re: quality control: who and where kia soul 2010

a (my car) 2010 Kia Soul somehow passed quality control that'd included nothing said in the sales department of the Kia dealership that'd shown there's an alert signal caution un? subject to tip to a side? There's a circle with a ~~the~~ picture image of the car tipping to a side and a line that crosses the whole ~~to~~ circled picture of the car, 2010 Kia Soul.

The sales person said its price was priced from a auction collection of cars.

The remembrance of the car tipping once when I was driving it scared the me right out of my skin and after I was calm again and waited to regain all of me back into my skin, brain I guess ???!!!!

Maybe the 2010 Kia Soul of ours had a time of design during the lower speed limit time and area of 55 being the quickest. I don't know!

The car except for a quality control focus piece for the industry, peoples countries, except to be kept in a workable condition and remembrance of good business practices and the check and balances for some noted in government history and actions of how quality is supported in government and into business a wonderful peoples and countries we have and why quality controls and all people are subject to error sometimes and helps to fix problems with one another.

2010 Kia Soul that'd scarcely the life out of this me for a short moment a main point is, the short shock of time could cost lives

Unless it's a area measurement problem, the opinion in behalf of the business and clients the zero via soul with the caution signal on the inside visor is a good sort of trophy of a salvational piece to remember doublechecking security request information, maybe too question test drivers and test drivers and designers and the option maker of designs and testings and sales receive the very final option

Economizing is good though sometimes extra wait maybe decline, modify is a good answer. Truth in salesmanship and limits on "chances".

Something says if a tipping to ignore? if that's the symbols reference seems to close to a could happen. Back to the drawing board, and ~~and~~ ^{equally} modify ^{short} ⁱⁿ ^{an} ^{and} symbol is unnecessary, is ~~safest~~ ^{safest} option. A vehicle and transparency time, and people safety first a, the, our priority.
