Dear Mr. Shue:

Please be advised that we are unable to process the above mentioned claim. As we have discussed, Liberty Mutual had a forensic automotive engineering examination, which clearly isolates the sole responsible element, that being the vehicle manufacturer, Ford Motor Company. The above fire loss is directly attributable to a manufacturing defect with in the main wire harness assembly originating from the fuse box bulkhead. Therefore, Liberty Mutual must respectfully deny the above fire loss.

RE: [REDACTED]

Vehicle: 1994 Ford Crown Victoria VIN: 2FALP74WRX126232
Date of Incident: September 21, 1995

Dear Mr. Hendrick:

This is a corrected copy of the letter sent to you dated July 26, 1996, signed by Charles F. Fuller. We apologize for any confusion this may have caused. This firm has been retained to represent [REDACTED] for damages he has sustained as a result of the sudden fire involving his 1994 Ford Crown Victoria. This fire occurred on September 21, 1995. The vehicle was purchased from Koons Ford of Annapolis, Inc. I understand from [REDACTED] that he met and discussed this matter with you last year.

The automobile suddenly ignited after [REDACTED] parked the vehicle in a garage in the City of Alexandria, Virginia. The vehicle was a total loss. In addition, [REDACTED] sustained damages to his personal property which was in the vehicle at the time it suddenly ignited. As I am sure you are aware, the vehicle was still under warranty at the time of the fire.

Please forward this notice of claim to the appropriate individual at Koons Ford and kindly acknowledge receipt of this notification of [REDACTED] claim."

Again, we are sorry for any inconvenience or confusion.

Very truly yours,

Agnes Bowersox

Re: Your client, [REDACTED]

Dear Mr. Fuller,

This will acknowledge your letter of July 26, 1996 and your representation of [REDACTED]

When [REDACTED] made us aware of the fire on November 30, 1995, we immediately contacted Ford Motor Company, Washington Office. In response they sent a form for us to complete, requesting the involvement of the Office of General Counsel. We forwarded the form on November 30, giving all requested information. On January 19, 1996, I reviewed a form from Ford's Office of General Counsel, furnished to me by [REDACTED]. That same day, I wrote Mr. Nancy Carpenter, explaining what I knew of the incident. You must realize that at no time, did any employee of Koons Ford of Annapolis inspect the vehicle.

As I have explained to [REDACTED], once Ford's Office of General Counsel becomes involved, Koons is completely removed from any further dealer intervention.

Should Koons Ford of Annapolis become involved in any legalities, we would exercise our right of indemnification, as provided under our franchise agreement.

Hopefully, [REDACTED] has furnished you with copies of all correspondence listing addresses, etc. If not, the most important one is Ford Motor Company, Parklane Towers West, Suite 300, Three Parklane Blvd., Dearborn, MI 48126-2568 CASE # CMS-95-7760.

Sincerely,

Ronald E. Hendrick

Re: Claimant: [REDACTED]
D/O/E: 9/21/95
Vehicle: 1994 Crown Victoria

Dear Mr. Fuller:

Following a review of the facts and circumstances surrounding this event, Ford Motor Company finds no evidence of a manufacturing or design defect, therefore, we must deny liability for this claim.

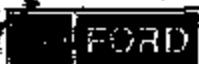

Please be advised that all necessary steps must be taken to ensure that the subject vehicle and all of its component parts are maintained and preserved for trial. Ford Motor Company has the right to inspect the vehicle and remove and test any component part that you claim to be defective, and to be presented with the vehicle and the subject component part(s) at the time of trial, should litigation ensue from this informal claim.

If you propose to repair the vehicle for continued usage, such repairs may not be performed until after Ford Motor Company has inspected the vehicle and removed and tested any component part you claim to be defective or advised you in writing that it does not intend to perform such inspection and/or testing at this time. But even in that event, Ford Motor Company will insist that all components claimed to be defective are maintained and preserved for trial.

