Re: 2012 Dodge 5500

Dear Administrator:

Your agency is aware of the numerous safety recalls on this model truck.

At the current time many truck owners and I are experiencing the failure of the Steering Angle Sensor and clockspring in the steering column.

This constitutes a serious safety hazard as the horn does not work and all electronic functions on the steering wheel are non-functional, such as cruise control.

Dodge has issued a service bulletin on same to its service technicians.

The problem is so bad the part is on backorder.

Please investigate and I urge you to issue a recall.

Thank you for your cooperation.
