We would like to add additional information to the complaint on our Honda HRV vinVIN:3CZRU5H74JM [REDACTED] case 11537981.

The car was taken too the dealership to see what would cause car to accelerate on August 10th. The car was taken into the shop on August 16th and a defective electronic brake switch was found to be on (no indication that it would be on).

Also all disc brakes pads were replaced by dealer at 29,000 miles because they were worn out.

Regards,
