Recently I purchased a 2003 Buick Le Sabre Custom VIN-1G4HP52K834 [redacted]

When I bought the car, it seemed to be in good shape; but recently after having an oil change; I was checking the oil and noticed some bolts on the frame in the front end were badly rusted.

Isn't this a safety hazard? I want to be driving a safe car. I was wondering if any more of the Le Sabres had this trouble. I would appreciate any help or information you can give me.

If you need more information call me at [redacted]

Sincerely,

[redacted]
