

APR 18 2012

Administrator;

My name is [REDACTED] and I have a recall on my 2000 Toyota Tundra, VIN # 5TBBT4415YS [REDACTED]. My problem is this, I took this vehicle to the local Toyota dealer in Wausau, Wisconsin (Balweg Toyota) with the recall information, they inspected the truck and said it was unsafe to drive and it should be repaired as part of the recall. They put me in a loaner vehicle and I was on my way and they would repair it at no cost to me as part of the recall. A day in a half later they called me and said I was to bring back the loaner and pick up my Toyota Tundra because Toyota Customer Experience Center would not authorize the repair as this vehicle was a total loss according to the Carfax report. Now I am sent down the road in a vehicle that the service department said is unsafe to drive, this is the only vehicle I have to drive. I bought this vehicle in April of 2002 with front end damage for $10,500 and 12,493 miles, I repaired this vehicle back to excellent condition (just like new). Then I registered it June 17th 2002 and have been driving almost daily and registering every year since. The only thing my title shows is that an insurance claim has been paid and the Wisconsin State Patrol ran a vehicle abstract report and that does not state anything about a total loss. Carfax shows a total loss in 2005, 2006, 2007, 2008, 2009, 2010, 2011, like I said I have been the only owner of this vehicle and have never had any type of accident or insurance claim on this vehicle. Contacted Toyota Customer Experience Center they told me to contact Carfax to get the total loss removed from the report and then Toyota will repair my truck. I contacted Carfax (can only contact by email) filled out the forms and sent it to them and now it shows a total loss 2-18-2002, then again at the time of registration on 8-12-2010 and 8-2-2011. When I had my Toyota Tundra in at the dealer it had 136,336 miles and they told me my truck was in much better condition (body and interior) than most of the trucks that they have repaired as part of the recall. I recently had a heart attack and triple bypass surgery and need to go to cardio rehab 2-3 times a week (36 miles round trip) and this is my only means of transportation and I sure do not need the added stress of worrying if the frame will break or the gas tank will fall off or the brakes may fail. I am sending along some pictures of my Toyota Tundra I just took and you can tell how well I take care of my truck. I hope you would be able to help me with this matter and get my Toyota Tundra repaired under this recall at no cost to me. I am unemployed and now have health issues and again I really do not need or want to deal with this problem anymore, it seems like I just keep getting the run around from Carfax and Toyota. It is under case #1202011087 at Toyota Customer Experience Center 1-800-331-4331, ext. #4.

Thank you very much for your time:

SSC 90M – Certain 2000 through 2003 Tundra Vehicles
Severe Corrosion of the Rear Cross-Member
Phase 2 – CRC Application
SAFETY RECALL NOTICE

VIN: 5TBBT4415YS

Dear Toyota Customer:

This notice is being sent to you in accordance with the requirements of the National Traffic and Motor Vehicle Safety Act. Toyota has decided that a defect, which relates to motor vehicle safety, exists in certain 2000 through 2003 model year Tundra vehicles.

What is the condition?

As we previously informed you, on certain 2000 through 2003 model year Tundra vehicles originally sold in and/or registered in cold climate areas with high road salt use (Cold Climate States), excessive corrosion may be exhibited on the rear cross-member of the frame. In rare instances, the spare tire stowed under the truck bed may become separated from the rear cross-member. Spare tire separation will create a road hazard for following vehicles and could cause a crash without prior warning. Eventually, excessive corrosion of the rear cross-member may also affect the functionality of the rear brake lines at the proportioning valve. If this occurs, it can lead to the loss of the rear brake circuits, which will increase vehicle stopping distances and could cause a crash without prior warning.

In addition, excessive corrosion may also be exhibited on the fuel tank mounting system, which includes two other cross-members and fuel tank straps. In rare instances, the fuel tank may drop to the ground and be dragged or separate from the vehicle. This may create a road hazard which could cause a crash without prior warning or possibly a fire.

What will Toyota do?

