WHILE DRIVING THE VEHICLE AT ANY SPEED SMELL STRONG CHEMICAL FUMES INTO THE PASSENGER COMPARTMENT. DEALER HAS BEEN NOTIFIED. PLEASE PROVIDE FURTHER INFORMATION. TS

Taken to a repair man who told us it was too dangerous to drive because of high level of fumes in engine compartment. Left us him to find repair cause. It was the fuel rail that we thought had been repaired by a dealer during a recall. Chrysler said - would have paid it if we had had our mechanic put it back together & taken to a dealer - rather we chose to pay labor @ both places - we were told this only after repairs were done.

Include, if available: Police/Fire Department Report, Photos, and Repair Invoice.

Narrative Description of Incident(s), Failure(s), Crash(es), and Injury(ies)

We feel this was a Recall issue that was not fixed properly - and feel they should cover the cost since it is a ~~known~~ Recall issue - We did not know it was the fuel filter until mechanic already had it apart -
When called they said they would cover costs -
When receipts sent in - we were denied
