Incident
Description:

I own a 2014 palamino Columbus 5th wheel camper. There is a small crack in the front corner of the bedroom slide out. The Columbus Facebook page is full of complaints about this particular problem. Forest river has fixed some units under warranty and they admit that there is a structural problem with the frames of the campers. Lippert is the manufacturer of the frame and it has poor weld and poor structural supports. There are literally thousand of these units out there that need fixing. I haven't heard of any breaking in half traveling down the road but, one would think if the structure got weak enough it might collapse going down the road and cause death or serious injuries. Please visit [REDACTED] thank you.
