and succeeding paragraph as though fully set forth at length herein.

324. Plaintiffs [redacted] bring this claim on behalf of the Florida Subclass.

325. Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Florida Subclass members are "consumers" within the meaning of Fla. Stat. § 501.203(7).

326. Ford engaged in "trade or commerce" within the meaning of Fla. Stat. § 501.203(8).

327. The FDUTPA prohibits "[u]nfair methods of competition, unconscionable acts or practices, and unfair or deceptive acts or practices in the conduct of any trade or commerce." Fla. Stat. § 501.204(1).

328. Ford's acts and practices, described herein, are unfair in violation of Florida law because it violates Florida public policy and warranty laws requiring a manufacturer to ensure that goods it places on the market are fit for their ordinary and intended purposes.

329. Ford acted in an unethical, unscrupulous, outrageous, oppressive, and substantially injurious manner, in at least the following respects:

a. promoted and sold or leased Class Vehicles it knew were defective;

b. failed to disclose the Oil Pump Defect, and represented through advertising and the Class Vehicles possess particular qualities that were inconsistent with Ford's actual knowledge of them;

c. failed to make repairs or made repairs and provided replacements that caused Plaintiff and the Florida Subclass members to experience repeated instances of failure, rendering the New Vehicle Limited Warranty useless; and

d. minimized the scope and severity of the problems with the Class Vehicles, refusing to acknowledge that they are defective, and failing to provide adequate relief to consumers.

330. The gravity of harm resulting from Ford's unfair conduct outweighs any potential utility. The practice of selling and leasing defective Class Vehicles without providing an adequate remedy to cure the defect harms the public at large and is part of a common and uniform course of wrongful conduct.

331. The harm from Ford's conduct was not reasonably avoidable by consumers. Even after receiving a large volume of consumer complaints, Ford did not disclose the Defect. Plaintiffs [redacted], and Florida Subclass members did not know of, and had no reasonable means of discovering, that Class Vehicles are defective.

332. Ford also engaged in deceptive trade practices in violation of Florida law, by promoting the safety, convenience, and operability of Class Vehicles while willfully failing to disclose and actively concealing their defective nature.

333. Ford committed deceptive acts and practices with the intent that consumers, such as Plaintiffs [redacted] and Florida Subclass members, would rely upon Ford's representations and omissions when deciding whether to purchase or lease a Class Vehicle.

334. Plaintiffs [redacted], and Florida Subclass members suffered ascertainable loss as a direct and proximate result of Ford's unfair and deceptive acts or practices. Had Plaintiffs [redacted], and the Florida Subclass members known that the Class Vehicles are equipped with engines containing the Oil Pump Defect, they would not have purchased and leased the Class Vehicles, or would have paid significantly less for the them. Among other injuries, they overpaid for their Class Vehicles, and their Class Vehicles suffered a diminution in value.

335. Plaintiffs [redacted], and the Florida Subclass members are entitled to recover their actual damages under Fla. Stat. § 501.211(2) and reasonable attorneys' fees under Fla. Stat. § 501.2105(1).

336. Plaintiffs [redacted] also seeks an order enjoining Ford's unfair and deceptive acts or practices pursuant to Fla. Stat. § 501.211, and any other just and proper relief available under the FDUTPA.

COUNT VI

Breach of Express Warranty (Florida)
F.S.A. §§ [redacted]
Plaintiffs [redacted] Individually and on Behalf of the Florida Subclass

337. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference and re-allege the allegations contained in the preceding paragraphs of this complaint, as though fully set forth herein.

338. Plaintiffs [redacted] bring this cause of action individually and on behalf of the members of the Florida Subclass.

339. Ford is and was at all relevant times a "merchant" with respect to motor vehicles under Fla. Stat. §§ 672.104(1) and 680.1031(3)(k), and a "seller" of motor vehicles under § 672.103(1)(d ).

340. With respect to leases, Ford is and was at all relevant times a "lessor" of motor vehicles under Fla. Stat. § 680.1031(1)(p).

341. The Class Vehicles are and were at all relevant times "goods" within the meaning of Fla. Stat. §§ 672.105(1) and 680.1031(1)(h).

342. Ford provided all purchasers and lessees of the Class Vehicles with the express warranty described herein, which became a material part of the bargain.

343. Ford sold and leased the Class Vehicles with a written express warranty covering the Vehicles for three years or 36,000 miles, whichever comes first.

344. Ford's New Vehicle Limited Warranty expressly states that Ford will "without charge, repair, replace, or adjust all parts on your vehicle that malfunction or fail during normal use during the applicable coverage period due to a manufacturing defect in factory-supplied materials or factory workmanship" so long the Vehicle is properly operated and maintained and taken to a Ford dealership for repair within the warranty period.

345. Ford further provides powertrain warranty coverage, which is applicable to "the Engine: all internal lubricated parts, cylinder block, cylinder heads, electrical fuel pump, powertrain control module, engine mounts, flywheel, injection pump, manifold (exhaust and intake), manifold bolts, oil pan, oil pump, seals and gaskets, engine thermostat, engine, thermostat housing, timing chain cover, timing chain (gears or belt), turbocharger/supercharger unit, valve covers, water pump" as well as the components in the transmission, front-wheel drive, rear-wheel drive, and four-wheel/all-wheel drive. This coverage applies for 5-years or up to 60,000 miles, whichever comes first.

346. For certified pre-owned ("CPO") Vehicles, Ford offers an additional limited warranty covering CPO Vehicles for 12 months or 12,000 miles, whichever comes first.

347. Ford's CPO Vehicle warranty states that a dealer will replace "all covered components . . . that are found to be defective in factory-supplied materials or workmanship during the applicable warranty periods." The engine and its components—including the cylinder block and cylinder heads—are included in Ford's list of "covered components."

348. Ford manufactured and/or installed the engines and the engines' component parts in the Class Vehicles, and the engines and their component parts are covered by the express Warranties.

349. The Oil Pump Defect at issue in this litigation was present at the time the Class Vehicles were sold or leased to Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Florida Subclass Members.

350. Plaintiffs relied on Ford's express warranties, which were a material part of the bargain, when purchasing or leasing their Class Vehicles.

351. Under the express Warranties, Ford was obligated to correct the Oil Pump Defect in the vehicles owned or leased by Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Florida Subclass Members.

352. Although Ford was obligated to correct the Oil Pump Defect, none of the attempted fixes to the engines are adequate under the terms of the Warranties, as they did not cure the defect.

353. Ford breached the express Warranties by performing illusory repairs. Rather than repairing the vehicles pursuant to the express Warranties, Ford falsely informed Florida Subclass Members that there was no problem with their Class Vehicles, performed ineffective procedures including software updates, and/or replaced defective components in the engines with equally defective components, without actually repairing the Class Vehicles.

354. Ford and its agent dealers have failed and refused to conform the engines to the express Warranties. Ford's conduct, as discussed throughout this Complaint, has voided any attempt on its part to disclaim liability for its actions.

355. Moreover, Ford's attempt to disclaim or limit these express Warranties vis-à-vis consumers is unconscionable and unenforceable under the circumstances here. Specifically, Ford's warranty limitation is unenforceable because it knowingly sold a defective product without informing consumers about the defect.

356. The time limits contained in Ford's warranty period were also unconscionable and inadequate to protect Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Florida Subclass Members. Among other things, Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Florida Subclass Members had no meaningful choice in determining these time limitations, the terms of which unreasonably favored Ford. A gross disparity in bargaining power existed between Ford and the Class members, and Ford knew or should have known that the Class Vehicles were defective at the time of sale.

357. Plaintiffs [redacted], and the Florida Subclass Members have complied with all obligations under the Warranties, or otherwise have been excused from performance of said obligations as a result of Ford's conduct described herein.

358. Plaintiffs [redacted], and the Florida Subclass Members were not required to notify Ford of the breach because affording Ford a reasonable opportunity to cure its breach of written warranty would have been futile. Ford was also on notice of the Oil Pump Defect from the complaints and service requests it received from Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Class Members, from repairs and/or replacements of the engines or components thereof, and through other internal and external sources.

359. Because Ford, through its conduct and exemplified by its own service bulletins, has covered repairs of the Oil Pump Defect if Ford determines the repairs are appropriately covered under the Warranties, Ford cannot now deny that the Warranties cover the Oil Pump Defect.

360. Because Ford has not been able remedy the Oil Pump Defect, any limitation on remedies included in the Warranties causes the Warranties to fail their essential purposes, rendering them null and void.

361. As a direct and proximate cause of Ford's breach, Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Florida Subclass Members suffered damages and continue to suffer damages, including economic damages at the point of sale or lease and diminution of value of their Class Vehicles. Additionally, Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Florida Subclass Members have incurred or will incur economic damages at the point of repair in the form of the cost of repair.

362. As a direct and proximate result of Ford's breach of express warranties, Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Florida Subclass Members have been damaged in an amount to be determined at trial.

COUNT VII

Breach of the Implied Warranty of Merchantability (Florida)

[redacted]

(On Behalf of the Florida Subclass against Defendant)

Plaintiffs [redacted] Individually and on Behalf of the Florida Subclass

363. Plaintiffs repeat and re-allege each and every allegation contained in each of the preceding and succeeding paragraphs as fully set forth herein.

364. Plaintiffs [redacted] bring this cause of action individually and on behalf of the members of the Florida Subclass.

365. Ford is and was at all relevant times a "merchant" with respect to motor vehicles under Fla. Stat. §§ 672.104(1) and 680.1031(3)(k), and a "seller" of motor vehicles under § 672.103(1)(d ).

366. With respect to leases, Ford is and was at all relevant times a "lessor" of motor vehicles under Fla. Stat. § 680.1031(1)(p).

367. The Class Vehicles are and were at all relevant times "goods" within the meaning of Fla. Stat. §§ 672.105(1) and 680.1031(1)(h).

368. A warranty that the Class Vehicles were in merchantable condition and fit for the ordinary purpose for which vehicles are used is implied by law under Fla. Stat. §§ 672.314 and 680.212.

369. Ford knew or had reason to know of the specific use for which the Class Vehicles were purchased or leased. Ford directly sold and marketed vehicles equipped with the engines to customers through authorized dealers, like those from whom Plaintiffs [redacted], and the Florida Subclass Members bought or leased their vehicles, for the intended purpose of consumers purchasing the vehicles. Ford knew that the Class Vehicles would and did pass unchanged from Ford to the authorized dealers to Plaintiffs [redacted], and the Florida Subclass Members, with no modification to the defective engines.

370. Ford provided Plaintiffs and Class Members with an implied warranty that the Class Vehicles and their components and parts are merchantable and fit for the ordinary purposes for which they were sold.

371. This implied warranty included, among other things: (i) a warranty that the Class Vehicles and their engines that were manufactured, supplied, distributed, and/or sold by Ford were safe and reliable for providing transportation; and (ii) a warranty that the Class Vehicles and their engines would be fit for their intended use while the Class Vehicles were being operated.

372. Contrary to the applicable implied warranties, the Class Vehicles and their engines at the time of sale and thereafter were not fit for their ordinary and intended purpose of providing Plaintiffs [redacted] and Class Members with reliable, durable, and safe transportation. Instead, the Class Vehicles are defective, including, but not limited to, the defective design and manufacture of their engines and the existence of the Oil Pump Defect at the time of sale or lease and thereafter. Ford knew of this defect at the time these sale or lease transactions occurred.

373. As a result of Ford's breach of the applicable implied warranties, Plaintiffs [redacted], [redacted] and the Florida Subclass Members suffered an ascertainable loss of money, property, and/or value of their Class Vehicles. Additionally, as a result of the Oil Pump Defect, Plaintiffs [redacted], [redacted] and the Florida Subclass Members were harmed and suffered actual damages in that the Class Vehicles' engine components are substantially certain to fail before their expected useful life has run.

374. Ford's actions, as complained of herein, breached the implied warranty that the Class Vehicles were of merchantable quality and fit for such use in violation of Fla. Stat. §§ 672.314 and 680.212.

375. Plaintiffs [redacted], and the Florida Subclass Members have complied with all obligations under the warranty, or otherwise have been excused from performance of said obligations as a result of Ford's conduct described herein.

376. Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Florida Subclass Members were not required to notify Ford of the breach because affording Ford a reasonable opportunity to cure its breach of implied warranty would have been futile. Ford was also on notice of the Oil Pump Defect from the complaints and service requests it received from Plaintiffs and the Class Members, from repairs and/or replacements of the engines or components thereof, and through other internal sources.

377. Because Plaintiffs [redacted], and the Florida Subclass Members purchased their vehicles from authorized Ford dealers, they are in privity with Ford since (1) an agency relationship establishes privity for purposes of the breach of implied warranty claims and (2) privity is not required where plaintiffs are intended third-party beneficiaries of a defendant's implied warranties and of the contracts between Ford and its authorized dealers.

378. As a direct and proximate cause of Ford's breach, Plaintiffs [redacted], and the Florida Subclass Members suffered damages and continue to suffer damages, including economic damages at the point of sale or lease and diminution of value of their Class Vehicles. Additionally, Plaintiffs [redacted], and the Florida Subclass Members have incurred or will incur economic damages at the point of repair in the form of the cost of repair.

379. As a direct and proximate result of Ford's breach of the implied warranty of merchantability, Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Florida Subclass Members have been damaged in an amount to be proven at trial.

COUNT VIII

Violations of the Michigan Consumer Protection Act ("MCPA")
MICH. COMP. LAWS §§ 445.901 – .922
Plaintiffs [redacted] Individually and on Behalf of the Michigan Subclass

380. Plaintiffs repeat and reallege the allegations contained above as if fully set forth herein.

381. Plaintiffs [redacted] bring this claim on behalf of herself and the Michigan Subclass.

382. Plaintiffs, [redacted] Subclass members, and Ford fall within the definition of "person" under the MCPA. Mich. Comp. Laws § 445.902(d).

383. The MCPA is designed to provide a remedy for consumers who are injured by deceptive business practices. The MCPA expressly allows for class actions on behalf of consumers who have suffered a loss as a result of a violation of the act. Mich. Comp. Laws § 445.911(3).

384. Defendant's conduct alleged herein constitutes unfair, unlawful, unconscionable, and deceptive acts in violation of the MCPA, including, but not necessarily limited to, the following sections:

a. Section 445.903(1)(c): Defendant represented that its Class Vehicles have characteristics, uses, or benefits that they do not have;

b. Section 445.903(1)(e): Defendant represented that its Class Vehicles were of a particular standard, quality, or grade, when they were of another.

c. Section 445.903(1)(s): Defendant failed to reveal material facts, the omission of which tended to mislead or deceive the consumers, and which fact could not reasonably be known by the consumers;

d. Section 445.903(1)(bb): Defendant made representations of fact material to the transaction such that consumers reasonably believed the represented state of affairs to be other than it actually was; and

e. Section 445.903(1)(cc): Defendant failed to reveal facts that were material to the purchase and lease of Class Vehicles in light of the representations of fact made in a positive manner.

385. Specifically, as alleged herein, Defendant knowingly or recklessly made misrepresentations about the quality, characteristics, performance, and reliability of its Class Vehicles which contain the Oil Pump Defect and pose a safety hazard.

386. Defendant concealed, omitted, and failed to disclose the truth about Class Vehicles in order to continue sales and increase profits.

387. Defendant had a duty to disclose the material defect because it had exclusive knowledge of the Oil Pump Defect and such information was not reasonably accessible to Plaintiffs and the Michigan Subclass.

388. Had Plaintiffs and the Michigan Subclass members known about the Oil Pump Defect, Plaintiffs and the class members would not have purchased or leased their Class Vehicles or would have paid significantly less for them.

389. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's business practices, Plaintiffs and proposed class members suffered injury in fact and lost money or property because they purchased and paid for Class Vehicles that they otherwise would not have purchased or would have paid significantly less for them and because they have incurred out of pocket costs in the form of costly repairs and other out of pocket expenses.

390. Plaintiffs and proposed class members are entitled to actual or statutory damages, attorneys' fees, an injunction, and other equitable relief, including restitutionary disgorgement of all profits accruing to Defendant because of its unfair and deceptive practices and such other orders as may be necessary to prevent the future use of these practices. Mich. Comp. Laws § 445.911.

Plaintiffs [redacted], Individually and on Behalf of the [redacted] Subclass

391. Plaintiffs reallege and incorporate by reference all allegations of the preceding paragraphs as though fully set forth herein.

392. Plaintiffs [redacted] bring this cause of action individually and on behalf of the Michigan Subclass.

393. Ford is and was at all relevant times a "merchant" with respect to motor vehicles under Mich. Comp. Laws §§ 440.2104(1) and a "seller" of motor vehicles under § 440.2103(1)(c).

394. With respect to leases, Ford is and was at all relevant times a "lessor" of motor vehicles under Mich. Comp. Laws § 440.2803(1)(p).

395. The Class Vehicles are and were at all relevant times "goods" within the meaning of Mich. Comp. Laws §§ 440.2105(1) and 440.2803(1)(h).

396. Ford provided all purchasers and lessees of the Class Vehicles with the express warranty described herein, which became a material part of the bargain.

397. Ford sold and leased the Class Vehicles with a written express warranty covering the Vehicles for three years or 36,000 miles, whichever comes first.

398. Ford's New Vehicle Limited Warranty expressly states that Ford will "without charge, repair, replace, or adjust all parts on your vehicle that malfunction or fail during normal use during the applicable coverage period due to a manufacturing defect in factory-supplied materials or factory workmanship" so long the Vehicle is properly operated and maintained and taken to a Ford dealership for repair within the warranty period.

399. This coverage applies for 5-years or up to 60,000 miles, whichever comes first.

400. For certified pre-owned ("CPO") Vehicles, Ford offers an additional limited warranty covering CPO Vehicles for 12 months or 12,000 miles, whichever comes first.

401. Ford's CPO Vehicle warranty states that a dealer will replace "all covered components . . . that are found to be defective in factory-supplied materials or workmanship during the applicable warranty periods." The engine and its components—including the cylinder block and cylinder heads—are included in Ford's list of "covered components."

402. Ford manufactured and/or installed the engines and the engines' component parts in the Class Vehicles, and the engines and their component parts are covered by the express Warranties.

403. The Oil Pump Defect at issue in this litigation was present at the time the Class Vehicles were sold or leased to Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Michigan Subclass Members.

404. Plaintiffs relied on Ford's express warranties, which were a material part of the bargain, when purchasing or leasing their Class Vehicles.

405. Under the express Warranties, Ford was obligated to correct the Oil Pump Defect in the vehicles owned or leased by Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Michigan Subclass Members.

406. Although Ford was obligated to correct the Oil Pump Defect, none of the attempted fixes to the engines are adequate under the terms of the Warranties, as they did not cure the defect.

407. Ford breached the express Warranties by performing illusory repairs. Rather than repairing the vehicles pursuant to the express Warranties, Ford falsely informed Michigan Subclass Members that there was no problem with their Class Vehicles, performed ineffective procedures including software updates, and/or replaced defective components in the engines with equally defective components, without actually repairing the Class Vehicles.

408. Ford and its agent dealers have failed and refused to conform the engines to the express Warranties. Ford's conduct, as discussed throughout this Complaint, has voided any attempt on its part to disclaim liability for its actions.

409. Moreover, Ford's attempt to disclaim or limit these express Warranties vis-à-vis consumers is unconscionable and unenforceable under the circumstances here. Specifically, Ford's warranty limitation is unenforceable because it knowingly sold a defective product without informing consumers about the defect.

410. The time limits contained in Ford's warranty period were also unconscionable and inadequate to protect Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Michigan Subclass Members. Among other things, Plaintiff [redacted] and the Michigan Subclass Members had no meaningful choice in determining these time limitations, the terms of which unreasonably favored Ford. A gross disparity in bargaining power existed between Ford and the Class members, and Ford knew or should have known that the Class Vehicles were defective at the time of sale.

411. Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Michigan Subclass Members have complied with all obligations under the Warranties, or otherwise have been excused from performance of said obligations as a result of Ford's conduct described herein.

412. Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Michigan Subclass Members were not required to notify Ford of the breach because affording Ford a reasonable opportunity to cure its breach of written warranty would have been futile. Ford was also on notice of the Oil Pump Defect from the complaints and service requests it received from Plaintiffs and the Class Members, from repairs and/or replacements of the engines or components thereof, and through other internal and external sources.

413. Nonetheless, Plaintiffs [redacted] provided notice to Ford of the breach of the warranties when they repeatedly took their vehicle to an authorized Ford dealership and requested warranty repairs. Further, [redacted] and provided written notice by letter dated May 23, 2023.

414. Because Ford, through its conduct and exemplified by its own service bulletins, has covered repairs of the Oil Pump Defect if Ford determines the repairs are appropriately covered under the Warranties, Ford cannot now deny that the Warranties cover the Oil Pump Defect.

415. Because Ford has not been able remedy the Oil Pump Defect, any limitation on remedies included in the Warranties causes the Warranties to fail their essential purposes, rendering them null and void.

416. As a direct and proximate cause of Ford's breach, Plaintiffs [redacted] ubclass Members suffered damages and continue to suffer damages, including economic damages at the point of sale or lease and diminution of value of their Class Vehicles. Additionally, [redacted] and the Michigan Subclass Members have incurred or will incur economic damages at the point of repair in the form of the cost of repair.

417. As a direct and proximate result of Ford's breach of express warranties, Plaintiff [redacted] have been damaged in an amount to be determined at trial.

COUNT X

Violations of the Pennsylvania Unfair Trade Practices and Consumer Protection Law, 73 P.S. § 201-1, *et seq.
[redacted] and on Behalf of the Pennsylvania Subclass

418. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference each preceding and succeeding paragraph as though fully set forth at length herein.

419. Plaintiff [redacted] brings this claim on behalf of herself and the members of the Pennsylvania Subclass.

420. Plaintiff [redacted] Members purchased or leased their Class Vehicles primarily for personal, family or household purposes within the meaning of 73 P.S. § 201-9.2.

421. All of the acts complained of herein were perpetrated by Ford in the course of trade or commerce within the meaning of 73 P.S. § 201-2(3).Pennsylvania Unfair Trade Practices and Consumer Protection Law ("Pennsylvania CPL") prohibits unfair or deceptive acts or practices, including: (a) "Representing that goods or services have . . . characteristics, . . . [b]enefits or qualities that they do not have;" (b) "Representing that goods or services are of a particular standard, quality or grade . . . if they are of another;" (c) "Advertising goods or services with intent not to sell them as advertised;" and (d) "Engaging in any other fraudulent or deceptive conduct which creates a likelihood of confusion or misunderstanding." 73 P.S. § 201-2(4). Ford engaged in unfair and deceptive practices that violated the Pennsylvania CPL as described above.

422. Defendant participated in and engaged in deceptive business or trade practices prohibited by the Pennsylvania CPL by failing to disclose and actively concealing the defective nature of the oil pump within the 1.0 L EcoBoost engine, by marketing their Class Vehicles as safe and of high quality, and by presenting themselves as a reputable manufacturer that valued safety and stood behind its vehicles after they were sold.

423. By failing to disclose the Oil Pump Defect; by concealing the Oil Pump Defect; by promoting and selling or leasing Class Vehicles it knew were defective, including by marketing its vehicles as safe, reliable, easily operable, efficient, and of high quality; by presenting itself as a reputable manufacturer that valued safety, reliability, performance and efficiency, and stood behind its vehicles after they were sold; by failing to make repairs or making repairs and providing replacements that caused Plaintiff [redacted] and the Pennsylvania Sub-Class Members to experience repeated instances of failure, rendering the New Vehicle Limited Warranty useless; and by minimized the scope and severity of the problems with the Class Vehicles, refusing to acknowledge that they are defective, and failing to provide adequate relief to consumers, Ford knowingly and intentionally misrepresented and omitted material facts in connection with the sale or lease of the Class Vehicles.

424. Defendant systematically misrepresented, concealed, suppressed, or omitted material facts relating to the Class Vehicles and Oil Pump Defect in the course of its business.

425. Defendant also engaged in unlawful trade practices by employing deception, deceptive acts or practices, fraud, misrepresentations, or concealment, suppression or omission of any material fact with intent that others rely upon such concealment, suppression or omission, in connection with the sale of the Class Vehicles.

426. Defendant's unfair and deceptive acts or practices occurred repeatedly in Ford's trade or business, were capable of deceiving a substantial portion of the purchasing public, and imposed a serious safety risk on the public.

427. Defendant knew that the Class Vehicles and their 1.0L EcoBoost engines suffered from an inherent defect, were defectively designed or manufactured, and were not suitable for their intended use.

428. Defendant knew or should have known that its conduct violated the Pennsylvania CPL.

429. Plaintiff [redacted] and the [redacted] relied on Ford's misrepresentations and omissions of material facts in its advertisements of the Class Vehicles and in the purchase of the Class Vehicles.

430. Had Plaintiff [redacted] and the [redacted] Members known that the Class Vehicles would exhibit the Oil Pump Defect, they would not have purchased or leased the Class Vehicles or would have paid less for them. Plaintiffs did not receive the benefit of their bargain as a result of Ford's misconduct.

431. Defendant owed Plaintiff [redacted] and the [redacted] Members a duty to disclose the truth about the Oil Pump Defect because Ford:.

a. possessed exclusive and superior knowledge of the design of the Class Vehicles and the Oil Pump Defect;

b. intentionally concealed the foregoing from Plaintiff Bilotta and the Pennsylvania Sub-Class Members;

c. had a duty under the Motor Vehicle Safety Act to disclose safety defects, which places a duty on manufacturers to report vehicle or equipment defects. 49 U.S.C. § 30118(c); and/or

d. made incomplete representations regarding the quality and durability of the Class Vehicles, while purposefully withholding material facts from Plaintiff [redacted] and the Pennsylvania Sub-Class Members that contradicted these representations.

432. Due to Ford's specific and superior knowledge that the 1.0L EcoBoost engine in the Class Vehicles will fail before their expected useful life has run due to the Oil Pump Defect, its false representations regarding the increased durability of the Class Vehicles, and reliance by Plaintiff [redacted] and the Pennsylvania Sub-Class Members on these material representations, Ford had a duty to disclose to Class members that the Oil Pump Defect will cause engine failure in Class Vehicles, that Class Vehicles do not have the expected durability, reliability, and/or safety over other vehicles or of their predecessor engines, that failure of the Engines will cause damage to Class Vehicle, and that Class members would be required to bear the cost of the damage to their vehicles.

433. Having volunteered to provide information to Plaintiff [redacted] and the [redacted] Ford had the duty to disclose not just the partial truth, but the entire truth. These omitted and concealed facts were material because they directly impact the value of the Class Vehicles purchased or leased by Plaintiff [redacted] and the [redacted]

434. Longevity, durability, performance, and safety are material concerns to Ford consumers. Ford represented to Plaintiff [redacted] and the Pennsylvania Sub-Class Members that they were purchasing or leasing vehicles that were durable, reliable, safe, efficient, of high quality, and containing engines of advanced and superior characteristics and technology as alleged throughout this Complaint, when in fact it is only a matter of time, far sooner than any reasonable consumer would expect, before the engines fail due to the Oil Pump Defect.

435. Plaintiff [redacted] suffered injury in fact to a legally protected interest. As a result of Ford's conduct, Plaintiff [redacted] and the Pennsylvania Sub-Class Members were harmed and suffered actual damages in the form of the costs of diagnosis and repair of their vehicles, and the diminished value of their vehicles.

436. As a direct and proximate result of Ford's unfair or deceptive acts or practices, Plaintiff [redacted] suffered and will continue to suffer injury in fact and/or actual damages.

437. Defendant's violations present a continuing risk to Plaintiff [redacted] as well as to the general public. Defendant's unlawful acts and practices complained of herein affect the public interest.

438. As a proximate and direct result of Ford's unfair and deceptive trade practices, Plaintiff [redacted] purchased or leased Class Vehicles and suffered an ascertainable loss and financial harm. This included ascertainable losses in the form of actual damages in the amount of the cost to attempt to repair the Oil Pump Defect, replaced the damaged related system components, diminution of Class Vehicle resale value, increased repair and maintenance costs, and other substantial monetary damages and inconvenience.

439. Defendant is liable to Plaintiff [redacted] for treble their actual damages or $100, whichever is greater, and attorneys' fees and costs under 73 P.S. § 201-9.2(a). Plaintiff [redacted] are also entitled to an award of punitive damages given that Defendant's conduct was malicious, wanton, willful, oppressive, or exhibited a reckless indifference to the rights of others.

COUNT XI

Breach of Express Warranty (Pennsylvania)
(13 PA. CONS. STAT. §§ 2313 and 2A210)
Plaintiff [redacted], Individually and on Behalf of the [redacted]

440. Plaintiffs reallege and incorporate by reference all allegations of the preceding paragraphs as though fully set forth herein.

441. Plaintiff [redacted] brings this cause of action on her behalf and on behalf of the Maryland Subclass.

442. Ford is and was at all relevant times a "merchant" with respect to motor vehicles under 13 Pa. Cons. Stat. §§ 2104 and 2A103(a), and a "seller" of motor vehicles under § 2103(a).

443. With respect to leases, Ford is and was at all relevant times a "lessor" of motor vehicles under 13 Pa. Cons. Stat. § 2A103(a).

444. The Class Vehicles are and were at all relevant times "goods" within the meaning of 13 Pa. Cons. Stat. § 2105(a) and 2A103(a).

445. Ford provided all purchasers and lessees of the Class Vehicles with the express warranty described herein, which became a material part of the bargain.

446. Ford sold and leased the Class Vehicles with a written express warranty covering the Vehicles for three years or 36,000 miles, whichever comes first.

447. Ford's New Vehicle Limited Warranty expressly states that Ford will "without charge, repair, replace, or adjust all parts on your vehicle that malfunction or fail during normal use during the applicable coverage period due to a manufacturing defect in factory-supplied materials or factory workmanship" so long the Vehicle is properly operated and maintained and taken to a Ford dealership for repair within the warranty period.

448. Ford further provides powertrain warranty coverage, which is applicable to "the Engine: all internal lubricated parts, cylinder block, cylinder heads, electrical fuel pump, powertrain control module, engine mounts, flywheel, injection pump, manifold (exhaust and intake), manifold bolts, oil pan, oil pump, seals and gaskets, engine thermostat, engine, thermostat housing, timing chain cover, timing chain (gears or belt), turbocharger/supercharger unit, valve covers, water pump" as well as the components in the transmission, front-wheel drive, rear-wheel drive, and four-wheel/all-wheel drive. This coverage applies for 5-years or up to 60,000 miles, whichever comes first.

449. For certified pre-owned ("CPO") Vehicles, Ford offers an additional limited warranty covering CPO Vehicles for 12 months or 12,000 miles, whichever comes first.

450. Ford's CPO Vehicle warranty states that a dealer will replace "all covered components . . . that are found to be defective in factory-supplied materials or workmanship during the applicable warranty periods." The engine and its components—including the cylinder block and cylinder heads—are included in Ford's list of "covered components."

451. Ford manufactured and/or installed the engines and the engines' component parts in the Class Vehicles, and the engines and their component parts are covered by the express Warranties.

452. The Oil Pump Defect at issue in this litigation was present at the time the Class Vehicles were sold or leased to Plaintiff [redacted] Subclass Members.

453. Plaintiff [redacted] Subclass Members relied on Ford's express warranties, which were a material part of the bargain, when purchasing or leasing their Class Vehicles.

454. Under the express Warranties, Ford was obligated to correct the Oil Pump Defect in the vehicles owned or leased by Plaintiff [redacted] Subclass Members.

455. Although Ford was obligated to correct the Oil Pump Defect, none of the attempted fixes to the engines are adequate under the terms of the Warranties, as they did not cure the defect.

456. Ford breached the express Warranties by performing illusory repairs. Rather than repairing the vehicles pursuant to the express Warranties, Ford falsely informed Pennsylvania Subclass Members that there was no problem with their Class Vehicles, performed ineffective procedures including software updates, and/or replaced defective components in the engines with equally defective components, without actually repairing the Class Vehicles.

457. Ford and its agent dealers have failed and refused to conform the engines to the express Warranties. Ford's conduct, as discussed throughout this Complaint, has voided any attempt on its part to disclaim liability for its actions.

458. Moreover, Ford's attempt to disclaim or limit these express Warranties vis-à-vis consumers is unconscionable and unenforceable under the circumstances here. Specifically, Ford's warranty limitation is unenforceable because it knowingly sold a defective product without informing consumers about the defect.

459. The time limits contained in Ford's warranty period were also unconscionable and inadequate to protect Plaintiff [redacted] Subclass Members. Among other things, Plaintiff [redacted] Subclass Members had no meaningful choice in determining these time limitations, the terms of which unreasonably favored Ford. A gross disparity in bargaining power existed between Ford and the Class members, and Ford knew or should have known that the Class Vehicles were defective at the time of sale.

460. Plaintiff [redacted] Subclass Members have complied with all obligations under the Warranties, or otherwise have been excused from performance of said obligations as a result of Ford's conduct described herein.

461. Plaintiff [redacted] sent ford a notice and demand on June 2, 2023. They also were not required to notify Ford of the breach because affording Ford a reasonable opportunity to cure its breach of written warranty would have been futile. Ford was also on notice of the Oil Pump Defect from the complaints and service requests it received from Plaintiffs and the Class Members, from repairs and/or replacements of the engines or components thereof, and through other internal and external sources.

462. Because Ford, through its conduct and exemplified by its own service bulletins, has covered repairs of the Oil Pump Defect if Ford determines the repairs are appropriately covered under the Warranties, Ford cannot now deny that the Warranties cover the Oil Pump Defect.

463. Because Ford has not been able remedy the Oil Pump Defect, any limitation on remedies included in the Warranties causes the Warranties to fail their essential purposes, rendering them null and void.

464. As a direct and proximate cause of Ford's breach, Plaintiff [redacted] and the [redacted] suffered damages and continue to suffer damages, including economic damages at the point of sale or lease and diminution of value of their Class Vehicles. Additionally, Plaintiff [redacted] Subclass Members have incurred or will incur economic damages at the point of repair in the form of the cost of repair.

465. As a direct and proximate result of Ford's breach of express warranties, Plaintiff [redacted] have been damaged in an amount to be determined at trial.

COUNT XII

Breach of Implied Warranty of Merchantability [redacted]
(13 PA. CONS. STAT. §§ 2314 and 2A212)
Plaintiff [redacted] Individually and on Behalf of the [redacted]

466. Plaintiffs reallege and incorporate by reference all allegations of the preceding paragraphs as though fully set forth herein.

467. Plaintiff [redacted] brings this cause of action on her behalf and on behalf of the [redacted].

468. Ford is and was at all relevant times a "merchant" with respect to motor vehicles under 13 Pa. Cons. Stat. §§ 2104 and 2A103(a), and a "seller" of motor vehicles under § 2103(a).

469. With respect to leases, Ford is and was at all relevant times a "lessor" of motor vehicles under 13 Pa. Cons. Stat. § 2A103(a).

470. The Class Vehicles are and were at all relevant times "goods" within the meaning of 13 Pa. Cons. Stat. § 2105(a) and 2A103(a).

471. A warranty that the Class Vehicles were in merchantable condition and fit for the ordinary purpose for which vehicles are used is implied by law pursuant to 13 Pa. Cons. Stat. §§ 2314 and 2A212.

472. Ford knew or had reason to know of the specific use for which the Class Vehicles were purchased or leased. Ford directly sold and marketed Class Vehicles to customers through authorized dealers, like those from whom Plaintiff [redacted] and members of the Pennsylvania Subclass bought or leased their vehicles, for the intended purpose of consumers purchasing the vehicles. Ford knew that the Class Vehicles would and did pass unchanged from the authorized dealers to Plaintiff Bilotta and members of the Pennsylvania Subclass, with no modification to the defective Class Vehicles.

473. Ford provided Plaintiff [redacted] with an implied warranty that the Class Vehicles and their components and parts are merchantable and fit for the ordinary purposes for which they were sold.

474. This implied warranty included, among other things: (i) a warranty that the Class Vehicles that were manufactured, supplied, distributed, and/or sold by Ford were safe and reliable for providing transportation; and (ii) a warranty that the Class Vehicles would be fit for their intended use while the Class Vehicles were being operated.

475. Contrary to the applicable implied warranties, the Class Vehicles at the time of sale and thereafter were not fit for their ordinary and intended purpose of providing Plaintiffs and Class Members with reliable, durable, and safe transportation. Instead, the Class Vehicles were and are defective at the time of sale or lease and thereafter as more fully described above. Ford knew of this defect at the time these sale or lease transactions occurred.

476. As a result of Ford's breach of the applicable implied warranties, Plaintiff [redacted] suffered an ascertainable loss of money, property, and/or value of their Class Vehicles. Additionally, as a result of the Defect, Plaintiff [redacted] harmed and suffered actual damages in that the Class Vehicles are substantially certain to fail before their expected useful life has run.

477. Ford's actions, as complained of herein, breached the implied warranty that the Class Vehicles were of merchantable quality and fit for such use in violation of the Uniform Commercial Code and relevant state law.

478. Plaintiff [redacted] have complied with all obligations under the warranty, or otherwise have been excused from performance of said obligations as a result of Ford's conduct described herein.

479. Plaintiff [redacted] were not required to notify Ford of the breach because affording Ford a reasonable opportunity to cure its breach of warranty would have been futile. Ford was also on notice of the Defect from the complaints and service requests it received from Plaintiff [redacted] and through other internal sources.

480. Nonetheless, Plaintiffs provided notice to Ford of the breach of implied warranties when they repeatedly took their vehicle to an authorized Ford dealership and requested warranty repairs. Further, Plaintiff [redacted] written notice by letter dated June 2, 2023.

481. As a direct and proximate cause of Ford's breach, Plaintiff [redacted] suffered damages and continue to suffer damages, including economic damages at the point of sale or lease and diminution of value of their Class Vehicles. Additionally, Plaintiff [redacted] have incurred or will incur economic damages at the point of repair in the form of the cost of repair as well as additional losses.

482. As a direct and proximate result of Ford's breach of the implied warranty of merchantability, Plaintiff [redacted] have been damaged in an amount to be proven at trial.

Violation of the [redacted] Trade Practices Act
Texas Bus. & Com. Code § 17.41, et seq.
Plaintiffs [redacted], Individually and on Behalf of the [redacted]

483. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference each preceding and succeeding paragraph as though fully set forth at length herein.

484. Plaintiffs [redacted] brings this claim on behalf of himself and the members of the Texas Subclass.

485. Plaintiffs [redacted], and members of the [redacted] are individuals, partnerships, or corporations with assets of less than $25 million (or are controlled by corporations or entities with less than $25 million in assets), see Tex. Bus. & Com. Code § 17.41 and are therefore "consumers" pursuant to Tex. Bus. & Corn. Code § 17.45(4).

486. Ford is a "person" as that term is defined in Tex. Bus. & Corn. Code § 17.45(3).

487. Ford is engaged in "trade" or "commerce" or "consumer transactions" within the meaning Tex. Bus. & Com. Code § 17.46(a).

488. The [redacted] Trade Practices ("Texas DTPA") prohibits "false, misleading, or deceptive acts or practices in the conduct of any trade or commerce," Tex. Bus. & Corn. Code § 17.46(a), and an "unconscionable action or course of action," which means "an act or practice which, to a consumer's detriment, takes advantage of the lack of knowledge, ability, experience, or capacity of the consumer to a grossly unfair degree." Tex. Bus. & Com. Code §§ 17.45(5) and 17.50(a)(3). Ford engaged in unlawful trade practices, and unfair or deceptive acts or practices that violated the Texas DTPA.

489. Ford participated in unfair or deceptive trade practices that violated the Texas DTPA. As described below and alleged throughout the Complaint, by failing to disclose the Defect, by concealing the Defect, by marketing its vehicles as safe, reliable, well-engineered, and of high quality, and by presenting itself as a reputable manufacturer that valued safety, performance and reliability, and stood behind its vehicles after they were sold, Ford knowingly and intentionally misrepresented and omitted material facts in connection with the sale or lease of the Class Vehicles. Ford systematically misrepresented, concealed, suppressed, or omitted material facts relating to the Class Vehicles and the Defect in the course of its business.

490. Ford also engaged in unlawful trade practices by employing deception, deceptive acts or practices, fraud, misrepresentations, or concealment, suppression or omission of any material fact with intent that others rely upon such concealment, suppression or omission, in connection with the sale of the Class Vehicles.

491. Ford's unfair and deceptive acts or practices occurred repeatedly in Ford' s trade or business, were capable of deceiving a substantial portion of the purchasing public, and imposed a serious safety risk on the public.

492. Ford knew that the Class Vehicles suffered from an inherent defect, were defectively designed and/or used improper or deficient materials, and were not suitable for their intended use.

493. Ford knew or should have known that its conduct violated the Texas DTPA.

494. Defendant was under a duty to Plaintiff [redacted], and the Texas Subclass Members to disclose the defective nature of the Class Vehicles because:

a. Defendant was in a superior position to know the true state of facts about the safety defect in the Class Vehicles

b. Defendant made partial disclosures about the quality of the Class Vehicles without revealing the defective nature of the Class Vehicles;

c. Defendant was under an obligation to disclose safety defects under federal motor vehicle safety laws; and

d. Defendant actively concealed the defective nature of the Class Vehicles from Texas Plaintiff and the Texas Subclass Members at the time of sale and thereafter.

495. By failing to disclose the Defect, Defendant knowingly and intentionally concealed material facts and breached its duty not to do so.

496. The facts concealed or not disclosed by Defendant to Plaintiffs [redacted] the [redacted] are material because a reasonable person would have considered them to be important in deciding whether or not to purchase or lease Defendant's Class Vehicles, or to pay less for them. Whether a vehicle becomes inoperable when the differential fails is a material safety concern. Had Plaintiffs [redacted] and the [redacted] known that the Class Vehicles suffered from the Defect described herein, they would not have purchased or leased the Class Vehicles or would have paid less for them.

497. Plaintiffs [redacted] Subclass Members are reasonable consumers who do not expect that their vehicles will suffer from the Defect. That is the reasonable and objective consumer expectation for vehicles.

498. As a result of Defendant's misconduct, Plaintiffs [redacted] Subclass Members have been harmed and have suffered actual damages in that the Class Vehicles are defective and require repairs or replacement.

499. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's unfair or deceptive acts or practices, Plaintiffs [redacted] and the [redacted] Members have suffered and will continue to suffer actual damages.

500. Ford's violations present a continuing risk to Plaintiffs [redacted] as well as to the general public. Ford's unlawful acts and practices complained of herein affect the public interest.

501. Pursuant to statute, Plaintiffs [redacted] each provided notice of their claims by letters dated May 23, 2023 and June 2, 2023. Plaintiffs [redacted] seek all damages and relief to which they are entitled to because Ford failed to remedy its unlawful conduct within the requisite time period.

502. Pursuant to Tex. Bus. & Com. Code § 17.50, Plaintiffs [redacted] seek an order enjoining Ford from engaging in unfair and/or deceptive acts or practices, damages, multiple damages for knowing and intentional violations, pursuant to § 17.50(b)(1), punitive damages, and attorneys' fees, costs, and any other just and proper relief available under the Texas DTPA.

525. Nonetheless, Plaintiffs [redacted] provided notice to Ford of the breach of the warranties when they repeatedly took their vehicle to an authorized Ford dealership and requested warranty repairs. Further, Plaintiff [redacted] provided written notice by letter dated May 23, 2023.

526. Because Ford, through its conduct and exemplified by its own service bulletins, has covered repairs of the Oil Pump Defect if Ford determines the repairs are appropriately covered under the Warranties, Ford cannot now deny that the Warranties cover the Oil Pump Defect.

527. Because Ford has not been able remedy the Oil Pump Defect, any limitation on remedies included in the Warranties causes the Warranties to fail their essential purposes, rendering them null and void.

528. As a direct and proximate cause of Ford's breach, Plaintiffs [redacted] the [redacted] suffered damages and continue to suffer damages, including economic damages at the point of sale or lease and diminution of value of their Class Vehicles. Additionally, Plaintiffs [redacted] have incurred or will incur economic damages at the point of repair in the form of the cost of repair.

529. As a direct and proximate result of Ford's breach of express warranties, Plaintiffs [redacted] have been damaged in an amount to be determined at trial.

COUNT XV

Breach of Implied Warranty of Merchantability (Texas)
(Tex. Bus. & Com. Code §§ 2.314 and 2A.212)
Plaintiff [redacted]

530. Plaintiffs reallege and incorporate by reference all allegations of the preceding paragraphs as though fully set forth herein.

531. Plaintiffs [redacted] bring this cause of action individually and on behalf of the Texas Subclass.

532. Ford is and was at all relevant times a "merchant" with respect to motor vehicles under [redacted] and a "seller" of motor vehicles under § 2.103(a)(4).

533. With respect to leases, Ford is and was at all relevant times a "lessor" of motor vehicles under Texas Bus. & Corn. Code § 2A.103(a)(16).

534. The Class Vehicles are and were at all relevant times "goods" within the meaning of [redacted].

535. A warranty that the Class Vehicles were in merchantable condition and fit for the ordinary purpose for which vehicles are used is implied by law under [redacted]

536. Ford knew or had reason to know of the specific use for which the Class Vehicles were purchased or leased. Ford directly sold and marketed Class Vehicles to customers through authorized dealers, like those from whom Plaintiff [redacted] bought or leased their vehicles, for the intended purpose of consumers purchasing the vehicles. Ford knew that the Class Vehicles would and did pass unchanged from the authorized dealers to Plaintiff [redacted], with no modification to the defective Class Vehicles.

537. Ford provided Plaintiffs [redacted] members with an implied warranty that the Class Vehicles and their components and parts are merchantable and fit for the ordinary purposes for which they were sold.

538. This implied warranty included, among other things: (i) a warranty that the Class Vehicles that were manufactured, supplied, distributed, and/or sold by Ford were safe and reliable for providing transportation; and (ii) a warranty that the Class Vehicles would be fit for their intended use while the Class Vehicles were being operated.

539. Contrary to the applicable implied warranties, the Class Vehicles at the time of sale and thereafter were not fit for their ordinary and intended purpose of providing Plaintiffs and Class Members with reliable, durable, and safe transportation. Instead, the Class Vehicles were and are defective at the time of sale or lease and thereafter as more fully described above. Ford knew of this defect at the time these sale or lease transactions occurred.

540. As a result of Ford's breach of the applicable implied warranties, Plaintiffs [redacted] an ascertainable loss of money, property, and/or value of their Class Vehicles. Additionally, as a result of the Defect, [redacted] and the Texas Subclass members were harmed and suffered actual damages in that the Class Vehicles are substantially certain to fail before their expected useful life has run.

541. Ford's actions, as complained of herein, breached the implied warranty that the Class Vehicles were of merchantable quality and fit for such use in violation of the Uniform Commercial Code and relevant state law.

542. Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Texas Subclass members have complied with all obligations under the warranty, or otherwise have been excused from performance of said obligations as a result of Ford's conduct described herein.

543. Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Texas Subclass members were not required to notify Ford of the breach because affording Ford a reasonable opportunity to cure its breach of warranty would have been futile. Ford was also on notice of the Defect from the complaints and service requests it received from Plaintiff [redacted] and the Texas Subclass members and through other internal sources.

544. As a direct and proximate cause of Ford's breach, Plaintiffs [redacted] members suffered damages and continue to suffer damages, including economic damages at the point of sale or lease and diminution of value of their Class Vehicles. Additionally, Plaintiff [redacted] have incurred or will incur economic damages at the point of repair in the form of the cost of repair as well as additional losses.

545. As a direct and proximate result of Ford's breach of the implied warranty of merchantability, Plaintiffs [redacted] have been damaged in an amount to be proven at trial.

COUNT XVI

Unjust Enrichment

In the Alternative to All Other Claims
All Plaintiffs, Individually and on Behalf of the State Subclasses

546. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference each preceding and succeeding paragraph as though fully set forth herein.

547. Plaintiffs bring this claim, under the laws of their respective home states, individually and on behalf of their respective State Subclasses.

548. This claim is pleaded in the alternative to the other claims set forth herein.

549. As the intended and expected result of its conscious wrongdoing, Ford has profited and benefited from the purchase and lease of Class Vehicles that contain the Defect.

550. In particular, the value of the Class Vehicles was artificially inflated by Ford's concealment of the Oil Pump Defect, and [redacted] have overpaid for the cars and have been forced to pay other costs.

551. As a result of its wrongful acts, concealments, and omissions of the defect in its Class Vehicles, as set forth above, Ford charged higher prices for their vehicles than the vehicles' true value. Plaintiffs and Class Members paid than higher price for their vehicles to Ford's authorized distributors and dealers, which are in Ford's control and from whom Ford receives monetary benefits..

552. Moreover, Ford continues to profit from its ongoing wrongful behavior by denying the nature and existence of the Oil Pump Defect to Plaintiffs and Class Members during the duration of the Warranties, refusing to honor the Warranties, and selling replacement parts to Plaintiffs and the Class Members.

553. Ford has voluntarily accepted and retained these profits and benefits, knowing that, as a result of its misconduct alleged herein, Plaintiffs and the Class Members were not receiving Class Vehicles of the quality, nature, fitness, reliability, safety, or value that Ford had represented and that a reasonable consumer would expect. Plaintiffs and the Class Members expected that when they purchased or leased a Class Vehicle, it would not contain a Defect that makes the vehicle unreliable and poses a serious safety risk.

554. Plaintiffs and all Class members were not aware of the true facts about the Class Vehicles and did not benefit from Ford's conduct.

555. Ford has been unjustly enriched by its deceptive, wrongful, and unscrupulous conduct and by its withholding of benefits and monies from Plaintiffs and Class Members rightfully belonging to them.

556. Equity and good conscience militate against permitting Ford to retain these profits and benefits from its wrongful conduct.

557. As a result of the Defendant's unjust enrichment, Plaintiffs and Class Members have suffered damages.

558. Plaintiffs do not seek restitution under their Unjust Enrichment claim. Rather, Plaintiffs and Class Members seek non-restitutionary disgorgement of the financial profits that Defendant obtained as a result of its unjust conduct.

559. Additionally, Plaintiffs seek injunctive relief to compel Defendant to offer, under warranty, remediation solutions that Defendant identifies. Plaintiffs also seek injunctive relief enjoining Defendant from further deceptive distribution, sales, and lease practices with respect to Class Vehicles, enjoining Defendant from selling the Class Vehicles with the misleading information; compelling Defendant to provide Class members with a replacement components that do not contain the defects alleged herein; and/or compelling Defendant to reform its warranty, in a manner deemed to be appropriate by the Court, to cover the injury alleged and to notify all Class Members that such warranty has been reformed. Money damages are not an adequate remedy for the above requested non-monetary injunctive relief.

COUNT XVII

Violation of the Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act,
15 U.S.C. §§ 2301, *et seq.
All Plaintiffs, Individually

560. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference each preceding and succeeding paragraph as though fully set forth herein.

561. Plaintiffs bring this cause of action individually.

562. This Court has jurisdiction to decide claims brought under 15 U.S.C. § 2301 by virtue of 28 U.S.C. §§ 1332(a) and (d).

563. Plaintiffs are "consumers" within the meaning of the Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act, 15 U.S.C. § 2301(3).

564. Ford is a "supplier" and "warrantor" within the meaning of the Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act, 15 U.S.C. 2301(4)-(5).

565. The Class Vehicles are "consumer products" within the meaning of the Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act, 15 U.S.C. § 2301(1).

566. 15 U.S.C. § 2301(d)(1) provides a cause of action for any consumer who is damaged by the failure of a warrantor to comply with a written warranty.

567. In its Limited Warranty, Ford expressly warranted that it would repair or replace defects in material or workmanship free of charge if those defects became apparent during the warranty period.

568. Ford's Limited Warranty is a written warranty within the meaning of the Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act, 15 U.S.C. § 2301(6). The Class Vehicles' implied warranty of merchantability is covered by 15 U.S.C. 2301(7).

569. With respect to Plaintiffs' purchases of the Class Vehicles, the terms of Ford's written warranty and implied warranty became part of the basis of the bargain between Ford, on the one hand, and Plaintiffs, on the other.

570. Ford breached the implied warranty of merchantability. Without limitation, the Class Vehicles have engines that leak coolant, overheat, fail, and in some instances catch fire, as described above, and which thus render the Class Vehicles unmerchantable.

571. Ford breached its express Limited Warranty by refusing to repair the defective engines in the Class Vehicles. Plaintiffs presented their vehicles for repair and Ford failed to remedy the Oil Pump Defect, whether by refusing to repair or replace the engine, providing ineffective repairs, installing another engine with the same Oil Pump Defect, or otherwise.

572. Plaintiffs [redacted] individually and on behalf of the members of the proposed Class, notified Ford of the Oil Pump Defect in the Class Vehicles, and its corresponding breach of warranty, through a notice letter delivered by courier on May 23, 2023 to Ford's registered agent in Plymouth, Michigan.

573. Ford was also provided notice of the defect through thousands of consumer complaints and information about service repairs from its dealerships. Ford has not remedied the breach.

574. Further, Ford has refused to provide an adequate warranty repair for the Oil Pump Defect, thus rendering the satisfaction of any notice requirement futile. As stated above, customers that have presented their vehicles for warranty repair due to oil pressure problems and engine failure have simply been provided either replacement parts that do nothing to fix the Oil Pump Defect, or replacement defective engines.

575. At the time of sale or lease of each Class Vehicle, Ford knew, should have known, or was reckless in not knowing of the Class Vehicles' inability to perform as warranted, but nonetheless failed to rectify the situation and/or disclose the Oil Pump Defect. Under the circumstances, the remedies available under any informal settlement procedure would be inadequate and futile, and any requirement that Plaintiffs resort to an informal dispute resolution procedure and/or afford Ford a reasonable opportunity to cure its breach of warranties is excused and thus deemed satisfied.

576. The amount in controversy of Plaintiffs' individual claims meet or exceed the sum of $25. The amount in controversy in this action exceeds the sum of $50,000, exclusive of interest and costs, computed on the basis of all claims to be determined in this lawsuit.

577. As a direct and proximate result of Ford's breaches of its Limited Warranty and the implied warranty of merchantability, Plaintiffs have sustained damages in an amount to be determined at trial.

578. Plaintiffs seek all damages permitted by law, including the diminution in value of their vehicles, in an amount to be proven at trial.

COUNT XVIII

Fraud by Omission or Fraudulent Concealment
All Plaintiffs, Individually and on Behalf of the Nationwide Class,
Or, in the Alternative, on Behalf of All Subclasses

579. Plaintiffs reallege and incorporate by reference all allegations of the preceding paragraphs as though fully set forth herein.

580. Plaintiffs bring this cause of action on behalf of themselves and the Nationwide Class against Defendant as there are no true conflicts among the states' laws of fraudulent concealment/omission. Defendant is liable for both fraudulent concealment and non-disclosure, including the resultant fraudulent inducement. See, e.g., Restatement (Second) Torts §§ 550-51 (1977). In alternative, Plaintiffs bring this claim on behalf of each of the State Subclasses, against Defendant.

581. Ford distributed and sold the Class Vehicles in all 50 states. Ford also drafted, distributed, and disseminated the same advertising materials in all 50 states, including on the website it maintains to advertise the Class Vehicles. Those materials omitted any mention of the Defect and its associated safety concerns.

582. Ford also drafted the Monroney Stickers which were affixed to Class Vehicles and contained other safety information about the vehicles, including the safety systems available on the vehicles such as airbags, autonomous braking and other systems, but failed to disclose the Defect and its associated safety concerns.

583. Ford knew that the Class Vehicles suffered from an inherent Oil Pump Defect, were defectively designed and/or manufactured and were not suitable for their intended use.

584. Defendant concealed from and failed to disclose to Plaintiffs and Class Members the defective nature of the Class Vehicles.

585. Defendant was under a duty to Plaintiffs and Class Members to disclose the defective nature of the Class Vehicles because:

586. Defendant was in a superior position to know the true state of facts about the safety defect contained in the Class Vehicles;

a. The omitted facts were material because they directly impact the safety of the Class Vehicles;

b. Defendant knew the omitted facts regarding the Oil Pump Defect were not known to or reasonably discoverable by Plaintiffs and Class Members;

c. Defendant made partial disclosures about the quality of the Class Vehicles without revealing their true defective nature; and,

d. Defendant actively concealed the defective nature of the Class Vehicles from Plaintiffs and Class Members.

587. Ford also had a statutory duty to disclose known safety defects to consumers and NHTSA under federal motor vehicle safety law.

588. The facts concealed or not disclosed by Defendant to Plaintiffs and the other Class Members are material in that a reasonable person would have considered them to be important in deciding whether to purchase or lease Defendant's Class Vehicles or pay a lesser price for them. Whether a Class Vehicle's oil pump is defective, which can cause the vehicle to go into limp mode, lose power while driving, and complete failure, is a material safety concern. Had Plaintiffs and Class Members known about the defective nature of the Class Vehicles, they would not have purchased or leased the Class Vehicles or would have paid less for them.

589. Defendant concealed or failed to disclose the true nature of the design and/or manufacturing defects contained in the Class Vehicles to induce Plaintiffs and Class Members to act thereon. Plaintiffs and the other Class Members justifiably relied on Defendant's omissions to their detriment. This detriment is evident from Plaintiffs' and Class Members' purchase or lease of Defendant's defective Class Vehicles.

590. Defendant continued to conceal the defective nature of the Class Vehicles even after Class Members began to report the problems. Indeed, Defendant continues to cover up and conceal the true nature of the problem today.

591. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's misconduct, Plaintiffs and Class Members have suffered and will continue to suffer actual damages. Plaintiffs and the Class reserve their right to elect either to (a) rescind their purchase or lease of the defective Vehicles and obtain restitution or (b) affirm their purchase or lease of the defective Vehicles and recover damages.

592. Defendant's acts were done maliciously, oppressively, deliberately, with intent to defraud, and in reckless disregard of Plaintiffs' and the Class's rights and well-being to enrich Defendant. Defendant's conduct warrants an assessment of punitive damages in an amount sufficient to deter such conduct in the future, which amount is to be determined according to proof.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs, individually and on behalf of all others similarly situated, hereby requests that this Court enter an Order against Ford providing for the following:

A. Certification of the proposed Class, appointment of Plaintiffs and their counsel to represent the Class, and provision of notice to the Class;

B. An order permanently enjoining Ford from continuing the unlawful, deceptive, fraudulent, and unfair business practices alleged in this Complaint

C. Injunctive relief in the form of a recall or free replacement/repair program;

D. Equitable relief, including in the form of buyback of the Class Vehicles;

E. Costs, restitution, damages, including punitive damages, penalties, and disgorgement in an amount to be determined at trial;

F. An Order requiring Ford to pay pre- and post-judgment interest on any amounts awarded, as provided by law;

G. An award of reasonable attorneys' fees and costs as permitted by law; and

H. Such other or further relief as may be appropriate.

JURY DEMAND

Plaintiffs hereby demand a trial by jury for all claims so triable.

Respectfully submitted,

Dated: June 9, 2023

[redacted]

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE DISTRICT OF DELAWARE

[redacted],

Plaintiffs,

v.

FORD MOTOR COMPANY,

Defendant.

No. [redacted]

JURY TRIAL DEMANDED

FIRST AMENDED CLASS ACTION COMPLAINT

Plaintiffs [redacted] individually and on behalf of all others similarly situated (the "Class" as defined below), by and through their attorneys, allege as follows against Defendant Ford Motor Company ("Ford").

INTRODUCTION

1. The Ford 1.0L EcoBoost engine is a one liter, 3-cylinder engine used in several models of economy, subcompact and compact cars manufactured by Ford. Unfortunately, these engines have an inherent defect related to the oil pump, about which Ford has known but not disclosed to consumers. This defect results in catastrophic engine failure, often shortly outside of the 60,000-mile powertrain warranty as demonstrated below.

2. The defect presents a serious safety hazard because it can cause catastrophic engine failure without warning while driving, lost motive power, and/or sudden limp mode activation, increasing the likelihood of a collision. Moreover, because Ford is aware that the failures – which attract the owners' notice – occur frequently just outside the warranty, it is unfairly transferring the cost of the warranty repairs to unsuspecting consumers of the economy vehicles in which these engines are equipped.

3. This is a class action brought against Ford by Plaintiffs on behalf of themselves and a class of current and former owners and lessees of model year 2016 or later Ford-brand vehicles equipped with a 1.0L EcoBoost engine ("Class Vehicles"), including 2016-2017 Ford Fiesta vehicles, 2018-2021 Ford EcoSport vehicles and 2016-2018 Ford Focus vehicles.

4. With Manufacturer Suggested Retail Prices ("MSRPs") starting around $16,000 for the Fiesta, $20,000 for the EcoSport, and $18,000 for the Focus, Ford marketed the subcompact and compact Class Vehicles towards budget-minded consumers.

5. In brochures and other advertising materials, Ford consistently touted the "award winning" EcoBoost engine as "A turbo-charged wonder, the award-winning 1.0L EcoBoost engine offers an impressive combination of driveability and fuel efficiency."

6. Ford failed to disclose, however, the fact that the engines equipped in the Class Vehicles are, as described by one Ford Dealership employee, "time bombs" due to a defect that prevents oil from circulating properly that destroys the engine, leaving consumers with a repair bill that frequently exceeds the value of the vehicle. Specifically, the 1.0L EcoBoost engines have manufacturing, workmanship, materials, and/or design defects which lead to a loss of oil pressure and an oil pump failure, causing the oil in the vehicle to slow or stop circulating, increasing engine temperature beyond specifications, and subsequently, causing the engine to seize (the "Oil Pump Defect" or "Defect"). Discovery will show that the Oil Pump Defect is the result of two related problems: (1) defective engine oil pump belt tensioners, which are prone to premature failure and do not meet industry or manufacturer standards; and (2) Ford's use of insufficiently robust materials for the belts, going against decades of automotive industry knowledge.

7. Plaintiffs and Class member are often unable to determine that their vehicles suffer from the Defect until the engine malfunctions while their vehicle is being driven, creating a significant safety hazard. Symptoms of the Defect include abnormal noise coming from the engine compartment, increasing engine temperature, and a drop in oil pressure. If the driver is lucky, the low oil pressure warning light will illuminate, giving them time to pull over to the side of the road. However, the Defect can also cause the engine to stall or fail without warning, or put the vehicle into "limp mode," causing the vehicle to decelerate or stop suddenly in the middle of traffic.

8. The Defect is inherent in each Class Vehicle and was present at the time of sale or lease to each Class Member. Each of the 1.0L EcoBoost engines installed in the Class Vehicles is identical or substantially similar, in that Ford made no material changes to the engines over the years or by model.[1]

9. Ford has been aware of the Defect for years, as evidenced by several manufacturer communications and technical service bulletins ("TSBs") and large numbers of consumers who have complained about this Defect dating back to at least 2016, including when consumers brought their Class Vehicles to Ford's authorized dealers for repairs, complained to Ford directly via the customer service department, or complained to the National Highway Transportation Safety Administration ("NHTSA").

10. Despite Ford's knowledge of the Defect, which renders the Class Vehicles hazardous and unsuitable for their intended purpose, it has failed to provide adequate repairs under warranty, and has also failed to disclose the Defect to unsuspecting consumers.

11. Due to the undisclosed Oil Pump Defect, Plaintiffs and Class Members were deprived of the benefit of their bargain in purchasing or leasing their Ford vehicles. These customers continue to have to live with the risks of their vehicles stalling in the middle of traffic, potential engine failure and costly replacements, and diminution of value of their vehicles. Plaintiffs accordingly seek relief both for themselves and for other current and former owners or lessees of these Class Vehicles.

[1] For example, Ford often issues technical service bulletins for all vehicles with this particular engine, regardless of model or model year, for a variety of known issues. This includes a separate known defect of the 1.0 EcoBoost engine in which coolant escapes from the engine, causing catastrophic engine damage. At least one bulletin regarding this issue was issued on October 15, 2018, directed at vehicles with the 1.0 EcoBoost engine including 2014-2017 Fiesta, 2015-2018 Focus, 2018-2019 EcoSport vehicles entitled "SSM 47587."

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

12. This action is properly before this Court and this Court has subject matter jurisdiction over this action under the Class Action Fairness Act. At least one member of the proposed class is a citizen of a different state than Ford, the number of proposed class members exceeds 100, and the amount in controversy exceeds the sum or value of $5,000,000.00 exclusive of interests and costs. See 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d)(2)(A).

13. In addition, under 28 U.S.C. § 1367, this Court may exercise supplemental jurisdiction over the state law claims because all of the claims are derived from a common nucleus of operative facts and are such that Plaintiffs would ordinarily expect to try them in one judicial proceeding. Further, this Court may also exercise supplemental jurisdictions over Plaintiffs' Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act claims.

14. This Court has personal jurisdiction over Defendant because it is incorporated in the State of Delaware; has consented to jurisdiction by registering to conduct business in the state; maintains sufficient minimum contacts in Delaware; and otherwise intentionally avails itself of the markets within Delaware through promotion, sale, marketing and distribution of its vehicles, which renders the exercise of jurisdiction by this Court proper and necessary as Ford is "at home" in Delaware.

15. Venue is proper in this District pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391(a)-(c). A substantial part of the events or omissions giving rise to the claims occurred in this District. Plaintiffs may properly sue Ford in this District, Ford's state of incorporation.

PARTIES

I. Plaintiffs

Plaintiff [redacted]

16. Plaintiff [redacted] is domiciled in and is a citizen of Oregon.

17. On September 22, 2018, Plaintiff [redacted] purchased a new 2018 Ford EcoSport equipped with a 1.0L EcoBoost engine from Westway Ford, an authorized Ford dealership located in Irving, Texas.

18. Plaintiff [redacted] purchased his vehicle for personal, family, or household use.

19. Passenger safety and reliability were important factors in Plaintiff [redacted] decision to purchase his vehicle. Before making his purchase, Plaintiff [redacted] researched the details about the vehicle by perusing Ford's corporate website and the website hosted by his dealership at the time Westway Ford. He also reviewed the window sticker (the "Monroney" sticker) which listed the 1.0L EcoBoost engine as a component, spoke to a representative of the authorized Ford dealership who assured his of the quality, safety, and reliability of the vehicle, and test drove the vehicle he ultimately purchased. Plaintiff [redacted] selected and ultimately purchased his Class Vehicle because the vehicle was represented to be and was marketed as a high-quality vehicle capable of providing safe, reliable transportation. The purchase was made in part on the advertised safety, reliability, and quality of the vehicle and its components, including its engine.

20. None of the information provided to Plaintiff [redacted] disclosed any defects in the engine or the powertrain system. Ford's omissions were material to Plaintiff [redacted]

21. Had Ford disclosed the Defect before Plaintiff [redacted] purchased his vehicle, he would have seen such disclosures and been aware of them. Indeed, Ford's misstatements and omissions were material to Plaintiff [redacted] Like all members of the Class, Plaintiff [redacted] would have not purchased his Class Vehicle, or would have paid less for the vehicle, had he known of the Defect.

22. In addition, at the time Plaintiff [redacted] purchased his vehicle, and in purchasing his vehicle, he relied upon representations from Ford and its authorized dealership that he saw during his internet research, heard from the salesperson, and reviewed on the Monroney sticker that the vehicle was fully functional, safe, durable, reliable, and that the engine operated correctly and effectively. Plaintiff [redacted] relied on those representations and the omission of the disclose of the Defect, in purchasing the vehicle, and absent those representations and omissions, would not have purchased the vehicle or would have paid less for it.

23. At all times during his ownership of the vehicle, Plaintiff [redacted] properly maintained and serviced his Class Vehicle according to Ford's recommended maintenance guidelines.

