Dear Mr. Jimenez,

I bought new and still am the owner of the year 2000 (not 2005, as erroneously typed previously) 250-Econoline Ford Cargo Van. The faulty Spare Tire is a Firestone LT225/75R16 Tubeless Radial. I do not know which number belongs to where, but, these are the two numbers on the Tire. OD8130 or 008130 and the second number of 32480UR BM18047. The bulging of this never used new original Spare Tire is on the front side. (where all the numbers and other pertinent informations are).

The local Company owned Firestone Tire Store (Charlotte,NC) does not want to take responsibility, even though it recognizes the huge bulge on the sidewall of the tire.

I trust to have given you all the answers you were looking for and to determine that Firestone should replace this Tire for free. Anything additional, please do not hesitate to call or contact me.

Thank you.