Sincerely,

Shawn Norton
Claims Analyst

Re:

Dear Ms. Carpenter,

I write with reference to  claim for the total loss of his 1994 Ford Crown Victoria. Having sold  five new Fords and being in Rotary with him for over ten years, I feel he is a very good customer and friend.

The form you furnished  will not fit this situation. Let me explain: The vehicle was driven to work with no problems evident. It was parked in a parking garage, locked and  went to his office. About forty five minutes later, the fire department was in  office, requesting he come to the parking garage because his car had burned to the ground. When he arrived, sure enough, the car was completely burned. The hood melted over the engine. All the interior is gutted. The tires burned off the wheels. Only the right and left quarter panels and deck lid remained. The gas tank never exploded.

Based on the extent of the damage, it is not possible to visually determine the cause of the fire. It will take a forensic expert to determine the cause of the fire and its source. Therefore, it is very doubtful  can furnish you with the defective part for your inspection.

 has filed a claim with his insurance company and they have settled with him. It is not my business to know the details or any conversations they may have had. I only know there is a large difference between what he received and the cost of the new Ford.  does not wish to retain an attorney to reach a settlement, but would prefer to work directly with you, should it be Ford's problem.

Also, there was a Volvo parked beside [REDACTED] vehicle that was destroyed. I have no information on its condition or whereabouts.

I know from past experience you will need [REDACTED] to furnish you with as much information as possible. I will ask him to please cooperate with you. I thank you in advance for whatever attention and guidance you can give [REDACTED]. [REDACTED] to aid in a speedy conclusion.

Sincerely,

OCCURRENCE: Fire of Sunday, September 21, 1995
At approximately 0922 hours

VEHICLE IDENTIFICATION

Year/Make: 1994 Ford

Model: 4-door Crown Victoria

VIN #: 93V193000

Color: Red

According to information provided, the vehicle was parked by William R. Simpson at the time of the occurrence.

INVESTIGATION

The examination was initiated on the exterior where there is evidence the ignition occurred in the engine compartment. The hood was consumed and distended metal on the left front and right front doors suggest the fire originated in the engine compartment.

Accessories and trim, including the antenna, wheel covers, mirrors, and radio, were present. The tires were consumed, however, the wheels matched the body paint.

The preliminary examination revealed UBA was unable to determine specific failure due to the numerous components and wiring being consumed by fire or were removed subsequent to the fire.

The fuel tank, fill pipe, fuel filter, electric fuel pump, and the fuel line positioned in close proximity to the engine were intact. The investigator was unable to determine if the integrity of the fuel line fittings were compromised, however, there is no evidence of tampering with the fuel line system.

Examination of the engine compartment revealed the gasoline-powered V-8 engine was not significantly damaged by fire. The engine oil reservoir was filled to the manufacturer's recommended capacity. The power-steering reservoir melted and the contents evidently spilled into the engine compartment at the time of the fire. The transmission fluid level was less than the manufacturer's recommended capacity, however, this condition is attributed to removal of the drive shaft by the salvage dealer prior to the UBA fire scene investigation.

The upper and lower hoses, including the engine belts and carburetor were destroyed by fire. The investigator determine the maximum thermal activity occurred in the upper left front side of the engine compartment.

As part of the fire scene inspection, a search of the vehicle failed to yield the presence of fuel cans, accelerants, or liquid propane gas cylinders.

CONCLUSION

UBA's fire scene investigation was encumbered by the absence of engine components, critical evidence, and the elapsed time from the time of the fire to UBA's initial fire scene investigation, which was conducted in excess of two years from the date of the incident.

UBA established the Point of Origin in the upper left side of the engine compartment in close proximity to the cowling, however, due to the time factor, level of damage, and removal of critical evidence, UBA is unable to isolate the failure responsible for ignition.

The investigator learned the Alexandria, Virginia Fire Department Incident Report dated November 28, 1995 stated the ignition factor is attributed to electrical failure. The fire occurred in a parking garage subsequent to the vehicle being parked by the owner.

