To whom it may concern:

I am writing this letter in order to notify you of a vehicle defect on the 2007 Ducati 1098 motorcycle. There are numerous complaints throughout the World addressing a serious mechanical problem.

The 2007 Ducati 1098 motorcycle frequently stalls unexpectedly. There are different scenarios as to when this occurs. However, specifically, my 2007 Ducati 1098 motorcycle will stall at least once everytime I operate the motorcycle. My motorcycle will stall while sitting in neutral and also while rolling in first gear.

I have taken my motorcycle into the dealership numerous times (more than 3) and they have tried to correct the problem using their methods and the methods suggested by the manufacturer. However, after 4000 plus miles of riding, my motorcycle continues to stall, causing unsafe conditions for me and other 2007 Ducati 1098 owners throughout the world.

Thank you for your time.
