Rosa,

I do appreciate it, but I do have some concerns.

Initially, roadside assistance never showed up and I had to haul the truck in myself.

Then (and the primary issue) the truck was in the shop for TWO CONSECUTIVE months.

Now I□m having to make follow up appointments to get things out back together. I know this is a separate issue with the dealership, however it seems covering two payments would make far more sense.

Please feel free to call, text, or reply to this email.

Thanks,
Paul Bolduc

Hello Sir,

I got your message. A supervisor call is put in. I talked to Justin Sales Maanger on Friday and left him a message that I escalated the part again even though its been escalated but we only escalate the part once. Your next update is on the 10th actually to get the new Eta in the meantime we have one dealer in the whole country that has the part and I called them but they didn't answer so I will try again later to see if they will sell me the part.

The part is on the way and the original Eta was at tentatively for the this week. we do weekly updates so your next Eta will be on the 10th but like I stated I'm trying to get the part from a dealer in New York, today but no promises, they may have that part there for one of their customers.

As far as truck payments you are absolutely eligible to receive car payments back at the end of the repair. We keep a tally and at the end of the repair. Please feel free to send in the payment history and the payment amount statement with the vehicle vin number and vehicle info on it. Please send to Bg800@chrysler.com. Please include in the heading your case number [redacted] and your name.

The reason we do it at the end of the repair is also we have to see how long the vehicle is in the shop to determine how many car payments we can reimburse for. Corporate never allows more than 3. 3 months of car payments and that's why we do it at the end so we know at the end how long your car was in there for.

I understand your frustration and I have been working and documenting on your case every 3 days to try and get the part for you.

I will be reaching out to the dealer to see if they will sell the part but if they cant then there is nothing more i can do on my end but wait till your part arrives. It has been escalated and upgraded. I will let you know in a bit.

Thank you,
Tara

Ok, well i understand that things happen, but its the way things get fixed that can make or break a reputation. I dont understand why ram and lithia choose to be mis leading about dates. I appreciate you getting the part from new york. You mentioned adding oil changes and tire rotations. I have already purchased that through lithia. Is there anything else that can replace that offer?

Ok, well i understand that things happen, but its the way things get fixed that can make or break a reputation. I dont understand why ram and lithia choose to be mis leading about dates. I appreciate you getting the part from new york. You mentioned adding oil changes and tire rotations. I have already purchased that through lithia. Is there anything else that can replace that offer?

Hello Sir,

I got your message. A supervisor call is put in. I talked to Justin Sales Maanger on Friday and left him a message that I escalated the part again even though its been escalated but we only escalate the part once. Your next update is on the 10th actually to get the new Eta in the meantime we have one dealer in the whole country that has the part and I called them but they didn't answer so I will try again later to see if they will sell me the part.

The part is on the way and the original Eta was at tentatively for the this week. we do weekly updates so your next Eta will be on the 10th but like I stated I'm trying to get the part from a dealer in New York, today but no promises, they may have that part there for one of their customers.

As far as truck payments you are absolutely eligible to receive car payments back at the end of the repair. We keep a tally and at the end of the repair. Please feel free to send in the payment history and the payment amount statement with the vehicle vin number and vehicle info on it. Please send to Bg800@chrysler.com. Please include in the heading your case number [redacted] and your name.

The reason we do it at the end of the repair is also we have to see how long the vehicle is in the shop to determine how many car payments we can reimburse for. Corporate never allows more than 3. 3 months of car payments and that's why we do it at the end so we know at the end how long your car was in there for.

I understand your frustration and I have been working and documenting on your case every 3 days to try and get the part for you.

I will be reaching out to the dealer to see if they will sell the part but if they cant then there is nothing more i can do on my end but wait till your part arrives. It has been escalated and upgraded. I will let you know in a bit.

Ok thank you, i still want to talk to someone above you about all of the money i am loosing and how that will be taken care of. Also, about how many thousands of blue collar families and business owners that i work for every year. They will all ask me about my new truck. You decide the story i tell them.

Ok thank you, i still want to talk to someone above you about all of the money i am loosing and how that will be taken care of. Also, about how many thousands of blue collar families and business owners that i work for every year. They will all ask me about my new truck. You decide the story i tell them.

Ok, well i understand that things happen, but its the way things get fixed that can make or break a reputation. I dont understand why ram and lithia choose to be mis leading about dates. I appreciate you getting the part from new york. You mentioned adding oil changes and tire rotations. I have already purchased that through lithia. Is there anything else that can replace that offer?

Hello Sir,

I got your message. A supervisor call is put in. I talked to Justin Sales Maanger on Friday and left him a message that I escalated the part again even though its been escalated but we only escalate the part once. Your next update is on the 10th actually to get the new Eta in the meantime we have one dealer in the whole country that has the part and I called them but they didn't answer so I will try again later to see if they will sell me the part.

The part is on the way and the original Eta was at tentatively for the this week. we do weekly updates so your next Eta will be on the 10th but like I stated I'm trying to get the part from a dealer in New York, today but no promises, they may have that part there for one of their customers.

As far as truck payments you are absolutely eligible to receive car payments back at the end of the repair. We keep a tally and at the end of the repair. Please feel free to send in the payment history and the payment amount statement with the vehicle vin number and vehicle info on it. Please send to Bg800@chrysler.com. Please include in the heading your case number [redacted] and your name.

The reason we do it at the end of the repair is also we have to see how long the vehicle is in the shop to determine how many car payments we can reimburse for. Corporate never allows more than 3. 3 months of car payments and that's why we do it at the end so we know at the end how long your car was in there for.

I understand your frustration and I have been working and documenting on your case every 3 days to try and get the part for you.

I will be reaching out to the dealer to see if they will sell the part but if they cant then there is nothing more i can do on my end but wait till your part arrives. It has been escalated and upgraded. I will let you know in a bit.

Thank you,
Tara

Good afternoon sir,

I'm just following up regarding your reimbursement request. We received your proof of payment however we will also require a copy of the sales /lease agreement/Chrysler capital statement as well as a copy of the complete repair order.

Please submit these documents with tin the next 3 business days to avoid case closure.

Thank you,
Tara

Here is the new documentation for the monthly payment reimbursement. Chloe told me that the last bank account images were missing information. Do you need any more information to complete the monthly payment reimbursement?? For the vehicle reimbursement, what is the full process for that?

Ok, well i understand that things happen, but its the way things get fixed that can make or break a reputation. I dont understand why ram and lithia choose to be mis leading about dates. I appreciate you getting the part from new york. You mentioned adding oil changes and tire rotations. I have already purchased that through lithia. Is there anything else that can replace that offer?

Your next update is on the 10th actually to get the new Eta in the meantime we have one dealer in the whole country that has the part and I called them but they didn't answer so I will try again later to see if they will sell me the part.

The part is on the way and the original Eta was at tentatively for the this week. we do weekly updates so your next Eta will be on the 10th but like I stated I'm trying to get the part from a dealer in New York, today but no promises, they may have that part there for one of their customers.

As far as truck payments you are absolutely eligible to receive car payments back at the end of the repair. We keep a tally and at the end of the repair. Please feel free to send in the payment history and the payment amount statement with the vehicle vin number and vehicle info on it. Please send to Bg800@chrysler.com. Please include in the heading your case number [redacted] and your name.

The reason we do it at the end of the repair is also we have to see how long the vehicle is in the shop to determine how many car payments we can reimburse for. Corporate never allows more than 3. 3 months of car payments and that's why we do it at the end so we know at the end how long your car was in there for.

I understand your frustration and I have been working and documenting on your case every 3 days to try and get the part for you.

I will be reaching out to the dealer to see if they will sell the part but if they cant then there is nothing more i can do on my end but wait till your part arrives. It has been escalated and upgraded. I will let you know in a bit.

Date	06/20/2023	Subject	Re: Repurchase
From	uscustomercare@cac.stellantis.com	To	[redacted]	Sent Date/Time	06/20/2023 03:51 AM

Hello Sir,

This is Tara the case manager. I got your case back from Dealer dispute and it was denied for repurchase. I apologize, but for legal purposes, they don't give us a reason, as we are not legal aides. This means that all we can do is continue to fix the vehicle in July. July is when you have your appointment for the radio issue correct?

As for goodwill I will be reimbursing you for one car payment as Corporate will not allow anything more. This is the final decision from Corporate. I cant change or assist you in any further goodwill. I have also gave oil changes which is attached to your vin. So when you go to the dealer to use those please let the dealer know that you have oil changes attached to your vin.

Once I get the car payment approved, I will let you know and I will be closing the case. In July, when you have your next repair you will need to call us back and you will given a new case and a new case manager.

Please give me a day or so to process your car payment reimbursement and then we will be closing this case as we can no longer assist you until your repair in July.

Here is the new documentation for the monthly payment reimbursement. Chloe told me that the last bank account images were missing information. Do you need any more information to complete the monthly payment reimbursement?

Ok thank you, i still want to talk to someone above you about all of the money i am loosing and how that will be taken care of. Also, about how many thousands of blue collar families and business owners that i work for every year. They will all ask me about my new truck. You decide the story i tell them.

Ok, well i understand that things happen, but its the way things get fixed that can make or break a reputation. I dont understand why ram and lithia choose to be mis leading about dates. I appreciate you getting the part from new york. You mentioned adding oil changes and tire rotations. I have already purchased that through lithia. Is there anything else that can replace that offer?

Hello Sir,

I got your message. A supervisor call is put in. I talked to Justin Sales Maanger on Friday and left him a message that I escalated the part again even though its been escalated but we only escalate the part once. Your next update is on the 10th actually to get the new Eta in the meantime we have one dealer in the whole country that has the part and I called them but they didn't answer so I will try again later to see if they will sell me the part.

The part is on the way and the original Eta was at tentatively for the this week. we do weekly updates so your next Eta will be on the 10th but like I stated I'm trying to get the part from a dealer in New York, today but no promises, they may have that part there for one of their customers.

As far as truck payments you are absolutely eligible to receive car payments back at the end of the repair. We keep a tally and at the end of the repair. Please feel free to send in the payment history and the payment amount statement with the vehicle vin number and vehicle info on it. Please send to Bg800@chrysler.com. Please include in the heading your case number [redacted] and your name.

The reason we do it at the end of the repair is also we have to see how long the vehicle is in the shop to determine how many car payments we can reimburse for. Corporate never allows more than 3. 3 months of car payments and that's why we do it at the end so we know at the end how long your car was in there for.

I understand your frustration and I have been working and documenting on your case every 3 days to try and get the part for you.

I will be reaching out to the dealer to see if they will sell the part but if they cant then there is nothing more i can do on my end but wait till your part arrives. It has been escalated and upgraded. I will let you know in a bit.

Thank you,
Tara

This is completely unacceptable. Chrysler dropped the ball during the manufacturing process. I got sent a problematic vehicle. My vehicle was broke down in the lithia parking lot for 2 months. 2 months equals 2 payments. Do the math. Stop trying to find loop holes to get out of treating people right. When you submitted the information for repurchase, Did you send the information about the transfercase AND the electronic system failing?

