Acura Product Update Reminder Timing Belt Tensioner

In September 2003, we notified you of a product update involving your vehicle. The timing belt tensioner in your vehicle's engine can lose its oil. If enough oil is lost, the timing belt will loosen and cause engine noise. To correct this problem, your dealer will replace the timing belt tensioner. This repair will be done free of charge.

According to our records, you have not yet had your vehicle repaired. Please contact your Acura dealer immediately and make an appointment for the repair.
