Dear Ms. [REDACTED]

Thank you for your correspondence dated March 23, 2005, concerning your 2002 Land Rover Freelander vehicle. Your correspondence was received on March 30, 2005. Due to limited resources we were not able to respond to you in a more timely manner. We regret any inconvenience our delay may have caused you.

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) is the Federal agency responsible for improving safety on our Nation's highways. We are authorized to order manufacturers to recall and repair vehicles or items of motor vehicle equipment when our investigations indicate that they contain serious safety defects in their design, construction, or performance. We also monitor the adequacy of manufacturers' recall campaigns. In order for the agency to initiate an investigation, we look carefully at the body of consumer complaints and other available data to determine whether a defect may exist. We cannot act on isolated problems or resolve disputes between individual owners, dealers, or manufacturers.

We appreciate the report you provided. Reports from motorists are a very important source of information for us. Each report is analyzed and entered into a database to help us determine whether an investigation into a possible safety defect or recall inadequacy is warranted.

The problems you have encountered with your 2002 Land Rover Freelander have been entered into our database. It will be considered with other reports to identify any safety defect trends that may require our attention.

We sympathize with you concerning the reimbursement problems you reported; however, this does not fall under our jurisdiction. If you have not done so, you may consider contacting your local Consumer Protection Agency, Better Business Bureau, or the New York Office of the Attorney General regarding your problems and your rights under the New York Lemon Law. You may also ask your dealership for a meeting with the Land Rover North American district manager regarding your problems.