Hello Mr. Conner,

I apologize your unhappy with the vehicle and I understand your frustration. I can only approve what Corporate allows. 1 car payment. This decision is final and a Corporate decision, that I cant change.

To answer your question, I send the case over to Repurchase and they evaluate and look over the whole case. So yes they look at everything and they don't discuss with us case managers on their decision or how they decide. Its against the law as I am not a legal representative, so I am not allow to know why. They just send us back the case and state the vehicle doesn't merit and is to be fixed per warranty.

I apologize about that. So I will be Processing the reimbursement and will send to Corporate for there approval. I will let you know when I have got an approval.

Thank you,
Tara

Hello Sir,

This is Tara the case manager. I got your case back from Dealer dispute and it was denied for repurchase. I apologize, but for legal purposes, they don't give us a reason, as we are not legal aides. This means that all we can do is continue to fix the vehicle in July. July is when you have your appointment for the radio issue correct?

As for goodwill I will be reimbursing you for one car payment as Corporate will not allow anything more. This is the final decision from Corporate. I cant change or assist you in any further goodwill. I have also gave oil changes which is attached to your vin. So when you go to the dealer to use those please let the dealer know that you have oil changes attached to your vin.

Once I get the car payment approved, I will let you know and I will be closing the case. In July, when you have your next repair you will need to call us back and you will given a new case and a new case manager.

Please give me a day or so to process your car payment reimbursement and then we will be closing this case as we can no longer assist you until your repair in July.

Ok, well i understand that things happen, but its the way things get fixed that can make or break a reputation. I dont understand why ram and lithia choose to be mis leading about dates. I appreciate you getting the part from new york. You mentioned adding oil changes and tire rotations. I have already purchased that through lithia. Is there anything else that can replace that offer?

Hello Sir,

I got your message. A supervisor call is put in. I talked to Justin Sales Maanger on Friday and left him a message that I escalated the part again even though its been escalated but we only escalate the part once. Your next update is on the 10th actually to get the new Eta in the meantime we have one dealer in the whole country that has the part and I called them but they didn't answer so I will try again later to see if they will sell me the part.

The part is on the way and the original Eta was at tentatively for the this week. we do weekly updates so your next Eta will be on the 10th but like I stated I'm trying to get the part from a dealer in New York, today but no promises, they may have that part there for one of their customers.

As far as truck payments you are absolutely eligible to receive car payments back at the end of the repair. We keep a tally and at the end of the repair. Please feel free to send in the payment history and the payment amount statement with the vehicle vin number and vehicle info on it. Please send to Bg800@chrysler.com. Please include in the heading your case number [redacted] and your name.

The reason we do it at the end of the repair is also we have to see how long the vehicle is in the shop to determine how many car payments we can reimburse for. Corporate never allows more than 3. 3 months of car payments and that's why we do it at the end so we know at the end how long your car was in there for.

I understand your frustration and I have been working and documenting on your case every 3 days to try and get the part for you.

I will be reaching out to the dealer to see if they will sell the part but if they cant then there is nothing more i can do on my end but wait till your part arrives. It has been escalated and upgraded. I will let you know in a bit.

Thank you,
Tara

Hello Sir,

I am able to reimburse the one car payment per corporate and that's all that is approved. I can not reimburse for anything else per Corporate policy as I stated.

I have processed the one car payment and when its approved, I will let you know, that its being sent and that it can take up to 3 weeks to be received and if you don't receive it please call 800-992-1997 and create a new case and Check administrative will look into it for you.

Thank you,
Tara

To answer your question, I send the case over to Repurchase and they evaluate and look over the whole case. So yes they look at everything and they don't discuss with us case managers on their decision or how they decide. Its against the law as I am not a legal representative, so I am not allow to know why. They just send us back the case and state the vehicle doesn't merit and is to be fixed per warranty.

I apologize about that. So I will be Processing the reimbursement and will send to Corporate for there approval. I will let you know when I have got an approval.

Thank you,

This is completely unacceptable. Chrysler dropped the ball during the manufacturing process. I got sent a problematic vehicle. My vehicle was broke down in the lithia parking lot for 2 months. 2 months equals 2 payments. Do the math. Stop trying to find loop holes to get out of treating people right. When you submitted the information for repurchase, Did you send the information about the transfercase AND the electronic system failing?

Hello Sir,

This is Tara the case manager. I got your case back from Dealer dispute and it was denied for repurchase. I apologize, but for legal purposes, they don't give us a reason, as we are not legal aides. This means that all we can do is continue to fix the vehicle in July. July is when you have your appointment for the radio issue correct?

As for goodwill I will be reimbursing you for one car payment as Corporate will not allow anything more. This is the final decision from Corporate. I cant change or assist you in any further goodwill. I have also gave oil changes which is attached to your vin. So when you go to the dealer to use those please let the dealer know that you have oil changes attached to your vin.

Once I get the car payment approved, I will let you know and I will be closing the case. In July, when you have your next repair you will need to call us back and you will given a new case and a new case manager.

Please give me a day or so to process your car payment reimbursement and then we will be closing this case as we can no longer assist you until your repair in July.

Ok, well i understand that things happen, but its the way things get fixed that can make or break a reputation. I dont understand why ram and lithia choose to be mis leading about dates. I appreciate you getting the part from new york. You mentioned adding oil changes and tire rotations. I have already purchased that through lithia. Is there anything else that can replace that offer?

Hello Sir,

I got your message. A supervisor call is put in. I talked to Justin Sales Maanger on Friday and left him a message that I escalated the part again even though its been escalated but we only escalate the part once. Your next update is on the 10th actually to get the new Eta in the meantime we have one dealer in the whole country that has the part and I called them but they didn't answer so I will try again later to see if they will sell me the part.

The part is on the way and the original Eta was at tentatively for the this week. we do weekly updates so your next Eta will be on the 10th but like I stated I'm trying to get the part from a dealer in New York, today but no promises, they may have that part there for one of their customers.

As far as truck payments you are absolutely eligible to receive car payments back at the end of the repair. We keep a tally and at the end of the repair. Please feel free to send in the payment history and the payment amount statement with the vehicle vin number and vehicle info on it. Please send to Bg800@chrysler.com. Please include in the heading your case number [redacted] and your name.

The reason we do it at the end of the repair is also we have to see how long the vehicle is in the shop to determine how many car payments we can reimburse for. Corporate never allows more than 3. 3 months of car payments and that's why we do it at the end so we know at the end how long your car was in there for.

I understand your frustration and I have been working and documenting on your case every 3 days to try and get the part for you.

I will be reaching out to the dealer to see if they will sell the part but if they cant then there is nothing more i can do on my end but wait till your part arrives. It has been escalated and upgraded. I will let you know in a bit.

Thank you,
Tara

I apologize your unhappy with the vehicle and I understand your frustration. I can only approve what Corporate allows. 1 car payment. This decision is final and a Corporate decision, that I cant change.

To answer your question, I send the case over to Repurchase and they evaluate and look over the whole case. So yes they look at everything and they don't discuss with us case managers on their decision or how they decide. Its against the law as I am not a legal representative, so I am not allow to know why. They just send us back the case and state the vehicle doesn't merit and is to be fixed per warranty.

I apologize about that. So I will be Processing the reimbursement and will send to Corporate for there approval. I will let you know when I have got an approval.

This is completely unacceptable. Chrysler dropped the ball during the manufacturing process. I got sent a problematic vehicle. My vehicle was broke down in the lithia parking lot for 2 months. 2 months equals 2 payments. Do the math. Stop trying to find loop holes to get out of treating people right. When you submitted the information for repurchase, Did you send the information about the transfercase AND the electronic system failing?

Hello Sir,

This is Tara the case manager. I got your case back from Dealer dispute and it was denied for repurchase. I apologize, but for legal purposes, they don't give us a reason, as we are not legal aides. This means that all we can do is continue to fix the vehicle in July. July is when you have your appointment for the radio issue correct?

As for goodwill I will be reimbursing you for one car payment as Corporate will not allow anything more. This is the final decision from Corporate. I cant change or assist you in any further goodwill. I have also gave oil changes which is attached to your vin. So when you go to the dealer to use those please let the dealer know that you have oil changes attached to your vin.

Once I get the car payment approved, I will let you know and I will be closing the case. In July, when you have your next repair you will need to call us back and you will given a new case and a new case manager.

Please give me a day or so to process your car payment reimbursement and then we will be closing this case as we can no longer assist you until your repair in July.

Ok, well i understand that things happen, but its the way things get fixed that can make or break a reputation. I dont understand why ram and lithia choose to be mis leading about dates. I appreciate you getting the part from new york. You mentioned adding oil changes and tire rotations. I have already purchased that through lithia. Is there anything else that can replace that offer?

Hello Sir,

I got your message. A supervisor call is put in. I talked to Justin Sales Maanger on Friday and left him a message that I escalated the part again even though its been escalated but we only escalate the part once. Your next update is on the 10th actually to get the new Eta in the meantime we have one dealer in the whole country that has the part and I called them but they didn't answer so I will try again later to see if they will sell me the part.

The part is on the way and the original Eta was at tentatively for the this week. we do weekly updates so your next Eta will be on the 10th but like I stated I'm trying to get the part from a dealer in New York, today but no promises, they may have that part there for one of their customers.

As far as truck payments you are absolutely eligible to receive car payments back at the end of the repair. We keep a tally and at the end of the repair. Please feel free to send in the payment history and the payment amount statement with the vehicle vin number and vehicle info on it. Please send to Bg800@chrysler.com. Please include in the heading your case number 85982090 and your name.

The reason we do it at the end of the repair is also we have to see how long the vehicle is in the shop to determine how many car payments we can reimburse for. Corporate never allows more than 3. 3 months of car payments and that's why we do it at the end so we know at the end how long your car was in there for.

I understand your frustration and I have been working and documenting on your case every 3 days to try and get the part for you.

I will be reaching out to the dealer to see if they will sell the part but if they cant then there is nothing more i can do on my end but wait till your part arrives. It has been escalated and upgraded. I will let you know in a bit.

Well i would imagine that there are written policies for a vehicle repurchase, and written policies for vehicle monthly payment reimbursement.
I want to see the guidlines that decide whether or not someone qualifies for either of those.

Hello Sir,

I am not allowed to provide you with those policy. This was a corporate decision to give you one car payment and I did consult with Corporate and was instructed that I am only allowed to give you one car payment.

This is a final decision. I will let you know when its approved. I can tell you the amount that will is awaiting to be approved is $ 1554.00.

Thank you,

Well i would imagine that there are written policies for a vehicle repurchase, and written policies for vehicle monthly payment reimbursement. I want to see the guidlines that decide whether or not someone qualifies for either of those.

Hello Mr. Conner,

I apologize your unhappy with the vehicle and I understand your frustration. I can only approve what Corporate allows. 1 car payment. This decision is final and a Corporate decision, that I cant change.

To answer your question, I send the case over to Repurchase and they evaluate and look over the whole case. So yes they look at everything and they don't discuss with us case managers on their decision or how they decide. Its against the law as I am not a legal representative, so I am not allow to know why. They just send us back the case and state the vehicle doesn't merit and is to be fixed per warranty.

