Sirs,

I Purchased my Granddaughter a 2012 Hyundai Sonata For her [REDACTED] Birthday & Christmas.

As she was in it, it shut off and she hit curbing, instead of traffic bending right front wheel.

I had towed to a mechanic, that told me the engine seized up. That these engines were bad doing that; there was a recall on them, and there is, I wrote Hyundai Southern district before Christmas, and have heard nothing. I want to know if Hyundai has a recall about these engines seizing up, and their responsibility to have repaired.
