Thank you for your correspondence dated February 20, 2006, concerning the Model Year (MY) 2001 Nissan 130 Infiniti vehicle. Your correspondence was received on February 24, 2006. We regret any inconvenience our delay in responding may have caused you.

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) is the Federal agency responsible for improving safety on our Nation's highways. We are authorized to order manufacturers to recall and repair vehicles or items of motor vehicle equipment when our investigations indicate that they contain serious safety defects in their design, construction, or performance. We also monitor the adequacy of manufacturers' recall campaigns. In order for the agency to initiate an investigation, we look carefully at the body of consumer complaints and other available data to determine whether a defect may exist. We cannot act on isolated problems or resolve disputes between individual owners, dealers, or manufacturers.

Enclose for your information is a copy of Title 49 U.S. Code, Chapter 301.

Federal laws require that registered vehicle owners be informed of any safety defect recall or non compliance to a Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standard (see paragraph 30118 of Title 49 U.S. Code, Chapter 30). Manufacturers obtain vehicle owners names and addresses from State records. You can obtain information concerning consumer complaints, recalls, investigations, service bulletins and other information from NHTSA's Website at www.nhtsa.dot.gov/cars/problems.

With regard to the service and reimbursement problems, which do not fall under our jurisdiction, you may consider contacting your local Consumer Protection Agency, Better Business Bureau, or the Florida Office of the Attorney General regarding your problems. You may also ask your dealership for a meeting with Nissan's district manager regarding your problem.

Additionally, the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) has jurisdiction over non-safety defects, paint, fraud or deception, warranty and dealership problems, remuneration matters, and fair trade practices. There are three ways you can contact the FTC: by toll free telephone at 1-877-FTC-HELP (1-877-382-4357); by mail at Federal Trade Commission, CRC-240, Washington, DC 20580; and by using the Internet complaint form at <http://www.ftc.gov/ftc/complaint.htm>.

Additionally, we have an Internet Web site at <http://www.nhtsa.dot.gov> that you may want to visit. An electronic Vehicle Owner's Questionnaire (VOQ) is also available on this Web site at <http://www.nhtsa.dot.gov/ivoq>. This form is for vehicle owners to report safety related problems about their motor vehicles or motor vehicle equipment, e.g., child safety seats, jacks, tires, brake fluid, etc. The reports submitted are transferred to our database and are used to identify safety-related defect trends that require our attention. If you do not have access to the Internet, please use the enclosed VOQ to inform this agency of any future motor vehicle or motor vehicle equipment safety problems you may experience. Also, a summary listing of vehicle owners' complaints, safety recalls, manufacturers' service bulletins, etc., can be obtained at <http://www.nhtsa.dot.gov/cars/problems>.