24. On September 3, 2022, when his vehicle had approximately 64,000 miles on the odometer, the oil pressure light illuminated on his dashboard while driving. Within ten minutes of the warning, his vehicle entered into limp mode, forcing him to quickly pull over to the side of the road to avoid a collision. The car's engine had completely seized, preventing him from starting it up again. His car was towed the same day to Courtesy Ford Lincoln, an authorized Ford dealership located in Portland, Oregon.

25. Following their initial inspection, the service technician at the dealership diagnosed the issue as engine failure caused by an oil pump failure. Plaintiff [redacted] was informed that he would be responsible for covering the costs of the engine replacement. The preliminary estimate of the total cost was $6,700.

26. Plaintiff [redacted] contacted Ford directly about the engine replacement via phone on or about September 13, 2022. Following some negotiation with the customer service department of Ford, Ford agreed to cover some of the cost of the engine, but Plaintiff [redacted] was forced to pay $2,387.03 out of pocket for the engine replacement.

27. Due to the difficulty of sourcing a new engine, as well as the time involved in installing a new engine, Plaintiff [redacted] was without his vehicle for two months. As such, he incurred costs for alternative transportation including Lyft rides totaling approximately $342.87. Moreover, his vehicle insurance provider, Farmer's Insurance, initially provided rental assistance while they evaluated a claim Plaintiff [redacted] filed. However, after determining the cause of the problems with Plaintiff [redacted] vehicle were a manufacturer defect, the insurance company declined all coverage and revoked its rental assistance.

28. On October 31, 2022, Plaintiff [redacted] vehicle was returned to him after being held at the dealership for approximately eight weeks.

29. Because the Defect is inherent in the engine, the replacement engine suffers from same Defect as the original engine in his vehicle. To date, Plaintiff [redacted] has received no notification from Ford about any potential permanent repair or modification, or change to the maintenance schedule which would either repair the Defect or prevent the Defect from causing damage to the new engine.

30. As a result of the Defect, Plaintiff [redacted] has lost confidence in the ability of his Class Vehicle to provide safe and reliable transportation for ordinary and advertised purposes. Until and unless, Ford fully discloses the Defect, a permanent repair or modification, and/or a change to the maintenance schedule to prevent the Defect from causing damage, Plaintiff [redacted] will be unable to rely on future advertising or labeling of the Class Vehicles, and so will not purchase another Class Vehicle although he would like to do so.

31. At all times, Plaintiff [redacted], like all Class Members, has attempted to drive his Class Vehicle in a foreseeable manner and in a manner that it was intended to be used.

32. Additionally, as a result of the Defect, Plaintiff [redacted] has incurred out-of-pocket expenses to remedy the Defect, service costs, loss of use of his vehicle, and lost time. Plaintiff [redacted] vehicle has also suffered diminution in value due to the Defect and loss of resale value.

Plaintiff [redacted]

33. Plaintiff [redacted] is domiciled in and is a citizen of [redacted].

34. In or around August 2018, Plaintiff [redacted] a new 2018 Ford EcoSport equipped with a 1.0L EcoBoost engine from Suburban Ford, an authorized Ford dealership located in [redacted].

35. Plaintiff [redacted] purchased her vehicle for personal, family, or household use.

36. Passenger safety and reliability were important factors in Plaintiff [redacted] decision to purchase her vehicle. Before making her purchase, Plaintiff [redacted] reviewed details about vehicle contained on both Ford's website and websites for several Ford dealerships, along with various paper flyers. She also reviewed the window sticker (the "Monroney" sticker) which listed the 1.0L EcoBoost engine as a component, spoke to a representative of the authorized Ford dealership who assured her of the quality, safety, and reliability of the vehicle, and test drove the vehicle she ultimately purchased. Plaintiff [redacted] selected and ultimately purchased her Class Vehicle because the vehicle was represented to be and was marketed as a high-quality vehicle capable of providing safe, reliable transportation. The purchase was made in part on the advertised safety, reliability, and quality of the vehicle and its components, including its engine.

37. None of the information provided to Plaintiff [redacted] disclosed any defects in the engine or the powertrain system. Ford's omissions were material to Plaintiff [redacted]

38. Had Ford disclosed the Defect before Plaintiff [redacted] purchased her vehicle, she would have seen such disclosures and been aware of them. Indeed, Ford's misstatements and omissions were material to Plaintiff [redacted] Like all members of the Class, Plaintiff [redacted] would have not purchased her Class Vehicle, or would have paid less for the vehicle, had she known of the Defect.

39. In addition, at the time Plaintiff [redacted] purchased her vehicle, and in purchasing her vehicle, she relied upon representations from Ford and its authorized dealership that she saw during her internet research, read in promotional material disseminated by Ford, heard from the salesperson, and reviewed on the Monroney sticker that the vehicle was fully functional, safe, durable, reliable, and that the engine operated correctly and effectively. Plaintiff [redacted] relied on those representations and the omission of the disclose of the Defect, in purchasing the vehicle, and absent those representations and omissions, would not have purchased the vehicle or would have paid less for it.

40. At all times during her ownership of the vehicle, Plaintiff [redacted] properly maintained and serviced her Class Vehicle according to Ford's recommended maintenance guidelines.

41. On January 14, 2023, when her vehicle had approximately 60,705 miles on the odometer, the oil pressure light illuminated on the dashboard while her husband was driving the vehicle, forcing him to pull over to the side of the road and confirm that the oil level on the dipstick was not low. He drove the vehicle to Bell Tire in Chesterfield, Michigan, who advised him to have the car towed to the nearest Ford dealership. Plaintiff [redacted] vehicle was towed to Suburban Ford that same day. The dealership diagnosed the vehicle having a failed oil pump which had damaged the engine such that an engine replacement was required.

42. Despite being within the time limitations of the warranty and barely over the mileage limitation by only 705 miles, Plaintiff [redacted] was informed that she would be responsible for covering the costs of the engine replacement and that warranty coverage would not apply. The preliminary estimate of the total cost came out to around $6,270.99, which did not include the cost to have the car towed to the dealership. The dealership reached out to Ford corporate on her behalf to ask about financial assistance towards the repair costs, but Ford declined to cover any of the costs.

43. On February 23, 2023, the dealership returned the vehicle to Plaintiff [redacted] after approximately 5 weeks due to difficulty in sourcing the engine.

44. Because the Defect is inherent in the engine, the replacement engine suffers from same Defect as the original engine in her vehicle. To date, Plaintiff [redacted] has received no notification from Ford about any potential permanent repair or modification, or change to the maintenance schedule which would either repair the Defect or prevent the Defect from causing damage to the new engine.

45. As a result of the Defect, Plaintiff [redacted] has lost confidence in the ability of her Class Vehicle to provide safe and reliable transportation for ordinary and advertised purposes. Until and unless, Ford fully discloses the Defect, a permanent repair or modification, and/or a change to the maintenance schedule to prevent the Defect from causing damage, Plaintiff [redacted] will be unable to rely on future advertising or labeling of the Class Vehicles, and so will not purchase another Class Vehicle although she would like to do so.

46. At all times, Plaintiff [redacted] like all Class Members, has attempted to drive her Class Vehicle in a foreseeable manner and in a manner in which it was intended to be used.

47. Additionally, as a result of the Defect, Plaintiff [redacted] has incurred out-of-pocket expenses to remedy the Defect, service costs, loss of use of her vehicle, and lost time. Plaintiff [redacted] vehicle has also suffered diminution in value due to the Defect and loss of resale value.

Plaintiff [redacted]

48. Plaintiff [redacted] is domiciled and is a citizen of New Jersey.

49. On May 15, 2019, Plaintiff [redacted] purchased a new 2019 Ford EcoSport equipped with a 1.0L EcoBoost engine at Chapman Ford, an authorized Ford dealership located in [redacted]

50. Plaintiff [redacted] purchased her vehicle for personal, family, or household use.

51. Passenger safety and reliability were important factors in Plaintiff [redacted] decision to purchase her vehicle. Before making her purchase, Plaintiff [redacted] reviewed the window sticker (the "Monroney" sticker) which listed the 1.0L EcoBoost engine as a component and test drove the vehicle she ultimately purchased.

52. None of the information provided to Plaintiff [redacted] disclosed any defects in the engine or the powertrain system. Ford's omissions were material to Plaintiff [redacted]

53. Had Ford disclosed the Defect before Plaintiff [redacted] purchased her vehicle, she would have seen such disclosures and been aware of them. Indeed, Ford's misstatements and omissions were material to Plaintiff [redacted] Like all members of the Class, Plaintiff [redacted] would have not purchased her Class Vehicle, or would have paid less for the vehicle, had she known of the Defect.

54. In addition, at the time Plaintiff [redacted] purchased her vehicle, and in purchasing her vehicle, she relied upon representations from Ford and its authorized dealership that she reviewed on the Monroney sticker that the vehicle was fully functional, safe, durable, reliable, and that the engine operated correctly and effectively. Plaintiff [redacted] relied on those representations and the omission of the disclose of the Defect, in purchasing the vehicle, and absent those representations and omissions, would not have purchased the vehicle or would have paid less for it.

55. At all times during her ownership of the vehicle, Plaintiff [redacted] properly maintained and serviced her Class Vehicle according to Ford's recommended maintenance guidelines.

56. In or around November 2022, when the vehicle had approximately 56,000 miles on the odometer, the powertrain warning light began flashing on her dashboard while she was driving on the highway. She pulled her car to the side of the road, turned it off and re-started it, and the warning light disappeared.

57. When the powertrain warning light began appearing at least two to three times during a given week, she brought her car into Chapman Ford. Her dealership ran a diagnostic and did not find any Diagnostic Trouble Codes indicating that the engine's control module recorded a problem. The dealership concluded that there was nothing they could do until something else was to happen as result of the warning light going off. She checked with Protech as well, a third-party repair shop located in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, who made the same assessment as Chapman Ford that there was nothing else that could be done unless something else were to happen with the vehicle besides the light coming-on.

58. On or around February 12, 2023, when her vehicle had approximately 64,000 miles on the odometer, the oil pressure light illuminated on her dashboard while driving home from work over the Walt Whitman Bridge. She managed to get her car safely across the bridge before pulling it to the side of the road.

59. The vehicle was towed to Holman Ford, an authorized Ford dealership located in Turnersville, New Jersey. The service technicians at the dealership examined the engine and found debris within the engine from the deteriorated oil pump belt, as well as metal shavings resulting from metal-on-metal damage due to insufficient oil circulation within the engine. Due to the poor oil circulation, debris, and metal shavings, the engine suffered catastrophic failure and required replacement. Plaintiff [redacted] was told she would be responsible for covering the costs of the engine replacement. The preliminary estimate of the total cost came out to around $8,648 before tax.

60. Unable to afford the repair, Plaintiff [redacted] contacted Ford to ask for assistance in paying for the repair. Ford refused. Plaintiff [redacted] then had her car towed to ProTech. Their estimate for an engine replacement totaled $6,208.52.

61. On March 2, 2023, Plaintiff's vehicle was returned after having a replacement engine installed by Protech. The repair took approximately 2.5 weeks and for approximately 2.5 weeks and Plaintiff [redacted] paid $994.72 at her own expense for a rental vehicle for alternate transportation during that time.

62. Because the Defect is inherent in the engine, the replacement engine suffers from same Defect as the original engine in her vehicle. To date, Plaintiff [redacted] has received no notification from Ford about any potential permanent repair or modification or change to the maintenance schedule which would either repair the Defect or prevent the Defect from causing damage to the new engine.

63. As a result of the Defect, Plaintiff [redacted] has lost confidence in the ability of her Class Vehicle to provide safe and reliable transportation for ordinary and advertised purposes. Until and unless, Ford fully discloses the Defect, a permanent repair or modification, and/or a change to the maintenance schedule to prevent the Defect from causing damage, Plaintiff [redacted] will be unable to rely on future advertising or labeling of the Class Vehicles, and so will not purchase another Class Vehicle although she would like to do so.

64. At all times, Plaintiff [redacted] like all Class Members, has attempted to drive her Class Vehicle in a foreseeable manner and in a manner in which it was intended to be used.

Plaintif[redacted]

66. Plaintiff [redacted] is domiciled in and a citizen of California.

67. On or around October 2018, Plaintiff [redacted] leased a new 2018 Ford EcoSport from Ford of Upland, an authorized Ford dealership located in Upland, California.

68. Following the expiration of her lease, Plaintiff [redacted] purchased her vehicle outright.

69. Plaintiff [redacted] purchased her vehicle for personal, family, or household use.

70. Passenger safety and reliability were important factors in Plaintiff [redacted] decision to purchase her vehicle. Before making her purchase, Plaintiff [redacted] reviewed Ford's website that featured representations and details about the vehicle, reviewed the window sticker (the "Monroney" sticker) which listed the 1.0L EcoBoost engine as a component, spoke to a representative of the authorized Ford dealership who assured her of the quality, safety, and reliability of the vehicle, and test drove the vehicle she ultimately purchased. Plaintiff [redacted] selected and ultimately purchased her Class Vehicle because the vehicle was represented to be and was marketed as a high-quality vehicle capable of providing safe, reliable transportation. The purchase was made in part on the advertised safety, reliability, and quality of the vehicle and its components, including its engine.

71. None of the information provided to Plaintiff [redacted] disclosed any defects in the engine or the powertrain system. Ford's omissions were material to Plaintiff [redacted]

72. Had Ford disclosed the Defect before Plaintiff [redacted] purchased her vehicle, she would have seen such disclosures and been aware of them. Indeed, Ford's misstatements and omissions were material to Plaintiff [redacted]. Like all members of the Class, Plaintiff [redacted] would have not purchased her Class Vehicle, or would have paid less for the vehicle, had she known of the Defect.

73. In addition, at the time Plaintiff [redacted] purchased her vehicle, and in purchasing her vehicle, she relied upon representations from Ford and its authorized dealership that she saw during her internet research, heard from the salesperson, and reviewed on the Monroney sticker that the vehicle was fully functional, safe, durable, reliable, and that the engine operated correctly and effectively. Plaintiff [redacted] relied on those representations and the omission of the disclose of the Defect, in purchasing the vehicle, and absent those representations and omissions, would not have purchased the vehicle or would have paid less for it.

74. At all times during his ownership of the vehicle, Plaintiff [redacted] properly maintained and serviced her Class Vehicle according to Ford's recommended maintenance guidelines.

75. On March 17, 2022, Plaintiff [redacted] when her vehicle had approximately 65,000 miles on the odometer, noticed a knocking noise on her drive home from work. The next morning when she was on her way to the shop for the knocking noise, the noise got much louder and the vehicle's low oil light illuminated. Plaintiff [redacted] then had the vehicle towed to a local independent mechanic, Bertino Automotive Services, located in Rancho Cucamonga, California, to avoid the risk of driving and causing damage to her engine. The mechanic drained the vehicle's oil pan and found rock-sized pieces of the engine in the oil, indicating that the engine had already suffered catastrophic damage and failure. She was informed that the entire engine would need to be replaced due to an oil pump failure.

76. Following their diagnosis, Plaintiff [redacted] had the vehicle towed to Ford of Upland, which performed a diagnostic process and said the entire engine did need to be replaced due to an oil pump failure. The initial quote for the replacement engine was $5,000. Ford agreed to pay $3,000 of the cost, leaving Plaintiff [redacted] to pay $2,000. However, when Plaintiff [redacted] went to pick her vehicle up, the dealership charged her another $375 for parts not included in the initial quote and not covered by Ford. As a result, Plaintiff [redacted] paid $2,375 for the attempted repair to the vehicle.

77. On May 13, 2022, Plaintiff [redacted] retrieved her vehicle from the dealership, after nearly four weeks.

78. Since the attempted repair, Plaintiff [redacted] has returned her vehicle to Ford of Upland several times due to the check engine light illuminating sporadically. Each time, she was told "it was probably a faulty signal issue," but no repairs were attempted.

79. Because the Defect is inherent in the engine, the replacement engine suffers from same Defect as the original engine in her vehicle. To date, Plaintiff [redacted] has received no notification from Ford about any potential permanent repair or modification, or change to the maintenance schedule which would either repair the Defect or prevent the Defect from causing damage to the new engine.

80. As a result of the Defect, Plaintiff [redacted] has lost confidence in the ability of her Class Vehicle to provide safe and reliable transportation for ordinary and advertised purposes. Until and unless, Ford fully discloses the Defect, a permanent repair or modification, and/or a change to the maintenance schedule to prevent the Defect from causing damage, Plaintiff [redacted] will be unable to rely on future advertising or labeling of the Class Vehicles, and so will not purchase another Class Vehicle although she would like to do so.

81. At all times, Plaintiff [redacted] like all Class Members, has attempted to drive her Class Vehicle in a foreseeable manner and in a manner in which it was intended to be used.

85. Plaintiff [redacted] purchased his vehicle for business purposes, as he owns and manages a driving school.

86. Passenger safety and reliability were important factors in Plaintiff [redacted] decision to purchase his vehicle. Before making his purchase, Plaintiff [redacted] reviewed the window sticker (the "Monroney" sticker) which listed the 1.0L EcoBoost engine as a component and other pertinent details about the vehicle supplied on Offlease's website. He has also been a longtime owner of various Ford vehicles over the last few decades. Plaintiff [redacted] selected and ultimately purchased his Class Vehicle because the vehicle was represented to be and was marketed as a high-quality vehicle capable of providing safe, reliable transportation. The purchase was made in part on the advertised safety, reliability, and quality of the vehicle and its components, including its engine.

87. None of the information provided to Plaintiff [redacted] disclosed any defects in the engine or the powertrain system. Ford's omissions were material to Plaintiff [redacted]

Plaintiff [redacted] relied on those representations and the omission of the disclose of the Defect, in purchasing the vehicle, and absent those representations and omissions, would not have purchased the vehicle or would have paid less for it.

90. At all times during his ownership of the vehicle, Plaintiff [redacted] properly maintained and serviced his Class Vehicle according to Ford's recommended maintenance guidelines.

91. In May of 2022, when the vehicle had approximately 62,000 miles on the odometer, the oil pressure light illuminated on the dashboard along with several other system warning lights while Plaintiff [redacted] was driving the vehicle. He pulled over the vehicle to the side of the road and subsequently, the engine failed to restart. He had the vehicle towed to Safford Ford, an authorized Ford dealership located in [redacted].

92. Following an inspection, the technician at the dealership provided an engine failure diagnosis. The engine failed due to a shredded oil pump belt. Despite being just 2,000 miles over 60,000 miles Ford did not cover his replacement engine. Plaintiff [redacted] paid $6,398 for a replacement engine.

93. Plaintiff [redacted] also incurred additional out of pocket costs including but not limited to $100 for towing costs.

94. Plaintiff [redacted] was without his vehicle for approximately two months due to difficulty of the dealership in getting a new engine.

95. Because the Defect is inherent in the engine, the replacement engine suffers from same Defect as the original engine in his vehicle. To date, Plaintiff [redacted] has received no notification from Ford about any potential permanent repair or modification, or change to the maintenance schedule which would either repair the Defect or prevent the Defect from causing damage to the new engine.

100. In or around November 2019, Plaintiff [redacted] purchased a new 2019 Ford EcoSport equipped with a 1.0L EcoBoost engine from Stanley Ford, an authorized dealership located in Sweetwater, Texas.

101. Plaintiff [redacted] purchased her vehicle for personal, family, or household use.

102. Passenger safety and reliability were important factors in Plaintiff [redacted] decision to purchase her vehicle. Before making her purchase, Plaintiff [redacted] reviewed the window sticker (the "Monroney" sticker) which listed the 1.0L EcoBoost engine as a component, spoke to a representative of the authorized Ford dealership who assured her of the quality, safety, and reliability of the vehicle, and test drove the vehicle she ultimately purchased. Plaintiff [redacted] relied on those representations and the omission of the disclose of the Defect, in purchasing the vehicle, and absent those representations and omissions, would not have purchased the vehicle or would have paid less for it.

106. At all times during his ownership of the vehicle, Plaintiff [redacted] properly maintained and serviced her Class Vehicle according to Ford's recommended maintenance guidelines.

107. On or around March 11, 2023, when her car had approximately 79,300 miles on the odometer, the oil pressure light illuminated on her dashboard while traveling to Illinois. The vehicle completely died when she was trying to make it to the nearest gas station. She paid $65 out-of-pocket initially to get it towed to Stanley Ford. Her car insurance payments went up by $200 as result of the towing. Then on March 12, 2023, she rented a U-Haul for $500 to transport her vehicle to a third-party mechanic shop, Dempsey Auto Repair, located in Abilene, Texas. The mechanic there told her the entire engine needed to be replaced as result of an oil pump failure.

108. The preliminary estimate of the total cost came out to around $7,555 by her mechanic.

109. She reached out to Ford to inquire about getting financial support towards the repair costs, but Ford declined to pay any amount towards the repair cost and instead informed her that their quote for the out-of-warranty engine replacement would be between $10,000-$12,000. Plaintiff Vasquez ended up getting her vehicle repaired by the third-party repair shop due to a lower bid for the repair cost. In total, she spent approximately $8,000 out-of-pocket for the repairs and other related expenses.

110. While the repairs were in-process, Plaintiff [redacted] was without a vehicle for nearly three weeks.

111. On March 29, 2023, Plaintiff [redacted] vehicle was returned after being held at Dempsey Auto for nearly three weeks.

112. Had Ford disclosed the Oil Pump Defect, Plaintiff [redacted] would not have purchased her Class Vehicle or would have paid significantly less for it.

113. Additionally, as a result of the Defect, Plaintiff [redacted] has incurred out-of-pocket expenses to remedy the Defect, service costs, loss of use of her vehicle, and lost time. Plaintiff [redacted] vehicle has also suffered diminution in value due to the Defect and loss of resale value.

120. Plaintiff leased her vehicle for personal, family, or household use.

121. Passenger safety and reliability were important factors in [redacted] decision to lease her vehicle. Before entering into her lease, Plaintiff [redacted] reviewed details about the vehicle on Ford's website and a brochure that was mailed to her home. She managed to get the car to Varsity Ford where it was inspected. The inspection found that the oil pump belt tensioner had failed, requiring an engine replacement.

127. Plaintiff [redacted] was informed she would be responsible for covering the costs of the engine replacement. The total repair cost was estimated at $5,612.31.

128. While the repairs were in-process, Plaintiff [redacted] was without a vehicle for nearly two weeks.

129. On or about April 4, 2023, Plaintiff [redacted] vehicle was returned after being held at the dealership for approximately two weeks.

130. On or about April 24, 2023, Plaintiff [redacted] sent a letter via certified mail to Ford Corporate to inquire about getting financial coverage for the money spent out-of-pocket on the repair. Ford offered $5,000 towards the overall repair costs. Plaintiff [redacted] was still responsible for the remaining $612.31.

131. Had Ford disclosed the Oil Pump Defect, Plaintiff [redacted] would not have leased her Class Vehicle or would have paid significantly less for it.

132. Additionally, as a result of the Defect, Plaintiff [redacted] has incurred out-of-pocket expenses to remedy the Defect, service costs, loss of use of her vehicle, and lost time. Plaintiff [redacted] vehicle has also suffered diminution in value due to the Defect and loss of resale value.

138. On April 3, 2019, Plaintiff [redacted] purchased a new 2018 Ford EcoSport equipped with a 1.0L EcoBoost engine from Kisselback Ford located in Saint Cloud, Florida.

139. Plaintiff [redacted] purchased his vehicle for personal, family, or household use.

140. Passenger safety and reliability were important factors in Plaintiff [redacted] decision to purchase his vehicle. Before making his purchase, Plaintiff [redacted] reviewed the window sticker (the "Monroney" sticker) which listed the 1.0L EcoBoost engine as a component, spoke to a representative of the authorized Ford dealership who assured his of the quality, safety, and reliability of the vehicle, and test drove the vehicle he ultimately purchased. 144. On March 31, 2022, when his vehicle had approximately 65,000 miles on the odometer, the oil pressure light illuminated on his dashboard while he was driving on a busy highway, forcing him to cautiously decelerate his vehicle and maneuver it to the side of the road. Plaintiff [redacted] is on active duty for the National Guard and was heading to an assignment at time, but he was forced to call and cancel due to his vehicle's unexpected engine failure. A tow truck transported his car to the closest authorized Ford dealership, Kisselback Ford, located about approximately 35 miles away.

145. After inspecting the vehicle, the dealership confirmed that the vehicle had experienced an oil pump tensioner failure that had caused the vehicle's engine to fail. He was informed that he would be required to pay approximately $8,200 out-of-pocket for the complete engine replacement needed to remedy the issue.

146. Rather than pay $8,200 for the engine repair, Plaintiff [redacted] ended up trading-in his Ford EcoSport vehicle back to his dealership at an estimated $3,000-$5,000 loss. To replace the Ford EcoSport vehicle, he ended up purchasing a Honda CR-V Hybrid vehicle.

purchase was made in part on the advertised safety, reliability, and quality of the vehicle and its components, including its engine.

153. None of the information provided to Plaintiff [redacted] disclosed any defects in the engine or the powertrain system. Ford's omissions were material to Plaintiff [redacted]

154. Had Ford disclosed the Defect before Plaintiff [redacted] purchased her vehicle, she would have seen such disclosures and been aware of them. Indeed, Ford's misstatements and omissions were material to Plaintiff [redacted] Like all members of the Class, Plaintiff [redacted] would not have purchased her Class Vehicle, or would have paid less for the vehicle, had she known of the Defect.

155. In addition, at the time Plaintiff [redacted] purchased her vehicle, and in purchasing her vehicle, she relied upon representations from Ford and its authorized dealership that she heard from the salesperson and reviewed on the Monroney sticker that the vehicle was fully functional, safe, durable, reliable, and that the engine operated correctly and effectively. Plaintiff [redacted] relied on those representations and the omission of the disclosing of the Defect, in purchasing the vehicle, and absent those representations and omissions, would not have purchased the vehicle or would have paid less for it.

156. At all times during her ownership of the vehicle, Plaintiff [redacted] properly maintained and serviced her Class Vehicle according to Ford's recommended maintenance guidelines.

157. On or about November 6 2022, when her vehicle had approximately 60,000 miles on the odometer, the oil pressure light illuminated on the dashboard while driving the vehicle down a four-lane highway with her daughters in the vehicle, forcing her to pull over to the side of the road. Knowing her vehicle was outside the powertrain warranty, Plaintiff [redacted] had the vehicle towed to Chips Automotive & Diesel Repair located in Bryson City, North Carolina, a third-party repair shop, the next day on November 7, 2022. The technician at the repair shop diagnosed the vehicle as having a failed oil pump which had damaged the engine such that an engine replacement was required. Due to difficulty in procuring the replacement parts, the repair itself was delayed for several months.

158. On March 31, 2023, the repair shop returned the vehicle to Plaintiff [redacted] after approximately five months of being without the vehicle. She ended up paying approximately $5034.64 for the repair costs.

159. Because the Defect is inherent in the engine, the replacement engine suffers from same Defect as the original engine in her vehicle. To date, Plaintiff [redacted] has received no notification from Ford about any potential permanent repair or modification or change to the maintenance schedule which would either repair the Defect or prevent the Defect from causing damage to the new engine.

160. As a result of the Defect, Plaintiff [redacted] has lost confidence in the ability of her Class Vehicle to provide safe and reliable transportation for ordinary and advertised purposes. Until and unless, Ford fully discloses the Defect, a permanent repair or modification, and/or a change to the maintenance schedule to prevent the Defect from causing damage, Plaintiff [redacted] will be unable to rely on future advertising or labeling of the Class Vehicles, and so will not purchase another Class Vehicle although she would like to do so.

161. At all times, Plaintiff [redacted] like all Class Members, has attempted to drive her Class Vehicle in a foreseeable manner and in a manner in which it was intended to be used.

162. Additionally, as a result of the Defect, Plaintiff [redacted] has incurred out-of-pocket expenses to remedy the Defect, service costs, loss of use of her vehicle, and lost time. Plaintiff [redacted] vehicle has also suffered diminution in value due to the Defect and loss of resale value.

Plaintiff [redacted]

163. Plaintiff [redacted] is domiciled in and is a citizen of [redacted]

164. On or about July 20, 2020, Plaintiff [redacted] purchased a new 2020 Ford EcoSport equipped with a 1.0L EcoBoost engine from Miracle Ford, an authorized Ford dealership located in [redacted]

165. Plaintiff [redacted] purchased her vehicle for personal, family, or household use.

166. Passenger safety and reliability were important factors in Plaintiff [redacted] decision to purchase her vehicle. Before making her purchase, Plaintiff [redacted] reviewed details about the vehicle on several online websites including Car and Driver in addition to details about the vehicle featured on the Ford dealership's website. She also reviewed the window sticker (the "Monroney" sticker) which listed the 1.0L EcoBoost engine as a component, spoke to a representative of the authorized Ford dealership who assured her of the quality, safety, and reliability of the vehicle, and test drove the vehicle she ultimately purchased. Plaintiff [redacted] selected and ultimately purchased her Class Vehicle because the vehicle was represented to be and was marketed as a high-quality vehicle capable of providing safe, reliable transportation. The purchase was made in part on the advertised safety, reliability, and quality of the vehicle and its components, including its engine.

167. None of the information provided to Plaintiff [redacted] disclosed any defects in the engine or the powertrain system. Ford's omissions were material to Plaintiff [redacted]

168. Had Ford disclosed the Defect before Plaintiff [redacted] purchased her vehicle, she would have seen such disclosures and been aware of them. Indeed, Ford's misstatements and omissions were material to Plaintiff [redacted] Like all members of the Class, Plaintiff [redacted] would not have purchased her Class Vehicle, or would have paid less for the vehicle, had she known of the Defect.

169. In addition, at the time Plaintiff [redacted] purchased her vehicle, and in purchasing her vehicle, she relied upon representations from Ford and its authorized dealership that she saw during her internet research, heard from the salesperson, and reviewed on the Monroney sticker that the vehicle was fully functional, safe, durable, reliable, and that the engine operated correctly and effectively. Plaintiff [redacted] relied on those representations and the omission of the disclosing of the Defect, in purchasing the vehicle, and absent those representations and omissions, would not have purchased the vehicle or would have paid less for it.

170. At all times during her ownership of the vehicle, Plaintiff [redacted] properly maintained and serviced her Class Vehicle according to Ford's recommended maintenance guidelines.

171. On July 27, 2023, when her vehicle had approximately 87,000 miles on the odometer, the oil pressure light illuminated on the dashboard while driving the vehicle onto a busy interstate. The vehicle began to lose power, forcing her to maneuver the vehicle safely off the highway and pull the vehicle over to the side of the road. She contacted her local dealership to have her vehicle towed for an inspection.

172. When the vehicle was brought in for inspection, the technician seemed to know the precise problem from just her description of events. After they inspected the car, they confirmed that the vehicle's engine experienced an oil pump failure that would require a new engine.

173. As her car was at 87,000 miles and outside the powertrain warranty, Plaintiff [redacted] was informed that she would be responsible for covering the costs of the engine replacement that would cost approximately $8,300. Having no other recourse, Plaintiff [redacted] paid an initial deposit of $4,000 towards the repair costs.

174. Since a replacement engine was on backorder, Plaintiff [redacted] car has been sitting on the dealership's lot since July 27, 2023, and has yet to receive the engine repair. During this time, she has paid $1,069 for a rental vehicle up until September 5, 2023.

175. Unsure of when her car's engine repair would be completed, she ended up turning the rental vehicle back in and purchasing another vehicle for the time being. She spent an additional $33,991.89 to purchase a 2017 Jeep Wrangler unlimited from Toyota [redacted] located in [redacted]

176. Because the Defect is inherent in the engine, the replacement engine suffers from same Defect as the original engine in her vehicle. To date, Plaintiff [redacted] has received no notification from Ford about any potential permanent repair or modification or change to the maintenance schedule which would either repair the Defect or prevent the Defect from causing damage to the new engine.

177. As a result of the Defect, Plaintiff [redacted] has lost confidence in the ability of her Class Vehicle to provide safe and reliable transportation for ordinary and advertised purposes. Until and unless, Ford fully discloses the Defect, a permanent repair or modification, and/or a change to the maintenance schedule to prevent the Defect from causing damage, Plaintiff [redacted] will be unable to rely on future advertising or labeling of the Class Vehicles, and so will not purchase another Class Vehicle although she would like to do so.

178. At all times, Plaintiff [redacted] like all Class Members, has attempted to drive her Class Vehicle in a foreseeable manner and in a manner in which it was intended to be used.

179. Additionally, as a result of the Defect, Plaintiff [redacted] has incurred out-of-pocket expenses to remedy the Defect, service costs, loss of use of her vehicle, and lost time. Plaintiff [redacted] vehicle has also suffered diminution in value due to the Defect and loss of resale value.

Plaintiff [redacted]

180. Plaintiff [redacted] is domiciled in and is a citizen of [redacted]

181. On or about May 12, 2021, Plaintiff [redacted] purchased a used, preowned certified 2018 Ford EcoSport equipped with a 1.0L EcoBoost engine from Clark Crain Chrysler a dealer located in [redacted]

182. Plaintiff [redacted] purchased her vehicle for personal, family, or household use.

183. Passenger safety and reliability were important factors in Plaintiff [redacted] decision to purchase her vehicle. Before making her purchase, Plaintiff [redacted] reviewed the window sticker (the "Monroney" sticker) which listed the 1.0L EcoBoost engine as a component, spoke to a representative at the dealership who assured her of the quality, safety, and reliability of the vehicle, and test drove the vehicle she ultimately purchased. Plaintiff [redacted] selected and ultimately purchased her Class Vehicle because the vehicle was represented to be and was marketed as a high-quality vehicle capable of providing safe, reliable transportation. The purchase was made in part on the advertised safety, reliability, and quality of the vehicle and its components, including its engine.

184. None of the information provided to Plaintiff [redacted] disclosed any defects in the engine or the powertrain system. Ford's omissions were material to Plaintiff [redacted]

185. Had Ford disclosed the Defect before Plaintiff [redacted] purchased her vehicle, she would have seen such disclosures and been aware of them. Indeed, Ford's misstatements and omissions were material to Plaintiff [redacted] Like all members of the Class, Plaintiff [redacted] would not have purchased her Class Vehicle, or would have paid less for the vehicle, had she known of the Defect.

186. In addition, at the time Plaintiff [redacted] purchased her vehicle, and in purchasing her vehicle, she relied upon representations from Ford that she heard from the salesperson and reviewed on the Monroney sticker that the vehicle was fully functional, safe, durable, reliable, and that the engine operated correctly and effectively. Plaintiff [redacted] relied on those representations and the omission of the disclosing of the Defect, in purchasing the vehicle, and absent those representations and omissions, would not have purchased the vehicle or would have paid less for it.

187. At all times during her ownership of the vehicle, Plaintiff [redacted] properly maintained and serviced her Class Vehicle according to Ford's recommended maintenance guidelines.

188. On March 3, 2023, when her vehicle had approximately 82,159 miles, the low oil pressure light came on while she was driving the vehicle. Her engine also started making clanking noises before it suddenly lost power, forcing her to quickly maneuver the car safely to the side of the road.

189. Initially, she had the car towed to Druscilla Car Care, a third-party repair shop, to be inspected by her regular mechanic. The mechanic inspected the vehicle, determining that the vehicle could be having some kind of internal timing belt problem.

190. On March 6, 2023, the car was towed from the mechanic's shop to Hollingsworth Ford, an authorized Ford dealership located in Baton Rouge, Louisiana. She incurred towing costs of approximately $300 up to this point. The technician at the dealership inspected the vehicle and confirmed that the vehicle had experienced engine failure that would require a rebuilt engine. The dealership estimated the costs to be approximately $7,441.55 for the repair.

191. As she was outside the powertrain warranty and her extended warranty policy declined to cover the costs, Plaintiff [redacted] was responsible for paying the repair costs. On May 15, 2023, Plaintiff [redacted] ended up having to take a loan out for $5,000 to pay the overall repair bill after both her and the dealership reached an agreement to decrease the total of the bill to equal the maximum loan amount she could take out for the repair. After making 42 months of making monthly payments of $151, she will end up having to pay $6,342 in total after interest.

192. On May 31, 2023, the dealership returned her vehicle to her after the initial repairs had been performed. After driving the vehicle for thirty miles, the vehicle's powertrain light came on, forcing her to bring the vehicle back into the dealership for another repair saying that it was as result of a bad sensor. The costs for this additional repair were fully covered by her extended warranty plan. Plaintiff [redacted] had to wait till July 5, 2023, to have the vehicle returned to her. Eventually, the dealership did provide Plaintiff [redacted] with a loaner on June 5, 2023, and a second loaner on June 22, 2023 after returning the first loaner.

193. During the time she was without her vehicle, she lost about three months' worth of rideshare work due to not having a working vehicle. The work provided a monthly income valued at approximately $800 that usually made up about half of her monthly income.

194. Because the Defect is inherent in the engine, the replacement engine suffers from same Defect as the original engine in her vehicle. To date, Plaintiff [redacted] has received no notification from Ford about any potential permanent repair or modification or change to the maintenance schedule which would either repair the Defect or prevent the Defect from causing damage to the new engine.

195. As a result of the Defect, Plaintiff [redacted] has lost confidence in the ability of her Class Vehicle to provide safe and reliable transportation for ordinary and advertised purposes. Until and unless, Ford fully discloses the Defect, a permanent repair or modification, and/or a change to the maintenance schedule to prevent the Defect from causing damage, Plaintiff [redacted] will be unable to rely on future advertising or labeling of the Class Vehicles, and so will not purchase another Class Vehicle although she would like to do so.

196. At all times, Plaintiff [redacted] like all Class Members, has attempted to drive her Class Vehicle in a foreseeable manner and [redacted] a manner in which it was intended to be used.

197. Additionally, as a result of the Defect, Plaintiff [redacted] has incurred out-of-pocket expenses to remedy the Defect, service costs, loss of use of her vehicle, and lost time. Plaintiff [redacted] 's vehicle has also suffered diminution in value due to the Defect and loss of resale value.

Plaintiffs [redacted]

198. Plaintiffs [redacted] and [redacted] are domiciled in and citizens of Texas.

199. On or about January 12, 2021, Plaintiffs [redacted] purchased a new 2020 Ford EcoSport equipped with a 1.0L EcoBoost engine from [redacted] Ford, a Ford-authorized dealer located in [redacted]

200. Plaintiffs [redacted] purchased their vehicle for personal, family, or household use.

201. Passenger safety and reliability were important factors in Plaintiffs [redacted] decision to purchase their vehicle. Before making their purchase, Plaintiffs [redacted] reviewed details about the vehicle on several online websites in addition to details about the vehicle featured on the Ford-authorized dealership's website. They also reviewed the window sticker (the "Monroney" sticker) which listed the 1.0L EcoBoost engine as a component, and spoke to a representative of the authorized Ford dealership who assured them of the quality, safety, and reliability of the vehicle. Plaintiffs [redacted] selected and ultimately purchased their Class Vehicle because the vehicle was represented to be and was marketed as a high-quality vehicle capable of providing safe, reliable transportation. The purchase was made in part on the advertised safety, reliability, and quality of the vehicle and its components, including its engine.

202. None of the information provided to Plaintiffs [redacted] disclosed any defects in the engine or the powertrain system. Ford's omissions were material to Plaintiffs [redacted]

203. Had Ford disclosed the Defect before Plaintiffs [redacted] purchased their vehicle, they would have seen such disclosures and been aware of them. Indeed, Ford's misstatements and omissions were material to Plaintiffs [redacted] Like all members of the Class, Plaintiffs [redacted] would not have purchased their Class Vehicle, or would have paid less for the vehicle, had they known of the Defect.

204. In addition, at the time Plaintiffs [redacted] purchased their vehicle, and in purchasing their vehicle, they relied upon representations from Ford and its authorized dealership that they heard from the salesperson, and reviewed on the Monroney sticker that the vehicle was fully functional, safe, durable, reliable, and that the engine operated correctly and effectively. Plaintiffs [redacted] relied on those representations and the omission of the disclosing of the Defect, in purchasing the vehicle, and absent those representations and omissions, would not have purchased the vehicle or would have paid less for it.

205. At all times during their ownership of the vehicle, Plaintiffs [redacted] properly maintained and serviced their Class Vehicle according to Ford's recommended maintenance guidelines.

206. On or around June 12, 2023, when Plaintiffs [redacted] vehicle had approximately 77,000 miles, Plaintiff [redacted] was driving their vehicle on the freeway when she heard an audible "ding," followed by a second "ding." The low oil pressure light then illuminated on the dashboard and the vehicle went into limp mode, reducing speed suddenly.

207. Plaintiff [redacted] managed to get the vehicle off the freeway before it completely shut down. She then had the vehicle towed to Town East Ford, an authorized Ford dealership located in [redacted] The dealership found multiple diagnostic trouble codes, including P0011, P0017, P03655, and P0369.

208. The [redacted] Ford technician was unable to test the oil pressure, but when he removed the oil filter, he found pieces of the oil pump belt and metal in the oil filter. Due to debris from the oil pump belt, Ford's dealership recommended the long block of the engine be replaced. Plaintiffs [redacted] authorized the repair at a cost of $8,204.86. Ford's authorized dealer returned the vehicle to Plaintiffs [redacted] on July 20, 2023.

209. Despite this ostensible repair, Plaintiff [redacted] subsequently experienced the vehicle dying again while being driven on or about August 8, 2023. The vehicle was again delivered to Town East Ford, which diagnosed the issue as a bad battery. The dealership replaced the battery and Plaintiffs [redacted] paid $276.92 out of pocket for this service.

210. Despite this second ostensible repair, however, Plaintiffs [redacted] vehicle was not permanently repaired. On or around August 17, 2023, the check engine light on the [redacted] vehicle again illuminated and Plaintiffs [redacted] returned the vehicle to Ford's authorized dealership for repair. The dealership found a leak in the vapor management valve and determined that the purge valved needed to be replaced. Plaintiffs [redacted] paid over $400.00 out of pocket for this service. Given the repeated issues with the vehicle, the Ford-authorized dealership also recommended trading in the vehicle.

211. Because the Defect is inherent in the engine, the replacement engine and components suffer from the same Defect as the original engine and components in Plaintiffs [redacted] vehicle. To date, Plaintiffs [redacted] have received no notification from Ford about any potential permanent repair or modification or change to the maintenance schedule which would either repair the Defect or prevent the Defect from causing damage to the new engine components.

212. As a result of the Defect, Plaintiffs [redacted] have lost confidence in the ability of their Class Vehicle to provide safe and reliable transportation for ordinary and advertised purposes. Until and unless Ford fully discloses the Defect, a permanent repair or modification, and/or a change to the maintenance schedule to prevent the Defect from causing damage, Plaintiffs [redacted] will be unable to rely on future advertising or labeling of the Class Vehicles, and so will not purchase another Class Vehicle although they would like to do so.

213. At all times, Plaintiffs [redacted] like all Class Members, have attempted to drive their Class Vehicle in a foreseeable manner and in a manner in which it was intended to be used.

214. Additionally, as a result of the Defect, Plaintiffs [redacted] have incurred out-of-pocket expenses to remedy the Defect, service costs, loss of use of their vehicle, and lost time. Plaintiffs [redacted] 's vehicle has also suffered diminution in value due to the Defect and loss of resale value.

II. Defendant

215. Ford Motor Company is a Delaware limited liability company with its corporate headquarters located at 1 American Road, Dearborn, Michigan 48126. Ford Motor Company is registered to do business in the State of Delaware. Ford designs, manufacturers, markets, and distributes motor vehicles, parts, and other automotive products for sale in the United States and throughout the world. Ford is the warrantor and distributor of the Class Vehicles in Delaware and throughout the United States.

216. At all relevant times, Ford is engaged in the business of designing, manufacturing, constructing, assembling, warranting, marketing, advertising, distributing, and selling vehicles and motor vehicle components, including the Class Vehicles, under the "Ford", "Lincoln", and other brand names in Delaware and throughout the United States of America.

217. In order to sell vehicles to the general public, Ford enters into agreements with dealerships who are then authorized to sell Ford vehicles to consumers such as Plaintiff. In return for the exclusive right to sell new Ford vehicles in a geographic area, authorized dealerships are also permitted to service and repair these vehicles under the warranties Defendant provides directly to consumers. These contracts give Defendant a significant amount of control over the actions of the dealerships, including sales and marketing of vehicles and parts for those vehicles. All service and repair at an authorized dealership are also completed according to Ford's explicit instructions, issued through service manuals, technical service bulletins ("TSBs"), and other documents. Per the agreements between Defendant and the authorized dealers, consumers such as Plaintiffs can receive services under Defendant's issued warranties at dealer locations that are convenient to them.

218. Ford also develops and disseminates the owners' manuals, warranty booklets, maintenance schedules, advertisements, and other promotional materials relating to the Class Vehicles. Ford is also responsible for the production and content of the information on the Moroney Stickers.

219. Ford also develop and disseminates the owners' manuals, warranty booklets, maintenance schedules, advertisements, and other promotional materials relating to the Class Vehicles. Ford is also responsible for the production and content of the information on the Moroney Stickers.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

220. For years, Ford has designed, manufactured, distributed, sold, leased, and warranted the Class Vehicles.

221. Ford marketed and sold thousands of Class Vehicles nationwide, including through its nationwide network of authorized dealers and service providers. Ford sells its vehicles through its authorized dealerships. After these dealerships sell cars to consumers, including Plaintiffs and Class Members, they acquire additional vehicles inventory from Ford to replace the vehicle sold, increasing Ford's revenues. Ford also sells replacement parts to its dealerships for use to service, maintain, and repair vehicles, including the Class Vehicles. Thus, Plaintiffs' and Class Members' purchase of Class Vehicles and their replacement parts accrues to the benefit of Ford by increasing its revenues. In 2022, Ford reported its North American revenues was $87 billion.[2]

I. Ford's Statements About the 1.0L Ecoboost

222. Ford advertises and emphasizes the engineering of the 1.0L EcoBoost in the Class Vehicles, continually referring to the engine as "an impressive combination of driveability and fuel efficiency." In fact, "driveability and efficiency" is Ford's constant refrain in describing the functionality of the 1.0L EcoBoost as these brochures for the Ford Focus from model years 2016 to 2018 demonstrate:

Experience ingenuity.

1.0 liter of displacement. 3 cylinders. 215 pounds. From these specs, the 1.0L EcoBoost® engine[1] offers cutting-edge engineering.

With 125 lb.-ft. of torque, the 1.0L EcoBoost is teamed with a 6-speed manual transmission for 123 horsepower of maximum driving fun. Or you can choose an available 6-speed SelectShift® automatic. This award-winning performer has been named the best engine under 1.0L, according to Engine Technology International.[2] It combines direct injection, turbocharging and twin independent variable camshaft timing (Ti-VCT) to generate a broad, flat torque curve. And provide you with an impressive combination of driveability and fuel efficiency (an EPA-estimated 42 hwy mpg with the manual transmission).[3]

223. This mimics the claims about the "driveability and efficiency" 1.0L EcoBoost engines in the Ford EcoSport. But contrary to these assertions, vehicles with the 1.0L EcoBoost are simply not drivable, as exemplified by the experiences of Plaintiffs.

PERFORMS AT MAXIMUM EFFICIENCY.

Experience the ingenuity of the fuel-efficient, compact and powerful 1.0L EcoBoost® engine.[1] This lightweight, die-cast aluminum award-winner combines sophisticated EcoBoost turbocharging, direct fuel injection and twin independent variable camshaft timing (Ti-VCT) technologies to generate a broad, flat torque curve. Teamed with either a 6-speed manual or 6-speed automatic transmission with SelectShift® capability, this mighty lightweight delivers 123 horses of maximum driving fun. And provides you with an impressive combination of driveability and fuel efficiency (an EPA-estimated 40 hwy mpg with the manual transmission).[2]

It's a combination that is reaping rewards, as the 1.0L EcoBoost has been named International Engine of the Year "Best Engine Under 1.0-liter" for 6 years in a row.[3]

224. Ford touted the same characteristics describing "[a] turbocharged wonder" with "an impressive combination of driveability and fuel efficiency" in marketing the 2018 Ford EcoSport:

ZIP AND SIP

A turbocharged wonder, the award-winning 1.0L EcoBoost® engine[1] has an impressive combination of driveability and fuel efficiency. It's paired with a 6-speed SelectShift® automatic transmission and front-wheel drive (FWD).[1]

FIND YOUR SWEET SPOT

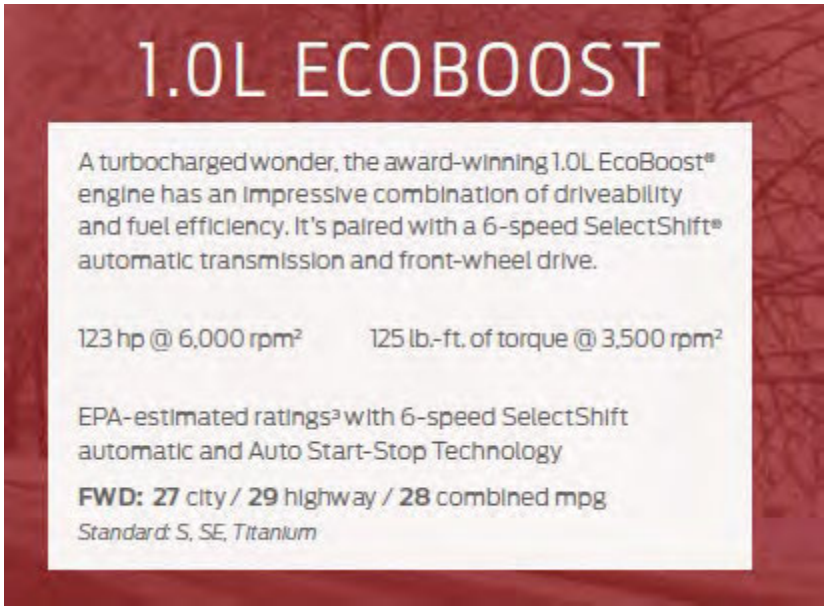
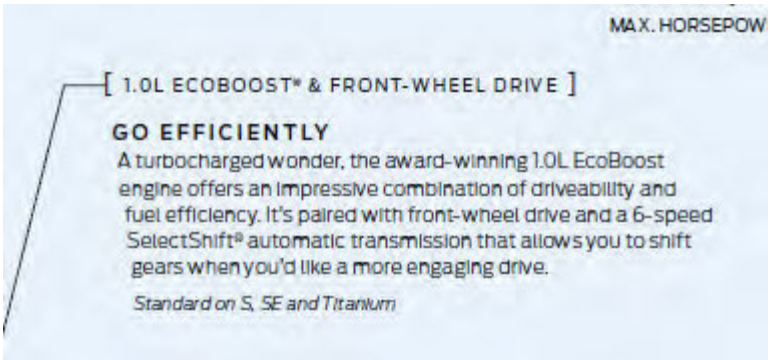
The 2.0L Ti-VCT engine[1] combines direct injection with twin independent variable camshaft timing to deliver an impressive 166 horsepower. It's paired with Intelligent 4WD[1] for enhanced driving fun.

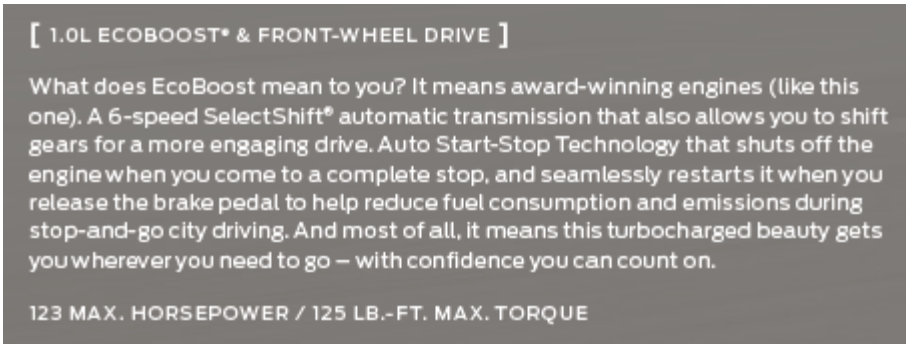
225. Ford repeated the same description of "an impressive combination of driveability and fuel efficiency" for the 2019 Ford EcoSport:



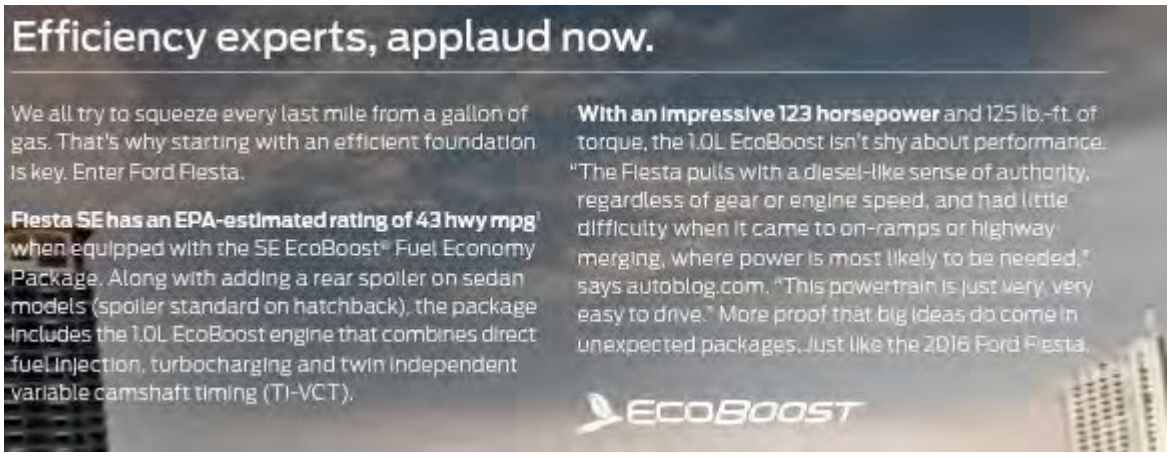
226. Ford similarly describes the "turbocharged wonder" that "offers an impressive combination of driveability and fuel efficiency" for the 2020 Ford EcoSport:



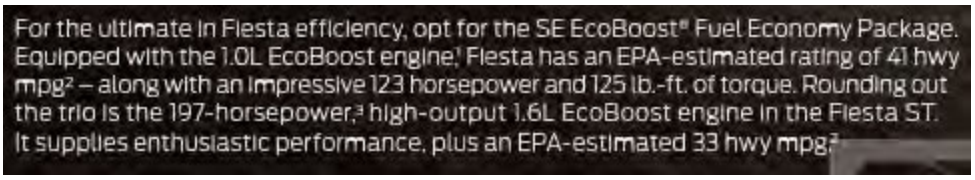
227. Ford touted the "award-winning engines" with technology allowing for seamless driving and fuel efficiency, which means "this turbocharged beauty gets you wherever you need to go" in the 2021 Ford EcoSport:



228. Ford similarly touted the quality and fuel efficiency of the 1.0 EcoBoost engine in the 2016 Ford Fiesta:



229. The 2017 Ford Fiesta was the last year that the 1.0L EcoBoost engine was available in the model. By that time, Ford had limited its claims about the engine to one about fuel efficiency:



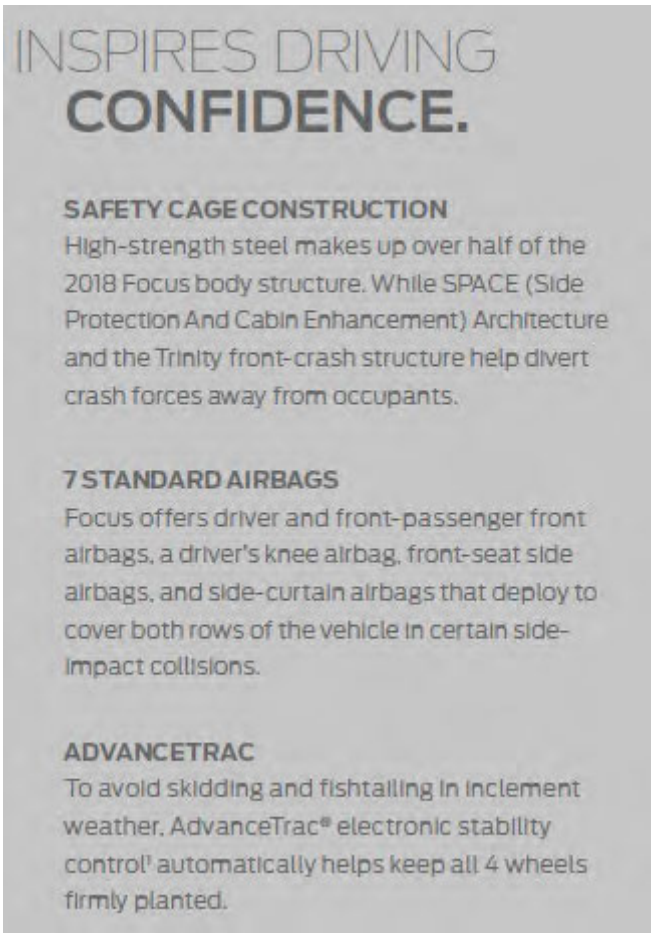
230. At no time while advertising the benefits of the 1.0L Ford EcoBoost engine did Ford reveal one of the largest drawbacks: that the engines suffered from the Oil Pump Defect.

231. Ford further describes the safety benefits and innovativeness of their engineering, specifically touting the driver-assistance features to enhance the safety of drivers and passengers while at the same time omitting information about the Oil Pump Defect and its associated safety risk, i.e., the sudden deceleration, stalling, and activation of limp mode, while the vehicles are being driven.

232. For example, the below advertisement fails to mention the Defect or its risks while describing the enhanced safety features in the section touting Driver-assist features in the 2016 Ford Focus:

233. Similarly, the below advertisement fails to mention the Defect or its risks, but provides details on smart-driver assist technologies enhancing safety in the 2017 Ford Focus:

234. The below advertisement also details several safety features in the 2018 Ford Focus but fails to mention the Defect or its risks:



235. Ford similarly omits mention of the Defect and its risks, while going to great lengths to tout five safety systems in the 2018 Ford EcoSport:

BIG ON PROTECTION 10 standard airbags on EcoSport include: driver and front-passenger dual-stage front; driver and front-passenger knee; front- and rear-seat side, and side-curtain airbags for both rows.

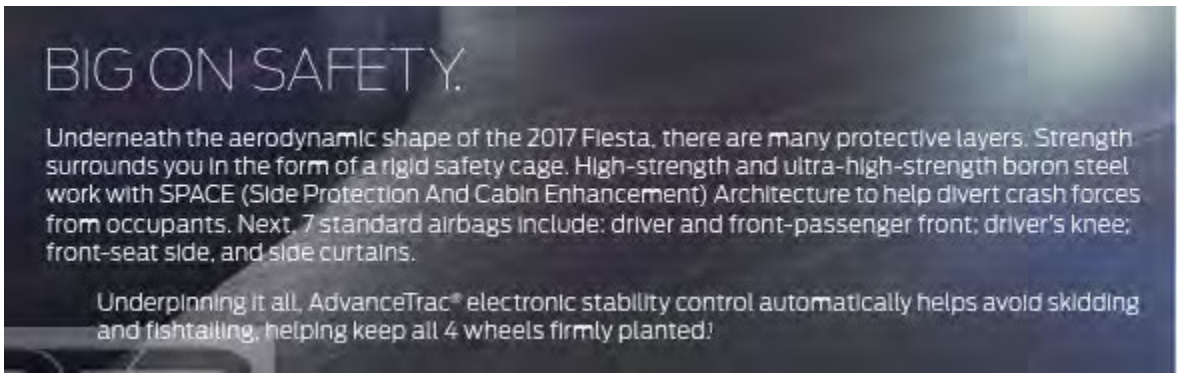
STAY ALERT TO TRAFFIC BLIS® (Blind Spot Information System) with cross-traffic alert[1,2] helps warn you if it detects a vehicle in either of your blind spots while driving forward, or approaching from the sides while in Reverse.

ACTIVATE WHEN WET When the rains come, rain-sensing windshield wipers[1] turn on automatically to help keep your forward view clear.

BE ALERTED TO WHAT'S BEHIND YOU Along with the standard rear view camera, the Reverse Sensing System[1] audibly alerts you to objects behind EcoSport as you slowly back up.

MAINTAIN YOUR BALANCE Smart standard features like AdvanceTrac® with RSC® (Roll Stability Control™)[3] provide enhanced stability in a variety of conditions. By selectively applying individual brakes and modifying engine power, the system helps keep all 4 wheels firmly planted.

236. The 2017 Ford Fiesta was advertised by Ford as "Big on Safety" but failed to mention that the Oil Pump Defect could cause the vehicle to stop suddenly while in motion:



237. Ford provides several warranties when consumers purchase Ford-branded vehicles, including a "Bumper to Bumper," 3-year or 36,000-mile warranty, and a Powertrain, 5-year or 60,000-mile warranty. Both of these warranties are part of the New Vehicle Limited Warranty ("NVLW"). These warranties are transferrable to subsequent owners, within the stated durational or mileage limits of the warranties.

238. The engine, including "all internal lubricated parts, cylinder block, cylinder heads, electrical fuel pump, powertrain control module, engine mounts, flywheel, injection pump, manifold (exhaust and intake), manifold bolts, oil pan, oil pump, seals and gaskets, engine thermostat, engine thermostat housing, timing chain cover, timing chain (gears or belt), turbocharger/supercharger unit, valve covers, water pump" is covered by both the "Bumper to Bumper" and the Powertrain warranty (emphasis added).

239. The NVLW provided by Ford promises that "authorized Ford Motor Company dealers will, without charge, repair, replace, or adjust all parts on your vehicle that malfunction or fail during normal use during the applicable coverage period." Ford also limited the remedy under the NVLW "to repair, replacement, or adjustment of defective parts" and states that "[t]his exclusive remedy shall not be deemed to have failed its essential purpose so long as Ford, through its authorized dealers, is willing and able to repair, replace, or adjust defective parts in the prescribed manner."

240. If Ford and/or its dealerships deem that vehicle has been presented within the time and mileage limitations of the warranty drafted by Ford, replacement of the oil pump or any component damaged by the Oil Pump Defect will be covered under the warranty for manufacturing and workmanship defects.

I. The Oil Pump Defect

241. Since at least 2011, Ford has been manufacturing and selling vehicles with the same or substantially similar EcoBoost 1.0L engines as those in the Class Vehicles. The Class Vehicles themselves have identical EcoBoost 1.0L engines that do not differ materially from the EcoBoost 1.0L engines installed in previous model years of the same vehicles. Moreover, the oil pump used in these engines are the same or substantially similar.

242. As with all internal combustion engines, the purpose of engine oil is to provide lubrication in order to reduce friction and wear on moving parts of a vehicle's engine.

243. If there is insufficient oil or oil pressure, the engine will not have the necessary lubrication or cooling, thereby causing premature wear of internal parts, inadequate performance (i.e. loss of power), and/or catastrophic engine failure when damaged moving parts cease to be able to move. Insufficient oil can also result in engine stalling or seizing while the vehicle is in use.

244. The oil pump is the central component of the lubrication system. The oil pump is responsible for transferring oil from the oil pan and pumping it through the engine and eventually back to the sump for recirculation. In order to do this sufficiently lubricate and cool the engine, engine oil must be maintained at a certain pressure level.

245. The oil pump is a critical component of the engine. Oil pump failure causes complete engine failure.

246. Oil pumps in automobiles are either belt-driven or chain-driven. This refers to the mechanism used to control and time the circulation of the engine oil. Chains are made of metal, while belts are typically made of rubber.

247. Belt-driven systems utilize belt tensioners to keep the belt at the correct tension level. If the belt is too tight or too loose, it can cause premature wear on the belt. Premature wear on the belt can cause the oil pressure to drop and eventually for the belt to stop pushing the oil back into the system. Moreover, the wear on the belt can cause pieces of the belt to break off and begin to circulate in the oil, damaging other engine components and leading to a loss of motive power.

248. Belt tensioners are made out of metal. If the tensioners break apart, pieces of metal likewise can get into the oil, clogging the pump and resulting in loss of motive power and engine damage.

249. Traditionally, belt-driven systems utilize a dry belt in which the system is designed in such a way that the belt does not touch the oil. This is because oil can degrade the rubber over time.

250. Recently, however, in a quest to make engines smaller, quieter, and more fuel efficient, some automakers have begun using wet belt or belt-in-oil designs. In this type of design, the belt actually sits inside the oil sump and is in direct contact with the engine oil. This new belt-in-oil design is made possible because of belts made from improved materials, i.e. materials which can withstand the heat, pressure, and friction of a moving engine.

251. Ford was among the earliest adopters of this belt-in-oil design, utilizing it in the 1.0L EcoBoost engines in Class Vehicles.

252. Discovery will show that the oil pumps in 1.0L EcoBoost engines suffer from design, manufacturing, materials and/or workmanship defects which cause the oil pump belt to disintegrate or wear as well as cause the tensioners to break apart, leading to a loss of oil pressure, introduction of debris from the belt beginning to circulate the engine oil, and loss of lubrication, causing the moving metal pieces in the engine to come into contact with one another and cause damage such that metal shavings and pieces circulate throughout the engine. This Oil Pump Defect is the result of: 1) defective oil pump belt tensioners which do not hold the belt at the sufficient tension for the belt to operate properly and can fall apart, resulting in debris of belt tensioners in the oil pump; and/or 2) the use of an improper material in the belt (whether by design or by the installation of a belt which has not been made properly according to the specifications of Ford's design).[3] As a result of the Oil Pump Defect, a large number of drivers report loss of oil pressure and oil pump failures in their Class Vehicles, including Plaintiffs, and are forced to purchase new oil pumps and/or engines.

253. The Defect is inherent in all Class Vehicles. The Defect manifests first in a loss of oil pressure, often at levels too low for the oil pressure sensor to register. As the Defect worsens, the oil pressure continues to drop until it triggers the oil pressure sensor. Once the sensor is triggered, the computer which runs the engine, called an "Engine Control Unit" or "Engine Control Module" ("ECM"), evaluates the information from the sensor and sets a "Diagnostic Trouble Code" ("DTC"). The DTCs are codes set by the computer so that it can communicate what exactly is wrong with a vehicle to a mechanic. As the name implies, DTCs are used for diagnosis. The manufacturer, in this case Ford, decides how and when the ECM sets a DTC, i.e. when a condition is serious enough to alert the mechanic. Some DTCs are set without making themselves apparent to the driver and can only be read by a mechanic with access to a computer which can read the DTCs from the ECM, i.e. a dealership technician. Other DTCs, including the DTC associated with low oil pressure, are chosen by the manufacture to automatically trigger a light on the dashboard to communicate critical information to the driver. In this case, Ford has chosen the DTC associated with low oil pressure to set only when engine failure is imminent. When this DTC sets, a light illuminates on the dashboard alerting the driver to the engine condition. Once the light illuminates, the oil pressure in the engine is so low that the vehicle can become difficult to operate, particularly at higher speeds.

254. The Defect manifests immediately in the engines, but only becomes apparent to a driver after significant time has passed in part because Ford has deliberately set the oil pressure sensor to warn about a low oil pressure when catastrophic failure is imminent. Similarly, the other symptoms of the Defect which would alert a driver, including noise from the failing oil pump, knocking noises from engine as metal components hit each other without sufficient lubrication, loss of power, stalling, smoke coming from the engine and/or fires, all occur when engine failure is imminent, and the engine is already beyond repair. Moreover, these symptoms cause unsafe conditions, including the sudden loss of forward propulsion or stalling and present a safety hazard because they severely affect the driver's ability to control the car's speed, acceleration, and deceleration.

255. The Defect also results in costly engine replacements. Moreover, Ford specifically drafted the Powertrain warranty for the Class Vehicles knowing that consumers are unlikely to discover the Defect until after the 60,000 miles threshold. As such, Ford is improperly shifting the cost of the Defect onto unsuspecting consumers like Plaintiffs and Class Members, which can cost around $6,000-$10,000 for engine replacement.

