

Dear Mr Reid,

I was surprised to receive a response from you at apparently The Consumer Engagement Division; office of Defects investigation Division, wow that's a cramp in the hand to start! Obviously I don't Do Computer. I still Don't have a Phone since the Secret Service visited me. Yes I had an opinion back then before they apparently Blocked my Ability to receive a Call tower Connection. The Huffy Phone from Jiffybug worked prior to my calling D.C. and Asking why Donald Trump seems to be a human target & Uncle Joe is Signing Pardons in his Sleep Stuper.

Any way As far as you saying It seems that Someone has indicated to you my Car was Cared for AKA Repaired. NO! The Fine Folks who Pretended they took The Car to Hyundai in Fort Smith Arkansas at 7 PM why They waited Days to supposedly take it in that hate is not in good Faith. I Don't believe they ever put in Any effort to help at all. They like they left it in the Junk yard next To the CCC Holdings Business they Do just what I Don't really know. The Evil woman who gave me the sideways look claiming that the Car had been Repaired must have generated a Facsimile of a "Repair Order" on it was no Indication of what They actually Did just a laundry list of non relates stuff. The Dades here and there Didn't Go made with Reality. The guy who brought the Car to my House Told me He stopped at the end of This 16 mi Long Road & drive 1/2 way 8 mi in AND some "Friend" helped him start the Car before delivering it. Why would that be Necessary? That way he knew I'd just Accept it thinking it was Repaired - which I stupidly Did! The next time 2 Days Later I tried to Start the Car and All the Lights on the Dash Lit up just as it Did when it stopped working when I parked it in my Garage which is warned against but it Catch fire even at Rest.
