Dear [REDACTED]:

Thank you for your correspondence concerning Michelin Pax tires that came equipped on your model year (MY) 2006 Honda Odyssey minivan. Your correspondence was received by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration's (NHTSA) Office of Defects Investigation on April 3, 2008.

NHTSA is the Federal agency responsible for improving safety on our Nation's highways. We are authorized to order manufacturers to recall and repair vehicles or items of motor vehicle equipment when our investigations indicate that they contain serious safety defects in their design, construction, or performance. However, we cannot act on isolated problems or resolve disputes between individual owners, dealers, or manufacturers.

We appreciate the report you provided. Reports from motorists are a very important source of information for us. A review of our database relative to problems associated with Michelin Pax tires on your MY 2006 Honda Odyssey revealed insufficient evidence to warrant opening a safety defect investigation at this time. The information you provided has been entered into our database and will be considered with future reports to identify any safety defect trends that may require our attention.

We sympathize with you concerning the problems you encountered in receiving a rebate for your Michelin Pax tires; however, this does not fall under our jurisdiction. NHTSA cannot assist vehicle owners in obtaining rebates or reimbursements. We can only recommend you continue to work with Michelin regarding your rebate request. We regret that we cannot assist you further in this matter.

Should you encounter a safety-related problem with a motor vehicle or item of motor vehicle equipment in the future, you can complete an electronic Vehicle Owner's Questionnaire online at <http://www.nhtsa.dot.gov/ivoq>. Also, a summary listing of vehicle owners' complaints, safety recalls, manufacturers' service bulletins, etc. can be obtained at <http://www.nhtsa.dot.gov/cars/problems>.

Sincerely,