I apologize about that. So I will be Processing the reimbursement and will send to Corporate for there approval. I will let you know when I have got an approval.

This is completely unacceptable. Chrysler dropped the ball during the manufacturing process. I got sent a problematic vehicle. My vehicle was broke down in the lithia parking lot for 2 months. 2 months equals 2 payments. Do the math. Stop trying to find loop holes to get out of treating people right. When you submitted the information for repurchase, Did you send the information about the transfercase AND the electronic system failing?

Hello Sir,

This is Tara the case manager. I got your case back from Dealer dispute and it was denied for repurchase. I apologize, but for legal purposes, they don't give us a reason, as we are not legal aides. This means that all we can do is continue to fix the vehicle in July. July is when you have your appointment for the radio issue correct?

As for goodwill I will be reimbursing you for one car payment as Corporate will not allow anything more. This is the final decision from Corporate. I cant change or assist you in any further goodwill. I have also gave oil changes which is attached to your vin. So when you go to the dealer to use those please let the dealer know that you have oil changes attached to your vin.

Once I get the car payment approved, I will let you know and I will be closing the case. In July, when you have your next repair you will need to call us back and you will given a new case and a new case manager.

Please give me a day or so to process your car payment reimbursement and then we will be closing this case as we can no longer assist you until your repair in July.

The part is on the way and the original Eta was at tentatively for the this week. we do weekly updates so your next Eta will be on the 10th but like I stated I'm trying to get the part from a dealer in New York, today but no promises, they may have that part there for one of their customers.

As far as truck payments you are absolutely eligible to receive car payments back at the end of the repair. We keep a tally and at the end of the repair. Please feel free to send in the payment history and the payment amount statement with the vehicle vin number and vehicle info on it. Please send to Bg800@chrysler.com. Please include in the heading your case number [redacted] and your name.

The reason we do it at the end of the repair is also we have to see how long the vehicle is in the shop to determine how many car payments we can reimburse for. Corporate never allows more than 3. 3 months of car payments and that's why we do it at the end so we know at the end how long your car was in there for.

I understand your frustration and I have been working and documenting on your case every 3 days to try and get the part for you.

I will be reaching out to the dealer to see if they will sell the part but if they cant then there is nothing more i can do on my end but wait till your part arrives. It has been escalated and upgraded. I will let you know in a bit.

Are you certain that it is legal for chrysler to take advantage of customers and not provide them with documentation to back up their decisions? "Because corporate says so" is not an acceptable reason and it is my legal right to know why the repurchase got denied, and the second monthly payment reimbursement got denied.

Hello,

Yes it is against the law for me to know why your vehicle got denied as the legal department doesn't give us that information because we are not legal aide and not allow to know why and when you are denied we as case managers tell you that they aren't allowed to give us that info do to we are not legal aids.

As far as the car payment yes I do not have the policy and procedures to give you and the decision comes from Corporate not me. I am just the case manager, that fights for the customer, but its corporate that makes the final decision.

Thank you,
Tara

Are you certain that it is legal for chrysler to take advantage of customers and not provide them with documentation to back up their decisions? "Because corporate says so" is not an acceptable reason and it is my legal right to know why the repurchase got denied, and the second monthly payment reimbursement got denied.

Hello Sir,

I am not allowed to provide you with those policy. This was a corporate decision to give you one car payment and I did consult with Corporate and was instructed that I am only allowed to give you one car payment.

This is a final decision. I will let you know when its approved. I can tell you the amount that will is awaiting to be approved is $ 1554.00.

Thank you,

Well i would imagine that there are written policies for a vehicle repurchase, and written policies for vehicle monthly payment reimbursement. I want to see the guidlines that decide whether or not someone qualifies for either of those.

So yes they look at everything and they don't discuss with us case managers on their decision or how they decide. Its against the law as I am not a legal representative, so I am not allow to know why. They just send us back the case and state the vehicle doesn't merit and is to be fixed per warranty.

As for goodwill I will be reimbursing you for one car payment as Corporate will not allow anything more. This is the final decision from Corporate. I cant change or assist you in any further goodwill. I have also gave oil changes which is attached to your vin. So when you go to the dealer to use those please let the dealer know that you have oil changes attached to your vin.

Once I get the car payment approved, I will let you know and I will be closing the case. In July, when you have your next repair you will need to call us back and you will given a new case and a new case manager.

Please give me a day or so to process your car payment reimbursement and then we will be closing this case as we can no longer assist you until your repair in July.

Ok, well i understand that things happen, but its the way things get fixed that can make or break a reputation. I dont understand why ram and lithia choose to be mis leading about dates. I appreciate you getting the part from new york. You mentioned adding oil changes and tire rotations. I have already purchased that through lithia. Is there anything else that can replace that offer?

Hello Sir,

I got your message. A supervisor call is put in. I talked to Justin Sales Maanger on Friday and left him a message that I escalated the part again even though its been escalated but we only escalate the part once. Your next update is on the 10th actually to get the new Eta in the meantime we have one dealer in the whole country that has the part and I called them but they didn't answer so I will try again later to see if they will sell me the part.

The part is on the way and the original Eta was at tentatively for the this week. we do weekly updates so your next Eta will be on the 10th but like I stated I'm trying to get the part from a dealer in New York, today but no promises, they may have that part there for one of their customers.

As far as truck payments you are absolutely eligible to receive car payments back at the end of the repair. We keep a tally and at the end of the repair. Please feel free to send in the payment history and the payment amount statement with the vehicle vin number and vehicle info on it. Please send to Bg800@chrysler.com. Please include in the heading your case number [redacted] and your name.

The reason we do it at the end of the repair is also we have to see how long the vehicle is in the shop to determine how many car payments we can reimburse for. Corporate never allows more than 3. 3 months of car payments and that's why we do it at the end so we know at the end how long your car was in there for.

I understand your frustration and I have been working and documenting on your case every 3 days to try and get the part for you.

I will be reaching out to the dealer to see if they will sell the part but if they cant then there is nothing more i can do on my end but wait till your part arrives. It has been escalated and upgraded. I will let you know in a bit.

Thank you,
Tara

Are you certain that it is legal for chrysler to take advantage of customers and not provide them with documentation to back up their decisions? "Because corporate says so" is not an acceptable reason and it is my legal right to know why the repurchase got denied, and the second monthly payment reimbursement got denied.

My vehicle was broke down in the lithia parking lot for 2 months. 2 months equals 2 payments. Do the math. Stop trying to find loop holes to get out of treating people right. This is Tara the case manager. I got your case back from Dealer dispute and it was denied for repurchase. I apologize, but for legal purposes, they don't give us a reason, as we are not legal aides. This means that all we can do is continue to fix the vehicle in July. July is when you have your appointment for the radio issue correct?

As for goodwill I will be reimbursing you for one car payment as Corporate will not allow anything more. This is the final decision from Corporate. I cant change or assist you in any further goodwill. I have also gave oil changes which is attached to your vin. So when you go to the dealer to use those please let the dealer know that you have oil changes attached to your vin.

Once I get the car payment approved, I will let you know and I will be closing the case. In July, when you have your next repair you will need to call us back and you will given a new case and a new case manager.

Please give me a day or so to process your car payment reimbursement and then we will be closing this case as we can no longer assist you until your repair in July.

Are you certain that it is legal for chrysler to take advantage of customers and not provide them with documentation to back up their decisions? "Because corporate says so" is not an acceptable reason and it is my legal right to know why the repurchase got denied, and the second monthly payment reimbursement got denied.

Hello Sir,

I am not allowed to provide you with those policy. This was a corporate decision to give you one car payment and I did consult with Corporate and was instructed that I am only allowed to give you one car payment.

This is a final decision. I will let you know when its approved. I can tell you the amount that will is awaiting to be approved is $ 1554.00.

Well i would imagine that there are written policies for a vehicle repurchase, and written policies for vehicle monthly payment reimbursement. I want to see the guidlines that decide whether or not someone qualifies for either of those.

Hello Mr. Conner,

I apologize your unhappy with the vehicle and I understand your frustration. I can only approve what Corporate allows. 1 car payment. This decision is final and a Corporate decision, that I cant change.

To answer your question, I send the case over to Repurchase and they evaluate and look over the whole case. So yes they look at everything and they don't discuss with us case managers on their decision or how they decide. Its against the law as I am not a legal representative, so I am not allow to know why. They just send us back the case and state the vehicle doesn't merit and is to be fixed per warranty.

I apologize about that. So I will be Processing the reimbursement and will send to Corporate for there approval. I will let you know when I have got an approval.

Thank you,

This is completely unacceptable. Chrysler dropped the ball during the manufacturing process. I got sent a problematic vehicle. My vehicle was broke down in the lithia parking lot for 2 months. 2 months equals 2 payments. Do the math. Stop trying to find loop holes to get out of treating people right. When you submitted the information for repurchase, Did you send the information about the transfercase AND the electronic system failing?

Hello Sir,

This is Tara the case manager. I got your case back from Dealer dispute and it was denied for repurchase. I apologize, but for legal purposes, they don't give us a reason, as we are not legal aides. This means that all we can do is continue to fix the vehicle in July. July is when you have your appointment for the radio issue correct?

As for goodwill I will be reimbursing you for one car payment as Corporate will not allow anything more. This is the final decision from Corporate. I cant change or assist you in any further goodwill. I have also gave oil changes which is attached to your vin. So when you go to the dealer to use those please let the dealer know that you have oil changes attached to your vin.

Once I get the car payment approved, I will let you know and I will be closing the case. In July, when you have your next repair you will need to call us back and you will given a new case and a new case manager.

Please give me a day or so to process your car payment reimbursement and then we will be closing this case as we can no longer assist you until your repair in July.

Ok, well i understand that things happen, but its the way things get fixed that can make or break a reputation. I dont understand why ram and lithia choose to be mis leading about dates. I appreciate you getting the part from new york. You mentioned adding oil changes and tire rotations. I have already purchased that through lithia. Is there anything else that can replace that offer?

Hello Sir,

I got your message. A supervisor call is put in. I talked to Justin Sales Maanger on Friday and left him a message that I escalated the part again even though its been escalated but we only escalate the part once. Your next update is on the 10th actually to get the new Eta in the meantime we have one dealer in the whole country that has the part and I called them but they didn't answer so I will try again later to see if they will sell me the part.

The part is on the way and the original Eta was at tentatively for the this week. we do weekly updates so your next Eta will be on the 10th but like I stated I'm trying to get the part from a dealer in New York, today but no promises, they may have that part there for one of their customers.

As far as truck payments you are absolutely eligible to receive car payments back at the end of the repair. We keep a tally and at the end of the repair. Please feel free to send in the payment history and the payment amount statement with the vehicle vin number and vehicle info on it. Please send to Bg800@chrysler.com. Please include in the heading your case number 85982090 and your name.

The reason we do it at the end of the repair is also we have to see how long the vehicle is in the shop to determine how many car payments we can reimburse for. Corporate never allows more than 3. 3 months of car payments and that's why we do it at the end so we know at the end how long your car was in there for.

I understand your frustration and I have been working and documenting on your case every 3 days to try and get the part for you.

