Complaint Information

Description : I own a 1998 Pontiac Trans Sport. I was about to drive out of town to go on a camping trip when the engine started to make a ticking sound. To be on the safe side, I brought the van into a GM dealer to evaluate the problem. The dealer said that they "saved my engine", replacing head gaskets and the intake gasket during two days of repairs. The dealer also had to flush the engine and the cooling system. Dexcool coolant had leaked into the engine. The van had only 110927 km at the time.