256. Owners and lessees further incur considerable out of pocket expense in the form of rental cars, alternate transportation, and towing/roadside assistance when their Class Vehicles break down. Moreover, because a large number of Class Vehicles with the 1.0L EcoBoost engine have suffered from catastrophic engine failure as a result of the Defect, there is a shortage of available engines to be installed as replacements. As such, Class Members including Plaintiffs often have to wait weeks or months for a replacement engine.

257. Furthermore, the replacement engines are also subject to the Oil Pump Defect and, Plaintiffs and Class Members who received new engines continue to have vehicles subject to the Defect, which currently are being damaged due to the Defect, and can expect to suffer engine failure again in the future.

258. Ford, through its authorized dealerships and service centers, has failed to remedy the Defect. Until the Defect is fixed by Ford, owners and lessees of Class Vehicles will continue to be at risk of dangerous engine stalling, extensive engine damage, costly engine replacements and the expense and inconvenience of frequent dealership visits. The engine in each of the Class Vehicles is the same 1.0L EcoBoost Engine, and is the same engine as used in previous model years, and critically, have the same oil pumps. Moreover, despite extensive knowledge of the Oil Pump Defect from prior model years, Ford made no changes to the oil pump before manufacturing and marketing the Class Vehicles. Indeed, the Defect was inherent in each Class Vehicle and was present in each Class Vehicle at the time of sale.

259. Ford knew about the Defect present in every Class Vehicle, along with the attendant safety problems, and concealed this information from Plaintiffs and Class Members at the time of sale, lease, repair, and thereafter. In fact, instead of repairing the Class Vehicles, Ford has insisted that the vehicles are working as designed.

260. If Plaintiffs and Class Members had known about the Defect at the time of sale or lease, Plaintiffs and Class Members would not have purchased or leased the Class Vehicles or would have paid less for them.

261. As a result of their reliance on Ford's omissions, owners and/or lessees of the Class Vehicles suffered an ascertainable loss of money, property, and/or value of their Class Vehicles. Additionally, as a result of the Defect, Plaintiffs and Class Members were harmed and suffered actual damages in that the Class Vehicles are defective, that they overpaid for defective vehicles, and that the Class Vehicles' engines and their use of a defective oil pump increase Class Members' chances of being involved in a collision by overheating, catching fire or catastrophically failing.

II. Ford Had Superior and Exclusive Knowledge of the Oil Pump Defect

262. Ford became aware of the Defect at least as early as 2011, well before Plaintiffs and Class Members purchased their Class Vehicles. Ford learned of the Defect through sources such as pre-release evaluation and testing including thermal testing; repair data; replacement part sales data; early consumer complaints made to Ford and/or NHTSA, and/or posted on public online vehicle owner forums; testing done in response to those complaints; aggregate data from Ford dealers; as well as through other internal sources unavailable to Plaintiffs prior to discovery.

263. While designing, manufacturing, engineering, and testing Class Vehicles in advance of the vehicles' release, Ford would have gained comprehensive and exclusive knowledge about the 1.0L EcoBoost engines and the oil pumps installed in those Vehicles. Adequate pre-release analysis of the design, engineering, and manufacture of the 1.0L EcoBoost engine in the Class Vehicles would have revealed to Ford that the design and/or manufacture of the oil pump was defective and susceptible to failure as outlined above.

264. Ford is experienced in the design and manufacture of consumer vehicles. As an experienced manufacturer, Ford conducts tests, including pre-sale durability testing, on incoming components, including the engines, to verify the parts are free from defect and align with Ford's specifications.[4] This is especially true of vehicles and engines which feature newly designed or redesigned components, such as the new oil pump with the belt-in-oil design. Ford would have had to test this component extensively to ensure that it meet industry standards for durability.

265. Indeed, Ford worked with FEV, Inc. in developing the 1.0L EcoBoost engine. According to FEV, they "provided support in the area of design and [computer aided design], combustion development, and engine build for 36 engines." Those engines would have been tested extensively to ensure proper operation and necessarily revealed the limitations of the oil pump integrated into the 1.0L EcoBoost engine.[5]

266. Ford touts its extensive pre-production testing, both in the United States at its Michigan and Arizona Proving Grounds, and at testing centers throughout the world, including in the United Arab Emirates, Thailand, China, Australia, and India. Indeed, pre-production thermal testing of vehicles with Ford Total Durability Cycle necessarily revealed the Oil Pump Defect and its associated safety risk. Despite this, Ford manufactured hundreds of thousands of vehicles with this defective oil pump in the 1.0L EcoBoost engine, including the Class Vehicles.

A. Complaints Reported to NHTSA

267. Federal law requires automakers like Ford to be in close contact with NHTSA regarding potential auto defects, including imposing a legal requirement, backed by criminal penalties for violation, of confidential disclosure of defects by automakers to NHTSA, including field reports, customer complaints, and warranty data. See TREAD Act, Pub. L. No. 106-414, 114 Stat. 1800 (2000).

268. Automakers have a legal obligation to identify and report emerging safety-related defects to NHTSA under the Early Warning Report requirements. Id. Similarly, automakers monitor NHTSA databases for consumer complaints regarding their automobiles as part of their ongoing obligation to identify potential defects in their vehicles, including those which are safety-related, such as spontaneous engine fires.

269. Many Class Vehicle owners and lessees submitted complaints about the Transmission Defect with NHTSA's Office of Defect Investigations ("ODI").

270. From its monitoring of the NHTSA databases, Ford knew or should have known of the many complaints about Transmission Defect logged by NHTSA ODI, and the content, consistency, and large number of those complaints alerted, or should have alerted, Ford that the Defect is widespread in Class Vehicles, and a safety hazard.

271. The following complaints are a sampling of the scores of available complaints through NHTSA's website, www.safercar.gov, which reveal that Ford, through its network of dealers and repair technicians, was made aware of many oil pump failures in Class Vehicles.[6]:

272. The following customer complaints were posted on NHTSA's website regarding the 2018 Ford EcoSport:[7]

- Posted 8/16/22
  - "The contact owns a 2018 Ford Ecosport. The contact stated while driving 75 MPH, the message "Low Engine Oil Pressure" was displayed. The contact veered to the side of the road. The contact turned off and restarted the vehicle; however, the failure persisted. The contact was able to continue driving at 20 MPH. The vehicle was taken to an independent mechanic where it was diagnosed that the timing belt had failed and damaged the engine. The independent mechanic diagnosed that the engine needed to be replaced. The manufacturer was notified of the failure and referred the contact to the dealer. The dealer informed the contact that the VIN was not under recall. The vehicle was not repaired. The failure mileage was approximately 69,000."

- "The contact owns a 2018 Ford Ecosport. The contact stated that while driving at 50 MPH, the low engine oil pressure warning message appeared on the instrument panel. The contact managed to pull over and replenished the engine with oil; however, soon after start-up, an abnormal, knocking noise began to emit from the engine as black smoke also emitted from the engine. The vehicle began to lose power as the contact pulled over and shut off the engine. The contact had the vehicle towed to a dealer where it remained in their possession. The vehicle had yet to be repaired. The manufacturer for notified of the failure. The failure mileage was 58,198."

I was going to attempt to drive the 3 miles home and the car gave out. No one can find any reason my vehicle did this. The oil was changed 4 days prior and all of the oil was applied and properly placed. I am looking into legal action. We may have a class action lawsuit. If anyone would like to be a part, contact me, phyllis_neal@yahoo.com. This is not ok or fair. I have been fired from my job, this has negatively impacted my family and it's just inconvenient."

- "Warning across dashboard stated engine oil pump pressure low then heard grinding noise. Towed to mechanic and found out the oil pump belt was broken and had metal in engine causing engine to fail also messing up turbo. Have to now replace engine with turbo which is costly but still owe on vehicle. Engine is $7000+ and is extremely hard to find plus was told the problem will most likely happen again. If I had been driving when this happened the motor would have locked up causing an accident and could have possibly been fatal per mechanic."

- "While driving my 2018 ecosport, i got a warning of "low oil pressure". I thought my car was losing oil so I stopped. Checking the oil noticed that had all the oil and there was no leak. Next day took it to Pep Boys, since it was Sunday July 3rd, and told me the diagnostic (PO365 camshaft pos sensor) Ford warranty is of 60,000 miles (i have just under 88,000 on my car). They advised me to take it to my local ford dealership to have a second opinion, since they don't do that type of job. Ford dealer confirmed the same problem, and if so, I would need a new motor because they do not open this type of motor to fix it. I contacted ford customer service to bring the problem to their attention and they told me there was nothing they could do. upon further investigation I have found this is chronic problem with the 1.0 turbo ecoboost engines and found a class action lawsuit (from CSK&D-FORD ECOSPORT ECOBOOST DEFECT -CLASS ACTION INVESTIGATION) started against ford for this specific issue, and they still will not help me cover the costs. I cannot afford to replace the engine and still owe too much on the car to try to trade it in. it has caused a major hardship on my fiancé and I, trying to find a jobs since this car was my UBER only job, while prices of parts and gas are skyrocketing. I have only had this car for 3 years and under 88,000 miles and it is completely undrivable due to the faulty and carless engineering.Started driving home and noticed a significant decrease in power and the engine ceased and died. Had car towed home."

  - "Started with the oil pressure engine light coming on and off always told it's a sensor then 2 days it wasn't putting any oil to one of the rocker arms and told by a dealership that it's going to cost me$7500 for a whole new engine when all they did was their diagnostic test."

The low oil pressure warning light was illuminated. The vehicle was towed to the contact's residence, where an independent mechanic diagnosed the vehicle with oil pump failure. The contact was informed that the oil pump needed to be replaced; however, parts were on backorder. The vehicle was not repaired. The manufacturer was not made aware of the failure. The failure mileage was approximately 85,900."

  - "Oil pump belt shredded without warning at 62,000 miles causing complete engine failure while driving in traffic. Multiple warning lights illuminated, but failure was abrupt and immediate. Car was performing normally and then within a matter of seconds I experienced complete loss of power. Vehicle is presently at the Ford

The check engine, battery, and ABS warning lights were illuminated. The contact replaced the battery; however, the failure recurred. The vehicle was not diagnosed nor repaired by an independent mechanic or dealer. The manufacturer was made aware of the failure and advised the contact to file a complaint with NHTSA. The failure mileage was approximately 55,000."

AFTER THAT THE ENGINE LIGHT CAME ON AND THE VEHICLE STARTED TO RUN A DIAGNOSTICS WHICH I WAS UNABLE TO SEE. AS I BEGIN TO DRIVE AGAIN THE VEHICLE STABILITY CONTROL CUTS OFF AND CAUSES ME TO TEMPORARILY LOSE CONTROL OF THE VEHICLE. AS I'M REGAINING CONTROL OF THE VEHICLE THE TRACTION CONTROL TAKES OVER AGAIN AND HELPS ME OUT. I'M NOT SURE AS TO WHAT HAPPENED TO MY VEHICLE STILL WAITING FOR THE DEALER TO GET BACK TO ME. The dealership inspected it and said that the oil pump belt "shredded" and the sudden loss of oil pressure, along with the debris from the oil pump belt, completely ruined both the motor and the turbo requiring full replacement of both at a cost of $6500. Car was purchased new less than 2 1/2 years before but Ford will not pay for the repairs."

  - "Driving on the interstate the low oil pressure light came on no check engine lights or anything . The oil pump is belt driven aka wet belt and the rubber teeth come off stopping up the oil pump and causing it not to work properly . With the rubber pieces going into the motor the rubber melts causing issues with the pistons and engine block. The Ford dealership recommends not replacing just the oil pump because of all the other issues the rubber belt causes because it melts inside the engine . So I am left with no choice but to replace the engine at a cost of 5,000.00. Why there hasn't been a recall is questionable . I am in the process of getting said motor replaced but does that mean every 2 years it will have same issues ?"

MY ENGINE OIL LIGHT CAME ON, I PULLED INTO A LOCAL OIL SERVICE STATION TO HAVE THEM CHECK THE OIL, (PREVIOUS SERVICE WAS APPROXIMATELY 1 MONTH PRIOR AND IT HAD ONLY BEEN APPROXIMATELY 1200 MILES SINCE LAST SERVICE). THEY SAID THAT THE OIL WAS FINE BUT I HAD THEM CHANGE THE OIL AGAIN JUST TO BE SURE. THE OIL LIGHT REFUSED TO GO OUT. I THEN HAD THE VEHICLE TOWED TO THE CLOSEST FORD DEALERSHIP BECAUSE THE VEHICLE BECAME UNSAFE AND COULD NOT BE DRIVE ACCORDING TO THE SERVICE STATION. AFTER A WEEK AT THE FORD DEALERSHIP IT WAS DETERMINED THAT THE ENGINE WAS NO LONGER HOLDING OIL PRESSURE AND THAT VARIOUS COMPONENTS INSIDE THE ENGINE HAD NOW STARTED THROWING THE CHECK ENGINE LIGHT. THE DEALERSHIP INFORMANT ME IT WOULD BE APPROXIMATELY $7700 TO REPLACE THE ENGINE, AS THE VEHICLE'S ENGINE IS IN A STATE OF FAILURE. THE VEHICLE HAS BEEN TOWED FROM THE DEALERSHIP AND SITTING IN MY DRIVEWAY AT 71457 MILES... THE DEALERSHIP SAYS THAT BECAUSE THE VEHICLE IS 11450 MILES OUT OF WARRANTY THAT THERE IS NOTHING THEY CAN DO. VEHICLE WAS REGULARLY SERVICED.   - "I WAS COMING OFF FREEWAY AND GETTING ONTO ANOTHER FREEWAY WHEN, AS I WAS SPEEDING UP TO MERGE, MY CAR BOGGED DOWN AS IF RUNNING OUT OF GAS. I LOOKED AT THE DASH AND SAW MY OIL LIGHT HAD COME ON. SO I PULLED OVER TO AN EXIT WITHIN

[12] https://www.nhtsa.gov/vehicle/2017/FORD/FOCUS/5%252520HB/FWD

30 YDS. AND PULLED ONTO A STREET ABOUT ANOTHER 30 YDS. AWAY. I SHUT OFF THE CAR AND LET IT SIT A FEW MINUTES THEN CHECKED OIL. WHEN I DID, THE OIL SHOWED FULL. I THEN CALLED THE FORD DEALER I TAKE MY CAR TO FOR OIL CHANGES AND SPOKE WITH A SERVICE GUY AND TOLD HIM WHAT HAPPENED. HE WAS PUZZLED AND ASKED A FEW QUESTIONS AND THEN WE TRIED TO RESET THE OIL LIGHT. AFTER DOING THE RESET THE OIL LIGHT CAME BACK ON. I TRIED STARTING THE CAR AND IT STARTED FINE. NO ABNORMAL SOUNDS COMING FROM THE ENGINE AND IT IDLED FINE. I DECIDED TO TRY THE FREEWAY AGAIN TO SEE IF THE OIL LIGHT WAS A FLUKE. THE NEXT EXIT WAS ONLY A HALF MILE AWAY SO I COULD EASILY GET OFF FREEWAY IF NECESSARY. AGAIN, THE FREEWAY WAS ONLY ABOUT 30 YDS AWAY SO WHEN I STARTED TO MERGE ONTO THE FREEWAY THE SAME THING HAPPENED. THE CAR ACCELERATED SLOWLY AND THEN BOGGED DOWN AND THE DASH FLASHED THE ENGINE NEEDED ATTENTION OR SOMETHING LIKE THAT. AGAIN I GOT OFF AT THE NEXT EXIT, WHICH WAS RIGHT THERE WHEN IT HAPPENED. I HAD THE CAR TOWED TO THE FORD DEALER NEAR WHERE I LIVE. SERVICE WAS CLOSED BUT SOME SALES PEOPLE WERE STILL THERE AND THEY TOLD US WHERE TO PUT THE CAR. THEY DIDN'T LOOK AT THE CAR UNTIL MONDAY AND EVEN THEN THEY DIDN'T REALLY OPEN THE CAR UP AND LOOK AT IT. THE TECHNICIAN SAID PROBABLY THE TIMING/OIL PUMP BELT BROKE OR SHREDDED AND CLOGGED UP THE OIL PUMP. TO OPEN UP THE ENGINE WOULD COST $800 TO FIND OUT THE ACTUAL PROBLEM AND IF THE TECH WAS RIGHT THE ENGINE WOULD HAVE TO BE REPLACED COSTING $7400. ALL THIS BECAUSE OF A FAULTY BELT DESIGNED TO LAST 125,000-150,000 MILES. LUCKILY I WASN'T DRIVING 65MPH IN THE MIDDLE OF THE FREEWAY AND BREAKING DOWN AND GETTING SLAMMED. *TR”

B. Customer Complaints on Online Forums

278. Consumers similarly complained about the Defect in Class Vehicles on various online forums. Consumers have also posted extensively on websites dedicated to discussion of Ford vehicles, regarding the Oil Pump Defect in vehicles equipped with the 1.0L EcoBoost engine. In fact, Ford has made the monitoring of consumer complaints as posted on third-party websites a part of its corporate strategy for brand managed since at least 2012.[13]

279. The following complaints are a sampling of the many complaints on third-party consumer websites, which Ford would have seen as part of its online brand management:

280. For example, the following customer complaints were posted on Twitter regarding the Ford EcoSport

- Posted on 9/28/22
  - "@Ford We have a 2018 Ford EcoSport and it needs a new engine block and turbo. This is the diagnosis by the Ford Dealership mechanic. Our car has been in the dealership for 3 weeks! We are into our 3rd week of car rental and have not received any help from Ford CS. HELP!"[14]"
- Posted on 4/2/22
  - "@Ford This company is disgraceful and treats customers downright dirty. Purchased a new ford Ecosport in 2019, engine blew up because of A DEFECT KNOWN By FORD!! Purchased from a certified dealer that won't even make an offer to purchase it back because they know it's a lemon."[15]

281. The following customer complaint was posted on Twitter regarding the 2017 Ford Focus:

- Posted by @cmoTejada, on 6/30/18[16]
  - "Been having such a hard @Ford customer service. Our brand new 2017 Ford Focus' engine died only 13 months of us having it and barely 10k in the odo. We've called our case handler 10 times and still no answer! Just left in the dark."

282. The following customer complaint was posted on Ford Owner's Club regarding the 2019 Ford Focus:

- Posted by John@Ford, on 6/14/19[17]
  - "I just bought (a week ago) the new Ford Focus with 1.5 ecoboost engine, 150 hp. After one week of driving, I got the error ENGINE oil PRESSURE LOW. I drove the vehicle to the service and now I am waiting for the replacement of the engine."

283. Additionally, Ford should have learned of this widespread defect from the many reports received from dealerships and from customer complaints directly to Ford, as those reported by Plaintiffs. Ford's customer relations and technical service departments collect and analyze field data including, but not limited to, repair requests made at dealerships, technical reports prepared by engineers who have reviewed vehicles for which warranty coverage is being requested, parts sales reports, and warranty claims data. Discovery will also show that Ford received tens of thousands of complaints about the 1.0L Engine, including about coolant issues, fuel pump issues, as well as the oil pump issues. The testing Ford would have done in response to these many complaints would have also confirmed the Oil Pump Defect.

284. Defendant's warranty department similarly analyzes and collects data submitted by its dealerships in order to identify trends in its vehicles. It is Defendant's policy that when a repair is made under warranty the dealership must provide Ford with detailed documentation of the problem and the fix employed to correct it. Dealerships have an incentive to provide detailed information to Ford, because they will not be reimbursed for any repairs unless the justification is sufficiently detailed.

285. Ford service centers, independent repair shops, and consumers doing repairs themselves use Ford replacement parts that they order directly from Ford. Thus, Ford would have detailed and accurate data regarding the number and frequency of replacement part orders, information which is also exclusively within Ford's control and unavailable to Plaintiffs without discovery. The ongoing high sales of replacement engine and engine components such as clutches and seals, was certainly known to Ford, and should have alerted Ford that its 1.0L EcoBoost engines were suffering from an oil pump defect, causing engine failure, loss of engine power, and stalling.

286. The existence of the Defect is a material fact that a reasonable consumer would consider when deciding whether to purchase or lease a Class Vehicle. Had Plaintiffs and other Class Members known of the Defect, they would have paid less for the Class Vehicles or would not have purchased or leased them.

287. Irrespective of all the aggregate information, both internal and external, that clearly provided Ford with knowledge that the oil pump is dangerously defective, Ford has never disclosed to owners or prospective purchasers that there is a safety defect in the Class Vehicles. In fact, Ford intentionally and actively concealed the existence of a safety defect in the Class Vehicles.

288. Reasonable consumers, like Plaintiffs, reasonably expect that a vehicle's engine is safe, will function in a manner that will not pose a safety hazard, and is free from material defects which affect the engine's ability to deliver motive power. Plaintiffs and Class Members further reasonably expect that Ford will not sell or lease vehicles with known safety defects, such as the Defect, and will disclose any such defects to its consumers when it learns of them. They did not expect Ford to fail to disclose the Defect to them and to continually deny the defect existed.

C. Technical Service Bulletins and Other Ford Communications

289. Beginning in 2019, Ford began issuing multiple TSBs to address the defects in their in the oil pump in 1.0 EcoBoost Engines. However, Ford never communicated the TSBs, or the information they contained, directly to the Class or any prospective buyers.

290. Ford issued several Technical Service Bulletins ("TSBs") or Special Service Messages ("SSM") to its dealers in the United States acknowledging defects in the oil in EcoBoost 1.0L engines — the same or substantially similar engine as that equipped in the Class Vehicles. On July 22, 2019, Ford issued manufacturer communication SSM 48093. This communication warns that 2018-2019 Ford EcoSport vehicles with the 1.0 EcoBoost engine "may exhibit a loss of engine oil pressure with an illuminated oil pressure warning lamp. This may be due to a broken/failed engine oil pump belt tensioner which leads to a loss of engine oil pressure. Due to the nature of this failure, an engine replacement may be required." The communication further stated the issue was confined to vehicles built before April 3, 2019. Ford then reissued this on September 23, 2020 in another communication to dealers, SSM 49200.

291. On April 8, 2021, Ford issued SSM 49726. This bulletin expanded the vehicles affected by the oil pump defect to some 2016-2018 Ford Focus and 2018-2019 Ford EcoSports with the 1.0L EcoBoost engine built before July 3, 2019. Ford described the vehicles "may exhibit an illuminated oil pressure warning lamp with a loss of engine oil pressure. This may be due to a failed engine oil pump belt tensioner which leads to a loss of engine oil pressure. If engine oil pressure at idle is below 10 psi and/or metal contamination is present in the engine oil, no further diagnostics should be performed." Ford directed dealerships to "[r]eplace the engine assembly to correct this condition."

292. Ford re-issued this bulletin on June 2, 2021, adding instructions that dealerships should refer Section 303-00 in the Workshop Manual for the appropriate oil pressure test procedure. Ford also now specified that dealerships should "[r]eplace the engine assembly with a long block option 6006 to correct this condition."

293. On June 30, 2021, Ford issued a new bulletin to its dealership, SSM 49918. This time, dealerships were directed to "[r]eplace the engine assembly with a long block option 6006 and the turbocharger."

294. Although these manufacturer communications purport to apply only to vehicles built before July 2019, consumers report identical problems in vehicles built after that date and in in subsequent model years.

295. Notably, while these manufacturer communications show Ford has been aware of and actively studying the Defect for years, none of them suggest warning current or prospective customers, preemptively repairing Class Vehicles, or covering the cost of engine replacements.

III. Ford Has Actively Concealed the Oil Pump Defect

296. Despite its knowledge of the Defect, in the Class Vehicles, Ford actively concealed the existence and nature of the defect from Plaintiffs and Class Members. Specifically, Ford failed to disclose or actively concealed at and after the time of purchase, lease, or repair:

a. any and all known material defects or material nonconformity of the Class Vehicles, including the defects pertaining to the oil pump and the engine;

b. that the Class Vehicles, including their engines, were not in good working order, were defective, and were not fit for their intended purposes; and

c. that the Class Vehicles and their engines, specifically the oil pumps within the engines, were defective, despite the fact that Ford learned of such defects as early as 2011.

297. As discussed above, Ford monitors its customers' discussions on online forums, and actively concealed the defect by denying the existence of a defect, and blaming the class members and a purported lack of maintenance for the problems.

298. In particularly, despite knowing of the existence of the Defect, Ford has refused to inform potential or recent buyers that the oil pumps in their engines have a high probability of failure, usually becoming apparent to consumers after the expiration of the time and/or mileage limits of the Ford Powertrain Warranty. If Ford had been truthful with prospective customers about the existence of the Oil Pump Defect, customers could have made choices that were in their own best interest including: 1) not purchasing the vehicle; 2) purchasing the vehicle for less; or 3) purchasing an extended warranty. However, consumers were unable to make rational choices because Ford suppressed the information about Defect.

299. When consumers present their Class Vehicles to an authorized Ford dealer for diagnosis and repair, Ford refuses to honor the warranty, relying on the fact that the Defect usually becomes apparent to drivers only after the expiration of the Powertrain Warranty via limits Ford decided itself were applicable.

300. Even to the extent that Ford has acknowledged the existence of the Defect, via bulletins and direct communications with its dealerships, it did not send those communications to owners of the vehicles. Moreover, even those communications took pains to minimize the extent of the Defect, trying to artificially limit the number of vehicles in which the Defect existed.

301. Accordingly, despite Ford's knowledge of the Transmission Defect, Ford has caused Class Members to expend money at its dealerships to diagnose, repair, or replace the Class Vehicles' Transmissions and components, once the time limitations have run on the bumper-to-bumper warranty.

IV. Ford Unjustly Retained Substantial Benefits

302. Ford unlawfully failed to disclose the Defect to induce them and other putative Class Members to purchase or lease the Class Vehicles.

303. Plaintiffs further allege that Ford thus engaged in deceptive acts or practices pertaining to all transactions involving the Class Vehicles.

304. Specifically, Plaintiffs purchased their vehicles and/or parts needed to attempt repairs to their vehicles from Ford authorized dealerships. Those dealerships purchased those vehicles and/or components from Ford.

305. As discussed above therefore, Plaintiffs allege that Ford unlawfully induced them to purchase their respective Class Vehicles and/or components for their Class Vehicles by concealing and/or omitting a material fact (the Oil Pump Defect) and that Plaintiffs would have paid less for the Class Vehicles, or not purchased them at all, had they known of the Oil Pump Defect.

306. Moreover, because Plaintiffs are likely to need further replacements of the engines in the future, they will be forced to purchase more defective components from Defendant absent some relief which forces the Defendant to correct the defective components.

307. Accordingly, Ford's ill-gotten gains, benefits accrued in the form of increased sales and profits resulting from the material concealment and omissions that did - and likely will continue to - deceive consumers, should be disgorged.

V. The Agency Relationship Between Ford and its Network of Authorized Dealerships

308. Defendant enters into agreements with its nationwide network of authorized dealerships to fulfill Defendant's obligations under the warranties it provides directly to consumers as well as to provide repairs under recalls. These agreements require a dealership to follow the rules and policies of Ford in all aspects of diagnosing, repairing, maintaining, and servicing Ford vehicles, as well as selling only Ford-approved parts for the vehicles, for reimbursement by Ford.

309. Because Plaintiffs and members of the Class are third-party beneficiaries of the manufacturer-dealership agreements which create the implied warranty, they may avail themselves of the implied warranty and allow consumers to seek warranty and recall services locally. This is true because third-party beneficiaries to contracts between other parties that create an implied warranty of merchantability may avail themselves of the implied warranty. See In re Toyota Motor Corp. Unintended Acceleration Mktg., Sales Practices, & Prod. Liab. Litig., 754 F. Supp. 2d 1145, 1185 (C.D. Cal. 2010).

310. Further, Plaintiffs and each of the members of the Class are the intended beneficiaries of Defendant's express and implied warranties. The dealers were not intended to be the ultimate consumers of the Class Vehicles, and they have no rights under the warranty agreements provided by Defendant. Defendant's warranties were designed for and intended to benefit the consumers only. The consumers are the true intended beneficiaries of Defendant's express and implied warranties, and the consumers may therefore avail themselves of those warranties.

311. Defendant issued the express warranties to the Plaintiffs and the Class members. Defendant also developed and disseminated the owner's manual and warranty booklets, advertisements, and other promotional materials relating to the Class Vehicles. Defendant also is responsible for the content of the Moroney Stickers on Defendant-branded vehicles.

312. In repairing Ford-branded vehicles, Defendant acts through numerous authorized dealers who act, and represent themselves to the public, as exclusive Defendant representatives and agents. That the dealers act as Defendant's agents is demonstrated by the following facts:

313. The authorized Ford dealerships complete all service and repair according to Defendant's instructions, which Defendant issues to its authorized dealerships through service manuals, technical service bulletins ("TSBs"), and other documents, often only accessible via Defendant's proprietary systems and tools, including the Ford diagnostic scan tool referenced on many TSBs such as the Ford Integrated Diagnostic System and Ford J2534 Diagnostic Software;

a. Consumers are able to receive services under Defendant's issued New Vehicle Limited Warranty only at Defendant's authorized dealerships, and they are able to receive these services because of the agreements between Defendant and the authorized dealers. These agreements provide Defendant with a significant amount of control over the actions of the authorized dealerships;

b. The warranties provided by Defendant for the defective vehicles direct consumers to take their vehicles to authorized dealerships for repairs or services;

c. Defendant controls the way in which its authorized dealers can respond to complaints and inquiries concerning defective vehicles, and the dealerships are able to perform repairs under warranty only with Defendant's authorization;

d. Defendant has entered into agreements and understandings with its authorized dealers pursuant to which it authorizes and exercises substantial control over the operations of its dealers and the dealers' interaction with the public;

e. Defendant implemented its express and implied warranties as they relate to the defects alleged herein by instructing authorized Defendant dealerships to address complaints of the Transmission Defect by prescribing and implementing the relevant TSBs cited herein; and

f. Ford's authorized dealerships are able to bind Ford into the terms of the express warranties by selling vehicles to the public, by reviewing the quality of used Ford vehicles and certifying their worthiness to receive Ford's Certified Pre-Owned Warranties.

314. Indeed, Ford's warranty booklets make it abundantly clear that Ford's authorized dealerships are Ford's agents so that consumers may receive repairs from Ford under the warranties it provides directly to consumers such as Plaintiffs. The booklets, which are plainly written for the consumers, not the dealerships, tell the consumers repeatedly to seek repairs and assistance at its "your selling dealer." For example, the booklets state, that "[w]hen you need warranty repairs, your selling dealer would like you to return to it for that service, but you may also take your vehicle to another Ford Motor Company dealership authorized for warranty repairs." The booklets further state that "[y]our Ford or Lincoln dealership, or Ford or Lincoln Auto Care Service Center, has factory-trained technicians who can perform the required maintenance using genuine Ford parts."

315. The booklets further state that "[d]uring the Bumper to Bumper Warranty period, dealers may receive instructions to provide no-cost, service-type improvements – not originally included in your Owner's Manual – intended to increase your overall satisfaction with your vehicle." As such, authorized dealerships are not only Ford's agents to perform Ford's promised services under the warranties provided by Ford directly to the consumer, and are Ford's agents to provide "improvements" to Plaintiffs' and Class members' vehicles at Ford's direction.

TOLLING OF STATUTES OF LIMITATIONS

316. Any applicable statute of limitations has been tolled by Defendant's knowing and active concealment of the Transmission Defect and misrepresentations and omissions alleged herein. Through no fault or lack of diligence, Plaintiffs and members of the Class were deceived regarding the Class Vehicles and could not reasonably discover the Defect or Defendant's deception with respect to the Defect. Defendant and its agents continue to deny the existence and extent of the Defect, even when questioned by Plaintiffs and members of the Class.

317. Plaintiffs and members of the Class did not discover and did not know of any facts that would have caused a reasonable person to suspect that the Defendant was concealing a defect and/or the Class Vehicles contained the Transmission Defect and the corresponding safety risk. As alleged herein, the existence of the Transmission Defect was material to Plaintiffs and members of the Class at all relevant times. Within the time period of any applicable statutes of limitations, Plaintiffs and members of the Class could not have discovered through the exercise of reasonable diligence the existence of the Defect or that the Defendant was concealing the Defect.

318. At all times, Defendant is and was under a continuous duty to disclose to Plaintiffs and members of the Class the true standard, quality, and grade of the Class Vehicles and to disclose the Transmission Defect and corresponding safety risk due to their exclusive and superior knowledge of the existence and extent of the Transmission Defect in Class Vehicles.

319. Defendant knowingly, actively, and affirmatively concealed the facts alleged herein. Plaintiffs and members of the Class reasonably relied on Defendant's knowing, active, and affirmative concealment.

320. For these reasons, all applicable statutes of limitation have been tolled based on the discovery rule and Defendant's fraudulent concealment, and Defendant is estopped from relying on any statutes of limitations in defense of this action.

CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

321. This action is brought and may be maintained as a class action, pursuant to Rule 23(a), (b)(2), (b)(3), and/or (c)(4) of the Federal Rule of Civil Procedure.

322. The Nationwide Class is defined as follows:

> Class: All persons in the United States who bought or leased, other than for resale, any Ford Focus or Ecosport vehicle equipped with a 1.0L EcoBoost engine model year 2016 or later ("Class Vehicles").

323. In addition, or in the alternative, State Subclasses are defined as follows:

California Subclass

All individuals who purchased or leased, other than for resale, any Class Vehicle in the State of California.

Florida Subclass

All individuals who purchased or leased, other than for resale, any Class Vehicle in the State of Florida.

Michigan Subclass

All individuals who purchased or leased, other than for resale, any Class Vehicle in the State of Michigan.

Pennsylvania Subclass

All individuals who purchased or leased, other than for resale, any Class Vehicle in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Texas Subclass

All individuals who purchased or leased, other than for resale, any Class Vehicle in the State of Texas.

North Carolina Subclass

All individuals who purchased or leased, other than for resale, any Class Vehicle in the State of North Carolina.

Tennessee Subclass

All individuals who purchased or leased, other than for resale, any Class Vehicle in the State of Tennessee.

Louisiana Subclass

All individuals who purchased or leased, other than for resale, any Class Vehicle in the State of Louisiana.

324. Excluded from the Class are Ford, its affiliates, employees, officers and directors; persons or entities that purchased the Class Vehicles for resale; and the Judge(s) assigned to this case. Plaintiff reserves the right to modify, change, or expand the class definitions in light of discovery and/or further investigation.

325. Numerosity: The Class is so numerous that joinder of all members is impracticable. While the exact number and identities of individual members of the Class is unknown at this time, as such information is in the sole possession of Ford and is obtainable by Plaintiffs only through the discovery process, Plaintiffs believe, and on that basis alleges, that at least thousands of Class Vehicles have been sold and leased nationwide and in each of the states where Plaintiffs reside. Members of the Class can be readily identified and notified based upon, inter alia, the records (including databases, e-mails, and dealership records and files) maintained by Ford in connection with its sales and leases of Class Vehicles.

326. Existence and Predominance of Common Questions of Fact and Law: Common questions of law and fact exist as to all members of the Class. These questions predominate over the questions affecting individual Class Members. These common legal and factual questions include, but are not limited to:

a. whether Ford engaged in the conduct alleged herein;

b. whether Class Vehicles are defective;

c. whether Ford placed Class Vehicles into the stream of commerce in the United States with knowledge of the Defect;

d. whether Ford knew or should have known of the Defect, and if so, for how long;

e. when Ford became aware of the Defect in the Class Vehicles;

f. whether Ford knowingly failed to disclose the existence and cause of the Defect in the Class Vehicles;

g. whether Ford's conduct alleged herein violates consumer protection laws, warranty laws, and other laws as asserted herein;

h. whether Plaintiffs and Class Members overpaid for their Class Vehicles as a result of the Defect;

i. whether Plaintiffs and Class Members have suffered an ascertainable loss as a result of their loss of their Class Vehicles' features and functionality;

j. whether Plaintiffs and Class Members are entitled to damages, including punitive damages, as a result of Ford's conduct alleged herein, and if so, the amount or proper measure of those damages; and

k. whether Plaintiffs and Class Members are entitled to equitable relief, including but not limited to restitution and/or injunctive relief.

327. Typicality: Plaintiffs' claims are typical of the claims of the Class because each Plaintiff purchased or leased a Class Vehicle containing the Defect, as did each member of the Class. Plaintiffs and Class Members were economically injured in the same manner by Ford's uniform course of conduct alleged herein. Plaintiffs and Class Members have the same or similar claims against Ford relating to the conduct alleged herein, and the same conduct on the part of Ford gives rise to all the claims for relief.

328. Adequacy: Plaintiffs are adequate representatives of the Class, whose interests do not conflict with those of any other Class Member. Plaintiffs have retained counsel competent and experienced in complex class action litigation—including consumer fraud and automobile defect class actions—who intend to prosecute this action vigorously. The interests of the Class will be fairly and adequately protected by Plaintiffs and their counsel.

329. Superiority: A class action is superior to all other available means of fair and efficient adjudication of the claims of Plaintiffs and members of the Class. The injury suffered by each individual Class Member is relatively small in comparison to the burden and expense of individual prosecution of these claims, including from the need for expert witness testimony on the technical and economic aspects of the case. Individualized litigation also would risk inconsistent or contradictory judgments and increase the delay and expense to all parties and the courts. By contrast, a class action presents far fewer management difficulties and provides the benefits of single adjudication, economies of scale, and comprehensive supervision by a single court.

330. Injunctive Relief: Ford has acted, and refuses to act, on grounds generally applicable to the Class, thereby making appropriate final equitable relief with respect to the Class as a whole.

CLAIMS FOR RELIEF

COUNT I

Violations of the California Consumers Legal Remedies Act ("CLRA")
Cal. Civ. [redacted]
Plaintiff [redacted] and on Behalf of the California Subclass Who Purchased or Leased a Class Vehicle for Personal Use

331. Plaintiff [redacted] incorporates by reference each preceding and succeeding paragraph as though fully set forth herein.

332. Plaintiff [redacted] brings this claim individually and on behalf of the California Subclass members who purchased a vehicle for personal, family, or household use.

333. Plaintiffs [redacted] and the members of the California Subclass are "consumers" as defined under the CLRA. See Cal. Civ. Code § 1761(d).

334. Ford is a "person" as defined under the CLRA. See Cal. Civ. Code § 1761(c).

335. Class Vehicles are "goods" as defined under the CLRA. See Cal. Civ. Code § 1761(a).

336. The CLRA proscribes "unfair methods of competition and unfair or deceptive acts or practices undertaken by any person in a transaction intended to result or which results in the sale or lease of goods or services to any consumer." Cal. Civ. Code § 1770(a).

337. Ford engaged in unfair and deceptive acts in violation of the CLRA by the practices described above and by knowingly and intentionally concealing from Plaintiff and the California Subclass members that the Class Vehicles suffer from the Oil Pump Defect (and the costs, risks, and diminished value of the Class Vehicles as a result of this Defect). Ford's conduct violated at least the following enumerated CLRA provisions:

a. Ford represented that the Class Vehicles have characteristics, uses, or benefits that they do not have, which is in violation of section 1770(a)(5);

b. Ford represented that the Class Vehicles are of a particular standard, quality, or grade when, in fact, they are not, which is in violation of section 1770(a)(7);

c. Ford advertises its Class Vehicles with the intent not to sell them as advertised, which is in violation of section 1770(a)(9);

d. Ford represents that its Class Vehicles have been supplied in accordance with a previous representation when they have not, which is in violation of section 1770(a)(16); and

e. Ford inserts an unconscionable provision into its warranty in violation of section 1770(a)(19).

338. Ford's unfair or deceptive acts or practices occurred repeatedly in its trade or business, were capable of deceiving a substantial portion of the purchasing public, and created a serious safety hazard for the public.

339. Ford knew, should have known, or was reckless in not knowing that the Class Vehicles were defective, posed a safety hazard, would fail prematurely, and were not suitable for their intended use.

340. Ford was under a duty to Plaintiff and the California Subclass members to disclose the defective nature of the Class Vehicles and the Defect because:

a. Ford knew of but actively concealed the Defect from Plaintiff and the California Subclass;

b. Ford was in a superior and exclusive position to know the true facts about the Defect, which poses serious safety hazards and affects the central functionality of the vehicle, and Plaintiff and the Subclass members could not reasonably have been expected to discover that the Class Vehicles contained the Defect until it manifested, which Ford knew; and

c. Ford made partial representations regarding the reliability, safety, and quality but suppressed facts regarding the Defect.

341. The facts that Ford misrepresented to and concealed from Plaintiff and the other California Subclass members are material because a reasonable consumer would have considered them to be important in deciding whether to purchase their Class Vehicles or pay a lesser price for them.

342. The Defect poses a serious safety defect and affects the central functionality of a vehicle because it renders the vehicle inoperable.

343. In failing to disclose the material Defect, Ford has knowingly and intentionally concealed material facts in breach of its duty to disclose.

344. Plaintiff [redacted] Subclass have suffered injury in fact and actual damages resulting from Ford's material misrepresentations and omissions, including by paying an inflated purchase price for their Class Vehicles and incurring additional out-of-pocket expenses to deal with the Defect. Had Plaintiff [redacted] and the Subclass known about the defective nature of the Class Vehicles and the Defect, they would not have purchased or leased their Class Vehicles or would have paid less in doing so.

345. As a direct and proximate result of Ford's unfair and deceptive conduct, therefore, Plaintiff and the California Subclass members have been harmed.

346. Pursuant to Cal. Civ. Code § 1782(a), on June 6, 2022, Plaintiff [redacted] sent a demand letter to Ford notifying it of its CLRA violations and providing it with an opportunity to correct its business practices. Ford did not correct its business practices. Accordingly, Plaintiff [redacted] on behalf of herself and the California Subclass, seeks monetary relief, including for actual, restitutionary, and punitive damages under the CLRA.

347. Pursuant to Cal. Civ. Code § 1780(a), Plaintiff [redacted], individually and on behalf of the California Subclass, seeks injunctive relief for Ford's violation of the CLRA.

348. Additionally, pursuant to Cal. Civ. Code §§ 1780 and 1781, Plaintiff [redacted] individually and on behalf of the California Subclass, seek compensatory and punitive damages under the CLRA and to recover attorneys' fees and costs.

349. Plaintiff's CLRA venue declaration is attached as Exhibit A to this complaint in accordance with Cal. Civ. Code § 1780(d).

COUNT II

Violations of the California Unfair Competitions Law ("UCL")
Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code §§ 17200–17210
Plaintiff [redacted] Individually and on Behalf of the California Subclass

350. Plaintiff [redacted] incorporates by reference each preceding and succeeding paragraph as though fully set forth herein.

351. Plaintiff [redacted] brings this claim individually and on behalf of the California Subclass.

352. The UCL proscribes acts of unfair competition, including "any unlawful, unfair or fraudulent business act or practice and unfair, deceptive, untrue or misleading advertising." Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 17200. Ford's conduct violates each of these prohibitions.

Unlawful Conduct

353. Ford's conduct is unlawful, in violation of the UCL, because, as set forth herein, it violates the Song–Beverly Consumer Warranty Act, the MMWA, and the CLRA.

Unfair Conduct

354. Ford's conduct is unfair because it violated California public policy, legislatively declared in the Song–Beverly Consumer Warranty Act, which requires a manufacturer to ensure that goods it places on the market are fit for their ordinary and intended purposes. The Defect renders the Class Vehicles unsafe, unreliable, and inoperable.

355. Ford acted in an immoral, unethical, oppressive, and unscrupulous manner, in at least the following respects:

a. Knowingly selling Plaintiff [redacted] and California Subclass members Class Vehicles with the Defect;

b. Directing and furnishing replacement parts it knew would not adequately remedy the defect, and repairing defective parts with more defective parts and otherwise failing to adequately remedy the Defect during the warranty period;

c. Refusing to repair or replace the Class Vehicles when the known Defect manifested outside the warranty period;

d. Failing to exercise adequate quality control and due diligence over the Class Vehicles before placing them on the market; and

e. Failing to acknowledge the scope and severity of the Defect, which poses serious safety concerns, refusing to acknowledge the Class Vehicles are defective, and failing to provide adequate relief.

356. The gravity of the harm resulting from Ford's unfair conduct outweighs any potential utility of the conduct. The practice of selling defective Class Vehicles without providing an adequate remedy to cure the Defect harms the public at large and is part of a common and uniform course of wrongful conduct.

357. There are reasonably available alternatives that would further Ford's business interests of increasing sales and preventing false warranty claims. For example, Ford could have: (a) acknowledged the Defect and provided a permanent, effective fix for the Defect; and/or (b) disclosed the Defect prior to prospective consumers' purchases.

358. The harm from Ford's unfair conduct was not reasonably avoidable by consumers. The Class Vehicles all suffer from the latent Defect, and Ford has failed to disclose it. Plaintiff and California Subclass members did not know of, and had no reasonable means of discovering, the Defect.

Fraudulent Conduct

359. Ford's conduct is fraudulent in violation of the UCL. Ford's fraudulent acts include knowingly and intentionally concealing from Plaintiff and the California Subclass members the existence of the Defect and falsely marketing and misrepresenting the Class Vehicles as being functional, reliable and safe.

360. Ford's misrepresentations and omissions alleged herein caused Plaintiff and the California Subclass members to purchase or lease their Class Vehicles or pay more than they would have had Ford disclosed the Defect.

361. At all relevant times, Ford had a duty to disclose the Defect because it had superior and exclusive knowledge of the Defect, which affects the central functionality of the vehicle and creates a safety risk for drivers and passengers, and because Ford made partial representations about the reliability, quality, and safety of the Class Vehicles but failed to fully disclose the Defect.

362. Accordingly, Plaintiff [redacted] and [redacted] Subclass members have suffered injury in fact, including lost money or property, as a result of Ford's unlawful, unfair, and fraudulent acts. Absent these acts, Plaintiff [redacted] and [redacted] Subclass members would not have purchased or lease their Class Vehicles at the prices they paid or would not have purchased or leased them at all.

363. Plaintiff [redacted] seeks appropriate relief under the UCL, including such orders as may be necessary: (a) to enjoin Ford from continuing its unlawful, unfair, and fraudulent acts or practices, and (b) to restore Plaintiff and California Subclass members any money Ford acquired by its unfair competition, including restitution. Plaintiff also seeks reasonable attorneys' fees and expenses under applicable law.

COUNT III

Violations of Song–Beverly Consumer Warranty Act
For Breach of Express Warranty
Cal. Civ. Code §§ 1790–1795.8
Plaintiff [redacted] Individually and on Behalf of the California Subclass

364. Plaintiff [redacted] incorporates by reference each preceding and succeeding paragraph as though fully set forth herein.

365. Plaintiff [redacted] brings this claim individually and on behalf of the California Subclass who purchased or leased a Class Vehicle for Personal, Family or Household Purposes.

366. Plaintiff [redacted] and the California Subclass members who purchased or leased the Class Vehicles are "buyers" within the meaning of Cal. Civ. Code. § 1791(b).

367. The Class Vehicles are "consumer goods" within the meaning of Cal. Civ. Code § 1791(a).

368. Defendant is a "manufacturer" of the Class Vehicles within the meaning of Cal. Civ. Code § 1791(j).

369. Defendant made express warranties to Plaintiff [redacted] and the California Subclass members within the meaning of Cal. Civ. Code §§ 1791.2 & 1793.2(d).

370. Defendant breached these express warranties by selling and leasing defective Class Vehicles that required repair or replacement within the applicable warranty period and failing to adequately repair the alleged Defect.

371. Defendant has failed to promptly replace or buy back the vehicles of Plaintiff and the proposed California Subclass members as required under Cal. Civ. Code § 1793.2(d)(2).

372. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's breach of its express warranties, Plaintiff [redacted] and the California Subclass members received goods in a condition that substantially impairs their value to Plaintiff [redacted] and the other Subclass members. Plaintiff and the California Subclass members have been damaged as a result of, inter alia, overpaying for the Class Vehicles, the diminished value of the Class Vehicles, the Class Vehicles' malfunctioning, out-of-pocket costs incurred, and actual and potential increased maintenance and repair costs.

373. Pursuant to Cal. Civ. Code §§ 1793.2 & 1794, Plaintiff [redacted] and the California Subclass members who purchased for personal, family or household purposes are entitled to damages and other legal and equitable relief, including, at their election, the purchase price of their Class Vehicles or the overpayment or diminution in value of their Class Vehicles as well as reimbursement of out-of-pocket expenses incurred as a result of the Defect.

374. Pursuant to Cal. Civ. Code § 1794(d), (e), Plaintiff [redacted] and the California Subclass members are entitled to reasonable costs and attorneys' fees.

COUNT IV

Violations of Song–Beverly Consumer Warranty Act
For Breach of Implied Warranty
Cal. Civ. Code §§ 1790–1795.8
Plaintiff [redacted] Individually and on Behalf of the California Subclass

375. Plaintiff [redacted] incorporates by reference each preceding and succeeding paragraph as though fully set forth herein.

376. Plaintiff [redacted] brings this claim individually and on behalf of the California Subclass who purchased for personal, family or household purposes.

377. Plaintiff [redacted] and the California Subclass members who purchased or leased the Class Vehicles are "buyers" within the meaning of Cal. Civ. Code. § 1791(b).

378. The Class Vehicles are "consumer goods" within the meaning of Cal. Civ. Code § 1791(a).

379. Defendant is a "manufacturer" of the Class Vehicles within the meaning of Cal. Civ. Code § 1791(j).

380. Defendant impliedly warranted to Plaintiff [redacted] and the California Subclass members that Class Vehicles were "merchantable" within the meaning of Cal. Civ. Code §§ 1791.1(a) & 1792.

381. Section 1791.1(a) provides that: "Implied warranty of merchantability" or "implied warranty that goods are merchantable" means that the consumer goods must meet each of the following:

(1) Pass without objection in the trade under the contract description.

(2) Are fit for the ordinary purposes for which such goods are used.

(3) Are adequately contained, packaged, and labeled.

(4) Conform to the promises or affirmations of fact made on the container or label.

382. The Defect in the Class Vehicles is present in them when sold and is substantially certain to manifest. The Class Vehicles would not pass without objection in the automotive trade because the Defect causes all, or substantially all, of the vehicles to experience oil pump failure and require full engine replacements, and dangerous inoperability while the vehicle is in motion. The Defect thus affects the central functionality of the vehicle, poses a serious safety risk to drivers and passengers, and causes increased maintenance costs.

383. Because the Defect creates an unreasonable risk to driver and passenger safety, and because the Class Vehicles are unfit for their ordinary purpose due to the Defect, the Class Vehicles are not fit for the ordinary purposes for which such vehicles are used.

384. Class Vehicles are not adequately labeled because the labeling fails to disclose the Oil Pump Defect and does not advise the California Subclass members of the Oil Pump Defect.

385. Any attempt by Defendant to disclaim its implied warranty obligations under the Song-Beverly Act is ineffective due to its failure to adhere to Sections 1792.3 and 1792.4. Those sections of the Civil Code provide that, in order to validly disclaim the implied warranty of merchantability, a manufacturer must "in simple and concise language" state each of the following: "(1) The goods are being sold on an 'as is' or 'with all faults' basis. (2) The entire risk as to the quality and performance of the goods is with the buyer. (3) Should the goods prove defective following their purchase, the buyer and not the manufacturer, distributor, or retailer assumes the entire cost of all necessary servicing or repair." Cal. Civ. Code § 1792.4(a). Defendant's attempted implied warranty disclaimer does not conform to these requirements.

386. The Oil Pump Defect deprived Plaintiff [redacted] and the California Subclass members of the benefit of their bargain and have resulted in Class Vehicles being worth less than what Plaintiff and other California Subclass members paid.

387. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's breach of its implied warranties, Plaintiff [redacted] and the California Subclass members received goods that contain a defect that substantially impairs their value. Plaintiff [redacted] and the California Subclass members have been damaged by the diminished value of the vehicles, the vehicles' malfunctioning, out-of-pocket costs incurred, and actual and potential increased maintenance and repair costs.

388. Under Cal. Civ. Code §§ 1791.1(d) & 1794, Plaintiff [redacted] and the California Subclass members are entitled to damages and other legal and equitable relief, including, inter alia, benefit-of-the-bargain damages, overpayment or diminution in value of their Class Vehicles, and reasonable attorneys' fees and costs.

COUNT V

Violation of Florida's Deceptive and Unfair Trade Practices Act
F.S.A. §§ 501.201-.213, et seq. ("FDUPTA")
Plaintiffs [redacted] and [redacted] Individually, and on Behalf of the Florida Subclass

389. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference each preceding and succeeding paragraph as though fully set forth at length herein.

390. Plaintiffs [redacted] and [redacted] bring this claim on behalf of the Florida Subclass.

391. Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Florida Subclass members are "consumers" within the meaning of Fla. Stat. § 501.203(7).

392. Ford engaged in "trade or commerce" within the meaning of Fla. Stat. § 501.203(8).

393. The FDUTPA prohibits "[u]nfair methods of competition, unconscionable acts or practices, and unfair or deceptive acts or practices in the conduct of any trade or commerce." Fla. Stat. § 501.204(1).

394. Ford's acts and practices, described herein, are unfair in violation of Florida law because it violates Florida public policy and warranty laws requiring a manufacturer to ensure that goods it places on the market are fit for their ordinary and intended purposes.

395. Ford acted in an unethical, unscrupulous, outrageous, oppressive, and substantially injurious manner, in at least the following respects:

a. promoted and sold or leased Class Vehicles it knew were defective;

b. failed to disclose the Oil Pump Defect, and represented through advertising and the Class Vehicles possess particular qualities that were inconsistent with Ford's actual knowledge of them;

c. failed to make repairs or made repairs and provided replacements that caused Plaintiff and the Florida Subclass members to experience repeated instances of failure, rendering the New Vehicle Limited Warranty useless; and

d. minimized the scope and severity of the problems with the Class Vehicles, refusing to acknowledge that they are defective, and failing to provide adequate relief to consumers.

396. The gravity of harm resulting from Ford's unfair conduct outweighs any potential utility. The practice of selling and leasing defective Class Vehicles without providing an adequate remedy to cure the defect harms the public at large and is part of a common and uniform course of wrongful conduct.

397. The harm from Ford's conduct was not reasonably avoidable by consumers. Even after receiving a large volume of consumer complaints, Ford did not disclose the Defect. Plaintiffs [redacted] and Florida Subclass members did not know of, and had no reasonable means of discovering, that Class Vehicles are defective.

398. Ford also engaged in deceptive trade practices in violation of Florida law, by promoting the safety, convenience, and operability of Class Vehicles while willfully failing to disclose and actively concealing their defective nature.

399. Ford committed deceptive acts and practices with the intent that consumers, such as Plaintiffs [redacted] and Florida Subclass members, would rely upon Ford's representations and omissions when deciding whether to purchase or lease a Class Vehicle.

400. Plaintiffs [redacted] and Florida Subclass members suffered ascertainable loss as a direct and proximate result of Ford's unfair and deceptive acts or practices. Had Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Florida Subclass members known that the Class Vehicles are equipped with engines containing the Oil Pump Defect, they would not have purchased and leased the Class Vehicles, or would have paid significantly less for the them. Among other injuries, they overpaid for their Class Vehicles, and their Class Vehicles suffered a diminution in value.

401. Plaintiffs [redacted], and the Florida Subclass members are entitled to recover their actual damages under Fla. Stat. § 501.211(2) and reasonable attorneys' fees under Fla. Stat. § 501.2105(1).

402. Plaintiffs [redacted] also seeks an order enjoining Ford's unfair and deceptive acts or practices pursuant to Fla. Stat. § 501.211, and any other just and proper relief available under the FDUTPA.

COUNT VI

Breach of Express Warranty (Florida)
F.S.A. §§ 672.31, 680.21
Plaintiffs [redacted], Individually and on Behalf of the Florida Subclass

403. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference and re-allege the allegations contained in the preceding paragraphs of this complaint, as though fully set forth herein.

404. Plaintiffs [redacted] bring this cause of action individually and on behalf of the members of the Florida Subclass.

405. Ford is and was at all relevant times a "merchant" with respect to motor vehicles under Fla. Stat. §§ 672.104(1) and 680.1031(3)(k), and a "seller" of motor vehicles under § 672.103(1)(d ).

406. With respect to leases, Ford is and was at all relevant times a "lessor" of motor vehicles under Fla. Stat. § 680.1031(1)(p).

407. The Class Vehicles are and were at all relevant times "goods" within the meaning of Fla. Stat. §§ 672.105(1) and 680.1031(1)(h).

408. Ford provided all purchasers and lessees of the Class Vehicles with the express warranty described herein, which became a material part of the bargain.

409. Ford sold and leased the Class Vehicles with a written express warranty covering the Vehicles for three years or 36,000 miles, whichever comes first.

410. Ford's New Vehicle Limited Warranty expressly states that Ford will "without charge, repair, replace, or adjust all parts on your vehicle that malfunction or fail during normal use during the applicable coverage period due to a manufacturing defect in factory-supplied materials or factory workmanship" so long the Vehicle is properly operated and maintained and taken to a Ford dealership for repair within the warranty period.

411. Ford further provides powertrain warranty coverage, which is applicable to "the Engine: all internal lubricated parts, cylinder block, cylinder heads, electrical fuel pump, powertrain control module, engine mounts, flywheel, injection pump, manifold (exhaust and intake), manifold bolts, oil pan, oil pump, seals and gaskets, engine thermostat, engine, thermostat housing, timing chain cover, timing chain (gears or belt), turbocharger/supercharger unit, valve covers, water pump" as well as the components in the transmission, front-wheel drive, rear-wheel drive, and four-wheel/all-wheel drive. This coverage applies for 5-years or up to 60,000 miles, whichever comes first.

412. For certified pre-owned ("CPO") Vehicles, Ford offers an additional limited warranty covering CPO Vehicles for 12 months or 12,000 miles, whichever comes first.

413. Ford's CPO Vehicle warranty states that a dealer will replace "all covered components . . . that are found to be defective in factory-supplied materials or workmanship during the applicable warranty periods." The engine and its components—including the cylinder block and cylinder heads—are included in Ford's list of "covered components."

414. Ford manufactured and/or installed the engines and the engines' component parts in the Class Vehicles, and the engines and their component parts are covered by the express Warranties.

415. The Oil Pump Defect at issue in this litigation was present at the time the Class Vehicles were sold or leased to Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Florida Subclass Members.

416. Plaintiffs relied on Ford's express warranties, which were a material part of the bargain, when purchasing or leasing their Class Vehicles.

417. Under the express Warranties, Ford was obligated to correct the Oil Pump Defect in the vehicles owned or leased by Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Florida Subclass Members.

418. Although Ford was obligated to correct the Oil Pump Defect, none of the attempted fixes to the engines are adequate under the terms of the Warranties, as they did not cure the defect.

419. Ford breached the express Warranties by performing illusory repairs. Rather than repairing the vehicles pursuant to the express Warranties, Ford falsely informed Florida Subclass Members that there was no problem with their Class Vehicles, performed ineffective procedures including software updates, and/or replaced defective components in the engines with equally defective components, without actually repairing the Class Vehicles.

420. Ford and its agent dealers have failed and refused to conform the engines to the express Warranties. Ford's conduct, as discussed throughout this Complaint, has voided any attempt on its part to disclaim liability for its actions.

421. Moreover, Ford's attempt to disclaim or limit these express Warranties vis-à-vis consumers is unconscionable and unenforceable under the circumstances here. Specifically, Ford's warranty limitation is unenforceable because it knowingly sold a defective product without informing consumers about the defect.

422. The time limits contained in Ford's warranty period were also unconscionable and inadequate to protect Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Florida Subclass Members. Among other things, Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Florida Subclass Members had no meaningful choice in determining these time limitations, the terms of which unreasonably favored Ford. A gross disparity in bargaining power existed between Ford and the Class members, and Ford knew or should have known that the Class Vehicles were defective at the time of sale.

423. Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Florida Subclass Members have complied with all obligations under the Warranties, or otherwise have been excused from performance of said obligations as a result of Ford's conduct described herein.

424. Plaintiffs [redacted], and the Florida Subclass Members were not required to notify Ford of the breach because affording Ford a reasonable opportunity to cure its breach of written warranty would have been futile. Ford was also on notice of the Oil Pump Defect from the complaints and service requests it received from Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Class Members, from repairs and/or replacements of the engines or components thereof, and through other internal and external sources.

425. Because Ford, through its conduct and exemplified by its own service bulletins, has covered repairs of the Oil Pump Defect if Ford determines the repairs are appropriately covered under the Warranties, Ford cannot now deny that the Warranties cover the Oil Pump Defect.

426. Because Ford has not been able remedy the Oil Pump Defect, any limitation on remedies included in the Warranties causes the Warranties to fail their essential purposes, rendering them null and void.

427. As a direct and proximate cause of Ford's breach, Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Florida Subclass Members suffered damages and continue to suffer damages, including economic damages at the point of sale or lease and diminution of value of their Class Vehicles. Additionally,

Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Florida Subclass Members have incurred or will incur economic damages at the point of repair in the form of the cost of repair.

428. As a direct and proximate result of Ford's breach of express warranties, Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Florida Subclass Members have been damaged in an amount to be determined at trial.

COUNT VII

Breach of the Implied Warranty of Merchantability (Florida)
F.S.A. §§ 672.314 and 680.212
(On Behalf of the Florida Subclass against Defendant)
Plaintiffs [redacted], Individually and on Behalf of the Florida Subclass

429. Plaintiffs repeat and re-allege each and every allegation contained in each of the preceding and succeeding paragraphs as fully set forth herein.

430. Plaintiffs [redacted] bring this cause of action individually and on behalf of the members of the Florida Subclass.

431. Ford is and was at all relevant times a "merchant" with respect to motor vehicles under Fla. Stat. §§ 672.104(1) and 680.1031(3)(k), and a "seller" of motor vehicles under § 672.103(1)(d ).

432. With respect to leases, Ford is and was at all relevant times a "lessor" of motor vehicles under Fla. Stat. § 680.1031(1)(p).

433. The Class Vehicles are and were at all relevant times "goods" within the meaning of Fla. Stat. §§ 672.105(1) and 680.1031(1)(h).

434. A warranty that the Class Vehicles were in merchantable condition and fit for the ordinary purpose for which vehicles are used is implied by law under Fla. Stat. §§ 672.314 and 680.212.

435. Ford knew or had reason to know of the specific use for which the Class Vehicles were purchased or leased. Ford directly sold and marketed vehicles equipped with the engines to customers through authorized dealers, like those from whom Plaintiffs Martin, Wright, and the Florida Subclass Members bought or leased their vehicles, for the intended purpose of consumers purchasing the vehicles. Ford knew that the Class Vehicles would and did pass unchanged from Ford to the authorized dealers to Plaintiffs [redacted], and the Florida Subclass Members, with no modification to the defective engines.

436. Ford provided Plaintiffs and Class Members with an implied warranty that the Class Vehicles and their components and parts are merchantable and fit for the ordinary purposes for which they were sold.

437. This implied warranty included, among other things: (i) a warranty that the Class Vehicles and their engines that were manufactured, supplied, distributed, and/or sold by Ford were safe and reliable for providing transportation; and (ii) a warranty that the Class Vehicles and their engines would be fit for their intended use while the Class Vehicles were being operated.

438. Contrary to the applicable implied warranties, the Class Vehicles and their engines at the time of sale and thereafter were not fit for their ordinary and intended purpose of providing Plaintiffs [redacted] and Class Members with reliable, durable, and safe transportation. Instead, the Class Vehicles are defective, including, but not limited to, the defective design and manufacture of their engines and the existence of the Oil Pump Defect at the time of sale or lease and thereafter. Ford knew of this defect at the time these sale or lease transactions occurred.

439. As a result of Ford's breach of the applicable implied warranties, Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Florida Subclass Members suffered an ascertainable loss of money, property, and/or value of their Class Vehicles. Additionally, as a result of the Oil Pump Defect, Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Florida Subclass Members were harmed and suffered actual damages in that the Class Vehicles' engine components are substantially certain to fail before their expected useful life has run.

440. Ford's actions, as complained of herein, breached the implied warranty that the Class Vehicles were of merchantable quality and fit for such use in violation of Fla. Stat. §§ 672.314 and 680.212.

441. Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Florida Subclass Members have complied with all obligations under the warranty, or otherwise have been excused from performance of said obligations as a result of Ford's conduct described herein.

442. Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Florida Subclass Members were not required to notify Ford of the breach because affording Ford a reasonable opportunity to cure its breach of implied warranty would have been futile. Ford was also on notice of the Oil Pump Defect from the complaints and service requests it received from Plaintiffs and the Class Members, from repairs and/or replacements of the engines or components thereof, and through other internal sources.

443. Because Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Florida Subclass Members purchased their vehicles from authorized Ford dealers, they are in privity with Ford since (1) an agency relationship establishes privity for purposes of the breach of implied warranty claims and (2) privity is not required where plaintiffs are intended third-party beneficiaries of a defendant's implied warranties and of the contracts between Ford and its authorized dealers.

444. As a direct and proximate cause of Ford's breach, Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Florida Subclass Members suffered damages and continue to suffer damages, including economic damages at the point of sale or lease and diminution of value of their Class Vehicles. Additionally, Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Florida Subclass Members have incurred or will incur economic damages at the point of repair in the form of the cost of repair.

445. As a direct and proximate result of Ford's breach of the implied warranty of merchantability, Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Florida Subclass Members have been damaged in an amount to be proven at trial.

COUNT VIII

Violations of the Louisiana Product Liability Act,
La. Stat. Ann. § 9:2800.51*, et seq.
Plaintiff [redacted] Individually and on Behalf of the Louisiana Subclass

446. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference each preceding and succeeding paragraph as though fully set forth at length herein.

447. Plaintiff [redacted] brings this claim on behalf of herself and the members of the Louisiana Subclass.

448. Defendant is a "manufacturer" within the meaning of La. Stat. Ann. § 9:2800.53(1).

449. Plaintiff [redacted] and the members of Louisiana Subclass are "claimants" as that term is defined in La. Stat. Ann. § 9:2800.53(4).

450. Defendant placed the Class Vehicles into trade or commerce, which are "products" within the meaning of La. Stat. Ann. § 9:2800.53(3).

451. The Louisiana Product Liability Act ("LPLA") makes manufacturers liable for the damages caused by their products which are "unreasonably dangerous" in one of four ways: (1) in construction or composition; (2) design; (3) inadequate warning; and (4) nonconformity to express warranty. La. Stat. Ann. § 9:2800.55-58.

452. Defendant manufactured, sold, and distributed the Class Vehicles, including the oil pump, the 1.0L EcoBoost Engine, and their defects, which render the Class Vehicles unreasonably dangerous with an associated safety risk which can lead the Class Vehicles to lose power while driving and cause hesitation and stalling, putting vehicle operators, passengers, and other motorists at risk for injury. Plaintiff [redacted] and the Louisiana Subclass used the Class Vehicles in a reasonably foreseeable manner by using the vehicles to transport themselves and others.

453. The oil pumps and the 1.0L EcoBoost Engines installed in the engines of the Class Vehicles are unreasonably dangerous in construction or composition because the oil pump and the 1.0L EcoBoost Engine are prone to malfunction and prematurely fail, which can cause the vehicle to suddenly lose power or stall while being driven, which severely affects the driver's ability to control the car's speed, acceleration, and deceleration. The oil pump and the 1.0L EcoBoost Engine do not meet performance standards for oil pumps and engines in any vehicle because prematurely fail and deviate materially from manufacturer specifications. Furthermore, the Oil Pump Defect and its associated safety risk put drivers, passengers, and other motorists at risk for injury due to a sudden loss of power while driving, hesitation, and stalling, which can increase the likelihood of collisions. The performance standards for oil pumps and the 1.0L EcoBoost Engines do not include the risk of malfunction or premature failure and/or Defendant's specifications for the Class Vehicles do not include such a risk.

