Hello, I thought you just about gave up on me..

The clearance is actually less than 6 in that I have now, and they did replace the generator and cummings of Bel Air Maryland replaced it, they are the responsible party for making it aware to me that there was issues with the clearance, and basically this generator might lead to the same problems, it has to be rectified from the manufacturer. I have not used the generator, I have not used the air conditioning heat etc to date sincerely [REDACTED]
