Frank:

I discussed the issue with Bharat. He suggested we get more switches from the field and have analysis done by Ford. I can arrange for the analysis. Could you get more switches from the field? The first set was given to Pollak for their analysis. Our original assessment of these switches is that there is oil inside the switches. We probably need to monitor this one because the oil is present after the recall repair was done.

The subject tech review meeting is scheduled for 10/10. We need to meet at least one more time to ensure that all the relevant and pertinent info is updated and added to the 14D. Your attendance and participation is MANDATORY.

Please note, we have been provided a directive from Will Boddie that Engineering Director's and CFE's need to take a vested interest in the Tech Reviews and lead the effort not just merely attend. Excerpts of recent meeting minutes on this directive is as follows:

.....Will directed his reports to get involved at the Tech Reviews (he want them to lead, not just attend) and personally attend the FRC if their activity has an issue. Everyone seemed to be nodding their heads in agreement.....

Your management has been invited to the Tech Review and given the below direction, it would be in your best interest to inform them of the latest developments in the 14D. If for some unforeseen reason you are not able to attend please send a suitable representative. Thanks much.

The oil found on the switches from the Auction Yard audit is spectrally almost identical to the base fluid of the Moly Kote grease. Moly Kote is used as the lubricant for the drive gear and was used as the lubricant for the return spring.

I do not think we need to analyze any more switches for the type of oil found. - Kevin Lysik

Gayle, Kevin -

Spectra of the yellow grease submitted under Lab # 21416 (on the cotton swabs) match spectra of the "Moly Kote Grease" submitted two years ago under Lab # 02520.

The oily/greasy residue under the caps and along the mating surfaces of the stop lamp switches is spectrally almost identical to spectra of the base fluid of the yellow grease (Lab # 21416). The oily/greasy residue under the caps and along the mating surfaces of the stop lamp switches is spectrally almost identical to spectra of the base fluid of the "Moly Kote Grease" (Lab # 02520).

It is likely the base fluid is separating from the grease and causing the problem with the stop lamp switches.

I presently do not have time to write up the official Central Laboratory Report. I am currently working on several other assembly plant issues. Sorry.

Subject: Results of Audit at Mannheim Auction Yard - Preliminary

Nemo and I reviewed (30) adjustable pedal vehicles 2000 and 2001 MY. All vehicles, except two, had oil present on the stop lamp switch, some a small amount, others quite a lot of oil. I will send (5) of the switches to the lab for analysis. The two switches that had no oil or grease present were dry and the corresponding metal areas were dry too. Additionally, we are asking for two vehicles to be held for further evaluation - the switches were very wet with oil and the corresponding pedal metal was also very wet. We will let the team know when the vehicles will be available for review.

Nemo is putting together the matrix of data and we will review and send to the team later this week.

The type of ester oil we found isn't utilized in nylons as a plasticizer so that could NOT be the source. Trust me, in fogging you only get very minor droplets and never the amount of material we are seeing in these switches. Typically only vinyls and hydrocarbon-based materials have any significant amount of fogging materials present. Haven't run into this issue with any nylons, especially glass filled.

Or from the fogging, (FLTM BO 116-3), Fog Number, min, TBD, as called out in the material specification WSK-M4D883-A, for the cover of the switch, nylon glass filled material. Fogging is the formation of excessive amounts of clear film or droplets as cause for rejection.

Bharat, Norm: The analysis indicates that the grease (oil) found on the switches does not match the low temp grease sample I provided (from Teleflex). The grease (oil) matches a Molykote sample. I am verifying that the sample Teleflex gave me is the same grease that they used initially. I will also call AAP and inquire about the grease they used prior to receiving greased parts from Teleflex. Otherwise we have another source of grease. Maybe the steering column?

Preliminary information from the lab indicates that the oil in the stop lamp switches is an ester-based grease. It does not match either grease you submitted to me, however, approximately two years ago the lab did run a Molykote grease [Spec ESA-M1C232-A lists Molykote as the supplied material] which this ester matches perfectly. Is it possible that you received an incorrect grease?

Marla, I previously wrote CQIS # 2E4MV001 and sent you the switch (which was previously replaced under the recall) for this assign.

