I own a 2003 Chevrolet Monte Carlo

I notice that my Brake lines and Fuel lines from the front of the car to the rear of the car have rust on them, the Chevrolet Dealer told me this is normal but I don't so this does not seem normal.

I feel this could become a safety issue if these lines start to leak. also the Chevrolet Impala seems to have this same problem. a safety recall should be considered. other General Motor cars may also have this problem.
