Good afternoon,

I am checking on the status of NHTSA Issue Number 11506604. I feel this should be taken seriously and this vehicle should be covered under the Engine problems of excessive oil usage that Honda has lost a class action suite for. My vehicle is covered under the years of Honda Pilots that were effected and it's only right that this be covered. My vehicle has only been serviced by a dealership since I have owned as of 2013 and if it was using excessive oil the Honda dealership should have advised me of this well before now. I am an educator and need my vehicle to get to work.

Please help as I cannot afford a new vehicle at this time.

Thank you,