UBA's client (Michael B. Pross, Esquire) concurs with UBA's findings regarding the impossibility of determining the fire's cause of ignition. Additional examination and research will not provide meaningful information.

A series of fire scene photographs was prepared by the UBA Investigators and are enclosed with this report, although not identified.

UBA is submitting abbreviated report of investigation in lieu of our standard detailed investigative report at the request of the client.

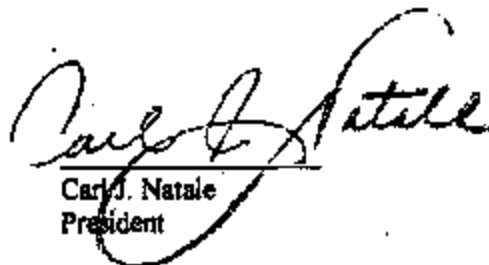

Respectfully submitted,

UBA, FIRE & EXPLOSION INVESTIGATORS

Senior Fire Investigator

The merits of the investigation, including detailed discussion of the fire scene findings, a review of the photographs and interviews, were corroborated and supervised by:

INVESTIGATION REPORT

ALEXANDRIA FIRE DEPARTMENT

INCIDENT#: 513911 EXP.NO: 00 INC. DATE: 11/28/95 SUPP.NO: 01 PAGE 1

On this date at 0942 hours this officer arrived on the scene of 1801 N. Beauregard Street, in the City of Alexandria, Virginia to investigate an auto fire. The fire occurred on the fourth floor parking deck of a six story, free standing, parking garage. The garage was equipped with a standpipe system. No automatic sprinkler system was installed or required at the time of construction. The fire originated in a 1994 Ford Crown Victoria sedan. The fire eventually impinged on and spread to a 1986 Toyota Corolla sedan. No structural damage, by fire, to the building was sustained.

[REDACTED] was the owner of the Ford sedan. He stated that he purchased the sedan at the end of the model year and had less than 15,000 miles on it. He had the vehicle serviced twice (at 5000 and 10,000 miles) and nothing was reported unusual. He had driven the vehicle to work on this date and arrived around 0900 hours. He did not note anything or smell anything unusual in, or around the vehicle. He left the vehicle and went to his office.

Mr. John Sasfai, Jr. was a witness to the fire. He stated that he was standing in front of 1801 N. Beauregard Street around 0915 when he heard a "phew" sound. At that point he saw flames coming from the garage deck in the area of [REDACTED] vehicle. He informed the front desk to call 9-1-1.

Firefighter Kenneth Salfelder of Engine Company 36 was one of the first arriving firefighters on the scene. He reported that they found a concentration of fire in the engine compartment by the battery on the passenger side of the vehicle. They attempted to apply water several times but were unable to get water to their hose. Eventually they were able to extinguish the fire in both vehicles.

Several factors appear to have delayed the supply of water to this fire. First, the water supply company, Engine Company 77, from Arlington County, connected to a hydrant that was out of service and identified as such with a black steamer cap. The second factor occurred once a water supply was established. The standpipe had been drained by maintenance to prevent freezing. A hose connection on the west side of the garage had been left open, which prevented adequate pressure to build up in the system. Firefighters resorted to lifting a hose line up to the fourth floor via a rope. The hose line, once connected to the fire apparatus supplied ample water to extinguish the fire.

Examination of the scene revealed that both vehicles were totaled. The Ford sedan sustained fire damage to 85% of the vehicle. The Toyota sedan sustained damage to almost 50% of the vehicle. The fire originated in the engine compartment of the Ford sedan. The point of most destruction was in the area of the vehicle's battery and other electrical equipment. The fire spread from this area, through the engine compartment and into the passenger compartment via the fire wall. All combustible components of the engine were destroyed. In addition, the fire became so hot that it melted the hood of the vehicle.
