I've corresponded with you before and I'm sending a copy of the letter. You weren't able to help me but maybe now you can help me with the following. In the three years that I have been fighting with Ford, there is one question they will never answer. I've asked them to let me know if my car whose identification you have enclosed, if my car has ever been recalled for any reason airbags, etc. There must be a way for you to find out. I've given you the identification of the car, which should help you. I don't understand why they will not answer this question. Unless they have something to hide. I would appreciate an answer as soon as possible.
