Comments:

I recieved a safety recall on my 2002 dodge dakota 4x4, for the upper ball joints.

1. was these recall recommended by the nhtsa or did chrysler initiate it?
2. the dealer who replaced the upper ball joints told me the lower ball joints have the same problem. chrysler informed me that they are not doing anything about that at this time. What recourse do I have other than contacting chrysler?

The vehicle was recalled because the front wheel falls off. If the lower ball joints are as bad as the upper ball joints, what purpose is there in only replacing the upper ball joints?

the notification code is D47 if this helps.
