Re: Nissan strut housing sheet metal repair

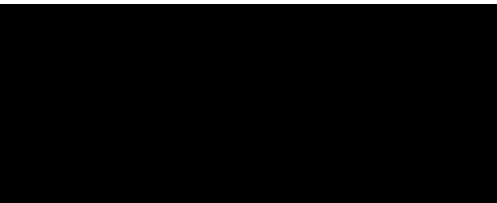

I have a 1999 Nissan Pathfinder (VIN JN8AR05Y9XW [REDACTED]) and I received the notice regarding the strut housing. I had to repair my car in February 2011 at a cost of $500.00. I called Nissan to inquire several months before I had it repaired to ask about a recall or if other consumers were having the same problem. At that time there were no recalls. However, my husband did find several Pathfinder owners online expressing their concerns about the strut housing being corroded. I would like to be reimbursed for my expense. Thank You.
