Problem limited
to low beam

Safety inspection.

On 12-30-99, went for state inspection, and was failed for safety for bad tire, license plate light, and loose, wiggly headlight went for re-inspection in Feb. 2000. Tire and plate light passed. However, while headlights were fixed to tighten, and keep them from wiggling, the driver's side headlight is not working properly. It lights up, but beam only shines within inches. I work @ PepBoys and was told problem is in lens. Several Ford dealerships say the part is unavailable at the moment, and may not be available at all, without this I cannot pass state