I will be reaching out to the dealer to see if they will sell the part but if they cant then there is nothing more i can do on my end but wait till your part arrives. It has been escalated and upgraded. I will let you know in a bit.

Thank you,
Tara

SA has Turbo actuator ordered. SM Stevens email is; timshortpikeville@yahoo.com Sent CM to Parts dept for Part ans order info Part 68444773AA Order [redacted]
06/13/2023	CX CONTACT CHARLES RUNYON || Phone (304) 784-1972 || Advised cx Parts for actuator shipped - any technical questions should be adressed by the dealer, cx asked about the Injector Pump - cm will email the SM about this but otherwise follow up will be next week for a repair update
06/13/2023	NEXT STEPS 1- DLR - Seek Part arrival and a Repair ETA for turbo actuator 2- Ask dealer if any concerns diagnosed with Fuel Injector, Transmission, and Oil Leak. 3- Update customer, 4 - If vehicle is repaired and returned Note - if he paid for rental, customer is within Powertrain so can be reviewed for rental coverage 40/10
06/19/2023	INBOUND CUSTOMER CONTACT Cx has been out of work for a week because the dealer has the truck, and he uses the truck for work. Cx called wanting to speak with the CM, CM not here. Cx states dealer is refusing to fix the leak in engine both front and back and won't fix the injector pump that they just did on recall on Jan 30/23. They are waiting for part to fix the turbo actuator. For a rental the vehicle would have to be a truck because the cx uses it for work. Tim short's say they can lift the cab because they fixed the recall but say they won't fix the injector pump now. (Thornhill can't lift the cab so said that he should go back to Tim Short's) Cx insists that we covered rental for 56 days and he didn't have to pay out of pocket last time, because I had advised that he would have to pay out of pocket then once vehicle is repaired and rental paid, he would have to send in documents/proof of payment to review for reimbursement. Offered to speak with a supervisor to see if he can get pre-approved so that way, he would know that he would get reimbursed. Offered to contact the dealership to find out why they are refusing to work on anything else but the turbo actuator. Even though they could lift the cab to work on issues last time, they are saying that they are unable to this time. Checked to see if I could find notes regarding a rental last time so I would be able to say who covered it, but cx disconnected the call. Dealer may have to contact AM for approval to fix the injector pump no cost to customer if diagnosed as the same issue as the recall. Will send a message to CM to call dealer/customer.

Hello Mr. Runyon,

This is Natalie, your Case Manager with Ram Customer Care. I apologize for the delays in your case and for the shuffling around, but I am happy to report that I am caught up on the history of your case.

I'm sorry to hear about the delays in repairing the oil leak. I connected with your dealership this morning, and I understand that the turbo actuator was replaced, and then you took your vehicle back. I know that it has now been with the dealership again since last week, several weeks later.

In that timeframe of several weeks, several more transmission cases arrived at Tim Short, and a technician had to leave the dealership. Because of this, your dealership is recommending that you take your vehicle back to Thornhill or Moore, or another Ram dealership. If you leave your vehicle where it is, they will be able to work on repairing the oil leak eventually, but they are not able to provide a precise timeline right now.

Again, I'm sorry for the delays and frustration of this situation. Please let me know if there is anything I can do to help with arranging appointments or further communication with your dealership.

You can reach me with any questions or concerns either by replying to this email or by leaving me a voicemail at:

Phone number: (844) 827-1999
My personal extension: 5140281
Your case number[redacted]

I am happy to help! Thank you for working with Ram, and I look forward to helping to resolve this case for you.

Enjoy your afternoon,

Natalie

Hello Mr. Runyon,

This is Natalie, your Case Manager with Ram Customer Care. I apologize for the delays in your case and for the shuffling around, but I am happy to report that I am caught up on the history of your case.

I'm sorry to hear about the delays in repairing the oil leak. I connected with your dealership this morning, and I understand that the turbo actuator was replaced, and then you took your vehicle back. I know that it has now been with the dealership again since last week, several weeks later.

In that timeframe of several weeks, several more transmission cases arrived at Tim Short, and a technician had to leave the dealership. Because of this, your dealership is recommending that you take your vehicle back to Thornhill or Moore, or another Ram dealership. If you leave your vehicle where it is, they will be able to work on repairing the oil leak eventually, but they are not able to provide a precise timeline right now.

Again, I'm sorry for the delays and frustration of this situation. Please let me know if there is anything I can do to help with arranging appointments or further communication with your dealership.

You can reach me with any questions or concerns either by replying to this email or by leaving me a voicemail at:

Phone number: (844) 827-1999
My personal extension: 5140281
Your case number: [redacted]

I am happy to help! Thank you for working with Ram, and I look forward to helping to resolve this case for you.

Enjoy your afternoon,

We just wanted to thank you for allowing RAM Customer Care the opportunity to address your concern. If you require any further assistance and are able to get the vehicle back into the dealership and get it diagnosed, then certainly give us a call back so we may reopen your case and look into the concern further.

We also wanted to let you know that we attempt to conduct a satisfaction survey upon closure of a case; therefore, you could potentially receive a survey by email. We'd ask that you take the time to complete the survey so we'll know how we're doing and what improvements we can make to enhance the customer experience.

Thank you for your time, participation, patience and for being a loyal RAM customer. It has been a pleasure working with you, and all the best in the future.

Good afternoon,

I just wanted to provide you with an update on your case. I did connect with your dealership today, and they advised me that, unfortunately, it will likely be another 3-4 weeks before they can work on your vehicle. We apologize for this delay, and we do look forward to finally getting this resolved for you.

Thank you,

Hello Mr. Runyon,

This is Natalie, your Case Manager with Ram Customer Care. I apologize for the delays in your case and for the shuffling around, but I am happy to report that I am caught up on the history of your case.

I'm sorry to hear about the delays in repairing the oil leak. I connected with your dealership this morning, and I understand that the turbo actuator was replaced, and then you took your vehicle back. I know that it has now been with the dealership again since last week, several weeks later.

In that timeframe of several weeks, several more transmission cases arrived at Tim Short, and a technician had to leave the dealership. Because of this, your dealership is recommending that you take your vehicle back to Thornhill or Moore, or another Ram dealership. If you leave your vehicle where it is, they will be able to work on repairing the oil leak eventually, but they are not able to provide a precise timeline right now.

Again, I'm sorry for the delays and frustration of this situation. Please let me know if there is anything I can do to help with arranging appointments or further communication with your dealership.

You can reach me with any questions or concerns either by replying to this email or by leaving me a voicemail at:

Phone number: (844) 827-1999
My personal extension: 5140281
Your case number [redacted]

I am happy to help! Thank you for working with Ram, and I look forward to helping to resolve this case for you.

Enjoy your afternoon,

Natalie

Hello Mr. Runyon,

This is Natalie, your Case Manager with Ram Customer Care. I apologize for the delays in your case and for the shuffling around, but I am happy to report that I am caught up on the history of your case.

I'm sorry to hear about the delays in repairing the oil leak. I connected with your dealership this morning, and I understand that the turbo actuator was replaced, and then you took your vehicle back. I know that it has now been with the dealership again since last week, several weeks later.

In that timeframe of several weeks, several more transmission cases arrived at Tim Short, and a technician had to leave the dealership. Because of this, your dealership is recommending that you take your vehicle back to Thornhill or Moore, or another Ram dealership. If you leave your vehicle where it is, they will be able to work on repairing the oil leak eventually, but they are not able to provide a precise timeline right now.

Again, I'm sorry for the delays and frustration of this situation. Please let me know if there is anything I can do to help with arranging appointments or further communication with your dealership.

You can reach me with any questions or concerns either by replying to this email or by leaving me a voicemail at:

Phone number: (844) 827-1999
My personal extension: 5140281
Your case number: [redacted]

I am happy to help! Thank you for working with Ram, and I look forward to helping to resolve this case for you.

Enjoy your afternoon,

Natalie

Good Morning Charles,

We have been trying to reach you but have been unsuccessful in doing so. Due to this, I will be closing out your case in two business days. If I don't hear back from you by 2/01/24, your case will be closed. This case can be reopened at any time, so if you require further assistance after this date, please feel free to give us a call back.

We just wanted to thank you for allowing RAM Customer Care the opportunity to address your concern. If you require any further assistance and are able to get the vehicle back into the dealership and get it diagnosed, then certainly give us a call back so we may reopen your case and look into the concern further.

We also wanted to let you know that we attempt to conduct a satisfaction survey upon closure of a case; therefore, you could potentially receive a survey by email. We'd ask that you take the time to complete the survey so we'll know how we're doing and what improvements we can make to enhance the customer experience.

Thank you for your time, participation, patience and for being a loyal RAM customer. It has been a pleasure working with you, and all the best in the future.

Regards,
Rini

Good afternoon,

I just wanted to provide you with an update on your case. I did connect with your dealership today, and they advised me that, unfortunately, it will likely be another 3-4 weeks before they can work on your vehicle. We apologize for this delay, and we do look forward to finally getting this resolved for you.

Thank you,

Hello Mr. Runyon,

This is Natalie, your Case Manager with Ram Customer Care. I apologize for the delays in your case and for the shuffling around, but I am happy to report that I am caught up on the history of your case.

I'm sorry to hear about the delays in repairing the oil leak. I connected with your dealership this morning, and I understand that the turbo actuator was replaced, and then you took your vehicle back. I know that it has now been with the dealership again since last week, several weeks later.

In that timeframe of several weeks, several more transmission cases arrived at Tim Short, and a technician had to leave the dealership. Because of this, your dealership is recommending that you take your vehicle back to Thornhill or Moore, or another Ram dealership. If you leave your vehicle where it is, they will be able to work on repairing the oil leak eventually, but they are not able to provide a precise timeline right now.

Again, I'm sorry for the delays and frustration of this situation. Please let me know if there is anything I can do to help with arranging appointments or further communication with your dealership.

You can reach me with any questions or concerns either by replying to this email or by leaving me a voicemail at:

Phone number: (844) 827-1999
My personal extension: 5140281
Your case number: [redacted]

I am happy to help! Thank you for working with Ram, and I look forward to helping to resolve this case for you.

Enjoy your afternoon,

Natalie

Hi BARCLAY,

Your rental re-imbursement for 1750 has been declined. We are able to only cover up to $40 a day. So, for 5 days we can only cover - 200. I would keep you posted further with the goodwill updates.

If you can prove to me where I could rent a 1 ton pickup like the $100,000.00 pickup I bought for $40/day that would be great and I will retract my request for the $1750.00. I can□t believe RAM won□t cover an expense incurred because of a failure on a top of the line truck.

Documents have been sent. The only one missing is from Mopar, that I have requested and have failed to provide. Dening this will result in a law suit against your company. I suggest you reopen this claim or an attorney will be contacting you. I suggest you escalate this matter to your management team, since it is above your pay grade.

