Just a note to inform you that this exact same problem, wheels falling off, happened to my 2000 dodge ram 1500. It happened at 20,000 miles. I was told by the tow truck driver, that at least two others in the small town area where I live had the same problem. I think this recall should extend this vehicle also. I think if you do some checking, you will come to the same conclusion. Thank You
