Dear [REDACTED]

Thank you for the letter about your model year (MY) 2018 Nissan Altima vehicle. The Suffolk County Department of Consumer Affairs forwarded your letter to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA). I am pleased to respond.

NHTSA is the Federal agency responsible for improving safety on our Nation's roadways. We are authorized to order manufacturers to recall and repair vehicles or motor vehicle equipment when our investigations indicate that they contain safety defects, such as in their design, construction, or performance. Among other activities, we also monitor the completion rates and adequacy of manufacturers' recall campaigns.

We appreciate the report you provided. Reports from motorists are a very important source of information for NHTSA. You state that your vehicle was affected by the defect identified in NHTSA Safety Recall Campaign No. 20V-315. As you know, the recall addresses a problem with an unintentional release of the primary hood latch due to corrosion in the secondary hood latch, in certain MY 2013 through MY 2018 Nissan Altima vehicles. You request assistance obtaining repairs to the windshield and hood fenders of damage which you believe resulted from the defect identified in Recall No. 20V-315.

Chapter 301 of Title 49 of the United States Code (U.S.C.) does not require manufacturers to reimburse owners for additional expenses associated with a safety recall, such as damages incurred as a result of the defect. Nor does the statute authorize the Federal government to reimburse vehicle owners for any additional expenses associated with safety recalls or to assist vehicle owners in obtaining reimbursements for additional expenses associated with an alleged defect. However, we entered your information into our database where it will be used with other reports to identify any safety defect trends that may require our attention. You can learn more about NHTSA's investigation and recall process on our website at www.nhtsa.gov/sites/nhtsa.dot.gov/files/documents/mvdefectsandrecalls_808795.pdf.

We encourage you to continue to work with Nissan and your dealer to explore the potential for an amicable resolution to your problem. You may also ask your dealership for a meeting with a Nissan district manager regarding your problem.

You could consider contacting the Federal Trade Commission (FTC), which regulates and investigates unfair, deceptive or fraudulent practices in the marketplace. Therefore, if you believe this issue potentially relates to such a practice, you may contact the FTC to discuss the matter. There are three ways to contact the FTC: by toll free telephone at 877-382-4357; by mail at Federal Trade Commission, CRC-240, Washington, DC 20580; and by using the Internet complaint form at www.ftccomplaintassistant.gov.

Finally, you may also consider contacting the Better Business Bureau (BBB) Auto Line. The BBB offers free mediation/arbitration to resolve warranty disputes under guidelines established by the FTC. Remedies include repair, reimbursement, repurchase or replacement, depending on program eligibility. You can visit their website at www.bbb.org to file a complaint and review eligibility information or call the BBB Auto Line at 800-955-5100.

If you encounter a safety-related problem with a motor vehicle or motor vehicle equipment in the future, please complete an electronic Vehicle Owner's Questionnaire online at www.nhtsa.gov or call the Vehicle Safety Hotline at 888-327-4236. Also, you may review owners' complaints, safety recalls, manufacturers' service bulletins, etc., on our website.

Sincerely,