12/14/2023	IBC CX CX called in right after when CM was about to make the call for the CX and he is stating the DLR is not able to provide a rental and he needs a vehicle now. CX was being very persistent in stating we had to provide a vehicle if not we had to trade in his vehicle for another in which is not going to affect him financially and it's not going to affect his credit or pay off his camper. CM informed the CX we do not have the availability to do so in any requests he has made. No trade in and we cannot pay off his camper. Rental reimbursement is the only compensation we can offer. CX is upset but I CAN ONLY ASSIST WITH BEING A MEDEATOR AND HELPING WITH WARRANTABLE REPAIRS.

Good day,

As discussed, you are approved for Rental Reimbursement at an average daily rate of $60, including Sales Tax. Rental reimbursement is based strictly on warranty repairs. Remember that accepting a Weekly Rate can drive down the average daily rate significantly. No Optional Services such as insurance, gasoline, tolls, tips, or underage fees can be reimbursed by Ram Care.
Once the vehicle is repaired, your rental is returned and you have provided us the rental agreement and receipt(s) stating the rental has been paid in full, we will then start the review for reimbursement of the rental. If you have any questions about the process, please don't hesitate to contact us at any time.

Reimbursement is now being processed. Upon doing my research, I am missing the repair order stating the day you brought in the vehicle, and received the vehicle back. Once I have that documentation that the DLR has provided you we may continue. Also please send me a good mailing address.

Upon doing my research we are still missing a document. In order to proceed with the reimbursement of the days you're vehicle was down we need repair orders indicating you're vehicle was at the dealership for those days.

Subject: RE: Case update

Good afternoon Williams,

Reimbursement is now being processed. Upon doing my research, I am missing the repair order stating the day you brought in the vehicle, and received the vehicle back. Once I have that documentation that the DLR has provided you we may continue. Also please send me a good mailing address.

Thanks,
Rosa

Good day,

As discussed, you are approved for Rental Reimbursement at an average daily rate of $60, including Sales Tax. Rental reimbursement is based strictly on warranty repairs. Remember that accepting a Weekly Rate can drive down the average daily rate significantly. No Optional Services such as insurance, gasoline, tolls, tips, or underage fees can be reimbursed by Ram Care.
Once the vehicle is repaired, your rental is returned and you have provided us the rental agreement and receipt(s) stating the rental has been paid in full, we will then start the review for reimbursement of the rental. If you have any questions about the process, please don't hesitate to contact us at any time.

Hello,

Upon doing my research we are still missing a document. In order to proceed with the reimbursement of the days you're vehicle was down we need repair orders indicating you're vehicle was at the dealership for those days.

Good afternoon,

I have requested an update from the dealership on the teardown of the vehicle, once this is completed they will provide me with the cost of the repairs and I will be able to review the information for the goodwill request. The review and decision portion can take 3-5 business days. I will call you with my decision.

Thank you for your patience and cooperation,

Hello,

We have not spoken about any steering wheel as this is the first time you have mentioned this and the dealership only spoke to me about the Dash pad when I asked for the diagnosis,

I will contact them again, and I have not reached Austin, but I was able to speak to another service advisor Jennifer who provided the diagnosis as Dash pad delamination.

I will reach out to you again on whatever update I have from them.

Regards.

Hello,

We have not spoken about any steering wheel as this is the first time you have mentioned this and the dealership only spoke to me about the Dash pad when I asked for the diagnosis,

I will contact them again, and I have not reached Austin, but I was able to speak to another service advisor Jennifer who provided the diagnosis as Dash pad delamination.

I will reach out to you again on whatever update I have from them.

Hello,

In regard to your (3C7WRLEL1KG[redacted] - 2019 RAM 4500 CREW CAB CHASSIS), your response was received, we fully appreciate your concern, particularly in view of the expense and inconvenience involved, however, we are unable to accommodate your request for out-of-warranty consideration. The vehicle has exceeded the time and mileage limitations of the warranty we offered on the part that needs repair at the time it was purchased. Although we had provided you with the repair coverage on the repair of your dash pad.

We're sorry we cannot provide a more favorable reply, I would be happy to continue to work with you to repair the vehicle by expediting parts as possible, engage technical assistance to assist the dealership when necessary.

Hello,

We have not spoken about any steering wheel as this is the first time you have mentioned this and the dealership only spoke to me about the Dash pad when I asked for the diagnosis,

I will contact them again, and I have not reached Austin, but I was able to speak to another service advisor Jennifer who provided the diagnosis as Dash pad delamination.

I will reach out to you again on whatever update I have from them.

Hello,

We have not spoken about any steering wheel as this is the first time you have mentioned this and the dealership only spoke to me about the Dash pad when I asked for the diagnosis,

I will contact them again, and I have not reached Austin, but I was able to speak to another service advisor Jennifer who provided the diagnosis as Dash pad delamination.

I will reach out to you again on whatever update I have from them.

Hello,

In regard to your (3C7WRLEL1KG[redacted] - 2019 RAM 4500 CREW CAB CHASSIS), the review with the dealership has been concluded, we fully appreciate your concern, particularly in view of the expense and inconvenience involved.

The damage to the seat was determined not to relate to the heating system of the vehicle hence we are unable to accommodate your request for out-of-warranty consideration.

We're sorry we cannot provide a more favorable reply, I would be happy to continue to work with you to repair the vehicle by expediting parts as possible, engage technical assistance to assist the dealership when necessary.

I confirmed with the dealership that the part for the dash pad repair is on order and have placed a request for our parts specialist team to help expedite the part. I will check in with you as I receive any updates on the status.

Regards,

Adetola

Hello,

We have not spoken about any steering wheel as this is the first time you have mentioned this and the dealership only spoke to me about the Dash pad when I asked for the diagnosis,

I will contact them again, and I have not reached Austin, but I was able to speak to another service advisor Jennifer who provided the diagnosis as Dash pad delamination.

I will reach out to you again on whatever update I have from them.

Good afternoon

I have spoken with Austin who advised that the parts have arrived at the dealer. I would encourage you to reach out to the dealer by phone at 336 996 4111 to schedule an appointment. We just wanted to thank you for allowing Ram Customer Care the opportunity to address your concern. If you require any further assistance and are able to get the vehicle back into the dealership and get it diagnosed, then certainly give us a call back so we may reopen your case and look into the concern further. We also wanted to let you know that we attempt to conduct a satisfaction survey upon closure of a case; therefore, you could potentially receive a survey by email. We□d ask that you take the time to complete the survey so we□ll know how we□re doing and what improvements we can make to enhance the customer experience.

Hello,

In regard to your (3C7WRLEL1KG[redacted] - 2019 RAM 4500 CREW CAB CHASSIS), your response was received, we fully appreciate your concern, particularly in view of the expense and inconvenience involved, however, we are unable to accommodate your request for out-of-warranty consideration. The vehicle has exceeded the time and mileage limitations of the warranty we offered on the part that needs repair at the time it was purchased. Although we had provided you with the repair coverage on the repair of your dash pad.

We're sorry we cannot provide a more favorable reply, I would be happy to continue to work with you to repair the vehicle by expediting parts as possible, engage technical assistance to assist the dealership when necessary.

Regards,

Hello,

We have not spoken about any steering wheel as this is the first time you have mentioned this and the dealership only spoke to me about the Dash pad when I asked for the diagnosis,

I will contact them again, and I have not reached Austin, but I was able to speak to another service advisor Jennifer who provided the diagnosis as Dash pad delamination.

I will reach out to you again on whatever update I have from them.

Hello good morning,

The review is complete, and we are only able to cover 50% of the repair cost estimate provided by the dealership, we are able to help with this because of your loyalty to the brand and the inconveniences you have had.

I apologize that we cannot go further as the vehicle's mileage is way above our goodwill coverage policy.

Is this offer something you are willing to accept? kindly send me a response.

Thanks for your patience.

Hello good morning,

The review is complete, and we are only able to cover 50% of the repair cost estimate provided by the dealership, we are able to help with this because of your loyalty to the brand and the inconveniences you have had.

I apologize that we cannot go further as the vehicle's mileage is way above our goodwill coverage policy.

Is this offer something you are willing to accept? kindly send me a response.

Thanks for your patience.

Yes I emailed in all my updated information to the warranty company and the repair was approved by the warranty company. Alpha warranty has instructed the dealer to tear down the turbo to determine the point of failure. once that is fixed the dealer has let me know theyll look into the engine knock and so on and so forth. I was told they have to fix 1 problem at a time.

Yes I emailed in all my updated information to the warranty company and the repair was approved by the warranty company. Alpha warranty has instructed the dealer to tear down the turbo to determine the point of failure. once that is fixed the dealer has let me know theyll look into the engine knock and so on and so forth. I was told they have to fix 1 problem at a time.

So alpha warranty called me today saying in order to determine the point of failure. The turbo actuator has to be further torn down. Ram has refused notified alpha warranty that the will not do further tear down. So now I have to find a shop that will comply with the warranty company so they can cover the repair. This is a very expensive repair. I can't afford it. The truck has been In Shop for 7 mo.
I'm not making money . Is there any way that ram can continue the tare down of the actuator so the warranty can cover it.

Hello,

Jeremy, I have taken this opportunity to research further your request for cost assistance. I have looked at every opportunity where I may be able to assist, from your vehicle repair history, ownership history, our entire recall database and warranty information.
Your original warranty was for 60 months or 100,000 miles whichever comes first. Currently your vehicle is at 125,567 miles which is 25,567 miles outside of that warranty. Based on that information Chrysler will not be able to provide any assistance for the repair and with the expenses incurred.

Also, we do not cover for diagnosis unfortunately, this repair would be considered a maintenance repair.

Although we are unable to provide a more favorable reply, we appreciate the opportunity to review your request.

Regards,

Adetola

Ram offered help on the last repair of 5k plus. After leaving that shop I broke down the following week. Why will Ram not offer help again. On the last repair Ram didn't care about my millage. They cared about offering me assistance with the truck that's been in shop since August 23rd. 2023. Can I get a second option. I can not make money if the truck is in shop for 7.5 months

So alpha warranty called me today saying in order to determine the point of failure. The turbo actuator has to be further torn down. Ram has refused notified alpha warranty that the will not do further tear down. So now I have to find a shop that will comply with the warranty company so they can cover the repair. This is a very expensive repair. I can't afford it. The truck has been In Shop for 7 mo.
I'm not making money . Is there any way that ram can continue the tare down of the actuator so the warranty can cover it. Yahoo Mail: Search, Organize, Conquer

Hello Jeremy,

I was able to reach the dealership and was informed that they are still in the process of tearing down the vehicle, so the diagnosis is not yet done. your insurance company has not given a word on covering the repairs and we do not have a maintenance record from you to review the case.

I advise that you kindly reach out to the dealership on how to progress with the repairs on your vehicle.

Yes I emailed in all my updated information to the warranty company and the repair was approved by the warranty company. Alpha warranty has instructed the dealer to tear down the turbo to determine the point of failure. once that is fixed the dealer has let me know theyll look into the engine knock and so on and so forth. I was told they have to fix 1 problem at a time.

