Subject: Recall ID # 03V455000 Inquiry

I have a question regarding the recall for 2003 Infiniti I35 vehicles - NHTSA Campaign ID number: 03V455000.

This recall was initiated in late 2003. My vehicle is experiencing the symptoms described in the recall notice. If the dealer determines that the cause of my vehicle's issues are in fact a result of this faulty parts described in this recall, is the dealer legally obligated to fix my car free of charge, today, in 2010?

The fix was not performed in 2003 when the recall was initiated. Now seven years later in 2010, I am experiencing those problems with my car. Am I still entitled to the fix free of charge?

Thank you,
