Dear :

Thank you for the correspondence on behalf of your client , concerning her model year (MY) 2020 Mercedes-Benz GLB250 vehicle. I am pleased to respond.

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) is the Federal agency responsible for improving safety on our Nation's roadways. We are authorized to order manufacturers to recall and repair vehicles or motor vehicle equipment when our investigations indicate that they contain safety defects, such as in their design, construction, or performance. Among other activities, we also monitor the completion rates and adequacy of manufacturers' recall campaigns.

We appreciate the report you provided. Reports from motorists are a very important source of information for us. Chapter 301 of Title 49 of the United States Code (U.S.C.) does not require manufacturers to reimburse owners for additional expenses associated with a safety recall, such as damage to the vehicle incurred during the performance of a recall remedy. Nor does the statute authorize the Federal government to reimburse vehicle owners for any additional expenses associated with safety recalls or to assist vehicle owners in obtaining reimbursements for additional expenses associated with an alleged defect. Furthermore, NHTSA does not have authority to replace your client's vehicle. NHTSA cannot guarantee that a dealer will successfully perform a recall remedy on your vehicle. However, we entered your information into our database where it will be used with other reports to identify any safety defect trends that may require our attention. You can learn more about NHTSA's investigation and recall process on our website at

We encourage you to continue to work with Mercedes-Benz and your dealer to explore the potential for an amicable resolution to your problem, including asking your dealership for a meeting with a Mercedes-Benz district manager regarding your problem. You may also consider contacting your local Consumer Protection Agency or the Kentucky Attorney General's Office regarding your problem and rights under state law. In addition, the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) regulates and investigates warranty and dealership problems, reimbursement matters, and fair-trade practices. Therefore, if you believe this issue potentially relates to such a practice, you may contact the FTC to discuss the matter. There are three ways to contact the FTC: by toll free telephone at 877-382-4357; by mail at Federal Trade Commission, CRC-240, Washington, DC 20580; and by using the Internet complaint form at www.ftccomplaintassistant.gov.

You may also consider contacting the Better Business Bureau (BBB) Auto Line. The BBB offers free mediation/arbitration to resolve warranty disputes under guidelines established by the FTC. Remedies include repair, reimbursement, repurchase or replacement, depending on program eligibility. You can visit their website at www.bbb.org to file a complaint and review eligibility information or call the BBB Auto Line at 800-955-5100.

If you encounter a safety-related problem with a motor vehicle or motor vehicle equipment in the future, please complete an electronic Vehicle Owner's Questionnaire online at www.nhtsa.gov or call the Vehicle Safety Hotline at 888-327-4236. Also, you may review owners' complaints, safety recalls, manufacturers' service bulletins, etc., on our website.

Sincerely,