Ram offered help on the last repair of 5k plus. After leaving that shop I broke down the following week. Why will Ram not offer help again. On the last repair Ram didn't care about my millage. They cared about offering me assistance with the truck that's been in shop since August 23rd. 2023. Can I get a second option. I can not make money if the truck is in shop for 7.5 months

Hello,

Jeremy, I have taken this opportunity to research further your request for cost assistance. I have looked at every opportunity where I may be able to assist, from your vehicle repair history, ownership history, our entire recall database and warranty information.
Your original warranty was for 60 months or 100,000 miles whichever comes first. Currently your vehicle is at 125,567 miles which is 25,567 miles outside of that warranty. Based on that information Chrysler will not be able to provide any assistance for the repair and with the expenses incurred.

Also, we do not cover for diagnosis unfortunately, this repair would be considered a maintenance repair.

Although we are unable to provide a more favorable reply, we appreciate the opportunity to review your request.

Good Morning,

I do have the truck as stated.

I did have to go back to Cherry Hill Dodge for a 3rd visit. See picture below.

An unsettling noise turned out to be the transmission cover was not properly attached.

So for the record, we are at 3 repairs for the same transmission.

1. K-1 snap ring and clutch assembly (then the truck could not be turned over after assembly)

2. Transmission valve body replacement.

3. Trans cover.

The paper work they left me with was very limited as for a description of the work over the 50 days that they had the truck.

Not a very open and transparent process to say the least.

Regards,

Brad Richards

There is a puddle of oil under the transmission on my brand new driveway.

Hello Ayo,

You wanted Cherry Hill Dodge to see the truck□.

It has been 10 more days in the shop (total of 70+ days out of service in 2024)

Am I getting my money back ?

While they are at it, the truck also struggles to start.

It seems the starter has to work several extra revolutions to get the motor to start.

Let□s face it, it□s a LEMON.

Let me know before I start the legal process.

Regards,

Brad Richards

Komal,

Interesting that Cherry Hill Dodge calls today and says it□s repaired.

Yet the Customer Service rep at Cherry Hill Dodge says there is no paperwork on evaluating the starting issue. They think there is no issue.

When I had concerns about the transmission and it was shifting funny, of course it□s no big deal□. Then look what happened□ it exploded.

This truck has been in the repair shop over 70 days so far this year.

I□ve had a half a dozen of the 3500 trucks with the Cummins, so I have a pretty good idea on how they should start, shift and drive.

At this point, the repair documents need to itemize K-1 snap ring repair, clutch assembly mumbo jumbo, valve body replacement, oil leak solutions, engine start issues and all the □poking and hoping□ trying to fix these problems.

I can already sense from the Cherry Hill Dodge Service rep abruptly hanging up and Ayo of Stellantis abandoning this case number (along with Ahkil, Pragti and Vagaya) that this truck is getting pushed down my throat.

I want my money back, not a truck that has already been through several transmissions surgeries by people who don□t know what they are doing.

Because I have a LEMON truck, (I□m only stating facts) I don't need to feel the animosity from both Stellantis and Cherry Hill Dodge.

Hello Bradley,

As we discussed on call. I am happy to answer your questions.

If you wanted to trade your vehicle with dealership. We can offer you a CDI from our side.

CDI - Certain Designated Individual

Allows you to purchase or lease a new Stellantis vehicle at employee pricing.

Discount varies by vehicle but is usually around 3-5% MSRP.

If you wish to negotiate a trade in, I encourage you to shop around and discuss this with the dealership as they are the only ones in a position to provide with the pricing details.

We can offer Monetary Compensation if your vehicle is repaired.

Monetary Compensation

This comes with a release form stating we repaired the vehicle to warranty standard and you're satisfied with the repair.

I hope this answered your question, however, feel free to reach out if you have any other questions.

Kind regards,

Interesting that Cherry Hill Dodge calls today and says it's repaired.
Yet the Customer Service rep at Cherry Hill Dodge says there is no paperwork on evaluating the starting issue. They think there is no issue.
When I had concerns about the transmission and it was shifting funny, of course it's no big deal…. Then look what happened… it exploded.
This truck has been in the repair shop over 70 days so far this year.
I've had a half a dozen of the 3500 trucks with the Cummins, so I have a pretty good idea on how they should start, shift and drive.
At this point, the repair documents need to itemize K-1 snap ring repair, clutch assembly mumbo jumbo, valve body replacement, oil leak solutions, engine start issues and all the "poking and hoping" trying to fix these problems.
I can already sense from the Cherry Hill Dodge Service rep abruptly hanging up and Ayo of Stellantis abandoning this case number (along with Ahkil, Pragti and Vagaya) that this truck is getting pushed down my throat.
I want my money back, not a truck that has already been through several transmissions surgeries by people who don't know what they are doing.
Because I have a LEMON truck, (I'm only stating facts) I don't need to feel the animosity from both Stellantis and Cherry Hill Dodge.

Hello Ayo,
You wanted Cherry Hill Dodge to see the truck….
It has been 10 more days in the shop (total of 70+ days out of service in 2024)
Am I getting my money back ?
While they are at it, the truck also struggles to start.
It seems the starter has to work several extra revolutions to get the motor to start.
Let's face it, it's a LEMON.
Let me know before I start the legal process.
Regards,
Brad Richards

There is a puddle of oil under the transmission on my brand new driveway.

Good Morning,
I do have the truck as stated.
I did have to go back to Cherry Hill Dodge for a 3rd visit. See picture below.
An unsettling noise turned out to be the transmission cover was not properly attached.
So for the record, we are at 3 repairs for the same transmission.
1. K-1 snap ring and clutch assembly (then the truck could not be turned over after assembly)
2. Transmission valve body replacement.
3. Trans cover.
The paper work they left me with was very limited as for a description of the work over the 50 days that they had the truck.
Not a very open and transparent process to say the least.

As we discussed on call. I am happy to answer your questions.

If you wanted to trade your vehicle with dealership. We can offer you a CDI from our side.

Komal,

I picked the 2023 3500 today from Cherry Hill Triplex after waiting for over an hour because they couldn□t find the key or paperwork.

I have not yet received a detailed description of all the work that was done as requested in earlier email.

The most obvious issues I see today are shown in pictures below:

1. Metal bracket hanging

2. Transmission wiring harness support/tie hanging

Also the underside was still damp with oil, particularly on the gasket for the transmission. I have wiped it dry and will see how it goes.

Interesting that Cherry Hill Dodge calls today and says it□s repaired.
Yet the Customer Service rep at Cherry Hill Dodge says there is no paperwork on evaluating the starting issue. They think there is no issue.
When I had concerns about the transmission and it was shifting funny, of course it□s no big deal□. Then look what happened□ it exploded.
This truck has been in the repair shop over 70 days so far this year.
I□ve had a half a dozen of the 3500 trucks with the Cummins, so I have a pretty good idea on how they should start, shift and drive.
At this point, the repair documents need to itemize K-1 snap ring repair, clutch assembly mumbo jumbo, valve body replacement, oil leak solutions, engine start issues and all the □poking and hoping□ trying to fix these problems.
I can already sense from the Cherry Hill Dodge Service rep abruptly hanging up and Ayo of Stellantis abandoning this case number (along with Ahkil, Pragti and Vagaya) that this truck is getting pushed down my throat.
I want my money back, not a truck that has already been through several transmissions surgeries by people who don□t know what they are doing.
Because I have a LEMON truck, (I□m only stating facts) I don't need to feel the animosity from both Stellantis and Cherry Hill Dodge.

Hello Ayo,
You wanted Cherry Hill Dodge to see the truck□.
It has been 10 more days in the shop (total of 70+ days out of service in 2024)
Am I getting my money back ?
While they are at it, the truck also struggles to start.
It seems the starter has to work several extra revolutions to get the motor to start.
Let□s face it, it□s a LEMON.
Let me know before I start the legal process.
Regards,
Brad Richards

Well,
I will be bringing the truck back to Cherry Hill Dodge for the 4th repair on the transmission.
There is a puddle of oil under the transmission on my brand new driveway.
Again, please just give me my money back !!

Good Morning,
I do have the truck as stated.
I did have to go back to Cherry Hill Dodge for a 3rd visit. See picture below.
An unsettling noise turned out to be the transmission cover was not properly attached.
So for the record, we are at 3 repairs for the same transmission.
1. K-1 snap ring and clutch assembly (then the truck could not be turned over after assembly)
2. Transmission valve body replacement.
3. Trans cover.
The paper work they left me with was very limited as for a description of the work over the 50 days that they had the truck.
Not a very open and transparent process to say the least.

Regards,

Good day Amrit,

I hope you're well. I am reaching out to get a status update on the truck repair, if you were able to get that from the dealer. Also if you were able to look into providing the oil change package for a year as discussed. If the truck will be held longer, I also mentioned that I would like to exchange my rental for a truck with a hitch as I need it to pick up my trailer very soon. Please let me know, thank you. Also if you can update my name spelling in your system that would be greatly appreciated.

Regards,

LUIS AMOROSO.

Amrit,

The dealership has informed me that they have not received any correspondence from you regarding your request for an update on my vehicle and also to update the dealership about the initiation of the oil change service contract. You said on phone last monday that you will have sent out the contract by the end of the week. Friday came and went and the dealer never received anything. It is Tuesday of the following week and the dealer hasnt received anything. The dealer has completed the repair at this point and are ready to release the vehicle back to me. I do not want to receive the vehicle until the oil change has been completed. We need to resolve this matter immediately as it has been 5 weeks to the day since I have had my vehicle in my possession. That's completely abnormal wouldn't you say?

When you do communicate to the service manager, also have them rotate the tires on the vehicle in addition to completing the oil change. Let me know what is the status here. I am including the service managers email in our correspondence today.

Just to make sure all of the information is correct:

Good day Amrit,

I would like to reopen this case as I continue to have electronic issues with my truck. Currently the vehicle is back at the dealership again due to more electronic issues needing to be addressed. It is and has been frustrating how much time the truck has been out of commission and in repair in proportion to my time overall owning my vehicle. Because of the length of troubleshooting and unresolve of issues addressed with vehicle and the low miles the vehicle has, I am at an impasse with my confidence in owning and continuing to own my Ram truck. It is very upsetting that I have been making large car payments to a vehicle that I am not in possession of and have missed out on an enjoyable and satisfying ownership experience. I have been hopeful to have a better ownership experience with Ram especially as being a first time Ram/Stellantis vehicle owner. My question to you is at what point is my truck considered a lemon law qualified vehicle? Or is there a final and satisfying solution to my grievance here?

Regards,

Luis E. Amoroso

Thanks for replying

I□m aware of the recall and the dealer, freedom in Lexington has me on a waiting list for the recall.

What is the status of the transmission for my Ram? I□m in desperate need of my truck. My business is at a standstill due to my $80k truck with only 46k miles on it being down for a known transmission problem which is documented everywhere.

I realize this is not an individual thing for you but my livelihood is being affected by this.

This is the 3rd ram I□ve had, the previous 2 never had ANY problems so that□s why my loyalty has stayed with Ram.

Please help get me back on the road

Thanks

Tuesday 2/13, I□ve talked to the dealer, freedom Dodge, they are still waiting on approval from Ram to repair my truck. This is 3 weeks now my truck has been down. I□m not sure what could be the hold up with this approval. There is a very well known issue with the transmission in these trucks. Is Ram not standing by their warranty and repairing them? This is very frustrating when I□ve spent $80k on this unit and done nothing but brag on the Ram brand and how good they are.

