Good morning,

Could you please add these photos to my complaint number 11547934. I also included a link from YouTube of several Jeep owners experiencing the same issues due to defective VVT solenoid part #05047897AC. In the photos provided its clear the bonding agent used for the screen came loose and wedged the internal plunger from operating properly. The same issue found in the YouTube video. Have a great week and thanks for your help.

Sincerely,
