Dear Sir or Madam:

Re: Investigation EQ12-003

In regards to the above investigation, Wright Trailers has not prepared any owner notification as none was required. Wright Trailers only received one defective unit from Dexter Axle and said unit was still in inventory before having been installed on any trailers. As such, it was taken out of circulation before ever being installed. Therefore, there are no owners requiring notification. Please let us know if any further documentation is required on our part.

Sincerely,

Adam Caron
Parts Manager
