Your Message

Message: I have a few questions about my car. First of all I was wondering if you could tell me my engine number on record and where to find it on my car. OR25..... I can find that much. Second of all I was wondering if you could tell me why my car doesn't fall under Recall Reference # NTB03-070c. I spoke with someone from consumer affairs earlier and she told me I needed to take my car to a Nissan dealer and have them diagnose the problem before she could do anything else. The dealer told me that they have never heard of someone's car being covered for a recall that doesn't show up when the VIN number is entered. I am just very confused, any suggestions? I have already filed with NHTSA. Thank You