454. The Class Vehicles are unreasonably dangerous due to the Oil Pump Defect and Defendant's failure to disclose the Oil Pump Defect as well as its associated safety risk to Plaintiff [redacted] and the Louisiana Subclass. At the time Plaintiff [redacted] and the Louisiana Subclass purchased their Class Vehicles, Defendant knew, or should have known, that the Oil Pump Defect in the Class Vehicles would cause the oil pump and the 1.0L EcoBoost Engine to malfunction or prematurely fail. Further, Defendant knew, or should have known, that this associated safety risk would cause the Class Vehicles to become involved in accidents, putting drivers, passengers, and other motorists at risk for injury. However, Defendant provided no warnings or otherwise conveyed these risks to Plaintiff [redacted] and the Louisiana Subclass.

455. The Class Vehicles are also unreasonably dangerous because the existence of the Oil Pump Defect and its associated safety risk, and Defendant's failure to disclose either violates the express warranty Defendant provided that the Class Vehicles were safe, reliable, and functional vehicles capable of providing transportation and that Defendant's warranties would correct any known defects in the Class Vehicle' materials and/or workmanship. Such warranties induced Plaintiff [redacted] and the Louisiana Subclass to purchase the Class Vehicles. These representations were untrue at the time of the purchase and/or lease of the Class Vehicles because Defendant knew that the Class Vehicles contained the Oil Pump Defect and its associated safety risk and further knew they would not honor the warranty for the Oil Pump Defect by disclaiming its existence within the time and durational limitations of their express warranties. Defendant's failure to provide Class Vehicles that conformed with their representations lead to the injuries sustained by Plaintiff [redacted] and the Louisiana Subclass.

456. Defendant knowingly concealed, suppressed, and/or omitted the existence of the Oil Pump Defect and its associated safety risk in the Class Vehicles at the time of their sale or lease and at all relevant times thereafter. Defendant failed to inform Plaintiff [redacted] and the Louisiana Subclass of the Oil Pump Defect in their Class Vehicles at the time of purchase or lease and all times thereafter and Plaintiff [redacted] and the Louisiana Subclass had no independent knowledge that the Class Vehicles incorporate the Oil Pump Defect.

457. Had Defendant disclosed that the Class Vehicles had the Oil Pump Defect and associated safety risk, Plaintiff [redacted] and the Louisiana Subclass would not have purchased or leased the Class Vehicles, or would have paid less for their vehicles.

458. As a proximate and direct result of Defendant's conduct as a described herein, Plaintiff [redacted] and the Louisiana Subclass have suffered and continue to suffer harm by the loss of their vehicles, the threat of sudden engine stalls or hesitations, and/or higher than expected maintenance costs based on Defendant's own estimates, and other damages to be determined at trial. Plaintiff [redacted] and the Louisiana Subclass have also suffered the ascertainable loss of the benefit of the bargain they reached at the time of purchase or lease, and the diminished value of their Class Vehicles.

459. The conduct of Defendant caused unavoidable and substantial injury to Class Vehicle owners and lessees (who were unable to have reasonably avoided injury due to no fault of their own and Defendant's concealment of the Oil Pump Defect) without any countervailing benefit to consumers.

460. Although not required, Plaintiff [redacted] provided notice to Defendant of her claims via letter dated September 11, 2023.

461. The applicable period of prescription of the LPLA has been tolled by the discovery rule, fraudulent concealment, and the terms of the express warranty.

462. Pursuant to La. Civ. Ann. Art. 2315, Plaintiff [redacted] and the Louisiana Subclass seek to recover compensatory damages for past and future harms in an amount to be determined at trial, and any other just and proper relief available.

COUNT IX

Breach of Implied Warranty of Merchantability / Warranty Against Redhibitory Defects (Louisiana)
(La. Civ. Code Art. 2520, 2524)
Plaintiff [redacted] Individually and on Behalf of the Louisiana Subclass

463. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference each preceding and succeeding paragraph as though fully set forth at length herein.

464. Plaintiff [redacted] brings this claim on behalf of herself and the members of the Louisiana Subclass.

465. Ford is and was at all relevant times a "merchant" with respect to motor vehicles under La. Civ. Code Art. 2520, 2524.

466. Under La. Civ. Code Art. 2520 and 2524, a warranty that the Class Vehicles did not have redhibitory defects was implied by law in the transactions when Plaintiff [redacted] and the Louisiana Subclass Members purchased or leased their Class Vehicles from Ford.

467. Ford knew or had reason to know of the specific use for which the Class Vehicles were purchased or leased. Ford directly sold and marketed Class Vehicles to customers through authorized dealers, like those from whom Plaintiff [redacted] and members of the Louisiana Subclass bought or leased their vehicles, for the intended purpose of consumers purchasing the vehicles. Ford knew that the Class Vehicles would and did pass unchanged from the authorized dealers to Plaintiff [redacted] and members of the Louisiana Subclass, with no modification to the defective Class Vehicles.

468. Ford provided Plaintiff [redacted] and members of the Louisiana Subclass with an implied warranty that the Class Vehicles and their components and parts are merchantable and fit for the ordinary purposes for which they were sold.

469. This implied warranty included, among other things: (i) a warranty that the Class Vehicles that were manufactured, supplied, distributed, and/or sold by Ford were safe and reliable for providing transportation; and (ii) a warranty that the Class Vehicles would be fit for their intended use while the Class Vehicles were being operated.

470. Contrary to the applicable implied warranties, the Class Vehicles at the time of sale and thereafter were not fit for their ordinary and intended purpose of providing Plaintiffs and Class Members with reliable, durable, and safe transportation. Instead, the Class Vehicles were and are defective at the time of sale or lease and thereafter as more fully described above. Ford knew of this defect at the time these sale or lease transactions occurred.

471. As a result of Ford's breach of the applicable implied warranties, Plaintiff [redacted] and members of the Louisiana Subclass suffered an ascertainable loss of money, property, and/or value of their Class Vehicles. Additionally, as a result of the Defect, Plaintiff [redacted] and members of the Louisiana Subclass were harmed and suffered actual damages in that the Class Vehicles are substantially certain to fail before their expected useful life has run.

472. Ford's actions, as complained of herein, breached the implied warranty that the Class Vehicles were of merchantable quality and fit for such use in violation of the Uniform Commercial Code and relevant state law.

473. Plaintiff [redacted] and members of the Louisiana Subclass have complied with all obligations under the warranty, or otherwise have been excused from performance of said obligations as a result of Ford's conduct described herein.

474. Plaintiff [redacted] and members of the Louisiana Subclass were not required to notify Ford of the breach because affording Ford a reasonable opportunity to cure its breach of warranty would have been futile. Ford was also on notice of the Defect from the complaints and service requests it received from Plaintiff [redacted] and members of the Louisiana Subclass and through other internal sources.

475. Nonetheless, Plaintiffs provided notice to Ford of the breach of implied warranties when they repeatedly took their vehicle to an authorized Ford dealership and requested warranty repairs. Further, Plaintiff [redacted] provided written notice by letter dated September 11, 2023.

476. As a direct and proximate cause of Ford's breach, Plaintiff [redacted] and members of the Louisiana Subclass suffered damages and continue to suffer damages, including economic damages at the point of sale or lease and diminution of value of their Class Vehicles. Additionally, Plaintiff [redacted] and members of the Louisiana Subclass have incurred or will incur economic damages at the point of repair in the form of the cost of repair as well as additional losses.

477. As a direct and proximate result of Ford's breach of the implied warranty of merchantability, Plaintiff [redacted] and members of the Louisiana Subclass have been damaged in an amount to be proven at trial.

COUNT X

Violations of the Michigan Consumer Protection Act ("MCPA")
MICH. COMP. LAWS §§ 445.901 – .922
Plaintiffs [redacted] and [redacted] Individually and on Behalf of the Michigan Subclass

478. Plaintiffs repeat and reallege the allegations contained above as if fully set forth herein.

479. Plaintiffs [redacted] and [redacted] bring this claim on behalf of herself and the Michigan Subclass.

480. Plaintiffs, [redacted] Subclass members, and Ford fall within the definition of "person" under the MCPA. Mich. Comp. Laws § 445.902(d).

481. The MCPA is designed to provide a remedy for consumers who are injured by deceptive business practices. The MCPA expressly allows for class actions on behalf of consumers who have suffered a loss as a result of a violation of the act. Mich. Comp. Laws § 445.911(3).

482. Defendant's conduct alleged herein constitutes unfair, unlawful, unconscionable, and deceptive acts in violation of the MCPA, including, but not necessarily limited to, the following sections:

a. Section 445.903(1)(c): Defendant represented that its Class Vehicles have characteristics, uses, or benefits that they do not have;

b. Section 445.903(1)(e): Defendant represented that its Class Vehicles were of a particular standard, quality, or grade, when they were of another.

c. Section 445.903(1)(s): Defendant failed to reveal material facts, the omission of which tended to mislead or deceive the consumers, and which fact could not reasonably be known by the consumers;

d. Section 445.903(1)(bb): Defendant made representations of fact material to the transaction such that consumers reasonably believed the represented state of affairs to be other than it actually was; and

e. Section 445.903(1)(cc): Defendant failed to reveal facts that were material to the purchase and lease of Class Vehicles in light of the representations of fact made in a positive manner.

483. Specifically, as alleged herein, Defendant knowingly or recklessly made misrepresentations about the quality, characteristics, performance, and reliability of its Class Vehicles which contain the Oil Pump Defect and pose a safety hazard.

484. Defendant concealed, omitted, and failed to disclose the truth about Class Vehicles in order to continue sales and increase profits.

485. Defendant had a duty to disclose the material defect because it had exclusive knowledge of the Oil Pump Defect and such information was not reasonably accessible to Plaintiffs and the Michigan Subclass.

486. Had Plaintiffs and the Michigan Subclass members known about the Oil Pump Defect, Plaintiffs and the class members would not have purchased or leased their Class Vehicles or would have paid significantly less for them.

487. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's business practices, Plaintiffs and proposed class members suffered injury in fact and lost money or property because they purchased and paid for Class Vehicles that they otherwise would not have purchased or would have paid significantly less for them and because they have incurred out of pocket costs in the form of costly repairs and other out of pocket expenses.

488. Plaintiffs and proposed class members are entitled to actual or statutory damages, attorneys' fees, an injunction, and other equitable relief, including restitutionary disgorgement of all profits accruing to Defendant because of its unfair and deceptive practices and such other orders as may be necessary to prevent the future use of these practices. Mich. Comp. Laws § 445.911.

COUNT XI

Breach of Express Warranty (Michigan)
(Mich. Comp. Laws §§ 440.2313 and 440.2860)
Plaintiffs Ptaszek and Drotos, Individually and on Behalf of the Michigan Subclass

489. Plaintiffs reallege and incorporate by reference all allegations of the preceding paragraphs as though fully set forth herein.

490. Plaintiffs [redacted] and [redacted] bring this cause of action individually and on behalf of the Michigan Subclass.

491. Ford is and was at all relevant times a "merchant" with respect to motor vehicles under Mich. Comp. Laws §§ 440.2104(1) and a "seller" of motor vehicles under § 440.2103(1)(c).

492. With respect to leases, Ford is and was at all relevant times a "lessor" of motor vehicles under Mich. Comp. Laws § 440.2803(1)(p).

493. The Class Vehicles are and were at all relevant times "goods" within the meaning of Mich. Comp. Laws §§ 440.2105(1) and 440.2803(1)(h).

494. Ford provided all purchasers and lessees of the Class Vehicles with the express warranty described herein, which became a material part of the bargain.

495. Ford sold and leased the Class Vehicles with a written express warranty covering the Vehicles for three years or 36,000 miles, whichever comes first.

496. Ford's New Vehicle Limited Warranty expressly states that Ford will "without charge, repair, replace, or adjust all parts on your vehicle that malfunction or fail during normal use during the applicable coverage period due to a manufacturing defect in factory-supplied materials or factory workmanship" so long the Vehicle is properly operated and maintained and taken to a Ford dealership for repair within the warranty period.

497. Ford further provides powertrain warranty coverage, which is applicable to "the Engine: all internal lubricated parts, cylinder block, cylinder heads, electrical fuel pump, powertrain control module, engine mounts, flywheel, injection pump, manifold (exhaust and intake), manifold bolts, oil pan, oil pump, seals and gaskets, engine thermostat, engine, thermostat housing, timing chain cover, timing chain (gears or belt), turbocharger/supercharger unit, valve covers, water pump" as well as the components in the transmission, front-wheel drive, rear-wheel drive, and four-wheel/all-wheel drive. This coverage applies for 5-years or up to 60,000 miles, whichever comes first.

498. For certified pre-owned ("CPO") Vehicles, Ford offers an additional limited warranty covering CPO Vehicles for 12 months or 12,000 miles, whichever comes first.

499. Ford's CPO Vehicle warranty states that a dealer will replace "all covered components . . . that are found to be defective in factory-supplied materials or workmanship during the applicable warranty periods." The engine and its components—including the cylinder block and cylinder heads—are included in Ford's list of "covered components."

500. Ford manufactured and/or installed the engines and the engines' component parts in the Class Vehicles, and the engines and their component parts are covered by the express Warranties.

501. The Oil Pump Defect at issue in this litigation was present at the time the Class Vehicles were sold or leased to Plaintiffs [redacted] and [redacted] and the Michigan Subclass Members.

502. Plaintiffs relied on Ford's express warranties, which were a material part of the bargain, when purchasing or leasing their Class Vehicles.

503. Under the express Warranties, Ford was obligated to correct the Oil Pump Defect in the vehicles owned or leased by Plaintiffs [redacted] and [redacted] and the Michigan Subclass Members.

504. Although Ford was obligated to correct the Oil Pump Defect, none of the attempted fixes to the engines are adequate under the terms of the Warranties, as they did not cure the defect.

505. Ford breached the express Warranties by performing illusory repairs. Rather than repairing the vehicles pursuant to the express Warranties, Ford falsely informed Michigan Subclass Members that there was no problem with their Class Vehicles, performed ineffective procedures including software updates, and/or replaced defective components in the engines with equally defective components, without actually repairing the Class Vehicles.

506. Ford and its agent dealers have failed and refused to conform the engines to the express Warranties. Ford's conduct, as discussed throughout this Complaint, has voided any attempt on its part to disclaim liability for its actions.

507. Moreover, Ford's attempt to disclaim or limit these express Warranties vis-à-vis consumers is unconscionable and unenforceable under the circumstances here. Specifically, Ford's warranty limitation is unenforceable because it knowingly sold a defective product without informing consumers about the defect.

508. The time limits contained in Ford's warranty period were also unconscionable and inadequate to protect Plaintiffs [redacted] and [redacted] and the Michigan Subclass Members. Among other things, Plaintiff [redacted] and [redacted] and the Michigan Subclass Members had no meaningful choice in determining these time limitations, the terms of which unreasonably favored Ford. A gross disparity in bargaining power existed between Ford and the Class members, and Ford knew or should have known that the Class Vehicles were defective at the time of sale.

509. Plaintiffs [redacted] and [redacted] and the Michigan Subclass Members have complied with all obligations under the Warranties, or otherwise have been excused from performance of said obligations as a result of Ford's conduct described herein.

510. Plaintiffs [redacted] and [redacted] and the Michigan Subclass Members were not required to notify Ford of the breach because affording Ford a reasonable opportunity to cure its breach of written warranty would have been futile. Ford was also on notice of the Oil Pump Defect from the complaints and service requests it received from Plaintiffs and the Class Members, from repairs and/or replacements of the engines or components thereof, and through other internal and external sources.

511. Nonetheless, Plaintiffs [redacted] and [redacted] provided notice to Ford of the breach of the warranties when they repeatedly took their vehicle to an authorized Ford dealership and requested warranty repairs. Further, Plaintiffs [redacted] and [redacted] and provided written notice by letter dated May 23, 2023.

512. Because Ford, through its conduct and exemplified by its own service bulletins, has covered repairs of the Oil Pump Defect if Ford determines the repairs are appropriately covered under the Warranties, Ford cannot now deny that the Warranties cover the Oil Pump Defect.

513. Because Ford has not been able remedy the Oil Pump Defect, any limitation on remedies included in the Warranties causes the Warranties to fail their essential purposes, rendering them null and void.

514. As a direct and proximate cause of Ford's breach, Plaintiffs [redacted] and [redacted] and the Michigan Subclass Members suffered damages and continue to suffer damages, including economic damages at the point of sale or lease and diminution of value of their Class Vehicles. Additionally, Plaintiffs [redacted] and [redacted] and the Michigan Subclass Members have incurred or will incur economic damages at the point of repair in the form of the cost of repair.

515. As a direct and proximate result of Ford's breach of express warranties, Plaintiff [redacted] and the [redacted] Subclass Members have been damaged in an amount to be determined at trial.

COUNT XII

Violations of the North Carolina Unfair and Deceptive Acts and Practices Act (N.C. Gen. Stat. § 75-1.1, et seq.)
Plaintiff [redacted] Individually and on Behalf of the North Carolina Subclass

516. Plaintiff [redacted] realleges and incorporates by reference all allegations of the preceding paragraphs as though fully set forth herein.

517. Plaintiff [redacted] brings this claim individually and on behalf of the members of the North Carolina Subclass.

518. Ford engaged in "commerce" within the meaning of the North Carolina Unfair and Deceptive Acts and Practices Act ("North Carolina UDTPA"), N.C. Gen. Stat. § 75-1.1(b).

519. The North Carolina UDTPA broadly prohibits "unfair or deceptive acts or practices in or affecting commerce." N.C. Gen. Stat. § 75-1.1(a). Ford willfully committed unfair or deceptive acts or practices in violation of North Carolina UDTPA.

520. Ford participated in misleading, false, or deceptive acts that violated the North Carolina UDTPA as described below and alleged throughout the Complaint. By failing to disclose the Defect, by concealing the Defect, by marketing its vehicles as safe, reliable, easily operable, efficient, and of high quality, and by presenting itself as a reputable manufacturer that valued safety, reliability, performance and efficiency, and stood behind its vehicles after they were sold, Ford knowingly and intentionally misrepresented and omitted material facts in connection with the sale or lease of the Class Vehicles. Ford systematically misrepresented, concealed, suppressed, or omitted material facts relating to the Class Vehicles and Defect in the course of its business.

521. Ford also engaged in unlawful trade practices by employing deception, deceptive acts or practices, fraud, misrepresentations, or concealment, suppression or omission of any material fact with intent that others rely upon such concealment, suppression or omission, in connection with the sale of the Class Vehicles.

522. Ford's unfair and deceptive acts or practices occurred repeatedly in Ford's trade or business, were capable of deceiving a substantial portion of the purchasing public, and imposed a serious safety risk on the public.

523. Ford knew that the Class Vehicles and their engines suffered from an inherent defect, were defectively designed or manufactured, and were not suitable for their intended use.

524. Ford knew or should have known that its conduct violated the North Carolina UDTPA.

525. Plaintiff [redacted] and the North Carolina Subclass Members reasonably relied on FCA's misrepresentations and omissions of material facts in its advertisements of the Class Vehicles and in the purchase of the Class Vehicles.

526. Had Plaintiff [redacted] and the North Carolina Subclass Members known that the Class Vehicles would exhibit the Defect, they would not have purchased or leased the Class Vehicles, or would have paid less for them. Plaintiff [redacted] and the North Carolina Subclass Members did not receive the benefit of their bargain as a result of Ford's misconduct.

527. Ford owed Plaintiff [redacted] and the North Carolina Subclass Members a duty to disclose the truth about the Defect because Ford: (a) possessed exclusive knowledge of the Class Vehicles and the Defect; (b) intentionally concealed the foregoing from Plaintiff [redacted] and the North Carolina Subclass Members; and/or (c) made incomplete representations regarding the quality and durability of the Class Vehicles, while purposefully withholding material facts from Plaintiff [redacted] and the North Carolina Subclass Members that contradicted these representations.

528. Due to Ford's specific and superior knowledge that the engines in the Class Vehicles have the Defect, its false representations regarding that affects the qualify, safety, reliability, and performance of the Class Vehicles, and reliance by Plaintiff [redacted] and the North Carolina Subclass Members on these material representations, Ford had a duty to disclose to Class members that the engines in Class Vehicles suffer from the Oil Pump Defect and are prone to oil pump failure which presents a safety hazard and necessities costly repairs and engine replacements, that Class Vehicles do not have the expected durability, reliability, and/or safety over other vehicles or of their predecessor engines, and that Class members would be required to bear the cost of the damage to their vehicles. Having volunteered to provide information to Plaintiff [redacted] and the North Carolina Subclass Members, Ford had the duty to disclose not just the partial truth, but the entire truth.

529. These omitted and concealed facts were material because they directly impact the value of the Class Vehicles purchased or leased by Plaintiff [redacted] and the North Carolina Subclass Members. Longevity, durability, performance, and safety are material concerns to Ford's consumers. Ford represented to Plaintiff [redacted] and the North Carolina Subclass Members that they were purchasing or leasing vehicles that were durable, reliable, safe, efficient, of high quality, and containing engines of advanced and superior characteristics and technology as alleged throughout this Complaint, when in fact their engines suffer from the Oil Pump Defect, necessitating costly repairs and subjecting Plaintiff [redacted] and the North Carolina Subclass Members to increased risk of collisions due to stalls and sudden loss of oil pressure.

530. Plaintiff [redacted] and the North Carolina Subclass Members suffered injury in fact to a legally protected interest. As a result of Ford's conduct, Plaintiff [redacted] and the North Carolina Subclass Members were harmed and suffered actual damages in the form of the diminished value of their vehicles.

531. As a result of Ford's conduct, Plaintiff [redacted] and the North Carolina Subclass Members were harmed and suffered actual damages as a result of Ford's misrepresentations and omissions with regard to their Class Vehicles' engines because they purchased vehicles which do not perform as advertised.

532. As a direct and proximate result of Ford's unfair or deceptive acts or practices, Plaintiff [redacted] and the North Carolina Subclass Members suffered and will continue to suffer injury in fact and/or actual damages.

533. Defendant's violations present a continuing risk to Plaintiff [redacted] and the North Carolina Subclass Members as well as to the general public. Defendant's unlawful acts and practices complained of herein affect the public interest.

534. Because Ford's actions and conduct were willful, Plaintiff [redacted] seeks an order for treble her actual damages, an order enjoining Ford's unlawful acts, court costs, attorneys' fees, and any other just and proper relief available under the North Carolina Act, N.C. Gen. Stat.§ 75-16.

COUNT XIII

Breach of Implied Warranty of Merchantability (North Carolina)
(N.C. GEN. STAT. ANN. § 25-2-314 and 25-2A-212)
Plaintiff [redacted] Individually and on Behalf of the North Carolina Subclass

535. Plaintiffs reallege and incorporate by reference all allegations of the preceding paragraphs as though fully set forth herein.

536. Plaintiff [redacted] brings this cause of action individually and on behalf of the North Carolina Subclass.

537. Ford is and was at all relevant times a "merchant" with respect to motor vehicles under N.C. Gen. Stat. § 25-2-104(1) and a "seller" of motor vehicles under § 25-2-103(1)(d).

538. With respect to leases, Ford is and was at all relevant times a "lessor" of motor vehicles under N.C. Gen. Stat. § 25-2A-103(1)(p).

539. The Class Vehicles are and were at all relevant times "goods" within the meaning of N.C. Gen. Stat. § 25-2-105(1) and § 25-2A-103(1)(h).

540. A warranty that the Class Vehicles were in merchantable condition and fit for the ordinary purpose for which vehicles are used is implied by law under N.C. Gen. Stat. § 25-2-314 and 25-2A-212.

541. Ford knew or had reason to know of the specific use for which the Class Vehicles were purchased or leased. Ford directly sold and marketed Class Vehicles to customers through authorized dealers, like those from whom Plaintiff [redacted] and the North Carolina Subclass members bought or leased their vehicles, for the intended purpose of consumers purchasing the vehicles. Ford knew that the Class Vehicles would and did pass unchanged from the authorized dealers to Plaintiff [redacted] and the North Carolina Subclass members, with no modification to the defective Class Vehicles.

542. Ford provided Plaintiff [redacted] and the North Carolina Subclass members with an implied warranty that the Class Vehicles and their components and parts are merchantable and fit for the ordinary purposes for which they were sold.

543. This implied warranty included, among other things: (i) a warranty that the Class Vehicles that were manufactured, supplied, distributed, and/or sold by Ford were safe and reliable for providing transportation; and (ii) a warranty that the Class Vehicles would be fit for their intended use while the Class Vehicles were being operated.

544. Contrary to the applicable implied warranties, the Class Vehicles at the time of sale and thereafter were not fit for their ordinary and intended purpose of providing Plaintiffs and Class Members with reliable, durable, and safe transportation. Instead, the Class Vehicles were and are defective at the time of sale or lease and thereafter as more fully described above. Ford knew of this defect at the time these sale or lease transactions occurred.

545. As a result of Ford's breach of the applicable implied warranties, Plaintiff [redacted] and the North Carolina Subclass members suffered an ascertainable loss of money, property, and/or value of their Class Vehicles. Additionally, as a result of the Defect, Plaintiff [redacted] and the North Carolina Subclass members were harmed and suffered actual damages in that the Class Vehicles are substantially certain to fail before their expected useful life has run.

546. Ford's actions, as complained of herein, breached the implied warranty that the Class Vehicles were of merchantable quality and fit for such use in violation of the Uniform Commercial Code and relevant state law.

547. Plaintiff [redacted] and the North Carolina Subclass members have complied with all obligations under the warranty, or otherwise have been excused from performance of said obligations as a result of Ford's conduct described herein.

548. Plaintiff [redacted] and the North Carolina Subclass members were not required to notify Ford of the breach because affording Ford a reasonable opportunity to cure its breach of warranty would have been futile. Nevertheless, Plaintiff [redacted] served Ford with a demand letter notifying it of its breaches of implied warranty on September 11, 2023. Ford was also on notice of the Defect from the complaints and service requests it received from Plaintiff [redacted] and the Texas Subclass members and through other internal sources.

549. As a direct and proximate cause of Ford's breach, Plaintiff [redacted] and the North Carolina Subclass members suffered damages and continue to suffer damages, including economic damages at the point of sale or lease and diminution of value of their Class Vehicles. Additionally, Plaintiff [redacted] and the North Carolina Subclass members have incurred or will incur economic damages at the point of repair in the form of the cost of repair as well as additional losses.

550. As a direct and proximate result of Ford's breach of the implied warranty of merchantability, Plaintiff [redacted] and the North Carolina Subclass members have been damaged in an amount to be proven at trial.

COUNT XIV

Violations of the Pennsylvania Unfair Trade Practices and Consumer Protection Law, 73 P.S. § 201-1, *et seq.
Plaintiff [redacted] Individually and on Behalf of the Pennsylvania Subclass

551. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference each preceding and succeeding paragraph as though fully set forth at length herein.

552. Plaintiff [redacted] brings this claim on behalf of herself and the members of the Pennsylvania Subclass.

553. Plaintiff [redacted] and the Pennsylvania Sub-Class Members purchased or leased their Class Vehicles primarily for personal, family or household purposes within the meaning of 73 P.S. § 201-9.2.

554. All of the acts complained of herein were perpetrated by Ford in the course of trade or commerce within the meaning of 73 P.S. § 201-2(3).Pennsylvania Unfair Trade Practices and Consumer Protection Law ("Pennsylvania CPL") prohibits unfair or deceptive acts or practices, including: (a) "Representing that goods or services have . . . characteristics, . . . [b]enefits or qualities that they do not have;" (b) "Representing that goods or services are of a particular standard, quality or grade . . . if they are of another;" (c) "Advertising goods or services with intent not to sell them as advertised;" and (d) "Engaging in any other fraudulent or deceptive conduct which creates a likelihood of confusion or misunderstanding." 73 P.S. § 201-2(4). Ford engaged in unfair and deceptive practices that violated the Pennsylvania CPL as described above.

555. Defendant participated in and engaged in deceptive business or trade practices prohibited by the Pennsylvania CPL by failing to disclose and actively concealing the defective nature of the oil pump within the 1.0 L EcoBoost engine, by marketing their Class Vehicles as safe and of high quality, and by presenting themselves as a reputable manufacturer that valued safety and stood behind its vehicles after they were sold.

556. By failing to disclose the Oil Pump Defect; by concealing the Oil Pump Defect; by promoting and selling or leasing Class Vehicles it knew were defective, including by marketing its vehicles as safe, reliable, easily operable, efficient, and of high quality; by presenting itself as a reputable manufacturer that valued safety, reliability, performance and efficiency, and stood behind its vehicles after they were sold; by failing to make repairs or making repairs and providing replacements that caused Plaintiff [redacted] and the Pennsylvania Sub-Class Members to experience repeated instances of failure, rendering the New Vehicle Limited Warranty useless; and by minimized the scope and severity of the problems with the Class Vehicles, refusing to acknowledge that they are defective, and failing to provide adequate relief to consumers, Ford knowingly and intentionally misrepresented and omitted material facts in connection with the sale or lease of the Class Vehicles.

557. Defendant systematically misrepresented, concealed, suppressed, or omitted material facts relating to the Class Vehicles and Oil Pump Defect in the course of its business.

558. Defendant also engaged in unlawful trade practices by employing deception, deceptive acts or practices, fraud, misrepresentations, or concealment, suppression or omission of any material fact with intent that others rely upon such concealment, suppression or omission, in connection with the sale of the Class Vehicles.

559. Defendant's unfair and deceptive acts or practices occurred repeatedly in Ford's trade or business, were capable of deceiving a substantial portion of the purchasing public, and imposed a serious safety risk on the public.

560. Defendant knew that the Class Vehicles and their 1.0L EcoBoost engines suffered from an inherent defect, were defectively designed or manufactured, and were not suitable for their intended use.

561. Defendant knew or should have known that its conduct violated the Pennsylvania CPL.

562. Plaintiff [redacted] and the Pennsylvania Sub-Class Members reasonably relied on Ford's misrepresentations and omissions of material facts in its advertisements of the Class Vehicles and in the purchase of the Class Vehicles.

563. Had Plaintiff [redacted] and the Pennsylvania Sub-Class Members known that the Class Vehicles would exhibit the Oil Pump Defect, they would not have purchased or leased the Class Vehicles or would have paid less for them. Plaintiffs did not receive the benefit of their bargain as a result of Ford's misconduct.

564. Defendant owed Plaintiff [redacted] and the Pennsylvania Sub-Class Members a duty to disclose the truth about the Oil Pump Defect because Ford:.

a. possessed exclusive and superior knowledge of the design of the Class Vehicles and the Oil Pump Defect;

b. intentionally concealed the foregoing from Plaintiff [redacted] and the Pennsylvania Sub-Class Members;

c. had a duty under the Motor Vehicle Safety Act to disclose safety defects, which places a duty on manufacturers to report vehicle or equipment defects. 49 U.S.C. § 30118(c); and/or

d. made incomplete representations regarding the quality and durability of the Class Vehicles, while purposefully withholding material facts from Plaintiff [redacted] and the Pennsylvania Sub-Class Members that contradicted these representations.

565. Due to Ford's specific and superior knowledge that the 1.0L EcoBoost engine in the Class Vehicles will fail before their expected useful life has run due to the Oil Pump Defect, its false representations regarding the increased durability of the Class Vehicles, and reliance by Plaintiff [redacted] and the Pennsylvania Sub-Class Members on these material representations, Ford had a duty to disclose to Class members that the Oil Pump Defect will cause engine failure in Class Vehicles, that Class Vehicles do not have the expected durability, reliability, and/or safety over other vehicles or of their predecessor engines, that failure of the Engines will cause damage to Class Vehicle, and that Class members would be required to bear the cost of the damage to their vehicles.

566. Having volunteered to provide information to Plaintiff [redacted] and the Pennsylvania Sub-Class Members, Ford had the duty to disclose not just the partial truth, but the entire truth. These omitted and concealed facts were material because they directly impact the value of the Class Vehicles purchased or leased by Plaintiff [redacted] and the Pennsylvania Sub-Class Members.

567. Longevity, durability, performance, and safety are material concerns to Ford consumers. Ford represented to Plaintiff [redacted] and the Pennsylvania Sub-Class Members that they were purchasing or leasing vehicles that were durable, reliable, safe, efficient, of high quality, and containing engines of advanced and superior characteristics and technology as alleged throughout this Complaint, when in fact it is only a matter of time, far sooner than any reasonable consumer would expect, before the engines fail due to the Oil Pump Defect.

568. Plaintiff [redacted] and the Pennsylvania Sub-Class Members suffered injury in fact to a legally protected interest. As a result of Ford's conduct, Plaintiff [redacted] and the Pennsylvania Sub-Class Members were harmed and suffered actual damages in the form of the costs of diagnosis and repair of their vehicles, and the diminished value of their vehicles.

569. As a direct and proximate result of Ford's unfair or deceptive acts or practices, Plaintiff [redacted] and the Pennsylvania Sub-Class Members suffered and will continue to suffer injury in fact and/or actual damages.

570. Defendant's violations present a continuing risk to Plaintiff [redacted] and the Pennsylvania Sub-Class Members as well as to the general public. Defendant's unlawful acts and practices complained of herein affect the public interest.

571. As a proximate and direct result of Ford's unfair and deceptive trade practices, Plaintiff [redacted] and members of the Pennsylvania Sub-Class purchased or leased Class Vehicles and suffered an ascertainable loss and financial harm. This included ascertainable losses in the form of actual damages in the amount of the cost to attempt to repair the Oil Pump Defect, replaced the damaged related system components, diminution of Class Vehicle resale value, increased repair and maintenance costs, and other substantial monetary damages and inconvenience.

572. Defendant is liable to Plaintiff [redacted] and the Pennsylvania Sub-Class Members for treble their actual damages or $100, whichever is greater, and attorneys' fees and costs under 73 P.S. § 201-9.2(a). Plaintiff [redacted] and the Pennsylvania Sub-Class members are also entitled to an award of punitive damages given that Defendant's conduct was malicious, wanton, willful, oppressive, or exhibited a reckless indifference to the rights of others.

Breach of Express Warranty (Pennsylvania)
(13 PA. CONS. STAT. §§ 2313 and 2A210)
Plaintiff [redacted] Individually and on Behalf of the Maryland Subclass

573. Plaintiffs reallege and incorporate by reference all allegations of the preceding paragraphs as though fully set forth herein.

574. Plaintiff [redacted] brings this cause of action on her behalf and on behalf of the Maryland Subclass.

575. Ford is and was at all relevant times a "merchant" with respect to motor vehicles under 13 Pa. Cons. Stat. §§ 2104 and 2A103(a), and a "seller" of motor vehicles under § 2103(a).

576. With respect to leases, Ford is and was at all relevant times a "lessor" of motor vehicles under 13 Pa. Cons. Stat. § 2A103(a).

577. The Class Vehicles are and were at all relevant times "goods" within the meaning of 13 Pa. Cons. Stat. § 2105(a) and 2A103(a).

578. Ford provided all purchasers and lessees of the Class Vehicles with the express warranty described herein, which became a material part of the bargain.

579. Ford sold and leased the Class Vehicles with a written express warranty covering the Vehicles for three years or 36,000 miles, whichever comes first.

580. Ford's New Vehicle Limited Warranty expressly states that Ford will "without charge, repair, replace, or adjust all parts on your vehicle that malfunction or fail during normal use during the applicable coverage period due to a manufacturing defect in factory-supplied materials or factory workmanship" so long the Vehicle is properly operated and maintained and taken to a Ford dealership for repair within the warranty period.

581. Ford further provides powertrain warranty coverage, which is applicable to "the Engine: all internal lubricated parts, cylinder block, cylinder heads, electrical fuel pump, powertrain control module, engine mounts, flywheel, injection pump, manifold (exhaust and intake), manifold bolts, oil pan, oil pump, seals and gaskets, engine thermostat, engine, thermostat housing, timing chain cover, timing chain (gears or belt), turbocharger/supercharger unit, valve covers, water pump" as well as the components in the transmission, front-wheel drive, rear-wheel drive, and four-wheel/all-wheel drive. This coverage applies for 5-years or up to 60,000 miles, whichever comes first.

582. For certified pre-owned ("CPO") Vehicles, Ford offers an additional limited warranty covering CPO Vehicles for 12 months or 12,000 miles, whichever comes first.

583. Ford's CPO Vehicle warranty states that a dealer will replace "all covered components . . . that are found to be defective in factory-supplied materials or workmanship during the applicable warranty periods." The engine and its components—including the cylinder block and cylinder heads—are included in Ford's list of "covered components."

584. Ford manufactured and/or installed the engines and the engines' component parts in the Class Vehicles, and the engines and their component parts are covered by the express Warranties.

585. The Oil Pump Defect at issue in this litigation was present at the time the Class Vehicles were sold or leased to Plaintiff [redacted] and the Pennsylvania Subclass Members.

586. Plaintiff [redacted] and the Pennsylvania Subclass Members relied on Ford's express warranties, which were a material part of the bargain, when purchasing or leasing their Class Vehicles.

587. Under the express Warranties, Ford was obligated to correct the Oil Pump Defect in the vehicles owned or leased by Plaintiff [redacted] the Pennsylvania Subclass Members.

588. Although Ford was obligated to correct the Oil Pump Defect, none of the attempted fixes to the engines are adequate under the terms of the Warranties, as they did not cure the defect.

589. Ford breached the express Warranties by performing illusory repairs. Rather than repairing the vehicles pursuant to the express Warranties, Ford falsely informed Pennsylvania Subclass Members that there was no problem with their Class Vehicles, performed ineffective procedures including software updates, and/or replaced defective components in the engines with equally defective components, without actually repairing the Class Vehicles.

590. Ford and its agent dealers have failed and refused to conform the engines to the express Warranties. Ford's conduct, as discussed throughout this Complaint, has voided any attempt on its part to disclaim liability for its actions.

591. Moreover, Ford's attempt to disclaim or limit these express Warranties vis-à-vis consumers is unconscionable and unenforceable under the circumstances here. Specifically, Ford's warranty limitation is unenforceable because it knowingly sold a defective product without informing consumers about the defect.

592. The time limits contained in Ford's warranty period were also unconscionable and inadequate to protect Plaintiff [redacted] and the Pennsylvania Subclass Members. Among other things, Plaintiff [redacted] and the Pennsylvania Subclass Members had no meaningful choice in determining these time limitations, the terms of which unreasonably favored Ford. A gross disparity in bargaining power existed between Ford and the Class members, and Ford knew or should have known that the Class Vehicles were defective at the time of sale.

593. Plaintiff [redacted] and the Pennsylvania Subclass Members have complied with all obligations under the Warranties, or otherwise have been excused from performance of said obligations as a result of Ford's conduct described herein.

594. Plaintiff [redacted] and the Pennsylvania Subclass Members sent ford a notice and demand on June 2, 2023. They also were not required to notify Ford of the breach because affording Ford a reasonable opportunity to cure its breach of written warranty would have been futile. Ford was also on notice of the Oil Pump Defect from the complaints and service requests it received from Plaintiffs and the Class Members, from repairs and/or replacements of the engines or components thereof, and through other internal and external sources.

595. Because Ford, through its conduct and exemplified by its own service bulletins, has covered repairs of the Oil Pump Defect if Ford determines the repairs are appropriately covered under the Warranties, Ford cannot now deny that the Warranties cover the Oil Pump Defect.

596. Because Ford has not been able remedy the Oil Pump Defect, any limitation on remedies included in the Warranties causes the Warranties to fail their essential purposes, rendering them null and void.

597. As a direct and proximate cause of Ford's breach, Plaintiff [redacted] and the Pennsylvania Subclass Members suffered damages and continue to suffer damages, including economic damages at the point of sale or lease and diminution of value of their Class Vehicles. Additionally, Plaintiff [redacted] and the Pennsylvania Subclass Members have incurred or will incur economic damages at the point of repair in the form of the cost of repair.

598. As a direct and proximate result of Ford's breach of express warranties, Plaintiff [redacted] and the Pennsylvania Subclass Members have been damaged in an amount to be determined at trial.

COUNT XVI

Breach of Implied Warranty of Merchantability (Pennsylvania)
(13 PA. CONS. STAT. §§ 2314 and 2A212)
Plaintiff [redacted] Individually and on Behalf of the Pennsylvania Subclass

599. Plaintiffs reallege and incorporate by reference all allegations of the preceding paragraphs as though fully set forth herein.

600. Plaintiff [redacted] brings this cause of action on her behalf and on behalf of the Pennsylvania Subclass.

601. Ford is and was at all relevant times a "merchant" with respect to motor vehicles under 13 Pa. Cons. Stat. §§ 2104 and 2A103(a), and a "seller" of motor vehicles under § 2103(a).

602. With respect to leases, Ford is and was at all relevant times a "lessor" of motor vehicles under 13 Pa. Cons. Stat. § 2A103(a).

603. The Class Vehicles are and were at all relevant times "goods" within the meaning of 13 Pa. Cons. Stat. § 2105(a) and 2A103(a).

604. A warranty that the Class Vehicles were in merchantable condition and fit for the ordinary purpose for which vehicles are used is implied by law pursuant to 13 Pa. Cons. Stat. §§ 2314 and 2A212.

605. Ford knew or had reason to know of the specific use for which the Class Vehicles were purchased or leased. Ford directly sold and marketed Class Vehicles to customers through authorized dealers, like those from whom Plaintiff [redacted] and members of the Pennsylvania Subclass bought or leased their vehicles, for the intended purpose of consumers purchasing the vehicles. Ford knew that the Class Vehicles would and did pass unchanged from the authorized dealers to Plaintiff [redacted] and members of the Pennsylvania Subclass, with no modification to the defective Class Vehicles.

606. Ford provided Plaintiff [redacted] and members of the Pennsylvania Subclass with an implied warranty that the Class Vehicles and their components and parts are merchantable and fit for the ordinary purposes for which they were sold.

607. This implied warranty included, among other things: (i) a warranty that the Class Vehicles that were manufactured, supplied, distributed, and/or sold by Ford were safe and reliable for providing transportation; and (ii) a warranty that the Class Vehicles would be fit for their intended use while the Class Vehicles were being operated.

608. Contrary to the applicable implied warranties, the Class Vehicles at the time of sale and thereafter were not fit for their ordinary and intended purpose of providing Plaintiffs and Class Members with reliable, durable, and safe transportation. Instead, the Class Vehicles were and are defective at the time of sale or lease and thereafter as more fully described above. Ford knew of this defect at the time these sale or lease transactions occurred.

609. As a result of Ford's breach of the applicable implied warranties, Plaintiff [redacted] and members of the Pennsylvania Subclass suffered an ascertainable loss of money, property, and/or value of their Class Vehicles. Additionally, as a result of the Defect, Plaintiff [redacted] and members of the Pennsylvania Subclass were harmed and suffered actual damages in that the Class Vehicles are substantially certain to fail before their expected useful life has run.

610. Ford's actions, as complained of herein, breached the implied warranty that the Class Vehicles were of merchantable quality and fit for such use in violation of the Uniform Commercial Code and relevant state law.

611. Plaintiff [redacted] and members of the Pennsylvania Subclass have complied with all obligations under the warranty, or otherwise have been excused from performance of said obligations as a result of Ford's conduct described herein.

612. Plaintiff [redacted] and members of the Pennsylvania Subclass were not required to notify Ford of the breach because affording Ford a reasonable opportunity to cure its breach of warranty would have been futile. Ford was also on notice of the Defect from the complaints and service requests it received from Plaintiff [redacted] and members of the Pennsylvania Subclass and through other internal sources.

613. Nonetheless, Plaintiffs provided notice to Ford of the breach of implied warranties when they repeatedly took their vehicle to an authorized Ford dealership and requested warranty repairs. Further, Plaintiff [redacted] provided written notice by letter dated June 2, 2023.

614. As a direct and proximate cause of Ford's breach, Plaintiff [redacted] and members of the Pennsylvania Subclass suffered damages and continue to suffer damages, including economic damages at the point of sale or lease and diminution of value of their Class Vehicles. Additionally, Plaintiff Bilotta and members of the Pennsylvania Subclass have incurred or will incur economic damages at the point of repair in the form of the cost of repair as well as additional losses.

615. As a direct and proximate result of Ford's breach of the implied warranty of merchantability, Plaintiff [redacted] and members of the Pennsylvania Subclass have been damaged in an amount to be proven at trial.

COUNT XIIIII

Violation of the Texas Deceptive Trade Practices Act
Texas Bus. & Com. Code § 17.41, et seq.
Plaintiffs [redacted] and [redacted] Individually and on Behalf of the Texas Subclass

616. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference each preceding and succeeding paragraph as though fully set forth at length herein.

617. Plaintiffs [redacted] and [redacted] bring this claim on behalf of themselves and the members of the Texas Subclass.

618. Plaintiffs [redacted] and members of the Texas Subclass are individuals, partnerships, or corporations with assets of less than $25 million (or are controlled by corporations or entities with less than $25 million in assets), see Tex. Bus. & Com. Code § 17.41 and are therefore "consumers" pursuant to Tex. Bus. & Corn. Code § 17.45(4).

619. Ford is a "person" as that term is defined in Tex. Bus. & Corn. Code § 17.45(3).

620. Ford is engaged in "trade" or "commerce" or "consumer transactions" within the meaning Tex. Bus. & Com. Code § 17.46(a).

621. The Texas Deceptive Trade Practices ("Texas DTPA") prohibits "false, misleading, or deceptive acts or practices in the conduct of any trade or commerce," Tex. Bus. & Corn. Code § 17.46(a), and an "unconscionable action or course of action," which means "an act or practice which, to a consumer's detriment, takes advantage of the lack of knowledge, ability, experience, or capacity of the consumer to a grossly unfair degree." Tex. Bus. & Com. Code §§ 17.45(5) and 17.50(a)(3). Ford engaged in unlawful trade practices, and unfair or deceptive acts or practices that violated the Texas DTPA.

622. Ford participated in unfair or deceptive trade practices that violated the Texas DTPA. As described below and alleged throughout the Complaint, by failing to disclose the Defect, by concealing the Defect, by marketing its vehicles as safe, reliable, well-engineered, and of high quality, and by presenting itself as a reputable manufacturer that valued safety, performance and reliability, and stood behind its vehicles after they were sold, Ford knowingly and intentionally misrepresented and omitted material facts in connection with the sale or lease of the Class Vehicles. Ford systematically misrepresented, concealed, suppressed, or omitted material facts relating to the Class Vehicles and the Defect in the course of its business.

623. Ford also engaged in unlawful trade practices by employing deception, deceptive acts or practices, fraud, misrepresentations, or concealment, suppression or omission of any material fact with intent that others rely upon such concealment, suppression or omission, in connection with the sale of the Class Vehicles.

624. Ford's unfair and deceptive acts or practices occurred repeatedly in Ford' s trade or business, were capable of deceiving a substantial portion of the purchasing public, and imposed a serious safety risk on the public.

625. Ford knew that the Class Vehicles suffered from an inherent defect, were defectively designed and/or used improper or deficient materials, and were not suitable for their intended use.

626. Ford knew or should have known that its conduct violated the Texas DTPA.

627. Defendant was under a duty to Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Texas Subclass Members to disclose the defective nature of the Class Vehicles because:

a. Defendant was in a superior position to know the true state of facts about the safety defect in the Class Vehicles

b. Defendant made partial disclosures about the quality of the Class Vehicles without revealing the defective nature of the Class Vehicles;

c. Defendant was under an obligation to disclose safety defects under federal motor vehicle safety laws; and

d. Defendant actively concealed the defective nature of the Class Vehicles from Texas Plaintiff and the Texas Subclass Members at the time of sale and thereafter.

628. By failing to disclose the Defect, Defendant knowingly and intentionally concealed material facts and breached its duty not to do so.

629. The facts concealed or not disclosed by Defendant to Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Texas Subclass Members are material because a reasonable person would have considered them to be important in deciding whether or not to purchase or lease Defendant's Class Vehicles, or to pay less for them. Whether a vehicle becomes inoperable when the differential fails is a material safety concern. Had Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Texas Subclass Members known that the Class Vehicles suffered from the Defect described herein, they would not have purchased or leased the Class Vehicles or would have paid less for them.

630. Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Texas Subclass Members are reasonable consumers who do not expect that their vehicles will suffer from the Defect. That is the reasonable and objective consumer expectation for vehicles.

631. As a result of Defendant's misconduct, Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Texas Subclass Members have been harmed and have suffered actual damages in that the Class Vehicles are defective and require repairs or replacement.

632. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's unfair or deceptive acts or practices, Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Texas Subclass Members have suffered and will continue to suffer actual damages.

633. Ford's violations present a continuing risk to Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Texas Subclass Members as well as to the general public. Ford's unlawful acts and practices complained of herein affect the public interest.

634. Pursuant to statute, Plaintiffs [redacted] and [redacted] each provided notice of their claims by letters dated May 23, 2023, June 2, 2023, and September 6, 2023. Plaintiffs [redacted] and members of the Texas Subclass seek all damages and relief to which they are entitled to because Ford failed to remedy its unlawful conduct within the requisite time period.

635. Pursuant to Tex. Bus. & Com. Code § 17.50, Plaintiffs [redacted] and members of the Texas Subclass seek an order enjoining Ford from engaging in unfair and/or deceptive acts or practices, damages, multiple damages for knowing and intentional violations, pursuant to § 17.50(b)(1), punitive damages, and attorneys' fees, costs, and any other just and proper relief available under the Texas DTPA.

COUNT XIVII

Breach of Express Warranty (Texas)
(TEX. BUS. & COM. CODE §§ 2.313 AND 2A.210)
Plaintiffs [redacted] [redacted] Individually and on Behalf of the Texas Subclass

636. Plaintiffs reallege and incorporate by reference all allegations of the preceding paragraphs as though fully set forth herein.

637. Plaintiffs [redacted] [redacted] and [redacted] bring this cause of action individually and on behalf of the Texas Subclass.

638. Ford is and was at all relevant times a "merchant" with respect to motor vehicles under Texas Bus. & Corn. Code §§ 2.104(1) and 2A.103(a)(20), and a "seller" of motor vehicles under § 2.103(a)(4).

639. With respect to leases, Ford is and was at all relevant times a "lessor" of motor vehicles under Texas Bus. & Corn. Code § 2A.103(a)(16).

640. The Class Vehicles are and were at all relevant times "goods" within the meaning of Texas Bus. & Com. Code §§ 2.105(a) and 2A.103(a)(8).

641. Ford provided all purchasers and lessees of the Class Vehicles with the express warranty described herein, which became a material part of the bargain.

642. Ford sold and leased the Class Vehicles with a written express warranty covering the Vehicles for three years or 36,000 miles, whichever comes first.

643. Ford's New Vehicle Limited Warranty expressly states that Ford will "without charge, repair, replace, or adjust all parts on your vehicle that malfunction or fail during normal use during the applicable coverage period due to a manufacturing defect in factory-supplied materials or factory workmanship" so long the Vehicle is properly operated and maintained and taken to a Ford dealership for repair within the warranty period.

644. Ford further provides powertrain warranty coverage, which is applicable to "the Engine: all internal lubricated parts, cylinder block, cylinder heads, electrical fuel pump, powertrain control module, engine mounts, flywheel, injection pump, manifold (exhaust and intake), manifold bolts, oil pan, oil pump, seals and gaskets, engine thermostat, engine, thermostat housing, timing chain cover, timing chain (gears or belt), turbocharger/supercharger unit, valve covers, water pump" as well as the components in the transmission, front-wheel drive, rear-wheel drive, and four-wheel/all-wheel drive. This coverage applies for 5-years or up to 60,000 miles, whichever comes first.

645. For certified pre-owned ("CPO") Vehicles, Ford offers an additional limited warranty covering CPO Vehicles for 12 months or 12,000 miles, whichever comes first.

646. Ford's CPO Vehicle warranty states that a dealer will replace "all covered components . . . that are found to be defective in factory-supplied materials or workmanship during the applicable warranty periods." The engine and its components—including the cylinder block and cylinder heads—are included in Ford's list of "covered components."

647. Ford manufactured and/or installed the engines and the engines' component parts in the Class Vehicles, and the engines and their component parts are covered by the express Warranties.

648. The Oil Pump Defect at issue in this litigation was present at the time the Class Vehicles were sold or leased to Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Texas Subclass Members.

649. Plaintiffs relied on Ford's express warranties, which were a material part of the bargain, when purchasing or leasing their Class Vehicles.

650. Under the express Warranties, Ford was obligated to correct the Oil Pump Defect in the vehicles owned or leased by Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Texas Subclass Members.

651. Although Ford was obligated to correct the Oil Pump Defect, none of the attempted fixes to the engines are adequate under the terms of the Warranties, as they did not cure the defect.

652. Ford breached the express Warranties by performing illusory repairs. Rather than repairing the vehicles pursuant to the express Warranties, Ford falsely informed Texas Subclass Members that there was no problem with their Class Vehicles, performed ineffective procedures including software updates, and/or replaced defective components in the engines with equally defective components, without actually repairing the Class Vehicles.

653. Ford and its agent dealers have failed and refused to conform the engines to the express Warranties. Ford's conduct, as discussed throughout this Complaint, has voided any attempt on its part to disclaim liability for its actions.

654. Moreover, Ford's attempt to disclaim or limit these express Warranties vis-à-vis consumers is unconscionable and unenforceable under the circumstances here. Specifically, Ford's warranty limitation is unenforceable because it knowingly sold a defective product without informing consumers about the defect.

655. The time limits contained in Ford's warranty period were also unconscionable and inadequate to protect Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Texas Subclass Members. Among other things, Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Texas Subclass Members had no meaningful choice in determining these time limitations, the terms of which unreasonably favored Ford. A gross disparity in bargaining power existed between Ford and the Class members, and Ford knew or should have known that the Class Vehicles were defective at the time of sale.

656. Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Texas Subclass Members have complied with all obligations under the Warranties, or otherwise have been excused from performance of said obligations as a result of Ford's conduct described herein.

657. Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Texas Subclass Members were not required to notify Ford of the breach because affording Ford a reasonable opportunity to cure its breach of written warranty would have been futile. Ford was also on notice of the Oil Pump Defect from the complaints and service requests it received from Plaintiffs and the Class Members, from repairs and/or replacements of the engines or components thereof, and through other internal and external sources.

658. Nonetheless, Plaintiffs [redacted] and [redacted] provided notice to Ford of the breach of the warranties when they repeatedly took their vehicle to an authorized Ford dealership and requested warranty repairs. Further, Plaintiffs [redacted] and [redacted] each provided notice of their claims by letters dated May 23, 2023, June 2, 2023, and September 6, 2023.

660. Because Ford has not been able remedy the Oil Pump Defect, any limitation on remedies included in the Warranties causes the Warranties to fail their essential purposes, rendering them null and void.

661. As a direct and proximate cause of Ford's breach, Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Texas Subclass Members suffered damages and continue to suffer damages, including economic damages at the point of sale or lease and diminution of value of their Class Vehicles. Additionally, Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Texas Subclass Members have incurred or will incur economic damages at the point of repair in the form of the cost of repair.

662. As a direct and proximate result of Ford's breach of express warranties, Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Texas Subclass Members have been damaged in an amount to be determined at trial.

666. With respect to leases, Ford is and was at all relevant times a "lessor" of motor vehicles under Texas Bus. & Corn. Code § 2A.103(a)(16).

667. The Class Vehicles are and were at all relevant times "goods" within the meaning of Texas Bus. & Com. Code §§ 2.105(a) and 2A.103(a)(8).

668. A warranty that the Class Vehicles were in merchantable condition and fit for the ordinary purpose for which vehicles are used is implied by law under Tex. Bus. & Com. Code §§ 2.314 and 2A.212.

669. Ford knew or had reason to know of the specific use for which the Class Vehicles were purchased or leased. Ford knew that the Class Vehicles would and did pass unchanged from the authorized dealers to Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Texas Subclass members, with no modification to the defective Class Vehicles.

670. Ford provided Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Texas Subclass members with an implied warranty that the Class Vehicles and their components and parts are merchantable and fit for the ordinary purposes for which they were sold.

671. This implied warranty included, among other things: (i) a warranty that the Class Vehicles that were manufactured, supplied, distributed, and/or sold by Ford were safe and reliable for providing transportation; and (ii) a warranty that the Class Vehicles would be fit for their intended use while the Class Vehicles were being operated.

672. Contrary to the applicable implied warranties, the Class Vehicles at the time of sale and thereafter were not fit for their ordinary and intended purpose of providing Plaintiffs and Class Members with reliable, durable, and safe transportation. Instead, the Class Vehicles were and are defective at the time of sale or lease and thereafter as more fully described above. Ford knew of this defect at the time these sale or lease transactions occurred.

673. As a result of Ford's breach of the applicable implied warranties, Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Texas Subclass members suffered an ascertainable loss of money, property, and/or value of their Class Vehicles. Additionally, as a result of the Defect, Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Texas Subclass members were harmed and suffered actual damages in that the Class Vehicles are substantially certain to fail before their expected useful life has run.

674. Ford's actions, as complained of herein, breached the implied warranty that the Class Vehicles were of merchantable quality and fit for such use in violation of the Uniform Commercial Code and relevant state law.

675. Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Texas Subclass members have complied with all obligations under the warranty, or otherwise have been excused from performance of said obligations as a result of Ford's conduct described herein.

678. As a direct and proximate result of Ford's breach of the implied warranty of merchantability, Plaintiffs [redacted] and the Texas Subclass members have been damaged in an amount to be proven at trial.

Breach of Implied Warranty of Merchantability ([redacted]
(TENN. CODE ANN. § 47-2-314 and 47-2A-212)
Plaintiff [redacted] Individually and on Behalf of the Tennessee Subclass

679. Plaintiffs reallege and incorporate by reference all allegations of the preceding paragraphs as though fully set forth herein.

680. Plaintiff [redacted] brings this cause of action individually and on behalf of the Tennessee Subclass.

681. Ford is and was at all relevant times a "merchant" with respect to motor vehicles under Tenn. Code §§ 47-2-104(1) and 47-2A-103(1)(t), and "seller" of motor vehicles under § 47-2-103(1)(d).

682. With respect to leases, Ford is and was at all relevant times a "lessor" of motor vehicles under Tenn. Code § 47-2A-103(1)(p).

683. The Class Vehicles are and were at all relevant times "goods" within the meaning of Tenn. Code §§ 47-2-105(1) and 47-2A-103(1)(h).

684. A warranty that the Class Vehicles were in merchantable condition and fit for the ordinary purpose for which vehicles are used is implied by law under TENN. CODE ANN. § 47-2-314 and 47-2A-212.

685. Ford knew or had reason to know of the specific use for which the Class Vehicles were purchased or leased. Ford directly sold and marketed Class Vehicles to customers through authorized dealers, like those from whom Plaintiff [redacted] and the [redacted] Subclass members bought or leased their vehicles, for the intended purpose of consumers purchasing the vehicles. Ford knew that the Class Vehicles would and did pass unchanged from the authorized dealers to Plaintiff [redacted] and the [redacted] Subclass members, with no modification to the defective Class Vehicles.

686. Ford provided Plaintiff [redacted] and the Tennessee Subclass members with an implied warranty that the Class Vehicles and their components and parts are merchantable and fit for the ordinary purposes for which they were sold.

687. This implied warranty included, among other things: (i) a warranty that the Class Vehicles that were manufactured, supplied, distributed, and/or sold by Ford were safe and reliable for providing transportation; and (ii) a warranty that the Class Vehicles would be fit for their intended use while the Class Vehicles were being operated.

688. Contrary to the applicable implied warranties, the Class Vehicles at the time of sale and thereafter were not fit for their ordinary and intended purpose of providing Plaintiffs and Class Members with reliable, durable, and safe transportation. Instead, the Class Vehicles were and are defective at the time of sale or lease and thereafter as more fully described above. Ford knew of this defect at the time these sale or lease transactions occurred.

689. As a result of Ford's breach of the applicable implied warranties, Plaintiff [redacted] and the [redacted] Subclass members suffered an ascertainable loss of money, property, and/or value of their Class Vehicles. Additionally, as a result of the Defect, Plaintiff [redacted] and the [redacted] Subclass members were harmed and suffered actual damages in that the Class Vehicles are substantially certain to fail before their expected useful life has run.

690. Ford's actions, as complained of herein, breached the implied warranty that the Class Vehicles were of merchantable quality and fit for such use in violation of the Uniform Commercial Code and relevant state law.

691. Plaintiff [redacted] and the [redacted] Subclass members have complied with all obligations under the warranty, or otherwise have been excused from performance of said obligations as a result of Ford's conduct described herein.

692. Plaintiff [redacted] and the [redacted] Subclass members were not required to notify Ford of the breach because affording Ford a reasonable opportunity to cure its breach of warranty would have been futile. Nevertheless, Plaintiff [redacted] served Ford with a demand letter notifying it of its breaches of implied warranty on September 11, 2023. Ford was also on notice of the Defect from the complaints and service requests it received from Plaintiff [redacted] and the [redacted] Subclass members and through other internal sources.

693. As a direct and proximate cause of Ford's breach, Plaintiff [redacted] and the [redacted] Subclass members suffered damages and continue to suffer damages, including economic damages at the point of sale or lease and diminution of value of their Class Vehicles. Additionally, Plaintiff [redacted] and the [redacted] Subclass members have incurred or will incur economic damages at the point of repair in the form of the cost of repair as well as additional losses.

694. As a direct and proximate result of Ford's breach of the implied warranty of merchantability, Plaintiff [redacted] and the [redacted] Subclass members have been damaged in an amount to be proven at trial.

COUNT XVI

Unjust Enrichment
In the Alternative to All Other Claims
All Plaintiffs, Individually and on Behalf of the State Subclasses

695. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference each preceding and succeeding paragraph as though fully set forth herein.

696. Plaintiffs bring this claim, under the laws of their respective home states, individually and on behalf of their respective State Subclasses.

697. This claim is pleaded in the alternative to the other claims set forth herein.

698. As the intended and expected result of its conscious wrongdoing, Ford has profited and benefited from the purchase and lease of Class Vehicles that contain the Defect.

699. In particular, the value of the Class Vehicles was artificially inflated by Ford's concealment of the Oil Pump Defect, and Plaintiffs and Class Members have overpaid for the cars and have been forced to pay other costs.

700. As a result of its wrongful acts, concealments, and omissions of the defect in its Class Vehicles, as set forth above, Ford charged higher prices for their vehicles than the vehicles' true value. Plaintiffs and Class Members paid than higher price for their vehicles to Ford's authorized distributors and dealers, which are in Ford's control and from whom Ford receives monetary benefits..

701. Moreover, Ford continues to profit from its ongoing wrongful behavior by denying the nature and existence of the Oil Pump Defect to Plaintiffs and Class Members during the duration of the Warranties, refusing to honor the Warranties, and selling replacement parts to Plaintiffs and the Class Members.

702. Ford has voluntarily accepted and retained these profits and benefits, knowing that, as a result of its misconduct alleged herein, Plaintiffs and the Class Members were not receiving Class Vehicles of the quality, nature, fitness, reliability, safety, or value that Ford had represented and that a reasonable consumer would expect. Plaintiffs and the Class Members expected that when they purchased or leased a Class Vehicle, it would not contain a Defect that makes the vehicle unreliable and poses a serious safety risk.

703. Plaintiffs and all Class members were not aware of the true facts about the Class Vehicles and did not benefit from Ford's conduct.

704. Ford has been unjustly enriched by its deceptive, wrongful, and unscrupulous conduct and by its withholding of benefits and monies from Plaintiffs and Class Members rightfully belonging to them.

705. Equity and good conscience militate against permitting Ford to retain these profits and benefits from its wrongful conduct.

706. As a result of the Defendant's unjust enrichment, Plaintiffs and Class Members have suffered damages.

707. Plaintiffs do not seek restitution under their Unjust Enrichment claim. Rather, Plaintiffs and Class Members seek non-restitutionary disgorgement of the financial profits that Defendant obtained as a result of its unjust conduct.

708. Additionally, Plaintiffs seek injunctive relief to compel Defendant to offer, under warranty, remediation solutions that Defendant identifies. Plaintiffs also seek injunctive relief enjoining Defendant from further deceptive distribution, sales, and lease practices with respect to Class Vehicles, enjoining Defendant from selling the Class Vehicles with the misleading information; compelling Defendant to provide Class members with a replacement components that do not contain the defects alleged herein; and/or compelling Defendant to reform its warranty, in a manner deemed to be appropriate by the Court, to cover the injury alleged and to notify all Class Members that such warranty has been reformed. Money damages are not an adequate remedy for the above requested non-monetary injunctive relief.

COUNT XVII

Violation of the Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act,
15 U.S.C. §§ 2301, *et seq.
All Plaintiffs, Individually

709. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference each preceding and succeeding paragraph as though fully set forth herein.

710. Plaintiffs bring this cause of action individually.

711. This Court has jurisdiction to decide claims brought under 15 U.S.C. § 2301 by virtue of 28 U.S.C. §§ 1332(a) and (d).

712. Plaintiffs are "consumers" within the meaning of the Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act, 15 U.S.C. § 2301(3).

713. Ford is a "supplier" and "warrantor" within the meaning of the Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act, 15 U.S.C. 2301(4)-(5).

714. The Class Vehicles are "consumer products" within the meaning of the Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act, 15 U.S.C. § 2301(1).

715. 15 U.S.C. § 2301(d)(1) provides a cause of action for any consumer who is damaged by the failure of a warrantor to comply with a written warranty.

716. In its Limited Warranty, Ford expressly warranted that it would repair or replace defects in material or workmanship free of charge if those defects became apparent during the warranty period.

717. Ford's Limited Warranty is a written warranty within the meaning of the Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act, 15 U.S.C. § 2301(6). The Class Vehicles' implied warranty of merchantability is covered by 15 U.S.C. 2301(7).

718. With respect to Plaintiffs' purchases of the Class Vehicles, the terms of Ford's written warranty and implied warranty became part of the basis of the bargain between Ford, on the one hand, and Plaintiffs, on the other.

719. Ford breached the implied warranty of merchantability. Without limitation, the Class Vehicles have engines that leak coolant, overheat, fail, and in some instances catch fire, as described above, and which thus render the Class Vehicles unmerchantable.

720. Ford breached its express Limited Warranty by refusing to repair the defective engines in the Class Vehicles. Plaintiffs presented their vehicles for repair and Ford failed to remedy the Oil Pump Defect, whether by refusing to repair or replace the engine, providing ineffective repairs, installing another engine with the same Oil Pump Defect, or otherwise.

721. Plaintiffs [redacted] and [redacted] individually and on behalf of the members of the proposed Class, notified Ford of the Oil Pump Defect in the Class Vehicles, and its corresponding breach of warranty, through a notice letter delivered by courier on May 23, 2023 to Ford's registered agent in [redacted] [redacted]

722. Ford was also provided notice of the defect through thousands of consumer complaints and information about service repairs from its dealerships. Ford has not remedied the breach.

723. Further, Ford has refused to provide an adequate warranty repair for the Oil Pump Defect, thus rendering the satisfaction of any notice requirement futile. As stated above, customers that have presented their vehicles for warranty repair due to oil pressure problems and engine failure have simply been provided either replacement parts that do nothing to fix the Oil Pump Defect, or replacement defective engines.

724. At the time of sale or lease of each Class Vehicle, Ford knew, should have known, or was reckless in not knowing of the Class Vehicles' inability to perform as warranted, but nonetheless failed to rectify the situation and/or disclose the Oil Pump Defect. Under the circumstances, the remedies available under any informal settlement procedure would be inadequate and futile, and any requirement that Plaintiffs resort to an informal dispute resolution procedure and/or afford Ford a reasonable opportunity to cure its breach of warranties is excused and thus deemed satisfied.

