Dear [REDACTED]

Thank you for your correspondence dated February 20, 2009, concerning your model year (MY) 2008 GMC Yukon vehicle. The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration's (NHTSA) Office of Defects Investigation received your correspondence on March 5, 2009.

NHTSA is the Federal agency responsible for improving safety on our Nation's highways. We are authorized to order manufacturers to recall and repair vehicles or items of motor vehicle equipment when our investigations indicate that they contain safety defects in their design, construction, or performance. However, we cannot act on isolated problems or resolve disputes between individual owners, dealers, or manufacturers.

We appreciate the report you provided. Reports from motorists are a very important source of information for us. A review of our database for (MY) 2008 GMC Yukon vehicles with intermittent back-up sensor concerns revealed no reports similar to the experience you described. At this time there is insufficient evidence to warrant opening a safety defect investigation. A brochure explaining the investigation process is enclosed for your information. The information you provided has been entered into our database. It will be considered with future reports to identify any safety defect trends that may require our attention.

With regard to your request to return the vehicle to the dealer and get a full refund on the purchase price, the cost of repair, and the Missouri sales tax, please be advised that such request do not fall under our jurisdiction. If you have not done so, you may consider contacting your local Consumer Protection Agency, Better Business Bureau, or the Missouri Office of the Attorney General regarding your problem and your rights under State law.

Additionally, the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) has jurisdiction over non-safety defects, paint, fraud or deception, warranty and dealership problems, remuneration matters, and fair trade practices. There are three ways you can contact the FTC: by toll free telephone at 1-877-FTC-HELP (1-877-382-4357); by mail at Federal Trade Commission, CRC-240, Washington, DC 20580; and by using the Internet complaint form at <http://www.ftc.gov/ftc/complaint.htm>.

Should you encounter a safety-related problem with a motor vehicle or item of motor vehicle equipment in the future, you can complete an electronic Vehicle Owner's Questionnaire online at <http://www.nhtsa.dot.gov/ivoq>. Also, a summary listing of vehicle owners' complaints, safety recalls, manufacturers' service bulletins, etc. can be obtained at <http://www.nhtsa.dot.gov/cars/problems>.

Sincerely,
