To Whom It May Concern:

Unfortunately I am at the point that I believe the above mentioned automobile situation may cause a crash or injury/death to me, my family or other parties.

The auto has had the same continuous problem from the beginning. When accelerating, between first and second gear, the car hesitates, loses power and almost seems to stall out. This causes difficulty when the car first accelerates, when accelerating up an incline, or accelerating onto an interstate.

The car has been serviced by Acura of Oxmoor, Louisville, KY on too many times to mention. The auto was again returned today, and I have authorized the dealership to keep the auto for three weeks, and to get it fixed.

I thought it was time to notify American Honda, and others about the situation to see what input they may provide. Please notify me by mail, or phone at [REDACTED]

Sincerely,

[REDACTED]
