NHTSA Staff,

JUN 22 2016

This will be the third time I have received the same Safety Recall Notice for the problem associated with the driver airbag inflator housing in our 2004 Dodge Durango. The previous two times I responded that we still owned the vehicle and would like to have the issue remedied. After mailing in my response I have never heard from anyone about how to go about getting it corrected. I no longer live anywhere near where we purchased the automobile so going back to that dealer is not an option. The nearest dealer is in Reno, Nevada and they are not very interested in working with me.

If you have a recommendation as to what action I could take I would very much appreciate hearing it.