725. The amount in controversy of Plaintiffs' individual claims meet or exceed the sum of $25. The amount in controversy in this action exceeds the sum of $50,000, exclusive of interest and costs, computed on the basis of all claims to be determined in this lawsuit.

726. As a direct and proximate result of Ford's breaches of its Limited Warranty and the implied warranty of merchantability, Plaintiffs have sustained damages in an amount to be determined at trial.

727. Plaintiffs seek all damages permitted by law, including the diminution in value of their vehicles, in an amount to be proven at trial.

COUNT XVIII

Fraud by Omission or Fraudulent Concealment
All Plaintiffs, Individually and on Behalf of the Nationwide Class,
Or, in the Alternative, on Behalf of All Subclasses

728. Plaintiffs reallege and incorporate by reference all allegations of the preceding paragraphs as though fully set forth herein.

729. Plaintiffs bring this cause of action on behalf of themselves and the Nationwide Class against Defendant as there are no true conflicts among the states' laws of fraudulent concealment/omission. Defendant is liable for both fraudulent concealment and non-disclosure, including the resultant fraudulent inducement. See, e.g., Restatement (Second) Torts §§ 550-51 (1977). In alternative, Plaintiffs bring this claim on behalf of each of the State Subclasses, against Defendant.

730. Ford distributed and sold the Class Vehicles in all 50 states. Ford also drafted, distributed, and disseminated the same advertising materials in all 50 states, including on the website it maintains to advertise the Class Vehicles. Those materials omitted any mention of the Defect and its associated safety concerns.

731. Ford also drafted the Monroney Stickers which were affixed to Class Vehicles and contained other safety information about the vehicles, including the safety systems available on the vehicles such as airbags, autonomous braking and other systems, but failed to disclose the Defect and its associated safety concerns.

732. Ford knew that the Class Vehicles suffered from an inherent Oil Pump Defect, were defectively designed and/or manufactured and were not suitable for their intended use.

733. Defendant concealed from and failed to disclose to Plaintiffs and Class Members the defective nature of the Class Vehicles.

734. Defendant was under a duty to Plaintiffs and Class Members to disclose the defective nature of the Class Vehicles because:

735. Defendant was in a superior position to know the true state of facts about the safety defect contained in the Class Vehicles;

a. The omitted facts were material because they directly impact the safety of the Class Vehicles;

b. Defendant knew the omitted facts regarding the Oil Pump Defect were not known to or reasonably discoverable by Plaintiffs and Class Members;

c. Defendant made partial disclosures about the quality of the Class Vehicles without revealing their true defective nature; and,

d. Defendant actively concealed the defective nature of the Class Vehicles from Plaintiffs and Class Members.

736. Ford also had a statutory duty to disclose known safety defects to consumers and NHTSA under federal motor vehicle safety law.

737. The facts concealed or not disclosed by Defendant to Plaintiffs and the other Class Members are material in that a reasonable person would have considered them to be important in deciding whether to purchase or lease Defendant's Class Vehicles or pay a lesser price for them.

Whether a Class Vehicle's oil pump is defective, which can cause the vehicle to go into limp mode, lose power while driving, and complete failure, is a material safety concern. Had Plaintiffs and Class Members known about the defective nature of the Class Vehicles, they would not have purchased or leased the Class Vehicles or would have paid less for them.

738. Defendant concealed or failed to disclose the true nature of the design and/or manufacturing defects contained in the Class Vehicles to induce Plaintiffs and Class Members to act thereon. Plaintiffs and the other Class Members justifiably relied on Defendant's omissions to their detriment. This detriment is evident from Plaintiffs' and Class Members' purchase or lease of Defendant's defective Class Vehicles.

739. Defendant continued to conceal the defective nature of the Class Vehicles even after Class Members began to report the problems. Indeed, Defendant continues to cover up and conceal the true nature of the problem today.

740. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's misconduct, Plaintiffs and Class Members have suffered and will continue to suffer actual damages. Plaintiffs and the Class reserve their right to elect either to (a) rescind their purchase or lease of the defective Vehicles and obtain restitution or (b) affirm their purchase or lease of the defective Vehicles and recover damages.

741. Defendant's acts were done maliciously, oppressively, deliberately, with intent to defraud, and in reckless disregard of Plaintiffs' and the Class's rights and well-being to enrich Defendant. Defendant's conduct warrants an assessment of punitive damages in an amount sufficient to deter such conduct in the future, which amount is to be determined according to proof.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs, individually and on behalf of all others similarly situated, hereby requests that this Court enter an Order against Ford providing for the following:

A. Certification of the proposed Class, appointment of Plaintiffs and their counsel to represent the Class, and provision of notice to the Class;

B. An order permanently enjoining Ford from continuing the unlawful, deceptive, fraudulent, and unfair business practices alleged in this Complaint

C. Injunctive relief in the form of a recall or free replacement/repair program;

D. Equitable relief, including in the form of buyback of the Class Vehicles;

E. Costs, restitution, damages, including punitive damages, penalties, and disgorgement in an amount to be determined at trial;

F. An Order requiring Ford to pay pre- and post-judgment interest on any amounts awarded, as provided by law;

G. An award of reasonable attorneys' fees and costs as permitted by law; and

H. Such other or further relief as may be appropriate.

JURY DEMAND

Plaintiffs hereby demand a trial by jury for all claims so triable.

Respectfully submitted,

- Parts and accessories for Ford, Mercury, and Lincoln cars, and light trucks: 12 months or 12,000 miles, whichever comes first,
- Parts and accessories for 600 and higher series trucks: 12 months / unlimited miles.

The only requirement of the purchaser is to return the defective part or accessory to the dealer's place of business during regular business hours for repair or replacement. The purchaser must have the original counter sale receipt or repair order for a dealer-installed part or accessory in order to validate the date and mileage on the vehicle at the date of sale or installation of the original part or accessory.

If the purchaser is traveling or has moved to a different locality, any authorized Ford Motor Company Dealer will fulfill this warranty.

NOTE: Contact your Ford Dealer to verify any exceptions to warranty coverages.

IMPORTANT: When a service part or accessory (either dealer-installed on a customer-pay basis or sold over-the-counter) fails and is replaced or exchanged at no charge to the purchaser, the replacement part or accessory assumes only the remaining, unexpired portion of the warranty on the original purchased part or accessory. The warranty period does not start over.

THIS WARRANTY DOES NOT COVER PARTS AND ACCESSORIES THAT FAIL DUE TO ABUSE, MISUSE, NEGLECT, ALTERATION, ACCIDENT, RACING, OR THE USE OF NON-FORD PARTS, OR PARTS WHICH ARE REPLACED AS A PART OF NORMAL MAINTENANCE.

TO THE EXTENT ALLOWED BY LAW, LOSS OF TIME, INCONVENIENCE, LOSS OF USE OF THE VEHICLE, COMMERCIAL LOSS, OR CONSEQUENTIAL DAMAGES ARE NOT COVERED.

THERE IS NO OTHER EXPRESSED WARRANTY OF FORD MOTOR COMPANY - SUPPLIED REPLACEMENT PARTS AND ACCESSORIES.

ANY IMPLIED WARRANTY OF MERCHANTABILITY OR FITNESS IS LIMITED TO THE DURATION OF THIS WRITTEN WARRANTY.

SOME STATES DO NOT ALLOW THE EXCLUSION OR LIMITATION OF CONSEQUENTIAL OR INCIDENTAL DAMAGES OR LIMITATIONS ON HOW LONG AN IMPLIED WARRANTY LASTS; THEREFORE, THE ABOVE LIMITATIONS AND EXCLUSIONS MAY NOT ALWAYS APPLY. THIS WARRANTY GIVES YOU SPECIFIC LEGAL RIGHTS. YOU MAY ALSO HAVE OTHER RIGHTS WHICH VARY FROM STATE TO STATE.

The dealer warrants to the original purchaser, retail, fleet, and wholesaler, that Ford parts and accessories found to be defective in factory-supplied material or workmanship will be repaired, replaced, or exchanged for:

- Parts and accessories for Ford, Mercury, and Lincoln cars, and light trucks: 12 months or 12,000 miles, whichever comes first,
- Parts and accessories for 600 and higher series trucks: 12 months / unlimited miles.

The only requirement of the purchaser is to return the defective part or accessory to the dealer's place of business during regular business hours for repair or replacement. The purchaser must have the original counter sale receipt or repair order for a dealer-installed part or accessory in order to validate the date and mileage on the vehicle at the date of sale or installation of the original part or accessory.

If the purchaser is traveling or has moved to a different locality, any authorized Ford Motor Company Dealer will fulfill this warranty.

NOTE: Contact your Ford Dealer to verify any exceptions to warranty coverages.

IMPORTANT: When a service part or accessory (either dealer-installed on a customer-pay basis or sold over-the-counter) fails and is replaced or exchanged at no charge to the purchaser, the replacement part or accessory assumes only the remaining, unexpired portion of the warranty on the original purchased part or accessory. The warranty period does not start over.

THIS WARRANTY DOES NOT COVER PARTS AND ACCESSORIES THAT FAIL DUE TO ABUSE, MISUSE, NEGLECT, ALTERATION, ACCIDENT, RACING, OR THE USE OF NON-FORD PARTS, OR PARTS WHICH ARE REPLACED AS A PART OF NORMAL MAINTENANCE.

TO THE EXTENT ALLOWED BY LAW, LOSS OF TIME, INCONVENIENCE, LOSS OF USE OF THE VEHICLE, COMMERCIAL LOSS, OR CONSEQUENTIAL DAMAGES ARE NOT COVERED.

THERE IS NO OTHER EXPRESSED WARRANTY OF FORD MOTOR COMPANY - SUPPLIED REPLACEMENT PARTS AND ACCESSORIES.

ANY IMPLIED WARRANTY OF MERCHANTABILITY OR FITNESS IS LIMITED TO THE DURATION OF THIS WRITTEN WARRANTY.

SOME STATES DO NOT ALLOW THE EXCLUSION OR LIMITATION OF CONSEQUENTIAL OR INCIDENTAL DAMAGES OR LIMITATIONS ON HOW LONG AN IMPLIED WARRANTY LASTS; THEREFORE, THE ABOVE LIMITATIONS AND EXCLUSIONS MAY NOT ALWAYS APPLY. THIS WARRANTY GIVES YOU SPECIFIC LEGAL RIGHTS. YOU MAY ALSO HAVE OTHER RIGHTS WHICH VARY FROM STATE TO STATE.

BATTERY LIMITED WARRANTY:

- TOYOTA authorized replacement batteries are warranted from the date of purchase or installation for 18 months, regardless of mileage, or the remainder of any applicable New Vehicle Warranty, whichever provides greater coverage, and on a prorated basis thereafter. The prorated amount equal to the remaining warranty months, depending on your battery, will be credited toward that of a comparable TOYOTA replacement battery, excluding taxes and installation.

TIRE LIMITED WARRANTY:

- Tires are warranted independently by the tire manufacturer. See manufacturer's statement for details.

WHAT IS NOT COVERED:

- Damage to a TOYOTA part or accessory caused by a non-genuine or unauthorized TOYOTA part or component is not covered.
- Labor for removal from a vehicle and reinstallation of a part or accessory sold "over-the-counter" is not covered.
- Labor, parts and other costs (such as all lubricants) connected with recommended maintenance service are not covered. Service adjustments, such as calibration or alignments are not covered.
- Failures or damages resulting from improper installation, removal, repair, misuse, negligence, accidents, or modification of the part or the accessory are not covered.
- This Limited Warranty does not apply where the vehicle mileage cannot be determined, or has been altered, or where proof of purchase is unavailable.
- INCIDENTAL OR CONSEQUENTIAL DAMAGES (FOR OTHER THAN PERSONAL INJURY) RESULTING FROM BREACH OF THIS WRITTEN WARRANTY OR ANY IMPLIED WARRANTY (SUCH AS TELEPHONE CALLS, LOSS OF TIME, INCONVENIENCE, OR COMMERCIAL LOSS) ARE NOT COVERED.
- ANY IMPLIED WARRANTIES INCLUDING THOSE OF MERCHANTABILITY OR FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE ARE LIMITED TO THE APPLICABLE DURATION OF THIS WRITTEN WARRANTY.
- SOME STATES DO NOT ALLOW LIMITATION ON HOW LONG AN IMPLIED WARRANTY LASTS, OR THE EXCLUSION OR LIMITATION OF INCIDENTAL OR CONSEQUENTIAL DAMAGES, SO THE ABOVE LIMITATIONS OR EXCLUSIONS MAY NOT APPLY TO YOU.
- THIS IS THE ONLY EXPRESS WARRANTY AUTHORIZED BY TOYOTA. THE PERFORMANCE OF REPAIRS OR THE REPLACEMENT OF THE PART ARE THE EXCLUSIVE REMEDIES UNDER THIS WARRANTY OR ANY IMPLIED WARRANTY. TOYOTA DOES NOT AUTHORIZE ANY PERSON TO CREATE FOR IT ANY OTHER OBLIGATION OR LIABILITY IN CONNECTION WITH TOYOTA PARTS OR ACCESSORIES.
- This warranty gives you specific legal rights and you may also have other rights which vary from state to state.

OWNER'S REPONSIBILITIES:

- To obtain this warranty coverage, return the part or accessory, or vehicle to which it is attached, to any authorized TOYOTA dealer.
- Because warranty coverage periods are calculated on a time or mileage basis from the date of purchase, it is recommended that you retain proof of the purchase date and vehicle mileage at the time of purchase.

NOTICE! You have been sued. The court may decide against you without your being heard unless you respond within 30 days. Read the information below.

You have 30 CALENDAR DAYS after this summons and legal papers are served on you to file a written response at this court and have a copy served on the plaintiff. A letter or phone call will not protect you. Your written response must be in proper legal form if you want the court to hear your case. There may be a court form that you can use for your response. You can find these court forms and more information at the California Courts Online Self-Help Center (www.courtinfo.ca.gov/selfhelp), your county law library, or the courthouse nearest you. If you cannot pay the filing fee, ask the court clerk for a fee waiver form. If you do not file your response on time, you may lose the case by default, and your wages, money, and property may be taken without further warning from the court.

There are other legal requirements. You may want to call an attorney right away. If you do not know an attorney, you may want to call an attorney referral service. If you cannot afford an attorney, you may be eligible for free legal services from a nonprofit legal services program. You can locate these nonprofit groups at the California Legal Services Web site (www.lawhelpcalifornia.org), the California Courts Online Self-Help Center (www.courtinfo.ca.gov/selfhelp), or by contacting your local court or county bar association. NOTE: The court has a statutory lien for waived fees and costs on any settlement or arbitration award of $10,000 or more in a civil case. The court's lien must be paid before the court will dismiss the case.

Es posible que haya un formulario que usted pueda usar para su respuesta. Puede encontrar estos formularios de la corte y más información en el Centro de Ayuda de las Cortes de California (www.sucorte.ca.gov), en la biblioteca de leyes de su condado o en la corte que le quede más cerca. Si no puede pagar la cuota de presentación, pida al secretario de la corte que le dé un formulario de exención de pago de cuotas. ## INSTRUCTIONS ON HOW TO COMPLETE THE COVER SHEET

To Plaintiffs and Others Filing First Papers. If you are filing a first paper (for example, a complaint) in a civil case, you must complete and file, along with your first paper, the Civil Case Cover Sheet contained on page 1. This information will be used to compile statistics about the types and numbers of cases filed. You must complete items 1 through 6 on the sheet. In item 1, you must check one box for the case type that best describes the case. If the case fits both a general and a more specific type of case listed in item 1, check the more specific one. If the case has multiple causes of action, check the box that best indicates the primary cause of action. To assist you in completing the sheet, examples of the cases that belong under each case type in item 1 are provided below. A cover sheet must be filed only with your initial paper. Failure to file a cover sheet with the first paper filed in a civil case may subject a party, its counsel, or both to sanctions under rules 2.30 and 3.220 of the California Rules of Court.

To Parties in Rule 3.740 Collections Cases. A "collections case" under rule 3.740 is defined as an action for recovery of money owed in a sum stated to be certain that is not more than $25,000, exclusive of interest and attorney's fees, arising from a transaction in which property, services, or money was acquired on credit. A collections case does not include an action seeking the following: (1) tort damages, (2) punitive damages, (3) recovery of real property, (4) recovery of personal property, or (5) a prejudgment writ of attachment. The identification of a case as a rule 3.740 collections case on this form means that it will be exempt from the general time-for-service requirements and case management rules, unless a defendant files a responsive pleading. A rule 3.740 collections case will be subject to the requirements for service and obtaining a judgment in rule 3.740.

To Parties in Complex Cases. In complex cases only, parties must also use the Civil Case Cover Sheet to designate whether the case is complex. If a plaintiff believes the case is complex under rule 3.400 of the California Rules of Court, this must be indicated by completing the appropriate boxes in items 1 and 2. If a plaintiff designates a case as complex, the cover sheet must be served with the complaint on all parties to the action. A defendant may file and serve no later than the time of its first appearance a joinder in the plaintiff's designation, a counter-designation that the case is not complex, or, if the plaintiff has made no designation, a designation that the case is complex.

1. Breach of Implied Warranty of Merchantability under the Song-Beverly Warranty Act.
2. Breach of Express Warranty under the Song-Beverly Warranty Act.

JURY TRIAL DEMANDED.

Plaintiff [redacted] an individual, hereby alleges and complains as follows:

GENERAL ALLEGATIONS COMMON TO ALL CAUSES OF ACTION

1. Plaintiff is an individual, residing in the City of Los Angeles, in the State of California.

2. Defendant, FORD MOTOR COMPANY, (hereinafter referred to as "Manufacturer"), is a Delaware corporation doing business in the County of Los Angeles, State of California, and, at all times relevant herein, was/is engaged in the manufacture, sale, distribution, and/or importing of Ford motor vehicles and related equipment.

Law Offices of Adam Zolonz, A.P.C.
1680 N. Vine Street, Suite 912
Los Angeles, CA 90028

3. Defendant, FORD OF MONTEBELLO, INC. is a Delaware corporation doing business in the County of Los Angeles, State of California, and, at all times relevant herein, a Manufacturer-authorized agent engaged in the business of selling/leasing and servicing and repairing Manufacturer's vehicles.

4. The true names and capacities, whether individual, corporate, associate, or otherwise, of the Defendants, Does 1 through 20, inclusive, are unknown to Plaintiff who therefore sues these Defendants by such fictitious names. Plaintiff will seek leave to amend this Complaint to set forth their true names and capacities when they have ascertained them. Further, Plaintiff is informed and believes, and thereon alleges, that each of the Defendants designated herein as a "Doe" is responsible in some manner for the events and happenings herein referred to and caused injury and damage to Plaintiff as herein alleged.

5. Plaintiff is informed and believes, and thereon alleges, that at all times herein mentioned, Defendants, and each of them, were the agents, servants, and/or employees of each of their Co-Defendants. Plaintiff is informed and believes, and thereon alleges, that in doing the things hereinafter alleged Defendants, and each of them, were acting in the course and scope of their employment as such agents, servants, and/or employees, and with the permission, consent, knowledge, and/or ratification of their Co-Defendants, principals, and/or employers.

6. Before February 2019, defendants Manufacturer and Does 1 through 20 inclusive, manufactured and/or distributed into the stream of commerce a used 2018 Ford EcoSport, VIN MAJ3P1TE1JC199331 (hereinafter referred to as the "Vehicle") for its eventual sale/lease in the State of California.

7. On or about February 20, 2019, Plaintiff purchased, for personal, family, and/or household purposes, the subject Vehicle from the Seller for a total consideration over the term of the installment contract of approximately $21,000. The Purchase Agreement is in the possession of Defendants.

8. The subject Vehicle was/is a "new motor vehicle" under the Song-Beverly Warranty Act.

9. Along with the purchase of the Vehicle, Plaintiff received written warranties and other express and implied warranties including, but not limited to, warranties from Manufacturer and Seller that the Vehicle and its components would be free from all defects in material and workmanship; that the Vehicle would pass without objection in the trade under the contract description; that the Vehicle would be fit for the ordinary purposes for which it was intended; that the Vehicle would conform to the promises and affirmations of fact made; that Defendants, and each of them, would perform any repairs, alignments, adjustments, and/or replacements of any parts necessary to ensure that the Vehicle was free from any defects in material and workmanship; that Defendants, and each of them, would maintain the utility of the Vehicle for four years or 50,000 miles and would conform the Vehicle to the applicable express warranties. (A copy of the written warranty is in the possession of the Defendants).

Law Offices of Adam Zolonz, A.P.C.
1680 N. Vine Street, Suite 912

10. Plaintiff has duly performed all the conditions on Plaintiff's part under the purchase agreement and under the express and implied warranties given to plaintiff, except insofar as the acts and/or omissions of the Defendants, and each of them, as alleged herein, prevented and/or excused such performance.

11. Plaintiff has delivered the Vehicle to the Manufacturer's authorized service and repair facilities, agents and/or dealers, including Seller, on at least three (3) separate occasions resulting in the Vehicle being out of service by reason of repair of nonconformities. Repair Orders/Invoices are in the possession of Defendants.

12. By way of example, and not by way of limitation, the defects, malfunctions, misadjustments, and/or nonconformities with Plaintiff's Vehicle include the following: Plaintiff has submitted the subject Vehicle for defects and malfunctions, specifically for engine, and other defects.

13. Each time Plaintiff delivered the nonconforming Vehicle to a Manufacturer-authorized service and repair facility, Plaintiff notified Defendants, and each of them, of the defects, malfunctions, misadjustments, and/or nonconformities existent with the Vehicle and demanded that Manufacturer or its representatives repair, adjust, and/or replace any necessary parts to conform the Vehicle to the applicable warranties.

14. Each time Plaintiff delivered the nonconforming Vehicle to a Manufacturer-authorized service and repair facility, Defendants, and each of them, represented to Plaintiff that they could and would conform the Vehicle to the applicable warranties, that in fact they did conform the Vehicle to said warranties, and that all the defects, malfunctions, misadjustments, and/or nonconformities have been repaired; however, Manufacturer or its representatives failed to conform the Vehicle to the applicable warranties because said defects, malfunctions, misadjustments, and/or nonconformities continue to exist even after a reasonable number of attempts to repair was given.

Law Offices of Adam Zolonz, A.P.C.
1680 N. Vine Street, Suite 912

15. The amount in controversy exceeds TWENTY-FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS ($25,000.00), exclusive of interest and costs, for which Plaintiff seeks judgment against Defendants, together with equitable relief. In addition, Plaintiff seeks damages from Defendants, and each of them, for incidental, consequential, exemplary, and actual damages including interest, costs, and actual attorneys' fees.

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

Breach of Implied Warranty of Merchantability under Song-Beverly Warranty Act

Against all Defendants

16. Plaintiff realleges each and every paragraph (1-15) and incorporates them by this reference as though fully set forth herein.

17. The distribution and sale of the Vehicle was accompanied by the Manufacturer and Seller's implied warranty that the Vehicle was merchantable.

18. Furthermore, Defendants, and each of them, impliedly warranted, inter alia, that the Vehicle would pass without objection in the trade under the contract description; that the Vehicle was fit for the ordinary purposes for which it was intended; that the Vehicle was adequately assembled; and/or that the Vehicle conformed to the promises or affirmations of fact made to Plaintiff.

19. As evidenced by the defects, malfunctions, misadjustments, and/or nonconformities alleged herein, the Vehicle was not merchantable because it did not have the quality that a buyer would reasonably expect, because it could not pass without objection in the trade under the contract description; because it was not fit for the ordinary purposes for which it was intended; because it was not adequately assembled; and/or because it did not or could not be conformed to the promises or affirmations of fact made to Plaintiff.

Law Offices of Adam Zolonz, A.P.C.
Los Angeles, CA 90028

20. Upon discovery of the Vehicle's nonconformities, Plaintiff took reasonable steps to notify Defendants, and each of them, within a reasonable time that the Vehicle did not have the quality that a buyer would reasonably expect and, further, justifiably revoked acceptance of the nonconforming Vehicle.

21. Plaintiff hereby gives written notice and justifiably revokes acceptance of the nonconforming Vehicle under the Commercial Code sections 2607 and 2608. Plaintiff further demands that the Manufacturer cancel the sale, take back the nonconforming Vehicle, refund all the money expended, pay the difference between the value of the Vehicle as accepted and the value the Vehicle would have had if it had been as warranted, and/or pay damages under the Commercial Code sections 2711, 2714, and 2715. Defendants, and each of them, have, however, refused to comply. Notification Letter is in the possession of Defendants.

22. Plaintiff hereby gives written notice and makes demand upon Manufacturer and Seller for replacement or restitution, pursuant to Song-Beverly. Defendants, and each of them, knew of their obligations under Song-Beverly; however, despite Plaintiff's demand, Defendants and each of them, have intentionally failed and refused to make restitution or replacement pursuant to Song-Beverly.

23. As a result of the acts and/or omissions of the Defendants, and each of them, Plaintiff has sustained damage in the amount actually paid or payable under the contract, plus prejudgment interest thereon at the legal rate. Plaintiff will seek leave to amend this Complaint to set forth the exact amount thereof when that amount is ascertained.

24. As a further result of the actions of Defendants, and each of them, Plaintiff has sustained incidental and consequential damages in an amount yet to be determined, plus interest thereon at the legal rate. Plaintiff will seek leave to amend this Complaint to set forth the exact amount of incidental damages when that amount is ascertained.

25. As a further result of the actions of Defendants, and each of them, Plaintiff has sustained damages equal to the difference between the value of the Vehicle as accepted and the value the Vehicle would have had if it had been as warranted.

26. As a direct result of the acts and/or omissions of Defendants, and each of them, and in pursuing Plaintiff's claim, it was necessary for Plaintiff to retain legal counsel. Pursuant to Song-Beverly, Plaintiff, in addition to her other remedies, is entitled to the recovery of her attorneys' fees based upon actual time expended and reasonably incurred, in connection with the commencement and prosecution of this action.

Law Offices of Adam Zolonz, A.P.C.
1680 N. Vine Street, Suite 912
Los Angeles, CA 90028

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

Breach of Express Warranty under Song-Beverly Warranty Act

Against all Defendants

27. Plaintiff realleges each and every paragraph (1-26) and incorporates them by this reference as though fully set forth herein.

28. The Vehicle had defects, malfunctions, misadjustments, and/or nonconformities covered by the warranty that substantially impaired its value, use, or safety to Plaintiff.

29. Plaintiff delivered the Vehicle to Manufacturer or its authorized repair facilities for repair.

30. Defendants, and each of them, failed to service or repair the Vehicle to match the written warranty after a reasonable number of opportunities to do so.

31. The acts and/or omissions of Defendants, and each of them, in failing to perform the proper repairs, part replacements, and/or adjustments, to conform the Vehicle to the applicable express warranties constitute a breach of the express warranties that the Manufacturer provided to Plaintiff, thereby breaching Defendants' obligations under Song-Beverly.

32. Defendants, and each of them, failed to perform the necessary repairs and/or service in good and workmanlike manner. The actions taken by Defendants, and each of them, were insufficient to make the Subject Vehicle conform to the express warranties and/or proper operational characteristics of like Vehicles, all in violation of Defendants' obligations under Song-Beverly.

33. Plaintiff hereby gives written notice and makes demand upon Manufacturer and Seller for replacement or restitution, pursuant to Song-Beverly. Defendants, and each of them, knowing their obligations under Song-Beverly, and despite Plaintiff's demand, failed and refused to make restitution or replacement according to the mandates of Song-Beverly. The failure of Defendants, and each of them, to refund the price paid and payable or to replace the Vehicle was intentional and justifies an award of a Civil Penalty in an amount not to exceed two times Plaintiff's actual damages.

Law Offices of Adam Zolonz, A.P.C.
1680 N. Vine Street, Suite 912

34. As a result of the acts and/or omissions of Defendants, and each of them, and pursuant to the provisions of the Song-Beverly, Plaintiff is entitled to replacement of the Vehicle or restitution of the amount actually paid or payable under the contract, at Plaintiff's election, plus prejudgment interest thereon at the legal rate. Plaintiff will seek leave of Court to amend this Complaint to set forth the exact amount of restitution and interest, upon election, when that amount has been ascertained.

35. Additionally, as a result of the acts and/or omissions of Defendants, and each of them, and pursuant to Song-Beverly, Plaintiff has sustained and is entitled to consequential and incidental damages in amounts yet to be determined, plus interest thereon at the legal rate. Plaintiff will seek leave of the court to amend this complaint to set forth the exact amount of consequential and/or incidental damages, when those amounts have been ascertained.

36. As a direct result of the acts and/or omissions of Defendants, and each of them, and in pursuing Plaintiff's claim, it was necessary for Plaintiff to retain legal counsel. Pursuant to Song-Beverly, Plaintiff, in addition to other remedies, is entitled to the recovery of her attorneys' fees based upon actual time expended and reasonably incurred, in connection with the commencement and prosecution of this action.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR HANDLING UNLIMITED CIVIL CASES

The following critical provisions of the California Rules of Court, Title 3, Division 7, as applicable in the Superior Court, are summarized for your assistance.

APPLICATION
The Division 7 Rules were effective January 1, 2007. They apply to all general civil cases.

PRIORITY OVER OTHER RULES
The Division 7 Rules shall have priority over all other Local Rules to the extent the others are inconsistent.

CHALLENGE TO ASSIGNED JUDGE
A challenge under Code of Civil Procedure Section 170.6 must be made within 15 days after notice of assignment for all purposes to a judge, or if a party has not yet appeared, within 15 days of the first appearance.

TIME STANDARDS
Cases assigned to the Independent Calendaring Courts will be subject to processing under the following time standards:

COMPLAINTS
All complaints shall be served within 60 days of filing and proof of service shall be filed within 90 days.

CROSS-COMPLAINTS
Without leave of court first being obtained, no cross-complaint may be filed by any party after their answer is filed. Cross-complaints shall be served within 30 days of the filing date and a proof of service filed within 60 days of the filing date.

STATUS CONFERENCE
A status conference will be scheduled by the assigned Independent Calendar Judge no later than 270 days after the filing of the complaint. Counsel must be fully prepared to discuss the following issues: alternative dispute resolution, bifurcation, settlement, trial date, and expert witnesses.

FINAL STATUS CONFERENCE
The Court will require the parties to attend a final status conference not more than 10 days before the scheduled trial date. All parties shall have motions in limine, bifurcation motions, statements of major evidentiary issues, dispositive motions, requested form jury instructions, special jury instructions, and special jury verdicts timely filed and served prior to the conference. These matters may be heard and resolved at this conference. At least five days before this conference, counsel must also have exchanged lists of exhibits and witnesses, and have submitted to the court a brief statement of the case to be read to the jury panel as required by Chapter Three of the Los Angeles Superior Court Rules.

SANCTIONS
The court will impose appropriate sanctions for the failure or refusal to comply with Chapter Three Rules, orders made by the Court, and time standards or deadlines established by the Court or by the Chapter Three Rules. Such sanctions may be on a party, or if appropriate, on counsel for a party.

This is not a complete delineation of the Division 7 or Chapter Three Rules, and adherence only to the above provisions is therefore not a guarantee against the imposition of sanctions under Trial Court Delay Reduction. Careful reading and compliance with the actual Chapter Rules is imperative.

Class Actions
Pursuant to Local Rule 2.3, all class actions shall be filed at the Stanley Mosk Courthouse and are randomly assigned to a complex judge at the designated complex courthouse. If the case is found not to be a class action it will be returned to an Independent Calendar Courtroom for all purposes.

Provisionally Complex Cases
Cases filed as provisionally complex are initially assigned to the Supervising Judge of complex litigation for determination of complex status. If the case is deemed to be complex within the meaning of California Rules of Court 3.400 et seq., it will be randomly assigned to a complex judge at the designated complex courthouse. If the case is found not to be complex, it will be returned to an Independent Calendar Courtroom for all purposes.

This stipulation is intended to encourage cooperation among the parties at an early stage in the litigation and to assist the parties in efficient case resolution.

The parties agree that:

1. The parties commit to conduct an initial conference (in-person or via teleconference or via videoconference) within 15 days from the date this stipulation is signed, to discuss and consider whether there can be agreement on the following:

   a. Are motions to challenge the pleadings necessary? If the issue can be resolved by amendment as of right, or if the Court would allow leave to amend, could an amended complaint resolve most or all of the issues a demurrer might otherwise raise? If so, the parties agree to work through pleading issues so that a demurrer need only raise issues they cannot resolve. Is the issue that the defendant seeks to raise amenable to resolution on demurrer, or would some other type of motion be preferable? Could a voluntary targeted exchange of documents or information by any party cure an uncertainty in the pleadings?

   b. Initial mutual exchanges of documents at the "core" of the litigation. (For example, in an employment case, the employment records, personnel file and documents relating to the conduct in question could be considered "core." In a personal injury case, an incident or police report, medical records, and repair or maintenance records could be considered "core.");

   c. Exchange of names and contact information of witnesses;

   d. Any insurance agreement that may be available to satisfy part or all of a judgment, or to indemnify or reimburse for payments made to satisfy a judgment;

   e. Exchange of any other information that might be helpful to facilitate understanding, handling, or resolution of the case in a manner that preserves objections or privileges by agreement;

   f. Controlling issues of law that, if resolved early, will promote efficiency and economy in other phases of the case. Also, when and how such issues can be presented to the Court;

   g. Whether or when the case should be scheduled with a settlement officer, what discovery or court ruling on legal issues is reasonably required to make settlement discussions meaningful, and whether the parties wish to use a sitting judge or a private mediator or other options as

h. Computation of damages, including documents, not privileged or protected from disclosure, on which such computation is based;

i. Whether the case is suitable for the Expedited Jury Trial procedures (see information at www.lacourt.org under "Civil" and then under "General Information").

2. This stipulation is intended to provide a fast and informal resolution of discovery issues through limited paperwork and an informal conference with the Court to aid in the resolution of the issues.

The parties agree that:

1. Prior to the discovery cut-off in this action, no discovery motion shall be filed or heard unless the moving party first makes a written request for an Informal Discovery Conference pursuant to the terms of this stipulation.

2. At the Informal Discovery Conference the Court will consider the dispute presented by parties and determine whether it can be resolved informally. Nothing set forth herein will preclude a party from making a record at the conclusion of an Informal Discovery Conference, either orally or in writing.

3. Following a reasonable and good faith attempt at an informal resolution of each issue to be presented, a party may request an Informal Discovery Conference pursuant to the following procedures:

    a. The party requesting the Informal Discovery Conference will:

        i. File a Request for Informal Discovery Conference with the clerk's office on the approved form (copy attached) and deliver a courtesy, conformed copy to the assigned department;

iii. Be filed within two (2) court days of receipt of the Request; and

c. No other pleadings, including but not limited to exhibits, declarations, or attachments, will be accepted.

d. If the Court has not granted or denied the Request for Informal Discovery Conference within ten (10) days following the filing of the Request, then it shall be deemed to have been denied. If the Court acts on the Request, the parties will be notified whether the Request for Informal Discovery Conference has been granted or denied and, if granted, the date and time of the Informal Discovery Conference, which must be within twenty (20) days of the filing of the Request for Informal Discovery Conference.

e. If the conference is not held within twenty (20) days of the filing of the Request for Informal Discovery Conference, unless extended by agreement of the parties and the Court, then the Request for the Informal Discovery Conference shall be deemed to have been denied at that time.

4. If (a) the Court has denied a conference or (b) one of the time deadlines above has expired without the Court having acted or (c) the Informal Discovery Conference is concluded without resolving the dispute, then a party may file a discovery motion to address unresolved issues.

5. The parties hereby further agree that the time for making a motion to compel or other discovery motion is tolled from the date of filing of the Request for Informal Discovery Conference until (a) the request is denied or deemed denied or (b) twenty (20) days after the filing of the Request for Informal Discovery Conference, whichever is earlier, unless extended by Order of the Court.

   It is the understanding and intent of the parties that this stipulation shall, for each discovery dispute to which it applies, constitute a writing memorializing a "specific later date to which the propounding [or demanding or requesting] party and the responding party have agreed in writing," within the meaning of Code Civil Procedure sections 2030.300(c), 2031.320(c), and 2033.290(c).

6. Nothing herein will preclude any party from applying ex parte for appropriate relief, including an order shortening time for a motion to be heard concerning discovery.

7. Any party may terminate this stipulation by giving twenty-one (21) days notice of intent to terminate the stipulation.

8. References to "days" mean calendar days, unless otherwise noted. If the date for performing any act pursuant to this stipulation falls on a Saturday, Sunday or Court holiday, then the time for performing that act shall be extended to the next Court day.

| General Order Re Use of Voluntary Efficient Litigation Stipulations | ORDER PURSUANT TO CCP 1054(a), EXTENDING TIME TO RESPOND BY 30 DAYS WHEN PARTIES AGREE TO EARLY ORGANIZATIONAL MEETING STIPULATION |

Whereas the Los Angeles Superior Court and the Executive Committee of the Litigation Section of the Los Angeles County Bar Association have cooperated in drafting "Voluntary Efficient Litigation Stipulations" and in proposing the stipulations for use in general jurisdiction civil litigation in Los Angeles County;

Whereas the Los Angeles County Bar Association Litigation Section; the Los Angeles County Bar Association Labor and Employment Law Section; the Consumer Attorneys Association of Los Angeles; the Association of Southern California Defense Counsel; the Association of Business Trial Lawyers of Los Angeles; and the California Employment Lawyers Association all "endorse the goal of promoting efficiency in litigation, and ask that counsel consider using these stipulations as a voluntary way to promote communications and procedures among counsel and with the court to fairly resolve issues in their cases;"

Whereas the Early Organizational Meeting Stipulation is intended to encourage cooperation among the parties at an early stage in litigation in order to achieve litigation efficiencies;

Whereas it is intended that use of the Early Organizational Meeting Stipulation will promote economic case resolution and judicial efficiency;

Whereas, in order to promote a meaningful discussion of pleading issues at the Early Organizational Meeting and potentially to reduce the need for motions to challenge the pleadings, it is necessary to allow additional time to conduct the Early Organizational Meeting before the time to respond to a complaint or cross complaint has expired;

Whereas Code of Civil Procedure section 1054(a) allows a judge of the court in which an action is pending to extend for not more than 30 days the time to respond to a pleading "upon good cause shown";

Now, therefore, this Court hereby finds that there is good cause to extend for 30 days the time to respond to a complaint or to a cross complaint in any action in which the parties have entered into the Early Organizational Meeting Stipulation. This finding of good cause is based on the anticipated judicial efficiency and benefits of economic case resolution that the Early Organizational Meeting Stipulation is intended to promote.

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that, in any case in which the parties have entered into an Early Organizational Meeting Stipulation, the time for a defending party to respond to a complaint or cross complaint shall be extended by the 30 days permitted by Code of Civil Procedure section 1054(a) without further need of a specific court order.

ALTERNATIVE DISPUTE RESOLUTION (ADR) INFORMATION PACKAGE

THE PLAINTIFF MUST SERVE THIS ADR INFORMATION PACKAGE ON EACH PARTY WITH THE COMPLAINT.

CROSS-COMPLAINANTS must serve this ADR Information Package on any new parties named to the action with the cross-complaint.

What is ADR?

ADR helps people find solutions to their legal disputes without going to trial. The main types of ADR are negotiation, mediation, arbitration, and settlement conferences. When ADR is done by phone, videoconference or computer, it may be called Online Dispute Resolution (ODR). These alternatives to litigation and trial are described below.

Advantages of ADR

- Saves Time: ADR is faster than going to trial.
- Saves Money: Parties can save on court costs, attorney's fees, and witness fees.
- Keeps Control (with the parties): Parties choose their ADR process and provider for voluntary ADR.
- Reduces Stress/Protects Privacy: ADR is done outside the courtroom, in private offices, by phone or online.

Disadvantages of ADR

- Costs: If the parties do not resolve their dispute, they may have to pay for ADR, litigation, and trial.
- No Public Trial: ADR does not provide a public trial or a decision by a judge or jury.

Main Types of ADR

1. Negotiation: Parties often talk with each other in person, or by phone or online about resolving their case with a settlement agreement instead of a trial. If the parties have lawyers, they will negotiate for their clients.

2. Mediation: In mediation, a neutral mediator listens to each person's concerns, helps them evaluate the strengths and weaknesses of their case, and works with them to try to create a settlement agreement that is acceptable to all. Mediators do not decide the outcome. Parties may go to trial if they decide not to settle.

   Mediation may be appropriate when the parties
   - want to work out a solution but need help from a neutral person.
   - have communication problems or strong emotions that interfere with resolution.

   Mediation may not be appropriate when the parties
   - want a public trial and want a judge or jury to decide the outcome.
   - lack equal bargaining power or have a history of physical/emotional abuse.

How to Arrange Mediation in Los Angeles County

Mediation for civil cases is voluntary and parties may select any mediator they wish. Options include:

a. The Civil Mediation Vendor Resource List
If all parties in an active civil case agree to mediation, they may contact these organizations to request a "Resource List Mediation" for mediation at reduced cost or no cost (for selected cases).

- ADR Services, Inc. Case Manager Elizabeth Sanchez, elizabeth@adrservices.com (949) 863-9800
- JAMS, Inc. Assistant Manager Reggie Joseph, RJoseph@jamsadr.com (310) 309-6209
- Mediation Center of Los Angeles Program Manager info@mediationLA.org (833) 476-9145

These organizations cannot accept every case and they may decline cases at their discretion. They may offer online mediation by video conference for cases they accept. Before contacting these organizations, review important information and FAQs at www.lacourt.org/ADR.Res.List

NOTE: The Civil Mediation Vendor Resource List program does not accept family law, probate or small claims cases.

b. Los Angeles County Dispute Resolution Programs
https://hrc.lacounty.gov/wp-content/uploads/2020/05/DRP-Fact-Sheet-23October19-Current-as-of-October-2019-1.pdf

Day of trial mediation programs have been paused until further notice.

Online Dispute Resolution (ODR). Parties in small claims and unlawful detainer (eviction) cases should carefully review the Notice and other information they may receive about (ODR) requirements for their case.

c. Mediators and ADR and Bar organizations that provide mediation may be found on the internet.

3. Arbitration: Arbitration is less formal than trial, but like trial, the parties present evidence and arguments to the person who decides the outcome. In "binding" arbitration, the arbitrator's decision is final; there is no right to trial. In "nonbinding" arbitration, any party can request a trial after the arbitrator's decision. For more information about arbitration, visit http://www.courts.ca.gov/programs-adr.htm

4. Mandatory Settlement Conferences (MSC): MSCs are ordered by the Court and are often held close to the trial date or on the day of trial. The parties and their attorneys meet with a judge or settlement officer who does not make a decision but who instead assists the parties in evaluating the strengths and weaknesses of the case and in negotiating a settlement. For information about the Court's MSC programs for civil cases, visit http://www.lacourt.org/division/civil/C10047.aspx

Lastly, you are hereby notified of our attorneys' lien.

My client has experienced multiple defects in their vehicle. Your company, through your authorized dealerships, have been unable to repair their vehicle within a reasonable time and/or after having a reasonable numerous of attempts to repair it. As such, my client seeks relief under the Warranty Act as you have breached both your written warranty and the implied warranty of merchantability. The defects experienced by my client include, but are not limited to:

1. Defective engine as evidenced by low oil pressure and low oil pressure light; and
2. Any additional complaints made by our client, whether or not they are contained in your company's records or on any dealer repair orders.

The defects listed above constitute a substantial impairment of the use, value and/or safety of the vehicle. As a result of these defects, my client has justifiably lost confidence in the vehicle. You are hereby notified that my client is revoking acceptance of this vehicle. My client has directed me to demand the cancellation of the contracts and the return of all funds paid towards this vehicle, including any trade-in value given, all collateral charges, finance charges and incidental and consequential damages.

Please be advised that pursuant to Uniform Commercial Code § 2-711(3) my client has a security interest in the vehicle for return of the amounts described above, plus expenses in handling and inspecting the vehicle. Until you pay this amount, my client will hold the car and use it to the extent necessary to preserve it, to protect the security interest, and to minimize your damages. Moreover, my client needs return of the monies listed above before a substitute vehicle can be acquired. In addition, any attempt by you or your agents to repossess the car will be wrongful and may subject you to liability for conversion and for wrongful repossession under Uniform Commercial Code §§ 9-503 and 9-507, as well as any other applicable remedies.

If the seller or, if applicable, the assignee, or any creditor subject to the FTC Holder Rule has filed a financing statement covering the goods, I demand, pursuant to Uniform Commercial Code § 9-404, that you file a termination statement within ten (10) days to terminate your security interest, and forward a copy to me. Since my client has revoked acceptance, there is no outstanding secured obligation. If you do not file a termination statement within ten (10) days and cooperate in removing the lien, you may be liable under Uniform Commercial Code § 9-404(1) in the amount of $100.00, plus any loss caused to my client by your failure to do so.

To avoid any litigation, my client merely requests the return of fifty (50) percent of the purchase price of the vehicle as compensation for its diminished value due to its defect and payment of our attorneys' fees pursuant to the fee-shifting provisions of the Federal Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act. Our attorneys' fees are minimal at this stage and we would prefer to resolve this matter without the need for any more time spent on our part or on the part of your attorneys. A great deal of time, money and effort could be saved by all parties involved with a quick resolution of this claim.

Accordingly, if you wish to resolve this matter amicably, please feel free to contact my office. If the matter has not been resolved within fourteen (14) days from the date of this letter, a lawsuit will be filed.

Dear Sir or Madam:

Lemberg Law LLC is writing on behalf of the above client with regard to the above vehicle purchased in Hawaii State. Please consider this your notice for an opportunity to correct the defects specified below. Should litigation become necessary, a lawsuit shall be filed in the Michigan court. We will seek relief on our client's behalf under the Magnuson Moss Warranty Act, breach of warranty statutes and other laws protecting consumers. Upon receipt of this notice please direct all inquiries regarding the above vehicle to this office, rather than to the client.

Since the purchase date and during the warranty period, this vehicle has been out of service over 67 days and subject to repairs due to the low engine failure and the same defect continues to persist.

The defects in the vehicle substantially impair its use, value, and safety to our client, and constitute a breach of warranty. Because of the incurable problems outlined above, our client revokes acceptance of the vehicle under U.C.C. § 2-608. Our client demands a return of all money paid so far, including the down payment, amount of payments thus far, finance charges, other fees, incidental and consequential damages, costs, and attorney's fees. We have been instructed to seek all legal recourse available under the law.

Please be advised that under U.C.C. § 2-711(3), our client has a security interest in the car until the purchase price is returned, plus expenses in handling and inspecting the car. Until you pay this amount, our client will hold the car and use it to the extent necessary to preserve it, to protect the security interest, and to minimize your damages. Moreover, our client demands the return of the purchase price before substitute goods can be acquired. In addition, any attempt by you or your agents to repossess the car will be deemed wrongful and will subject you to liability for conversion and for wrongful repossession under U.C.C. §§ 9-503 and 9-507. If the seller or any creditor subject to the FTC Holder Rule has filed a financing statement covering the above vehicle, we demand, pursuant to U.C.C. § 9-404, that you file a termination statement within 10 days to terminate such security interest. Failure to do so subjects you to liability under U.C.C. § 9-404(1).

Our client understands that sometimes the failures of the manufacturer simply cannot be corrected by any dealer. We hope to bring this matter to an end through an amicable settlement. Thank you for your time and consideration in this matter, and I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

/s/ Matthew Clark

NOW COME the Plaintiffs, [redacted] AND [redacted] by and through their attorneys, KROHN & MOSS, LTD., and for their Complaint against Defendant, FORD MOTOR COMPANY, allege and affirmatively state as follows:

PARTIES

1. Plaintiffs, [redacted] ("Plaintiffs"), are individuals who purchased the vehicle in the State of Minnesota, County of Goodhue.

2. Defendant, FORD MOTOR COMPANY ("Manufacturer"), is a foreign corporation authorized to do business in the State of Minnesota, County of Goodhue and is engaged in the manufacture, sale and/or distribution of motor vehicles and related equipment and services. Manufacturer is also in the business of marketing, supplying and selling written warranties to the public at large through a system of authorized dealerships, including Zumbrota Ford Sales, LLC ("Seller"). Manufacturer does business in all counties of the State of Minnesota including Goodhue County.

VENUE

3. Venue properly lies in the judicial district pursuant to Minn. Stat. § 542.09 because the cause of action or some part thereof arose in Goodhue County, Minnesota.

BACKGROUND

4. On or about October 23, 2020, Plaintiffs purchased from Seller a 2020 Ford Ecosport ("Ecosport"), manufactured by Manufacturer, Vehicle Identification No. MAJ3S2FEXLC[redacted] for valuable consideration (See copy of Plaintiffs' Retail Installment Sale Contract, attached hereto as Exhibit "A").

6. Plaintiffs aver that as a result of the ineffective repair attempts made by Manufacturer, through its authorized dealership network, the Ecosport cannot and/or was unable to be utilized for personal, family and household use as intended by Plaintiffs at the time of acquisition.

7. In consideration for the purchase of the Ecosport, Manufacturer issued and supplied to Plaintiffs its written warranty which included three (3) year or thirty-six thousand (36,000) mile bumper to bumper coverage, five (5) year or sixty thousand (60,000) mile powertrain coverage as well as other warranties fully outlined in Manufacturer's New Car Warranty booklet.

8. On or about October 23, 2020, Plaintiffs took possession of the Ecosport and shortly hereafter experienced the defect/nonconformity listed below.

9. The defect/nonconformity described below violates Manufacturer's written warranty issued to Plaintiffs as well as the implied warranty of merchantability.

10. Plaintiffs delivered the Ecosport to Manufacturer, through its authorized dealership network, on numerous occasions.

11. Plaintiffs aver that the Ecosport has been subject to repair on multiple occasions for the same defect/nonconformity and that the defect/nonconformity remains uncorrected.

12. Plaintiffs brought the Ecosport to Seller, and/or an authorized service dealer(s) of Manufacturer, for the following defect/nonconformity that includes but is not limited to:

1. Defective engine/electrical system as evidenced by the intermittent illumination of the check engine light; and
2. Any additional defects/nonconformities, whether or not they are contained on any dealer repair orders.

13. Plaintiffs provided Manufacturer, through its authorized dealership network, sufficient opportunities to repair the Ecosport.

14. After a reasonable number of attempts to cure the defect/nonconformity in Plaintiffs' Ecosport, Manufacturer was unable and/or failed to repair the defect/nonconformity as provided in Manufacturer's warranty.

15. Plaintiffs justifiably lost confidence in the Ecosport's safety and/or reliability.

16. Said defect/nonconformity could not have reasonably been discovered by Plaintiffs prior to Plaintiffs' acceptance of the Ecosport.

17. As a result of the defect/nonconformity, Plaintiffs revoked acceptance of the Ecosport in writing.

18. At the time of revocation, the Ecosport was in substantially the same condition as at delivery except for damage caused by its own defect/nonconformity and ordinary wear and tear.

19. Defendant refused Plaintiffs' demand for revocation and has refused to provide Plaintiffs with the remedies to which Plaintiffs are entitled upon revocation.

20. The Ecosport remains in a defective and unmerchantable condition and continues to exhibit the above-mentioned defect/nonconformity.

21. Plaintiffs have been and will continue to be financially damaged due to Defendant's failure to comply with the provisions of its written warranty and its failure to provide Plaintiffs with a merchantable Ecosport.

22. Plaintiffs re-allege and incorporate by reference as though fully set forth herein, paragraphs 1-21 of this Complaint.

23. Plaintiffs are purchasers of a consumer product who received the Ecosport during the duration of a written warranty period applicable to the Ecosport and who are entitled by the terms of the written warranty to enforce against Manufacturer the obligations of said warranty.

24. Manufacturer is a supplier of a consumer product engaged in the business of making a consumer product directly and/or indirectly available to Plaintiffs.

25. The Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act, Chapter 15 U.S.C.A., Section 2301, et. seq. ("Warranty Act") is applicable to Plaintiffs' Complaint in that the Ecosport was manufactured and purchased after July 4, 1975 and costs in excess of ten dollars ($10.00).

26. Plaintiffs' purchase of the Ecosport was accompanied by a written factory warranty for any defects in material or workmanship, comprising an undertaking in writing in connection with the purchase of the Ecosport to repair or replace defective parts or take other remedial action free of charge to Plaintiffs with respect to the Ecosport in the event that the Ecosport failed to meet the specifications set forth in Manufacturer's warranty.

27. Manufacturer's warranty was the basis of the bargain of the contract between Plaintiffs and Manufacturer for the sale of the Ecosport to Plaintiffs.

28. Said purchase of Plaintiffs' Ecosport was induced by, and Plaintiffs relied upon, Manufacturer's written warranty.

29. Plaintiffs have met all of Plaintiffs' obligations and preconditions as provided in Manufacturer's written warranty.

30. As a direct and proximate result of Manufacturer's failure to comply with its written warranty, Plaintiffs have suffered damages and in accordance with 15 U.S.C. §2310(d)(1), Plaintiffs are entitled to bring suit for such damages and other legal and equitable relief.

31. Plaintiffs aver that upon successfully prevailing upon the Warranty Act claim herein, all attorneys' fees are recoverable and are demanded against Manufacturer.

34. Manufacturer is a supplier of consumer goods as a person engaged in the business of making a consumer product directly and/or indirectly available to Plaintiffs.

35. Manufacturer is prohibited from disclaiming or modifying any implied warranty when making a written warranty to the consumer or when Manufacturer has entered into a contract in writing within ninety (90) days of a purchase to perform services relating to the maintenance or repair of a motor vehicle.

36. Pursuant to 15 U.S.C. §2308, Plaintiffs' Ecosport was impliedly warranted to be substantially free of defects in both material and workmanship and hereby fit for the ordinary purpose for which the Ecosport was intended.

37. The Ecosport was warranted to pass without objection in the trade under the contract description and was required to conform to the descriptions of the Ecosport contained in the contracts and labels.

46. Plaintiffs took delivery of the Ecosport on or about October 23, 2020.

RE: [redacted] v. Ford Motor Company
Vehicle: 2020 Ford Ecosport
VIN: MAJ3S2FEXLC[redacted]

Dear Sir/Madam:

Please be advised that this office represents the above-named individuals regarding claims against your company pursuant to the State Lemon Law and/or the Federal Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act with regard to the above-listed vehicle. Please direct all future contacts and correspondence to our office.

Having been formally notified of our representation, you are instructed not to contact our clients under any circumstances. Direct all inquiries to this office. If you fail to act in conformity with this directive, injunctive relief will be sought against you.

Pursuant to 15 U.S.C. 2310(d), you are hereby notified that any settlement made with our clients requires payment of our attorneys' fees. If you settle directly with our clients and do not make arrangements for payment of our attorneys' fees, we will file suit against you. In addition, you are hereby notified of our attorneys' lien.

There is a defect/nonconformity present in my clients' vehicle for which relief is sought and numerous attempts to repair the vehicle have been unsuccessful. The defect/nonconformity includes, but is not limited to:

1. Defective engine/electrical system as evidenced by the intermittent illumination of the check engine light; and
2. Any additional defects/nonconformities, whether or not they are contained on any dealer repair orders.

Because of the defect/nonconformity, my clients have justifiably lost confidence in the vehicle. As one court has stated:

> For a majority of people the purchase of a new car is a major investment, rationalized by the peace of mind that flows from its dependability and safety. Once their faith is shaken, the vehicle loses not only its real value in their eyes, but becomes an instrument whose integrity is substantially impaired and whose operation is fraught with apprehension. Zabriskie Chevrolet, Inc. v. Smith, 240 A.2d 195.

Concerning the amount of grief a person must endure, one court expressed the consumer's lament in the following manner:

> There comes a time when enough is enough – when an automobile purchaser, after having to take his car into the shop for repairs an inordinate number of times and experiencing all of the attendant inconvenience, is entitled to say, "That's all," and revoke, notwithstanding the repeated good faith efforts to fix the car. Rester v. Morrow, 491 So.2d 204.

My clients' repair history clearly shows there was a breach of both written and implied warranties:

> Based upon the generally accepted rule that an unsuccessful effort to remedy defects found to exist renders the warrantor liable; the buyer is not bound to allow him the opportunity or permit him to tinker with the article indefinitely in the hope that it may ultimately be made to comply with the warranty. Kure v. Chevrolet Motor Division, 581 P.2d 603.

Therefore, you are hereby notified that my clients are revoking acceptance of this vehicle as the defect/nonconformity listed above constitutes a substantial impairment of the use, value and/or safety of the vehicle. My clients have directed me to demand the cancellation of the contracts and the return of all funds paid towards this vehicle, including any trade-in value given, all collateral charges, finance charges and incidental and consequential damages.

Please be advised that pursuant to Uniform Commercial Code § 2-711(3), my clients have a security interest in the vehicle for return of the amounts described above, plus expenses in handling and inspecting the vehicle. Until you pay this amount, my clients will hold the vehicle and use it to the extent necessary to preserve it, to protect the security interest and to minimize your damages. Moreover, my clients need return of the monies listed above before a substitute vehicle can be acquired. In addition, any attempt by you or your agents to repossess the vehicle will be wrongful and may subject you to liability for conversion and for wrongful repossession under Uniform Commercial Code §§ 9-503 and 9-507, as well as any other applicable remedies.

If the seller or, if applicable, the assignee, or any creditor subject to the FTC Holder Rule has filed a financing statement covering the goods, I demand, pursuant to Uniform Commercial Code § 9-404, that you file a termination statement within ten (10) days to terminate your security interest, and forward a copy to me. Should you elect to make a final attempt to repair the defect/nonconformity, please contact me directly within the next ten (10) days. If I do not hear from you within the stated time, you waive your right to a final repair attempt. Since my clients have revoked acceptance, there is no outstanding secured obligation. If you do not file a termination statement within ten (10) days and cooperate in removing the lien, you may be liable under Uniform Commercial Code § 9-404(1) in the amount of $100.00, plus any loss caused to my clients by your failure to do so.

To avoid any litigation, my clients request a refund for the defective vehicle plus payment of our attorneys' fees pursuant to the fee-shifting provisions of the State Lemon Law and the Federal Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act. Our attorneys' fees are minimal at this stage and we would prefer to resolve this matter without the need for any more time spent on our part or on the part of your attorneys. A great deal of time, money and effort will be saved by all parties involved with a quick resolution of this claim.

Accordingly, if you wish to resolve this matter amicably, please feel free to contact my office. If the matter has not been resolved within fourteen (14) days from the date of this letter, a lawsuit will be filed.

Vehicle: 2018 Ford EcoSport
VIN: MAJ3P1TE2JC[redacted]
Date of purchase: 08/2018
Our File No.: [redacted]

To Whom It May Concern:

Please be advised that this office represents the above-named individual regarding claims pursuant to the federal Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act and the Uniform Commercial Code ("U.C.C.") with regard to the above-listed vehicle. Please direct all future contacts and correspondence to the office listed above.

There were numerous non-conformities with my client's automobile for which relief is sought, and numerous attempts to repair the vehicle have been unsuccessful. There were also numerous violations of both federal and state law in connection with the delivery and/or repair of the aforementioned vehicle. The primary non-conformities and violations include, but are not limited to:

1. Engine;
2. Electrical;
3. Check engine light;
4. Transmission;
5. Driveability;
6. Stalling;
7. No start;

8. Serious safety defect;

9. Excessive repair attempts;

10. Excessive days out of service.

The non-conformities listed above constitute a substantial impairment of the use, value and safety of the subject vehicle. Because of the inordinate amount of repairs my client has justifiably lost confidence in the vehicle.

My client's repair history clearly shows there was a breach of the written warranty and/or implied warranties of merchantability and fitness for a particular purpose, see U.C.C. §§ 2-314 and 2-315, based upon the generally accepted rule that an unsuccessful effort to remedy defects found to exist renders the warrantor liable; the buyer is not bound to allow him the opportunity or permit him to tinker with the article indefinitely in the hope that it may ultimately be made to comply with the warranty.

Therefore, you are hereby notified that my client is revoking acceptance of the vehicle, pursuant to the provisions of U.C.C. § 2-608. Our client has directed us to demand the return of all funds paid towards this vehicle, the cancellation of the contracts, and compensation for all damages and attorneys' fees.

Please be advised that under U.C.C. § 2-711(3) my client has a security interest in the car for return of the total purchase price, plus expenses in handling and inspecting the car. Until you pay this amount, my client will hold the car and use it to the extent necessary to preserve it, to protect its security interest, and to minimize your damages. Moreover, my client demands return of the purchase price before substitute goods can be acquired. In addition, any attempt by you or your agents to repossess the car will be wrongful and will subject you to liability for conversion and for wrongful repossession under U.C.C. §§ 9-503 and 9-507 as well as other applicable Consumer Fraud remedies.

If the seller [or, if applicable the assignee, or any creditor subject to the FTC Holder Rule] has filed a financing statement covering the goods, we demand, pursuant to U.C.C. § 9-404, that you file a termination statement within ten days to terminate your security interest and forward a copy to this office. Since my client has revoked acceptance, there is no outstanding secured obligation. If you do not file a termination statement within ten days and cooperate in removing the lien, you will be liable under U.C.C. § 9-404(1) in the amount of $100.00 plus any loss caused my client by your failure.

HAVING BEEN FORMALLY NOTIFIED OF OUR REPRESENTATION, YOU ARE INSTRUCTED NOT TO CONTACT OUR CLIENT UNDER ANY CIRCUMSTANCES. DIRECT ALL INQUIRIES TO THIS OFFICE. IF YOU FAIL TO ACT IN CONFORMITY WITH THIS DIRECTIVE, INJUNCTIVE RELIEF WILL BE SOUGHT AGAINST YOU. IN ADDITION, YOU ARE HEREBY NOTIFIED OF OUR ATTORNEYS' LIEN.

To avoid any further litigation, my client merely requests a refund for the defective product and will waive any incidental and consequential damages at this point. Our attorneys' fees are minimal at this stage and we would prefer to resolve this matter without the need for any more needless effort and expense spent on our part and on the part of your attorneys. Time, money and effort would be saved by both sides with a quick resolution of this claim.

This letter shall serve as notice to Ford Motor Company of its final opportunity to cure the above-referenced defects.

Sincerely,

ALEX SIMANOVSKY & ASSOCIATES, LLC

| State of Purchase or Lease | Ohio |

Dear Sir or Madam:

Lemberg Law LLC is writing on behalf of the above client with regard to the above vehicle purchased in Ohio State. Please consider this your notice for an opportunity to correct the defects specified below. Should litigation become necessary, a lawsuit shall be filed in the Michigan court. We will seek relief on our client's behalf under the Magnuson Moss Warranty Act, breach of warranty statutes and other laws protecting consumers. Upon receipt of this notice please direct all inquiries regarding the above vehicle to this office, rather than to the client.

Since the purchase date and during the warranty period, this vehicle has been out of service over 30 days and subject to three repairs due to the faulty engine and the same defect continues to persist.

The defects in the vehicle substantially impair its use, value, and safety to our client, and constitute a breach of warranty. Because of the incurable problems outlined above, our client revokes acceptance of the vehicle under U.C.C. § 2-608. Our client demands a return of all money paid so far, including the down payment, amount of payments thus far, finance charges, other fees, incidental and consequential damages, costs, and attorney's fees. We have been instructed to seek all legal recourse available under the law.

Please be advised that under U.C.C. § 2-711(3), our client has a security interest in the car until the purchase price is returned, plus expenses in handling and inspecting the car. Until you pay this amount, our client will hold the car and use it to the extent necessary to preserve it, to protect the security interest, and to minimize your damages. Moreover, our client demands the return of the purchase price before substitute goods can be acquired. In addition, any attempt by you or your agents to repossess the car will be deemed wrongful and will subject you to liability for conversion and for wrongful repossession under U.C.C. §§ 9-503 and 9-507. If the seller or any creditor subject to the FTC Holder Rule has filed a financing statement covering the above vehicle, we demand, pursuant to U.C.C. § 9-404, that you file a termination statement within 10 days to terminate such security interest. Failure to do so subjects you to liability under U.C.C. § 9-404(1).

Our client understands that sometimes the failures of the manufacturer simply cannot be corrected by any dealer. We hope to bring this matter to an end through an amicable settlement. Thank you for your time and consideration in this matter, and I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

/s/ Matthew Clark

Re: Our Client [redacted] Vehicle
VIN

To Whom It May Concern:

Please be advised tha[redacted] has retained this office to represent him concerning the above-referenced vehicle. Please direct all communication concerning this matter through this office. The following is a demand that Ford Motor Company (Ford) provide[redacted]estitution/remedies pursuant to the Song-Beverly Consumer Warranty Act (Lemon Law.)

1. FACTS

On, or about, March 31, 2019[redacted]urchased the vehicle brand new from Ford of West Covina in West Covina, California. The vehicle came with an express warranty from Ford.

The vehicle has been delivered to an authorized Ford service and repair facility on approximately two separate occasions for warranty repairs upon the following nonconformity including, but not limited to - defective engine; etc. Please be advised that since April 20, 2020, the vehicle has been out of service as a result of attempted warranty repairs approximately 43 days. Approximately 42 of these 43 out of service days were consecutive.

The nonconformity is covered by the Ford warranty.

2. LIABILITY & REMEDIES

The Lemon Law requires the warrantor of new motor vehicle to provide restitution to the buyer when the warrantor is unable to conform the vehicle to the warranty after a reasonable number of repair attempts.

Here, the vehicle was delivered to an authorized Ford service and repair facility on approximately two separate occasions for warranty repairs upon the vehicle's defective engine. Since April 20, 2020, the vehicle has been out of service as a result of attempted warranty repairs approximately 43 days. Approximately 42 of these 43 out of service days were consecutive. Ford has been unable to conform the vehicle to the warranty after a reasonable number of repair attempts.

The Lemon Law applies to nonconformities that substantially impair the vehicle's use, value or safety to the buyer. Here, the vehicle is not safe or reliable due to its defective engine and the excessive number of days the vehicle has been out of service as a result of attempted warranty repairs.

Ford has breached the express warranty related to the vehicle. As such, [redacted] is entitled to restitution, incidental damages, consequential damages and the payment of reasonable attorney's fees.

The Lemon Law requires that a vehicle be made to conform to the warranty within 30 days of presentation for warranty repairs. Here, the vehicle was out of service as a result of attempted warranty repairs approximately 42 consecutive days. Ford has violated this Lemon Law provision.

Please be advised this letter also acts to place Ford on notice that it has breached the implied warranty of merchantability related to the vehicle. This is so because the vehicle is not fit for its ordinary purpose and will not pass without objection in the trade under the contract description due to [redacted] defective engine. As a result of this breach, [redacted] is entitled to the price paid for the vehicle, incidental damages, consequential damages and the payment of reasonable attorney's fees.

This vehicle is clearly a LEMON and qualifies for restitution/the price paid for the vehicle pursuant to the Lemon Law. Therefore [redacted] demands that Ford provide him restitution/the price paid for the vehicle, incidental damages, consequential damages and pay reasonable attorney's fees as provided by the Lemon Law. Should Ford refuse to provide [redacted] restitution for the express warranty breach, Ford may be required to pay him a civil penalty not to exceed two times the amount of his actual damages for this willful refusal.

Please note that if this matter is not resolved within 30 days of this letter's date, I will recommend that [redacted] file a lawsuit against Ford alleging, among other things, breaches of express and implied warranties in violation of the Lemon Law.

Enclosed herein are copies of the following documents - sale contract; repair orders/invoices; etc. I look forward to your prompt attention to this matter.

Please take notice of the following:

This letter serves as a pre-litigation notice of Ford's liability under the Song-Beverly Consumer Warranty Act and demand that Ford repurchase or replace the Subject Vehicle in accordance with the Act.

