Thanks for the information on the Cadillac SRX when I filed the complaint I was a consumer that just bought this used car from a dealership and apparently they never had it inspected or looked at they just dolled it up enough to sell the car I had already returned the vehicle to the dealership and have taken civil action in court I haven't gotten my court date yet but it's to get my $2,000 down payment back on the vehicle. The dealership name that I purchased it from was called Harmons Motor Company in Marietta Georgia they originally promised to fix the vehicle but never did and left me stuck with a lemon so I ended up Towing it to a local shop around the corner which ended up costing me $150 after analyzing the vehicle at the shop they told me it was going to be a very expensive repair which was going to cost thousands and thousands of dollars