Please help get my truck back on the road and have some communication on what is going on.

Thanks

I□m aware of the recall and the dealer, freedom in Lexington has me on a waiting list for the recall.
What is the status of the transmission for my Ram? I□m in desperate need of my truck. My business is at a standstill due to my $80k truck with only 46k miles on it being down for a known transmission problem which is documented everywhere.
I realize this is not an individual thing for you but my livelihood is being affected by this.
This is the 3rd ram I□ve had, the previous 2 never had ANY problems so that□s why my loyalty has stayed with Ram.
Please help get me back on the road
Thanks

Tuesday 2/13, I've talked to the dealer, freedom Dodge, they are still waiting on approval from Ram to repair my truck. This is 3 weeks now my truck has been down. I'm not sure what could be the hold up with this approval. There is a very well known issue with the transmission in these trucks. Is Ram not standing by their warranty and repairing them? This is very frustrating when I've spent $80k on this unit and done nothing but brag on the Ram brand and how good they are.
Please help get my truck back on the road and have some communication on what is going on.

Thanks for the follow up Jeremy. The repair seems to be fine. Everything is working as normal.

After retiring from auto manufacturing with 34 yrs of service and 32 of that being on management positions I am perplexed that a $90k truck less than 2.3 yrs in service would fail in this manner. This is not what I expected from Ram products.

The timeliness for this repair was beyond imagination. When a customers vehicle is out of service and they wait 3 weeks for an approval for the repair with people not even in the area requesting pictures as proof of no tampering with systems or abuse it really makes me wonder how much Ram really cares about customer service. In my experience we always trusted the dealer or a factory rep to make speedy judgement. Usually within 24-48 hours after the unit has failed.

Again I appreciate your follow up and do realize this delays was not totally driven by you.

Hello Wadad,We picked up our "fixed" truck today. We have driven it less than 20 miles and we have the same message "Exhaust Filter Full power reduced see dealer". The same message before. We HAVE to move our 5th wheel tomorrow!!!!!!! There are no rental trucks available with a puck system. We can possibly hire someone at 450.00 and up. We need to move multiple times this weekend. Or possibly we can take a truck off the lot with a puck system and put our hitch in it.Please call us asap. This is an emergency!Shawn McGinnis 530.510.1538 Sent from my Verizon, Samsung Galaxy smartphone

Hi Mr. Walsh,

I just left you a voicemail message. I reached out to my corporate resources and they asserted the same information that your service advisor Nancy informed me of, which is that there is currently no resolution for error code P2459. RAM's corporate engineers are currently researching that issue for a resolution.

If your vehicle has any functional concerns/issues in the future, then the standard protocol is to go to one of our authorized dealerships for a diagnosis, and for their technical experts to determine if your vehicle concern leads to a repair that is covered under warranty, recall, or fault of an authorized dealership.

I can only assist with technical assistance, expediting parts, and facilitating repairs and as so, I am unable to provide you with any verbal guarantee that future repairs for your vehicle would be covered as those incidents are assessed by the technical experts at our dealerships on a case by case basis. If you have any questions or concerns please reach out to me as I am happy to assist you.

Thank You,

Hi Mr. Walsh,

I just left you a voicemail message. I reached out to my corporate resources and they asserted the same information that your service advisor Nancy informed me of, which is that there is currently no resolution for error code P2459. RAM's corporate engineers are currently researching that issue for a resolution.

If your vehicle has any functional concerns/issues in the future, then the standard protocol is to go to one of our authorized dealerships for a diagnosis, and for their technical experts to determine if your vehicle concern leads to a repair that is covered under warranty, recall, or fault of an authorized dealership.

I can only assist with technical assistance, expediting parts, and facilitating repairs and as so, I am unable to provide you with any verbal guarantee that future repairs for your vehicle would be covered as those incidents are assessed by the technical experts at our dealerships on a case by case basis. If you have any questions or concerns please reach out to me as I am happy to assist you.

Thank You,

Good afternoon!
As of today I am going on one whole month without my vehicle. I have put in multiple requests to speak to a supervisor and have not received one phone call. I don't understand how its taken almost 3 weeks for the financial request the dealer sent over to take this long, and how i've had a request to speak to a supervisor for almost a week now and still no call. Can somebody please get me an answer or a way to talk to someone higher up about the holdup.

Thanks,
James Walsh

Good afternoon!
As of today I am going on one whole month without my vehicle. I have put in multiple requests to speak to a supervisor and have not received one phone call. I don't understand how its taken almost 3 weeks for the financial request the dealer sent over to take this long, and how i've had a request to speak to a supervisor for almost a week now and still no call. Can somebody please get me an answer or a way to talk to someone higher up about the holdup.
Thanks,
James Walsh

Good afternoon!
As of today I am going on one whole month without my vehicle. I have put in multiple requests to speak to a supervisor and have not received one phone call. I don't understand how its taken almost 3 weeks for the financial request the dealer sent over to take this long, and how i've had a request to speak to a supervisor for almost a week now and still no call. Can somebody please get me an answer or a way to talk to someone higher up about the holdup.
Thanks,
James Walsh

Hi Mr. Walsh,

I just left you a voicemail message. I reached out to my corporate resources and they asserted the same information that your service advisor Nancy informed me of, which is that there is currently no resolution for error code P2459. RAM's corporate engineers are currently researching that issue for a resolution.

If your vehicle has any functional concerns/issues in the future, then the standard protocol is to go to one of our authorized dealerships for a diagnosis, and for their technical experts to determine if your vehicle concern leads to a repair that is covered under warranty, recall, or fault of an authorized dealership.

I can only assist with technical assistance, expediting parts, and facilitating repairs and as so, I am unable to provide you with any verbal guarantee that future repairs for your vehicle would be covered as those incidents are assessed by the technical experts at our dealerships on a case by case basis. If you have any questions or concerns please reach out to me as I am happy to assist you.

Thank You,

Good afternoon!
As of today I am going on one whole month without my vehicle. I have put in multiple requests to speak to a supervisor and have not received one phone call. I don't understand how its taken almost 3 weeks for the financial request the dealer sent over to take this long, and how i've had a request to speak to a supervisor for almost a week now and still no call. Can somebody please get me an answer or a way to talk to someone higher up about the holdup.
Thanks,
James Walsh

I just left you a voicemail message. I reached out to my corporate resources and they asserted the same information that your service advisor Nancy informed me of, which is that there is currently no resolution for error code P2459. RAM's corporate engineers are currently researching that issue for a resolution.

If your vehicle has any functional concerns/issues in the future, then the standard protocol is to go to one of our authorized dealerships for a diagnosis, and for their technical experts to determine if your vehicle concern leads to a repair that is covered under warranty, recall, or fault of an authorized dealership.

I can only assist with technical assistance, expediting parts, and facilitating repairs and as so, I am unable to provide you with any verbal guarantee that future repairs for your vehicle would be covered as those incidents are assessed by the technical experts at our dealerships on a case by case basis. 05/17/2024	VOICEMAIL 7608811533 May 13 Regarding the front noise, they could not confirm the noise, they compared it to another vehicle, the dealer did find something else, I'm not picking up the vehicle when they tell me it's done if they don't actually diagnose the sound in the front
05/17/2024	SM's email: We were unable to duplicate the engine noise. We were able to duplicate the noise at highway speeds. The rear differential is making an abnormal noise. We need to tear down the rear differential to find the source of the noise. Once we find the cause of the noise, we can see if the failed components are covered under the factory Powertrain warranty. Being that we don't know if the repairs are covered or not, it would be the customer's responsibility to authorize the cost of tear down. The cost of tear down using warranty pricing is $880.72 . Do you want to cover the cost of tear down for this customer? CM's response: Yes, I do.
05/20/2024	INBOUND SM EMAIL "We are in the process of tearing down the differential."

Gloria,

The dealer does not have a current open repair order for your vehicle. If you did indeed drop the vehicle back off at the dealership on Saturday, who did you tell? The service manager didn't know you had brought it back. Is it still there?

Gloria,

The service manager advised me that there was a glitch in their computer system. When they submitted your ticket originally on Saturday, it did not go through. That's the problem when everything is so computer dependant. I had them send someone out to look for the vehicle, they of course located it and have brought it in for further diagnosis.

The transmission or engine sound that you explained to them is not related to the fuel system concern that was just repaired. This is a different issue. I have advised the service manager that I would like him to diagnose and let me know what the issue is so I can review for cost assistance.

It will take a few days but I will let you know what they discover.

Please be advised that I will be out of the office next week for holidays. I can have a co-worker touch base on your concerns and follow up with the dealer while I am away.

Hi Gloria,

I received your voicemail. I have emailed Chris seeking an update on the status of your truck.

They did confirm an abnormal sound in the rear differential which I have agreed to cover the $880.72 tear down cost (which would normally have been an out of pocket expense for you) so they can appropriately diagnose. I'm waiting for further info on that.

Regarding the like-vehicle comparison, that is a normal action for technicians. After they run tests based on your desciption of concerns, if they are unable to confirm via those tests and there are no codes and apparent issues, they will compare the running sound with another like vehicle on site to make sure they sound the same.

I will let you know more once I hear back from them.

Hi Gloria,

The most recent update on received on Friday was that they are in the process of tearing down the differential. I will ask for an update and a possible ETA for completion.

Regarding the out of pocket expense, as they can't confirm if a repair will be under warranty or not until the issue has been properly diagnosed, and that diagnosis required a tear-down, I authorized coverage of it on your behalf. Once the tear down is complete, if it is comfirmed that the issue is a warranty issue, then the tear down is also covered. They just need agreement to cover the cost before they proceed in case it isn't a warranty issue. So I agreed to cover if it was discovered the issue was not under warranty to make things easier for you.

Once the vehicle is repaired and back in your possession, we will certainly have a discussion regarding compenation/reimbursement.

Hi Gloria,

Apologies! I was thinking about something else. Yes, I have submitted a request to have a check sent to you in the amount of $2292.27 for the repairs that were completed. I will confirm once it has been mailed.

You did send me a vehicle payment statement from Chase, but it's a little too blurry to read. Could you send it again only this time a little larger?

Hi Gloria,

The most recent update on received on Friday was that they are in the process of tearing down the differential. I will ask for an update and a possible ETA for completion.

Regarding the out of pocket expense, as they can't confirm if a repair will be under warranty or not until the issue has been properly diagnosed, and that diagnosis required a tear-down, I authorized coverage of it on your behalf. Once the tear down is complete, if it is comfirmed that the issue is a warranty issue, then the tear down is also covered. They just need agreement to cover the cost before they proceed in case it isn't a warranty issue. So I agreed to cover if it was discovered the issue was not under warranty to make things easier for you.

Once the vehicle is repaired and back in your possession, we will certainly have a discussion regarding compenation/reimbursement.

Hi Gloria,

I received your voicemail. I have emailed Chris seeking an update on the status of your truck.

They did confirm an abnormal sound in the rear differential which I have agreed to cover the $880.72 tear down cost (which would normally have been an out of pocket expense for you) so they can appropriately diagnose. I'm waiting for further info on that.

