Got Suburban 12 of 1999
New.

From the beginning the truck has pulled or grabbed to the right. what is funny is it does not do it all the time!

I have been asking Chevy about it from the beginning.
Not until I had over 63,000 miles on the truck did they start saying "made" something was wrong when I put on the brakes and causing it to pull. One sales person said they all do it! A service manager said, it was a factory defect of that type of truck "But" they say I have to many miles on the truck now to do anything. I have from the beginning complained about the brakes but until about 63,000 I believed they were working to fix them!
