Good morning..I was in a terrible accident with a 2009 Infinity G35 A sudden acceleration from a stand still position to a full throttle speed..this happened 3 times before...I could stop the car by either shifting to neutral (replaced the broken gearshift by dealer under warranty)or shutting the engine off....Also my wife broke through a retaining wall years ago...same sudden acceleration.... I looked on the web (Allworldauto.com) Many other drivers had the same complaints...Our car has been totalled.Before someone dies I would like to report this..
