Re: Defective 1999 Jeep Wrangler
Chrysler Sport 4x4; VIN# XP484748; refusal of Chrysler to compensate for lemon vehicle and/or adhere to my paid service contract

In June of 1999, I traded-in my 1993 Jeep Wrangler to a Chrysler dealer in Attleboro, MA, for an allegedly 'new' 1999 Jeep Chrysler Sport Wrangler 4x4 (color, blue).
The Jeep Wrangler had allegedly been constructed/manufactured in the town

Brendan's Collision, Havertown, PA, in early Sept. 2003, repair the Jeep, and sell my Jeep to a man in Georgia.

Again, to date, I've been offered NOTHING except yrs. and yrs.
of the run-around with Chrysler.

Thank-you very much for reviewing this serious issue AND a good reason why no one should purchase a vehicle from Chrysler, anymore.

Sincerely Yours,

Cape May, New Jersey.

I live in Pennsylvania, and my auto insurance was through ALLSTATE, rep. Tom Hussey, in his Haverstown, PA, office.

The jeep was not "new" (as sold to me). The jeep was defective, repaired several times and, eventually crashed on Aug. 29, 2003, leaving me with a neck injury.

To date, Chrysler and Daimler-Chrysler (who I bought the jeep from in 1999) and, currently, Fiat, have done NOTHING on my behalf, except, take my jeep from
