Good morning Scott,

This relates to your investigation (PE04-021) into reports alleging throttle control system failures in model year (MY) 2002 and MY 2003 Toyota Camry, Toyota Solara, and Lexus ES300 vehicle.

Upon further examination of 10026818, there is a page in the incoming correspondence that states Mr. [REDACTED] is the owner of a MY 2002 AND a MY 2003 Lexus ES300 vehicle. I originally thought [REDACTED] only owned a MY 2002 Lexus ES300. I made this assumption when I saw that the Hotline entered the product information to reflect a MY 2003 Lexus ES300 vehicle and saw a VIN indicating a MY 2002 vehicle, which was found in additional documentation provided by Mr. [REDACTED]. Assuming human error, I changed the product information in [REDACTED] original report (ODI Ref. No. 10026818) to reflect a MY 2002 Lexus ES300 vehicle.

However, my review of [REDACTED] report was flawed (since I completely missed that he owns a MY 2002 and a MY 2003 Lexus ES300 vehicle). Ergo, the change to ODI Ref. No. 10026818 was made in error. Considering [REDACTED] original report concerns a "hesitation" he experienced with his MY 2003 vehicle, I am changing the product information to reflect a MY 2003 Lexus ES300 vehicle.

Sorry about any confusion on this. If you have ANY questions about this, please feel free to contact me.

Scott, I'm not going to change until I've had a chance to discuss this with you and Jeff Taylor (who is handling the "Hesitation" IE package).

Thanks!
