Who You Are: Consumer

Incident Description: I recently developed two fuel leaks on my 2001 Harley Davidson. Fuel was leaking from the fuel line quick disconnect fittings that are used to connect fuel lines to the fuel tank and landing on the hot engine (when I say fuel leak, it was more than a drip, fuel was running from the fittings). In my reseach on a fix to the leak, talking to mechanics and internet blogs, I found out that this is a common problem with fuel injected Harley Davidson's.

I feel that I am very lucky that I smelled the fuel and parked the motorcycle before a fire started between my leggs.