I wrote 3 more CQIS reports for this assign. today: 2F1BX001, 2F1BX002 and 2F1BX003. I will ship you these parts.

The assign. asks us to identify a vehicle for engineering review prior to replacing the switch. All four of these switches were replaced by the tech. prior to my involvement with the vehicle so I grabbed the switches and wrote them up.

The techs. tell me that they know they are supposed to wipe off the excessive grease prior to putting on the new switch, but they tell me that they know that they can't get all the grease off because they can't wipe/reach it all with a rag.

Thanks.

Lets get the team together around a vehicle and go through the instructions step by step so that we can all consense that there were no escape points in our system. If the grease was coming from another source, I am convinced we would have found this during the verification of repair that nothing else could possibly go wrong. If on the other hand the dealer mis-repaired the vehicle, than we need to put something additional out in the system telling the dealers to stop the mis-repairs. My hunch and is only a hunch at this time is that the grease is probably not accessible to wipe off and can't be reached by the technician. As the result, overtime the grease breaks down and leaks on to the replaced switch.

Pls schd meeting with Roush and your team around a vehicle so that we can go over this with a fine tooth comb. Kevin Lysik (CPS) and Sean Newell (D&R Supervisor).

Bharat, I requested Rankin do a call-in survey of calls received regarding any issues with 01S08. There were 105 calls received (from 1/1/02 to 5/15/02) with questions and out of the 105 calls, 10 calls requested repeat repairs because of parts failure. I have spokw with Bob Trzoslak and he states that AWS also shows a 10% repeat repair rate because of defective parts.

I have checked with Roush regarding the robustness of the repair and we agree that if the instructions are followed there should be no repeat failure due to grease contamination of the switch. There may be another source of the grease and haa engineering taken another look at this possibility.

How do you want to proceed?

Both Chicago and Atlanta is having a problem with the brake lights staying on. Initial investigation reveals there is a possibility that our Zinc residue inherent to our welding process is causing the switch to "stick." Felcia has asked us to wipe the powder off current production, putting a green "X" on the barcode label, until she is able to investigate more fully. She will be calling here tomorrow and talking to Sharon Baker when she learns more, and to ascertain our status. We may need to investigate to see if this powdery substance is worse than normal.

Felcia, Greg Blise is now our Manufacturing Engineer on this job, you may also speak with him. Larry Stanley is our Weld Area Supervisor for 1st shift.

SAFETY RECALL

Certain 2000 and 2001 Model Year Taurus and Sable Vehicles with Power Adjustable Foot
Pedals - Brake Lamp Switch Replacement

March 2001

To:
All Ford and Lincoln Mercury Dealers

Subject:
Safety Recall 01808 - Certain 2000 and 2001 Model Year Taurus and Sable Vehicles with Power Adjustable Foot Pedals - Brake Lamp Switch Replacement

AFFECTED VEHICLES

2000 through 2001 Model Year Taurus and Sable vehicles equipped with Power
Adjustable Foot Pedals and built at the Atlanta Assembly Plant from May 3, 1999 through August 14, 2000
2000 Model Year Taurus vehicles equipped with Power Adjustable Foot Pedals and built at the Chicago Assembly Plant from June 2, 1999 through August 4, 2000

SAFETY CONCERN

Grease used on the Power Adjustable Foot Pedal assembly may enter the brake lamp switch and contaminate the contacts. Over time, this contamination may cause a build-up of carbon on the contacts, and in some cases, a short. This could result in one or more of the following symptoms:

- Brake lights remain illuminated
- Shift Interlock disabled
- Speed Control disabled
- ABS Warning light illuminates (if equipped with ABS)
- Battery discharged

A smaller number of switches may also fail in the open position. This type of failure will result in inoperative brake lights and the inability to shift the vehicle out of park. Loss of brake lamp function could potentially increase the risk of an accident.

SERVICE ACTION

On all affected vehicles, the dealer is to wipe excess grease from the Power Adjustable Foot Pedal assembly, and install a new brake lamp switch.

PLEASE NOTE

Correct all vehicles in stock before delivery. Federal law requires dealers to complete any outstanding safety recall service before a new vehicle is delivered to the buyer or lessee. Violation of this requirement by a dealer could result in a civil penalty of up to $5,000 per vehicle.
