To Whom It May Concern:

My name is [redacted] I need some help in regard to the enclosed letter that I received from Toyota Motor. They 're telling me that my Toyota car may have been improperly manufactured and as a result a number of things could happen while the vehicle is being driven. What really bother me the most is the clause that states "the engine could stop while is being driven which may increase the risk of a crash".

I am on the High way every day and I am very concern about the fact that something may go wrong. To think that the car can go dead on me at any given time is very bitter some; is making me sick.

Shouldn't they provide me with a loaner until the parts are available? They are promising to send a second notice in late November, or over several months? Is that the best that they have to do?

Please advice me.

Thank you very much,