Any Toyota dealer will inspect the specified components and adjacent areas of your vehicle's frame. Please see your Toyota dealer for details. Based upon the inspection, Toyota will do one or more of the following at no charge to you:

- If there is no significant corrosion of the cross-member assemblies, the dealership will apply a Corrosion Resistant Compound (CRC) to the cross-member assemblies and to the adjacent areas of the frame.
- If significant corrosion of the rear cross-member is detected such that it can no longer safely support the spare tire, the cross-member assembly will be replaced. After replacement, the dealer will apply the CRC to the new cross-member assembly and the adjacent areas of the frame.
- The fuel tank straps will be replaced, if they were not replaced before.

Spanish translation on back side
Traducción en español en el reverso

In those relatively rare cases where the rear cross-member is significantly corroded, but cannot be replaced due to excessive frame corrosion at the mounting location (e.g., if the side rails are too damaged), and/or if significant corrosion of either of the fuel tank cross-members is detected, Toyota will provide an appropriate remedy on a case-by-case basis.

For those owners who previously had their vehicles inspected by a Toyota dealer under this recall, we apologize for the fact that you will need to return to the dealership, but Toyota has just recently completed the steps that needed to be taken before its dealerships could apply the CRC. Please make an appointment with your dealership to have your vehicle re-inspected and to receive the appropriate remedy.

Toyota will also apply the CRC to other areas of the vehicle's frame that are not covered by the Safety Recall for a limited time. This additional service will only be available until December 31, 2012. Please see your Toyota dealer for details.

What should you do?

This is an important Safety Recall

Please contact your authorized Toyota dealer in the State of Wisconsin to make an appointment to have the inspection and CRC application performed as soon as possible. The inspection and CRC application will take approximately nine hours. If the rear cross-member assembly is replaced at the time of this inspection, the repair will take approximately an additional one and a half hours. Moreover, depending upon the dealer's work schedule, it may be necessary to make your vehicle available for a longer period of time. The Toyota dealer will arrange a complimentary loaner vehicle (upon proof of adequate insurance) for your use at no charge for up to 2 days during the repair.

This Safety Recall involves customers whose vehicles were originally sold in and/or currently registered in the following 20 Cold Climate States which have high road salt usage and the District of Columbia.

CT, DE, IL, IN, KY, MA, MD, ME, MI, MN, NH, NJ, NY, OH, PA, RI, VA, VT, WI & WV

We request that you present this notice to the dealer at the time of your service appointment.

If you would like to update your vehicle ownership or contact information, please go to www.toyota.com/ownersupdate. You will need your full 17-digit Vehicle Identification Number (VIN) to input the new information.

If you have moved to another state, but would like to have your vehicle inspected, please contact your local Toyota dealer and make an appointment. Toyota will perform the same inspection and, if necessary repair, at no charge. Please see your dealer for details.

What if you have other questions?

Your local Toyota dealer will be more than happy to answer any of your questions and set up an appointment to perform this Important Safety Recall. If you require further assistance, you may contact the Toyota Customer Experience Center at 1-888-270-9371 Monday through Friday, 5:00 am to 6:00 pm, Saturday 7:00 am through 4:00 pm Pacific Time.

If you believe that the dealer or Toyota has failed, or is unable to remedy the defect within a reasonable time, you may submit a complaint to the Administrator, National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, 1200 New Jersey Avenue S.E., Washington, DC 20590 or call the toll free Vehicle Safety Hot Line at 1-888-327-4236 (TTY: 1-800-424-9153), or go to www.safercar.gov.

What if you have previously paid for repairs to your vehicle for this specific condition?

If you have previously paid for repair to your vehicle for this specific condition prior to receiving this letter, please mail a copy of your repair order, proof-of-payment, and proof-of-ownership to the following address for reimbursement consideration:

Thank you for driving a Toyota.

Sincerely,

Accident / Damage Indicator

CARFAX receives information about accidents in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and Canada. Different information in a vehicle's history can indicate an accident or damage, such as: salvage auction, fire damage, police-reported accident, crash test vehicle, damage disclosure, collision repair facility and automotive recycler records. Not every accident or damage event is reported and not all reported are provided to CARFAX. Details about the accident or damage event when reported to CARFAX (e.g. severity, impact location, airbag deployment) are included on the Vehicle History Report. CARFAX recommends you obtain a vehicle inspection from your dealer or an independent mechanic.

- According to the National Safety Council, Injury Facts, 2007 edition, 7% of the 245 million registered vehicles in the U.S. were involved in an accident in 2005. Over 75% of these were considered minor or moderate.