Summary of Relevant Facts

[redacted]

The Vehicle was purchased with Ford's 3-year, 36,000 mile basic warranty and 5 year, 60,000 mile powertrain warranty.

From the time of purchase through to the current, Consumer has suffered due to the Vehicle's ongoing problems.

At 22,415 miles the vehicle was presented to DCH Ford where the technicians verified the Vehicle would not start. DCH Ford failed to repair the defect under warranty, leading to another repair visit at 23,210 miles for the same issue.

At 25,850 miles, Ford replaced the defective Body Control Module, which failed again at 34,648 miles requiring it be replaced again by Ford.

At 39,573 miles, the Vehicle was towed in and the engine was replaced. Ford failed to perform this repair properly, leading to another check engine light present and repair opportunity at 45,386 miles then again at 45,652 miles.

To date, the vehicle continues to exhibits defects.

Substantial Impairment of Use, Value, and Safety

The problems with this Vehicle have substantially impaired its use, value, and safety to Consumer.

There are three major examples of the substantial impairment suffered by Consumer:

(1) Loss of Use: Each time the Vehicle goes into the shop for repairs it causes a substantial inconvenience to Consumer's life because he cannot use the Vehicle he purchased and is forced to find alternative transportation.

(2) Loss of Value: Each repair attempt will show up on the Vehicle's warranty history report and CarFax. If Consumer ever attempts to sell this Vehicle, no purchaser is going to want it due to the number and extent of the issues described above. Surely, if anyone does want to purchase the Vehicle, they will pay much less for it given the extensive repair history.

(3) Loss of Safety: The powertrain defects substantially impair the safety of the Vehicle to Consumer.

Consumer purchased this Vehicle for its advertised features, reliability, and warranty. To his unfortunate detriment, this Vehicle does not have the features, reliability, or warranty that Consumer was promised. Ford has been unable or unwilling to conform the car to said warranty.

This Vehicle is a lemon!

California's lemon law makes clear this Vehicle is a lemon.

Under more than one theory the Vehicle is clearly a "lemon." California Civil Code § 1793.4 makes clear Ford's liability and reads in relevant part as follows:

> Commencement of service and repair within reasonable time; tender of conforming goods within 30 days; extension of time
>
> Where an option is exercised in favor of service and repair under Section 1793.3, such service and repair must be commenced within a reasonable time, and, unless the buyer agrees in writing to the contrary, goods conforming to the applicable express warranties shall be tendered within 30 days. . . .

California Civil Code § 1793.2 makes clear Ford's liability and reads in relevant part as follows:

> Consumer goods manufacturers; express warranties; service and repair facilities
>
> (a) Every manufacturer of Consumer goods sold in this state and for which the manufacturer has made an express warranty shall:
> (1)(A) Maintain in this state sufficient service and repair facilities reasonably close to all areas where Consumers goods are sold to carry out the terms of those warranties. . .

> (b) Where those service and repair facilities are maintained in this state and service or repair of the goods is necessary because they do not conform with the applicable express warranties, service and repair shall be commenced within a reasonable time. . . . within 30 days.
> (d)(2) . . . if the manufacturer or its representative in this state is unable to service or repair a new motor vehicle. . . to conform to the applicable express warranties after a reasonable number of attempts, the manufacturer shall either promptly replace the new motor vehicle. . . or promptly make restitution to the buyer. . . However, the buyer shall be free to elect restitution in lieu of replacement. . . . (Emphasis added)

Under Civil Code § 1793.2(d)(2), Ford must repurchase the Vehicle or replace it with a substantially identical vehicle. Consumer hereby revoke acceptance of the Vehicle, rescind the sales contract, and demands a refund along with restitution of all money paid toward the Vehicle, repairs, rental, towing, and upgrades. Under Civil Code § 1794(a), Consumer are entitled to restitution of all consideration given.

Ford's willful refusal to conform the Vehicle to its warranty, or repurchase it pursuant to Song–Beverly, subjects it to civil penalties in an amount of twice Consumer's actual damages.

Ford has had numerous opportunities to conform the Vehicle to its express written warranty accompanying its purchase. For good reason Consumer has suffered a shaken faith in the Vehicle and in Ford's ability and willingness to repair it under warranty.

Settlement Demand

On behalf of Consumer, I respectfully request that you rectify the above-described problems with the Vehicle by repurchasing it and giving Consumer a complete refund, or replacement at their option, including restitution of damages, which includes but is not limited to: all out of pocket expenses; all money paid toward the Vehicle; all upgrades to the Vehicle; all rental and/or towing expenses; and all incidental and consequential damages. Finally, you would also need to pay reasonable attorneys' fees of $6,000.00 (includes estimated "wrap up" fees).

An itemized demand will be provided upon request.

Please do not contact Consumers or any member of their family. All communications concerning this matter should be directed to the undersigned.

Please note that if legal action proves necessary, the attorneys' fees incurred by my clients, for which you may be legally liable, may increase. In particular, under more than one of the various causes of action we intend to pursue, if Consumers wins any amount of damages in any court proceeding, they may be deemed "prevailing party" and entitled to all of their damages, interest on the same, and possibly civil penalties.

Please consider this demand open until 30-days after your receipt of this notice. Unfortunately, if Ford has not by then agreed to settle this matter as stated above, I will have no alternative but to file suit.

For the benefit of both sides, it is my hope we can quickly and reasonably resolve this matter.

Sincerely,

Dear Sir/Madam:

Please be advised that this office represents the above-named individual regarding claims against your company pursuant to the Federal Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act with regard to the above-listed vehicle. Please direct all future contacts and correspondence to our office.

Having been formally notified of our representation, you are instructed not to contact our client under any circumstances. Direct all inquiries to this office. If you fail to act in conformity with this directive, injunctive relief will be sought against you.

Pursuant to 15 U.S.C. 2310(d), you are hereby notified that any settlement made with our client requires payment of our attorneys' fees. If you settle directly with our client and do not make arrangements for payment of our attorneys' fees, we will file suit against you. In addition, you are hereby notified of our attorneys' lien.

There are defects present in my client's vehicle for which relief is sought and numerous attempts to repair the vehicle have been unsuccessful. The defects include, but are not limited to:

1. Defective engine/electrical system as evidenced by stalling, loss of power, the intermittent illumination of the check engine light, low oil pressure light and battery light, failure to turn over, no start condition and losing coolant;

2. Defective body/trim as evidenced by driver's front sun visor loose and falling off;

3. Defective HVAC as evidenced by no heat; and

4. Any additional defects, whether or not they are contained on any dealer repair orders.

Because of the defects, my client has justifiably lost confidence in the vehicle. As one court has stated:

> For a majority of people the purchase of a new car is a major investment, rationalized by the peace of mind that flows from its dependability and safety. Once their faith is shaken, the vehicle loses not only its real value in their eyes, but becomes an instrument whose integrity is substantially impaired and whose operation is fraught with apprehension. Zabriskie Chevrolet, Inc. v. Smith, 240 A.2d 195.

Concerning the amount of grief a person must endure, one court expressed the consumer's lament in the following manner:

> There comes a time when enough is enough – when an automobile purchaser, after having to take her car into the shop for repairs an inordinate number of times and experiencing all of the attendant inconvenience, is entitled to say, "That's all," and revoke, notwithstanding the repeated good faith efforts to fix the car. Rester v. Morrow, 491 So.2d 204.

My client's repair history clearly shows there was a breach of both written and implied warranties:

> Based upon the generally accepted rule that an unsuccessful effort to remedy defects found to exist renders the warrantor liable; the buyer is not bound to allow her the opportunity or permit her to tinker with the article indefinitely in the hope that it may ultimately be made to comply with the warranty. Kure v. Chevrolet Motor Division, 581 P.2d 603.

Therefore, you are hereby notified in writing of your breach of warranty and of my client's intent to pursue claims for breach of warranty in a court of law should you fail to amicably resolve this matter. Please be advised that pursuant to Uniform Commercial Code §2-711(3), my client has a security interest in the vehicle. Unless you are willing to accept the return of the vehicle and reimburse my client for all monies paid on the vehicle, my client will hold the vehicle and use it to the extent necessary to preserve it, to protect the security interest and to minimize your damages. Moreover, my client needs return of the monies listed above before a substitute vehicle can be acquired. In addition, any attempt by you or your agents to repossess the vehicle will be wrongful and may subject you to liability for conversion and for wrongful repossession under Uniform Commercial Code §§9-503 and 9-507, as well as any other applicable remedies.

If the seller or, if applicable, the assignee, or any creditor subject to the FTC Holder Rule has filed a financing statement covering the goods, I demand, pursuant to Uniform Commercial Code §9-404, that you file a termination statement within ten (10) days to terminate your security interest and forward a copy to me. Since my client has revoked acceptance, there is no outstanding secured obligation. If you do not file a termination statement within ten (10) days and cooperate in removing the lien, you may be liable under Uniform Commercial Code §9-404(1) in the amount of $100.00, plus any loss caused to my client by your failure to do so.

To avoid any litigation, my client requests the return of fifty (50) percent of the purchase price of the vehicle as compensation for its diminished value due to its defects and payment of our attorneys' fees pursuant to the fee-shifting provision of the Federal Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act. Our attorneys' fees are minimal at this stage and we would prefer to resolve this matter without the need for any more time spent on our part or on the part of your attorneys. A great deal of time, money and effort will be saved by all parties involved with a quick resolution of this claim.

Accordingly, if you wish to resolve this matter amicably, please feel free to contact my office. If the matter has not been resolved within fourteen (14) days from the date of this letter, a lawsuit will be filed.

INSTRUCTIONS ON HOW TO COMPLETE THE COVER SHEET

To Plaintiffs and Others Filing First Papers. If you are filing a first paper (for example, a complaint) in a civil case, you must complete and file, along with your first paper, the Civil Case Cover Sheet contained on page 1. This information will be used to compile statistics about the types and numbers of cases filed. You must complete items 1 through 6 on the sheet. In item 1, you must check one box for the case type that best describes the case. If the case fits both a general and a more specific type of case listed in item 1, check the more specific one. If the case has multiple causes of action, check the box that best indicates the primary cause of action. To assist you in completing the sheet, examples of the cases that belong under each case type in item 1 are provided below. A cover sheet must be filed only with your initial paper. Failure to file a cover sheet with the first paper filed in a civil case may subject a party, its counsel, or both to sanctions under rules 2.30 and 3.220 of the California Rules of Court.

To Parties in Rule 3.740 Collections Cases. A "collections case" under rule 3.740 is defined as an action for recovery of money owed in a sum stated to be certain that is not more than $25,000, exclusive of interest and attorney's fees, arising from a transaction in which property, services, or money was acquired on credit. A collections case does not include an action seeking the following: (1) tort damages, (2) punitive damages, (3) recovery of real property, (4) recovery of personal property, or (5) a prejudgment writ of attachment. The identification of a case as a rule 3.740 collections case on this form means that it will be exempt from the general time-for-service requirements and case management rules, unless a defendant files a responsive pleading. A rule 3.740 collections case will be subject to the requirements for service and obtaining a judgment in rule 3.740.

To Parties in Complex Cases. In complex cases only, parties must also use the Civil Case Cover Sheet to designate whether the case is complex. If a plaintiff believes the case is complex under rule 3.400 of the California Rules of Court, this must be indicated by completing the appropriate boxes in items 1 and 2. If a plaintiff designates a case as complex, the cover sheet must be served with the complaint on all parties to the action. A defendant may file and serve no later than the time of its first appearance a joinder in the plaintiff's designation, a counter-designation that the case is not complex, or, if the plaintiff has made no designation, a designation that the case is complex.

PLAINTIFF[redacted] hereby allege and complain as follows:

GENERAL ALLEGATIONS COMMON TO ALL CAUSES OF ACTION

1. Plaintiffs are individuals, residing in the City of Fort Worth, County of Tarrant, in the State of Texas.

2. Defendant FORD MOTOR COMPANY (hereinafter referred to as "Manufacturer") is a corporation doing business in the County of Santa Clara, State of California, and, at all times relevant herein, was/is engaged in the manufacture, sale, distribution, and/or importing of Ford motor vehicles and related equipment.

3. Defendant THE FORD STORE MORGAN HILL, INC. d/b/a THE FORD STORE MORGAN HILL (hereinafter referred to as "Seller") is a corporation doing business in the County of Santa Clara, State of California, and, at all times relevant herein, a Manufacturer-authorized agent engaged in the business of selling/leasing and servicing and repairing Manufacturer's vehicles.

4. The true names and capacities, whether individual, corporate, associate, or otherwise, of the Defendants, Does 1 through 20, inclusive, are unknown to Plaintiffs who therefore sue these Defendants by such fictitious names. Plaintiffs will seek leave to amend this Complaint to set forth their true names and capacities when they have ascertained them. Further, Plaintiffs are informed and believe, and thereon allege, that each of the Defendants designated herein as a "Doe" is responsible in some manner for the events and happenings herein referred to and caused injury and damage to Plaintiffs as herein alleged.

5. Plaintiffs are informed and believe, and thereon allege, that at all times herein mentioned, Defendants, and each of them, were the agents, servants, and/or employees of each of their Co-Defendants. Plaintiffs are informed and believe, and thereon allege, that in doing the things hereinafter alleged Defendants, and each of them, were acting in the course and scope of their employment as such agents, servants, and/or employees, and with the permission, consent, knowledge, and/or ratification of their Co-Defendants, principals, and/or employers.

6. Before July 11, 2018, Defendants, Manufacturer and Does 1 through 20 inclusive, manufactured and/or distributed into the stream of commerce a new 2018 Ford EcoSport , VIN: MAJ3P1TE5JC[redacted] hereinafter referred to as the "Vehicle") for its eventual sale/lease in the State of California.

7. On or about July 11, 2018, Plaintiffs purchased, for personal, family, and/or household purposes, the subject Vehicle from the Seller for a total consideration over the term of the installment contract of $28,367.68. Retail Installment Sale Contract is in the possession of Defendants.

8. The subject Vehicle was/is a "new motor vehicle" under the Song-Beverly Warranty Act.

9. Along with the purchase of the Vehicle, Plaintiffs received written warranties and other express and implied warranties including, but not limited to, warranties from Manufacturer and Seller that the Vehicle and its components would be free from all defects in material and workmanship; that the Vehicle would pass without objection in the trade under the contract description; that the Vehicle would be fit for the ordinary purposes for which it was intended; that the Vehicle would conform to the promises and affirmations of fact made; that Defendants, and each of them, would perform any repairs, alignments, adjustments, and/or replacements of any parts necessary to ensure that the Vehicle was free from any defects in material and workmanship; that Defendants, and each of them, would maintain the utility of the Vehicle for three years or 36,000 miles basic warranty, five years or 60,000 miles drive train warranty, and would conform the Vehicle to the applicable express warranties. (A copy of the written warranty is in the possession of the Defendants).

10. Plaintiffs have duly performed all the conditions on Plaintiffs' part under the purchase agreement and under the express and implied warranties given to Plaintiffs, except insofar as the acts and/or omissions of the Defendants, and each of them, as alleged herein, prevented and/or excused such performance.

11. Plaintiffs have delivered the Vehicle to the Manufacturer's authorized service and repair facilities, agents and/or dealers, including Seller, on several separate occasions resulting in the Vehicle being out of service by reason of repair of nonconformities. Repair Orders/Invoices are in the possession of Defendants.

12. By way of example, and not by way of limitation, the defects, malfunctions, misadjustments, and/or nonconformities with Plaintiffs' Vehicle include the following: TPMS light illuminations, TPMS sensor replacement, low oil pressure light illuminations, engine long block replacement, turbo charger replacement, transmission malfunctions, and battery light illuminations, among other concerns.

13. Each time Plaintiffs delivered the nonconforming Vehicle to a Manufacturer-authorized service and repair facility, Plaintiffs notified Defendants, and each of them, of the defects, malfunctions, misadjustments, and/or nonconformities existent with the Vehicle and demanded that Manufacturer or its representatives repair, adjust, and/or replace any necessary parts to conform the Vehicle to the applicable warranties.

14. Each time Plaintiffs delivered the nonconforming Vehicle to a Manufacturer-authorized service and repair facility, Defendants, and each of them, represented to Plaintiffs that they could and would conform the Vehicle to the applicable warranties, that in fact they did conform the Vehicle to said warranties, and that all the defects, malfunctions, misadjustments, and/or nonconformities have been repaired; however, Manufacturer or its representatives failed to conform the Vehicle to the applicable warranties because said defects, malfunctions, misadjustments, and/or nonconformities continue to exist even after a reasonable number of attempts to repair was given.

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

(Breach of Implied Warranty of Merchantability under Song-Beverly Warranty Act against all Defendants)

15. Plaintiffs reallege each and every paragraph (1-14) and incorporates them by this reference as though fully set forth herein.

16. The distribution and sale of the Vehicle was accompanied by the Manufacturer and Seller's implied warranty that the Vehicle was merchantable.

17. Furthermore, Defendants, and each of them, impliedly warranted, inter alia, that the Vehicle would pass without objection in the trade under the contract description; that the Vehicle was fit for the ordinary purposes for which it was intended; that the Vehicle was adequately assembled; and/or that the Vehicle conformed to the promises or affirmations of fact made to Plaintiffs.

18. As evidenced by the defects, malfunctions, misadjustments, and/or nonconformities alleged herein, the Vehicle was not merchantable because it did not have the quality that a buyer would reasonably expect, because it could not pass without objection in the trade under the contract description; because it was not fit for the ordinary purposes for which it was intended; because it was not adequately assembled; and/or because it did not or could not be conformed to the promises or affirmations of fact made to Plaintiffs.

19. Upon discovery of the Vehicle's nonconformities, Plaintiffs took reasonable steps to notify Defendants, and each of them, within a reasonable time that the Vehicle did not have the quality that a buyer would reasonably expect and, further, justifiably revoked acceptance of the nonconforming Vehicle.

20. As a result of the acts and/or omissions of the Defendants, and each of them, Plaintiffs have sustained damage in the amount actually paid or payable under the contract, plus prejudgement interest thereon at the legal rate. Plaintiffs will seek leave to amend this Complaint to set forth the exact amount thereof when that amount is ascertained.

21. As a further result of the actions of Defendants, and each of them, Plaintiffs have sustained incidental and consequential damages in an amount yet to be determined, plus interest thereon at the legal rate. Plaintiffs will seek leave to amend this Complaint to set forth the exact amount of incidental damages when that amount is ascertained.

22. As a further result of the actions of Defendants, and each of them, Plaintiffs have sustained damages equal to the difference between the value of the Vehicle as accepted and the value the Vehicle would have had if it had been as warranted.

23. As a direct result of the acts and/or omissions of Defendants, and each of them, and in pursuing Plaintiffs' claim, it was necessary for Plaintiffs to retain legal counsel. Pursuant to Song-Beverly, Plaintiffs, in addition to their other remedies, is entitled to the recovery of their attorneys' fees based upon actual time expended and reasonably incurred, in connection with the commencement and prosecution of this action.

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

(Breach of Express Warranty under Song-Beverly Warranty Act against all Defendants)

24. Plaintiffs reallege each and every paragraph (1-23) and incorporates them by this reference as though fully set forth herein.

25. The Vehicle had defects, malfunctions, misadjustments, and/or nonconformities covered by the warranty that substantially impaired its value, use, or safety to Plaintiffs.

26. Plaintiffs delivered the Vehicle to Manufacturer or its authorized repair facilities for repair.

27. Defendants, and each of them, failed to service or repair the Vehicle to match the written warranty after a reasonable number of opportunities to do so.

28. The acts and/or omissions of Defendants, and each of them, in failing to perform the proper repairs, part replacements, and/or adjustments, to conform the Vehicle to the applicable express warranties constitute a breach of the express warranties that the Manufacturer provided to Plaintiffs, thereby breaching Defendants' obligations under Song-Beverly.

29. Defendants, and each of them, failed to perform the necessary repairs and/or service in good and workmanlike manner. The actions taken by Defendants, and each of them, were insufficient to make the Subject Vehicle conform to the express warranties and/or proper operational characteristics of like Vehicles, all in violation of Defendants' obligations under Song-Beverly.

30. As a result of the acts and/or omissions of Defendants, and each of them, and pursuant to the provisions of the Song-Beverly, Plaintiffs are entitled to replacement of the Vehicle or restitution of the amount actually paid or payable under the contract, at Plaintiffs' election, plus prejudgment interest thereon at the legal rate. Plaintiffs will seek leave of Court to amend this Complaint to set forth the exact amount of restitution and interest, upon election, when that amount has been ascertained.

31. Additionally, as a result of the acts and/or omissions of Defendants, and each of them, and pursuant to Song-Beverly, Plaintiffs have sustained and is entitled to consequential and incidental damages in amounts yet to be determined, plus interest thereon at the legal rate. Plaintiffs will seek leave of the court to amend this complaint to set forth the exact amount of consequential and/or incidental damages, when those amounts have been ascertained.

FORD MOTOR COMPANY,

Defendant.

Damages $10,001-15,000

Location: Court Room 1501

Judge: Simon, John A.

COMPLAINT

NOW COMES the Plaintiff, [redacted] by and through her attorneys, KROHN & MOSS, LTD., and for her Complaint against Defendant, FORD MOTOR COMPANY, alleges and affirmatively states as follows:

PARTIES

1. Plaintiff, [redacted] ("Plaintiff"), is an individual who resides in the State of Illinois, County of Cook.

2. Defendant, FORD MOTOR COMPANY ("Manufacturer"), is a foreign corporation authorized to do business in the State of Illinois, County of Cook and is engaged in the manufacture, sale and/or distribution of motor vehicles and related equipment and services. Manufacturer is also in the business of marketing, supplying and selling written warranties to the public at large through a system of authorized dealerships including McCarthy Ford, Inc. ("Seller"). Manufacturer does business in all counties of the State of Illinois, including Cook County.

BACKGROUND

3. On or about June 3, 2019, Plaintiff purchased from Seller a 2018 Ford EcoSport ("EcoSport"), manufactured by Manufacturer, Vehicle Identification No.

FILED DATE: 11/29/2022 12:29 PM 202211236

MAJ3P1VEXJC[redacted] for valuable consideration (See copy of Plaintiff's Retail Installment Contract, attached hereto as Exhibit "A").

4. The purchase price of the EcoSport totaled $27,920.00.

5. Plaintiff avers that as a result of the ineffective repair attempts made by Manufacturer, through its authorized dealership network, the EcoSport was not fit for its ordinary purpose of providing trouble free and reliable transport.

6. In consideration for the purchase of the EcoSport, Manufacturer issued and supplied to Plaintiff its written warranty which included three (3) year or thirty-six thousand (36,000) mile bumper to bumper coverage, five (5) year or sixty thousand (60,000) mile powertrain coverage as well as other standard warranties outlined in Manufacturer's warranty booklet.

7. On or about June 3, 2019, Plaintiff took possession of the EcoSport and shortly thereafter experienced the defects listed below.

8. The defects described below violate Manufacturer's warranty issued to Plaintiff as well as the implied warranty of merchantability.

9. Plaintiff delivered the EcoSport to Manufacturer, through its authorized dealership network, on numerous occasions.

10. Plaintiff avers that the EcoSport has been subject to repair on multiple occasions for the same defects and that the defects remain uncorrected.

11. Plaintiff brought the EcoSport to Seller, and/or an authorized service dealer of Manufacturer, for the following defects that include but are not limited to:

a. Defective engine/electrical system as evidenced by the intermittent illumination of the check engine light and oil pressure light, engine making noise when starting up, vibrating at idle in park and drive, cutting off and vehicle not restarting after fueling;
b. Defective electrical system as evidenced by key fob inoperative;

FILED DATE: 11/29/2022 12:29 PM 20221123648

c. Defective steering/suspension as evidenced by rattling noise in front end; and
d. Any additional defects, whether or not they are contained on any dealer repair orders.

12. Plaintiff provided Manufacturer, through its authorized dealership network, sufficient opportunities to repair the EcoSport.

13. After a reasonable number of attempts and/or reasonable amount of time to cure the defects in Plaintiff's EcoSport, Manufacturer was unable and/or failed to repair the defects as provided in Manufacturer's warranty thus causing Manufacturer's limited remedy to repair the EcoSport to fail of its essential purpose.

14. Plaintiff justifiably lost confidence in the EcoSport's safety and/or reliability.

15. Said defects could not have reasonably been discovered by Plaintiff prior to Plaintiffs acceptance of the EcoSport.

16. As a result of the defects, Plaintiff provided written notice to Manufacturer.

17. The EcoSport remains in a defective and unmerchantable condition and continues to exhibit the above-mentioned defects.

18. Plaintiff has been and will continue to be financially damaged by Manufacturer's failure to comply with the provisions of its written warranty and its failure to provide Plaintiff with a merchantable EcoSport.

COUNT I
BREACH OF WRITTEN WARRANTY
PURSUANT TO THE MAGNUSON-MOSS WARRANTY ACT
MANUFACTURER

19. Plaintiff re-alleges and incorporates by reference as though fully set forth herein, paragraphs 1-18 of her Complaint.

FILED DATE: 11/29/2022 12:29 PM 20221123648

20. Plaintiff is a purchaser of a consumer product who received the EcoSport during the duration of a written warranty period applicable to the EcoSport and who is entitled by the terms of the written warranty to enforce against Manufacturer the obligations of said warranty.

21. Manufacturer is a supplier of a consumer product engaged in the business of making a consumer product directly and/or indirectly available to Plaintiff.

22. The Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act, Chapter 15 U.S.C.A., Section 2301, et. seq. ("Warranty Act") is applicable to Plaintiff's Complaint in that the EcoSport was manufactured and purchased after July 4, 1975 and costs in excess of ten dollars ($10.00).

23. Plaintiff's purchase of the EcoSport was accompanied by a written factory warranty for any defects in material or workmanship, comprising an undertaking in writing in connection with the purchase of the EcoSport to repair or replace defective parts or take other remedial action free of charge to Plaintiff with respect to the EcoSport in the event that the EcoSport failed to meet the specifications set forth in Manufacturer's warranty.

24. Manufacturer's warranty was the basis of the bargain of the contract between Plaintiff and Manufacturer for the sale of the EcoSport to Plaintiff.

25. Said purchase of Plaintiff's EcoSport was induced by, and Plaintiff relied upon, Manufacturer's written warranty.

26. Plaintiff has met all of her obligations and preconditions as provided in Manufacturer's written warranty.

27. As a direct and proximate result of Manufacturer's failure to comply with its written warranty, Plaintiff has suffered damages and in accordance with 15 U.S.C. §2310(d)(1), Plaintiff is entitled to bring suit for such damages and other legal and equitable relief.

FILED DATE: 11/29/2022 12:29 PM 20221123648

28. Plaintiff avers that upon successfully prevailing upon the Warranty Act claim herein, all attorneys' fees are recoverable and are demanded against Manufacturer.

a. The diminution in value of the EcoSport or incurred and/or needed costs of repair and all incidental and consequential damages;
b. All reasonable attorneys' fees, witness fees and all court costs and other fees incurred; and
c. Such other and further relief that the Court deems just and appropriate.

COUNT II

MANUFACTURER

29. Plaintiff re-alleges and incorporates by reference as though fully set forth herein, paragraphs 1-18 of her Complaint.

30. The EcoSport purchased by Plaintiff was subject to an implied warranty of merchantability as defined in 15 U.S.C. §2301(7) running from Manufacturer to Plaintiff.

31. Manufacturer is a supplier of consumer goods as a person engaged in the business of making a consumer product directly and/or indirectly available to Plaintiff.

32. Manufacturer is prohibited from disclaiming or modifying any implied warranty when making a written warranty to the consumer or when Manufacturer has entered into a contract in writing within ninety (90) days of a purchase to perform services relating to the maintenance or repair of a motor vehicle.

33. Pursuant to 15 U.S.C. §2308, Plaintiff's EcoSport was impliedly warranted to be fit for the ordinary purpose for which the EcoSport was intended.

34. The EcoSport was warranted to pass without objection in the trade under the contract description and was required to conform to the descriptions of the EcoSport contained in the contracts and labels.

FILED DATE: 11/29/2022 12:29 PM 20221123648

35. The above described defects in the EcoSport render the EcoSport unmerchantable and thereby not fit for the ordinary purpose for which the EcoSport was intended and as represented by Manufacturer.

36. As a result of the breach of implied warranty by Manufacturer, Plaintiff is without the reasonable value of the EcoSport.

37. As a result of the breach of implied warranty by Manufacturer, Plaintiff has suffered and continues to suffer various damages.

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff prays for judgment against Manufacturer as follows:

a. The diminution in value of the EcoSport or incurred and/or needed costs of repair and all incidental and consequential damages;
b. All reasonable attorneys' fees, witness fees and all court costs and other fees incurred; and
c. Such other and further relief that the Court deems just and appropriate.

RE: Shelia Davis v. Ford Motor Company
Vehicle: 2018 Ford EcoSport
VIN: MAJ3P1VEXJ [redacted]

Dear Sir/Madam:

Please be advised that this office represents the above-named individual regarding claims against your company pursuant to the Federal Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act with regard to the above-listed vehicle. Please direct all future contacts and correspondence to our office.

Having been formally notified of our representation, you are instructed not to contact our client under any circumstances. Direct all inquiries to this office. If you fail to act in conformity with this directive, injunctive relief will be sought against you.

Pursuant to 15 U.S.C. 2310(d), you are hereby notified that any settlement made with our client requires payment of our attorneys' fees. If you settle directly with our client and do not make arrangements for payment of our attorneys' fees, we will file suit against you. In addition, you are hereby notified of our attorneys' lien.

There are defects present in my client's vehicle for which relief is sought and numerous attempts to repair the vehicle have been unsuccessful. The defects include, but are not limited to:

1. Defective engine/electrical system as evidenced by the intermittent illumination of the check engine light and oil pressure light, engine making noise when starting up, vibrating at idle in park and drive, cutting off and vehicle not restarting after fueling;
2. Defective electrical system as evidenced by key fob inoperative;
3. Defective steering/suspension as evidenced by rattling noise in front end; and
4. Any additional defects, whether or not they are contained on any dealer repair orders.

Because of the defects, my client has justifiably lost confidence in the vehicle. As one court has stated:

> For a majority of people the purchase of a new car is a major investment, rationalized by the peace of mind that flows from its dependability and safety. Once their faith is shaken, the vehicle loses not only its real value in their eyes, but becomes an instrument whose integrity is substantially impaired and whose operation is fraught with apprehension. Zabriskie Chevrolet, Inc. v. Smith, 240 A.2d 195.

Concerning the amount of grief a person must endure, one court expressed the consumer's lament in the following manner:

> There comes a time when enough is enough – when an automobile purchaser, after having to take her car into the shop for repairs an inordinate number of times and experiencing all of the attendant inconvenience, is entitled to say, "That's all," and revoke, notwithstanding the repeated good faith efforts to fix the car. Rester v. Morrow, 491 So.2d 204.

My client's repair history clearly shows there was a breach of both written and implied warranties:

> Based upon the generally accepted rule that an unsuccessful effort to remedy defects found to exist renders the warrantor liable; the buyer is not bound to allow her the opportunity or permit her to tinker with the article indefinitely in the hope that it may ultimately be made to comply with the warranty. Kure v. Chevrolet Motor Division, 581 P.2d 603.

Therefore, you are hereby notified in writing of your breach of warranty and of my client's intent to pursue claims for breach of warranty in a court of law should you fail to amicably resolve this matter. Please be advised that pursuant to Uniform Commercial Code §2-711(3), my client has a security interest in the vehicle. Unless you are willing to accept the return of the vehicle and reimburse my client for all monies paid on the vehicle, my client will hold the vehicle and use it to the extent necessary to preserve it, to protect the security interest and to minimize your damages. Moreover, my client needs return of the monies listed above before a substitute vehicle can be acquired. In addition, any attempt by you or your agents to repossess the vehicle will be wrongful and may subject you to liability for conversion and for wrongful repossession under Uniform Commercial Code §§9-503 and 9-507, as well as any other applicable remedies.

If the seller or, if applicable, the assignee, or any creditor subject to the FTC Holder Rule has filed a financing statement covering the goods, I demand, pursuant to Uniform Commercial Code §9-404, that you file a termination statement within ten (10) days to terminate your security interest and forward a copy to me. Since my client has revoked acceptance, there is no outstanding secured obligation. If you do not file a termination statement within ten (10) days and cooperate in removing the lien, you may be liable under Uniform Commercial Code §9-404(1) in the amount of $100.00, plus any loss caused to my client by your failure to do so.

To avoid any litigation, my client requests the return of fifty (50) percent of the purchase price of the vehicle as compensation for its diminished value due to its defects and payment of our attorneys' fees pursuant to the fee-shifting provision of the Federal Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act. Our attorneys' fees are minimal at this stage and we would prefer to resolve this matter without the need for any more time spent on our part or on the part of your attorneys. A great deal of time, money and effort will be saved by all parties involved with a quick resolution of this claim.

Accordingly, if you wish to resolve this matter amicably, please feel free to contact my office. If the matter has not been resolved within fourteen (14) days from the date of this letter, a lawsuit will be filed.

FORD MOTOR COMPANY
FMC Consumer Claims
One American Road, Suite 400
Dearborn, MI 48126

Via Certified Mail/Return Receipt Requested

Dear Gentlepersons:

We have been retained to represent [redacted] regarding her claims and rights related to the purchase of the above referenced 2020 Ford Ecosport. Please direct all correspondence regarding this matter to our office, and do not discuss this matter directly with our client without the express written consent of this office.

Please review the attached service repair orders. Ford dealers have been unable to properly diagnose and/or repair this vehicle of its substantially impairing defects. This vehicle has ben detained by Ford dealers for repairs related to defects including but not limited to, loss of power, A/C fan, vibration, blue tooth, slow crank, and "check engine" issues, just to mention a few.

The substantial defects present in this vehicle impair the use, value and especially the safety of the vehicle to our client.

There has been a reasonable opportunity by Ford dealers to conform this vehicle to its express and implied warranties, but Ford has been unable to do so. The vehicle has already been in the repair facility five (5) times since September 15, 2020, to identify and try to resolve the recurring problems and client is still having brake issues. Our client has lost all confidence in this vehicle due to the above mentioned problems.

This letter will serve as notice that after further research, we have determined that FORD MOTOR COMPANY is hereby required to made restitution with our client in accordance with the Song-Beverly Consumer Warranty Act, Cal. Civ. Code Section 1793.2(d)(2), and /or section Cal. Civ. Code Section 1794, the Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act, 15 U.S.C. Section 2301(3), and remedies for breach of warranty under California UCC Section2313, 2315; provisions concerning sales of goods and the warranties of merchantability and fitness for a particular purpose.

FORD MOTOR COMPANY is a seller, retailer, supplier and /or warrantor in breach of the implied warranties of merchantability and fitness for a particular purpose; said warranties, which accompanied the sale of this vehicle to our client.

Mrs. Defoe is due restitution, cost, expenses and attorney's fees reasonably incurred in connection with this action, as an appropriate remedy for the failure of FMC dealers to repair this vehicle to conform to the express and implied warranties. Our client hereby exercises her free choice under the law to elect restitution in lieu of replacement. Mrs. Defoe is also entitled to justifiably revoke acceptance of this vehicle under the law, and she hereby revokes acceptance of the vehicle.

The Song-Beverly Consumer Warranty Act Cal. Civil Code Section 1793.2, and California UCC require this notification letter. As required by the Act, we hereby give you fourteen (14) days to make an appropriate remedy for these violations.

Please contact our office once you have reviewed this matter. Failure to make an appropriate remedy as demanded will require us to withdraw this offer and proceed accordingly. You are invited to contact our office and speak with Mr. Abel G. Favela, at "abel@zamorajustice.com for further assistance, if needed,

Very truly yours,

ZAMORA LAW BOUTIQUE, PLC

OTHER IMPORTANT AGREEMENTS

1. FINANCE CHARGE AND PAYMENTS

a. How we will figure Finance Charge. We will figure the Finance Charge on a daily basis at the Annual Percentage Rate on the unpaid part of the Amount Financed. Seller - Creditor may receive part of the Finance Charge.

b. How we will apply payments. We may apply each payment to the earned and unpaid part of the Finance Charge, to the unpaid part of the Amount Financed and to other amounts you owe under this contract in any order we choose as the law allows.

c. How late payments or early payments change what you must pay. We based the Finance Charge, Total of Payments, and Total Sale Price shown on page 1 of this contract on the assumption that you will make every payment on the day it is due. Your Finance Charge, Total of Payments, and Total Sale Price will be more if you pay late and less if you pay early. Changes may take the form of a larger or smaller final payment or, at our option, more or fewer payments of the same amount as your scheduled payment with a smaller final payment. We will send you a notice telling you about these changes before the final scheduled payment is due.

d. You may prepay. You may prepay all or part of the unpaid part of the Amount Financed at any time. If you do so, you must pay the earned and unpaid part of the Finance Charge and all other amounts due up to the date of your payment. As of the date of your payment, if the minimum finance charge is greater than the earned Finance Charge, you may be charged the difference; the minimum finance charge is as follows: (1) $25 if the original Amount Financed does not exceed $1,000, (2) $50 if the original Amount Financed is more than $1,000 but not more than $2,000, or (3) $75 if the original Amount Financed is more than $2,000.

2. YOUR OTHER PROMISES TO US

a. If the vehicle is damaged, destroyed, or missing. You agree to pay us all you owe under this contract even if the vehicle is damaged, destroyed, or missing.

> GAP LIABILITY NOTICE
> In the event of theft or damage to your vehicle that results in a total loss, there may be a gap between the amount you owe under this contract and the proceeds of your insurance settlement and deductible. THIS CONTRACT PROVIDES THAT YOU ARE LIABLE FOR THE GAP AMOUNT. An optional debt cancellation agreement for coverage of the gap amount may be offered for an additional charge.

b. Using the vehicle. You agree not to remove the vehicle from the U.S. or Canada, or to sell, rent, lease, or transfer any interest in the vehicle or this contract without our written permission. You agree not to expose the vehicle to misuse, seizure, confiscation, or involuntary transfer. If we pay any repair bills, storage bills, taxes, fines, or charges on the vehicle, you agree to repay the amount when we ask for it.

c. Security Interest.
You give us a security interest in:
- The vehicle and all parts or goods put on it;
- All money or goods received (proceeds) for the vehicle;
- All insurance, maintenance, service, or other contracts we finance for you; and
- All proceeds from insurance, maintenance, service, or other contracts we finance for you. This includes any refunds of premiums or charges from the contracts.

This secures payment of all you owe on this contract. It also secures your other agreements in this contract as the law allows. You will make sure the title shows our security interest (lien) in the vehicle. You will not allow any other security interest to be placed on the title without our written permission.

d. Insurance you must have on the vehicle.
You agree to have physical damage insurance covering loss of or damage to the vehicle for the term of this contract. The insurance must cover our interest in the vehicle. You agree to name us on your insurance policy as loss payee. If you do not have this insurance, we may, if we choose, buy physical damage insurance. If we decide to buy physical damage insurance, we may either buy insurance that covers your interest and our interest in the vehicle, or buy insurance that covers only our interest. If we buy either type of insurance, we will tell you which type and the charge you must pay. The charge will be the premium for the insurance and a finance charge computed at the Annual Percentage Rate shown on page 1 of this contract or, at our option, the highest rate the law permits. If the vehicle is lost or damaged, you agree that we may use any insurance settlement to reduce what you owe or repair the vehicle.

e. What happens to returned insurance, maintenance, service, or other contract charges. If we get a refund of insurance, maintenance, service, or other contract charges, you agree that we may subtract the refund from what you owe.

3. IF YOU PAY LATE OR BREAK YOUR OTHER PROMISES

a. You may owe late charges. You will pay a late charge on each late payment as shown on page 1 of this contract. Acceptance of a late payment or late charge does not excuse your late payment or mean that you may keep making late payments. If you pay late, we may also take the steps described below.

b. You may have to pay all you owe at once. If you break your promises (default), we may demand that you pay all you owe on this contract at once, subject to any right the law gives you to reinstate this contract.
Default means:
- You do not pay any payment on time;
- You give false, incomplete, or misleading information during credit application;
- You start a proceeding in bankruptcy or one is started against you or your property;
- The vehicle is lost, damaged, or destroyed; or
- You break any agreements in this contract.

The amount you will owe will be the unpaid part of the Amount Financed plus the earned and unpaid part of the Finance Charge, any late charges, and any amounts due because you defaulted.

c. You may have to pay collection costs. You will pay our reasonable costs to collect what you owe, including attorney fees, court costs, collection agency fees, and fees paid for other reasonable collection efforts. You agree to pay a charge not to exceed $15 if any check you give to us is dishonored.

d. We may take the vehicle from you. If you default, we may take (repossess) the vehicle from you if we do so peacefully and the law allows it. If your vehicle has an electronic tracking device (such as GPS), you agree that we may use the device to find the vehicle. If we take the vehicle, any accessories, equipment, and replacement parts will stay with the vehicle. If any personal items are in the vehicle, we may store them for you. If you do not ask for these items back, we may dispose of them as the law allows.

e. How you can get the vehicle back if we take it. If we repossess the vehicle, you may pay to get it back (redeem). You may redeem the vehicle by paying all you owe, or you may have the right to reinstate this contract and redeem the vehicle by paying past due payments and any late charges, providing proof of insurance, and/or taking other action to cure the default. We will provide you all notices required by law to tell you when and how much to pay and/or what action you must take to redeem the vehicle.

f. We will sell the vehicle if you do not get it back. If you do not redeem, we will sell the vehicle. We will send you a written notice of sale before selling the vehicle.
We will apply the money from the sale, less allowed expenses, to the amount you owe. Allowed expenses are expenses we pay as a direct result of taking the vehicle, holding it, preparing it for sale, and selling it. Attorney fees and court costs the law permits are also allowed expenses. If any money is left (surplus), we will pay it to you unless the law requires us to pay it to someone else. If money from the sale is not enough to pay the amount you owe, you must pay the rest to us. If you do not pay this amount when we ask, we may charge you interest at the Annual Percentage Rate shown on page 1 of this contract, not to exceed the highest rate permitted by law, until you pay.

g. What we may do about optional insurance, maintenance, service, or other contracts. This contract may contain charges for optional insurance, maintenance, service, or other contracts. If we demand that you pay all you owe at once or we repossess the vehicle, you agree that we may claim benefits under these contracts and cancel them to obtain refunds of unearned charges to reduce what you owe or repair the vehicle. If the vehicle is a total loss because it is confiscated, damaged, or stolen, we may claim benefits under these contracts and cancel them to obtain refunds of unearned charges to reduce what you owe.

4. WARRANTIES SELLER DISCLAIMS

If you do not get a written warranty, and the Seller does not enter into a service contract within 90 days from the date of this contract, the Seller makes no warranties, express or implied, on the vehicle, and there will be no implied warranties of merchantability or of fitness for a particular purpose.
This provision does not affect any warranties covering the vehicle that the vehicle manufacturer may provide. If the Seller has sold you a certified used vehicle, the warranty of merchantability is not disclaimed.

5. Used Car Buyers Guide. The information you see on the window form for this vehicle is part of this contract. Information on the window form overrides any contrary provisions in the contract of sale.
Spanish Translation: Guía para compradores de vehículos usados. La información que ve en el formulario de la ventanilla para este vehículo forma parte del presente contrato. La información del formulario de la ventanilla deja sin efecto toda disposición en contrario contenida en el contrato de venta.

6. SERVICING AND COLLECTION CONTACTS

In consideration of our extension of credit to you, you agree to provide us your contact information for our servicing and collection purposes. You agree that we may use this information to contact you in writing, by e-mail, or using prerecorded/artificial voice messages, text messages, and automatic telephone dialing systems, as the law allows. You also agree that we may try to contact you in these and other ways at any address or telephone number you provide us, even if the telephone number is a cell phone number or the contact results in a charge to you. You agree that you will within a reasonable time notify us of any change in your name, address, or employment. You also agree to allow our agents and service providers to contact you as agreed above.

7. APPLICABLE LAW

Federal law and California law apply to this contract. If any part of this contract is not valid, all other parts stay valid. We may delay or refrain from enforcing any of our rights under this contract without losing them. For example, we may extend the time for making some payments without extending the time for making others.

8. WARRANTIES OF BUYER

You promise you have given true and correct information during your application for credit, and you have no knowledge that will make that information untrue in the future. We have relied on the truth and accuracy of that information in entering into this contract. Upon request, you will provide us with documents and other information necessary to verify any item contained in your credit application.

You waive the provisions of Calif. Vehicle Code Section 1808.21 and authorize the California Department of Motor Vehicles to furnish your residence address to us.

CREDIT DISABILITY INSURANCE NOTICE
CLAIM PROCEDURE

If you become disabled, you must tell us right away. (You are advised to send this information to the same address to which you are normally required to send your payments, unless a different address or telephone number is given to you in writing by us as the location where we would like to be notified.) We will tell you where to get claim forms. You must send in the completed form to the insurance company as soon as possible and tell us as soon as you do.
If your disability insurance covers all of your missed payment(s), WE CANNOT TRY TO COLLECT WHAT YOU OWE OR FORECLOSE UPON OR REPOSSESS ANY COLLATERAL UNTIL THREE CALENDAR MONTHS AFTER your first missed payment is due or until the insurance company pays or rejects your claim, whichever comes first. We can, however, try to collect, foreclose, or repossess if you have any money due and owing us or are otherwise in default when your disability claim is made or if a senior mortgage or lien holder is foreclosing.
If the insurance company pays the claim within the three calendar months, we must accept the money as though you paid on time. If the insurance company rejects the claim within the three calendar months or accepts the claim within the three calendar months on a partial disability and pays less than for a total disability, you will have 35 days from the date that the rejection or the acceptance of the partial disability claim is sent to pay past due payments, or the difference between the past due payments and what the insurance company pays for the partial disability, plus late charges. You can contact us, and we will tell you how much you owe. After that time, we can take action to collect or foreclose or repossess any collateral you may have given.
If the insurance company accepts your claim but requires that you send in additional forms to remain eligible for continued payments, you should send in these completed additional forms no later than required. If you do not send in these forms on time, the insurance company may stop paying, and we will then be able to take action to collect or foreclose or repossess any collateral you may have given.

a. Seller agrees to deliver the vehicle to you on the date this contract is signed by Seller and you. You understand that it may take some time for Seller to verify your credit and assign the contract. You agree that if Seller is unable to assign the contract to any one of the financial institutions with whom Seller regularly does business under an assignment acceptable to Seller, Seller may cancel the contract.

b. Seller shall give you written notice (or in any other manner in which actual notice is given to you) within 10 days of the date this contract is signed if Seller elects to cancel. Upon receipt of such notice, you must immediately return the vehicle to Seller in the same condition as when sold, reasonable wear and tear excepted. Seller must give back to you all consideration received by Seller, including any trade-in vehicle.

c. If you do not immediately return the vehicle, you shall be liable for all expenses incurred by Seller in taking the vehicle from you, including reasonable attorney's fees.

d. While the vehicle is in your possession, all terms of the contract, including those relating to use of the vehicle and insurance for the vehicle, shall be in full force and you shall assume all risk of loss or damage to the vehicle. You must pay all reasonable costs for repair of any damage to the vehicle until the vehicle is returned to Seller.

ARBITRATION PROVISION

PLEASE REVIEW - IMPORTANT - AFFECTS YOUR LEGAL RIGHTS

1. EITHER YOU OR WE MAY CHOOSE TO HAVE ANY DISPUTE BETWEEN YOU AND US DECIDED BY ARBITRATION AND NOT IN COURT OR BY JURY TRIAL.
2. IF A DISPUTE IS ARBITRATED, YOU WILL GIVE UP YOUR RIGHT TO PARTICIPATE AS A CLASS REPRESENTATIVE OR CLASS MEMBER ON ANY CLASS CLAIM YOU MAY HAVE AGAINST US INCLUDING ANY RIGHT TO CLASS ARBITRATION OR ANY CONSOLIDATION OF INDIVIDUAL ARBITRATIONS.
3. DISCOVERY AND RIGHTS TO APPEAL IN ARBITRATION ARE GENERALLY MORE LIMITED THAN IN A LAWSUIT, AND OTHER RIGHTS THAT YOU AND WE WOULD HAVE IN COURT MAY NOT BE AVAILABLE IN ARBITRATION.

Any claim or dispute, whether in contract, tort, statute or otherwise (including the interpretation and scope of this Arbitration Provision, any allegation of waiver of rights under this Arbitration Provision, and the arbitrability of the claim or dispute), between you and us or our employees, agents, successors or assigns, which arises out of or relates to your credit application, purchase or condition of this Vehicle, this contract or any resulting transaction or relationship (including any such relationship with third parties who do not sign this contract) shall, at your or our election, be resolved by neutral, binding arbitration and not by a court action. If federal law provides that a claim or dispute is not subject to binding arbitration, this Arbitration Provision shall not apply to such claim or dispute. Any claim or dispute is to be arbitrated by a single arbitrator only on an individual basis and not as a plaintiff in a collective or representative action, or a class representative or member of a class on any class claim. The arbitrator may not preside over a consolidated, representative, class, collective, injunctive, or private attorney general action. You expressly waive any right you may have to arbitrate a consolidated, representative, class, collective, injunctive, or private attorney general action. You or we may choose the American Arbitration Association (www.adr.org) or National Arbitration and Mediation (www.namadr.com) as the arbitration organization to conduct the arbitration. If you and we agree, you or we may choose a different arbitration organization. You may get a copy of the rules of an arbitration organization by contacting the organization or visiting its website.

Arbitrators shall be attorneys or retired judges and shall be selected pursuant to the applicable rules. The arbitrator shall apply governing substantive law and the applicable statute of limitations. The arbitration hearing shall be conducted in the federal district in which you reside unless the Seller-Creditor is a party to the claim or dispute, in which case the hearing will be held in the federal district where this transaction was originated. We will pay the filing, administration, service, or case management fee and the arbitrator or hearing fee up to a maximum of $5,000, unless the law or the rules of the chosen arbitration organization require us to pay more. You and we will pay the filing, administration, service, or case management fee and the arbitrator or hearing fee over $5,000 in accordance with the rules and procedures of the chosen arbitration organization. The amount we pay may be reimbursed in whole or in part by decision of the arbitrator if the arbitrator finds that any of your claims is frivolous under applicable law. Each party shall be responsible for its own attorney, expert and other fees, unless awarded by the arbitrator under applicable law. If the chosen arbitration organization's rules conflict with this Arbitration Provision, then the provisions of this Arbitration Provision shall control. Any arbitration under this Arbitration Provision shall be governed by the Federal Arbitration Act (9 U.S.C. §§ 1 et seq.) and not by any state law concerning arbitration. Any award by the arbitrator shall be in writing and will be final and binding on all parties, subject to any limited right to appeal under the Federal Arbitration Act.

You and we retain the right to seek remedies in small claims court for disputes or claims within that court's jurisdiction, unless such action is transferred, removed or appealed to a different court. Neither you nor we waive the right to arbitrate any related or unrelated claims by filing any action in small claims court, or by using self-help remedies, such as repossession, or by filing an action to recover the vehicle, to recover a deficiency balance, or for individual or statutory public injunctive relief. Any court having jurisdiction may enter judgment on the arbitrator's award. This Arbitration Provision shall survive any termination, payoff or transfer of this contract. If any part of this Arbitration Provision, other than waivers of class rights, is deemed or found to be unenforceable for any reason, the remainder shall remain enforceable. You agree that you expressly waive any right you may have for a claim or dispute to be resolved on a class basis in court or in arbitration. If a court or arbitrator finds that this class arbitration waiver is unenforceable for any reason with respect to a claim or dispute in which class allegations have been made, the rest of this Arbitration Provision shall also be unenforceable.

The preceding NOTICE applies only to goods or services obtained primarily for personal, family or household use. In all other cases, Buyer will not assert against any subsequent holder or assignee of this contract any claims or defenses the Buyer (debtor) may have against the Seller, or against the manufacturer of the vehicle or equipment obtained under this contract.

WARNING:

YOUR PRESENT POLICY MAY NOT COVER COLLISION DAMAGE OR MAY NOT PROVIDE FOR FULL REPLACEMENT COSTS FOR THE VEHICLE BEING PURCHASED. IF YOU DO NOT HAVE FULL COVERAGE, SUPPLEMENTAL COVERAGE FOR COLLISION DAMAGE MAY BE AVAILABLE TO YOU THROUGH YOUR INSURANCE AGENT OR THROUGH THE SELLING DEALER. HOWEVER, UNLESS OTHERWISE SPECIFIED, THE COVERAGE YOU OBTAIN THROUGH THE DEALER PROTECTS ONLY THE DEALER, USUALLY UP TO THE AMOUNT OF THE UNPAID BALANCE REMAINING AFTER THE VEHICLE HAS BEEN REPOSSESSED AND SOLD.

FOR ADVICE ON FULL COVERAGE THAT WILL PROTECT YOU IN THE EVENT OF LOSS OR DAMAGE TO YOUR VEHICLE, YOU SHOULD CONTACT YOUR INSURANCE AGENT.

Complaints concerning unfair or deceptive practices or methods by the seller may be referred to the city attorney, the district attorney, or an investigator for the Department of Motor Vehicles, or any combination thereof.

After this contract is signed, the seller may not change the financing or payment terms unless you agree in writing to the change. You do not have to agree to any change, and it is an unfair or deceptive practice for the seller to make a unilateral change.

THERE IS NO COOLING-OFF PERIOD UNLESS YOU OBTAIN A CONTRACT CANCELLATION OPTION

California law does not provide for a "cooling-off" or other cancellation period for vehicle sales. Therefore, you cannot later cancel this contract simply because you change your mind, decide the vehicle costs too much, or wish you had acquired a different vehicle. After you sign below, you may only cancel this contract with the agreement of the seller or for legal cause, such as fraud. However, California law does require a seller to offer a two-day contract cancellation option on used vehicles with a purchase price of less than forty thousand dollars ($40,000), subject to certain statutory conditions. This contract cancellation option requirement does not apply to the sale of a recreational vehicle, a motorcycle, or an off-highway moto[redacted]ee the vehicle contract cancellation option agreement for details.

If Buyer fails to pay any money owing on this contract, each Guarantor must pay it when asked. Each Guarantor will be liable for the total amount owing even if other persons also sign as Guarantor, and even if Buyer has a complete defense to Guarantor's demand for reimbursement. Each Guarantor agrees to be liable even if we do one or more of the following: (1) give the Buyer more time to pay one or more payments; (2) give a full or partial release to any other Guarantor; (3) release any security; (4) accept less from the Buyer than the total amount owing; or (5) otherwise reach a settlement relating to this contract or extend the contract. Ford Motor Company
Attn: Customer Relationship Center

Dear Sir or Madam:

Please be advised that this firm has the privilege of representing [redacted] regarding claims against Ford Motor Company and Ford Blue Advantage pursuant to the Federal Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act with regard to the above-listed 2018 Ford EcoSport (the "Vehicle"). Going forward, please cease all communication with my client and direct all correspondence to this office. Additionally, you are hereby notified that any settlement made with our client must include compensation for all statutory and other relief available to a consumer, including attorney's fees and costs. If you settle directly with our client, and do not make arrangements for payment of fees and costs, we will file suit against you. In addition, you are hereby notified of our attorney's fees lien with regard to this matter. I thank you in advance for your cooperation in this regard.

On or about August 16, 2022 my client purchased the Vehicle from Walker Ford in Clearwater, Florida, for approximately $24,594.45. Unfortunately, and as set forth in greater detail below, the Vehicle my client purchased has proven to be plagued with ongoing issues that substantially impair the use, value and safety of the Vehicle. The issues and defects include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Vehicle stalls suddenly;
- Various power train failure messages are displayed;
- Powertrain malfunction;
- Overheating of the engine; and
- All additional complaints made by our client, whether or not they are contained in your company's records or in the records of your authorized service providers.

DEMAND

My client has already afforded Ford Motor Company multiple opportunities to correct the issues listed above, but the Vehicle remains in a defective state. The defects and non-conformities listed above constitute a substantial impairment of the use, value and safety of the Vehicle. Your failure and/or refusal to repair said defects and non-conformities in accordance with the terms of your respective warranties, constitutes a breach of warranty entitling my client to recovery. See Rastaedt v. Mercedes-Benz USA, LLC, 63 So. 3d 41 (Fla. 4th DCA 2011); Ocana v. Ford Motor Company, 992 So. 2d 319 (Fla. 3d DCA 2008); Zelyony v. Porsche Cars N. Am., Inc., 2008 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 31439 (S.D. Fla. 2008).

To the extent my client has not already placed you on notice, you are hereby notified that your failure to successfully repair the defects and non-conformities in the subject Vehicle constitute a breach of your warranty. The repair history for the Vehicle clearly shows that you have been unable or unwilling to correct the defects and nonconformities, after being afforded more than reasonable opportunities to do so. Accordingly, your warranty has failed of its essential purpose, and my client is entitled to seek any remedy available at law. See Frank Griffin Volkswagen, Inc. v. Smith, 610 So. 2d 597 (Fla. 1st DCA 1992); Burns v. DaimlerChrysler, 914 So.2d 451 (Fla. 4th DCA 2006).

It is my client's contention that you have already been provided with sufficient opportunities to cure the breach of warranty. However, if you are interested in making an additional attempt at curing the breach of warranty, my client has authorized me to resolve this matter for a repurchase of the subject Vehicle, reimbursement of all loan and insurance payments made to date, damages for loss of use of the Vehicle, and payment of attorney's fees and costs, which are relatively low as of the date of this writing. My client will also agree to execute a mutually agreeable release agreement as a condition of settlement.

My client is neither litigious nor unreasonable and she only want the quality product she expected when she purchased the Vehicle. As such, I respectfully request that you contact me on or before Wednesday, December 7, 2022, to accept my client's demand and finalize the terms of same. If this matter is not resolved within the stated timeframe, my client has instructed me to pursue any and all legal and equitable remedies available to her under state and federal law, including an award of costs and attorneys' fees incurred in seeking same.

PLEASE GOVERN YOURSELVES ACCORDINGLY.

Dear Sir or Madam:

Lemberg Law L.L.C. is writing on behalf of the above client with regard to the above vehicle purchased. Please consider this your statutory notice for an opportunity to correct the defects specified below. Should litigation become necessary, a lawsuit shall be filed in the Texas court. We will seek relief on our client's behalf under Texas Lemon Law, the Magnuson Moss Warranty Act, breach of warranty statutes and other laws protecting Texas consumers.

Since the purchase date and during the warranty period, this vehicle has been out of service at least thirty (30) days and subject to repair due to failed engine.

The vehicle has met the requirements of Texas Lemon Law. All defects in the vehicle substantially impair its use, value, and safety to our client and constitute a breach of warranty. Because of the incurable problems outlined above, our client revokes acceptance of the vehicle under U.C.C. § 2-608. Our client demands a return of all money paid so far, including the down payment, amount of payments thus far, finance charges, other fees, incidental and consequential damages, costs, and attorney's fees. We have been instructed to seek all legal recourse available under the law.

Please be advised that under U.C.C. § 2-711(3), our client has a security interest in the car until the purchase price is returned, plus expenses in handling and inspecting the car. Until you pay this amount, our client will hold the car and use it to the extent necessary to preserve it, to protect the security interest, and to minimize your damages. Moreover, our client demands the return of the purchase price before substitute goods can be acquired. In addition, any attempt by you or your agents to repossess the car will be deemed wrongful and will subject you to liability for conversion and for wrongful repossession under U.C.C. §§ 9-503 and 9-507. If the seller or any creditor subject to the FTC Holder Rule has filed a financing statement covering the above vehicle, we demand, pursuant to U.C.C. § 9-404, that you file a termination statement within 10 days to terminate such security interest. Failure to do so subjects you to liability under U.C.C. § 9-404(1).

Our client understands that sometimes the failures of the manufacturer simply cannot be corrected by any dealer. We hope to bring this matter to an end through an amicable settlement.

Thank you for your time and consideration in this matter, and I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

/s/ Jennifer Solak

Dear Sir or Madam:

Lemberg Law L.L.C. is writing on behalf of the above client with regard to the above vehicle purchased. We seek relief on our client's behalf under California Lemon Law, the Magnuson Moss Warranty Act, breach of warranty statutes and other laws protecting California consumers, including the California Unfair Trade Practices Act. Upon receipt of this notice please direct all inquiries regarding the above vehicle to this office, rather than to the client.

Since the purchase date and during the warranty period, this vehicle has been out of service over 30 days and subject to repair due to the low oil pressure light coming on and engine suffering a catastrophic failure.

The defects in the vehicle constitute a breach of warranty and California Lemon Law, in that they substantially impair its use, value, and safety to the client. Because of the problems outlined above, our client revokes acceptance of the vehicle under U.C.C. § 2-608. Our client demands a return of all money paid so far, including the down payment, amount of payments thus far, finance charges, other fees, incidental and consequential damages, costs, and attorney's fees. We have been instructed to seek all legal recourse available under the law.

Please be advised that under U.C.C. § 2-711(3), our client has a security interest in the car until the purchase price is returned, plus expenses in handling and inspecting the car. Until you pay this amount, our client will hold the car and use it to the extent necessary to preserve it, to protect the security interest, and to minimize your damages. Moreover, our client demands the return of the purchase price before substitute goods can be acquired. In addition, any attempt by you or your agents to repossess the car will be deemed wrongful and will subject you to liability for conversion and for wrongful repossession under U.C.C. §§ 9-503 and 9-507. If the seller or any creditor subject to the FTC Holder Rule has filed a financing statement covering the above vehicle, we demand, pursuant to U.C.C. § 9-404, that you file a termination statement within 10 days to terminate such security interest. Failure to do so subjects you to liability under U.C.C. § 9-404(1).

Our client understands that sometimes the failures of the manufacturer simply cannot be corrected by any dealer. We hope to bring this matter to an end through an amicable settlement. Thank you for your time and consideration in this matter, and I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

/s/ Trinette Kent

Re: [redacted]
Vehicle: 2018 Ford Ecosport
VIN: MAJ3P1RE2JC[redacted]

Dear Sir/Madam:

Please be advised that this law firm represents the legal interests of [redacted] relating to the purchase of the above-mentioned vehicle. Let this letter serve as notification that you immediately cease and desist all communications with our client. The only exception is the dealership may communicate with the client in reference to future repairs. Moreover, if you make any attempts to settle with our client without including all statutory relief, including all damages attorney fees and costs the consumer is entitled to, we may file suit against you. This letter hereby notifies you of our attorney's lien with respect to our client.

Please let this letter also serve as notification that our client's vehicle is defective. The vehicle has been brought in for repairs several times for numerous defects and although you have been afforded sufficient opportunities for repairs, the defects continue to exist and substantially impair the use and value and/or safety of the vehicle. If you are interested in any further repairs pursuant to the Lemon Law you must contact me immediately. Our client demands that you immediately take action as required by law.

This letter shall also serve as our client's Revocation of Acceptance pursuant to the Uniform Commercial Code § 2608 and notice of defect under the Lemon Law. Due to the serious defects with the Vehicle since its purchase, our client hereby demands a return of the full purchase price along with all interest paid on the finance note as well as attorney fees and incidental and consequential damages within 10 days of receipt of this letter to settle this matter prior to filing a lawsuit.

Please be advised that if you do not adhere to our demands within 10 days, our client has instructed me to file a lawsuit against you asserting claims that include, but in no way are limited to, breach of warranties, both express and implied, violation of the Magnuson Moss Warranty Act, violation of the Lemon Law, revocation of acceptance, and common law breach of contract. Please direct all future communication to my attention.

Respectfully submitted,

RE: [redacted]ON

To Whom It May Concern:

Please be advised that this office represents the above-named individual regarding claims pursuant to the federal Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act and the Uniform Commercial Code ("U.C.C.") with regard to the above-listed vehicle. Please direct all future contacts and correspondence to the office listed above.

There were numerous non-conformities with my client's automobile for which relief is sought, and numerous attempts to repair the vehicle have been unsuccessful. There were also numerous violations of both federal and state law in connection with the delivery and/or repair of the aforementioned vehicle. The primary non-conformities and violations include, but are not limited to:

1. Engine;
2. Electrical;
3. Check engine light;
4. Vehicle vibration;
5. Driveability;
6. No start;
7. Stalling;

8. Serious safety defect;

9. Excessive repair attempts;

10. Excessive days out of service.

The non-conformities listed above constitute a substantial impairment of the use, value and safety of the subject vehicle. Because of the inordinate amount of repairs my client has justifiably lost confidence in the vehicle.

My client's repair history clearly shows there was a breach of the written warranty and/or implied warranties of merchantability and fitness for a particular purpose, see U.C.C. §§ 2-314 and 2-315, based upon the generally accepted rule that an unsuccessful effort to remedy defects found to exist renders the warrantor liable; the buyer is not bound to allow him the opportunity or permit him to tinker with the article indefinitely in the hope that it may ultimately be made to comply with the warranty.

Therefore, you are hereby notified that my client is revoking acceptance of the vehicle, pursuant to the provisions of U.C.C. § 2-608. Our client has directed us to demand the return of all funds paid towards this vehicle, the cancellation of the contracts, and compensation for all damages and attorneys' fees.

Please be advised that under U.C.C. § 2-711(3) my client has a security interest in the car for return of the total purchase price, plus expenses in handling and inspecting the car. Until you pay this amount, my client will hold the car and use it to the extent necessary to preserve it, to protect its security interest, and to minimize your damages. Moreover, my client demands return of the purchase price before substitute goods can be acquired. In addition, any attempt by you or your agents to repossess the car will be wrongful and will subject you to liability for conversion and for wrongful repossession under U.C.C. §§ 9-503 and 9-507 as well as other applicable Consumer Fraud remedies.

If the seller [or, if applicable the assignee, or any creditor subject to the FTC Holder Rule] has filed a financing statement covering the goods, we demand, pursuant to U.C.C. § 9-404, that you file a termination statement within ten days to terminate your security interest and forward a copy to this office. Since my client has revoked acceptance, there is no outstanding secured obligation. If you do not file a termination statement within ten days and cooperate in removing the lien, you will be liable under U.C.C. § 9-404(1) in the amount of $100.00 plus any loss caused my client by your failure.

HAVING BEEN FORMALLY NOTIFIED OF OUR REPRESENTATION, YOU ARE INSTRUCTED NOT TO CONTACT OUR CLIENT UNDER ANY CIRCUMSTANCES. DIRECT ALL INQUIRIES TO THIS OFFICE. IF YOU FAIL TO ACT IN CONFORMITY WITH THIS DIRECTIVE, INJUNCTIVE RELIEF WILL BE SOUGHT AGAINST YOU. IN ADDITION, YOU ARE HEREBY NOTIFIED OF OUR ATTORNEYS' LIEN.

To avoid any further litigation, my client merely requests a refund for the defective product and will waive any incidental and consequential damages at this point. Our attorneys' fees are minimal at this stage and we would prefer to resolve this matter without the need for any more needless effort and expense spent on our part and on the part of your attorneys. Time, money and effort would be saved by both sides with a quick resolution of this claim.

This letter shall serve as notice to Ford Motor Company of its final opportunity to cure the above-referenced defects.

Sincerely,

ALEX SIMANOVSKY & ASSOCIATES, LLC

Dear Sir or Madam:

Lemberg Law L.L.C. is writing on behalf of the above client with regard to the above vehicle purchased. Please consider this your notice for an opportunity to correct the defects specified below. We will seek relief on our client's behalf under the Magnuson Moss Warranty Act, breach of warranty statutes and other laws protecting California consumers, including the California Unfair Trade Practices Act. Upon receipt of this notice please direct all inquiries regarding the above vehicle to this office, rather than to the client.

Since the purchase date and during the warranty period, this vehicle has been out of service over 45 days and subject to repair due to the engine failure and same defect continues to persist.

