Dear Mr. Shives,

The Office of Defects Investigation (ODI), Recall Management Division (RMD) is conducting a review of safety recall 10E-010. In a letter dated April 2, 2010 Remy Power Products, LLP (Remy) reported that certain alternators, produced between December 19, 2009 and February 22, 2010, contain an internal voltage regulator that can become damaged by transient voltage that may occur when the regulator and the alternator are built, tested, and installed. Should the regulator's circuit be damaged, thermal degradation of the circuit can occur, increasing the risk of a fire or heat damage even when the vehicle is off. NHTSA assigned recall number 10E-010 to this matter.

The purpose of this request is to obtain a list of customers that were sold these alternators so they are made aware of this safety recall and are able to determine the need for any similar safety recall. Accordingly, we require the following information:

1. Provide a list all Remy customers that received these alternators and provide their company name, line of business (i.e. vehicle manufacturer, equipment manufacturer, distributor, etc.), address, phone number, contact person, quantity sold to each, and sale date.

You must respond in writing to this letter. If your company claims that any of the information or documents provided in response to this information request constitutes confidential commercial material within the meaning of 5 U.S.C. § 552(b)(4), or are protected from disclosure pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 1905, your company must submit supporting information together with the materials that are the subject of the confidentiality request, in accordance with 49 CFR Part 512, as amended (69 Fed. Please remember that the word "CONFIDENTIAL" must appear at the top of each page containing information claimed to be confidential, and the information must be clearly identified in accordance with 5 U.S.C. § 512.6.