Regarding the like-vehicle comparison, that is a normal action for technicians. After they run tests based on your desciption of concerns, if they are unable to confirm via those tests and there are no codes and apparent issues, they will compare the running sound with another like vehicle on site to make sure they sound the same.

I will let you know more once I hear back from them.

Gloria,

The service manager advised me that there was a glitch in their computer system. When they submitted your ticket originally on Saturday, it did not go through. That's the problem when everything is so computer dependant. I had them send someone out to look for the vehicle, they of course located it and have brought it in for further diagnosis.

The transmission or engine sound that you explained to them is not related to the fuel system concern that was just repaired. This is a different issue. I have advised the service manager that I would like him to diagnose and let me know what the issue is so I can review for cost assistance.

It will take a few days but I will let you know what they discover.

Please be advised that I will be out of the office next week for holidays. I can have a co-worker touch base on your concerns and follow up with the dealer while I am away.

Hi Gloria,

The most recent update on received on Friday was that they are in the process of tearing down the differential. I will ask for an update and a possible ETA for completion.

Regarding the out of pocket expense, as they can't confirm if a repair will be under warranty or not until the issue has been properly diagnosed, and that diagnosis required a tear-down, I authorized coverage of it on your behalf. Once the tear down is complete, if it is comfirmed that the issue is a warranty issue, then the tear down is also covered. They just need agreement to cover the cost before they proceed in case it isn't a warranty issue. So I agreed to cover if it was discovered the issue was not under warranty to make things easier for you.

Once the vehicle is repaired and back in your possession, we will certainly have a discussion regarding compenation/reimbursement.

Respectfully,

Hi Gloria,

I received your voicemail. I have emailed Chris seeking an update on the status of your truck.

They did confirm an abnormal sound in the rear differential which I have agreed to cover the $880.72 tear down cost (which would normally have been an out of pocket expense for you) so they can appropriately diagnose. I'm waiting for further info on that.

Regarding the like-vehicle comparison, that is a normal action for technicians. After they run tests based on your desciption of concerns, if they are unable to confirm via those tests and there are no codes and apparent issues, they will compare the running sound with another like vehicle on site to make sure they sound the same.

I will let you know more once I hear back from them.

The service manager advised me that there was a glitch in their computer system. When they submitted your ticket originally on Saturday, it did not go through. That's the problem when everything is so computer dependant. I had them send someone out to look for the vehicle, they of course located it and have brought it in for further diagnosis.

The transmission or engine sound that you explained to them is not related to the fuel system concern that was just repaired. This is a different issue. I have advised the service manager that I would like him to diagnose and let me know what the issue is so I can review for cost assistance.

It will take a few days but I will let you know what they discover.

Hi Gloria,

The most recent update on received on Friday was that they are in the process of tearing down the differential. I will ask for an update and a possible ETA for completion.

Regarding the out of pocket expense, as they can't confirm if a repair will be under warranty or not until the issue has been properly diagnosed, and that diagnosis required a tear-down, I authorized coverage of it on your behalf. Once the tear down is complete, if it is comfirmed that the issue is a warranty issue, then the tear down is also covered. They just need agreement to cover the cost before they proceed in case it isn't a warranty issue. So I agreed to cover if it was discovered the issue was not under warranty to make things easier for you.

Once the vehicle is repaired and back in your possession, we will certainly have a discussion regarding compenation/reimbursement.

Respectfully,

Hi Gloria,

I received your voicemail. I have emailed Chris seeking an update on the status of your truck.

They did confirm an abnormal sound in the rear differential which I have agreed to cover the $880.72 tear down cost (which would normally have been an out of pocket expense for you) so they can appropriately diagnose. I'm waiting for further info on that.

Regarding the like-vehicle comparison, that is a normal action for technicians. After they run tests based on your desciption of concerns, if they are unable to confirm via those tests and there are no codes and apparent issues, they will compare the running sound with another like vehicle on site to make sure they sound the same.

I will let you know more once I hear back from them.

Gloria,

The service manager advised me that there was a glitch in their computer system. When they submitted your ticket originally on Saturday, it did not go through. That's the problem when everything is so computer dependant. I had them send someone out to look for the vehicle, they of course located it and have brought it in for further diagnosis.

The transmission or engine sound that you explained to them is not related to the fuel system concern that was just repaired. This is a different issue. I have advised the service manager that I would like him to diagnose and let me know what the issue is so I can review for cost assistance.

It will take a few days but I will let you know what they discover.

Please be advised that I will be out of the office next week for holidays. I can have a co-worker touch base on your concerns and follow up with the dealer while I am away.

Respectfully,

Jeanette | RAM Customer Retention Specialist

Hi Gloria,

The check for reimbursement of repairs has been approved and will be mailed out soon. The other one for vehicle payments is still waiting on approval, I'll keep an eye on it.

The service manager said they were working toward completion for the end of the week, I sent him an email today seeking follow up to confirm if that is still their expectation. I'll let you know when he replies with an update.

Apologies! I was thinking about something else. Yes, I have submitted a request to have a check sent to you in the amount of $2292.27 for the repairs that were completed. I will confirm once it has been mailed.

You did send me a vehicle payment statement from Chase, but it's a little too blurry to read. Could you send it again only this time a little larger?

Hi Gloria,

The most recent update on received on Friday was that they are in the process of tearing down the differential. I will ask for an update and a possible ETA for completion.

Regarding the out of pocket expense, as they can't confirm if a repair will be under warranty or not until the issue has been properly diagnosed, and that diagnosis required a tear-down, I authorized coverage of it on your behalf. Once the tear down is complete, if it is comfirmed that the issue is a warranty issue, then the tear down is also covered. They just need agreement to cover the cost before they proceed in case it isn't a warranty issue. So I agreed to cover if it was discovered the issue was not under warranty to make things easier for you.

Once the vehicle is repaired and back in your possession, we will certainly have a discussion regarding compenation/reimbursement.

Respectfully,

Hi Gloria,

I received your voicemail. I have emailed Chris seeking an update on the status of your truck.

They did confirm an abnormal sound in the rear differential which I have agreed to cover the $880.72 tear down cost (which would normally have been an out of pocket expense for you) so they can appropriately diagnose. I'm waiting for further info on that.

Regarding the like-vehicle comparison, that is a normal action for technicians. After they run tests based on your desciption of concerns, if they are unable to confirm via those tests and there are no codes and apparent issues, they will compare the running sound with another like vehicle on site to make sure they sound the same.

I will let you know more once I hear back from them.

Gloria,

The service manager advised me that there was a glitch in their computer system. When they submitted your ticket originally on Saturday, it did not go through. That's the problem when everything is so computer dependant. I had them send someone out to look for the vehicle, they of course located it and have brought it in for further diagnosis.

The transmission or engine sound that you explained to them is not related to the fuel system concern that was just repaired. This is a different issue. I have advised the service manager that I would like him to diagnose and let me know what the issue is so I can review for cost assistance.

It will take a few days but I will let you know what they discover.

Please be advised that I will be out of the office next week for holidays. I can have a co-worker touch base on your concerns and follow up with the dealer while I am away.

Hi Gloria,

I just received another update from the service manager. He said they are really backed up in the shop so they won't have answers for us until Tuesday (due to Monday being Memorial Day). He apologizes for the delay.

Just wanting to keep you in the know.

Have a pleasant long weekend.

Hi Gloria,

The most recent update on received on Friday was that they are in the process of tearing down the differential. I will ask for an update and a possible ETA for completion.

Regarding the out of pocket expense, as they can't confirm if a repair will be under warranty or not until the issue has been properly diagnosed, and that diagnosis required a tear-down, I authorized coverage of it on your behalf. Once the tear down is complete, if it is comfirmed that the issue is a warranty issue, then the tear down is also covered. They just need agreement to cover the cost before they proceed in case it isn't a warranty issue. So I agreed to cover if it was discovered the issue was not under warranty to make things easier for you.

Once the vehicle is repaired and back in your possession, we will certainly have a discussion regarding compenation/reimbursement.

Hi Gloria,

I received your voicemail. I have emailed Chris seeking an update on the status of your truck.

They did confirm an abnormal sound in the rear differential which I have agreed to cover the $880.72 tear down cost (which would normally have been an out of pocket expense for you) so they can appropriately diagnose. I'm waiting for further info on that.

Regarding the like-vehicle comparison, that is a normal action for technicians. After they run tests based on your desciption of concerns, if they are unable to confirm via those tests and there are no codes and apparent issues, they will compare the running sound with another like vehicle on site to make sure they sound the same.

I will let you know more once I hear back from them.

Gloria,

The service manager advised me that there was a glitch in their computer system. When they submitted your ticket originally on Saturday, it did not go through. That's the problem when everything is so computer dependant. I had them send someone out to look for the vehicle, they of course located it and have brought it in for further diagnosis.

The transmission or engine sound that you explained to them is not related to the fuel system concern that was just repaired. This is a different issue. I have advised the service manager that I would like him to diagnose and let me know what the issue is so I can review for cost assistance.

It will take a few days but I will let you know what they discover.

Please be advised that I will be out of the office next week for holidays. I can have a co-worker touch base on your concerns and follow up with the dealer while I am away.

Hi Gloria,

The most recent update on received on Friday was that they are in the process of tearing down the differential. I will ask for an update and a possible ETA for completion.

Regarding the out of pocket expense, as they can't confirm if a repair will be under warranty or not until the issue has been properly diagnosed, and that diagnosis required a tear-down, I authorized coverage of it on your behalf. Once the tear down is complete, if it is comfirmed that the issue is a warranty issue, then the tear down is also covered. They just need agreement to cover the cost before they proceed in case it isn't a warranty issue. So I agreed to cover if it was discovered the issue was not under warranty to make things easier for you.

Once the vehicle is repaired and back in your possession, we will certainly have a discussion regarding compenation/reimbursement.

Hi Gloria,

The most recent update on received on Friday was that they are in the process of tearing down the differential. I will ask for an update and a possible ETA for completion.

Regarding the out of pocket expense, as they can't confirm if a repair will be under warranty or not until the issue has been properly diagnosed, and that diagnosis required a tear-down, I authorized coverage of it on your behalf. Once the tear down is complete, if it is comfirmed that the issue is a warranty issue, then the tear down is also covered. They just need agreement to cover the cost before they proceed in case it isn't a warranty issue. So I agreed to cover if it was discovered the issue was not under warranty to make things easier for you.

Once the vehicle is repaired and back in your possession, we will certainly have a discussion regarding compenation/reimbursement.

Hi Gloria,

I received your voicemail. I have emailed Chris seeking an update on the status of your truck.

They did confirm an abnormal sound in the rear differential which I have agreed to cover the $880.72 tear down cost (which would normally have been an out of pocket expense for you) so they can appropriately diagnose. I'm waiting for further info on that.

Regarding the like-vehicle comparison, that is a normal action for technicians. > As advised, I have our parts specialist tracking to assist with expediting. The ETA got bumped a few days and may not be arriving until the end of this week. My sincerest apologies. I will check in with the dealer on Monday to see if it has arrived.