The defects in the vehicle constitute a breach of warranty in that they substantially impair its use, value, and safety to the client. Because of the incurable problems outlined above, our client revokes acceptance of the vehicle under U.C.C. § 2-608. Our client demands a return of all money paid so far, including the down payment, amount of payments thus far, finance charges, other fees, incidental and consequential damages, costs, and attorney's fees. We have been instructed to seek all legal recourse available under the law.

Please be advised that under U.C.C. § 2-711(3), our client has a security interest in the car until the purchase price is returned, plus expenses in handling and inspecting the car. Until you pay this amount, our client will hold the car and use it to the extent necessary to preserve it, to protect the security interest, and to minimize your damages. Moreover, our client demands the return of the purchase price before substitute goods can be acquired. In addition, any attempt by you or your agents to repossess the car will be deemed wrongful and will subject you to liability for conversion and for wrongful repossession under U.C.C. §§ 9-503 and 9-507. If the seller or any creditor subject to the FTC Holder Rule has filed a financing statement covering the above vehicle, we demand, pursuant to U.C.C. § 9-404, that you file a termination statement within 10 days to terminate such security interest. Failure to do so subjects you to liability under U.C.C. § 9-404(1).

Our client understands that sometimes the failures of the manufacturer simply cannot be corrected by any dealer. We hope to bring this matter to an end through an amicable settlement. Thank you for your time and consideration in this matter, and I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

/s/ Trinette Kent

INSTRUCTIONS ON HOW TO COMPLETE THE COVER SHEET

CM-010

To Plaintiffs and Others Filing First Papers. If you are filing a first paper (for example, a complaint) in a civil case, you must complete and file, along with your first paper, the Civil Case Cover Sheet contained on page 1. This information will be used to compile statistics about the types and numbers of cases filed. You must complete items 1 through 6 on the sheet. In item 1, you must check one box for the case type that best describes the case. If the case fits both a general and a more specific type of case listed in item 1, check the more specific one. If the case has multiple causes of action, check the box that best indicates the primary cause of action. To assist you in completing the sheet, examples of the cases that belong under each case type in item 1 are provided below. A cover sheet must be filed only with your initial paper. Failure to file a cover sheet with the first paper filed in a civil case may subject a party, its counsel, or both to sanctions under rules 2.30 and 3.220 of the California Rules of Court.

To Parties in Rule 3.740 Collections Cases. A "collections case" under rule 3.740 is defined as an action for recovery of money owed in a sum stated to be certain that is not more than $25,000, exclusive of interest and attorney's fees, arising from a transaction in which property, services, or money was acquired on credit. A collections case does not include an action seeking the following: (1) tort damages, (2) punitive damages, (3) recovery of real property, (4) recovery of personal property, or (5) a prejudgment writ of attachment. The identification of a case as a rule 3.740 collections case on this form means that it will be exempt from the general time-for-service requirements and case management rules, unless a defendant files a responsive pleading. A rule 3.740 collections case will be subject to the requirements for service and obtaining a judgment in rule 3.740.

To Parties in Complex Cases. In complex cases only, parties must also use the Civil Case Cover Sheet to designate whether the case is complex. If a plaintiff believes the case is complex under rule 3.400 of the California Rules of Court, this must be indicated by completing the appropriate boxes in items 1 and 2. If a plaintiff designates a case as complex, the cover sheet must be served with the complaint on all parties to the action. A defendant may file and serve no later than the time of its first appearance a joinder in the plaintiff's designation, a counter-designation that the case is not complex, or, if the plaintiff has made no designation, a designation that the case is complex.

4. Breach of Implied Warranty of Merchantability under the Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act.

JURY TRIAL DEMANDED

PLAINTI [redacted] ereby alleges and complains as follows:

GENERAL ALLEGATIONS COMMON TO ALL CAUSES OF ACTION

1. Plaintiff is an individual, residing in the City of San Jose, County of Santa Clara, in the State of California.

2. Defendant FORD MOTOR COMPANY (hereinafter referred to as "Manufacturer") is a corporation doing business in the County of Santa Cruz, State of California, and, at all times relevant herein, was/is engaged in the manufacture, sale, distribution, and/or importing of Ford motor vehicles and related equipment.

3. Defendant WCAF, LLC d/b/a WATSONVILLE FORD (hereinafter referred to as "Seller") is a limited liability company doing business in the County of Santa Cruz, State of California, and, at all times relevant herein, a Manufacturer-authorized agent engaged in the business of selling/leasing and servicing and repairing Manufacturer's vehicles.

4. The true names and capacities, whether individual, corporate, associate, or otherwise, of the Defendants, Does 1 through 20, inclusive, are unknown to Plaintiff who therefore sues these Defendants by such fictitious names. Plaintiff will seek leave to amend this Complaint to set forth their true names and capacities when they have ascertained them. Further, Plaintiff is informed and believes, and thereon alleges, that each of the Defendants designated herein as a "Doe" is responsible in some manner for the events and happenings herein referred to and caused injury and damage to Plaintiff as herein alleged.

5. Plaintiff is informed and believes, and thereon alleges, that at all times herein mentioned, Defendants, and each of them, were the agents, servants, and/or employees of each of their Co-Defendants. Plaintiff is informed and believes, and thereon alleges, that in doing the things hereinafter alleged Defendants, and each of them, were acting in the course and scope of their employment as such agents, servants, and/or employees, and with the permission, consent, knowledge, and/or ratification of their Co-Defendants, principals, and/or employers.

6. Before May 9, 2021, Defendants, Manufacturer and Does 1 through 20 inclusive, manufactured and/or distributed into the stream of commerce a 2018 Ford EcoSport VIN: MAJ3P1TE2JC [redacted] hereinafter referred to as the "Vehicle") for its eventual sale/lease in the State of California.

7. On or about May 9, 2021, Plaintiff purchased, for personal, family, and/or household purposes, the subject Vehicle from the Seller for a total consideration over the term of the installment contract of $29,682.24. Retail Installment Sale Contract is in the possession of Defendants.

8. The subject Vehicle was/is a "new motor vehicle" under the Song-Beverly Warranty Act.

9. Along with the purchase of the Vehicle, Plaintiff received written warranties and other express and implied warranties including, but not limited to, warranties from Manufacturer and Seller that the Vehicle and its components would be free from all defects in material and workmanship; that the Vehicle would pass without objection in the trade under the contract description; that the Vehicle would be fit for the ordinary purposes for which it was intended; that the Vehicle would conform to the promises and affirmations of fact made; that Defendants, and each of them, would perform any repairs, alignments, adjustments, and/or replacements of any parts necessary to ensure that the Vehicle was free from any defects in material and workmanship; that Defendants, and each of them, would maintain the utility of the Vehicle for three years or 36,000 miles pursuant to the basic warranty, five years or 60,000 miles pursuant to the drivetrain warranty, and would conform the Vehicle to the applicable express warranties. (A copy of the written warranty is in the possession of the Defendants).

10. Plaintiff has duly performed all the conditions on Plaintiff's part under the purchase agreement and under the express and implied warranties given to plaintiff, except insofar as the acts and/or omissions of the Defendants, and each of them, as alleged herein, prevented and/or excused such performance.

11. Plaintiff has delivered the Vehicle to the Manufacturer's authorized service and repair facilities, agents and/or dealers, including Seller, on several separate occasions resulting in the Vehicle being out of service by reason of repair of nonconformities. Repair Orders/Invoices are in the possession of Defendants.

12. By way of example, and not by way of limitation, the defects, malfunctions, misadjustments, and/or nonconformities with Plaintiff's Vehicle include the following: check engine light illuminations, low oil level issues, engine malfunctions, oil pump belt replacement, oil pick up replacement, turbo turbine replacement, oil pump assembly replacement, oil pump tensioner replacement, intake and exhaust VCT units replacement, CAC tubes replacement, turbo system replacement, oil leaks concerns, turbo studs replacement, and turbo charger replacement, among other concerns.

13. Each time Plaintiff delivered the nonconforming Vehicle to a Manufacturer-authorized service and repair facility, Plaintiff notified Defendants, and each of them, of the defects, malfunctions, misadjustments, and/or nonconformities existent with the Vehicle and demanded that Manufacturer or its representatives repair, adjust, and/or replace any necessary parts to conform the Vehicle to the applicable warranties.

14. Each time Plaintiff delivered the nonconforming Vehicle to a Manufacturer-authorized service and repair facility, Defendants, and each of them, represented to Plaintiff that they could and would conform the Vehicle to the applicable warranties, that in fact they did conform the Vehicle to said warranties, and that all the defects, malfunctions, misadjustments, and/or nonconformities have been repaired; however, Manufacturer or its representatives failed to conform the Vehicle to the applicable warranties because said defects, malfunctions, misadjustments, and/or nonconformities continue to exist even after a reasonable number of attempts to repair was given.

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

(Breach of Implied Warranty of Merchantability under Song-Beverly Warranty Act against all Defendants)

15. Plaintiff realleges each and every paragraph (1-14) and incorporates them by this reference as though fully set forth herein.

16. The distribution and sale of the Vehicle was accompanied by the Manufacturer and Seller's implied warranty that the Vehicle was merchantable.

17. Furthermore, Defendants, and each of them, impliedly warranted, inter alia, that the Vehicle would pass without objection in the trade under the contract description; that the Vehicle was fit for the ordinary purposes for which it was intended; that the Vehicle was adequately assembled; and/or that the Vehicle conformed to the promises or affirmations of fact made to Plaintiff.

18. As evidenced by the defects, malfunctions, misadjustments, and/or nonconformities alleged herein, the Vehicle was not merchantable because it did not have the quality that a buyer would reasonably expect, because it could not pass without objection in the trade under the contract description; because it was not fit for the ordinary purposes for which it was intended; because it was not adequately assembled; and/or because it did not or could not be conformed to the promises or affirmations of fact made to Plaintiff.

19. Upon discovery of the Vehicle's nonconformities, Plaintiff took reasonable steps to notify Defendants, and each of them, within a reasonable time that the Vehicle did not have the quality that a buyer would reasonably expect and, further, justifiably revoked acceptance of the nonconforming Vehicle.

20. As a result of the acts and/or omissions of the Defendants, and each of them, Plaintiff has sustained damage in the amount actually paid or payable under the contract, plus prejudgement interest thereon at the legal rate. Plaintiff will seek leave to amend this Complaint to set forth the exact amount thereof when that amount is ascertained.

21. As a further result of the actions of Defendants, and each of them, Plaintiff has sustained incidental and consequential damages in an amount yet to be determined, plus interest thereon at the legal rate. Plaintiff will seek leave to amend this Complaint to set forth the exact amount of incidental damages when that amount is ascertained.

22. As a further result of the actions of Defendants, and each of them, Plaintiff has sustained damages equal to the difference between the value of the Vehicle as accepted and the value the Vehicle would have had if it had been as warranted.

23. As a direct result of the acts and/or omissions of Defendants, and each of them, and in pursuing Plaintiff's claim, it was necessary for Plaintiff to retain legal counsel. Pursuant to Song-Beverly, Plaintiff, in addition to his other remedies, is entitled to the recovery of his attorneys' fees based upon actual time expended and reasonably incurred, in connection with the commencement and prosecution of this action.

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

(Breach of Express Warranty under Song-Beverly Warranty Act against all Defendants)

24. Plaintiff realleges each and every paragraph (1-23) and incorporates them by this reference as though fully set forth herein.

25. The Vehicle had defects, malfunctions, misadjustments, and/or nonconformities covered by the warranty that substantially impaired its value, use, or safety to Plaintiff.

26. Plaintiff delivered the Vehicle to Manufacturer or its authorized repair facilities for repair.

27. Defendants, and each of them, failed to service or repair the Vehicle to match the written warranty after a reasonable number of opportunities to do so.

28. The acts and/or omissions of Defendants, and each of them, in failing to perform the proper repairs, part replacements, and/or adjustments, to conform the Vehicle to the applicable express warranties constitute a breach of the express warranties that the Manufacturer provided to Plaintiff, thereby breaching Defendants' obligations under Song-Beverly.

29. Defendants, and each of them, failed to perform the necessary repairs and/or service in good and workmanlike manner. The actions taken by Defendants, and each of them, were insufficient to make the Subject Vehicle conform to the express warranties and/or proper operational characteristics of like Vehicles, all in violation of Defendants' obligations under Song-Beverly.

30. As a result of the acts and/or omissions of Defendants, and each of them, and pursuant to the provisions of the Song-Beverly, Plaintiff is entitled to replacement of the Vehicle or restitution of the amount actually paid or payable under the contract, at Plaintiff's election, plus prejudgment interest thereon at the legal rate. Plaintiff will seek leave of Court to amend this Complaint to set forth the exact amount of restitution and interest, upon election, when that amount has been ascertained.

31. Additionally, as a result of the acts and/or omissions of Defendants, and each of them, and pursuant to Song-Beverly, Plaintiff has sustained and is entitled to consequential and incidental damages in amounts yet to be determined, plus interest thereon at the legal rate. Plaintiff will seek leave of the court to amend this complaint to set forth the exact amount of consequential and/or incidental damages, when those amounts have been ascertained.

32. As a direct result of the acts and/or omissions of Defendants, and each of them, and in pursuing Plaintiff's claim, it was necessary for Plaintiff to retain legal counsel. Pursuant to Song-Beverly, Plaintiff, in addition to other remedies, is entitled to the recovery of his attorneys' fees based upon actual time expended and reasonably incurred, in connection with the commencement and prosecution of this action.

THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION

(Breach of Written Warranty under Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act against all Defendants)

33. Plaintiff realleges each and every paragraph (1-32) and incorporates them by this reference as though fully set forth herein.

34. Plaintiff is a "Consumer" as defined in the Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act (hereinafter referred to as the "Warranty Act") 15 USC 2301(3).

PE23-015 000677 LC SV

35. The Seller is a "Supplier" and "Warrantor" as defined by the Warranty Act, 15 USC 2301(4), (5).

36. The Manufacturer is a "Supplier" and "Warrantor" as defined by the Warranty Act, 15 USC 2301(4), (5).

37. The Vehicle is a "Consumer Product" as defined in the Warranty Act, 15 USC 2301(1).

38. The Vehicle was manufactured, sold, and leased /purchased after July 4, 1975.

39. The express warranty given by the Manufacturer pertaining to the Vehicle is a "Written Warranty" as defined in the Warranty Act, 15 USC 2301(6).

40. The Seller is an authorized dealership/agent of the manufacturer designated to perform repairs on Vehicles under Manufacturer's warranties.

41. The above-described actions (failure to repair and/or properly repair the above-mentioned defects, etc.), including failure to honor the written warranty, constitute a breach of the written warranty by the Manufacturer and Seller actionable under the Warranty Act, 15 USC 2310(d)(1), (2).

42. As a direct result of the Manufacturer and/or Seller's acts and/or omissions, Plaintiff has suffered damages as set forth herein. Therefore, Plaintiff is entitled to a judgment and the following relief against all Defendants: (1) A declaration that acceptance has been properly revoked by Plaintiff and for damages incurred in revoking acceptance; (2) A refund of the purchase price paid by Plaintiff for the Vehicle; (3) Cancellation of Plaintiff's retail installment contract and payment in full of the balance of same; (4) Consequential, incidental, and actual damages to be proved at trial; (5) Costs and expenses including actual attorneys' fees reasonably incurred; (6) Prejudgment interest at the legal rate; and (7) Such other relief the Court deems appropriate.

FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION

(Breach of Implied Warranty under Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act against all Defendants)

43. Plaintiff realleges each and every paragraph (1-42) and incorporates them by this reference as though fully set forth herein.

45. As a direct result of the Seller's acts and/or omissions, Plaintiff has suffered damages as set forth herein. Therefore, Plaintiff is entitled to judgment against all Defendants declaring acceptance has been properly revoked by Plaintiff and for damages incurred in revoking acceptance, for a refund of the purchase price paid by Plaintiff for the Vehicle, for cancellation of Plaintiff's retail installment contract and for payment in full by Defendants and all of them on the balance of the installment contract, for consequential, incidental, and actual damages, for costs, prejudgment interest at the legal rate, for actual attorneys' fees reasonably incurred, and such other relief the Court deems appropriate.

RE: [redacted]

To Whom It May Concern:

Please be advised that this office represents the above-named individual regarding claims pursuant to the federal Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act and the Uniform Commercial Code ("U.C.C.") with regard to the above-listed vehicle. Please direct all future contacts and correspondence to the office listed above.

There were numerous non-conformities with my client's automobile for which relief is sought, and numerous attempts to repair the vehicle have been unsuccessful. There were also numerous violations of both federal and state law in connection with the delivery and/or repair of the aforementioned vehicle. The primary non-conformities and violations include, but are not limited to:

1. Engine;
2. Driveability;
3. In shop since June 2020;
4. Excessive repair attempts;
5. Excessive days out of service.

The non-conformities listed above constitute a substantial impairment of the use, value and safety of the subject vehicle. Because of the inordinate amount of repairs my client has justifiably lost confidence in the vehicle.

My client's repair history clearly shows there was a breach of the written warranty and/or implied warranties of merchantability and fitness for a particular purpose, see U.C.C. §§ 2-314 and 2-315, based upon the generally accepted rule that an unsuccessful effort to remedy defects found to exist renders the warrantor liable; the buyer is not bound to allow him the opportunity or permit him to tinker with the article indefinitely in the hope that it may ultimately be made to comply with the warranty.

Therefore, you are hereby notified that my client is revoking acceptance of the vehicle, pursuant to the provisions of U.C.C. § 2-608. Our client has directed us to demand the return of all funds paid towards this vehicle, the cancellation of the contracts, and compensation for all damages and attorneys' fees.

Please be advised that under U.C.C. § 2-711(3) my client has a security interest in the car for return of the total purchase price, plus expenses in handling and inspecting the car. Until you pay this amount, my client will hold the car and use it to the extent necessary to preserve it, to protect its security interest, and to minimize your damages. Moreover, my client demands return of the purchase price before substitute goods can be acquired. In addition, any attempt by you or your agents to repossess the car will be wrongful and will subject you to liability for conversion and for wrongful repossession under U.C.C. §§ 9-503 and 9-507 as well as other applicable Consumer Fraud remedies.

If the seller [or, if applicable the assignee, or any creditor subject to the FTC Holder Rule] has filed a financing statement covering the goods, we demand, pursuant to U.C.C. § 9-404, that you file a termination statement within ten days to terminate your security interest and forward a copy to this office. Since my client has revoked acceptance, there is no outstanding secured obligation. If you do not file a termination statement within ten days and cooperate in removing the lien, you will be liable under U.C.C. § 9-404(1) in the amount of $100.00 plus any loss caused my client by your failure.

HAVING BEEN FORMALLY NOTIFIED OF OUR REPRESENTATION, YOU ARE INSTRUCTED NOT TO CONTACT OUR CLIENT UNDER ANY CIRCUMSTANCES. DIRECT ALL INQUIRIES TO THIS OFFICE. IF YOU FAIL TO ACT IN CONFORMITY WITH THIS DIRECTIVE, INJUNCTIVE RELIEF WILL BE SOUGHT AGAINST YOU. IN ADDITION, YOU ARE HEREBY NOTIFIED OF OUR ATTORNEYS' LIEN.

To avoid any further litigation, my client merely requests a refund for the defective product and will waive any incidental and consequential damages at this point. Our attorneys' fees are minimal at this stage and we would prefer to resolve this matter without the need for any more needless effort and expense spent on our part and on the part of your attorneys. Time, money and effort would be saved by both sides with a quick resolution of this claim.

This letter shall serve as notice to Ford Motor Company of its final opportunity to cure the above-referenced defects.

Sincerely,

[redacted]TES, LLC

Dear Sir or Madam:

Lemberg Law LLC is writing on behalf of the above client with regard to the above vehicle purchased in Kansas State. Please consider this your statutory notice for an opportunity to correct the defects specified below. Should litigation become necessary, a lawsuit shall be filed in the Michigan federal court. We will seek relief on our client's behalf under the Magnuson Moss Warranty Act, breach of warranty statutes and other laws protecting consumers. Upon receipt of this notice please direct all inquiries regarding the above vehicle to this office, rather than to the client.

Since the purchase date and during the warranty period, this vehicle has been subject to repair for over six months due to the vehicle going into limp mode and not accelerating, engine malfunction, but same defects continue to persist.

The defects in the vehicle substantially impair its use, value, and safety to our client, and constitute a breach of warranty. Because of the incurable problems outlined above, our client revokes acceptance of the vehicle under U.C.C. § 2-608. Our client demands a return of all money paid so far, including the down payment, amount of payments thus far, finance charges, other fees, incidental and consequential damages, costs, and attorney's fees. We have been instructed to seek all legal recourse available under the law.

Please be advised that under U.C.C. § 2-711(3), our client has a security interest in the car until the purchase price is returned, plus expenses in handling and inspecting the car. Until you pay this amount, our client will hold the car and use it to the extent necessary to preserve it, to protect the security interest, and to minimize your damages. Moreover, our client demands the return of the purchase price before substitute goods can be acquired. In addition, any attempt by you or your agents to repossess the car will be deemed wrongful and will subject you to liability for conversion and for wrongful repossession under U.C.C. §§ 9-503 and 9-507. If the seller or any creditor subject to the FTC Holder Rule has filed a financing statement covering the above vehicle, we demand, pursuant to U.C.C. § 9-404, that you file a termination statement within 10 days to terminate such security interest. Failure to do so subjects you to liability under U.C.C. § 9-404(1).

Our client understands that sometimes the failures of the manufacturer simply cannot be corrected by any dealer. We hope to bring this matter to an end through an amicable settlement. Thank you for your time and consideration in this matter, and I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

/s/ Vlad Hirnyk

Dear Sir or Madam:

Lemberg Law L.L.C. is writing on behalf of the above client with regard to the above vehicle purchased in Georgia State. Please consider this your notice of an opportunity to correct the defects specified below. We will seek relief on our client's behalf under the Magnuson Moss Warranty Act, breach of warranty statutes and other laws protecting Georgia consumers. Upon receipt of this notice please direct all inquiries regarding the above vehicle to this office, rather than to the client.

Since the purchase date and during the warranty period, this vehicle has been out of service for over a year and subject to repairs due to the engine failure, and same defect continues to persist.

The defects in the vehicle substantially impair its use, value, and safety to our client, and constitute a breach of warranty. Because of the incurable problems outlined above, our client revokes acceptance of the vehicle under U.C.C. § 2-608. Our client demands a return of all money paid so far, including the down payment, amount of payments thus far, finance charges, other fees, incidental and consequential damages, costs, and attorney's fees. We have been instructed to seek all legal recourse available under the law.

Please be advised that under U.C.C. § 2-711(3), our client has a security interest in the vehicle until the purchase price is returned, plus expenses in handling and inspecting the vehicle. Until you pay this amount, our client will hold the vehicle and use it to the extent necessary to preserve it, to protect the security interest, and to minimize your damages. Moreover, our client demands the return of the purchase price before substitute goods can be acquired.

Our client understands that sometimes the failures of the manufacturer simply cannot be corrected by any dealer. We hope to bring this matter to an end through an amicable settlement. Thank you for your time and consideration in this matter, and I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

/s/ Sergei Lemberg

Due to the vehicle stalling suspect the turbocharger may be internally damaged. Removed the catalytic converter from the engine and verified the turbine wheel and the compressor wheels of the turbo move independently of one another indicating the shaft has been severed. Installed a new turbocharger following the WSM section 303-04D. Re-assembled the engine and cleared the codes. Performed a post repair road test and verified the engine no longer stalls and runs great. Returned the vehicle to the customer.

| Due to the vehicle stalling suspect the turbocharger may be internally damaged. Removed the catalytic converter from the engine and verified the turbine wheel and the compressor wheels of the turbo move independently of one another indicating the shaft has been severed. Installed a new turbocharger following the WSM section 303-04D. Re-assembled the engine and cleared the codes. Performed a post repair road test and verified the engine no longer stalls and runs great. Returned the vehicle to the customer. | | |

8. Plaintiff purchased the Vehicle in reliance on the existence of a written warranty from Defendant, and on advertising representantions and warranties of Defendant.

9. Defendant, through its advertising and otherwise, represented that its vehicles were fit for the purpose for which they were designed, that they are safe and suitable vehicles for their intended designed use, and reliably operable for private transportation. Plaintiff purchased the Vehicle in reliance on the belief that Defendant possessed a high degree of manufacturing skill and judgment.

10. Defendant, through its advertising and otherwise, represented that its vehicles were of merchantable quality, fit, and in proper condition for the ordinary use for which such vehicles are designed and used. Plaintiff relied on these representations, however, the Vehicle did not meet these representations, and this was unfair, deceptive, and unconsionable to Plaintiff.

11. The Vehicle was sold with and worked on under Defendant's warranties by Defendant's authorized dealers.

12. In consideration for the purchase of the Vehicle, Defendant issued to Plaintiff several warranties, guarantees, affirmations or undertakings with respect to the material or workmanship of the Vehicle and/or remedial action in the event the Vehicle fails to meet the promised specifications.

13. The above-referenced warranties, guarantees, affirmations or undertakings are/were part of the basis of the bargain between Defendant and Plaintiff.

14. The parties' bargain includes an express 3-year / 36,000 mile warranty, 5-year / 60,000 mile warranty, as well as other guarantees, affirmations and undertakings as stated in Defendant's warranty materials and owner's manual.

15. The purchase of the Vehicle was a consumer transaction where Defendant warranted the Vehicle to be free from malfunctions and defects.

16. The Manufacturer's warranty is not attached as it is available to Defendant and will be produced later.

17. After purchase Plaintiff discovered the Vehicle did not conform to the representations of Defendant as it developed continuing malfunctions, defects, and problems, and this was unfair, deceptive, and unconsionable to Plaintiff.

18. As a result of the ineffective repair attempts made by Defendant through its authorized dealers, the Vehicle is rendered severely and substantially impaired, unable to be utilized for its intended purposes, and is substantially diminished in value and worthless to Plaintiff.

19. During the first year following the date of original delivery of the motor vehicle to the consumer and the Vehicle's first 18,000 miles of operation, Plaintiff complained on at least three (3) occasions about defects and or non-conformities to the following Vehicle components: abnormal grinding and train noise, engine, and brakes. True and correct copies of all invoices in Plaintiff's possession are attached hereto, made a part hereof, and marked Exhibit "B".

20. The Vehicle continues to exhibit defects and nonconformities which substantially impair its use, value and safety.

COUNT I
OHIO LEMON LAW

21. Plaintiff hereby incorporates all facts and allegations set forth in this Complaint by reference as if fully set forth at length herein.

22. Plaintiff is a "Consumer" as defined by § 1345.71(A) of the Ohio Lemon Law (Ohio Revised Code § 1345.71 et seq.).

23. Defendant is a "Manufacturer" as defined by § 1345.71(B) of the Ohio Lemon Law, and at all relevant times was a manufacturer, distributor, supplier, and merchant.

24. Northgate Ford is and was at the time of sale a Motor Vehicle Dealer in the business of buying, selling, displaying, dealing, and exchanging vehicles as defined by § 4517.01 of the Ohio Revised Code, and at all relevant times was a merchant, supplier, and authorized representative of Defendant.

25. On or about July 19, 2018, Plaintiff took possession of the above mentioned Vehicle and experienced nonconformities as defined by § 1345.71 et seq., which severely and substantially impair the use, value, and safety of the Vehicle, and this was unfair, deceptive, and unconscionable to Plaintiff.

26. Defendant through its authorized dealer failed to provide written notification that the Vehicle was covered by the Ohio Lemon Law as required by § 1345.74(A).

27. Defendant through its authorized dealers failed to provide a fully itemized written statement each time the vehicle was serviced or repaired indicating all work performed on the Vehicle, including, but not limited to, parts and labor, in violation of § 1345.74(B).

28. The Vehicle's nonconformities do not conform to and violate the express written warranties issued to Plaintiff by Defendant.

29. Sections 1345.72(A) and (B) of the Ohio Lemon Law provide:

> (A) If a new motor vehicle does not conform to any applicable express warranty and the consumer reports the nonconformity to the manufacturer, its agent, or its authorized dealer during the period of one year following the date of original delivery or during the first eighteen thousand miles of operation, whichever is earlier, the manufacturer, its agent, or its authorized dealer shall make any repairs as are necessary to conform the vehicle to such express warranty, notwithstanding the fact that the repairs are made after the expiration of the appropriate time period.

(B) If the manufacturer, its agent, or its authorized dealer is unable to conform the motor vehicle to any applicable express warranty by repairing or correcting any nonconformity after a reasonable number of repair attempts, the manufacturer, at the consumer's option and subject to division (D) of this section, either shall replace the motor vehicle with a new motor vehicle acceptable to the consumer or shall accept return of the vehicle from the consumer and refund each of the following:

(1)The full purchase price;

(2)All incidental damages, including, but not limited to, any fees charged by the lender or lessor for making or canceling the loan or lease, and any expenses incurred by the consumer as a result of the nonconformity, such as charges for towing, vehicle rental, meals, and lodging.

30. Section 1345.73 of the Ohio Lemon Law provides a presumption of a reasonable number of repair attempts if, during the period of one year following the original delivery or during the first eighteen thousand miles of operation, whichever is earlier, any of the following apply:

(1) Substantially the same nonconformity has been subject to repair three or more times and either continues to exist or recurs;
(2) The vehicle is out of service by reason of repair for a cumulative total of thirty or more calendar days;
(3) There have been eight or more attempts to repair any nonconformity;
(4) There has been at least one attempt to repair a nonconformity that results in a condition that is likely to cause death or serious bodily injury if the vehicle is driven, and the nonconformity either continues to exist or recurs.

31. Plaintiff has satisfied the above definition as the Vehicle has been subject to repair more than three (3) times for the same nonconformity, and the nonconformity remained uncorrected.

32. In addition, the Vehicle has or will be out-of-service by reason of the nonconformities complained of for a cumulative total of thirty (30) or more calendar days.

33. Plaintiff has delivered the nonconforming Vehicle to an authorized service and repair facility of the Defendant on numerous occasions as outlined below.

34. Plaintiff avers that the Ohio Lemon Law statute contains no prohibition on claims for vehicles having less than three (3) repair attempts by the manufacturer or factory branch, or its agents or authorized dealers.

35. Plaintiff avers that the Ohio Lemon Law statute contains no prohibition on claims for vehicles out of service by reason of repairs for a cumulative total of less than thirty (30) days during the warranty period.

36. Plaintiff avers that the Ohio Lemon Law statute does contain a provision that a rebuttable presumption exists when there have been either three (3) repair attempts for substantially the same nonconformity or thirty (30) days out of service, or eight (8) or more repair attempts to repair any conconformity, but section § 1345.73 is not a pre-requisite to a claim under the statute.

37. Plaintiff avers that what constitutes a "reasonable number of repair attempts" is an issue that is properly determined by a trier of fact.

38. Plaintiff avers that upon presentation to a trier of fact, the facts and circumstances will demonstrate a reasonable opportunity to repair and reasonable number of repair attempts sufficient to support relief under the Lemon Law.

39. After a reasonable number of attempts, Defendant was unable to repair the nonconformities.

40. Plaintiff avers that the defects and malfunctions in the Vehicle were covered under Defendant's warranties, Defendant failed to effectively repair the Vehicle, and as such Defendant has severely and substantially impaired the use, value, and safety of the Vehicle, and same was unfair, deceptive, and unconscionable to Plaintiff.

41. Plaintiff avers that Defendant breached its warranties and representations with respect to the Vehicle, and this was unfair, deceptive, and unconsionable to Plaintiff.

42. Plaintiff avers that Defendant and its authorized dealers had notice of the breaches of express and implied warranties and the defective condition of the Vehicle within a reasonable time.

43. Defendant's failure to timely repair the Vehicle's defects has caused Plaintiff to lose confidence in the reliability of the Vehicle, and in Defendant's ability to repair the defects, and this was unfair, deceptive, and unconsionable to Plaintiff.

44. Plaintiff has been and will continue to be financially damaged due to Defendant's intentional, reckless, wanton, and negligent failure to comply with the provisions of the Ohio Lemon Law.

45. Plaintiff provided Defendant and its authorized dealers with a reasonable number of opportunities and amount of time to repair the Vehicle, but they have each neglected, failed, refused, or otherwise been unable to do so within a reasonable number of attempts or amount of time, and this was unfair, deceptive, and unconsionable to Plaintiff.

46. Plaintiff has and will continue to suffer actual, incidental, and consequntial damages as a direct and proximate result of the failure of Defendant and its authorized representatives to comply with the provisions of the Lemon Law, repair or replace the Vehicle, or refund its price.

47. Pursuant to § 1345.71 et seq. Plaintiff seeks relief for losses due to the Vehicle's nonconformities and defects, including the award of reasonable attorneys' fees and all court costs.

48. Plaintiff has performed all conditions precedent to private enforecement of the Ohio Lemon Law.

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff respectfully demands judgment against Defendant for statutory and other damages, remedies and relief as deemed proper and lawful by the Court, or alternatively in an amount equal to the price of the subject Vehicle, plus all collateral charges, attorneys' fees, and court costs, or in the alternative repurchase or replacement of the subject Vehicle plus all collateral charges, attorneys' fees, court costs, and other compensation to Plaintiff as appropriate under the Ohio Lemon Law.

COUNT II
MAGNUSON-MOSS WARRANTY IMPROVEMENT ACT

49. Plaintiff hereby incorporates all facts and allegations set forth in this Complaint by reference as if fully set forth at length herein.

51. Defendant is a "supplier", "warrantor", and a "service contractor" as defined by 15 U.S.C. § 2301 (4), (5) and (8).

52. The subject Vehicle is a "consumer product" as defined by 15 U.S.C. § 2301(1).

53. By the terms of its written warranties, affirmations, promises, or service contracts, Defendant agreed to perform effective repairs at no charge for parts and/or labor.

54. The Magnuson-Moss Warranty Improvement Act requires Defendant to be bound by all warranties implied by state law incuding but not limited to implied warranties of merchantability and fitness for a particular purpose; implied warranties in tort of merchantability and fitness for a particular purpose; and implied warranties for fitness for the ordinary purpose for which it was intended and for the particular purpose for which it is used by Plaintiff per 15 U.S.C. §§ 2301(7) and 2308. Said warranties are imposed on all transactions in the state in which the Vehicle was delivered.

55. Defendant has made attempts on several occasions to comply with the terms of its express warranties; however, such repair attempts have been ineffective.

56. The Magnuson-Moss Warranty Improvement Act, 15 U.S.C. § 2310(d)(2) provides:

> If a consumer finally prevails in any action brought under paragraph (1) of this subsection, he may be allowed by the court to recover as part of the judgment a sum equal to the aggregate amount of cost and expenses (including attorneys' fees based on actual time expended) determined by the court to have been reasonably incurred by the plaintiff for or in connection with the commencement and prosecution of such action, unless the court in its discretion shall determine that such an award of attorneys' fees would be inappropriate.

57. Plaintiff has afforded Defendant a reasonable number of opportunities to conform the Vehicle to the aforementioned express warranties, implied warranties and contracts.

58. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's breach and failure to comply with the express written and/or implied warranties, Plaintiff has suffered and incurred damages and, in accordance with 15 U.S.C. § 2310(d)(1) and state law, Plaintiff is entitled to bring suit for such damages and other legal and equitable relief and hereby does so through this Complaint.

59. Defendant's failure is a breach of Defendant's contractual and statutory obligations constituting a violation of the Magnuson-Moss Warranty Improvement Act, including but not limited to: breach of express warranties, breach of implied warranties, breach of implied warranty of merchantability, breach of implied warranty of fitness for a particular purpose.

60. Defendant has breached its express and implied warranties without legal excuse, and this was unfair, deceptive, and unconsionable to Plaintiff.

61. Plaintiff's damages include, but are not limited to, the sales price of the vehicle plus all collateral charges, including attorney fees and costs, as well as other expenses, the full extent of which are not yet known.

62. Plaintiff avers that Defendant's warranty was not provided to Plaintiff until after the Vehicle was delivered, making any and all limitations, disclaimers and/or alternative dispute provisions ineffective for a failure of consideration.

63. Plaintiff avers Defendant's Dispute Resolution Program was not and is not in compliance with 16 CFR 703 by the FTC for the period of time this claim was submitted and for the model year of the subject Vehicle.

64. At the time of obtaining possession of the Vehicle and at all times subsequent thereto, Plaintiff has justifiably relied upon Defendant's express warranties and implied warranties of fitness for a particular purpose and implied warranties of merchantability.

65. At the time of obtaining possession of the Vehicle and at all times subsequent thereto, Defendant was aware Plaintiff was relying upon Defendant's express and implied warranties, obligations, and representations with regard to the subject Vehicle.

66. Plaintiff avers that Defendant's warranty did not require Plaintiff to first resort to a Dispute Resolution Program before filing suit.

67. Plaintiff avers that upon successfully prevailing upon the Magnuson-Moss claim herein, all attorney fees are recoverable and are demanded against Defendant.

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff respectfully demands judgment against Defendant for statutory and other damages, remedies and relief as deemed proper and lawful by the Court, or alternatively recission and damages under the Magnuson Moss Warranty Improvement Act and the Ohio Commercial Code to include attorneys' fees and court costs, or alternatively an amount equal to the price of the subject Vehicle, plus all collateral charges, incidental and consequential damages, reasonable attorneys' fees, and all court costs.

(4) Whether the supplier knew at the time the consumer transaction was entered into that there was no reasonable probability of payment of the obligation in full by the consumer;

(7) Whether the supplier has, without justification, refused to make a refund in cash or by check for a returned item that was purchased with cash or by check, unless the supplier had conspicuously posted in the establishment at the time of the sale a sign stating the supplier's refund policy.

75. Plaintiff avers Defendant has violated these, as well as other provisions, of §§ 1345.02 and 1345.03.

Dear Sir or Madam:

Lemberg Law L.L.C. is writing on behalf of the above client. Please consider this your notice for an opportunity to correct the defects specified below. Should litigation become necessary, a lawsuit shall be filed in the Maryland federal court. We will seek relief on our client's behalf under the Magnuson Moss Warranty Act, breach of warranty statutes and other laws protecting Maryland consumers. Upon receipt of this notice please direct all inquiries regarding the above vehicle to this office, rather than to the client.

Since the purchase date and during the warranty period, this vehicle has been out of service at least thirty (30) days and subject to seven (7) repairs due to the "check engine" light turning on and the vehicle losing power on acceleration and the engine smoking.

The defects in the vehicle substantially impair its use, value, and safety to our client and constitute a breach of warranty. Because of the incurable problems outlined above, our client revokes acceptance of the vehicle under U.C.C. § 2-608. Our client demands a return of all money paid so far, including the down payment, amount of payments thus far, finance charges, other fees, incidental and consequential damages, costs, and attorney's fees. We have been instructed to seek all legal recourse available under the law.

Please be advised that under U.C.C. § 2-711(3), our client has a security interest in the car until the purchase price is returned, plus expenses in handling and inspecting the car. Until you pay this amount, our client will hold the car and use it to the extent necessary to preserve it, to protect the security interest, and to minimize your damages. Moreover, our client demands the return of the purchase price before substitute goods can be acquired. In addition, any attempt by you or your agents to repossess the car will be deemed wrongful and will subject you to liability for conversion and for wrongful repossession under U.C.C. §§ 9-503 and 9-507. If the seller or any creditor subject to the FTC Holder Rule has filed a financing statement covering the above vehicle, we demand, pursuant to U.C.C. § 9-404, that you file a termination statement within 10 days to terminate such security interest. Failure to do so subjects you to liability under U.C.C. § 9-404(1).

Our client understands that sometimes the failures of the manufacturer simply cannot be corrected by any dealer. We hope to bring this matter to an end through an amicable settlement. Thank you for your time and consideration in this matter, and I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

/s/ Sergei Lemberg

Re: [redacted]
2018 Ford EcoSport
VIN MAJ3P1TE8J [redacted]

Dear Sir/Madam:

Please be advised that this office represents the above named individuals regarding claims against Ford Motor Company concerning defects with the above listed vehicle. This letter shall serve as notice of [redacted] claim. At this time, we have been authorized to attempt to resolve this matter without filing a lawsuit by submitting this claim to you.

Our clients have experienced numerous problems with this vehicle. The limited written warranty provides that Ford Motor Company or its authorized dealerships will repair or replace all parts found to be defective in factory-supplied materials or workmanship. It is my clients' position that Ford Motor Company's inability to repair this vehicle is a violation of the Texas Lemon Law and Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act. As such, our clients respectfully request that Ford Motor Company comply with the above statutes and pay all attorney fees and costs.

Please be further advised that all communication regarding this matter must be directed to my office. This offer and all its contents are for settlement purposes only. Thank you for your time and attention. I look forward to hearing from you.

Very truly yours

Dear Sir or Madam:

Lemberg Law, L.L.C. is writing on behalf of its above referenced client, [redacted], i.e. Record Owner, with regard to the above vehicle. Please consider this your notice for an opportunity to correct the defects specified below. Should litigation become necessary, a lawsuit shall be filed in the Missouri federal court. We will seek relief on our client's behalf under the Magnuson Moss Warranty Act, breach of warranty statutes and other laws protecting Missouri consumers.

Since the purchase date and during the warranty period, this vehicle has been subject to repair and out of service for at least 94 days due to the vehicle not starting, "check engine" light coming on, serious engine malfunction, and same defects continue to persist.

The nonconformities listed above substantially impair the vehicle's use, value, and safety to our client and constitute a breach of warranty. Because of the incurable problems outlined above, our client revokes acceptance of the vehicle under U.C.C. § 2-608. Our client demands a full refund for the defective vehicle which includes the contract price, plus all sales tax, document fees, finance interest, satisfaction of all liens, the costs of any added optional equipment, any out-of-pocket repair expenses, the unexpended portion of any registration and plates, incidental and consequential damages, plus payment of all costs and attorney's fees.

Please be advised that under U.C.C. § 2-711(3), our client has a security interest in the vehicle until the purchase price is returned, plus expenses in handling and inspecting the vehicle. Until you pay this amount, our client will hold the vehicle and use it to the extent necessary to preserve it, to protect the security interest, and to minimize your damages. Moreover, our client demands the return of the purchase price before substitute goods can be acquired. In addition, any attempt by you or your agents to repossess the vehicle will be deemed wrongful and will subject you to liability for conversion and for wrongful repossession under U.C.C. §§ 9-503 and 9-507. If the seller or any creditor subject to the FTC Holder Rule has filed a financing statement covering the above vehicle, we demand, pursuant to U.C.C. § 9-404, that you file a termination statement within 10 days to terminate such security interest. Failure to do so subjects you to liability under U.C.C. § 9-404(1).

Our client understands that sometimes the failures of the manufacturer simply cannot be corrected by any dealer. We hope to bring this matter to an end through an amicable settlement. In return for a full refund as detailed herein, our client will waive any incidental and consequential damages for aggravation and inconvenience at this point. Please note that our attorney's fees are minimal at this stage and we would prefer to resolve this matter without the need for any more time spent on our part or on the part of your attorneys.

Sincerely,

/s/ Sergei Lemberg

To Whom It May Concern:

Please be advised that this office represents the above-named individual regarding claims pursuant to the federal Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act and the Uniform Commercial Code ("U.C.C.") with regard to the above-listed vehicle. Please direct all future contacts and correspondence to the office listed above.

There were numerous non-conformities with my client's automobile for which relief is sought, and numerous attempts to repair the vehicle have been unsuccessful. There were also numerous violations of both federal and state law in connection with the delivery and/or repair of the aforementioned vehicle. The primary non-conformities and violations include, but are not limited to:

1. Engine;
2. Electrical;
3. Check engine light;
4. Driveability;
5. No start;
6. Excessive repair attempts;
7. Excessive days out of service.

The non-conformities listed above constitute a substantial impairment of the use, value and safety of the subject vehicle. Because of the inordinate amount of repairs my client has justifiably lost confidence in the vehicle.

My client's repair history clearly shows there was a breach of the written warranty and/or implied warranties of merchantability and fitness for a particular purpose, see U.C.C. §§ 2-314 and 2-315, based upon the generally accepted rule that an unsuccessful effort to remedy defects found to exist renders the warrantor liable; the buyer is not bound to allow him the opportunity or permit him to tinker with the article indefinitely in the hope that it may ultimately be made to comply with the warranty.

Therefore, you are hereby notified that my client is revoking acceptance of the vehicle, pursuant to the provisions of U.C.C. § 2-608. Our client has directed us to demand the return of all funds paid towards this vehicle, the cancellation of the contracts, and compensation for all damages and attorneys' fees.

Please be advised that under U.C.C. § 2-711(3) my client has a security interest in the car for return of the total purchase price, plus expenses in handling and inspecting the car. Until you pay this amount, my client will hold the car and use it to the extent necessary to preserve it, to protect its security interest, and to minimize your damages. Moreover, my client demands return of the purchase price before substitute goods can be acquired. In addition, any attempt by you or your agents to repossess the car will be wrongful and will subject you to liability for conversion and for wrongful repossession under U.C.C. §§ 9-503 and 9-507 as well as other applicable Consumer Fraud remedies.

If the seller [or, if applicable the assignee, or any creditor subject to the FTC Holder Rule] has filed a financing statement covering the goods, we demand, pursuant to U.C.C. § 9-404, that you file a termination statement within ten days to terminate your security interest and forward a copy to this office. Since my client has revoked acceptance, there is no outstanding secured obligation. If you do not file a termination statement within ten days and cooperate in removing the lien, you will be liable under U.C.C. § 9-404(1) in the amount of $100.00 plus any loss caused my client by your failure.

HAVING BEEN FORMALLY NOTIFIED OF OUR REPRESENTATION, YOU ARE INSTRUCTED NOT TO CONTACT OUR CLIENT UNDER ANY CIRCUMSTANCES. DIRECT ALL INQUIRIES TO THIS OFFICE. IF YOU FAIL TO ACT IN CONFORMITY WITH THIS DIRECTIVE, INJUNCTIVE RELIEF WILL BE SOUGHT AGAINST YOU. IN ADDITION, YOU ARE HEREBY NOTIFIED OF OUR ATTORNEYS' LIEN.

To avoid any further litigation, my client merely requests a refund for the defective product and will waive any incidental and consequential damages at this point. Our attorneys' fees are minimal at this stage and we would prefer to resolve this matter without the need for any more needless effort and expense spent on our part and on the part of your attorneys. Time, money and effort would be saved by both sides with a quick resolution of this claim.

This letter shall serve as notice to Ford Motor Company of its final opportunity to cure the above-referenced defects.

Sincerely,

ALEX SIMANOVSKY & ASSOCIATES, LLC

[redacted]

Dear Sir/Madam:

This letter shall serve as formal notice pursuant to Tennessee's "Lemon Law," Tenn. Code Ann. § 55-24-102.

I am writing on behalf of [redacted] who has retained our firm to represent her legal interests relating to the purchase of the above-mentioned vehicle. Let this letter serve as notification that you immediately cease and desist all communications with our client. The only exception is the dealership may communicate with our client in reference to current and future repairs. The dealer must also provide all necessary documentation for our client including but not limited to repair orders, sales documents and current registration. Moreover, if you make any attempts to settle with our client without including all statutory relief, including all damages attorney fees and costs the consumer is entitled to, we may file suit against you. This letter hereby notifies you of our attorney's lien with respect to our client.

[redacted] has informed me that she purchased the above-referenced vehicle in August 2022 from Homer Skelton Ford of Millington, LLC located at [redacted], and the vehicle is registered in Tennessee. However, the vehicle suffers from issues with the engine and losing oil. Due to Ford's failure to properly repair the vehicle our client now seeks a cash demand of $10,000 inclusive of attorney's fees in lieu of a repurchase pursuant to Tennessee's "Lemon Law."

Accordingly, Shannon Hyden demands that Ford make a cash offer of $10,000 inclusive of attorney's fees in lieu of repurchasing the above-referenced vehicle within thirty (30) days from the receipt of this correspondence pursuant to Tennessee's "Lemon Law," Tenn. Code Ann. § 55-24-

103(a). Although we prefer to resolve this matter amicably, if possible, I must nevertheless inform you that unless you respond to the foregoing demand within ten (10) days from the receipt of this correspondence, I shall advise our client to pursue all available legal remedies, including violation of Tennessee's "Lemon Law," Breach of Express Warranty, and violation of the Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act, therefore, I urge you to respond promptly to this demand.

Please direct all communications to my attention.

Respectfully submitted,

CC: Homer Skelton Ford of Millington, LLC 9030 State Highway 3 Millington, TN 38053

NOTICE! You have been sued. The court may decide against you without your being heard unless you respond within 30 days. Read the information below.

You have 30 CALENDAR DAYS after this summons and legal papers are served on you to file a written response at this court and have a copy served on the plaintiff. A letter or phone call will not protect you. Your written response must be in proper legal form if you want the court to hear your case. There may be a court form that you can use for your response. You can find these court forms and more information at the California Courts Online Self-Help Center (www.courtinfo.ca.gov/selfhelp), your county law library, or the courthouse nearest you. If you cannot pay the filing fee, ask the court clerk for a fee waiver form. If you do not file your response on time, you may lose the case by default, and your wages, money, and property may be taken without further warning from the court.

There are other legal requirements. You may want to call an attorney right away. If you do not know an attorney, you may want to call an attorney referral service. If you cannot afford an attorney, you may be eligible for free legal services from a nonprofit legal services program. You can locate these nonprofit groups at the California Legal Services Web site (www.lawhelpcalifornia.org), the California Courts Online Self-Help Center (www.courtinfo.ca.gov/selfhelp), or by contacting your local court or county bar association. NOTE: The court has a statutory lien for waived fees and costs on any settlement or arbitration award of $10,000 or more in a civil case. Tiene 30 DÍAS DE CALENDARIO después de que le entreguen esta citación y papeles legales para presentar una respuesta por escrito en esta corte y hacer que se entregue una copia al demandante. Una carta o una llamada telefónica no lo protegen. Su respuesta por escrito tiene que estar en formato legal correcto si desea que procesen su caso en la corte. Es posible que haya un formulario que usted pueda usar para su respuesta. Puede encontrar estos formularios de la corte y más información en el Centro de Ayuda de las Cortes de California (www.sucorte.ca.gov), en la biblioteca de leyes de su condado o en la corte que le quede más cerca. Si no puede pagar la cuota de presentación, pida al secretario de la corte que le dé un formulario de exención de pago de cuotas. Si no presenta su respuesta a tiempo, puede perder el caso por incumplimiento y la corte le podrá quitar su sueldo, dinero y bienes sin más advertencia.

GENERAL ALLEGATIONS

6. On or about September 2, 2018, in exchange for valuable consideration, Plaintiff purchased a 2018 Ford Ecosport (hereinafter "Vehicle"), manufactured and/or distributed by Defendant, with corresponding Vehicle Identification Number MAJ3P1TEXJC[redacted]

7. The total amount paid and payable, incidental and consequential damages and civil penalties exceeds $25,000.

8. Plaintiff purchased the Vehicle primarily for personal, family, or household purposes.

9. Plaintiff purchased the Vehicle from a person or entity in the business of manufacturing, distributing, or selling consumer goods at retail.

10. In connection with the purchase of the Vehicle, Plaintiff received an express written warranty in which Defendant undertook to preserve or maintain the utility or performance of the Vehicle or to provide compensation if there is a failure in utility or performance for a specified period of time. The warranty provided, in relevant part, that in the event a defect developed with the Vehicle during the warranty period, Plaintiff could deliver the Vehicle for repair services to Defendant's representative and the Vehicle would be repaired.

11. After Plaintiff took possession of the Vehicle and during the warranty period, the Vehicle contained or developed defects, listed below, that substantially impair the use, safety, and/or value of the Vehicle.

12. During the warranty period, the Vehicle contained or developed defects, including, but not limited to the following:

a. Defective engine;

b. Defective safety system;

c. Defective electrical system;

d. Defective ignition system; and

e. Any additional complaints made by Plaintiff, whether or not they are contained in the records or on any repair orders.

13. The defects listed above violate the express written warranties issued by Defendant, as well as the implied warranty of merchantability.

14. Plaintiff provided Defendant and its representatives in this state sufficient opportunity to service or repair the Vehicle.

15. Defendant and its representatives in this state were unable and/or failed to service or repair the Vehicle within a reasonable number of attempts.

16. Said defects have substantially impaired the safety, use and/or value of the Vehicle.

17. Said defects could not have been discovered by Plaintiff prior to Plaintiff's acceptance of the Vehicle.

18. Plaintiff has been and will continue to be financially damaged due to Defendant's failure to comply with the provisions of the express and implied warranties.

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

BY PLAINTIFF AGAINST DEFENDANT

VIOLATION OF SUBDIVISION (d) OF CIVIL CODE SECTION 1793.2

19. Plaintiff re-alleges and incorporates herein by reference each and every allegation and statement contained in paragraphs 1 through 18, inclusive, of the General Allegations, above.

20. Plaintiff presented the Vehicle for repair to Defendant and its representatives in this state for various defects that substantially impair the safety, use and/or value of the Vehicle.

21. Defendant and its representatives in this state have been unable to service or repair the Vehicle to conform to the applicable express warranties after a reasonable number of opportunities. Despite this fact, Defendant failed to promptly replace the Vehicle or make restitution to Plaintiff as required by Civil Code section 1793.2, subdivision (d) and Civil Code section 1794, subdivision (a).

22. Plaintiff has been damaged by Defendant's failure to comply with its obligations pursuant to Civil Code section 1793.2, subdivision (d), and therefore brings this Cause of Action pursuant to Civil Code section 1794.

23. Defendant's failure to comply with its obligations under Civil Code section 1793.2, subdivision (d) was willful, in that Defendant and its representative were aware that they were unable to service or repair the Vehicle to conform to the applicable express warranties after a reasonable number of repair attempts, yet Defendant failed and refused to promptly replace the Vehicle or make restitution. Accordingly, Plaintiff is entitled to a civil penalty of two times Plaintiff's actual damages pursuant to Civil Code section 1794, subdivision (c).

24. Defendant does not maintain a qualified third-party dispute resolution process which substantially complies with Civil Code section 1793.22. Accordingly, Plaintiff is entitled to a civil penalty of two times Plaintiff's actual damages pursuant to Civil Code section 1794, subdivision (e).

25. Plaintiff seeks civil penalties pursuant to section 1794, subdivisions (c), and (e) in the alternative and does not seek to cumulate civil penalties, as provided in Civil Code section 1794, subdivision (e)(5).

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

BY PLAINTIFF AGAINST DEFENDANT

VIOLATION OF SUBDIVISION (b) OF CIVIL CODE SECTION 1793.2

26. Plaintiff re-alleges and incorporates herein by reference each and every allegation and statement contained in paragraphs 1 through 25, inclusive, of the General Allegations, above.

27. Although Plaintiff presented the Vehicle to Defendant's representative in this state, Defendant and its representative failed to commence the service or repairs within a reasonable time and failed to service or repair the Vehicle so as to conform to the applicable warranties within 30 days, in violation of Civil Code section 1793.2, subdivision (b). Plaintiff did not extend the time for completion of repairs beyond the 30-day requirement.

28. Plaintiff has been damaged by Manufacturer's failure to comply with its obligations pursuant to Civil Code section 1793.2(b), and therefore brings this Cause of Action pursuant to Civil Code section 1794.

29. Plaintiff has rightfully rejected and/or justifiably revoked acceptance of the Vehicle, and has exercised a right to cancel the sale. By serving this Complaint, Plaintiff does so again. Accordingly, Plaintiff seeks the remedies provided in California Civil Code section 1794(b)(1), including the entire purchase price. In the alternative, Plaintiff seeks the remedies set forth in California Civil Code section 1794(b)(2), including the diminution in value of the Vehicle resulting from its defects. Plaintiff believes that, at the present time, the Vehicle's value is de minimis.

30. Defendant's failure to comply with its obligations under Civil Code section 1793.2(b) was willful, in that Defendant and its representative were aware that they were obligated to service or repair the Vehicle to conform to the applicable express warranties within 30 days, yet they failed to do so. Accordingly, Plaintiff is entitled to a civil penalty of two times Plaintiff's actual damages pursuant to Civil Code section 1794(c).

THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION

BY PLAINTIFF AGAINST DEFENDANT

VIOLATION OF SUBDIVISION (a)(3) OF CIVIL CODE SECTION 1793.2

31. Plaintiff re-alleges and incorporates herein by reference each and every allegation and statement contained in paragraphs 1 through 30, inclusive, of the General Allegations, above.

32. In violation of Civil Code section 1793.2, subdivision (a)(3), Defendant failed to make available to its authorized service and repair facilities sufficient service literature and replacement parts to effect repairs during the express warranty period. Plaintiff has been damaged by Defendant's failure to comply with its obligations pursuant to Civil Code section 1793.2(a)(3), and therefore brings this Cause of Action pursuant to Civil Code section 1794.

33. Defendant's failure to comply with its obligations under Civil Code section 1793.2, subdivision (a)(3) was wilful, in that Defendant knew of its obligation to provide literature and replacement parts sufficient to allow its repair facilities to effect repairs during the warranty period, yet Defendant failed to take any action to correct its failure to comply with the law. Accordingly, Plaintiff is entitled to a civil penalty of two times Plaintiff's actual damages; pursuant to Civil Code section 1794(c).

FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION

BY PLAINTIFF AGAINST DEFENDANT

BREACH OF EXPRESS WRITTEN WARRANTY

CIVIL CODE SECTION 1791.2 SUBDIVISION (a); SECTION 1794

34. Plaintiff re-alleges and incorporates herein by reference each and every allegation and statement contained in paragraphs 1 through 33, inclusive, of the General Allegations, above.

35. In accordance with Defendant's warranty, Plaintiff delivered the Vehicle to Defendant's representative in this state to perform warranty repairs. Plaintiff did so within a reasonable time. Each time Plaintiff delivered the Vehicle, Plaintiff notified Defendant and its representative of the characteristics of the defects. However, the representative failed to repair the Vehicle, breaching the terms of the written warranty on each occasion.

36. Plaintiff has been damaged by Defendant's failure to comply with its obligations under the express warranty, and therefore brings this Cause of Action pursuant to Civil Code section 1794.

37. Defendant's failure to comply with its obligations under the express warranty was willful, in that Defendant and its authorized representative were aware that they were obligated to repair the Defects, but they intentionally refused to do so. Accordingly, Plaintiff is entitled to a civil penalty of two times of Plaintiff's actual damages pursuant to Civil Code section 1794(c).

FIFTH CAUSE OF ACTION

BY PLAINTIFF AGAINST DEFENDANT

BREACH OF THE IMPLIED WARRANTY OF MERCHANTABILITY

CIVIL CODE SECTION 1791.1; SECTION 1794

38. Plaintiff re-alleges and incorporates herein by reference each and every allegation and statement contained in paragraphs 1 through 37, inclusive, of the General Allegations, above.

39. Pursuant to Civil Code section 1792, the sale of the Vehicle was accompanied by Defendant's implied warranty of merchantability. Pursuant to Civil Code section 1791.1, the duration of the implied warranty is coextensive in duration with the duration of the express written warranty provided by Defendant, except that the duration is not to exceed one-year.

40. Pursuant to Civil Code section 1791.1 (a), the implied warranty of merchantability means and includes that the Vehicle will comply with each of the following requirements: (1) The Vehicle will pass without objection in the trade under the contract description; (2) The Vehicle is fit for the ordinary purposes for which such goods are used; (3) The Vehicle is adequately contained, packaged, and labelled; (4) The Vehicle will conform to the promises or affirmations of fact made on the container or label.

41. On or about September 2, 2018, or within one-year thereafter, the Vehicle contained or developed the defects set forth above. The existence of each of these defects constitutes a breach of the implied warranty because the Vehicle (1) does not pass without objection in the trade under the contract description, (2) is not fit for the ordinary purposes for which such goods are used, (3) is not adequately contained, packaged, and labelled, and (4) does not conform to the promises or affirmations of fact made on the container or label.

42. Plaintiff has been damaged by Defendant's failure to comply with its obligations under the implied warranty, and therefore brings this Cause of Action pursuant to Civil Code section 1794.

PRAYER

PLAINTIFF PRAYS for judgment against Defendant as follows:

a. For Plaintiff's actual damages in the amount according to proof at trial;

b. For restitution;

c. For a civil penalty in the amount of two times Plaintiff's actual damages pursuant to Civil Code section 1794, subdivision (c) or (e);

d. For any consequential and incidental damages;

e. For costs of the suit and Plaintiff's reasonable attorneys' fees pursuant to Civil Code section 1794, subdivision (d);

f. For prejudgment interest at the legal rate; and

g. For such other relief as the Court may deem proper.

INSTRUCTIONS ON HOW TO COMPLETE THE COVER SHEET

To Plaintiffs and Others Filing First Papers. If you are filing a first paper (for example, a complaint) in a civil case, you must complete and file, along with your first paper, the Civil Case Cover Sheet contained on page 1. This information will be used to compile statistics about the types and numbers of cases filed. You must complete items 1 through 6 on the sheet. In item 1, you must check one box for the case type that best describes the case. If the case fits both a general and a more specific type of case listed in item 1, check the more specific one. If the case has multiple causes of action, check the box that best indicates the primary cause of action. To assist you in completing the sheet, examples of the cases that belong under each case type in item 1 are provided below. A cover sheet must be filed only with your initial paper. Failure to file a cover sheet with the first paper filed in a civil case may subject a party, its counsel, or both to sanctions under rules 2.30 and 3.220 of the California Rules of Court.

To Parties in Rule 3.740 Collections Cases. A "collections case" under rule 3.740 is defined as an action for recovery of money owed in a sum stated to be certain that is not more than $25,000, exclusive of interest and attorney's fees, arising from a transaction in which property, services, or money was acquired on credit. A collections case does not include an action seeking the following: (1) tort damages, (2) punitive damages, (3) recovery of real property, (4) recovery of personal property, or (5) a prejudgment writ of attachment. The identification of a case as a rule 3.740 collections case on this form means that it will be exempt from the general time-for-service requirements and case management rules, unless a defendant files a responsive pleading. A rule 3.740 collections case will be subject to the requirements for service and obtaining a judgment in rule 3.740.

To Parties in Complex Cases. In complex cases only, parties must also use the Civil Case Cover Sheet to designate whether the case is complex. If a plaintiff believes the case is complex under rule 3.400 of the California Rules of Court, this must be indicated by completing the appropriate boxes in items 1 and 2. If a plaintiff designates a case as complex, the cover sheet must be served with the complaint on all parties to the action. A defendant may file and serve no later than the time of its first appearance a joinder in the plaintiff's designation, a counter-designation that the case is not complex, or, if the plaintiff has made no designation, a designation that the case is complex.

A Case Management Statement (JC Form #CM-110) must be completed by counsel for all parties and by all self-represented litigants and timely filed with the court at least 15 days prior to the initial CMC. (San Diego Superior Court (SDSC) Local Rules, rule 2.1.9; Cal. Rules of Court, rule 3.725).

All counsel of record and self-represented litigants must appear at the CMC, be familiar with the case, and be fully prepared to participate effectively in the hearing, including discussions of Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) options.

It is the duty of each plaintiff (and cross-complainant) to serve a copy of this Notice of Case Assignment and Case Management Conference (SDSC Form #CIV-721) with the complaint (and cross-complaint), the Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) Information Form (SDSC Form # CIV-730), a Stipulation to Use Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) (SDSC Form # CIV-359), and other documents on all parties to the action as set out in SDSC Local Rules, rule 2.1.5.

TIME FOR SERVICE AND RESPONSE: The following rules apply to civil cases except for collections cases under California Rules of Court, rule 3.740(a), unlawful detainer actions, proceedings under the Family Code, and other proceedings for which different service requirements are prescribed by law (Cal. - Service: The complaint must be served on all named defendants, and proof of service filed with the court within 60 days after filing the complaint. An amended complaint adding a defendant must be served on the added defendant and proof of service filed within 30 days after filing of the amended complaint. A cross-complaint against a party who has appeared in the action must be accompanied by proof of service on that party at the time it is filed. If it adds a new party, the cross-complaint must be served on all parties and proof of service on the new party must be filed within 30 days of the filing of the cross-complaint.

- Extensions: The parties may stipulate without leave of court to one 15-day extension beyond the 30-day time period prescribed for the response after service of the initial complaint (SDSC Local Rules, rule 2.1.6). If a party fails to serve and file pleadings as required under this rule, and has not obtained an order extending time to serve its pleadings, the court may issue an order to show cause why sanctions shall not be imposed.

JURY FEES: In order to preserve the right to a jury trial, one party for each side demanding a jury trial shall pay an advance jury fee in the amount of one hundred fifty dollars ($150) on or before the date scheduled for the initial case management conference in the action.

COURT REPORTERS: Official Court Reporters are not normally available in civil matters, but may be requested in certain situations no later than 10 days before the hearing date. See SDSC Local Rules, rule 1.2.3 and Policy Regarding Normal Availability and Unavailability of Official Court Reporters (SDSC Form #ADM-317) for further information.

ALTERNATIVE DISPUTE RESOLUTION (ADR): The court discourages any unnecessary delay in civil actions; therefore, continuances are discouraged and timely resolution of all actions, including submitting to any form of ADR is encouraged. The court encourages and expects the parties to consider using ADR options prior to the CMC. The use of ADR will be discussed at the CMC. Prior to the CMC, parties stipulating to the ADR process may file the Stipulation to Use Alternative Dispute Resolution (SDSC Form #CIV-359).

NOTICE OF E-FILING REQUIREMENTS AND IMAGED DOCUMENTS

Effective April 15, 2021, e-filing is required for attorneys in represented cases in all limited and unlimited civil cases, pursuant to the San Diego Superior Court General Order: In Re Procedures Regarding Electronically Imaged Court Records, Electronic Filing and Access to Electronic Court Records in Civil and Probate Cases. Additionally, you are encouraged to review CIV-409 for a listing of documents that are not eligible for e-filing. E-filing is also encouraged, but not mandated, for self-represented litigants, unless otherwise ordered by the court. All e-filers are required to comply with the e-filing requirements set forth in Electronic Filing Requirements (Civil) (SDSC Form #CIV-409) and Cal. Rules of Court, rules 2.250-2.261.

All Civil cases are assigned to departments that are part of the court's "Imaging Program." This means that original documents filed with the court will be imaged, held for 30 days, and then destroyed, with the exception of those original documents the court is statutorily required to maintain. The electronic copy of the filed document(s) will be the official court record, pursuant to Government Code § 68150. Thus, original documents should not be attached to pleadings filed with the San Diego Superior Court, unless it is a document for which the law requires an original be filed. Any original documents necessary for a motion hearing or trial shall be lodged in advance of the hearing pursuant to California Rules of Court, rule 3.1302(b).

It is the duty of each plaintiff, cross-complainant, or petitioner to serve a copy of this Notice of Case Assignment and Case Management Conference (Civil) (SDSC Form #CIV-721) with the complaint, cross-complaint, or petition on all parties to the action.

On all pleadings filed after the initial case originating filing, all parties must, to the extent it is feasible to do so, place the words "IMAGED FILE" in all caps immediately under the title of the pleading on all subsequent pleadings filed in the action.

The official court file will be electronic and accessible at one of the kiosks located in the Civil Business Office and may be found on the court's website at www.sdcourt.ca.gov.

ALTERNATIVE DISPUTE RESOLUTION (ADR) INFORMATION

CASE NUMBER: [redacted] CASE TITLE: [redacted] vs Ford Motor Company [IMAGED]

NOTICE: All plaintiffs/cross-complainants in a general civil case are required to serve a copy of the following three forms on each defendant/cross-defendant, together with the complaint/cross-complaint:
(1) this Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) Information form (SDSC form #CIV-730),
(2) the Stipulation to Use Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) form (SDSC form #CIV-359), *and
(3) the Notice of Case Assignment form (SDSC form #CIV-721).

