Re: [REDACTED]

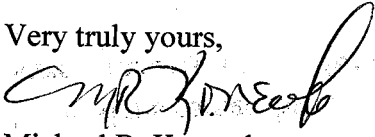

Dear Sirs/Madam:

Please be advised that this office represent [REDACTED] My client purchased a 2016 Tesla. Since purchasing the automobile, my client has had a series of difficulties with the vehicle. However, the most serious defect relates to its electronic parking capability. My client with parking the automobile in his garage pressed the parking option. The automobile surged, rammed the garage, backed up, and rammed the garage and the careened backwards into the street. Luckily, no transfer was there and no 3rd party accident occurred.

When he took the car into be repaired, he found out his situation was not the first of its kind. Several other Tesla owners exhibited the same parking problem and loss of control. While he has complained to the manufacturer, they have ignored his and the other Tesla owners serious incidents.

Please review this matter before any serious harm comes to Tesla owners who automobiles have this serious defect.

Very truly yours,

Michael R. Konewko
