Comments:

I have a 1998 Dodge Durango 4x4. I have called the dealership in regards to the problem of the front Hub assembly and upper and lower ball joints of the suspension for my Truck. I think that the recall should be included for my truck as well. I have called several Mechanics shops for estimaments they all have said to call my dealer ship cause the price for repairs are high. In the past Months since they have fixed the total of 10 durangos in the past 3weeks. I personally think that is a factory defect. In the year of 2002 I had to have Rear Differential totally replaced I spent the total of $2,600.00 dollars and now anther $2,000.00 something must be wrong. please help.