Most civil disputes are resolved without filing a lawsuit, and most civil lawsuits are resolved without a trial. The courts, community organizations, and private providers offer a variety of Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) processes to help people resolve disputes without a trial. The San Diego Superior Court expects that litigants will utilize some form of ADR as a mechanism for case settlement before trial, and it may be beneficial to do this early in the case.

Below is some information about the potential advantages and disadvantages of ADR, the most common types of ADR, and how to find a local ADR program or neutral. A form for agreeing to use ADR is attached (SDSC form #CIV-359).

Potential Advantages and Disadvantages of ADR

ADR may have a variety of advantages or disadvantages over a trial, depending on the type of ADR process used and the particular case:

Potential Advantages
- Saves time
- Saves money
- Gives parties more control over the dispute resolution process and outcome
- Preserves or improves relationships

Potential Disadvantages
- May take more time and money if ADR does not resolve the dispute
- Procedures to learn about the other side's case (discovery), jury trial, appeal, and other court protections may be limited or unavailable

Most Common Types of ADR

You can read more information about these ADR processes and watch videos that demonstrate them on the court's ADR webpage at http://www.sdcourt.ca.gov/adr.

Mediation: A neutral person called a "mediator" helps the parties communicate in an effective and constructive manner so they can try to settle their dispute. The mediator does not decide the outcome, but helps the parties to do so. Mediation is usually confidential, and may be particularly useful when parties want or need to have an ongoing relationship, such as in disputes between family members, neighbors, co-workers, or business partners, or when parties want to discuss non-legal concerns or creative resolutions that could not be ordered at a trial.

Settlement Conference: A judge or another neutral person called a "settlement officer" helps the parties to understand the strengths and weaknesses of their case and to discuss settlement. The judge or settlement officer does not make a decision in the case but helps the parties to negotiate a settlement. Settlement conferences may be particularly helpful when the parties have very different ideas about the likely outcome of a trial and would like an experienced neutral to help guide them toward a resolution.

Arbitration: A neutral person called an "arbitrator" considers arguments and evidence presented by each side and then decides the outcome of the dispute. Arbitration is less formal than a trial, and the rules of evidence are usually relaxed. If the parties agree to binding arbitration, they waive their right to a trial and agree to accept the arbitrator's decision as final. With nonbinding arbitration, any party may reject the arbitrator's decision and request a trial. Arbitration may be appropriate when the parties want another person to decide the outcome of their dispute but would like to avoid the formality, time, and expense of a trial.

Other ADR Processes: There are several other types of ADR which are not offered through the court but which may be obtained privately, including neutral evaluation, conciliation, fact finding, mini-trials, and summary jury trials. Sometimes parties will try a combination of ADR processes. The important thing is to try to find the type or types of ADR that are most likely to resolve your dispute. Be sure to learn about the rules of any ADR program and the qualifications of any neutral you are considering, and about their fees.

Local ADR Programs for Civil Cases

Mediation: The San Diego Superior Court maintains a Civil Mediation Panel of approved mediators who have met certain minimum qualifications and have agreed to charge $150 per hour for each of the first two (2) hours of mediation and their regular hourly rate thereafter in court-referred mediations.

On-line mediator search and selection: Go to the court's ADR webpage at www.sdcourt.ca.gov/adr and click on the "Mediator Search" to review individual mediator profiles containing detailed information about each mediator including their dispute resolution training, relevant experience, ADR specialty, education and employment history, mediation style, and fees and to submit an on-line Mediator Selection Form (SDSC form #CIV-005). The Civil Mediation Panel List, the Available Mediator List, individual Mediator Profiles, and Mediator Selection Form (CIV-005) can also be printed from the court's ADR webpage and are available at the Mediation Program Office or Civil Business Office at each court location.

Settlement Conference: The judge may order your case to a mandatory settlement conference, or voluntary settlement conferences may be requested from the court if the parties certify that: (1) settlement negotiations between the parties have been pursued, demands and offers have been tendered in good faith, and resolution has failed; (2) a judicially supervised settlement conference presents a substantial opportunity for settlement; and (3) the case has developed to a point where all parties are legally and factually prepared to present the issues for settlement consideration and further discovery for settlement purposes is not required. Refer to SDSC Local Rule 2.2.1 for more information. To schedule a settlement conference, contact the department to which your case is assigned.

Arbitration: The San Diego Superior Court maintains a panel of approved judicial arbitrators who have practiced law for a minimum of five years and who have a certain amount of trial and/or arbitration experience. Refer to SDSC Local Rules Division II, Chapter III and Code Civ. Proc. § 1141.10 et seq or contact the Arbitration Program Office at (619) 450-7300 for more information.

More information about court-connected ADR: Visit the court's ADR webpage at www.sdcourt.ca.gov/adr or contact the court's Mediation/Arbitration Office at (619) 450-7300.

Dispute Resolution Programs Act (DRPA) funded ADR Programs: The following community dispute resolution programs are funded under DRPA (Bus. and Prof. Code §§ 465 et seq.):

- In Central, East, and South San Diego County, contact the National Conflict Resolution Center (NCRC) at www.ncrconline.com or (619) 238-2400.
- In North San Diego County, contact North County Lifeline, Inc. at www.nclifeline.org or (760) 726-4900.

Private ADR: To find a private ADR program or neutral, search the Internet, your local telephone or business directory, or legal newspaper for dispute resolution, mediation, settlement, or arbitration services.

Legal Representation and Advice

To participate effectively in ADR, it is generally important to understand your legal rights and responsibilities and the likely outcomes if you went to trial. ADR neutrals are not allowed to represent or to give legal advice to the participants in the ADR process. If you do not already have an attorney, the California State Bar or your local County Bar Association can assist you in finding an attorney. Information about obtaining free and low cost legal assistance is also available on the California courts website at www.courtinfo.ca.gov/selfhelp/lowcost.

Dear Sir or Madam:

Lemberg Law LLC is writing on behalf of the above client with regard to the above vehicle purchased in Maryland State. Please consider this your notice for an opportunity to correct the defects specified below. Should litigation become necessary, a lawsuit shall be filed in the Michigan court. We will seek relief on our client's behalf under the Magnuson Moss Warranty Act, breach of warranty statutes and other laws protecting consumers. Upon receipt of this notice please direct all inquiries regarding the above vehicle to this office, rather than to the client.

Since the purchase date and during the warranty period, this vehicle has been out of service over 2 months and subject to at least 3 repairs due to infotainment system failure, screen going black, vehicle trim not fitting properly, catastrophic engine failure, and the last defect continues to persist.

The defects in the vehicle substantially impair its use, value, and safety to our client, and constitute a breach of warranty. Because of the incurable problems outlined above, our client revokes acceptance of the vehicle under U.C.C. § 2-608. Our client demands a return of all money paid so far, including the down payment, amount of payments thus far, finance charges, other fees, incidental and consequential damages, costs, and attorney's fees. We have been instructed to seek all legal recourse available under the law.

Please be advised that under U.C.C. § 2-711(3), our client has a security interest in the car until the purchase price is returned, plus expenses in handling and inspecting the car. Until you pay this amount, our client will hold the car and use it to the extent necessary to preserve it, to protect the security interest, and to minimize your damages. Moreover, our client demands the return of the purchase price before substitute goods can be acquired. In addition, any attempt by you or your agents to repossess the car will be deemed wrongful and will subject you to liability for conversion and for wrongful repossession under U.C.C. §§ 9-503 and 9-507. If the seller or any creditor subject to the FTC Holder Rule has filed a financing statement covering the above vehicle, we demand, pursuant to U.C.C. § 9-404, that you file a termination statement within 10 days to terminate such security interest. Failure to do so subjects you to liability under U.C.C. § 9-404(1).

Our client understands that sometimes the failures of the manufacturer simply cannot be corrected by any dealer. We hope to bring this matter to an end through an amicable settlement. Thank you for your time and consideration in this matter, and I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

/s/ Sergei Lemberg

Plaintiffs [redacted] individual, an[redacted] individual ("Plaintiffs"), allege as follows against Defendant FORD MOTOR COMPANY, a Delaware Corporation ("FORD MOTOR COMPANY") and LONG BEACH LINCOLN MERCURY, INC., a Delaware Corporation d/b/a CARUSO FORD LINCOLN ("CARUSO FORD LINCOLN"), and DOES 1 through 10 inclusive, on information and belief, formed after a reasonable inquiry under the circumstances:

DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

1. Plaintiffs, [redacted], hereby demand trial by jury in this action.

GENERAL ALLEGATIONS

2. Plaintiffs, [redacted], are individuals residing in the City of Long Beach, State of California.

3. Defendant, FORD MOTOR COMPANY, is and was a Delaware Corporation operating and doing business in the State of California.

4. Defendant, CARUSO FORD LINCOLN, is and was a Delaware Corporation registered to do business in the State of California with its principal place of business in the City of Long Beach, State of California.

5. These causes of causes of action arise out of warranty and repair obligations of FORD MOTOR COMPANY in connection with a vehicle Plaintiffs purchased and for which FORD MOTOR COMPANY issued a written warranty. The warranty was not issued by the selling dealership.

6. Plaintiffs do not know the true names and capacities, whether corporate, partnership, associate, individual, or otherwise of Defendant issued herein as Does 1 through 10, inclusive, under the provisions of section 474 of the California Code of Civil Procedure. Defendant Does 1 through 10, inclusive, are in some manner responsible for the acts, occurrences, and transactions set forth herein, and are legally liable to Plaintiffs. Plaintiffs will seek leave to amend this Complaint to set forth the true names and capacities of the fictitiously named Defendant, together with appropriate charging allegations, when ascertained.

7. All acts of corporate employees as alleged were authorized or ratified by an officer, director, or managing agent of the corporate employer.

8. Each Defendant, whether actually or fictitiously named herein, was the principal, agent (actual or ostensible), or employee of each other Defendant, and in acting as such principal or within the course and scope of such employment or agency, took some part in the acts and omissions hereinafter set forth by reason of which each Defendant is liable to Plaintiffs for the relief prayed for herein.

9. On July 18, 2021, Plaintiffs purchased a 2018 Ford EcoSport, having VIN No.: MAJ3P1TE4JC[redacted] ("the Subject Vehicle"). These causes of action arise out of warranty and repair obligations of FORD MOTOR COMPANY in connection with a vehicle that Plaintiffs purchased and for which FORD MOTOR COMPANY issued a written warranty. The warranty was not issued by the selling dealership.

10. FORD MOTOR COMPANY warranted the Subject Vehicle and agreed to preserve or maintain the utility or performance of Plaintiffs' vehicle or to provide compensation if there was a failure in such utility or performance. In connection with the purchase, Plaintiffs received various warranties, inter alia, a 3-year/36,000 mile express bumper to bumper warranty, a 5-year/60,000 mile powertrain warranty which, inter alia, covers the engine and the transmission, as well as various emissions warranties that exceed the time and mileage limitations of the bumper to bumper and powertrain warranties.

11. The Subject Vehicle was delivered to Plaintiffs with serious defects and nonconformities to warranty and developed other serious defects and nonconformities to warranty including, but not limited to, emission, engine, transmission, and electrical system defects.

12. Plaintiffs hereby revoke acceptance of the sales contract.

13. Pursuant to the Song-Beverly Consumer Warranty Act (hereinafter the "Act") Civil Code sections 1790 et seq. the Subject Vehicle constitutes "consumer goods" used primarily for family or household purposes, and Plaintiffs have used the vehicle primarily for those purposes.

14. Plaintiffs are the "buyers" of consumer goods under the Act.

15. Defendant, FORD MOTOR COMPANY, is a "manufacturer" and/or "distributor" under the Act.

16. Plaintiffs hereby demand trial by jury in this action.

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

Violation of the Song-Beverly Act – Breach of Express Warranty

(Against Defendant FORD MOTOR COMPANY)

17. Plaintiffs incorporate herein by reference each and every allegation contained in the preceding and succeeding paragraphs as though herein fully restated and re-alleged.

18. The Subject Vehicle was sold to Plaintiffs with express warranties that the Subject Vehicle would be free from defects in materials, nonconformity, or workmanship during the applicable warranty period and to the extent that the Subject Vehicle had defects, Defendant FORD MOTOR COMPANY would repair the defects.

19. The Subject Vehicle was delivered to Plaintiffs with serious defects and nonconformities to warranty and developed other serious defects and nonconformities to warranty including, but not limited to, emission, engine, transmission, and electrical system defects.

20. Pursuant to the Song-Beverly Consumer Warranty Act (hereinafter the "Act") Civil Code sections 1790 et seq. the vehicle constitutes "consumer goods" used primarily for family or household purposes, and Plaintiffs have used the Subject Vehicle primarily for those purposes.

21. Plaintiffs are the "buyers" of consumer goods under the Act.

22. Defendant, FORD MOTOR COMPANY, is a "manufacturer" and/or "distributor" under the Act.

23. The foregoing defects and nonconformities to warranty manifested themselves in the Subject Vehicle within the applicable express warranty period. The nonconformities substantially impair the use, value, and/or safety of the vehicle.

24. Plaintiffs delivered the vehicle to an authorized FORD MOTOR COMPANY repair facility for repair of the nonconformities.

25. Defendant was unable to conform Plaintiffs' vehicle to the applicable express warranty after a reasonable number of repair attempts.

26. Notwithstanding Plaintiffs' entitlement, Defendant FORD MOTOR COMPANY

QUILL&ARROW•LLP
ATTORNEYS AT LAW

has failed to either promptly replace the new motor vehicle or to promptly make restitution in accordance with the Song-Beverly Act.

27. By failure of Defendant to remedy the defects as alleged above or to issue a refund or replacement vehicle, Defendant is in breach of its obligations under the Song-Beverly Act.

28. Under the Act, Plaintiffs are entitled to reimbursement of the price paid for the vehicle less that amount directly attributable to use by the Plaintiff prior to the first presentation of the nonconformities.

29. Plaintiffs are entitled to all incidental, consequential, and general damages resulting from Defendant's failure to comply with its obligations under the Song-Beverly Act.

30. Plaintiffs are entitled under the Song-Beverly Act to recover as part of the judgment a sum equal to the aggregate amount of costs and expenses, including attorney's fees, reasonably incurred in connection with the commencement and prosecution of this action.

31. Because Defendant willfully violated the Song-Beverly Act, Plaintiffs are entitled, in addition to the amounts recovered, a civil penalty of up to two times the amount of actual damages for FORD MOTOR COMPANY's willful failure to comply with its responsibilities under the Act.

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

Violation of the Song-Beverly Act – Breach of Implied Warranty

(Against Defendant FORD MOTOR COMPANY)

32. Plaintiffs incorporate herein by reference each and every allegation contained in the preceding and succeeding paragraphs as though herein fully restated and re-alleged.

33. FORD MOTOR COMPANY and its authorized dealership at which Plaintiffs purchased the subject vehicle had reason to know the purpose of the Subject Vehicle at the time of sale of the subject vehicle. The sale of the Subject Vehicle was accompanied by implied warranties provided for under the law.

34. Among other warranties, the sale of the Subject Vehicle was accompanied by an implied warranty that the Subject vehicle was merchantable pursuant to Civil Code section 1792.

35. Pursuant to Civil Code section 1791.1 (a), the implied warranty of merchantability means and includes that the Vehicle will comply with each of the following requirements: (1) The Vehicle will pass without objection in the trade under the contract description; (2) The Vehicle is fit for the ordinary purposes for which such goods are used; (3) The Vehicle is adequately contained, packaged, and labelled; (4) The Vehicle will conform to the promises or affirmations of fact made on the container or label.

QUILL&ARROW•LLP

36. The Subject Vehicle was not fit for the ordinary purpose for which such goods are used because it was equipped with one or more defective vehicle systems/components.

37. The Subject Vehicle did not measure up to the promises or facts stated on the container or label because it was equipped with one or more defective vehicle systems/components.

38. The Subject Vehicle was not of the same quality as those generally accepted in the trade because it was sold with one or more defective vehicle systems/components which manifested as emission, engine, transmission, and electrical system defects.

39. Upon information and belief, the defective vehicle systems and components were present at the time of sale of the Subject Vehicle; thus, extending the duration of any implied warranty under Mexia v. Rinker Boat Co., Inc. (2009) 174 Cal.App.4th 1297, 1304–1305 and other applicable laws.

40. Plaintiffs are entitled to justifiably revoke acceptance of the subject vehicle under Civil Code, section 1794, et seq.

41. Plaintiffs hereby revoke acceptance of the Subject Vehicle.

42. Plaintiffs are entitled to replacement or reimbursement pursuant to Civil Code, section 1794, et seq.

43. Plaintiffs are entitled to rescission of the contract pursuant to Civil Code, section 1794, et seq. and Commercial Code, section 2711.

44. Plaintiffs are entitled to recover any incidental, consequential, and/or "cover" damages under Commercial Code, sections 2711, 2712, and Civil Code, section 1794, et seq.

Violation of the Song-Beverly Act Section 1793.2(b)

(Against Defendant FORD MOTOR COMPANY)

45. Plaintiffs incorporate herein by reference each and every allegation contained in the preceding and succeeding paragraphs as though herein fully restated and re-alleged.

46. Pursuant to Civil Code, section 1793.2, subdivision (a) a manufacturer that sells consumer goods in California, for which it has made an express warranty, shall maintain service and repair facilities or designate and authorize independent service and repair facilities to carry out the terms of those warranties.

47. Pursuant to Civil Code, section 1793.2, subdivision (b), when service and repair of goods are necessary because they do not conform with the applicable express warranties, service and repair shall be commenced within a reasonable time by the manufacturer or its representative.

48. Civil Code, section 1793.2, subdivision (b) further states that goods shall be serviced or repaired so as to conform to the applicable warranties within 30 days and/or within a reasonable time.

49. The sale of the Subject Vehicle was accompanied by express warranties, including a warranty guaranteeing that the subject vehicle was safe to drive and not equipped with defective parts, including the electrical system.

50. Plaintiffs delivered the subject vehicle to FORD MOTOR COMPANY's authorized service representatives on multiple occasions. The subject vehicle was delivered for repairs of defects, which amount to nonconformities to the express warranties that accompanied the sale of the subject vehicle.

51. Defendant's authorized facilities did not conform the Subject Vehicle to warranty within 30-days and/or commence repairs within a reasonable time, and FORD MOTOR COMPANY has failed to tender the subject vehicle back to Plaintiff in conformance with its warranties within the timeframes set forth in Civil Code section 1793.2(b).

52. Plaintiffs are entitled to justifiably revoke acceptance of the subject vehicle under Civil Code, section 1794, et seq.

54. Plaintiffs are entitled to replacement or reimbursement pursuant to Civil Code, section 1794, et seq.

55. Plaintiffs are entitled to rescission of the contract pursuant to Civil Code section 1794, et seq. and Commercial Code, section 2711.

56. Plaintiffs are entitled to recover any "cover" damages under Commercial Code sections 2711, 2712, and Civil Code, section 1794, et seq.

57. Plaintiffs are entitled to recover all incidental and consequential damages pursuant to 1794 et seq and Commercial Code sections, 2711, 2712, and 2713 et seq.

58. Plaintiffs are entitled in addition to the amounts recovered, a civil penalty of up to two times the amount of actual damages in that FORD MOTOR COMPANY has willfully failed to comply with its responsibilities under the Act.

FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION

59. Plaintiffs incorporate herein by reference each and every allegation contained in the preceding and succeeding paragraphs as through herein fully restated and re-alleged.

60. Plaintiffs delivered the Subject Vehicle to Defendant CARUSO FORD LINCOLN for repairs on numerous occasions.

61. Defendant CARUSO FORD LINCOLN owed a duty to Plaintiffs to use ordinary care and skill in storage, preparation, and repair of the Subject Vehicle in accordance with industry standards.

62. Defendant CARUSO FORD LINCOLN breached its duty to Plaintiffs to ordinary care and skill by failing to properly store, prepare, and repair of the Subject Vehicle in accordance with industry standards.

If the case has multiple causes of action, check the box that best indicates the primary cause of action. To assist you in completing the sheet, examples of the cases that belong under each case type in item 1 are provided below. A cover sheet must be filed only with your initial paper. Failure to file a cover sheet with the first paper filed in a civil case may subject a party, its counsel, or both to sanctions under rules 2.30 and 3.220 of the California Rules of Court.

To Parties in Rule 3.740 Collections Cases. A "collections case" under rule 3.740 is defined as an action for recovery of money owed in a sum stated to be certain that is not more than $25,000, exclusive of interest and attorney's fees, arising from a transaction in which property, services, or money was acquired on credit. A collections case does not include an action seeking the following: (1) tort damages, (2) punitive damages, (3) recovery of real property, (4) recovery of personal property, or (5) a prejudgment writ of attachment. The identification of a case as a rule 3.740 collections case on this form means that it will be exempt from the general time-for-service requirements and case management rules, unless a defendant files a responsive pleading. A rule 3.740 collections case will be subject to the requirements for service and obtaining a judgment in rule 3.740.

To Parties in Complex Cases. In complex cases only, parties must also use the Civil Case Cover Sheet to designate whether the case is complex. If a plaintiff believes the case is complex under rule 3.400 of the California Rules of Court, this must be indicated by completing the appropriate boxes in items 1 and 2. If a plaintiff designates a case as complex, the cover sheet must be served with the complaint on all parties to the action. A defendant may file and serve no later than the time of its first appearance a joinder in the plaintiff's designation, a counter-designation that the case is not complex, or, if the plaintiff has made no designation, a designation that the case is complex.

ALTERNATIVE DISPUTE RESOLUTION (ADR) INFORMATION PACKAGE

THE PLAINTIFF MUST SERVE THIS ADR INFORMATION PACKAGE ON EACH PARTY WITH THE COMPLAINT.

CROSS-COMPLAINANTS must serve this ADR Information Package on any new parties named to the action with the cross-complaint.

What is ADR?

ADR helps people find solutions to their legal disputes without going to trial. The main types of ADR are negotiation, mediation, arbitration, and settlement conferences. When ADR is done by phone, videoconference or computer, it may be called Online Dispute Resolution (ODR). These alternatives to litigation and trial are described below.

Advantages of ADR

- Saves Time: ADR is faster than going to trial.
- Saves Money: Parties can save on court costs, attorney's fees, and witness fees.
- Keeps Control (with the parties): Parties choose their ADR process and provider for voluntary ADR.
- Reduces Stress/Protects Privacy: ADR is done outside the courtroom, in private offices, by phone or online.

Disadvantages of ADR

- Costs: If the parties do not resolve their dispute, they may have to pay for ADR, litigation, and trial.
- No Public Trial: ADR does not provide a public trial or decision by a judge or jury.

Main Types of ADR

1. Negotiation: Parties often talk with each other in person, or by phone or online about resolving their case with a settlement agreement instead of a trial. If the parties have lawyers, they will negotiate for their clients.

2. Mediation: In mediation, a neutral mediator listens to each person's concerns, helps them evaluate the strengths and weaknesses of their case, and works with them to try to create a settlement agreement that is acceptable to all. Mediators do not decide the outcome. Parties may go to trial if they decide not to settle.

Mediation may be appropriate when the parties

- want to work out a solution but need help from a neutral person.
- have communication problems or strong emotions that interfere with resolution.

Mediation may not be appropriate when the parties

- want a public trial and want a judge or jury to decide the outcome.
- lack equal bargaining power or have a history of physical/emotional abuse.

How to Arrange Mediation in Los Angeles County

Mediation for civil cases is voluntary and parties may select any mediator they wish. Options include:

a. The Civil Mediation Vendor Resource List
If all parties in an active civil case agree to mediation, they may contact these organizations to request a "Resource List Mediation" for mediation at reduced cost or no cost (for selected cases).

- ADR Services, Inc. Assistant Case Manager Janet Solis, janet@adrservices.com (213) 683-1600
- Mediation Center of Los Angeles Program Manager info@mediationLA.org (833) 476-9145

These organizations cannot accept every case and they may decline cases at their discretion. They may offer online mediation by video conference for cases they accept. Before contacting these organizations, review important information and FAQs at www.lacourt.org/ADR.Res.List

NOTE: The Civil Mediation Vendor Resource List program does not accept family law, probate, or small claims cases.

b. Los Angeles County Dispute Resolution Programs. Los Angeles County-funded agencies provide mediation services on the day of hearings in small claims, unlawful detainer (eviction), civil harassment, and limited civil (collections and non-collection) cases. https://dcba.lacounty.gov/countywidedrp/

Online Dispute Resolution (ODR). Parties in small claims and unlawful detainer (eviction) cases should carefully review the Notice and other information they may receive about (ODR) requirements for their case. https://my.lacourt.org/odr/

c. Mediators and ADR and Bar organizations that provide mediation may be found on the internet.

3. Arbitration: Arbitration is less formal than trial, but like trial, the parties present evidence and arguments to the person who decides the outcome. In "binding" arbitration, the arbitrator's decision is final; there is no right to trial. In "nonbinding" arbitration, any party can request a trial after the arbitrator's decision. For more information about arbitration, visit https://www.courts.ca.gov/programs-adr.htm

4. Mandatory Settlement Conferences (MSC): MSCs are ordered by the Court and are often held close to the trial date or on the day of trial. The parties and their attorneys meet with a judge or settlement officer who does not make a decision but who instead assists the parties in evaluating the strengths and weaknesses of the case and in negotiating a settlement. For information about the Court's MSC programs for civil cases, visit https://www.lacourt.org/division/civil/CI0047.aspx

This stipulation is intended to encourage cooperation among the parties at an early stage in the litigation and to assist the parties in efficient case resolution.

The parties agree that:

1. The parties commit to conduct an initial conference (in-person or via teleconference or via videoconference) within 15 days from the date this stipulation is signed, to discuss and consider whether there can be agreement on the following:

   a. Are motions to challenge the pleadings necessary? If the issue can be resolved by amendment as of right, or if the Court would allow leave to amend, could an amended complaint resolve most or all of the issues a demurrer might otherwise raise? If so, the parties agree to work through pleading issues so that a demurrer need only raise issues they cannot resolve. Is the issue that the defendant seeks to raise amenable to resolution on demurrer, or would some other type of motion be preferable? Could a voluntary targeted exchange of documents or information by any party cure an uncertainty in the pleadings?

   b. Initial mutual exchanges of documents at the "core" of the litigation. (For example, in an employment case, the employment records, personnel file and documents relating to the conduct in question could be considered "core." In a personal injury case, an incident or police report, medical records, and repair or maintenance records could be considered "core.");

   c. Exchange of names and contact information of witnesses;

   d. Any insurance agreement that may be available to satisfy part or all of a judgment, or to indemnify or reimburse for payments made to satisfy a judgment;

   e. Exchange of any other information that might be helpful to facilitate understanding, handling, or resolution of the case in a manner that preserves objections or privileges by agreement;

   f. Controlling issues of law that, if resolved early, will promote efficiency and economy in other phases of the case. Also, when and how such issues can be presented to the Court;

   g. Whether or when the case should be scheduled with a settlement officer, what discovery or court ruling on legal issues is reasonably required to make settlement discussions meaningful, and whether the parties wish to use a sitting judge or a private mediator or other options as discussed in the "Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) Information Package" served with the complaint;

h. Computation of damages, including documents, not privileged or protected from disclosure, on which such computation is based;

i. Whether the case is suitable for the Expedited Jury Trial procedures (see information at www.lacourt.org under "Civil" and then under "General Information").

2. The time for a defending party to respond to a complaint or cross-complaint will be extended to _____ (INSERT DATE) for the complaint, and _____ (INSERT DATE) for the cross-complaint, which is comprised of the 30 days to respond under Government Code § 68616(b), and the 30 days permitted by Code of Civil Procedure section 1054(a), good cause having been found by the Civil Supervising Judge due to the case management benefits provided by this Stipulation. A copy of the General Order can be found at www.lacourt.org under "Civil", click on "General Information", then click on "Voluntary Efficient Litigation Stipulations".

3. The parties will prepare a joint report titled "Joint Status Report Pursuant to Initial Conference and Early Organizational Meeting Stipulation, and if desired, a proposed order summarizing results of their meet and confer and advising the Court of any way it may assist the parties' efficient conduct or resolution of the case. The parties shall attach the Joint Status Report to the Case Management Conference statement, and file the documents when the CMC statement is due.

| STIPULATION – DISCOVERY RESOLUTION | | CASE NUMBER: |

This stipulation is intended to provide a fast and informal resolution of discovery issues through limited paperwork and an informal conference with the Court to aid in the resolution of the issues.

The parties agree that:

1. Prior to the discovery cut-off in this action, no discovery motion shall be filed or heard unless the moving party first makes a written request for an Informal Discovery Conference pursuant to the terms of this stipulation.

2. At the Informal Discovery Conference the Court will consider the dispute presented by parties and determine whether it can be resolved informally. Nothing set forth herein will preclude a party from making a record at the conclusion of an Informal Discovery Conference, either orally or in writing.

3. Following a reasonable and good faith attempt at an informal resolution of each issue to be presented, a party may request an Informal Discovery Conference pursuant to the following procedures:

   a. The party requesting the Informal Discovery Conference will:

      i. File a Request for Informal Discovery Conference with the clerk's office on the approved form (copy attached) and deliver a courtesy, conformed copy to the assigned department;

      ii. Include a brief summary of the dispute and specify the relief requested; and

      iii. Serve the opposing party pursuant to any authorized or agreed method of service that ensures that the opposing party receives the Request for Informal Discovery Conference no later than the next court day following the filing.

   b. Any Answer to a Request for Informal Discovery Conference must:

      i. Also be filed on the approved form (copy attached);

      ii. Include a brief summary of why the requested relief should be denied;

iii. Be filed within two (2) court days of receipt of the Request; and

c. No other pleadings, including but not limited to exhibits, declarations, or attachments, will be accepted.

d. If the Court has not granted or denied the Request for Informal Discovery Conference within ten (10) days following the filing of the Request, then it shall be deemed to have been denied. If the Court acts on the Request, the parties will be notified whether the Request for Informal Discovery Conference has been granted or denied and, if granted, the date and time of the Informal Discovery Conference, which must be within twenty (20) days of the filing of the Request for Informal Discovery Conference.

e. If the conference is not held within twenty (20) days of the filing of the Request for Informal Discovery Conference, unless extended by agreement of the parties and the Court, then the Request for the Informal Discovery Conference shall be deemed to have been denied at that time.

4. If (a) the Court has denied a conference or (b) one of the time deadlines above has expired without the Court having acted or (c) the Informal Discovery Conference is concluded without resolving the dispute, then a party may file a discovery motion to address unresolved issues.

5. The parties hereby further agree that the time for making a motion to compel or other discovery motion is tolled from the date of filing of the Request for Informal Discovery Conference until (a) the request is denied or deemed denied or (b) twenty (20) days after the filing of the Request for Informal Discovery Conference, whichever is earlier, unless extended by Order of the Court.

   It is the understanding and intent of the parties that this stipulation shall, for each discovery dispute to which it applies, constitute a writing memorializing a "specific later date to which the propounding [or demanding or requesting] party and the responding party have agreed in writing," within the meaning of Code Civil Procedure sections 2030.300(c), 2031.320(c), and 2033.290(c).

6. Nothing herein will preclude any party from applying ex parte for appropriate relief, including an order shortening time for a motion to be heard concerning discovery.

7. Any party may terminate this stipulation by giving twenty-one (21) days notice of intent to terminate the stipulation.

8. References to "days" mean calendar days, unless otherwise noted. If the date for performing any act pursuant to this stipulation falls on a Saturday, Sunday or Court holiday, then the time for performing that act shall be extended to the next Court day.

| General Order Re Use of Voluntary Efficient Litigation Stipulations | ORDER PURSUANT TO CCP 1054(a), EXTENDING TIME TO RESPOND BY 30 DAYS WHEN PARTIES AGREE TO EARLY ORGANIZATIONAL MEETING STIPULATION |

Whereas the Los Angeles Superior Court and the Executive Committee of the Litigation Section of the Los Angeles County Bar Association have cooperated in drafting "Voluntary Efficient Litigation Stipulations" and in proposing the stipulations for use in general jurisdiction civil litigation in Los Angeles County;

Whereas the Los Angeles County Bar Association Litigation Section; the Los Angeles County Bar Association Labor and Employment Law Section; the Consumer Attorneys Association of Los Angeles; the Association of Southern California Defense Counsel; the Association of Business Trial Lawyers of Los Angeles; and the California Employment Lawyers Association all "endorse the goal of promoting efficiency in litigation, and ask that counsel consider using these stipulations as a voluntary way to promote communications and procedures among counsel and with the court to fairly resolve issues in their cases;"

Whereas the Early Organizational Meeting Stipulation is intended to encourage cooperation among the parties at an early stage in litigation in order to achieve litigation efficiencies;

Whereas it is intended that use of the Early Organizational Meeting Stipulation will promote economic case resolution and judicial efficiency;

Whereas, in order to promote a meaningful discussion of pleading issues at the Early Organizational Meeting and potentially to reduce the need for motions to challenge the pleadings, it is necessary to allow additional time to conduct the Early Organizational Meeting before the time to respond to a complaint or cross complaint has expired;

Whereas Code of Civil Procedure section 1054(a) allows a judge of the court in which an action is pending to extend for not more than 30 days the time to respond to a pleading "upon good cause shown";

Now, therefore, this Court hereby finds that there is good cause to extend for 30 days the time to respond to a complaint or to a cross complaint in any action in which the parties have entered into the Early Organizational Meeting Stipulation. This finding of good cause is based on the anticipated judicial efficiency and benefits of economic case resolution that the Early Organizational Meeting Stipulation is intended to promote.

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that, in any case in which the parties have entered into an Early Organizational Meeting Stipulation, the time for a defending party to respond to a complaint or cross complaint shall be extended by the 30 days permitted by Code of Civil Procedure section 1054(a) without further need of a specific court order.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR HANDLING UNLIMITED CIVIL CASES

The following critical provisions of the California Rules of Court, Title 3, Division 7, as applicable in the Superior Court, are summarized for your assistance.

APPLICATION
The Division 7 Rules were effective January 1, 2007. They apply to all general civil cases.

PRIORITY OVER OTHER RULES
The Division 7 Rules shall have priority over all other Local Rules to the extent the others are inconsistent.

CHALLENGE TO ASSIGNED JUDGE
A challenge under Code of Civil Procedure Section 170.6 must be made within 15 days after notice of assignment for all purposes to a judge, or if a party has not yet appeared, within 15 days of the first appearance.

TIME STANDARDS
Cases assigned to the Independent Calendaring Courts will be subject to processing under the following time standards:

COMPLAINTS
All complaints shall be served within 60 days of filing and proof of service shall be filed within 90 days.

CROSS-COMPLAINTS
Without leave of court first being obtained, no cross-complaint may be filed by any party after their answer is filed. Cross-complaints shall be served within 30 days of the filing date and a proof of service filed within 60 days of the filing date.

STATUS CONFERENCE
A status conference will be scheduled by the assigned Independent Calendar Judge no later than 270 days after the filing of the complaint. Counsel must be fully prepared to discuss the following issues: alternative dispute resolution, bifurcation, settlement, trial date, and expert witnesses.

FINAL STATUS CONFERENCE
The Court will require the parties to attend a final status conference not more than 10 days before the scheduled trial date. All parties shall have motions in limine, bifurcation motions, statements of major evidentiary issues, dispositive motions, requested form jury instructions, special jury instructions, and special jury verdicts timely filed and served prior to the conference. These matters may be heard and resolved at this conference. At least five days before this conference, counsel must also have exchanged lists of exhibits and witnesses, and have submitted to the court a brief statement of the case to be read to the jury panel as required by Chapter Three of the Los Angeles Superior Court Rules.

SANCTIONS
The court will impose appropriate sanctions for the failure or refusal to comply with Chapter Three Rules, orders made by the Court, and time standards or deadlines established by the Court or by the Chapter Three Rules. Such sanctions may be on a party, or if appropriate, on counsel for a party.

This is not a complete delineation of the Division 7 or Chapter Three Rules, and adherence only to the above provisions is therefore not a guarantee against the imposition of sanctions under Trial Court Delay Reduction. Careful reading and compliance with the actual Chapter Rules is imperative.

Class Actions
Pursuant to Local Rule 2.3, all class actions shall be filed at the Stanley Mosk Courthouse and are randomly assigned to a complex judge at the designated complex courthouse. If the case is found not to be a class action it will be returned to an Independent Calendar Courtroom for all purposes.

Provisionally Complex Cases
Cases filed as provisionally complex are initially assigned to the Supervising Judge of complex litigation for determination of complex status. If the case is deemed to be complex within the meaning of California Rules of Court 3.400 et seq., it will be randomly assigned to a complex judge at the designated complex courthouse. If the case is found not to be complex, it will be returned to an Independent Calendar Courtroom for all purposes.

Dear Sir or Madam:

Lemberg Law LLC is writing on behalf of the above client with regard to the above vehicle purchased in Michigan State. Please consider this your statutory notice for an opportunity to correct the defects specified below. Should litigation become necessary, a lawsuit shall be filed in the Michigan federal court. We will seek relief on our client's behalf under the Magnuson Moss Warranty Act, breach of warranty statutes and other laws protecting Michigan consumers. Upon receipt of this notice please direct all inquiries regarding the above vehicle to this office, rather than to the client.

Since the purchase date and during the warranty period, this vehicle has been subject to repair due to the oil pressure loss for over 30 days and same defect continues to persist.

The defects in the vehicle substantially impair its use, value, and safety to our client, and constitute a breach of warranty. Because of the incurable problems outlined above, our client revokes acceptance of the vehicle under U.C.C. § 2-608. Our client demands a return of all money paid so far, including the down payment, amount of payments thus far, finance charges, other fees, incidental and consequential damages, costs, and attorney's fees. We have been instructed to seek all legal recourse available under the law.

Please be advised that under U.C.C. § 2-711(3), our client has a security interest in the car until the purchase price is returned, plus expenses in handling and inspecting the car. Until you pay this amount, our client will hold the car and use it to the extent necessary to preserve it, to protect the security interest, and to minimize your damages. Moreover, our client demands the return of the purchase price before substitute goods can be acquired. In addition, any attempt by you or your agents to repossess the car will be deemed wrongful and will subject you to liability for conversion and for wrongful repossession under U.C.C. §§ 9-503 and 9-507. If the seller or any creditor subject to the FTC Holder Rule has filed a financing statement covering the above vehicle, we demand, pursuant to U.C.C. § 9-404, that you file a termination statement within 10 days to terminate such security interest. Failure to do so subjects you to liability under U.C.C. § 9-404(1).

Our client understands that sometimes the failures of the manufacturer simply cannot be corrected by any dealer. We hope to bring this matter to an end through an amicable settlement. Thank you for your time and consideration in this matter, and I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

/s/ Vlad Hirnyk

Re: [redacted] Ford Motor Company
Our Client:
Vehicle: 2018 Ford EcoSport
VIN: MAJ3P1TE3JC[redacted]
Our File Number: [redacted]

Dear Sir/Madam:

Please be advised that this office represents the above-named individual regarding claims against your company pursuant to the Federal Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act, the State Lemon Law and/or the Uniform Commercial Code with regard to the above-listed vehicle.

Having been formally notified of our representation, we respectfully demand you not contact our client for any reason. Instead, please direct all future contact and correspondence to this office, and further, please consider this letter express and unequivocal revocation of any permission our client may have provided you to call them. We reserve the right to seek injunctive relief against you should you fail to honor these directives.

Enclosed please find the sales and repair records in our client's possession. As these records show, our client paid an extraordinary sum of money for a vehicle riddled with numerous non-conformities that cause a substantial impairment of the use, value and/or safety of the vehicle. The primary non-conformities include but are not limited to:

1. Defective electrical system;

2. Defective engine; and

3. Any additional complaints actually made, whether contained on your company's invoices or otherwise.

These non-conformities constitute violations of both Federal and State law, as do the inordinate amount of unsuccessful repair attempts to cure the same. Specifically, when you chose to bind our client to a written warranty limiting all remedies to repair or replacement of defective parts, you undertook the legal obligation to perform effective repairs within a reasonable amount of time. The inordinate amount of incompetent repairs within the applicable warranty period shows you failed to satisfy this obligation. Under basic principles of good faith, this means your limited remedy failed of its essential purpose. This failure caused harm for which our client intends to seek redress.

To avoid the need for litigation, we respectfully demand that you take this vehicle back, return all funds paid towards the vehicle, cancel all applicable contracts, and provide compensation for the damages sustained to date, including our client's attorneys' fees pursuant to the fee-shifting provisions of the Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act and/or Lemon Law. In exchange for meeting this demand, our client will waive all loss of use and aggravation and inconvenience damages sustained to date.

This letter also constitutes notice under U.C.C. § 2-711(3) of our client's security interest in the vehicle for return of the total amount above, plus expenses in handling and inspecting the vehicle. Until you pay this amount, our client has the right to hold the vehicle and use it to the extent necessary to preserve it, to protect its security interest, and to minimize your damages. In addition, although our client requires return of the monies identified above before substitute goods can be acquired, our client reserves the right to mitigate all parties' damages by cover and reserves the right to claim such damages here. In addition, any attempt by you or your agents to repossess the car will be wrongful and will subject you to liability for conversion and for wrongful repossession under U.C.C. §§ 9-503 and 9-507 as well as other applicable Consumer Fraud remedies. If the seller (or, if applicable the assignee, or any creditor subject to the FTC Holder Rule) has filed a financing statement covering the goods, I demand, pursuant to U.C.C § 9-404, that you file a termination statement within ten days to terminate your security interest and forward a copy to this office. Since our client has revoked acceptance, there is no outstanding secured obligation. If you do not file a termination statement within ten days and cooperate in removing the lien, you will be liable under U.C.C. § 9-404(1) for any loss caused our client by your failure. Please also consider this letter prior direct written notification of the defects within our client's vehicle and of our client's intent to pursue a claim pursuant to the State Lemon Law.

In conclusion, we urge you to realize that a quick resolution of this matter will save all parties a great deal of time, money and effort. To this end, although we believe the above demands are reasonable, our client remains open-minded to a diminution in value settlement, or any other suggestions for an equitable resolution you may have. I thus encourage you to contact this office at your earliest convenience with an offer for resolution. Should you fail to do so in a timely manner, we will assume you do not seek amicable resolution and will file a claim in a court of law seeking all actual and exemplary damages available.

INSTRUCTIONS ON HOW TO COMPLETE THE COVER SHEET

To Plaintiffs and Others Filing First Papers. If you are filing a first paper (for example, a complaint) in a civil case, you must complete and file, along with your first paper, the Civil Case Cover Sheet contained on page 1. This information will be used to compile statistics about the types and numbers of cases filed. You must complete items 1 through 6 on the sheet. In item 1, you must check one box for the case type that best describes the case. If the case fits both a general and a more specific type of case listed in item 1, check the more specific one. If the case has multiple causes of action, check the box that best indicates the primary cause of action. To assist you in completing the sheet, examples of the cases that belong under each case type in item 1 are provided below. A cover sheet must be filed only with your initial paper. Failure to file a cover sheet with the first paper filed in a civil case may subject a party, its counsel, or both to sanctions under rules 2.30 and 3.220 of the California Rules of Court.

To Parties in Rule 3.740 Collections Cases. A "collections case" under rule 3.740 is defined as an action for recovery of money owed in a sum stated to be certain that is not more than $25,000, exclusive of interest and attorney's fees, arising from a transaction in which property, services, or money was acquired on credit. A collections case does not include an action seeking the following: (1) tort damages, (2) punitive damages, (3) recovery of real property, (4) recovery of personal property, or (5) a prejudgment writ of attachment. The identification of a case as a rule 3.740 collections case on this form means that it will be exempt from the general time-for-service requirements and case management rules, unless a defendant files a responsive pleading. A rule 3.740 collections case will be subject to the requirements for service and obtaining a judgment in rule 3.740.

To Parties in Complex Cases. In complex cases only, parties must also use the Civil Case Cover Sheet to designate whether the case is complex. If a plaintiff believes the case is complex under rule 3.400 of the California Rules of Court, this must be indicated by completing the appropriate boxes in items 1 and 2. If a plaintiff designates a case as complex, the cover sheet must be served with the complaint on all parties to the action. A defendant may file and serve no later than the time of its first appearance a joinder in the plaintiff's designation, a counter-designation that the case is not complex, or, if the plaintiff has made no designation, a designation that the case is complex.

FORD MOTOR COMPANY, a Delaware Corporation,

Defendant.

1. VIOLATION OF THE SONG-BEVERLY CONSUMER WARRANTY ACT;
2. VIOLATION OF THE MAGNUSON-MOSS WARRANTY ACT

SUMMARY

1. This is a "lemon law" lawsuit relating to a defective 2019 Ford Ecosport with a vehicle identification number MAJ3S2GE9K[redacted] (the "Subject Vehicle"). While it was under warranty, Plaintiff took the Subject Vehicle in for repairs of serious defects. However, Defendant was either unable or unwilling to properly diagnose and repair the defects. Accordingly, under the "lemon law", Defendant is obligated to repurchase the Subject Vehicle. Plaintiff is also entitled to a civil penalty based on Defendant's willful violation of the lemon

PARTIES

2. Plaintiff [redacted] is an individual residing at [redacted]

3. Defendant Ford Motor Company ("Ford") is a Delaware Corporation that does business throughout this state, including Yuba County. Ford is the manufacturer and warrantor of the Subject Vehicle. Ford may be served through its registered agent CT Corporation System, 818 West Seventh Street, Suite 930, Los Angeles, California 90017.

4. The transactions and occurrences involved in this action took place in the State of California, County of Yuba.

5. All acts of corporate employees as alleged were authorized or ratified by an officer, director or managing agent of the corporate employer.

FACTS

6. On or around December 26, 2019, Plaintiff purchased the Subject Vehicle from Future Ford of Sacramento. A true and correct copy of the Purchase Agreement is attached hereto and marked Exhibit "A" and by this reference made a part thereof.

7. At the time of the purchase, the Subject Vehicle was accompanied with a factory warranty which, in relevant part, provided for a three (3) year, 36,000-mile bumper-to-bumper warranty (the "Warranty"). True and correct copies of the Pertinent Portion of the Warranty is attached hereto and marked Exhibit "B" and by this reference made a part thereof. Warranty in its entirety is in Defendant's possession.

8. The Subject Vehicle was purchased in the State of California primarily for personal, family, and/or household purposes.

9. The Defendant's warranties covered any repairs or replacements needed during the warranty period and/or due to defects in factory materials or workmanship.

10. In fact, when delivered, the Subject Vehicle was defective in materials and workmanship, such defects being discovered within the warranty periods and repairs were attempted. To date, the Subject Vehicle has been in service on at least four (4) occasions to repair defects including an internal coolant leak and oil leaking from the oil pan gasket onto the exhaust causing an oil burning smell requiring replacement of the cylinder head gasket, all gaskets and hardware, performance of engine oil and filter change and performance of misfire monitor relearn, the turbo compressor wheel hitting the compressor housing and the turbo center shaft moving requiring replacement of the turbo assembly, the brakes pulsating, cracked sun visors, the oil light illuminating and the engine failing to crank due to the engine being seized requiring replacement of the long block assembly and the turbocharger and resetting and programming the powertrain control module, the check charging system light illuminating and the battery light illuminating requiring replacement of the alternator, and the Subject Vehicle dying after replacement of the engine and alternator. However, these repairs were unsuccessful, and the defects remain. During said repair attempts the Subject Vehicle has been out of service for at least sixteen (16) days. A true and correct copy of the Repair Orders is attached hereto and marked Exhibit "C" and by this reference made a part thereof.

11. Despite the extensive repairs and the prolonged time during which Future Ford of Roseville, an authorized repair facility for Ford vehicles, was given the opportunity to repair Plaintiff's vehicle, they have failed to repair the Subject Vehicle so as to bring it into conformity with the warranties set forth herein.

12. The defects experienced by Plaintiff with the Subject Vehicle substantially impair its use, value and safety to the Plaintiff, and has shaken Plaintiff's faith in the vehicle to operate as dependable transportation.

13. Despite Plaintiff's repeated efforts to allow for opportunities to repair the Subject Vehicle, many nonconforming and defective conditions were not repaired and still exist.

14. Plaintiff directly notified Defendant of the defective conditions of the vehicle on numerous occasions and that she desired a buy-back of the Subject Vehicle. A true and correct copy of the Written Notification is attached hereto and marked Exhibit "D" and by this reference made a part thereof.

23. Plaintiff delivered the Subject Vehicle to Future Ford of Roseville for repairs of the nonconformities.

24. Future Ford of Roseville was unable to conform the Subject Vehicle to the applicable express warranties after a reasonable number of attempts.

25. By failure of Ford to remedy the defects as alleged above, or to issue a refund or replacement, Ford is in breach of its obligations under the Act.

26. Plaintiff is entitled to justifiably revoke acceptance of the Subject Vehicle under the Warranty Act.

27. Under the Warranty Act, Plaintiff is entitled to reimbursement of all payments made towards the Subject Vehicle (less the amount directly attributable to Plaintiff's use of the Subject Vehicle prior to the discovery of the nonconformities).

28. Plaintiff is entitled under the Warranty Act to recover as part of the judgment a sum equal to the aggregate amount of costs and expenses, including attorney's fees and costs reasonably incurred in connection with the commencement and prosecution of this action.

29. Plaintiff is entitled, in addition to the other amounts recovered, to a civil penalty of up to two (2) times the number of actual damages because Ford willfully failed to comply with their responsibilities under the Warranty Act.

36. The actions of Defendant as hereinabove described and in failing to tender the Subject Vehicle to Plaintiff free of defects and refusing to repair or replace the defective vehicle tendered to Plaintiff, constitutes a breach of the written and implied warranties covering the Subject Vehicle and are in violation of the Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act.

37. Despite repeated demands and even though the Plaintiff has complied with all reasonable terms and conditions imposed upon her by Defendant, Defendant has failed and refused to cure any defects and non-conformity with the Subject Vehicle.

38. As a result of Defendant's breach of factory and implied warranty as set forth above, and Defendant's failure to honor their obligations under their warranties, Plaintiff has and will continue to suffer damages as enumerated above.

39. Defendant has had a reasonable opportunity to remedy the defects in the Subject Vehicle but has failed to do so, thereby entitling Plaintiff to a refund of the purchase price pursuant to the Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act.

c. How we will figure Finance Charge. We will figure the Finance Charge (at a daily rate of the Annual Percentage Rate on the unpaid part of the Amount Financed. Seller-Creditor may receive part of the Finance Charge.

b. How we will apply payments. We may apply each payment to the earned and unpaid part of the Finance Charge, to the unpaid part of the Amount Financed and in other amounts you owe Seller-Creditor in any order we choose.

c. How late payments or early payments change what you owe. If you are late, the Finance Charge, Total of Payments, and Total Sale Price shown on the front are the estimates that you will make every payment on the day it is due. Your Finance Charge, Total of Payments, and Total Sale Price will be more if you pay late and less if you pay early. Changes may take the form of a larger or smaller final payment or, at our option, more or fewer payments of the same amount as your scheduled payment with a smaller final payment. We will send you a notice telling you about these changes before the final scheduled payment is due.

d. You may prepay. You may prepay all or part of the unpaid part of the Amount Financed at any time. If you do so, you must pay the earned and unpaid part of the Finance Charge and all other amounts due up to the date of your payment. As of the date of your payment, if the minimum finance charge is greater than the earned Finance Charge, you may be charged the difference; the minimum finance charge is as follows: (1) $25 if the original Amount Financed does not exceed $1,000, (2) $50 if the original Amount Financed is more than $1,000 but not more than $2,000, or (3) $75 if the original Amount Financed is more than $2,000.

2. YOUR OTHER PROMISES TO US

a. If the vehicle is damaged, destroyed, or missing. You agree to pay us all you owe under this contract even if the vehicle is damaged, destroyed, or missing.

> GAP LIABILITY NOTICE
> In the event of theft or damage to your vehicle that results in a total loss, there may be a gap between the amount you owe under this contract and the proceeds of your insurance settlement and deductible. THIS CONTRACT PROHIBITS THAT YOU ARE LIABLE FOR THE GAP AMOUNT. An optional debt cancellation agreement for coverage of the gap amount may be offered for an additional charge.

b. Using the vehicle. You agree not to remove the vehicle from the U.S. or Canada, or to sell, rent, lease, or transfer any interest in the vehicle or this contract without our written permission. You agree not to expose the vehicle to misuse, seizure, confiscation, or involuntary transfer. If we pay any repair bills, storage bills, taxes, fines, or charges on the vehicle, you agree to repay the amount when we ask for it.

c. Security interest.
You give us a security interest in:
- The vehicle and all parts or goods put on it,
- All money or goods received (proceeds) for the vehicle,
- All insurance, maintenance, service, or other contracts we finance for you, and
- All proceeds from insurance, maintenance, service, or other contracts we finance for you. This includes any refunds of premiums or charges from the contracts.

This secures payment of all you owe on this contract. It also secures your other agreements in this contract as the law allows. You will make sure the title shows our security interest in the vehicle. You will not allow any other security interest to be placed on the title without our written permission.

d. Insurance you must have on the vehicle.
You agree to have physical damage insurance covering loss of or damage to the vehicle for the term of this contract. The insurance must cover our interest in the vehicle. If you do not have this insurance, we may, if we choose, buy physical damage insurance. We may either buy insurance that covers your interest and our interest in the vehicle or buy insurance that covers only our interest. If we buy either type of insurance, we will tell you which type and the charge you must pay. The charge will be the premium for the insurance and a finance charge computed at the Annual Percentage Rate shown on the front of this contract or, to our option, the highest rate the law permits if the vehicle is lost or damaged, you agree that we may use any insurance settlement to reduce what you owe or repair the vehicle.

e. What happens to returned insurance, maintenance, service, or other contract charges. If we get a refund of insurance, maintenance, service, or other contract charges, you agree that we may subtract the refund from what you owe.

3. IF YOU PAY LATE OR BREAK YOUR OTHER PROMISES

a. You may owe late charges. You will pay a late charge on each late payment as shown on the front. Acceptance of a late payment or late charge does not excuse your late payment or mean that you may keep making late payments. If you pay late, we may also take the steps described below.

b. You have to pay all you owe at once. If you break your promises (default), we may demand that you pay all you owe on this contract at once, subject to any right the law gives you to reinstate this contract.
Default means:
- You do not pay any payment on time
- You give false, incomplete, or misleading information on a credit application,
- You start a proceeding in bankruptcy or one is started against you or your property,
- The vehicle is lost, damaged or destroyed or
- You break any agreements in this contract.

The amount you will owe will be the unpaid part of the Amount Financed plus the earned and unpaid part of the Finance Charge, any late charges, and any amounts due because you defaulted.

c. You may have to pay collection costs. You will pay our reasonable costs to collect what you owe, including attorney fees, court costs, collection agency fees, and fees paid for other reasonable collection efforts. You agree to pay a charge not to exceed $15 if any check you give to us is dishonored.

d. We may take the vehicle from you. If you default, we may take (repossess) the vehicle from you if we do so peaceably and the law allows it. If your vehicle has an electronic tracking device, you agree that we may use the device to find the vehicle. If we take the vehicle, any accessories, equipment, and replacement parts will stay with the vehicle. If any personal items are in the vehicle, we may store them for you as your expense. If you do not ask for these items back, we may dispose of them as the law allows.

e. How you can get the vehicle back if we take it. If we repossess the vehicle, you may pay to get it back (redeem). You may redeem the vehicle by paying all you owe, or you may have the right to reinstate this contract and redeem the vehicle by paying past due payments and any late charges, providing proof of insurance, and for taking other action to cure the default. We will provide you all notices required by law to tell you when and how much to pay and/or what action you must take to redeem the vehicle.

f. What we will do with the vehicle we take. We will sell the vehicle we take in a commercially reasonable manner. We will send you a written notice of sale before selling the vehicle.
We will apply the money from the sale, less allowed expenses, to the amount you owe. Allowed expenses are expenses we pay as a direct result of taking the vehicle, holding it, preparing it for sale, and selling it. Attorney fees and court costs are the only other allowed expenses. If any money is still owing, we will pay it to you unless the law requires us to pay it to someone else. If money from the sale is not enough to pay the amount you owe, you must pay us the rest by us. If you do not pay this amount when we ask, we may charge you interest at the Annual Percentage Rate shown on the face of this contract, not to exceed the highest rate permitted by law, until you pay.

g. What we may do about optional insurance, maintenance, service, or other contracts. This contract may contain charges for optional insurance, maintenance, service or other contracts. If we demand that you pay all you owe as a result of our repossessing the vehicle, you agree that we may claim benefits under these contracts and cancel them to obtain refunds of unearned charges to reduce what you owe or reduce the vehicle. If the vehicle is a total loss because it is confiscated, damaged, or stolen, we may claim benefits under these contracts and cancel them to obtain refunds of unearned charges to reduce what you owe.

4. WARRANTIES SELLER DISCLAIMS
If you do not get a written warranty, and the Seller does not enter into a service contract within 90 days from the date of this contract, the Seller makes no warranties, express or implied, on the vehicle, and there will be no implied warranties of merchantability or of fitness for a particular purpose.
This provision does not affect any warranties covering the vehicle that the vehicle manufacturer may provide. If the Seller has sold you a certified used vehicle, the warranty of merchantability is not disclaimed.

5. Used Car Buyers Guide. The information you see on the window form for this vehicle is part of this contract. Information on the window form overrides any contrary provisions in the contract of sale.
Spanish Translation: Guía para compradores de vehículos usados. La información que ve en el formulario de la ventanilla para este vehículo forma parte del presente contrato. La información del formulario de la ventanilla deja sin efecto toda disposición en contrario contenida en el mismo en la venta.

6. SERVICING AND COLLECTION CONTACTS
You agree that we may try to contact you in writing, by e-mail or using pre-recorded/artificial voice messages, text messages, and automatic telephone dialing systems, as the law allows. You also agree that we may try to contact you in these and other ways at any address or telephone number you provide us, even if the telephone number is a cell phone number or the contact results in a charge to you. You agree that you will, within a reasonable time, notify us of any change in your name, address, or employment.

7. APPLICABLE LAW
Federal law and California law apply to this contract. If any part of this contract is not valid, all other parts stay valid. We may delay or refrain from enforcing any of our rights under this contract without losing them. For example, we may extend the time for making some payments without extending the time for making others.

8. WARRANTIES OF BUYER
You promise you have given true and correct information in your application for credit, and you have no knowledge that will make that information untrue in the future. We have relied on the truth and accuracy of that information in entering into this contract. Upon request, you will provide us with documents and other information we deem necessary to verify any item contained in your credit application.

You license the predecessor of Cal. Vehicle Code Section 1808.21 and authorize the California Department of Motor Vehicles to furnish your residence address to us.

CREDIT DISABILITY INSURANCE NOTICE
CLAIM PROCEDURE
If you become disabled, you must tell us right away. You are advised to send this information to the same address to which you are normally required to send your payments unless a different address or telephone number is given to you in writing by us as the location where we would like to be notified. We will tell you where to get claim forms. You must send in the completed form to the insurance company as soon as possible and tell us as soon as you do.
If your disability insurance covers all of your missed payment(s), WE CANNOT TRY TO COLLECT WHAT YOU OWE OR FORECLOSE UPON OR REPOSSESS ANY COLLATERAL UNTIL CALENDAR MONTHS AFTER your first missed payment is due or until the insurance company pays or rejects your claim, whichever comes first. We can, however, try to collect from you any amounts if you have any money due and during us or any otherwise in default when your disability claim is made or if a senior mortgage or lien holder is foreclosing.
If the insurance company pays the claim within the three calendar months, we must accept the money as though you paid on time. If the insurance company rejects the claim within the three calendar months or accepts the claim within the three calendar months on a partial disability and pays less than for a total disability you will have 30 days from the date that the rejection or the acceptance of the partial disability claim is sent to pay past due payments, or the difference between the past due payments and what the insurance company pays for the partial disability, plus late charges. You can contact us, and we will tell you how much you owe. After that time, we can take action to collect or foreclose or repossess any collateral you may have given.
If the insurance company accepts your claim but requires that you send in additional forms to remain eligible for continued payments, you should send in these completed additional forms no later than required. If you do not send in these forms on time, the insurance company may stop paying, and we will then be able to take action to collect or foreclose or repossess any collateral you may have given.

a. Seller agrees to deliver the vehicle to you on the date this contract is signed by Seller and you. You understand that it may take some time for Seller to verify your credit and assign the contract. You agree that if Seller is unable to assign the contract to any one of the financial institutions with whom Seller regularly does business under an assignment acceptable to Seller, Seller may cancel the contract.
b. Seller shall give you written notice (or in any other manner in which actual notice is given to you) within 10 days of the date this contract is signed if Seller elects to cancel. Upon receipt of such notice, you must immediately return the vehicle to Seller in the same condition as when sold, reasonable wear and tear excepted. Seller must give back to you all consideration received by Seller, including any trade-in vehicle.
c. If you do not immediately return the vehicle, you shall be liable for all expenses incurred by Seller in taking the vehicle from you, including reasonable attorney's fees.
d. While the vehicle is in your possession, all terms of this contract, including those relating to use of the vehicle and insurance for the vehicle, shall be in full force and you shall assume all risk of loss or damage to the vehicle. You must pay all reasonable costs for repair of any damage to the vehicle until the vehicle is returned to Seller.

ARBITRATION PROVISION
PLEASE REVIEW - IMPORTANT - AFFECTS YOUR LEGAL RIGHTS

1. EITHER YOU OR WE MAY CHOOSE TO HAVE ANY DISPUTE BETWEEN US DECIDED BY ARBITRATION AND NOT IN COURT OR BY JURY TRIAL.
2. IF A DISPUTE IS ARBITRATED, YOU WILL GIVE UP YOUR RIGHT TO PARTICIPATE AS A CLASS REPRESENTATIVE OR CLASS MEMBER ON ANY CLASS CLAIM YOU MAY HAVE AGAINST US INCLUDING ANY RIGHT TO CLASS ARBITRATION OR ANY CONSOLIDATION OF INDIVIDUAL ARBITRATIONS.
3. DISCOVERY AND RIGHTS TO APPEAL IN ARBITRATION ARE GENERALLY MORE LIMITED THAN IN A LAWSUIT, AND OTHER RIGHTS THAT YOU AND WE WOULD HAVE IN COURT MAY NOT BE AVAILABLE IN ARBITRATION.

Any claim or dispute, whether in contract, tort, statute or otherwise (including the interpretation and scope of this Arbitration Provision, and the enforceability of the claim or dispute), between you and us or our employees, agents, successors or assigns, which arises out of or relates to your credit application, purchase or condition of this vehicle, this contract or any resulting transaction or relationship (including any such relationship with third parties who do not sign this contract) shall, at your or our election, be resolved by neutral, binding arbitration and not by a court action. If federal law provides that a claim or dispute is not subject to binding arbitration, this Arbitration Provision shall not apply to such claim or dispute. Any claim or dispute as to the arbitrability of a single arbitration on an individual basis and not as a class action. You expressly waive any right you may have to arbitrate a class action. You may choose the American Arbitration Association, 1633 Broadway, 10th Floor, New York, New York 10019 (www.adr.org), or any other organization to conduct the arbitration subject to our approval. You may get a copy of the rules of an arbitration organization by contacting the organization or visiting its website.

Arbitrators shall be attorneys or retired judges and shall be selected pursuant to the applicable rules. The arbitrator shall apply governing substantive law and the applicable statute of limitations. The arbitration hearing shall be conducted in the federal district in which you reside unless the Seller-Creditor is a party to the claim or dispute, in which case the hearing will be held in the federal district where this contract was executed. We will pay your filing, administration, service or case management fee and your arbitrator or hearing fee all up to a maximum of $5000, unless the law or the rules of the chosen arbitration organization require us to pay more. The amount we pay may be reimbursed in whole or in part by the decision of the arbitrator if the arbitrator finds that any claim or defense is frivolous under applicable law. Each party shall be responsible for its own attorney, expert and other fees, unless awarded by the arbitrator under applicable law. If the chosen arbitration organization's rules conflict with the Arbitration Provision, then the provisions of the Arbitration Provision shall control. Any arbitration under this Arbitration Provision shall be governed by the Federal Arbitration Act (9 U.S.C. § 1 et seq.) and not by any state law concerning arbitration. Any award by the arbitrator shall be in writing and will be final and binding on all parties, subject to any limited right to appeal under the Federal Arbitration Act.

You and we retain the right to seek remedies in small claims court for disputes or claims within that court's jurisdiction, unless such action is transferred, removed or appealed to a different court. Neither you nor we waive the right to arbitrate by using self-help remedies, such as repossession, or by filing an action to recover the vehicle, to recover a deficiency balance, or for individual injunctive relief. Any court having jurisdiction may enter judgment on the arbitrator's award. This Arbitration Provision shall survive any termination, payoff or transfer of this contract. If any part of this Arbitration Provision, other than waivers of class action rights, is deemed or found to be unenforceable for any reason, the remainder shall remain enforceable. If a waiver of class action rights is deemed or found to be unenforceable for any reason in a case in which class action allegations have been made, the remainder of this Arbitration Provision shall be unenforceable.

NOTICE: ANY HOLDER OF THIS CONSUMER CREDIT CONTRACT IS SUBJECT TO ALL CLAIMS AND DEFENSES WHICH THE DEBTOR COULD ASSERT AGAINST THE SELLER OF GOODS OR SERVICES OBTAINED PURSUANT HERETO OR WITH THE PROCEEDS HEREOF. RECOVERY HEREUNDER BY THE DEBTOR SHALL NOT EXCEED AMOUNTS PAID BY THE DEBTOR HEREUNDER.

The preceding NOTICE applies only to goods or services obtained primarily for personal, family or household use. In all other cases, Buyer will not assert against any subsequent holder or assignee of this contract any claims or defenses the Buyer (Debtor) may have against the Seller, or against the manufacturer of the vehicle or equipment obtained under this contract.

1. Introduction

Ford Motor Company and your selling dealer thank you for selecting one of our quality products. Our commitment to you and your vehicle begins with quality protection and service.

When you need warranty repairs, your selling dealer would like you to return to it for that service, but you may also take your vehicle to another Ford Motor Company dealership authorized for warranty repairs. Certain warranty repairs require special training though, so not all dealers are authorized to perform all warranty repairs. That means that, depending on the warranty repair needed, the vehicle may need to be taken to another dealer. If a particular dealership cannot assist you, then contact the Customer Relationship Center at 1-800-392-3673.

This booklet explains in detail the warranty coverages that apply to your 2019-model car or light truck. If you bought a previously owned 2019-model vehicle, you are eligible for any remaining warranty coverages.

Ford Motor Company provides the Emissions Defect Warranties and Emissions Performance Warranties which cover your emissions control systems, and Noise Emissions Warranty which applies only to medium/heavy duty trucks over 10,000 pounds Gross Vehicle Weight Rating (pages 17-30).

2. Important information you should know

IF YOU NEED CUSTOMER ASSISTANCE

Your Ford Motor Company dealer is available to assist you with all your automotive needs. Please follow the procedures outlined on the front page of this booklet.

In addition, if you are an eligible U.S. owner, you may use - at no cost - the services of the BBB AUTO LINE program. For details, see Better Business Bureau (BBB) AUTO LINE program, page 32 or call 1-800-955-5100.

KNOW WHEN YOUR WARRANTY BEGINS

Your Warranty Start Date is the day you take delivery of your new vehicle or the day it is first put into service (for example, as a dealer demonstrator), whichever occurs first.

CHECK YOUR VEHICLE

We try to check vehicles carefully at the assembly plant and the dealership, and we usually correct any damage to paint, sheet metal, upholstery, or other appearance items. But occasionally something may slip past us, and a customer may find that a vehicle was damaged before he or she took delivery. If you see any damage when you receive your vehicle, notify your dealership within one week.
