Dear Sir,

10128020

I own a 2000 Safari Custom Van. It was purchased new at a dealers car sale in 2001. After driving 33,000 miles, the gas pedal is now sticking periodically. Having to push extra hard to have the gas pedal engage, it then of course jerks forward. This is very frightening and does need attention before something worse happens.

What do you suggest that I do ?

Have there been any other complaints in this matter ?

So far, my GMC Safari Van has served me well and there are no other complaints.

Many Thanks,
