Dear Sir or Madam,

I purchased my 2005 Nissan Murano from Collins Nissan in Indianapolis on July 5, 2005. The Vehicle ID # is JN8AZ08W05W [REDACTED]. On August 1, 2005, I was driving across the state of New York when the Murano developed a leak in the fuel tank. I proceeded to drive for 50 miles to Jamestown, NY Nissan dealer. The dealer replaced the tank, I rented a car and proceeded to drive home to Indianapolis, Indiana. I received no warranty help from Nissan and paid out the following amounts for which I am enclosing copies of the receipts.

Signature Nissan	$910.00	Fuel tank replacement
Enterprise car rental	$365.19	Car rental
Deliver repaired Car	$286.26	Driver and overnight costs
TOTAL	$1561.65

I was a participant in the investigation prior to the recall and have had the recall protectors installed on the vehicle (see the receipt enclosed). I am sending a copy of this claim for reimbursement to the NHTS to keep them informed. They were very helpful in getting this safety problem taken care of after I reported the problem to your office and received no help. I was only told that you would make a note of the problem....I look for a total reimbursement and consider myself lucky that the car did not catch on fire as your Youngstown, NY dealer stated.
